with and there's gonna be no i mean there's zero percent chance that there is a comey letter type situation like that's not going to happen there will be no comey letter uh if anything there's gonna be more ***** with trump and the coven hurting him because you're in the you are in the day room of the nursing home you are also an old geezer you're in this scenario you are in the nursing home because you are all so old and about to die just like we are all in the nursing home that is the united states we are all watching the tv in the day room at the nursing home waiting for the day 0:55:30 uh biden is also in a situation where he doesn't have to debate again uh because he can rightfully say this guy's gonna ***** give it to me he's gonna give me a disease but i'm i don't know if trump's gonna be in a position to debate next week because i think we are i think some people are really not taking seriously the possibility that he is really really ***** physically because they gave him drugs that are only for 0:56:31 use with very severe patients that have that have documented side effects specifically on elderly people uh also the the most dangerous period for the disease in terms of its likelihood to cause like a fatal uh heart or lung issue is like 10 days into hard time immediately there's gonna be another debate uh i do i do think it's funnier if he dies after the election than before which is why i think that's what will happen but he honestly could die i took log off to heart i dropped off out of grad school and moved on to a sailboat hell yes sailboat that's where it's at you got a boat ***** you global warming i've got every can every possible i have considered the angles 0:57:33 so smart move and don't we love beautiful boaters folks don't we love the beautiful boaters we love the people in the boats but of course the beautiful motors don't have sailboats they have big old ***** outboards because sailing requires skill and ability and discipline and these people don't have any of that which is what makes them so disgusting to be our rulers because they are the don juniors they are the the second sons of the second sons of empire and they have done nothing to attain the power that they have they wield it with absolute lack of uh of respect for it uh acknowledgement of its power terrible it's it's a good example like you know the old wasp elite they sailed you know because they were uh they were they were part of 0:58:36 that ruling class that saw itself as distinct and that felt that it needed to have certain uh uh things to ratify that like george w h bush the last boss and now they've been replaced by people who never had that like the the the people who who succeeded the american dream by just acquiring that that's that's that that was the the the unifying like class destroying power of america is that it removes no bless oblige from power and you know in a respect that's good because it unmask power it removes its its its performance of virtue and uh its performance of um but also it's just kind 0:59:48 of gross it's and also there they don't have the freedom and uh independence of the old elite because everybody's in hawk now everyone everyone rich people are all in

hock i mean look at trump for christ's sake the guy is basically function like people say he's not broke he's not broke he has but what he does is he doesn't have his own money he has access to a endless bottomless pool of credit which is in effect the same but which psychologically is different he has he doesn't have the independent of old money the independence of old money of the old elite will we be live streaming the democratic debates yes uh and i think that will be very funny because of how important how much the the press is going to be trying to build it up build up the answers there's going to be solomonic disputes about everything that everyone is saying they're going to get deep into policy the the media response is going to be very policy heavy because that is going to be them trying to reassert that the position of presidency has meaning that these people have real responsibilities and they represent real political ideologies and policies so it's gonna they're really gonna haul uh it will and i'm trying to think of how i'm going to to add i'm not going to fisk i'm not going to give it i'm mostly going to probably do a 5 checks just vibe checks i'm going to try to disengage completely from the content especially since pence has that really awful evangelical whininess which is very very annoying if you listen to it uh evangelicals are the whiniest people on earth they're so ***** aggrieved and everybody's being mean to them all the time and oh my god just throw me in the lion's den already and it's from a position of total superiority and power it's just awful uh and he is like one of the worst examples of that every time you ask a question of them it's like it's kind of it's in it's an imposition that you're even asking which is why trump is so fun when he just doms those people just doesn't think that like panders them in an insulting way that intentionally lets them know that he has no respect for them and they just have to take it well you know he's he's like cyrus he's a he's a noble pagan ***** you buddy you have to ***** take and pence is the perfect uh embodiment of that just the piss i'm not going to get as drunk as i did in the 2018 midterms that's never happening again good lord what what a bungle that was don't drink nearly enough to do that anymore yes i would like to get virgil drunk though on a thimble full neri at yahoo someone asks this will be my last thing i uh say for the for the stream near netanyahu is so funny because he is like a don jr guy like he is he is this fail son's bell son he's the shitty uh like the concentrated ***** of the greater ***** like like it's in every way lesser than their their parents but also all basically they are the worst traits of their parents uh condensed with none of the virtues at all now of course trump and netanyahu don't have virtues per se but they have certain abilities and talents and they don't and and both nier and don jr have none of those and only the defects only the rancid personality uh and what's so funny about nerey anyahu is that because he's jewish but culturally he is an american uh he is a trump because that's what that's what israel becoming

CUSHVLOG 91. THERE IS NO SWAG IN GILEAD

that's what the jews getting their own country did is it took away the jewish part it took away the thing that made jews like of a real chosen and special people was there was their orthogonal position to the cultures they were it that gave that made it harder for them to sort of be be seduced into the mindlessness of of a national of a false national consciousness and then they get the country and what happens they are just as stupid and asshole-ish and and and authoritarian and corrupt as us 1:4:59 they lose any of the virtues and it's just all us all the worst con parts and and now and so but our rich dumbasses they have to blame somebody for why things are bad and then it ends up having to be the jews because that's how it has to be because it always has to be at the end of the day some conspiracy if you don't acknowledge the reality of of capitalism as the driver of exploitation and alienation and misery in the world you will have to end up so if you're on the right at all you have to end up with some cabal and it's got to be it's got to be the jews because they're the ones who historically have filled that position there's nobody else who's a plausible candidate narratively and yet nair is in the position of having the exact same dumb ass brain as don jr but who's he going to blame and so he ends up having to be anti-semitic to himself it's amazing he posted a ***** uh meme about like george soros being led by a by a scheming merchant being led by like a reptile person amazing that's why 1:6:0 mayer is going to be like the only guy in the world who goes who ends up believing in lizard people but actually because that's the only ones who that's the only people who could be bosonero's sons are in the exact same boat oh god man can you oh can you imagine getting all those dudes together nair and dj tj and the bilson arrow boys going to like hunt and kill the world's last black rhino or something ugh yeah like the hussein boys just the worst the society the worst our culture our world's social order could create bye you

hey hey i am indeed america's most trusted news stork i'm here to be historic delivering news dropping it swaddled in baby blankets through your chimney which you will now absorb uh i feel great i don't know about you guys i'm definitely not drowning in my own mucus unlike some people i know uh man it's funny how things get interesting very quickly isn't it uh obviously the big news that just happened is that trump went on to twitter and said yeah no checks no checks before the election if you vote for me maybe you'll get one which is the perfect type of dumbass uh politicking that a ***** like trump would do thinking that it was smart like he thinks that that's genius like oh no people are going to want to check and then they're going to vote for me to get one forgetting the fact that trump that biden is is also saying 0:1:3 that he would give checks and bigger ones uh and the fact that with any of trump's promises to make things better if you vote for him the problem always is well why don't you do it now why don't you make my life better now you're literally waiting you're telling me i only can get my life better at all whether it's stopping the rioting or getting checks to people if you vote for me and it's not supposed to be that explicit you know that's the thing with trump is that he he takes the implicit premises of a lot of politicking the stuff that people are supposed to only be subliminally suggested and he makes it explicit and when it comes to stuff like race and dog whistles turning into shouts people freak out about it but the fact is is that in general it's a little heavy-handed and i don't know if it has always has the effect he wants it to have and i think in this case it's disastrously terrible idea the fact that they're letting him do this honestly tells me that the republicans have written him off they have 0:2:4 made the smart choice to say he is a polarizing figure his value is is no longer uh no longer excellent we've squeezed all the juice we can out of this particular lemon uh and now the best thing to do especially since we've secured the courts forever from from the entire federal apparatus up to the supreme court uh we can just sit back let the democrats flail around for four years fail to deal with any of the problems that we've uh created and in fact may do our best to obstruct any attempt at fixing them which of course will be minimal because the republic democrats don't have any more interest in fixing anything than we do and then come sweeping back in in 2024 and take the presidency which of course is always what people who are terrified of what comes after trump uh i don't know what that is i've given up guessing i will say though i really think this is true less than a month before an election uh with the 0:3:5

entire economy reeling and people facing mass eviction and and huge loss in income to not get a second round of checks out to people before the election it just tells me that that that right-wing populism that people are afraid of happening this sort of josh hawley uh heronvolk democracy where we get white medicare for all or something i don't think that's gonna happen uh i don't think that that's going to occur i think that the republican party is still well in control by capital as is the democratic party and capital has a bipartisan consensus to not get people too used to free money from the government and as such no one is has that much leeway to really be the huey long-esque every man a king uh uh figure from either party you know and so that means that we're just gonna get more culture war i would say on 0:4:6
the horizon uh well the material conditions just keep getting worse uh and with no one doing really even suggesting anything to be done about them and no bidding war along actual economic access it's going and i mean i can get it from mcconnell's perspective like mcconnell he's got he's gonna get amy uh cohen brothers on the court uh and that's all he really cares about all he's had his eye on and he doesn't really care who the president is because he rightly understands that at this point it's sort of meaningless as long as the constraints as long as the uh aperture of political action stays where it is and making sure that there isn't even a possibility of trump becoming a populist uh kingpin uh uh as long as that's off the table then he doesn't really have to worry and now it's off the table the fact that trump allowed them 0:5:7
to do this really does speak to the fact that he's too stupid to assert the authority that he could have because it is amazing he is a person who hypothetically could go to war with the entire political apparatus he could go to war with the republican party and the democratic party and create and really create a third force in american politics but it would have to be somebody other than him to do that but nobody other than him could be in a position to do that to me that's endlessly fascinating the only person who could have threatened the needle in 20 2016 was donald trump but because he was donald trump he does not have the interests uh the political uh the political agenda or ambition or vision like he's not a political person he doesn't actually care about the structure of american politics in any way which means that he will have no he has spent no time in the last four years actually doing anything to 0:6:8 stand out from conventional republicans when it comes to governing it's all been at the level of rhetoric and at the level of spectacle because it would require too much investment to try to push back against the dominant ideologies within the republican party as evidenced by the fate of poor steve bannon who got turfed within six months because there was nobody else who had his back and assure ***** wasn't going to be trump either and now the the upshot of that is that they're willing to sacrifice him and they someone convinced him that this was the smart thing to do because it's like i guess because it it makes it he makes him feel like he's in charge to tell them yeah no no no more stimulus you got to elect me to get more stimulus with no understanding that this means that he is now the man who is taking responsibility for people suffering through this ***** crisis for at least months with no end in sight astounding amazingly amazing you know and of course this is now 0:7:9 making it look more and more like you could see a genuine landslide which could lead to biden winning and and it will be very fascinating to watch them fail to do anything with that power on purpose that'll be that'll be very entertaining to watch uh and i think that that's really what mcconnell's bet is and it's this good one is that he doesn't really have anything to fear from the republi democrats in power in terms of really changing the dynamics of power uh or influence uh in in government or changing popular perceptions of what government can do uh or the responsibility to you so he's in a cat bird seat with or i guess the the turtle bird seat i should say or the cat turtle seat actually just the turtle turtle seat no other animal just the turtle seat he's there he's on his flat what a hot rock he's sunning himself he's in his 0:8:10 glory and nancy pelosi of course thinks that she's being a genius too by it's so funny her attempt is very clear like she she doesn't have any incentive to see checks go up before election night either right she wants to see trump get trump have this around his neck but there's usually you would have to worry about your opponent realizing the obviousness of that and not falling into the trap you've laid meanwhile they had they just led trump out to fall onto the spikes like a ***** cow just because they told him that he'd look very strong if he did that you look very strong mr president and yes people are definitely gonna care more about in the last three weeks before the election they're gonna be much more invested in this ***** religious weirdo nobody's ever heard of than getting actual money in their bank account you're 100 right about that mr president someone says amy kevin garnett that's good amy that's actually 0:9:11 one of the best ones so yeah pelosi is uh is being gifted in her enemies uh which is the greatest blessing you can have which of course is the blessing that trump had when he had to run against hillary and i think i really hope that this election this 2020 final will really clarify retroactively that whole phenomenon and tell us that that the whole trump phenomenon really was partially at least i mean obviously it has real basis but the phenomenon of him being the president for four years is sort of an indian summer situation created by the specific catastrophic insanity of having hillary clinton run i mean just the only person who could have lost that election and i think that over time i i think at the time people recognized that she was the only person who could have lost that election but then trump's specific center of gravity his ability to consume all light kind of obscured that and he became the whole world and i think a lot of people kind of lost that perspective and started thinking okay things are different now we're in a new world i know i felt like that sometimes but i think now people are sort of sobering up a little bit you know 200 000 dead no coronavirus elise and and like there could have been something to trump but as i said he would have had to have been a different person and since he wasn't it's going to end up being this false dawn and i think we're probably we're not i don't think we're going to get some sort of heron volk uh movement because there clearly is not any interest in that at the level of establishment republican power and the only way that you can say that that could be counteracted at the grassroots is if you were to have somebody who could take trump's entire base in hand but direct it uh like to an actual political goal which is what people say they're worried about tucker or whatever happened or josh hawley or or cotton doing and as i said yesterday i don't think any of those guys have the range i don't think any of them can fill that role they could get a chunk but i don't think they're going to get the whole thing which is what they need to to be uh effective against resisting the actual party that they're trying to uh push against because we have seen what happens when you try to uh move from with like use party structures in this country against the parties when trump did in 2016 there was minimal resistance at the institutional level just because he was only seen as a transient threat until he became the candidate at which point he was seen as someone who could be controlled which largely he has been you know like at the individual level a lot of these guys have been humiliated and some of them are going to die because they thought that they could control trump like ***** chris christie for example thought he was going to be attorney general or some ***** and now he's just coughing his ass out in ***** new jersey uh but the institutions and the people who actually hold institutional power are largely uh still where they were before uh but bernie on the other hand the democrats threw out all the ***** stops and made sure that he wasn't gonna uh be able to challenge the institutional prerogatives of the and i don't think there's anybody on the horizon who who can channel that trump lightning in a bottle but not be a tv dumbass because him being a tv dumbass is such a huge part of it it's so it's you can't disentangle them like the idea of trumpism without trump is a little incoherent like it's it's the same thinking that tells that a lot of people use to say oh like we can we can do like we can re-pitch socialism like through the lens of patriotism or whatever or or you know like do entitlement reform but or i mean like a push expansion of entitlements but using nationalist language when these things are coded in certain ways that are

intertwined you know at like the symbolic level and and and pulling one meaning out of them is beyond the the uh abilities of any of any one individual the only person who can capture the imagination the way trump did is somebody who is a being of pure spectacle of pure td game show energy without any heart to it if he had a heart if if he had a a political valence his career would have been different and he wouldn't have been able to be everybody to everyone the way that he was grant cardone who the hell is that who the ***** is grant cardone if i've never heard of him i'm not 0:14:17 worried about him i'll say that kanye doesn't have the uh i guess focus i'm gonna look at some cards gonna look at some golf war trading cards see what's going on he's a scientologist social media guru and real estate uh creep well that guy sounds cool and i could definitely see him becoming like a crooked senator or something but i don't think he's gonna lead the what have we got we've got the m60 main battle tank this thing looks pretty cool it's got a 105 millimeter gun for more firepower it was an important part of the desert storm you know they still make tanks they 0:15:19 still make a ton of tanks and they are the the the army actually says we don't need any more tanks and then they just requisition more because we have places that build tanks and so we just say no no no you need more tanks and so they just have these giant tank graveyards where they just all hang out don't do anything don't use them for anything then there's another one oh here we go syria oh they'll come up they'll pop up a little later didn't get any credit for uncle sam for being on our side in the gulf war that's the one thing we need to know about america is that those motherf those hoes ain't loyal oh my god military skill heroes don't do drugs none of the us armed services tolerates drug use drugs impair the ability to think and move 0:16:22 just like in civilian life a soldier's success and survival depend on clear thoughts and careful actions good soldiers and good civilians never and here we got uh geography jerusalem i don't know what this has to do with the war in iraq it's interesting how they kind of sneak in these like references to uh israel like sideways in the in the cards as sort of a background context for our deep investment in the middle east as a strategic terrain but they don't say it explicitly **Music playing** but i also think 0:17:23 that trump doesn't want to be president anymore i honestly i mean at this point especially he was not having fun before he got the uh the novel coronavirus and now he's i think legitimately miserable yeah this bind this biden uh this biden term is going to be very interesting because it is it's going to be a real lab test it's going to be the exact same admiseration and horror and corruption and institutional failure that we and rot that we have seen in the last four years but there will be none of the hysteric cultural frenzy around his presidency the way there is with trump and what fills that void that's what i want to know what cultural fixation like do we really get into flagpole sitting and stuffing people into elevators like it's or uh telephone 0:18:24

