Statement from the Monarch

New Britain, January 6, 2026

The rise of terrorism in the state is an issue that the entire nation is aware of. This is because of two specific groups taking advantage of the recent exposure to Backrooms society and culture shock to convince people otherwise of the benefits of their life.

In the beginning, last year, we attempted to protect as many civilians as we can through information quarantine. This has been unsuccessful. Recently, we've only been alluding to terrorism as a whole and the full story will be given.

There are two major groups, the first, a dangerous group of anarchists that believe in a return to nature. Most regular people can easily see how it is ridiculous to vouch for humanity to return to animalistic behaviour and only accept our desires as they come. This is not what makes us human. We have been gifted a persevering brain to get through tough times such as these and to flourish. Succumbing to the insanity-driving corridors is weak. And we are not weak.

This group were the first culprits. Hijacked broadcasts caused our own people to agree with their backwards way of thinking. Not a single one of them actually entered our colonies. Despite their "perfect world" consisting of an apocalyptic scenario, people agreed due to innate stubbornness. Deliberately and purposefully hurting people, including their friends. Not for personal benefit, not for better pay, not in protest to anything except society.

The second of the two groups makes up for ~60% of recent attacks. This group does come from the outside. They are named the Halloween Party and also have no motive for attacking except solely to destroy civilisation. They believe that we are in hell and are upset with us for making the best of it. They are against living. They are made up of Wretches and other entities and, quite bafflingly, humans. They hide among us until ready to strike. Their crimes are the worst of them all.

Rules of War

RULE I:

No citizens from our side will be harmed under any circumstances. This is including that anyone that is a member of either of these groups or has committed an act of terrorism in accordance with these rules has their citizenship considered null and void and will be rid of.

All citizens will have the highest quality of life that can be guaranteed by the R.E.U. in spite of war. We will protect our loyal citizens at any cost. We will dedicate a large amount of resources to rescuing any citizens that have any chance of being targetted by our enemies.

RULE II:

The R.E.U. will show no mercy. To people who show no limits, no limits will be placed. Until the attacks cease, every single enemy of the state will be hung, drawn and quartered in a public display. To be shot on sight is the single best way for an enemy of the state to be rid of and no punishment shall be more merciful under any circumstances.

RULE III:

The war will not end until terrorism is completely absent and only when the Royal Backrooms Monarch specifically agrees to end the war. There will be no surrender.