booths like it's the 1920s like is it bear baiting what do we get what do we do what do we do to fill our emotional void that all this politics is going to leave how are we gonna how are we gonna process right now we're processing the trauma of the political moment through the spectacle of the trump presidency but biden's presidency is going to be intentionally uh diffused of that symbolic energy but that energy's got to go somewhere avatar too someone says i agree that would be amazing if the if the biden the biden term is just avatar mania like avatar takes over and people are getting full-bodied navy tattoos and and and they're turning into reenactment societies and there's entire intentional communities that are trying to recreate uh uh pandora 0:19:25 people living in trees and ***** each other with uh synthetic uh tails that they've had surgically implanted onto their bodies let's do it and then james cameron can run for president as a third party uh candidate although he is canadian that could be a problem but he'll be so popular that we will elect him and uh overturn the constitutional amendment on the same day so how are and most importantly how are these people how are all the people including myself who've like turned politics into a into an identity how are they going to walk down from that or are they not are they going to somehow find a way to get that roundup in the machinations of the biden administration this senescent old man just sitting in the oval office talking to corn pop in his head he's having he's having a a meeting with porn pop and uh 0:20:27 jane mansfield uh beau is there of course and just his dead wife and they're all just uh talking about how they're gonna pass a bill to make sure that root beer tastes good again and meanwhile the gears just continue to turn and you get reassured that well you know if the republic if the democrats just had 75 senators we could finally get something done and it's your fault you don't you didn't believe in them enough to vote to make sure that there were 100 democratic senators which would allow us to actually one billion senators let's do it one billion american senators every every man every man a senator but no one wears a sash that's one thing we could bring 0:21:30 to american politics they have that in latin america sashes sashes of office you know we don't we don't wear enough japan has sashes everyone's got sashes but us god we make politics such a spectacle yet we don't have any of the fun putterances of that my favorite attempt was uh nixon in the in during nixon's term he made an attempt to have the secret service wear uniforms and they were they basically looked like they were in a marching band they had piping and they had i think epaulets and white gloves and everyone thought it was very goofy and embarrassing and they got rid of it pretty quickly but yeah for a brief period under nixon and that makes sense because nixon was one of those guys who actually did take seriously the the presidency as we 0:22:31 imagine it right because the only way the presidency makes sense is an office given how much power they're officially bestowed within the constitutional order and how much in uh focus they have in our political mind and our political imagination that person is essentially the one-man embodiment of the state like truly like type deal you're like you are in charge of everything relations with every country in the world the grand trajectory of american foreign policy and domestic policy uh and when you talk about things like global warming the ***** future of the habitability of the the habitability of the of the ***** planet which is of course insane and crazy and no president can actually do that and most of them i think understand at a certain level that that's not the actual job but nixon thought it was nixon thought that he was at the crossroads of all human history and that he was the one man who saw the future of the american project and was the one man who could steward it uh to 0:23:32 successful fruition meaning that he saw the end of unipalat unipolarity uh he saw the end because he saw the end of uh he saw the end of the amer he saw the end of america as the industrial uh heart of the world economy he saw the he saw the end of america as the producer and he saw that it was going to become a consumer because when he took when he removed uh gold convertibility he ended the final vestige of the gold standard with the dollar it meant that uh dollar circulation was going to be predicated on budget or on trade deficits which meant we were going to have to produce much less and buy much more and that meant that we weren't going to be in that position of our golden age and that we were going to have to walk basically negotiate away from that to a multi-polar world and he was the only one who saw it 0:24:33 and he was going to do whatever it took to make it happen which of course is why he was an isolated maniac who tried to run the entire foreign policy of the united states out of his own office with henry kissinger and why the intelligence community saw him as a threat and why he spent his last years in office getting shit-faced on the white house on the presidential yacht and watching patton because that job is not the job as created and conceived of is not doable and shouldn't exist like i i said this after 2016 trump should be the last president and i hold i hold strong to that and the fact that we're making honestly the fact that we're about to elect biden by such a huge if it happens such a such a big uh margin proves that because clearly no one really believes that this job is what we think it is so why not get rid of it why not remove this absurd anachronism from our system if we're so cavalier with it 0:25:34 that we're just gonna let anybody who's either entertaining or uh tells us reassuring stories about uh putting hair nets on and fighting people with uh bike chains in the 1950s no more presidents come on what's the best ape uh gotta say not humans certainly orangutans seem pretty chill i like those guys gorillas too i mean chimps are generally considered kind of ***** and of course that's because they're the most give me yeah like a nice a nice chill orangutang nice chill vibing orangut people are 0:26:37 saying things like uh gibbons and stuff those are not apes those are monkeys that's a different question how dare you okay so i've watched the first episode of the good lord bird i don't know how many episodes there are it was only the first one uh i will say that i really really did not like it uh it was basically the exact opposite of the of what i would want out of something like that and i know understand that it's based on a book and like that it's not about john brown like john brown's a character in another story uh but i get that i just think that the approach the material is bad it's not interesting as i guess what i'd say because i'm not interested in how we from this perspective this point in history like view this kind of stuff because that's pretty easily designable i think trying to recreate that psychic terrain and like grapple with you know history as a foreign country is much more interesting and i did not feel that from that at all it really it killed me the first thing the first scene is it's it's it's john round about to be hanged being taken to the gallows and it's a voice over from the from the main character who is this uh this former slave who was liberated as a child in kansas by john brown and knew him over the like the last decade or so of his life and he says he says some he says some black people think that he's uh uh you know he was a hero some black people think he was some ***** white savior and that just like stabbed me in the ***** heart because okay that's understandable from the this from that from now right like yes i can understand anybody saying that now black or white or any other racial background saying like this is that the like maybe not even as a real person but like as a as a as a historical personages and as a as a character that people like cleave to one way or the other that he is a white savior yes but do i think that a character who lived through that period would say that or think that or communicate that as a belief i don't think so and that's the violence to the historical tapestry that i find kind of repulsive were people really thinking about like oh oh sick of these male ass white saviors in when slavery was happening and john brown was one of a handful of white people to take black equality seriously to the point of risking his own life and life of his family maybe but i'll say this i've never seen it i've not seen any evidence that that was anything like a common view and it's just more than anything feels not interesting it just feels like i can get these takes on twitter i don't need them in a show so i will watch the whole thing but i'm not happy about it did not like ethan hawk at all because he's playing it as a complete psycho like absolute maniac and we'll see where it goes with that like i might this might be a misdirect but watching the first episode i really got the impression that the show was essentially taking at face value the old dunning school claimed that john brown had to have been insane because you'd have to be insane to be a white man and take equality seriously and but now this is like in this moment the woke take is that yeah white people can't really be not racist and the idea of any white person truly pursuing like uh uh equality in life is in some way delusional or

or is racist but not in a way that they can recognize and i think that that's a kind of 0:30:41 like race pessimism that i think is one wrong and two really depressing and frankly ***** politically counterproductive because i just do not see the upshot here where everyone is supposed to believe that racial chasms are unbridgeable we cannot really ever cooperate across racial lines except white people being compelled by guilt that's the only way and yet but somehow we're going to create a coalition in this moment of profound crisis that will have the necessary trust to be able to operate meaningfully i don't think so i think the opposite is what you're ***** building is you're building a situation where if fracture comes people are gonna be told from one end of the ***** spectrum to the other that the only safe harbor is race is is the is the certainty of race and you'll have like a few academic white people who will take that to mean well i need to abnegate my race like pathologically and i'm going to i'm going to just be the opposite of of what i think my identity is which good luck with that that's 0:31:42 not that's a recipe for uh in first psychological uh uh schizophrenia honestly uh or or you recognize and everyone else is gonna just end up going back towards uh just towards racial politics at its most uh suspicious and hostile and and that means that every demagogue of every stripe will be able to guarantee that where's there's never any meaningful resistance to the capitalist onslaught of uh total uh spiritual and material alienation and and uh and destruction so i'll keep an eye on it but not not very pleased with the first episode and also just from a pure aesthetic perspective uh it did this thing where it would just like skip scenes and just like kind of jump ahead and and it kind of deflated any kind of dramatic tension and made it feel just sort of 0:32:44 like uh it gave it it had that like and then and then picturesque feeling that i i tend not to like because it drains things of momentum because so anyway we'll see not not gibbons are apes really huh i didn't know i thought gibbons had tails learn chris is here he's uh he's laying in the cut he's looking at the at the comments he's judging all of you for your bad questions he's got a list of bad questions and he has your handles 0:33:46 next to them and uh after three strikes you get banned isn't that right chris uh i actually am not sure how to ban people from the chat oh um i also watched uh good lord byrd oh what do you think uh i probably liked it more than you i i i am familiar with with the john brown meet those uh though i don't have a pre-meditated take on how i would want to portray it um i've listened to your takes on it and what you would like to see i i understand your criticism of hawke's performance but i do think that even given what you've discussed i appreciate you know even though as you say that he's playing him as a total psychopath not psychopath but a crazy person here it is like a half step away from what you would want to portray is that you know the the religious fervor and belief people felt at that time is incredibly alien to us today yeah uh although i will say that it was often played like when he was talking to that rabbit about you know whether it felt god in its heart or whatever you know 0:34:48 as a joke well the thing is is that he's the only one who's that yeah religiously like all even his uh even his sons and stuff are all rolling their eyes at it like every other character is modern and except for him yeah and to me and and then so he's just this this absolute specimen of like a a pre-modern era that is like caught in a glass jar but what that does is it turns his anti-slavery sentiment just into another pathology of religious mania like not that it's rooted in anything like i think that you could make it i would argue is was john brown insane of course john brown was insane because the only coherent uh definition of insanity is a social one right like you can't say that insanity has some sort of intrinsic definition to a person that is not just a con a social context uh you because you know we're all building reality in our heads the only way we know if they're conforming to the real world is if other people agree with us and john brown was insane because to be a white man in that era and to 0:35:51 truly believe in racial equality was to be by the social contact by the social mores of the time to be insane it was it was a it was a disordered thought it was not it was not a rational or reasoned response to the world around you because everyone knew that that wasn't the case and they and worst of all you ended up if you believe that kind of thing in that social context over time your actions will become more violent and erratic because of the inability of you to live in accordance with those beliefs so yes he was insane but that says more about like the social order of the time and to me what i didn't get what i got from this and we'll see if it persists is that the show has that cynical you know like half-wise like afro-pessimist thing of like yeah that 0:36:53 was always true and john brown was kidding himself to think that america could ever think that black and white people were equal which made him insane and and so therefore those all those white racists were more right and more sane than he was you know what i mean yeah we'll see though yeah um i mean currently reading a little bit of 19th century american history one of the things that stands out to me is you know we've all been keyed up over especially over the last four years of you know the constant fretting that they're that america is on the brink of some psychological break and just really diving into the uh especially like post 1830 the state of your average politically engaged american the amount of edging towards insanity over a number basically over the slavery issue it seems much much higher yeah i mean we did we actually did a war we did yeah yes but but just the general tenor of of denunciations renunciations even just the language that people would use in 0:37:55 mainstream from one congress person to another they were beating each other up in congress yeah about about like the perfidy uh and and uh destitution of soul and spirit of of of the opposing sides and then was about as uh as it's just on a whole another level of keyed up it's on that alien level where we we it is a foreign to even try to comprehend how built these issues in their psyche yeah because they are insane issues yeah the issue of of agreeing with or disagreeing with the widespread social acceptance of human bondage yeah and it doesn't it it doesn't seem to me to take like the premise that it is in fact slavery that makes that mania it is the imposition of that system that drives the mania you know uh rather it's this cynical after the fact observation of well look what happened after the war look at our failure to integrate black people into american society at every level look at the persistence of racism 0:38:56 well maybe those uh those you know red uh maybe those uh rough border ruffians in kansas i mean they won they were right and and john brown therefore from our perspective is the insane one because his uh dream was unattainable in this country and i don't know if that like i said i don't think that cynicism is is warranted and i sure ***** don't think it's politically useful and considering how much it suffuses so much ***** art nowadays i did not find it something interesting or uh evocative to watch uh i did appreciate uh our boy from lodge 49 yonker russell showing up as a young jeb stewart yes young jeb stewart he did he did a decent job with the accent i mean he's got the face for uh a civil war guy definitely and the beard but yeah i think i'm gonna do now after this is over i'm gonna watch the whole thing i'm gonna do a inebriated past on john brown and the coming of the civil war and his sort of place 0:39:57 in american history because i feel like we're losing it it's like we went from dunning school where he was crazy for thinking black people were equal because obviously they aren't uh to now he's crazy because he thought white people could be not racist which obviously they can't be which to me both of them lead to the same place some sort of racial separation in racial endless racial conflict defining american uh society until a point of uh apocalyptic confrontation because what's the alternative if you can't have one polity if you cannot have a trans-racial american polity that can coordinate across racial lines and trust one another across racial lines to build a project and to invest in it then how the hell are we going to be anything other than just stripped of everything and then set to war against one another on the most flimsy premises and across the most cynically obs uh uh reified racial and and absolutely fundamentally abs uh um illusory racial differences uh i'm i'm gonna not i'm gonna 0:41:1 switch topics for a bit just because it's funny that uh this came up today with an ongoing project i have but i have an answer for your question of where all that anima goes uh in the joe biden administration that cultural fervor that we've built ourselves into arguing over the president uh and it is arguing an eternity about whether infinite jest is good or not god it's it's eternal recurrence on twitter doc if you don't believe in eternal recurrence just spend a year on twitter and note how many times the same arguments and the exact same contours come up over and over again it's like it's like they're they're ***** volcanoes they build up they have to burst forth everybody

CUSHVLOG 92. I FEEL GREAT!

CUSHVLOG 92. I FEEL GREAT!

CUSHVLOG 92. I FEEL GREAT!

gets their ***** david foster wallace takes out of their system and then they go back into dormancy until they arise again i don't know what it is there's something about 0:42:3 there's some sort of gender anxiety i guess it's so funny that that is the thing that became such a locus of gender anxiety around it so the background of this is that a few weeks ago uh molly uh my wife uh and i started a project because she has read infinite just multiple times loves the book and i have never read infinite jest we keep seeing these things come up and we were like we sh we need to to uh i mean excuse me for being flippant but we need to clear this narrative and have the uh the woman of the couple read to me uh the book uh and so that's what we're doing in a podcast she's reading it on the podcast as an audiobook and and to me and then uh you know we're chatting about it afterwards and we did it especially because we knew that this would keep coming up and then we could keep promoting it every time people were arguing it's pretty good it's pretty smart move you're not going to go broke uh anticipating this bursting forth and what's so funny about it is it's clearly 0:43:4 this gender anxiety but it's very specific urban i hate to use the term but there's no other word for it pmc or an overproduced elites who are who are who who who live in like this post-feminist world where they're supposed to be you know encountering one another romantically on equal level but there is this lack of trust and this anxiety about like maleness as this as this toxic set of traits and but because we're talking about a very small subset of you know urban professional educated uh guys it has to be personified by like the symbols around this 1200 page ***** book that almost no one in america has read including the vast vast percentage of american men and certainly the most toxically masculine american men have not ***** read infinite jest the very idea that this is a stand-in for like aggressive masculinity is just proof of how distorted this lends in and you're talking about this tiny subsection of american 0:44:6 men who at the end of the day it sucks to date because everything sucks everyone's miserable everything sucks nobody has any money nobody has any security and we uh just project these anxieties about the other that then wrap around these absurd ***** uh shibboleths but anyway i've actually read the book and it's good i'm not enjoying it so far but it's only 42 pages in it's going to probably take 500 episodes two-ish years to get done you will finish you'll finish the project broadcasting from like a ***** ham radio in a climate refugee camp yep and we will still continue it it's called infinite cast soundcloud.com infinite dash cast yeah sorry to promo on the cushion no please do so i i hope i know that's a very gauche so in a year and a half when you get to the eschaton scene i would like to come on because that's my favorite so i'll pivot to this matt what's your favorite jacob wool uh i mean the thing 0:45:8 where he had the guy come out and talk about uh how he got sexually dominated by elizabeth warren yeah that's the clear answer that's what i was gonna say that's pretty funny the guy couldn't even not laugh that's really funny he was like literally laughing while he read it uh i actually saw when we saw him in uh was it concord or manchester what's the capital of new hampshire new manchester i think it was manchester we saw him in manchester at the lobby of hotel he brought donuts and the only people who he was able to muster for his press conference were us and two autograph hounds who hung out in the lobby to like see political celebrities uh which means they were absolute cool people and the uh bosses 100 one of them was like an old dude and the other one was a young kid in a maga hat who who didn't recognize jacob wall and wall couldn't keep a straight face during that one when he had the guy come out and say that biden has parkinson's and that he had met him at secret rich people parkinson's support group meetings with michael j fox and ***** and that was really a high point for me was just thinking like okay buddy what what's in your head what are you up to because now he's in trouble for doing actual voter fraud and voter suppression and vote tampering that could get him in actual prison which was not a bit like that was actual uh criminal activity and yet he was clearly doing like the biden stuff as a in some respect as a joke he's a fascinating figure to me to me he is the most interesting of all these guys the the funniest part of uh of that was the the maga kid who was looking for autographs of like i don't know one of the hosts of uh fox and friends or whatever and we were like hey are you going to get wolfe's autograph and he was like i don't know who that is and it was like it was like a rock and roll autograph hunter standing two feet from lou reed and that's serious i i don't know i don't know who this guy is yeah up your game young man yes up your game young bud uh 20 minutes before that though when we got to the hotel we got to see brian kilmeade failed to open a door for about five minutes that was very funny he kept like rattling on it it wouldn't open god what a what a dummy um the roast more uh chat questions in the chat i have a few from a while ago but i have no idea how uh how relevant they are today or anymore these are my oh i just want to say one other thing about infinite jest uh and it was a tweet that i retweeted from someone else today forget who it was uh that it is very funny to always see these takes on infinite jest specifically takes denigrating it on a website that is an entertainment product so addictive that people spend their entire lives on it and in fact lose their sense of sanity and perspective by gazing at it which even i know is the literal plot of infinite jests yes the the unmarked vid card given to the uh the attache yep yeah the one that i'm through that part like the thing about that book and you'll find this out as you read it is it is incredibly uh uh president president he clearly knew where everything was headed he he saw how uh uh the spectacle was isolating people and and providing this this narcotic for for that sense of alienation uh but the one thing that he couldn't have predicted because it seems like nobody in the in the 90s really knew what the internet was going to be was the interactivity you know because his his his entertainment ends up being just watching something you know and the thing is is it was what it turned out is it couldn't be watching something there has to be an interactive element there has to be a a further not just the fantasy of the narrative that you're absorbing but a fantasy of participation in the narrative that's the final ingredient that's what turns it from morphine to fentanyl uh okay let's go maybe go 0:49:18 back to this uh i mean i feel like i know the answer this but i kind of want to go back to talking about this in the future what happens to stimulus talk to trump in a lame duck uh and nothing will get passed i mean i think we have to be be ready for the fact that i don't think anything's getting passed possibly forever and i think we'll get something if there has to be something in january just i mean for the markets like at the end of the day when you wonder like what needs to happen the thing that's going to be the gun to the head will always be the markets uh and and for for just like there needed to be a stimulus for the first time even though it was not anything anyone wanted to do as a first order preference because of the of the precedent set there's gonna be another situation they're gonna need that uh but not before that i don't think and so things are gonna be really really bad uh and like i said the thing 0:50:19 to watch is if the if the democrats win the senate back which i said i think they will watch what they do with the filibuster because if they if they if they don't do something to mod to uh to reduce the power of the senate minority to uh to stop legislation they're not going to do anything in a previous stream i've said that the uh my prediction for for big signature policy for mobident administration is is some kind of aca but for climate uh and i still think that that might be true if they have the political capital for it but i i have updated that to having actually read something about the congress priorities the uh the hr one which is the voting rights bill yes and that makes total sense because voting rights are the only thing the only thing in the 0:51:20 democratic uh putative wheelhouse of policies that they actually care about because it impacts impacts their ability to maintain voter share and therefore share of power and without an a consistent vote share that reflects a consistent ability to influence policy they are not useful to the people that they work for and so they need to protect their vote share and the one thing that i think they've been genuinely scared of under trump is that slide towards just outright vote uh um nullification because and and and that's what they're actually going to spend any of their capital on is re rebalancing the political structure in a way that guarantees their continued access to voteshare after that i think it'll be a bunch of uh glad-handing ***** with no real teeth to it which is very is very funny and perfect because right now and especially as we entered the summer there the democratic leadership response to literally any issue is vote what are you going to do to prevent uh them filling the supreme court 0:52:23

seat nancy pelosi well vote vote you have to vote uh which is why i will be writing in merrick garland uh on the ballot uh in november yeah um but then their signature their move after they get the votes is to do one big move to get more votes and then after that who knows and then they'll get nothing passed but they'll say we just don't have enough uh senators vote please now you can you know no excuse we we secured your vote we've secured your voter integrity so now you better vote for us and if you and if we don't get anything done it's because you didn't vote enough for us it's the perfect uh it's the logic of uh like a water douser or a faith healer if it doesn't work it's because you didn't pay enough or believe enough and it can never be disproven which is what's so funny about how many people who think like that really believe that they're being the most logical rational adults in the room when 0:53:25
the thing that they pin their entire political faith on is an is a transparent scam it's pie in the sky when you die like uh um i don't know if you have any interest in this one matt but somebody keeps asking about jade helm 15 which is just very funny to me because the the move over five years from being terrified that the uh the government is going to use walmart's to stage a national um use net walmart's to stage a a national guard invasion of texas to the republican president pledging to invade democratic cities yeah well i mean that's that's the thing though is that none of it is none of those principles are real everyone's principle is power that's the only principle americans have is power and the only american uh value is contempt for weakness which is why trump getting coveted is so bad for him because he looks 0:54:26
pizzagate and then they created 8chan which then created q anon [Laughter] uh yes nbc news facebook bands queuing on across its platforms oh boy is that part of the hashtag plan do you think like how do you how do you square that how do how are they doing right now i mean obviously i know that they're i i mean obviously no one very few people are going to be really disillusioned by this some will like i've said like everyone does not have an equal commitment to these things and that's why you can't think of it in terms of like an entire movement flipping overnight or staying loyal overnight it's going to be a gradual process some people are going to fall away

some people are going to double down and i'm just interested in specifically how the people who double down are going to rationalize everything especially if trump loses and leaves office and especially i mean if he dies i'm going to assume they just think that he's gone but if he leaves office and is just there but not in charge anymore i really don't know what they're going to do it'll be very interesting a lot of ways for things to go yes a lot of ends a lot of outs a lot of what happens i do think it's interesting uh because obviously you know the 4chan people just created their own website but i don't know what these boomers are going to do without facebook like all they know how to do is post they are not computer savvy i mean half of these people are still paying for aol disks even though they have broadband as all right let's wrap it up yeah you wanna you wanna call for this evening yeah let's do it all right great um this has been another issue issue another uh episode of the kush vlog grill stream 0:56:30

ah hello perhaps you recognize me it's your favorite president shit's really funny it's times like this that i don't feel that bad about picking politics as my is one of my zones of uh of uh entertainment i mean yeah obviously it was much it was it was it was great when he was in the hospital but honestly i love this now too this thing where he like he's in the oval office and they're saying oh he's enough office he's he's signing documents and then they come out he they just just right before i came on they dropped a video of him in front of the white house just caked up on the makeup because he looked ***** like he looked like death last time and he sounded absolutely gaked they've clearly got him on the roids or at least he's still not flying high on him and you know what he might be fine he might not even he is he shouldn't be alive anyway so maybe he will never it's still very funny to me because not even for what's happening because he's mostly been hiding and now he comes out with his like proof of life video uh but because of just the absurdity of this the pure absurdity of the president having this deadly disease and being hidden away in the castle and everyone trying to decide what it means and all of his minions and all of his supporters going uh he's dabbing all over corona actually uh you're owned and other people being like no he's on death's door without any of them having any actual information just a pure projection onto this void which i think is evocative of certain phenomenon and just like this death watch this death walk life watch god it's something it's something uh i mean he is going to be stronger in the short term because the steroids are going to whack him up i mean he's going to be real powerful like they said he was eating like crazy which i love how like don't people know what steroids do it would be funny though people started giving themselves corona like in solidarity with the president that would be really good yeah if anyone's seen the new uh video he seems very keyed up more so than usual certainly more so than when he's uh speaking extemporaneously not in it's funny because like i said the other day the fact that at no point was pence even in the ballpark of being sworn in as president even though he was like in hospital care for a while and on mind-altering drugs it really tells you i think less even that pence is this empty shirt which

obviously but more that he isn't really in charge of anything like they i don't think if he ordered a nuclear strike they would do anything if he they wouldn't they would ignore him like they ignored him when he said he wanted to assassinate assad which means that like this death watch is is in a way it's just it's it's it's it's the further intensification of just the pure spectacle and that's the one thing that the politics expect of a presidential spectacle has lacked until recently has been like the actual corporeal body of our figure of uh of fixation you know like trump has seemed like a permanent fixture in our lives and now there's this schrodinger's fat thing where it's 0:5:14 like is he gonna live is he gonna die could he die could we handle him dying at this moment because the big thing that gets me is like him leaving office and then going to onon or something i get that you know it's just it's just it's another crimp in the narrative but if he's just gone after what he has ended up becoming in this culture after how all-consuming he has been as a personality oh just what is this where does that go where does that energy have to go and and the reason i find that question so fascinating is because i have no ***** idea that's one where i just feel that's why his death feels impossible and why at the end of the day i just can't buy that he's going to die anytime soon just because i cannot imagine what it looks like with him 0:6:15 gone what are these people putting their energy into both for and against we don't know where we would be without him we need him right now he is the focal point of all of our energy now i do think that this election is the process of us like weaning ourselves off of him you know like fighting will be our uh our suboxone or what is the name of the uh methadone the stuff they give you when you're addicted to heroin if they'll wean you off that's fine but him dying is just cold turkey overnight like just not doing it anymore after being heavily smacked out the deep the the the uh withdrawal is going to be it is easier to imagine the end of the world than it is to imagine the end of trump uh correct bad bite mck but trump is going to go away 0:7:20 one way or the other i mean entropy demands it and it is the thing that that gets me is how do we how do we either maintain like that psychic investment in politics or where do we put it if we decide to redirect it it's all very murky like i always when trump got in there i recognized it as like a tectonic change in american politics and uh and i said i remember in like 2016-17 i said like we don't know what everything has led to trump but nothing has pointed past him because trump is the end point like of all of our most prescient uh art right and culture that that sees the direction the arc of our political trajectory all of it says the end point is donald trump the end point is this absurdity where politics has been rendered a pure spectacle and 0:8:21 the guy presiding over it is like a giant court gesturing chief like that's where it ends and then that's like supposed to be sort of you know the the dystopia and now we're in it what comes next and i still don't know i mean electing especially if he does

win in a landslide although who knows i'm honestly getting to the point where i'm wondering ***** maybe trump's gonna win hilariously maybe that would even be funnier because i was talking i was singing like funniest outcome trump loses then dies like two weeks later to bite but now i'm thinking ***** trump almost dies and then wins that'd be pretty funny too but i still think it's more likely that biden wins and us electing a absolutely out to lunch advancedly senile man is certainly uh a topper on top of the trump thing but then what's going to happen you know he's probably not going to serve that which is like the triumph of uh you know of woke neoliberalism but what we know for a fact about woken liberalism is that it provokes a wild wild cultural backlash in the absence of trump who kind of came in to fill a spot and i think that's the thing that's why it's hard to talk about because whatever emerges will emerge organically like i don't think anybody thought trump was going to run for president in like 2014 seriously run sure ***** didn't think he was going to get the nomination sure ***** didn't get to think he was going to win and we're in a similar situation like what the things that are going to come are going to be he did no he didn't run in 2000 he made a half-assed bid for the uh for the reform party nomination against pap buchanan happy cannon got it remember because famously a bunch of uh south beach jews voted for noted anti-semite pat buchanan thanks to uh the wonderfully designed butterfly ballots this is before most of your time that ended up costing gore florida and giving us bush and sending us hurtling but i feel bad for the country as darren rafael said but this well somebody asked is it was it the brooks brothers riot or was the chad well i mean bad ballot design and other things are what made it so that gork didn't have a clear election night win which if he had would have obviated any kind of riot or recount or anything so florida ran a shitty election first and foremost and of course part of that was by design like jeb did illegally purge a bunch of people from the roles who happened to be minorities uh and that contributed but i don't think that there was like an outright effort we're gonna steal the 2000 election it was when it became a jump ball they went and grabbed it which is i think the only likely outcome like everyone worrying about trump stealing it it'll just be that again a jump ball that gets stolen and right now if you believe the polls and who the ***** can say at this point there's not going to be enough jump balls for them to grab or there's going to be too many jump balls for them to grab there's going to be too many places where biden wins handily uh but who knows i mean the polls were off last time that's undeniable but why and what what i don't think anyone knows to this day why and as a result it's almost impossible to handicap polls now so you just have to kind of go in blind which i think is useful and honestly i think it might be awesome if they banned polling completely got rid of polling no polls what's the point of knowing who's gonna win beforehand

how does that contribute to your decision of who to vote for in a meeting like in a policy sense because remember this is supposed to be us collectively as a country determining our policy uh trajectory what our country is going to do shouldn't that mean that the only thing that needs to matter is who the candidates are and what they say they're going to do what they're gonna who's ahead how does that help anyone it's literally an entertainment product and if we wanted to make politics not entertainment and make voting less of a weird uh like sacred ritual divorced but it's like it has all of the powerful emotional resonance of sacred rituals with none of the uh effect of creating like a sense of well-being or connectedness to a community only the opposite it only pushes us against each other how can we like put shrink voting down to size which is really when i talk about voting on here people seem to get the wrong impressions sometimes i'm not saying it doesn't matter who you vote for and i'm not saying it doesn't matter if you vote or not i am saying is that the act of voting is of little to no individual moral consequence for a person which means that it cannot be the sum total of your political activity and the only way to bring it down to size is by psychically reducing the hold it has on you morally and in terms of building an identity making elections less entertaining would be a big part of that because one of the reasons we we do put so much energy into voting as a cro as a totem is because that means all we got to do is watch the show hashtag like they say in the queue and on which is a show we want to watch we wouldn't tune in if we didn't want to watch it and half the country doesn't like the show when they turn the show off and they're not paying attention even though they're the ones most materially harmed by our political reality the the falseness of the front of our democratic process means that for half the population this show is too boring that's because they cannot give voting the sensual emotional uh uh sacred place in their uh in their minds that people who are still watching do that's the unnecessary that's the suspension of disbelief you need to watch a tv show and get into the characters or the situations this vote means something from that all the other pageantry of politics comes to vivid life which is why voting is not going to be the answer for anyone it can't be the answer for anything because half of the people have decided that it's a boring show they don't want to watch because they cannot they have not made the investment which means nothing you do at that level is going to reach them which is what we learned with bernie is that even though they were making intentional a big effort to reach out in person to people like in iowa i know they hired a bunch of service industry workers as organizers to organize their workplace like instead of just calling people uh and it had in specific places where you had like real like working class like uh structures like the union dense uh city of las vegas where you know people were able to do shoe leather organizing and and bring like you know cleaning

staff and uh and ***** taxi drivers off the strip to vote uh but that was never going to be enough the hope was is that the people watching this pageant were going to hear what bernie said and be moved by it problem was the only people watching that pageant were people who were already locked in on the right side to the republicans and that was not their concern to the left side to the democratic party because of course they're voting of course they think the democratic party means something of course they think the democratic party represents their aspirations if they didn't they could not find the show the pageant of politics interesting and they would turn it off and that means they wouldn't be paying attention to it which means they couldn't be intersecting with it in a way that was and so for the people who do vote which is basically everyone who watches my you know watches my streams or listens to the podcast or anything or goes on the internet to discuss politics like they'll vote or if they don't vote they're not voting is not turning off the tv because it's boring it is a reaction to voting you know the way that all atheists are still christians you know like the way that atheism is basically just like a really refined form of protestantism uh you're still in the system even as you reject it because you are making a conscious choice to reject voting out of a political stance as opposed to is that voting has to be brought down to size in your mind because then you'll have to fill the rest of the time figuring out what does work and what does connect people and what does provide any chance that we can influence events because what i see people talking about like oh we go you know biden what's what's he gonna is he gonna you know biden needs to give outreach to the left or something like he has no interest the party he represents has no interest in doing anything for the left they defeated the left they risked a lot to defeat the left they risked a lot of their credibility they killed their own ***** voters in some states by insisting on having uh primaries in the beginnings of the coronavirus all these people who now are telling you how trump is horrible for ignoring science and getting people killed with his reckless rallies went out there and said yeah no go vote don't worry about it knowing they were going to kill people uh they they are saddled with this fossil this demented fossil who could die at any moment or just start blurting out a logarithm or have his teeth fall out uh or just start saying slurs maybe uh and who in his person rejects the entire carefully crafted identity politics appeal that they were building for uh like minorities in this country to make up for their lack of their any kind of material politics like oh we're gonna give you representation and representation is its own form of power nope old white guy old white guy who got into congress running against uh bussing which his own vp nominee uh pointed out in the debate with them this is not what they wanted they brought themselves to this level to defeat the left so they're not going to give anything to the left why would they they're only thing is going to happen is they're going to the only way that they're going to change anything is under pressure and that pressure can't come through voting for him for biden because if biden wins then the left uh then the left was disciplined uh if biden wins that means the left enough of the left voted for him to get him across the finish line which means you can take them for granted if biden loses it's because not enough of the left voted 0:20:44 for him either way the left is still out of the tent i mean is that wrong tell me if that is wrong right because since when has a democrat winning made anybody think thank you left because as i've said a million times voting is not a collective action there is no like coherent left to express a collective desire to either support or uh not support bernie or biden's candidacy like you know the aff-cio deciding not to endorse mcgovern in 72 because they were pissed about the nomination process uh there's just a bunch of individuals who can be ignored because they're on the team or it could be blamed but anyway all this means let's ban poland band polling ban uh pharmaceutical advertisements i don't see how this is uh this should somebody 0:21:46 asked well does that mean uh like they're saying well who should you vote for then and that's just it there's a weird more like part of the moral confusion that goes with voting is like if i vote for someone that i am responsible for anything they do if they win basically and i am absolved from responsibility for anything that happens if they lose like that's the moral wager there and a version of that an expression of that is that like if i tell someone to vote for if i if somebody says you need to tell your followers your listeners to vote for biden the assumption there is that me saying that will make all of them vote for biden or even a majority of them vote for buy and the fact is they might vote for biden and they probably will more than not but that decision will not be because i told them to do a thing there is no way that my decision for more than a fraction of a fraction is going to be the sole determining factor in their decision to vote for somebody because nothing is like that there are 0:22:48 no sole determiners of actions at that level there's a million reasons you're going to vote for ***** biden if you're going to vote for biden what i say is not going to be the tipping point any more than me voting for biden is going to be the tipping uh i i have to say though that i will be voting uh in person due to the nude celebrities because they horn me up i'm horned up now i'm all horned up i did not know chris rock was so i will be rich lou to uh braces louis uh louis viii absolutely we will ***** up the catholic league somebody wants me to talk about meditation i'm not really i 0:23:51 don't think i'm the person to talk to because i'm still learning you know i i have a sporadic practice uh i try to do about a half an hour a day i do it more often than not but i do i don't do i'm not um but and i try to do the insight yoga uh which is like concentrating on breathing but you know mostly i'm in my head thinking of things but i am trying i try to mostly use it as just a time to make myself sit with thoughts and then let them go because i've realized that one of the keys to thinking clearly is to not stay into one thought train of thought for too long you need to allow like you start thinking about something because you've had some sort of connection 0:24:52 between your your brain and the world and it gets you thinking about something and over time you know the conditions that brought about that thinking they go away and now you're somewhere else and you're still thinking about that thing and now that you like you're you're in your head more you're less in the world and to stay in the world as you think it's probably i think it's good i'm finding it's not something i used to even think about doing but now i feel i try to do it consciously is just let thoughts just kind of go off and then just instead of trying to pursue them let them go and then just like look once again around you and then something else is going to come up like the brain is not going to be quiet as much as we might want it to be sometimes but where it goes will at the end of the day always end up being directed from and sensory experience if you're actually paying attention to your and i mostly like i say that to feel better about the fact that i have a hard such a hard time 0:25:56 like clearing my head yeah i have never done transcendental meditation that seems pretty intense i guess the thing i worry about is like doing anything that's too uh i don't want to get discouraged i guess is the thing because i worry about my i worry about my uh i always worry about my discipline levels you know like the reason i have been a louse my whole life is because i i had insufficient motivation because i didn't really believe anything you know and the problem is like belief is that like furnace it goes up and down you know and sometimes it's stoked up and sometimes meditation helps with that but it also it provides sort of a a concrete expression that 0:26:57 can for me anyway be something i but i'm trying to keep doing it i'm keeping on so tm is mantras instead of breathing i would like to meet david lynch in the spirit realm i would apologize for not really liking his work because i yeah we could hang out at the black lodge that would be cool nothing's wrong with david lynch i respect 0:28:12 him immensely he's he's one of the few pure artists in cinemas certainly uh in like his television program from what i understand is uh like almost suey generous in terms of being a mainstream product in the first seasons on network television with that kind of singular artistic vision um but it's just it's in the past anyway it's just not it's a wavelength thing it's a vibe thing and it's just not a vibe that i was ever able to really connect with maybe that'll be different i haven't seen somebody reminding me of that the one recent steve uh eastwood movie that i haven't seen yet i keep forgetting to see it is the one about the guys on the train that uses the real actors or as actors uses the real troops who stopped at a terrorist attack on a train in france 1517 to paris which i i know had baffling reviews and i'm intrigued i keep forgetting 0:29:16 to watch it but thank you for reminding me i'm going to see it soon i am people are asking my height i'm probably 6'2 at this point from yep i'm a confirmed chad sorry guys i mean if it makes up for it i have a limp so i don't know if that uh ameliorates the uh the chadness or maybe exacerbates it i don't know how chad this works i do know being tall is part of it apologies to the uh to the mantlets out there but it is it's brutal bone law and of course this is all being said tongue-in-cheek none of this stuff is real uh in real life these things do not exist i've seen enough experience i have enough experience in my life to know that there is no like look determiner for uh outcomes in life uh specifically romantically in this country it's all it's this real like all that stuff is internet uh mania turned into delusional uh ideology did i ever watch what would you do i remember that theme song i hadn't thought about that show i haven't thought about that show in 25 years **Music playing** oh man that was a show it was like a kind of a quasi it was a money-based prank show with uh with mark summers where he would like pay people to humiliate themselves wow that's insane why would someone ask that and how would i literally that was wow i there is zero chance that i have consciously thought of that show or that song since i watched it as a child and as soon as i saw because you see what would you do on abc just i instantly heard the whole ***** thing that's brains are crazy because the thing is we like we have perfect memories like your brain imprints everything it experiences it's just accessing it for the front that's so hard because you're trying to juggle all these balls by absorbing all the ***** in front of you like you're absorbing all of this stimuli while trying to pull things out that happened longer ago but that was just sitting there waiting to pop up when i think of the things that i can't remember and have forgotten important stuff and necessary stuff and the fact that that was just waiting there no no no what this is an interesting question someone says uh what uh would you see us twitch chatters as real people that's an interesting question that's an interesting question uh this is a very uh interesting ontological question are you people real to me like when you interact with me like do i imagine you the way i would if i was in a room filled with 100 uh 1400 people and they were like had microphones or something i mean i'd say abstractly yeah like i i believe that our consciousnesses behind these comments that this isn't machine generated for the most part you're not thoughts and that you're you're i'm engaging with you but beyond that it's very hard especially if i'm trying to like formulate thoughts and stuff to keep like a concrete notion of an audience intact they kind of kind of guys kind of melt away and it does sort of become like i look at myself i don't when i'm really in the groove look at myself not at the chat you know and so if there's like a weird like uh element where i'm basically i am doing some sort of like conversational exhibitionism where i'm talking to myself in front of a lot of people you know um another question i saw before i started talking there is living what's better living color or mad tv uh about a while ago now like 10 years ago maybe i uh did a little i rewatched a couple episodes of a living color and even then it didn't hold up so i guarantee you if i tried to watch it now it would be painful meanwhile mad tv is has got some good stuff in it i mean and as you know kum towns talked a lot about how if you have any sort of um fondness for the pre-woke cultural comedic uh style mad tv was your show i mean the wildly uh racist uh sometimes very edgy 0:35:28 as they said they had a character who was a white lady pretending to be an asian woman i mean the kind of stuff was just like oh my god uh but the thing is like those things can't hurt you now so you can watch them from a movie and find them pleasurable i think in living color i remember just being very uh very cringe when i rewatched it wonder shows and on the other hand now that's a ***** program apparently it's not streaming anywhere i haven't watched it in all the way through since i saw it on dvd and i would really like to rewatch it but apparently it's not streaming anywhere is it on youtube a lot of time things are on youtube if they're not anywhere else if anybody can hook me up with wonder shows and because i was i talked about fright night 2 the other day somebody recommended it to me and i couldn't find it on the internet and somebody said oh yeah it's on youtube and they showed me the link it yeah wonder shows it is uh an exposure to that show at the right time is like just it's saturating your brain in an alien uh uh um premise like 0:36:30 just an alien sense of uh compared to the rest of the culture you consume it is at a complete angle to everything else you're gonna you you you are absorbing and i think that's true of all that vernon chapman stuff and everyone's watched his new claymation show on uh adult swim shivering truth very good xavier renegade angel he also did a uh he has done two really fascinating side projects that he apparently paid for with his own money one was weird niche companies that existed one was a custom porn site that would if you paid them enough shoot a porno for you like according to your casting specifications your dialogue you know the the scenario and 0:37:31 then he gave them a like a movie script without any sex in it and had them carry it out i haven't seen that i would like to the other one he turned into a book uh he there's apparently companies that will and i cannot imagine who has ever gotten their money's worth for this if you need help writing a help writing a paper for some sort of school assignment uh they will basically farm out to people in i think asia most of whom's first language is not english and they will write one for you and he sent them a bunch of different uh essay topics and they wrote them for him heart she-holler also very good final flesh is the name of the movie i i have seen wizard 0:38:36 people dear raider oh my god we're talking about comedy legends here uh another guy that i i absolutely revere brad nealy uh to this day wizard people dear reader is the only encounter i have had with harry potter as such i've not seen any of the

movies independently of that or read the books i just saw wizard people dear reader and yeah china illinois all the shorts they did before china illinois uh harg malin slippio pipio i thought somebody we're doing we're people are shouting out adult swim shows now and someone says uh moral oral and they talked about that and 0:39:37 they said like it's it's they compared it to bojack horseman and i had not thought of that before but moral oral is sort of how is like the the gallant to bojack horseman's goofus in terms of it is the uh it is the good way to do that kind of thing it's the good way to uh yeah yeah this is uh this stuff is some demographic pandering right there it's like hey are you a uh are you a late millennial uh white male come on to the cush stream and let's yeah i gotta say like i really do realize over the course of 0:40:43 these that that i am definitely you know projecting a very uh a relatively rigored uh you know um i'm i am expressing on these streams a very specific point of view and anybody who isn't like shares a lot of my reference and sort of experiential premises but i actually don't worry about that because like i remember when chapo started a lot of people like asked us like you know do you think like it needs to be don't you think it should be more inclusive and stuff and and i i think that that assumption comes from the expectation that everything should be for everybody you know and i don't think that that's the case like what you get when you do that is the kind of you know a mediocrity thing like where like uh like the new fargo or something where it's 0:41:44 it's just enforced like the real diversity should come from giving ev from maximizing the opportunity for creators of all types to express themselves rather than having every like node with any kind of uh uh you know market share oh wait a minute somebody says that there's somebody who worked on the dark tower tv show in the chat or the movie i'd be very interested to hear about this yeah it's when so i know the show didn't uh get picked up right the movie was terrible i mean the movie was 0:42:53 the worst kind of uh of garbage and not in that case for diversity like idris elba was actually pretty good choice for just the number one failing is absolutely no respect for the audience's intelligence that's the main thing that's what's made it impossible to have any quality to it is its expectation of like audience buy-in to the world they were building was so low there was so little confidence in in you know presenting something and having the audience sort of come along with them and and accept it and fill it in as it goes as opposed to having it spoon fed to them especially since it was only 90 minutes it's like my god it's almost like they uh they realized how like soulless and juan it was and just decided you know this was gonna be like a two and a half hour long bloated piece of ***** like every other big movie let's just cut all 0:43:54 this stuff and just call it a day and everyone just went yeah that's for the best it just like it felt like nobody's heart was in it except maybe mcconaughey who'd seem to be really chewing the scenery but which is why it was kind of like even after that

terrible movie i was kind of a little hopeful for the show just because the very fact of it being a continuing narrative would give them more time and more uh rope to sort of build their own narrative scaffolding and maybe a little more confidence and then they were like nah no show either did i never have a grateful dead phrase what what do you think what do you think what's the likelihood of that i'm just wondering how what the percentage likelihood you'd think that now i didn't like music enough i think i've said this before but i used i didn't buy albums because i was like even if i liked one or two songs and a band did what if i don't like the rest now i paid for this album that i'm not gonna get that much use out of so i i did not have a cake or a ween phase never got into ween and i'm sorry but i still like cake so that's not a face i mean i don't listen to it as much as i used to but that's because i don't and i do not like camp town races that's the best cake song that's an interesting question there's a lot of great ones if i just try to blank my mind and think of the first thing that comes to mind i like mexico a lot too satan is my motor is great as well the distance is a great song it is a great single it's just i kind of take it for granted you part the waters is a great shot great song friendlies a four letter word is really good short skirt lot of jackets really good i'll go i'll go italian leather sofa number one they did a great cup their covers are some of the best they did a great cover of i will survive and honestly their cover of uh sad songs and waltzes is i know this is heresy i like it better than the willie nelson version because of the trumpet the trumpet adds this like plaintive emotional note to it that is in my opinion even more evocative than willie's voice which of course as i said heresy i understand bomb korea is good too the cover of war oh i really love rock and roll lifestyle too and mr the wind is mad at my cake takes the obviously someone's asking about the revolutions podcast i they asked the best season i don't know if it's the best and probably by definition it isn't but the most impressive season for me just as a podcaster and as someone who's like has the long-term goal to try to do historical like entertainment like historically based you know uh podcasting and has in the past done that what he did with the 1848 revolution still blows my mind like the fact that he did 1848 at all i kind of couldn't believe i thought for sure he'd skip it and then the fact that he was like no i'm going to do it i'm going to do a thing that took two years happened in almost every european top country simultaneously and then bring it together i mean it's not as like you know narratively satisfying as the haitian revolution which is a great great one and maybe it's probably the best like pure expression of the show but i'm just very very impressed by 1848 especially since 1848 is a very important historical moment for like the birth of modern uh revolutionary politics and it's very under known by people and like a lot of people ask me like what's a good book on the 1848 revolution so it's like that's a tough one because of how unwieldy an event it is and how much more likely you're gonna find like more uh like thin-slice narratives and 0:50:7 he really did a service by giving just like just an event structure so that you could do something like read the brumaire and like have it have a context which is hard which makes it hard to read if you don't but like i would say like marx's writing on 1848 is all great but he's assuming a level of knowledge that most people i saw the movie bakaroo and i liked it i liked that it had a very rigorous sort of uh it had the rigorous it it very much had the tone and look and feel of a world cinema art movie you know what i mean like those those three hour movies about you know a village in turkey where someone's trying to sell a mule and that's the whole plot so it has that aesthetic but then it has a absolutely bonkers uh b-movie uh plop up uh pulp plot 0:51:8 and i thought that that was a very interesting choice that i thought worked very well and of course it's very politically relevant you know these rich anglos hunting poor poor brazilian peasants and everything i never got into dan carl and i never listened to the dan carlin podcast too long too long and also apparently conversational i know it's hypocritical for me to say this but i mostly prefer uh uh someone's asked me if 0:52:10 there's anybody in somebody who's been evil who has gone good uh who got anyone in history like a historical figure who started off evil and became good uh i'm gonna troll epicly and say ben i would like we're gonna do another among us stream soon uh that was fun i got the hang of it uh as i went on i have to say uh and i have and i did enjoy being a i do enjoy being the infiltrator that's a uh somebody asked me 0:53:13 why don't you uh call more nazis nazis and i will say i don't know what you're trying to get with that get with that but the real reason i don't use that word too much is because i think it's incumbent on people to make the political system this political situation more clear to people if they're going to talk about it for a living instead of less clear and that kind of language no matter how it conforms to some sort of you know checklist on the internet does a disservice to that goal it makes things less clear it fills the moment with a thunder and emotion and an urgency that is 0:54:15 not matched by the actual political engagement of our population and leads people i think to make uh to to choose wrong priorities based on an emotional response to a symbolic collection of trigger words and ideas that and i mean i think when people yell at me for this it really does feel like they want me to affirm their mania they want me to say no you're not being hysterical and the thing is i think a lot of people i mean if you think we're on the verge of a coup or a fascist pushed then you need to do something other than post and if you can't find it in your if you can't find something to do that isn't posting to make that happen then maybe it's not as imminent as you think someone says be more specific i don't oh god it's a little lens 0:55:18 all greasy again why is atheism protestantism i don't mean in the sense that like there is a way to not believe in god that is inherent that that like not that by not

believing in the judeo-christian god requires like oh that's just provincism i'm saying that people we think of as atheists new atheism is just another it's just a further uh um abstraction to the individual and away from the notion of a social religion that catholicism represented catholicism says is that so that uh that religion is a social practice uh and protestantism says no religion is a personal practice and then the furthest the further removed to that is is the post-rational atheist who says and it's 0:56:19 just it's it's further severing those social ties because at the end of history where we are you know uh religious devotion if it is divorced from a social context like it is in america is a uh it is a connection to something else like something older something beyond oneself even if it's only in the mind and atheism says no no sever even that connection to anything outside of yourself you have the tools of racial sensation within your mind to make sense of the world with the help of others uh but you do not have to pay homage to any old system of beliefs that predates that and that's just the further it's it's it's eternal velocity away from because anyone who makes a project out of like atheism it's baffling to me because whether or not god exists is 0:57:21 beyond the point so beyond the point because none of us will ever know ever what matters is what we do here and that atheism does not get you there like i understand people think that they're like breaking the spell or something but they're not really like when you look at the trajectory of new atheism on how it went from people opposing the bush administration in the early aughts because it was filled with all these christ bothers to now a bunch of people who are measuring skulls like maniacs to try to determine who should live and die in the coming lifeboat uh economy uh you know following climate collapse like i don't think god exists in the sense of a any being outside of the natural world like i don't think that there is but what we call god 0:58:22 is a real thing every everything that is and has to be acknowledged as such you know evangelical american atheism which is just another schizophrenic uh insistence upon the primacy and and uh in fact paramount and solitary and untranscendable barrier of the individual i sound like a baby well i am well i'm a baby i'm definitely a 0:59:24 baby all right maybe i i played disco elysium a little bit but it was very complicated and it kind of hurt anything where i have to click uh bothers me i've heard it's very good our theater is going to die we'll end on this i mean eventually yes uh and i think 1:0:27 that this all might have really facilitated the end of that i think we might be at the end of the if there is an end to the corona if this isn't the new normal and if it is then yes obviously theaters if nothing changes about our ability to be indoors together in like five years which you know some hysterics freak out about like oh what if we get more and more mutations and you know we never reach immunity and therefore we can never go back normal well that's true then but by theaters but even if like two or three years we get back everyone can do it uh i think that the shift to digital will have been complete by then and theaters are going to be mostly maybe they'll be rep maybe we'll still have repertoire houses like the way they are now people showing old movies and honestly that's not the worst thing in the world going to the movies is obviously not just the experience of seeing the movie it is a social engagement for the most part you know there are people who see movies alone i see a lot of i used 1:1:28 to see a lot of movies alone but even then there is a social element to it you're out of the house and that gives your viewing of the movie a formality and an experiential richness that you don't get at home and the thing is though that could be anything you know if it's old movies i mean people see old movies now people used to see old movies now even when there was new ones to be seen but it will definitely change the number of theaters there are the size i mean we might be we might see the end of uh multiplexes we might get back to like uh one one screeners i don't know what they're gonna do with all those uh all those old big theaters uh putt-putt but i think most the theatrical release is going to go away sadly but not maybe the theatrical experience which i'll take i'll take it alright 1:2:30 welcome to the chat room we got lots of games i've done that one before but it's still funny we've got posts that you can find for if you need your posts we've got your machine or your disease whatever i don't know it's never a big g it's a nice 0:1:1

crisp fall day it's something so crisp got a new flavor today cranberry lime it's okay probably wouldn't get it again if other options exist but i always like to try new it is an odd combo i want to give it a shot we're not talking about the fly we're not talking about the fly that's stupid we're not talking about any in fact i'm not trying to talk about that stupid debate at all other than to say how funny it is that they're so desperate to make things normal have i seen the movie the apple i actually did a charity um commentary track for the apple with josh olson and gareth reynolds from the dollop and will uh a couple other people i think uh during earlier in quarantine 0:2:5
it was pretty funny i had some good bits in that one if i'm it's an amazing film uh one of the greatest works of the canon filmmakers in the 80s what is soy facing wow you have not been i have no idea what's going on with the second wave i i'm not plugged in in any way i'm just out here i mean yeah i know the seeds are going buckwild and i thankfully don't live near them anymore i used to live right not i think the ones that were going buck wilder in burrow park i think the the ones in uh uh the ones in crown heights are a little more chill they have not been beating people up anyway and that's where i used to live but anyway i would rather not be 0:3:7
around a bunch of people who refuse to wear the mask in public so uh but yeah i'm far enough away from them that i just keep i keep my distance and uh good luck good luck to all that i say i do think it's funny where they're trying to act like uh and trying to impose health you know uh public health standards on the seeds is like uh the warsaw ghetto i don't know how the hell you keep pulling that out of your ass and have expect people to keep accepting it as true and not eventually just rolling their eyes and well you somebody says it's a total rejection of modernity not really they drive cars they use cell phones i mean if they really wanted to reject maternity 0:4:8 buy some land and ***** farm this thing we're like no we don't we won't have any connection to the to the larger uh culture or you know society but we also demand

modern infrastructure sorry you don't get you shouldn't anyway get to do that okay that's so the thing about the thing i want to talk about to start off with is the uh is the case in michigan about the attempted uh the honestly i'm sorry hilarious attempt attempt to kidnap the governor of michigan and put her on trial for crimes 0:5:9 against the constitution which was broken up by the fbi thanks to a paid informant if these guys were muslim would anyone take this ***** seriously for a second is what i ask would anybody would anybody who is freaking out now about how the nazis are about to come in night of the long knives anyone would anybody be saying that ***** this is the exact same playbook the fbi ran for a decade when people cared about terrorism which of course now they don't which is hilarious if you're old enough to remember after 9 11 when terrorism was the defining social anxiety for like for for a good five six years now it's off the radar and so we're all scared of each other the uh we we we're done going out there like iraq was the last the last frontier we can no longer impose our will on the world and we all know that at some level so now the new enemy is within and so a lot of people who ***** should know better 0:6:10 are freaking out because the fbi had some dude who wanted a playstation who got some yak some yahoos to say hey you wanna uh uh you wanna abduct the governor and they go yeah let's do it and now you got guys saying oh my god there was gonna be a coup in michigan thank god the fbi came and stopped them the fbi the guys who killed fred hampton and maybe mlk they're your friends now they're the good guys they're the ones saving us from the from the nazi hordes i mean i understand the psychic need to have to feel like to feel like you are aware in a way other people aren't about how bad things are you know because it does seem like everybody is just sleepwalking through the apocalypse and i totally understand that and people want some way that they can signal to others and themselves that they are not like 0:7:11 the everyone else they're not as as stupefied as everyone else they're they see through they're cutting through and so one way to do that is to uh convince yourself that we're on the verge of some sort of uh nazi uh overthrow of the government and the thing i don't get about those people though is if there if there was a if there was a coup tomorrow what would you have done to have stopped it even though the people who are so certain that we're on the verge of some nazi takeover what would you have done to stop it what could what position would you be into to uh to oppose it if it happened you can ***** post just like the rest and right now i think a lot of it is because a lot of people are are coming to terms that they're going to vote for biden 0:8:12 and they're not happy about it and so they're convincing themselves that they have to that that that the threat of a trump-inspired uh uh night of the long knives is too too present too real to do anything other than vote for biden even if you don't like him and the thing is you don't have to go through those mental gymnastics it's not as i have said a million goddamn times it's not that big of a deal who you vote for if you want to vote for biden just do it whatever not my problem not anybody's problem but trying to but but insisting on a mental realm where you're under constant attack from these uh these these nazi hordes and then trying to insisting that you have to convince everybody else of that too you you in the interest of just assuaging a sense of of you know violation of principles that you're going to vote for this awful deal liberal you end up making it harder for everybody else to concentrate and figure like 0:9:15 the people who say i actually saw multiple people say it was an attempted coup if six yahoo show up at the governor's mansion and take her hostage does that mean that they're now in charge of the state of michigan is that what people would think would happen is that honestly what people would think shhh i think another part of it is people want a people want some sort of resolution to all this people want a fracture point people want to stop having to go to work you know people want to stop having to pay their credit card bills even if it means they're running from uh lord humongous at least things are different at least they don't feel like they're continuing to uh carry out these social obligations uh purely out of momentum out 0:10:16 of just the the fact that there is no other alternative and how horrible and and empty that feels you know a a apocalyptic revelation of underlying conditions that breaks our social obligations i think that's something that people are secretly on all levels craving and like what i really don't get from like a lot of left left wing people who i think generally will say yeah the cops are not your friend in fact the real problem isn't even you know the uh the paramilitaries it's the police well then what how do you explain the fact that the fbi broke this up like what do you what is your what are you imagining here that like the fbi are uh are the one good police police force or that in this one case they did a good thing or does the fbi do what it always does which is try to ***** justify its budget and get everybody involved in every specific 0:11:18 case a ***** uh raise and a um pay bump and justify budgets which is why they do it which is i mean yes all those fake terror attacks that the fbi set up and then thwarted in the in the bush years they certainly did have a political purpose and that they stoked the hysteria about terrorism but the real front of the brain motivation of everyone involved was to was to justify their ***** uh their payroll line and that's what i think if there's one thing we can do and there's very little we can do which is 0:12:20 what's so terrifying and so innervating and sad about the moment and why people want to find an a grand narrative they can cling to if there's one thing we can do it is sort of sit with our real conditions as shitty as that is and that will help us find a way forward individually because that's the only way we can move forward because there ever all sense that there is a collective is a fantasy it is it is a illusion that is uh propped up by our engagement with a social media that has the that appears to be like some sort of cross-section of america that appears to be a group of people who are in communication with each other and can hypothetically activate and organize uh coordinates through coordination but in reality it's just everyone screaming individually into the void and then making what amount to social groups 0:13:21 out of it the other thing is i think people think that if the right wing is this real threat if the right wing like paramilitary extreme is that important that means the left wing must also be in oh who is lord mungus lord humongous lord humongous 0:14:31 from uh the road warrior walk away someone's calling i said someone's calling me a hypocrite probably i am everyone is that's the price of living in this uh at this moment is it is that principles are someone's all right are you not concerned the gop has the electoral college sufficiently gained to lose at this point they can't to the point that they can't lose if that's true we'll find out and if it is what are we going to do about it that's the question what are we going to do about it and if you look around you'll see that there is no capacity to resist that right now so build capacity but that 0:15:33 doesn't seem what people seem to be interested in people seem to be interested in in getting people anxious in making people aware of an of a sense of anxiety of a sen of just this to be on an edge that can only be satisfied at the symbolic level because it's so overwhelmingly at the level like worrying about something like if the is the electoral college and and uh gerrymandering and uh voter suppression and vote vote theft and all the other things that can you do anything about that as a person you can't but you can fixate on it and obsess and while you're doing that what are you people are looking for instant ascension i think that's it people think that because 0:16:38 the problem seems so intractable in their personal lives and in the world around them there's so little social context to their existence that if we focus enough at the highest levels like where the real because we understand that these things emerge from huge systems and structures that are beyond us if we can concentrate hard enough at that level we will be able to am i saying that the birth of a nation didn't have an influence on people joining the kkk or top gun influence dumbasses joining 0:17:40 the navy no it probably did both of those things absolutely happened but birth of a nation is not why the kkk rose to prominence uh in the in uh in the early 1900s the military buildup of the reagan years was not caused and political movements that are based around stamping down symbolic outcomes outcroppings of material conditions oh who's manking everybody manking that's such a weird thing to make 0:18:44

a movie about about the the screenwriting credit for citizen kane just seems like a weird thing to make a movie about mank folks ah paul paul you hear about mank mink it's banking season how bad is the sorokin movie going to be i mean i already know what the justice is going to be it's going to be those damn yippies uh those those those those children those unrealistic punks abby hoffman and jerry rubin they

undermined the work of real uh effective political activists like tom hayden and the thing is if that's the case i don't know how mad i'm going to be because the ***** yippies did suck i'm sorry they were bash it was embarrassing i mean it's the purest 0:19:46 like middle class uh uh like lifestyle politics which is part partial to the uh to the i mean the fact that jerry rubin became a ***** like stock broker or whatever that's hilarious pretty pretty uh almost it's too on the nose like the fate of most of those guys is amazing when you look at what happened just the way that everything got subsumed by by the culture the 70s culture of like individual pursuit because it was always an individual pursuit it was just in the guise of politics which is true of politics now too i mean we really are in a uniquely a unique historical material condition where it is almost impossible to to effectively make effectively live political 0:20:47 values what we can do is express political values socially in ways that almost always end up being reinforcements of some personal branding exercise and i include myself among this it's because there's no the slots aren't way less pro inter apparently abby 0:21:57 hoffman was less pro-intervention whatever that means than uh i am okay i don't hate anarchists i just think that it's not i mean i'm just saying not even not that's wrong not helpful i i just don't think that it is a it is a lens that that is uh effective that it ends up reinforcing uh all the worst patterns in in like leftist political uh organizing and and thought but people within it can be very well intentioned and can be effective organizers and effective uh comrades if you want to get cringy about it but they would probably be more so if they uh got some weird comments here 0:23:20 today apparently pence uh pence might have it which if you watch the debate last night that makes sense he did not look good he looked ***** rough he was looking very very pink he had the eyeball he had the big red eyeball the which biden did 0:24:23 earlier in the campaign remember he first one in one of the primary debates he came out just had a perfect red eyeball i i look forward to this as as the new normal of candidates pretending not to be sick at debates and then just having parts of the only thing i took from that debate is that pence is not going to inherit anything from trump he is an absolute wet uh towel lamo no absolutely no base it was watching him what felt like looking through a time portal to the bush era he was like a free he was like a dehydrated george w bush all of this charisma removed his and all that's left is just that squinty eyed dumb sounding keeningly whiny evangelical tone which even 0:25:24 evangelicals clearly at this point are sick of and want somebody who's just the man is swagless the man is absolutely swagless oh god the 25th amendment thing just these democrats trump just said he's not going to do a stimulus people are dying here ***** people are going to starve people are going to get kicked out of their homes they were already getting kicked out of their homes you're seeing the economy itself could completely ***** collapse in the next couple of months barring another *****

infusion of stimulus because people don't have any goddamn money like genuinely are out of money and she wants to have some sort of parlor game discussion about whether he's fit to be president less than a month before the goddamn election she doesn't want to talk about that ***** stimulus and honestly it's because she doesn't want to do a stimulus either because she has made the political conclusion that he will be blamed for it and therefore don't let it happen and that that's cruel but it might be true but only if you actually make people aware of that and reinforce it and instead of reinforcing it instead of talking about how he's stonewalling a needed ***** stimulus she's gonna go off on a ***** wild goose chase about his health even being it's like these people are absolutely cold-blooded scum who have no concern for any human being's life who play politics strictly as this lizard battle for power and influence and yet among democrats even then their instincts at doing it are ***** it's amazing like they're bad and then bad at being bad amazing i mean the 20 i mean what the heck congress has nothing to do with the 25th amendment the 25th amendment is if a majority of the cabinet signs a letter saying that they that the president is not fit uh to to um have ought to perform the office that's where the start of it is it's the cabinet you think the cabinet you think trump's cabinet's going to do that no there's nothing there's no role for congress except to take make this the story and the thing is all trump has to do is keep putting out those hilarious videos where he's doing proof of life about how you know you didn't know it but i'm actually a senior citizen i you didn't know and i didn't want to say it but i'm actually i'm a senior i know you thought i was 32 you thought i was too young to be president because of how wonderful strong i am all he has to do is keep doing that and people will be like nancy pelosi seems like a hysterical maniac i mean hell they might lose who knows they could like i said trump winning trump winning in these conditions trump winning while dying of ***** kovid that would also be very funny so it's possibility okay somebody said about the right pot they wanted a clarification when i was talking about the right populism and it was after trump uh said no dice to more stimulus there's this persistent kind of wish slash uh warning i see people make that the right wing because the democrats are so wedded to neoliberalism and refuse to do any kind of real populist rearrangement of the economy that that's going to leave a space for the republicans to do it and i think the fact that we have not seen another round of checks this close to the election with a guy like trump in power and a guy like mnuchin as treasury secretary guys who do not believe in all any of the arthur laughter ***** about ***** uh uh uh about debt i mean none of them really do but these guys really really don't it tells me that the party itself is for a number of reasons constitutionally incapable of delivering this kind of populism with trump and i i don't think as i have said whoever comes after trump is going to be more beholden to the republican party than trump is which means they're even less going to have less leeway to try to actually uh provide some sort of hair invoke social democracy which means it's just going to be more it's going to be pure culture and i understand why people just want want some way out of this this horrible vacuum sealed hell of endless culture war while everyone slowly starves to that but i'm sorry that is what politics two-party politics is going to be for the foreseeable future until unless that dynamic is interrupted by a third force people of humans not political parties that are that are fused **Music playing** do i think trump ever smoked weed 0:30:34 absolutely not i don't think he's he might not even have done coke the fact that he does those weird british uh antihistamines tells me that he's got like he doesn't drink we know that i think he's got some sort of weird phobia about losing control and so he has to do drugs that aren't illegal that are prescribed the same way he has to get fast food from uh he has to get food from fast food places where it's all always looks the same and it has like the he it ha everything he puts into his body has to have come from some multinational corporation that's that's that's what tells him that it has it is a controlled product anything else where to come from what's in it who knows he doesn't want it no no no no so yeah adderall probably we know 0:31:36 he's on all the weird uh decongestants uh but i don't think he does he's he would not do any illegal drug because where to come from and now he is completely he is in a god-like high on the ***** uh steroids he's on which who knows how long that will last although now he wants to push back the next debate which tells me that he's still sick in some like he's aware not just that he's sick but he's aware that he's sick because i don't know i would think that if he was genuinely feeling better he would want to have the debate and he'd be like yes let's do it next thursday i can show america that i'm still there and the fact that he's like let's do it a week later i don't know man he's very right now i think he's absolutely terrified of going 0:32:39 out like stan shara he actually said in that uh uh video he put out today you know people say you're vulnerable talking about the seniors you're vulnerable and you're not vulnerable you're the least vulnerable but in this case you're vulnerable and i'm vulnerable he actually said that it's creeping in there man it's death of ivan it's death of ivan ilich territory for him the eternal footman is holding his coat but whether he'll actually go or not i have no idea uh am i going to go in like sanshira tell me be straight with me am i going out with stanchira has anyone heard from chris christie is the best thing about that stan cherish story is that you know and i know at least 0:33:45 in my heart that it's not like he was worried that he had any kind of empathy for stan shara it's that as soon as dan sherrod died of kovid in trump's mind he became a ***** loser he was a chump even if he might have liked him as much as he can like another person which is very very little and so now the thought am i going out like stan which is why he's the most miserable man on earth because he is he cannot conquer death which is the only way that he could ever remove that the misery of his of his every moment because this misery is driven at base by the knowledge that this 0:34:48 this sensory castle that he has invested all of himself into is uh is temporary stancher died like a dog oh yeah mike lee say mike lee saying america is not a democracy uh that's actually classic uh john birch society ***** that used to be a refrain of the john birch society is that america is not a democracy it's a republic and they would uh they would you know you always do it like a town hall or something the cranks because somebody would say something like we're a democracy and someone would go ah actually we're a republic so this is just this is old school paleo conservatism making a comeback uh and it's in defense of you know the counter-majority and impulse that is now controls government and i think the strongest argument against that like beyond obviously like even if you take the premises correct like democracy 0:35:49 is ruled by the mob and the mob is not is never going to be able to understand what is the best interest of all because they're too selfish and narrowly focused and too impulsive because they have not been refined enough to exercise discretion and uh virtue the way that the the the men of of uh worth do you know this goes back to the ***** optimists versus the popularities in ***** ancient rome but i'd say even on their own premises look at what this counter-majoritarian republican institutional framework has given us who is in charge right now these are the dumbest ***** on the earth who have led like just look at covet as a as by itself a singularly incompetent response to a a uh a public health crisis these guys these republican institutions are not you only reproduce privilege and that means that you're just getting habsburgs 0:36:51 very shortly even with even if you start with purely a meritocratic framework you will very shortly get nothing but carlos the bewitched don juniors and ***** because they're guaranteed spots regardless of their ver regardless of their merit and living the way that these people do essentially is designed to prevent you from ever acquiring merits of any kind ever acquiring virtues of any kind because you are denied any opportunity to exercise them because money lubricates everything and it makes it makes taking the easy way out almost always the smart choice in the near term and you do that long enough and then you're at best what wyatt coke making terrible shirts and thinking that you're ***** qb halloween was not i'd say it's probably the 0:38:3 most enjoyable of the um of the adam sandler netflix movies that i've seen mostly because it was such a self-conscious reference to the old happy madison movies that everybody liked or more more people like it was it was a it's a weird mishmash of like billy madison uh waterboy happy gilmore alex just like packed together a little and he and he finally found a new it's like he has a different voice in this one it's sort of uh it's a different kind of of of way to talk funny which hey he's like 65. i give him credit for but that whole republic not a democracy it's so transparent about maintaining existing power structures like it's saying that these are inherently the correct power structures basically because they persist which makes sense given america's uh you know providing presiding uh ideology and even religious ideologies which is because this is the land of uh where we made our own destiny right this is the land where people came from other places to inscribe the land as we wanted to because it was it was a continent's worth of free real estate explored from people who were not part of any kind of understanding of the public that wherever that money ended up wherever that power ended up wherever that land ownership ended up aft through that process by definition is the correct where is where it should have ended up and attempts to change that distribution are interfering with god's will in a very real sense interfering with um even if you're not religious interfering with a just the just distribution and the most efficient and most correct distribution because it is the best baseball movie major league of course i did see color out of space it was it was okay i didn't love it i i did think that cage was fun and the fact that he did a trump impression like his dad because the whole thing is he turns into his his abusive father over the course of the movie and that his abusive father voice is clearly him doing a trump impression that was a fun choice but it's also it shows you how the trump era has totally destroyed art in a lot of ways because he is not a person who really we should be thinking about that much and i know that's hilarious for me to say i mean in terms of making art you know making stuff that's supposed to speak to deep like if you're trying to adapt lovecraft you know you're talking about existential questions man's place in the universe and to bring him into it it's kind of uh it's a little even if it's entertaining which it was it's also a little depressing because you just think oh like this this figure this pathetic figure is now the lens that we're going to look through all of our most important i talked about the john brown show uh previously i did not like the first episode at all but i'm willing to accept that i might be misinterpreting it honestly when the character at the beginning said some people call him a ***** white savior that kind of soured me on the whole thing and i probably it's going to be hard for me to evaluate it fairly after that so i'll have to watch a few more episodes to see if i can get the taste and for me it's not even the thing that bothers me about that isn't like it's insulting john brown oh no my boyfriend john brown i love him don't say mean things about him it's more than just that i don't think that that is a uh that that is such a contemporary framing that having it come out of the mouth of a character from the 1860s to me it's it's it just flashed to me like oh god no this is another one of these movies this is another one of these shows this is another one of these things that we're all seeing which is how can we take that the past that alien country and instead of trying to understand it try to turn it into now so so take it out of its context and just flatten it into something that we can recognize and doing that to me robs it of any of its which republican governor tries to secede first well you got to figure uh what's his name the roller chair guy texas dude not dan patrick he's he apparently he's the more uh powerful figure the lieutenant governor but abbott texas you gotta figure is gonna make and make uh make waves about it desantis in florida 0:44:23 but honestly i think it would all be all those efforts even if they got like scary even if it involved you know like demonstrations of force like like greg abbott rolls out of the ***** uh state house and reviews a bunch of national guard tanks going down the roads of austin or something as a show of force to you know claiming nullification or something it would all be auditioning to run for president not to actually secede because and that honestly is one of the saving graces of the right wing in this country is that it it is increasingly being dominated at even the highest levels at the political level not yet at the level of capital but at the political level by by true believers con 0:45:26 artists and people who are both people who have con themselves so that they can con others and what that means is that they can't coordinate any better than than we can everybody's got each other so yeah you'll definitely see secessionist murmurings but it's all just going to be people auditioning to either run for president or get a fox news show or a line of catheters i don't think the republican party is going 0:46:42 to fracture someone asks if it's going to fracture the republican party i think is is coming together i think the republican party is is actually coalescing uh and it's yeah it's going to be a the party anyway is going to increasingly be a rump of of wildly reactionary old people consumed by conspiracy uh and the queueification of the party is inevitable um but that's just part of a greater trend of as politics is going to accelerate further and further into spectacle and as conditions deteriorate more and more and people are forced to create more and more elaborate fantasy narratives to explain why things keep getting better keep getting worse no matter who's in charge and right now you and it's like you blame the other party you know and that's the reason that's a big reason half the country stop paying attention is 0:47:43 because that's absurd you have to have convinced yourself at a basic level you have to fool yourself into buying into this thing to make that next step that oh no it's just because those other guys the half the country is like okay bye-bye and so the republican party is gonna it's gonna is going to pack tighter together the democratic party on the other hand i think there's a actual fracture lines there but i don't know how how much how resilient this is i kind of assume honestly the system's resilient enough and republicans getting worse and worse will basically be the glue that keeps the fracture from happening like the awfulness of the republican party sort of works to prevent any kind of real fracture among the democrats no matter how far the party moves from its base uh all part of this all as expressions of the same phenomenon 0:48:44

of of generalized deteriorating conditions it's it's it's brilliant nobody drew it up like that either that's the amazing thing like at this point that's what this system does exists to continually diffuse popular hostility to actual power holders by directing anger towards scapegoats either an enemy political party or a other within within the body politic that must be expunged um and then everybody else just checks out but nobody ever sat down and drew it up that way it but it was written up to prevent popular investment in government and that it has done just the way that has happened has changed like the original the founders originally imagined that there would not be parties and now we have coherent polarized political parties which 0:49:47 have rendered the constitutional system incapable of actually governing but it has not led to the popular participation the the bursting force of the ravel rabble that the founders feared because the parties themselves over the years have emerged as middle middlemen between capital and the public and have fused so uh behind the scenes in such a way that they that they act as one organism which was something that was never conceived of by the original uh founders but which helps to carry out the original idea which was to keep people out of and that's what happens when the system can continually adapt because social pressure is continually vented off which is what american exceptionalism is based on our ability to vent off social conflict which 0:50:50 is going away our ability to vent off social conflict is reducing over time but at this but now we have this new thing the internet and i think when i've talked in the past about how the frontiers closed in and there are no more places to imagine american uh uh expansion you know nowhere else to to to tease out the american dream the new one is the internet and that's why politics is now in practice synonymous with self promotion because it's the only place where realistic social mobility is possible in this country is if you get a little bit of micro celebrity of course talking about myself among others and that's where now the battle will be and that's where the 0:51:51 uh the social venting is occurring that's where that's where we are venting off the the the current amount of social uh alienation and dislocation and the capacity of the internet to absorb it is so that's why i can never buy anybody who says i can't buy any claims that like continuing decay uh continually uh declining material conditions will produce x or y or z a result because i honestly don't know myself enough i don't have enough confidence myself in what what capacity the internet has rank choice 0:52:58 voting is not a bad idea i mean all those like all those clicks and whistles are fine but they're not going to do anything by themselves and the best example of that is australia australia has a lot of the features of their electoral system that people in america pine for and they have awful politics they have less of a they have the australians have less of a live political uh spectrum than we do even though they have rank choice voting hell they have there's rank choice voting in the senate don't

they have it in the senate someone an actual australian told me they had right uh ranked choice voting in the australian senate the fact that they have senate by the way is hilarious why would you do that i'm literally having people saying they do and they don't at the same time okay why why do i even look at this chat oh ireland has ranked choice voting my god you want to talk about a a moribund political spectrum holy **** i actually respect that about ireland is that they don't even pretend like their two main political parties have ideological differences it's really just what side of the irish civil war you were on that's it which is what we had for a while here democrat republican it was basically what what side you fought the civil war on and they've just they've just stuck with that as the defining characteristic it's kind of impressive is sinfain the official uh opposition yao because i know they have a unity government right after the last after the last election is shin family and things get if things get better there they might thanks in large part to the absolute office bungling of the british regarding brexit it will not be because of any uh electoral structure i have no idea what's going on brexit after corbyn lost i as a treat to myself i said well this is terrible but the good news is i don't have to pay attention to british politics at all and i have not uh if something big happens if if like uh if if if they reunite ireland or like scotland secedes let me know but i am not paying attention to that **** it's interesting like scotland now probably i bet if they did another referendum i'm sure i would bet now that scott that independents would win in scotland uh but that's why they won't have one that's why they're not gonna do it they're not gonna **** up again the way they did with brexit they're not gonna have any more votes and if they won't let like if if if westminster doesn't allow them to have a referendum then what are they going to do about it hold their own like catalonia did how'd that work out for them i gotta wonder though like what's the point though you're gonna rejoin brussels so some other **** uh foreign powers can dictate your uh uh the boys i'm watching the boys it's okay uh cgi better actually the cgi there is not as terrible as it is in a lot of other things i think because they make the blood really dark which kind of hides the cgi-ness of it but you can still tell and it's also very very on the nose it's one of those shows you can tell is inspired by someone's twitter feed which to me i have i already will go on twitter i i am not i think a lot of people generally get off on watching shows that are reflecting their twitter feed to them they're like aha it's like validating and i i end up just cringing and going oh god uh fargo is now it's three uh not encouraged not liking it now this is an interesting question if i watch the movie that i really like the effects like i thought ah these guys are doing squibs thank god and then i found out it was cgi when i feel tricked i think i would probably i would feel i would honestly feel kind of dumb for a second like oh they got me like in the commercials where it's folger's crystals you know it's not the it's not store and you're like oh god maybe i'm a rube i think more than anything i would i would i would chalk it down to over time me just like the the the the my level of like ability to discern this stuff declining as my exposure to the real stuff goes away but after that grappling i would probably just be like okay good i'll accept this fine whatever i'll stop worrying about it if the technology is here then i'll just accept it 1:0:24 he loved big brother did did pence is pence been announced it's confirmed of course he does of course he did of course he did of course he ***** had it of course he had it does that mean that uh oh by the way how did that plexiglass barrier do for uh kamal i guess we'll i gotta say i understand every argument for why trump might still win from the unreliability of polls to the fact that there's been a big surge in republican registration in a number of states the fact i just saw an insane poll that says apparently 54 of people say they feel like they're better off than they were four years ago which is absolutely baffling to me uh you could leave your house and not worry about contracting a disease that might destroy your lungs four years ago how by that alone do you answer that question yes and also of course you know uh we're already seeing it in the in the states that are doing early voting where in texas they're limiting uh each county regardless of how many people in it to one collection point 1:1:26 for uh for mail-in ballots and in early voting in in ohio lines are on the block all those things are real but man everyone having ***** corona in the white house to me it just it feels like that it feels like that thing at the end of a movie that the turning point and of course that's why it might not be true because we look for things that confirm our narrative and then that ends up taking the place of actual knowledge but one way or another uh we love to see it and it's very funny and that's really what we should always be focusing on if we're going to be paying attention to this stuff at least have fun with it i think that's my main argument with the people who want to feel like they're on the verge of being crystal knocked is that how is that fun i mean i get that it's pleasurable at a certain level but that seems to be a perverse and an unwholesome pleasure as opposed to just yucking it up oh so he didn't he doesn't have it you people what i can't get a straight answer out of any of you about whether 1:2:29 the australian senate has a ranked voting ranked voting or if pence has coronavirus i'm being gaslit i am being gaslit by you people i actually like this because this does remind me that like this experience of just reading something very fast and getting conflicting information and then just having to in your head decide which thing you believe that's essentially twitter that's essentially online it's just there's an illusion of control there because it's moving that is it's not is moving as fast and as you you can control your uh it's easier to control like your input and and what you're seeing 1:3:30 but it's the same thing it's just bleep bleeps hitting you in the eye and then you having to have an emotional response to them man it really is bad it really is bad stuff it really does just make it impossible all right someone is saying that australian voting is preferential and they also have proportional representation so one way or another has a lot of the features that people demand that we add to the american electoral system in order to make it more responsive all right uh what what how long have we been going because i know it's getting dark out here but i might just log off before i okay we're over an hour all right okay guys before the lights don't go out 1:4:31 completely before the before the darkness comes in and swallows us it's time to uh take it sleazy see you guys later foreign okay so hey we're in i i was sorry i was making sure we were in i'm hacking 0:1:35 into the matrix **Music playing** hacking into the matrix uh it's raining out so i'm not out in my splendid garden i'm in here and not for too long uh i'm not going to be able to broadcast or i'm sorry broadcast force of habit for too long today i've got uh i've got time constraints for other media non-media related reasons but i didn't do anything this weekend and i don't want to go three in a row days in a row generally without doing one so i was just going to put a little a little nugget in here a little cuibi for you guys a quick bit which is apparently what the way people love to consume media according to noted super genius uh was it jeffrey katzenberg the the ***** brain brain man behind that ***** god those guys have so much money and they definitely deserve so i just wanted to say i might not don't talk about it so okay i 0:2:47 want to start with this so i said last week that i really didn't like the new show on showtime good lord bird with ethan hawk as john brown and i got a lot of pushback people said they really liked it a lot of people have said it's great and i decided well maybe i just got off on the wrong foot with it i watched i the very beginning of it when someone when the character says some people black folks hate him and think he's a white savior it hit my here wrong and maybe i gave the whole thing an unfair greeting because i was primed to not like it because of that moment early on but so 0:3:48 i started watching the second episode with good faith and it doesn't really change any of my opinions about it i gotta say and in fact i one specific moment happened that i think crystallized some of the specific problems i have with it uh and it was uh so at one in the second episode the main character who is this uh young boy former slave boy who is part of brown's band but then separates off and is in in cross-dressing as a woman uh they ends up in missouri across the border from kansas uh as among slaves uh and enslaved i think at a brothel and a character refers to the ruffians the border ruffians who would go across the border to rustle cattle and intimidate and attack free staters and vote most importantly vote in elections uh for things like you know the the the various uh slave state constitutions from the one of the two competing governments that was always being established in the kansas area 0:4:49 and she refers to them as rebels and it just clanged off my ear and i thought who are these people rebelling against this is 1865 i'm sorry this is 18 i believe this is 1856 when this thing is set uh the south has not seceded abraham lincoln has not even i believe been elected not uh abraham lincoln has not even been elected yet uh the the democratic party hasn't even shattered on the issue of slavery at its convention yet are they rebelling against in the in during bleeding kansas the federal government under the doe face wretches franklin pierce and james buchanan who were northern men whose entire political fortunes depended on absolute uh obsequious ob essence to all slave power dividers that was how they maintained power the urban machines in the north plus the slave power in the south they couldn't they because they were 0:5:50 the most demanding constituency on the issue of uh um on the issue of expansion and the the fate of slavery in in new territory because slavery slavers self-consciously understood that the future uh viability of slavery as a system depended on continued expansion that was what drove the conflict that led to the civil war wasn't slavery as such it was slavery in the newly acquired territory and so the governments that oversaw bleeding kansas by the democrats pierce and buchanan whose northernness connected them to the free so state electorate a part of the coalition but whose policies were always enough to guarantee the support of the south so that incentive structure meant that the federal government consistently recognized the con the pro-slavery legislatures in kansas and declared the free state constitutions illegal which 0:6:51 meant that the laws passed by the uh pro-slavery legislatures had the force of law insofar as you know if uh if the pro-slavery forces enforce them with violence the state in the form of the local uh uh and very small uh federal troop deployment uh that was there uh at forts leavenworth and uh uh one other place i can't remember right now but dodge i think um would it would intervene on the side of the pro-slavery factions if anyone was a rebel in kansas it was the free state uh faction they were in the disfavor of the federal government which was the arbiter of power there and the because missouri was right there filled with drunk uh dirt farming southern whites who hoped to scratch a few dollars out of the soil uh after coming a cropper in in the settled territories those settled states would just pour over and 0:7:53 overcome everybody with numbers and violence if numbers wouldn't do and i think the reason this is not just nitpicking because to me that rep that for one thing reflects a misapprehension of the strategic situation that john brown found himself in when he did things like perform carry out the uh pottawatomie massacre which is considered the blackest stain on his reputation and the thing that makes even people who support him like as uh figure him to be a a progressive or virtuous character in history have to acknowledge was a uh over-exertion of of of mania caused by some sort of an imbalance and his pursuit of the harpers ferry raid in the face of any plausible route to success rendered him in the minds of even people who would support him inherently mad and because i think more than even his erratic behavior or violent behavior it is his very uh clarity of faith not in god as an abstraction 0:8:54 but as in god as a lived reality that is what rendered him insane to people is what renders him more than anything insane to people and that the insanity they depict in this movie show is an insanity that is just spiritually bound and therefore deeper human spirit to use get abstract and goofy about it just it seems to chop it down to a recognizable framework oh religious mania plus like well-intentionedness equals uh kook or something like that and this small thing about rebels is indicative of that john brown carried out things like the pottawatomie massacre in a framework where it looked very much to every observer especially right after the sack of lawrence which was when the patawatomy massacre was carried out that the pro-slavery faction in kansas was going to win was going to take over the entire territory have it admitted 0:9:56 as a slave state look what was happening in washington the the president the the presidency was in the clutches of a democratic party that was fully invested by the power of the slaveocracy which meant that that combination would guarantee that future states would come in as slaves and the only long-term hope for ending slavery in any realistic fashion short of the spontaneous war was cutting it off creating a cordon sanitary freeze uh territory around the south to eventually weaken and destroy the beast thy starvation of land and expansion and that's what the south understood which is why they were fighting so hard in kansas and why when the issue of kansas galvanized the north so much that they elected lincoln over the issue of the compton constitution that's what the compton constitution is what broke the democratic party into three parts what ensured lincoln would win and what guaranteed uh the republicans a stranglehold on the vote in the northern states such 0:10:57 that uh lincoln was the first anti-slavery candidate to carry every northern state which meant he would have run even probably without the democrats splitting up why was that the issue why did they vote that way why did the south then secede because they saw that the writing was on the wall because of what john brown did in kansas and then in harper's ferry which means that assuming that they were mad or or bloodthirsty or or erratic assuming that not knowing it through textual analysis which come on nobody reads anything you're just going off reputations you're just looking through the prism of history through sort of a broad humanist lens what you're doing is you're failing to see the tendrils that bound him to the earth in such a way that he could be sane in a land filled with insanity that he could see the deeper reality of human human interdependence that was invisible to everyone else and that 0:12:0 he was and that what he did pushing at the boundary at every level of what was acceptable and going beyond what was practical or even moral in the pursuit of the next level of engagement with the issue the next concrete move towards the actual eradication of slavery was predicated by him asserting and so any art that seeks to deal with him i think should deal with him from at least understanding that in this show to me it seems to me that they haven't even thought this way they had it this stuff has not even occurred to them honestly i think what it comes down to more than anything is that the new left-wing social position that you see in things like a showtime movie with a prestige cast that's going to get written up in all the good uh online periodicals and was going to form the a part of a balanced cultural diet for a you know late empire uh uh over-produced elite in our media in our country's uh 0:13:3 media centers is that we have now internalized the same thinking about race that the dunning school perpetuated through american society at the turn of the last century that was when the prevailing understanding in culture was that john brown must have been insane because he thought black people and white people were equal only only an insane white man could think that therefore john brown was insane now the new uh cynical afro-pessimist sort of t tn uh the coates uh uh received wisdom on race is that john brown must have been crazy to think that white whites would ever treat black people as equal that they could ever actually affect equality in society because why would john brown want to see slavery ended unless he thought eventually human equality could be could emerge out of white and black living alongside one another why would he have done it if he didn't think that could happen and would happen 0:14:4 as a result of it and that's the part of it that they now think renders him insane it doesn't mean he was a bad guy that's the difference the old dunning school people said he was mad and bad the new uh afro-pessimist liberal uh cultural uh hive mind says he's bad because he couldn't recognize the inherent wickedness of white people or the inherent intractability of of white supremacy because you can't because the inability of white people to actually empathize with black people at a deep enough level to treat them instinctively as a person that that is an impossible thing even though he felt it he felt it as deeply as any man could feel anything that makes him crazy that's what makes and this show is about that it's about how he was two he was two he saw the forest great but he missed the trees like the whole first thing 0:15:5 the first thing he does is that he rescues a a slave from a from a slaver in kansas plantation in the process gets her son her her husband killed or i mean sorry his gets his father killed then takes him from the plantation and in the process of taking him over here's what his dying father says about his name to think he's a woman and just assumes he is a woman because he can't see her i mean sorry him i keep forgetting it's really him he can't see him he can't see onion he can't seem henry for who he is because he is too mad to recognize to his own white supremacy to recognize his own and so even though he's going to act on behalf of black people it will never be truly

him acting as uh it will be on their behalf from a position of inherent superiority that he doesn't even recognize because it's drowned out by the voice of god and that's that's going to that's the complicated modern take on john brown that that 0:16:6 acknowledges the reality of slavery and white supremacy in america and it is more uh truthful and doesn't go in for white savior tropes meanwhile you're embedding in people's mind even deeper of course it doesn't matter you know it's all noise but it's just an expression of a culture that in every way reproduces the idea that and capitalism is happy to do it that's race is irreparable on the end for reactionaries it's it cannot be reduced because it's real it constitutes an actual difference of some sort of spiritual or or genetic uh disjunction that that cuts off the obligation between humanity says you are not part of it anymore the other says that white people believe that too much for it to ever actually uh be defeated which then means there can only be conflict there can only be conflict over resources and victory and defeat there can 0:17:7 be no reconciliation because there could be no equal terms for a social contract and the question then is who's going to win that fight and given the numbers in america if push comes to shove and that's where everybody gets pushed either by the right or the left the answer is going to be their own kind because it's who's at the end of the day they're so anyway not a fan so far we'll see i'm gonna watch all of it that's okay i'll keep watching that garbage as our friend donald trump i might be wrong like this all might be getting complicated and turned into a rich bullier base honestly this is one of the faults of television as a as a art form not kidding about this i think that one of the things that makes one of the many things that makes television a lesser in my opinion art form than things like film is that the way it is viewed and the way it 0:18:13 is reviewed make it impossible to view it the way people want to prestige television is supposed to be this narrative that unfolds over time and yet you are seeing it in these intervening chunks honestly binging is the way to watch it all the the gapped out way that we we are used to that's actually worse in my opinion because it means you have to have a take on everything before it develops and then you decide oh this thing in this episode is bad i didn't like it it makes you like the show less it makes you less likely to watch the next episode and then what about later if it's redeemed as turn of a broader whole and you realize it needed to be there but you already watched it and you already formed your shows your opinion about the show based on that and you're not able to adjust or it's harder to adjust anyway than when you're viewing something as a seamless garment anyway i will continue to watch this garbage and i'm willing to say it might be better i will say this though i do not like 0:19:17 ethan hawk at all that is not about the artistic intent or the historical value or any of those higher questions at a pure technical level i do not enjoy his performance i didn't think he was a good pick for it in the first place and i think he's bad in the role the way he's playing the character forgetting whether it's insulting to brown as a character by making him this comical uh madman this don quixote figure um just the way he performs it is to me uninteresting it's just this centaurian rattle with no red with no deeper uh no deeper connection to anything it just it just seems to be blood and thunder just absolute to the rafters he seems to be just trying to mouth religious piety through a a kind of an empty uh performance of like a tent revival preacher it just feels very artificial it doesn't feel like it's coming from him uh i would 0:20:18 really and the thing is what about first reformed if he'd played john brown like he played father toller we might be getting somewhere that'd be an interesting play on the character he's not he's the opposite of reverend toller in this movie and he is as bad in it as uh he was good in that movie so that's another big hurdle for me is that i don't like him in it like the scenes where he's owning slavers and yelling at them and going i am here on a mission of redemption and then cam ***** steve zahn gets blown off with a camel cannon and he owns epically 50 slave owners it doesn't even have any kind of oomph to it because he's just never robbed of this sense of sort of comic opera buffoonery that means that he can't even get any badass moments off i think people are just reading it at their want oh they just want to see the slavers get epically owned because it's just another performance of the same puppet show of antifa versus a proud voice that we're all psychically investing in instead of engaging 0:21:19 in politics and so i see why people want to get off on that but he can't even give it to me if it michael shannon with his voice cracking like the ***** mountain of doom is is like the the voice of justice itself willing to also be realistic with john brown's voice and make it like high and crackly um **Music playing** he did not have a deep booming voice actually he was like he's like abraham lincoln in that way lincoln is thought to have or was before the uh daniel day-lewis role defined the character was thought to be very deep and resonant like sam waterson no it was high and reedy and uh and danger day lewis went for that because he had the confidence and he knew he could work with it ***** ethan hawk it's like no it's not badass enough and so he ignored the reality to give him this and i understand i understand that the real 0:22:20 point of the show is to take him as like a figure in american history like a figure of um uh like paul bunyan or pecos bill or john henry and like that's his role in this like that's why there's that's you know it's it's john brown as a as a cultural folk hero if that's the case i don't like the aesthetics of it at all if that's the case you can't go with ethan hawk there give me somebody who actually feels like they would be bigger than life i'm sorry ethan hawk even though he's been good in things in the past and is an underrated actor generally he is not larger than life so you ***** it from the beginning if that's what it's going for and i've heard people arguing that that's the lens to view it through no no this isn't john brown this is john brown if he

as paul bunyan this is john brown as john henry this is john brown as an american folk character brought down through generations of like retelling of you know the the 0:23:21 american history then he needs to not be ethan ***** hawk i'm sorry so there we go uh oh john wait tom waits is an interesting choice brad dorf oh he's too old now but oh my god he could have been good but the ian mcshane is one of those guys who can't do an american accent that's why they had to put those funny little bits in of extra dialogue uh around uh uh they had to lampshade it in deadwood they had the lampshade that e mcshane was british by having ellsworth at the bar go is it true that you were descended from english royalty because otherwise why does he sound 0:24:22 like that it's like how in uh in schwarzenegger movies he would like to be talking to a date and go yeah so i was born in austria we moved here after the war after my father uh for some reason uh decided he needed to nick cage is john brown oh god honestly with the way this thing is like winkingly self-referential and very of the moment and honestly just it's the same tone as all this stuff that's my main problem with it beyond anything even ideological is it's just the tone is this arch fully socially like the problem with wokeness as a concept when applied to art is that it implies this world wariness and like full understanding of history that honestly just ends up coming off 0:25:24 as cultural as capitalist ***** realism it's just more just a wary snarl and a and a wink like oh no we haven't metabolized the whole pageantry and horror of human history without having imbued it with any emotion beyond our pale reproduction of it our our quotation marks ironic appropriation so i hope those people who still like the show will engage with this critique because i feel like i've articulated some genuine issues and i would like to see some people who like the show like i'm seeing some like people i'm generally very sympatico with saying they like it i haven't asked matt carpe but i got to find out what he thinks steve scheripa there is a go that's good 0:26:25 but anyway it couldn't be a mcshane because elsewhere engine can be british i guess but john brown is american in every sense is the distilled promise of america and and all the things that made him genuinely mad and i would agree that he was mad in the sense that he his personal perception of god was so imminent in his like moment by moment life he was so imbued with it that he basically was hearing voices he was not in our consensual reality or at least off enough of it off by enough to constitute uh being unable to recognize the same reality we do sure but only because he was driven driven that way by the need to assert principles deeply deeply actually lived and felt principles of equality in antebellum america as it became more and more overdone by slavery because the other thing that drove drove brown through history was the accumulation of the power of slaveocracy and the in the expansion of slavery 0:27:27 and the rise of slave influence over government my god the day after lawrence kansas was ***** sacked charles sumner was beaten at his desk in the ***** congress by some hillbilly ***** from south carolina who was too cowardly to even let him stand up for himself because he was over six feet two he probably would have starched him and was received and received in response bouquets of cane sent to them from the good people the good gentlemen the good well-bred gentlemen of the south they were murdering free staters in the streets as well the ***** sack of lawrence was validated by state approval the difference in was that the difference in moral calculus boils down to this john brown's violence had a threat of being met with state force which meant he was risking something by it the violence of pro-slavery people was engaged 0:28:28 with casually because there was no fear that there would be any kind of uh uh state intervention against you you'll serve there will be no consequence for this so it's free to do get get get drunk on corn liquor drive some ***** free soilers out of town on a rail tar and feather them burn down a ***** uh hotel loot a printing press have your way with a farmer's daughter it's all in good fun because who's ever going to stop you john brown was operating under no legal sanction which meant he was risking his violence was a risk to himself so that means it had to be pursued by a deeper belief than the mere belief in indulgence and honestly like the the answer to this 0:29:38 might be maybe you don't make a movie about john brown maybe you won't make a tv show about problem maybe some things are sacred maybe some memories some some people some stories can't be adulterated by the moment by all the intersecting baffling demiurgical uh delusion of the current moment that we live in maybe we don't need to imprint it by creating a new document that people can psychically organize their understanding of an idea around and thereby de-sacralize it and pull it out of its context and render it cheap and tawdry maybe that's the answer to this maybe you don't do it at all it's not everything in the past but maybe there are some things that you just don't ***** with just why i believe this i honestly believe this and people can get mad at me if they want to i believe that in an ideal society there would be no death penalty for any crime committed against person or property but 0:30:40 that there would be the death penalty for the wanton killing because you have to have an enforced and understood social conception of sec sacredness i'm not saying execute people for putting john brown on television i'm saying that just maybe have some respect for things some things and you know it's up to you all right guys i'm going to wrap it up here i think i got my i think i set my piece if you want to if you want to hit me up in the dms to rap about it i'm always

trump vaccine or any vaccine just say that you made it with trump's blood if trump says that his blood is going into a vaccine everyone would take it and you know what it would probably give us what it would do is even if it was total placebo it would essentially refr orient our way our understanding of disease and reality to such an extent that we would actually cure covid but what by essentially redefining covet out of existence like over time like we would still have the deaths and we would solve the sicknesses but we would just break up the apparatus for even recognizing it which was always the basis for trump's covenant policy stop don't test don't test because 0:4:7 you get tests you get positive results so you don't want that and you could make that a reality by simply defining the the disease out of existence and if you say well that's going to lead to things like you know lots of uh people going to the hospital maybe the capacity won't be there well one thing is you do is you build you you direct resources to building capacity to deal with these increased deaths but the increased deaths lose the urgency of corona they urge they lose the the patina of exception and they re-establish a normal baseline where now we have x number more deaths a year from this infectious disease but it is not coronavirus and that means everyone's back to work and everybody's back uh maskless and there's no social distancing and everybody just lives their lives with a slightly higher risk of dying or getting a long-term neurological disorder or long-term lung damage it just becomes a new normal the way cancer rates going up over the years is something people accept hey you're getting older the price of that is you might get cancer you know you got older the 0:5:8 price of that is you might get this thing or and honestly that's the most realistic thing we could do if we wanted to be pure realist about this moment like we're going to strip everything of morality we're going to strip it even to like recognize even even evaluating from a political perspective like let's say we're not even going to try to wring any political juice out of the failure of covet and say oh look you know covet is uh covert is capitalism's fault uh we don't want to let capitalism off the hook but if we recognize that there's nothing elucidating about this moment and that the covet moment has no revolutionary potential we could just say okay fine we'll do this because then at least you could ***** get back to like a functioning system and restart the economy in a meaningful way and deal with like because otherwise this is an intractable problem having a system set up that has no capacity to do 0:6:10 the things like live scale uh uh wide scale test and tracing capability and lockdown capability most importantly the kind of things that would be facilitated by a i don't know massive suspension of rent massive suspension of mortgage payments complete suspension of all debt collection of any kind uh mass infusion of direct cash payments to people to obviate the need to engage in the service economy and go outside of the home and allow for large-scale lockdowns around areas of infection that were tested rigorously that would be wonderful who's going to do that you're talking about the realistic solution to this it's just redefining it out of existence and adding it to the perils of life the way that we went from zero people getting killed every year in car accidents to 50 000 getting killed every year in car accidents that is a 500 and not 0:7:14 and it's not a thing that we think of as a crisis it's a thing we manage and it'll be another thing we manage and of course that will disproportionately fall on the poorest among us we will least access the health care least able to take off from work at least able to even be aware of this threat at least basically people who are forced by the market to risk their lives more than they previously were yeah that's awful the only thing that's going to prevent that from happening is an intervening political movement some sort of political uh organization that interrupts this process that puts the ***** broomstick into the spokes of the machine that's the only thing that's going to outcome and of course maybe we get a vaccine maybe we get a vaccine and then everybody can just act like you know what guess what and here's the thing trump wins say let's say hilariously trump wins which not outside of the realm of possibility at all i'm not gonna say in any way joe Biden has this thing rocked up i 0:8:16 think he'll probably win but my god i'd certainly have more i would be less much much less surprised i'll admit i'll be way less surprised if trump wins than i was that he won the first time that was genuinely shocking i'll admit i was out to lunch like that on that one with a bunch more coastal elites we weren't enough close enough to the ground and if you want to ever own me by saying you didn't see trump coming even though you could listen to us talking about that ***** election and talking yourself over and over again right to the precipice of recognizing that holy ***** he is the one of he's the man for this moment he's going to win this thing he's the one who makes sense in this context everything about like if politics is a game show if politics is a spectacle then he should win but no it's not that much of a spectacle yet there's still a grounding there's still a reality there are still fence posts and now and then we found out nope no no no that firmament you thought there was totally rotted away so i call it fully admit that that it could happen again and i'll be way way but man if trump wins and then like halfway through his term after you know 0:9:17 he like loses in big in this house and send it again and gets impeached again and get and ignores it again then we get a vaccine and then he like leaves office he's like this decrepit ball like this somehow this like dehydrated but also wet sack of like uh ron popeil rotisserie meat bright orange just sliding allegiance out of the ***** frets in the white house just go i said it would go away magically i said one day it would be gone and look it is it's gone look it's gone now i said it i said it you heard me say it over and over again then eventually one day like magic you'd be gone and now it's gone because for trump it is only the moment it is in past does not exist only as a vague memory that you have shaped into a into a ***** mirror of your of a delusion mirror of yourself putting yourself in in this position of fantastical uh uh 0:10:21 command of the moment when in reality you're a ***** ***** who is barely aware of what's going on around you man they see that apparently eli lilly was doing trials uh oh no johnson and johnson which i was surprised by i thought they made like soap and ***** i guess they're also a pharmaceutical company they were doing a trial vaccine and they had to stop the trial because of an unexplained illness or an unexpected illness either way you don't want to hear that word before illness and i just thought i am legend will smith they create this vaccine that's going to immunize you from cancer and then cut six months later half the populations are these horrible cgi zombies uh vampires and of course there's the question that i don't think anyone has ever answered to my satisfaction but i haven't asked that much element what 0:11:22 about this possibility that kova just keeps evolving it becomes like the flu where every year there's a new strain there's a covent 20 there's a covenant 21 there's a boney 12 and two with all different lethalties that are like pegged around covet lethality and require a new vaccine before you've even created one for the original covet no i'm sure that happens all the time but it was just the word unexpected illness that made me think oh god we've created a new mutant that's going to take over it's captain trips

guess that's they're thinking that now that everyone has basically decided that it's over even though it's still happening and happening more and more really and that the trend lines are up and that you're reaching like early uh outbreak levels of daily infections and deaths now uh which like i said it's just we're all grinding down the emergency on our mind so we can keep going because we're just sick of sitting here uh we're acting like yeah it's basically gone and now we can look back and like oh wow we're lucky that didn't happen oh now things are great i can do socially distanced drinks you know and at the bar at the in front of the bar downtown which it just feels so much like hanging out and you know it's like this is not a shadow of my former enjoyment and my former social life this is just the new version of that because we've normalized it into reality we've okay so someone's saying that it's state more stable than the flu and less likely to do that that'd be good that'd be good all right that's nice that means you could actually get a vaccine that could be that could stamp it 0:13:25 out relatively and then of course we would look back at that time and learn nothing of any meaning all we will be is dumber from having lived through it dumber and deafer and more distracted and more agitated and more knee-jerk in our reactions and more uh either plugged out of politics to the point of nihilistic self-destruction or plugged into politics to the point of ner just cripplingly neurotic uh nearly erotic

fixation on the ups and downs of the of the spectacle of politics either way not in any way better positioned to deal with the horrors of the world around us and the crisis the continuing unfolding crises it's like harrison bergeron where you know the smart people are forced to just have like a a siren go off next to their head every 10 minutes so that they can't think too far ahead before getting disrupted we're all 0:14:31 in that and then we're going to be in worse worse situation monopoly capital will be in a vastly better situation because monopoly capital has monopolized the ***** taking the opportunity of this mark this corruption this this uh this drop in the economic like the the ex because you know one of the things hurting there's a drive towards monopoly and capitalism but there's also you know expanding wealth and and inflation through that which makes it harder for capital to you know subsume others because they're able to grow in relationship to them but in a situation like this when you have whole sectors cored out almost overnight monopoly capital can scoop those up and add them into the ***** borg so we're going to have a more monopolized capitalism than we've had since the robber baron days if we don't already and it'll be it'll be uh something a lot of mom and pop shops are going to get turned into like uh now i was not even something like you know like mcdonald's or other things not even more like they'll still be run by individual families and stuff but as sort of like 0:15:34 an uber model like a gig economy for restaurant tours where like you get to be a you get to rent out the pre the place and get like a per month per hour salary with no benefits to like basically run a restaurant instead of actually getting the profits from the restaurant like that would be the new model franchises but where like you're not even the owner you know like they've already been doing that uh there's a very interesting article a number of years ago now about uh 7-eleven owners and how 7-eleven uh has essentially proletarianized their ownership in large degree because most because there's these networks of like immigrant networks mostly in india that uh basically hook people who want to move to the united states from india up with franchises when they get there sort of as their stake puts them in like sort of a subservient position you know vis-a-vis this huge company that can manipulate you 0:16:35 know schedule uh uh ice raids uh on their own ***** franchisees uh if they're thinking of you know asking too many questions but they like squeeze the owners to the point where many of them make like twenty thousand dollars a year even though they're specifically supposed to be the franchise owners and they'll just wholesale replace the entire you know business model of small restaurants i'd say restaurants and bars number one because those are the ones have been hardest hit and then but anything subsidiary to that escape rooms shooting ranges anything anything that rook it is a service or entertainment uh uh recreational industry uh or food consumption or beverages anything any of that element of life uh that involves people operating

out of like fixed brick-and-mortar uh positions like fixed capital that's not going to be owned by individuals anymore and that class of petty bourgeois is going to be subsumed into the proletarian class which of course is what the engine of capitalism does it's separate you have a bunch of different classes embedded within capitalism like i have said there's even pre-capitalist modes sticking again there i as i have said am an artisan that is a pre-capitalist uh uh um class configuration doesn't exist in doesn't it it is not being produced by capitalism like uh hegemonically now like it was it was something that had to be subsumed within capitalism and broken up and largely it's gone what what used to be artisans are 99 of the time their jobs are now proletarianized i am a remaining artisan i'm still in there but the process is there are fewer over time until you grind out and then you've got like things like the small bourgeois you know and the pmc whatever kind of pseudo-class you want to pull out of your ass they will over time be pulled apart some of the lucky ones will get pulled up into the ownership class the the losers will get pushed down into the working class the proletariat and then you end up with just two and this is going to be furthering that process hugely the question is whether it be whether that's actually helpful to the you know radicalization of the working class uh the old idea was it would because it would create larger and larger concentrations of working-class people who shared working-class conditions shared exploitation shared an understanding of their alienation and the contributors to it and could organize that way create become a class for themselves with a with a counter-hegemonic political uh and and cultural uh like engine like they like that's what when the the battle of positions that gramsci talks about is between capitalist hegemonic cultural uh institutions cultural and civic institutions and an emergent generated a working class generated working-class generated uh counterculture of its own institutions and like post-war italy is the closest example in the world to that that concept uh because the communist party during the post-war period when it was the official opposition many of the time and was being suppressed by the gladio operation uh had its own civic institutions its own radio stations its own media apparatus its own political leaders mayors senators uh and and uh you know uh cooperative aid organizations uh uh civic organizations recreational organizations that's also true of uh the german social democratic party before world war uh before the nazi rise that's what um that's what the concentration of the working class the pulling of people more and more into the working class does is because there will always be more working-class people than there are capitalists which means over time as there are more and more capitalist workers relative to capitalist that counter hegemony becomes stronger the uh the self-organizational capacity of the working class as such gets greater and then eventually you're able to through force of arms and uh persuasion any element that comes along with being both most numerous and most organized it can't be one or the other if you're 0:20:44 organized without numbers you will be crushed if you have numbers but there is no sufficient organization along sufficient concept which comes from creating institutions counter hegemonic institutions that's the durability uh that allows you to like point your movement in the right direction to find the crack and the fissure of capitalism and drive into it that's you need that and then the problem is is that while we are we are seeing before our eyes that this process of stripping all class character down to just two defining categories is happening and accelerating there is no concomitant rise of working class self-conscious counter hegemonic uh institutions uh culture and that's because of the process of social atomization suburbanization racial polarization 0:21:47 and nationalism have done to and then compounded and compounded and quadruple compounded and exp and compounded beyond words compounded into the brain of a supercomputer the ***** internet on top of all of that has led to a situation where even though more and more people are turning into working class they're not thinking of themselves as working class they're just thinking of themselves as someone fallen from a natural social position that's the full phenomenon of like the pmc who don't actually make money right somebody who is not thriving in the accredited world where you learn from your middle class parents that you get a college education and that allows you a certain social standing uh self-conception and salary and you don't get the salary but you still think of yourself as you still think of yourself first and foremost as part of that class that cultural class of college-educated uh people who are 0:22:49 urban and cosmopolitan and value you know social inclusion as ends into themselves the refinements that come from accrediting oneself to the bourgeois morality even though they are now functionally more and more of them actually work in class in their relationship to capitalism they are nonetheless not imagining themselves that way and look at think of those trump supporting uh non-college educated white men who are his base who are his ***** uh mujahideen his his uh his feathery warriors his his his 300 spartans some of them are of course you know just racist right a lot of them are just like i like racism but a lot of the reason that they're racist in 0:23:50 america race is only really uh examined critically if you're white through the crucible of that bourgeois accreditation into middle class morality like that is really the only interaction a white person in america gets socially forget the television and all the stuff you see on the globalist media in reality what really brings you towards these not not like lived values i'm talking just things in your head things that cost nothing to feel like white guilt and white privilege and like the idea of white supremacy like it does and your need to fight it and things like that your sense of you know uh white responsibility for uh the position of of african americans in this country uh like that's the specific ***** you get from going to ***** college so some of it is just race 8 but other of it is misdirected rage due to the fact that uh you're even relative to the work the rest like you're in a working class even relative to your older generations before you or other people you see around you in culture and on the television your life is getting worse and worse but you don't know how to define that you can't define it because no one is talking to you from the other level alt media is the ***** people who went to college talking to each other and everyone else is just drowning and they're just sitting on top of this drowning barge going oh it's so sad they can't they can't free themselves and they're yelling into the in across this chasm but it's all it's all loaded with contempt and it's all loaded with like the alienness like you're essentially talking to people who you don't understand you're condescending even with the best of intentions and you combine that with the fact that there's no lived reality of class in this country people don't live class especially in the gig economy world where people aren't working in those conditions of like a factory line i mean even like i'd say our best hope for mass organization in this country are the few places where people do work together like big box retailers or amazon fulfillment centers so and there are still factories in this country god damn it too and also people like postal workers and teachers like that's that's hopeful because it's uh it's where people work together but most people don't work together they're hustling because they've all turned us into lumping proletarians even and the thing is like so i think people argue over these questions and it's like at every point you can see how the category confusion is happening and how they're basically don't really even disagree they just have decided that arguing over this constitutes some sort of meaningful engagement for them or recreation or a combination of the two but man it's just if you pull this apart there's just there's no resolving it either way like this is a real uh this is a real conflict oh and also i forgot there's another section of the non-college trump supporters who are the boat beautiful boat people because yes there are a lot of upper uh like and what those people are are i'm saying it's like the class is getting pulled like the ***** velcro is getting pulled well some get pulled down some get pulled up and they're getting pulled up and that's and that's and the reason they're voting for trump is because that's the class interest for them all the cultural stuff and the reason they both feel that way is because we are culturally segregated our culture does not we and we live it through much more through the prism of race than through class and as i've said a million times the only hope we have is that the conditions as they evolve will provide opportunities for us to grab in front of us the possibility of reversing these trends and grabbing people together and having them pull in the same direction to interdict with the slide we having towards total monopoly domination and i don't think it's lost i don't think we're doomed i just think that we have to accept that we're at a more basic level fighting at a

more basic level than a lot of us want to be because the implication of that is that man we have so far to go but you know acceptance is the first step towards moving forward and i feel like a lot of us are just fighting through this kubler-ross cycle like we stay in the discourse and fight it because we're fighting that eventual inevitable realization and then we will you know when human voices wake us i did not hear the miss rebel thing from john brown i was watching it i had the titles on she said if those rebels find out about that you'll get hanged she was talking to missouri red shirts ruffians who were essentially almost all of them deputized into various militias 0:28:56 uh that were part of the united states governments recognized territorial legislature in kansas how they were they rebels who i've not read under the volcano i've no they were not called rebels why would they have been called rebels they were called border ruffians generally that was what they were called and uh in like the press and stuff there there was also like a political movement that was like called the party of 0:29:58 law but nobody called them rebels they weren't rebelling against anyone they were enforcing they were enforcing what was the closest thing to a legitimate uh monopoly of violence in the kansas territory according to uncle sam and the reason that matters is because to mistake that is to mistake the position that brown found himself in and the need to transgress to need to break out of the strategic uh stalemate that had arisen where neither side was willing to take the next step which over time benefited the the over the the larger political momentum behind uh the the uh slave uh state coalition there the missouri the missouri faction the ones who ended up writing the compton constitution even though their election was invalidated and they were not a recognized uh government they still ***** passed and demanded that gov that's that 0:31:0 congress approve a constitution that accepted slavery as the law of the land of the new kansas state and it was whether or not the democratic party would support that uh constitution that led to the uh southern democrats walking out at the convention in baltimore in 1860 which led to the northern democrats nominating the remaining northern democrats nominating stephen douglas the southern democrats nominating for themselves john breckenridge uh some some radical centrists around in the clay tradition uh put a guy named uh john bell uh as the compromise can't we all get along candidate the cuck it was all over the lecompton constitution because that was the bridge that was too far even for the doe faces because stephen douglas was by any respect he was the next logical guy in line after frank david pierce and buchanan he was the most prominent congressional doe face the guy who fought lincoln in the 0:32:2 famous lincoln douglas debates over the issue primarily of slavery and his vehement defensiveness in defense of the planter uh uh prerogative and even foreign policy but the thing is is that around stephen douglas northern sentiment changed it was no longer possible in the north to say just give it to him like it used to be because even

northern democrats the guys who mostly said leave slavery alone i care about the banks i care about the dang banks i care about the revenueurs and i don't give a ***** about what these dainty doily ***** these these quaker weirdos uh in boston these these these homos say about slavery what's it got to do with me do you want these those black people up in here i don't you know whatever but they saw slavery as a threat to the more they saw slavery as a competing threat to them a competitive economic system that could realistically put them in a position to lose their uh market power either as a farmer or as a laborer of any kind because they've been competing with literal free free labor they said nope this is a bridge too far because the lecompton constitution was if they accept this then kansas is a slave state in the union with two new senators breaking the balance in the senate and meeting with a democratic president because democrats had a lock on the trial college at that point especially with the whigs imploding and the dem republicans this brand new party that had just emerged that it only had one presidential candidate uh up to its net to its credit the the adventurist uh uh self-promoter john c fremont they had to go with a celebrity just to get people's attention the boom second time they have this it's still not it still would have fallen to a unified republican party or a unified democratic party and that unified democratic party would then be voting to mean to put slavery in every state and once it's in every state that surrounds the north how long before it has to be introduced there to keep moving to keep to keep pushing forward to keep allowing a new area for slavers to import slaves and uh and create a new market that creates demand for old older slaves older lines of slaves by the by 1860 most northern uh virginia the virginia slave trade was mostly about breeding and selling slaves down to the plant the big cotton plantations in the south because that teeth that tidewater had been sort of already uh farmed out by the over aggressive uh farming of cash crops like tobacco but you had this huge human capital stock that had to go somewhere and if you foreclose that that if you draw the the the if you end that process of expansion that's the end of the ***** system over time and they understood that which is why they push forward but northern whites understood it too and they didn't want to be competing and so even douglas had to draw a line at lecompton and that helped lead to lincoln winning and that then guaranteed the civil war and so it was the kansas war more than anything that sharpened the sectional crisis to the to the breaking point which needed to happen and what did it it was kansas and then harper's ferret i'm just saying that that means if that strategic context where you go from a situation where it looks like slavery is about to get ready to just chomp on and get its jaws around the neck of free labor in the north to the hinge reversing and then the final confrontation which leads inevitably thanks to the superior industrial capacity and population and organizational abilities

of the north to northern victory and to the end of slavery as it had to be and the funny thing is is that you could really argue that the civil war is essentially a uh the final it's the war between the federalists and the jeffersonians in its final form like if you if you if you wanted like if you look at it as an ideological conflict like forgetting the fact that this is all just a term a cultural description for a material process which is the development of parallel uh uh economic systems plantation based agriculture in the south slavery-based agriculture in the south and free labor and small holding in the north or free manufacturing labor and small holding yeoman farmery in the north they produce completely competing in different cultures the fact that the majority of the peasantry of northern uh of the northern states was um made up of smallholders who lived on their own land and farmed their own land right it meant 0:37:9 that they created pro uh uh they also were able to uh produce produ uh uh um surplus produce they would be able to most of them if they were successful there was a lot of the northern land wasn't rich enough to do big plantation agriculture especially in new england but there was enough land that individual smallholders could farm enough food to sustain their families and then surplus to sell and what would they do they would essentially exchange surplus crops for finished mechanical and material items like pieces of clothing manufactured items things for the farm industrial the basis of an industrial economy basically and that transmission belt created a civic society around it now in the south the the the proletariat largely was enslaved labor who produced only enough food for themselves like plantations had uh uh like all slaves had to essentially they were their own yeoman and that they they farmed and 0:38:11 they contributed to the farming of the food that fed themselves but otherwise they spent all of their time uh uh working for the plantation owner meaning that there is no surplus for them to exchange in the cities for finished products so the demand that created like the industrial economy and this and the urban life of the north was impossible in the south and so because of that you essentially had a federalist country and a jeffersonian country like those two competing philosophies of government that emerged from the reality of the end of the american revolution was now uh reduced to uh a real proposition because of the fate of geography because of the fact that there was so much rich soil that allowed for the creation of these vast profitable uh uh in uh 0:39:14 agricultural operations that could create huge surplus amounts of um of cash crops that could provide the material basis for also for formulating industrial capitalism in northern united states and also great britain you know it provides the fuel for the capitalist machine uh they had like all those linen mills in manchester were spinning for a lot of the part of it slave linen and that because the jefferson like the jeffersonian idea of american liberty that we live with is essentially the idea of living as a farmer now jefferson thought he meant small yeoman farmers but in reality that's not uh

that's not possible without creating cities like you can't have yeoman farmery the way they hit in the north without creating the urban culture and urban infrastructure of things like banking and finance and like like abstracted uh you know essentially intensified capitalist productive relationships those things are united you can only 0:40:15 have continuing agricultural life if uh there is no no excess no surplus built up and the way to do that is who's slavery because he is imagining agrarian life through the lens of a slave owner not a yeoman he was a slave owner not a yeoman so when he he idolized urban life he was idolizing his experience now because the fact people like him were the people who made up the uh political aristocracy the leadership of the new country in the south over time their institutions became the institutions of jeffersonian democracy meanwhile in the north the absence of large tracts of rich land that could accommodate slave agriculture the fact that the relatively rocky soil of the north was more conducive to to small holding peasantry also the new territories of the north even if they were richer in land were also more deeply uh filled with native americans who had to be contended with and much more uh you know would require much more investment to just clear for large any kind of large-scale agriculture at all 0:41:17 was largely wilderness so those two modes come into conflict in the civil war and then instead of recognizing and then when the problem is is that of course that victory by northern capitalism would eventually result in a synthesis between the two it's not going to be just the destruction of the one that's impossible the problem is is that the new thing we created because of the results of reconstruction specifically uh was misshapen essentially uh its historical form bent that jeffersonian model of endless expansionary uh freedom uh maintained and now sits on happily in in in conjunction with like this uh attempt to build something like a rationalized you know uh social democratic capitalist edifice uh it's it's a bummer man it's a real bummer but the 0:42:19 whole point is that those those crisis moments are they're fluid and we had bad we had a bad run of things like lincoln getting shot was very bad you know i don't know how much better things would be if he hadn't died but man i've got i i'm willing to say they would have been in some way better which at this point a little bit could go a long way the way things ricochet you know the way things amplify over time and space uh it's a bummer though but yes like the entire american conception of freedom was jefferson's idea of limitless uh farming ex like the idea that you don't have to have all that icky complicated stuff that's socially uh that stuff that requires you to subsume yourself into a social collective you know even if it's like we could say that uh it's it's this isn't we're not talking about socialism we're talking about capitalist market exchange yes but capitalist market exchange remember is more progressive 0:43:20 than what is jefferson's essentially feudal world view and so he gets this feudalized capitalism because you know it was a part of capitalism slave agriculture was part of capitalism all those ***** big uh um all those huge plantations in the south were powered were fueled by finance capital they were all mortgaged to the hilt they were all financial instruments they sold ***** stock they were integrated into every level of the of the world the burgeoning world uh capitalist economy but they had this struck this this feudal remnant structure based around these uh jeffersonian ideas and we did not crush enough that idea of american liberty uh when the north won the civil war that was the main failing not crushing it enough uh and i think like i said it wouldn't have been fully crushed because you don't do that there was always going to be a some level of accommodation that leads to a synthetic thing not not 0:44:21 just the dominance of one that's a dialectical that's that's that's basic you can't argue otherwise but you certainly would be could be in a different position vis-a-vis that idea and really i think the real the the dagger in the heart to the to our progress has been that the constitution itself was not destroyed because the constitution was what got us into that ***** mess in the first place and the same way that the articles of confederation reached a point where they were no longer sustainable and we started over from scratch the civil war should have been the thing that had a start over from scratch on a governing document which would have put us on yes still capitalist but on a track towards an actual industrial capitalism that had a like a social relationship at its base that accepted liberal subjectivity which is equal subjectivity which would have removed racism as a bat as a mystifying and socially 0:45:22 uh atomizing and um and counter revolutionary force and so the fact that we're still dealing with the constitution that's still this noose on our neck it really is the thing that moment stands out as as the thing that warped our behavior we're like a bound foot from a manchu you know bed maiden it wouldn't have made miracles happen my god i'm just saying we would be in a better position now than we are that's all i'm saying how much better i don't know i'm just saying we'd be in a better position we would not have trump as president we would not be in this specific dilemma i think we would have been more durable and and vibrant working-class institutions in this country we would have a more left-wing uh uh government even if things 0:46:23 had gotten worse after the seven even if like even if you have the same like basic structure of a post-war boom followed by a collapse of the world order and then reorientation around like global finance capitalism that led to the end of american industrial dominance and its replacement in the supply chain with uh cheaper labor in the emerging east and the america becoming instead the buyer of last resort the the surplus absorber within the capitalist system to uh you know maintain its its military might overseas and to provide like the mouth at the center of it to absorb all uh surplus uh production to to regulate exchange even if that had happened we would be in a better position we probably have universal healthcare let me just say that we would probably ***** have it and we would not be in this situation where we are essentially biting our brains out of our head as a culture and driving ourselves insane because of our civic belief in freedom coming from this freakish perverted bewigged uh aristocrat sex criminal epstein-ass ***** like the fact is is that when 0:47:24 we reach back to all right like most cherished american ideas of freedom they don't belong to like medieval peasants us in europe anyway when when people think of freedom obviously more and more they're thinking in terms of you know atomized american freedom freedom to consume you know for uh the freedom of uh the freedom of the market sure but at the base of that they also have a folk understanding of freedom that flows from the peasant solidarity that came before capitalism because these things don't go away they echo the the nightmares of all dead generations lay on the brain we on the other hand when we think of freedom even i think on the left 0:48:25 we end up at jeffersonian freedom to expand freedom because that's the thing about jeffers the jeffersonian idea and the reason that it foundered finally on its inability to expand itself because it cannot be stabilized within a system it demands always it can only compensate with more because you're not giving people a social structure the hostility the hostility to the state at the center of jeffersonianism is the hostility to being integrated into a social situation you're saying the fact that i unlike my peasant or aristocratic european f for founders who were bound by superstition and and and sultifying social conventions in europe and and and the vile hand of like roman papistry or whatever the ***** now here we can breathe free in the open spaces but only but but that means that we have to do it by ourselves because to participate into to allow ourselves to be brought into a social relationship is to undermine our 0:49:26 freedom of movement and freedom of movement here is defined as the only freedom that matters as opposed to a deeper understanding of freedom is the freedom to freedom uh from fear really and pain that comes with a social uh awareness and and social reciprocal um reciprocal obligation that there is a meaning there and a richness to life that compensates for any narrow app reduction of the aperture of like indulgence because and that what that means is that the only answer to social friction in those situations has to be expansion there can be no resolution because there aren't institutions that people agree upon that can arbitrate distinctions and so it leads all questions have to be entered by expansion and so at what's what really healed the civil war breach between the north and south the the whites of the north and the whites of the south after we decided that we were going to solve the problem 0:50:27 the emergent social problem of emancipation by just re-inscribing slavery as much as we could in social form if not in like technically uh economic relationship uh we invaded uh ***** spain or we invaded spanish uh caribbean and ***** philippines and the spanish-american war we consecrated that with expansion into becoming a world power and then there was some battle within about that but by the end of world war ii we had the whole world and then space and we always had this this reach and it was not until the iraq war i think really that the ***** the curtain closed and now we're turning inward and we're taking this jeffersonian notion of freedom and individuality and liberty and what it means to be an american and how and how that relates to you know a morality how amer being american is part of a moral framework that involves christianity certainly and as a protestantism all that ***** 0:51:28

it all flows uh but that requires expansion requires somebody getting some of this pie at every point because there's no other fun way to reduce social friction and now how are we going to reduce it when that is the presiding ideology of government and we have this ***** noose around our neck in the form of the us constitution smothering any chance of us breaking free of of this wild thrashing death as we parax as we peroxide our way through the the ***** kubler-ross cycle realizing that our social body must die if it cannot you guys know about uh you know why some of these 0:52:38

answers are are purple highlight i don't know why i gotta say as much as i'm sure i'll hate hamilton and as much as i hate the concept of the whole thing i do think if you want to talk hero and villain if you're talking hamilton and jefferson jefferson is the bad guy i'm sorry and the thing is is that there will always be moments in american history where the jeffersonian tradition has very worthy exponents who are doing good things to check the rise of horribly monopoly capitalism unchecked capitalism i'm just saying that it was an insufficient uh antithesis to the thesis of hamiltonian developmentalism you know what i mean or maybe it's because it was the thesis it 0:53:39 when we never broke through we never broke over it because there was always free real estate always free real estate free real estate made us in every critical moment able to vent off instead of confront within because in europe those ***** kettles started popping because there was nowhere for the pressure to go in america there was always somewhere for the pressure to go and to me that's the answer to every question about why america is exceptional why it didn't have a labor party it all boils down however you want to talk about the functions you want to talk about the ***** social expressions of it and political expressions it boils down to that law of ***** thermodynamics so if it's like if you want to broadly go a progressive regressive figure the progressive figure is hamilton the regressive figure is jefferson and i would say that just on a personal level even though hamilton was a creep and an arrest and kind of an obviously an arch-capitalist psycho uh who feared had nothing but fear and disgust for the idea of a common man uh was still better than that hypocritical 0:54:42

***** snot-nosed ugh just he's the guy boswell talked about when he said why do we hear the m that lar the why why must we hear the loudest bleeding for freedom from the drivers of negroes that's who he was and the guy immediately even though he had said that that there should be no you know real formal power for the president and and the legend and the executive because oh we gotta love that legislature gets in there louisiana purchase immediately oh what's that your ***** principles don't compare with this thing anymore and the thing that really mattered was expansion because it's the economic engine of the kind of uh warped capitalized uh like an agrarian economy that you've created here inevitably out of your idea you ***** ***** we do love john quincy adams folks uh one of our i mean you want to talk 0:55:43

best presidents he is in the conversation and when share pass like lincoln and fdr uh spare spare moment for jqa also one of the better men to be president uh and a man who recognized the moral written he recognized that every oath in the constitution and the declaration of independence was going to be worth nothing over time if we made territorial expansion the undergirding mechanism of our economy he at the moment he's like this is going to lead us to abandoning everything and it did and it has and look where we are and everything that everybody wants to talk about america and all the good stuff is this schizophrenic uh frankenstein creation of of the of the of the like echo dominations of a greater horror and a greater mis series of crimes and exploitations and thefts and their corporations we didn't we weren't 0:56:44 never made to behave the way that the european states were made to behave they spent a thousand years smashing against each other to grab grab grab but god damn it at some point you realize that there are other forces outside of you and we never hit that because the native americans who resisted our exploration of the continent never were able to cohere into a meaningful state resistance because they started from such a lower level of like surplus economy that they were not able to you know because you can't do it overnight it has to be staged and there was no time especially after you have the initial massive die off from like the essentially un uh intentional biological warfare campaign that happened before there was even settling in north america that had a huge impact and then over time you know native populations rather absorbed into the greater system or were pushed out of it but uh you know disinherited of any uh land and also a residue of you know social formation or i 0:57:47 mean institutional formation that you could turn into an actual organized resistance against another state it was not all intentional the first farm the fir the first big i believe it was the first big smallpox uh uh plague in uh the mid-atlantic the one that uh happened right before the uh john smith showed up the one uh that allowed them to even like set up there was because some basque uh fishermen or something like blew on to long island and had an interaction with like a local tribe and then left and that led to something like 80 percent die off of the population within within a very short period of time and so of course later on you have intentional like lord jeffrey amherst and his smallpox blankets what i'm saying is that they didn't even have to try was how lethal they were they were like uh who else are someone asked who are 0:58:59 their most american because john brown is one of our most american americans p.t barnum another one of our most american americans first name that comes to mind anyway i'll think of some more that's a good question i was going to like make a book of a a gal a rogue's gallery of like our most condensed americans along certain axis like representations of certain you know fundamental american uh uh expressions of culture henry ford is another good one yes mark twain also very good very good for sure donald trump yeah no you guys are all 100 though that's fire we got to get some 1:0:0 women in here i feel like we're uh pamela anderson's canadian thank you gel maxwell 1:1:3 also british it seems like i'm realizing that yeah when you talk in these terms you're always going to end up being very heterosys male normative just because so much of uh you know our received uh my received anyway you know narrative of america is this uh is this public-facing you know battle of ideas and a public spare that has 1:2:4 been largely uh largely banned largely the domain of man amber frost definitely all right i've gone about an hour here ann hutchison is a good one good win who's going 1:3:13 to win the world series the dodgers finally and it'll be with the ***** asterix it'll be a fake season who wants to win this year i don't i wouldn't good keep it i don't even so i've got wheels a polished steel i've got tires that drag the rope i've got seats that selflessly oh my friends and a truck that can carry the heaviest of loads i got a mind that can steer me to your house and a heart that can bring you red flowers 0:1:1

my intentions are good and earnest and true but under satan is my motor satan is my motor hear my motor purr it's always been a favorite cake song of mine and uh lately i've been thinking about how truly evocative it is of just the condition of being a a liberal late capitalist american subject you if you grow up in the middle class if you grow up west you know with the fading beneficence of the post-war american economic boom that we're all slowly whittling away if you get any glimpse of that any grab of that you get a chance to be turned into a a person who's better positioned than almost anyone in human history to thrive to thrive have the ability with your hands to create a destiny now of course it is all on the backs of the 0:2:2
massive exploitation of others this is without saying but within the narrow sphere of the personal you can feel like you have some control of the world because you know you have access to capital uh the lingua franca of the world access to its markets its beneficence uh a introduction into a bourgeois social uh network that is embedded and that provides you with like a real identity uh that that off acts as a social capital that can make up for a deficit and actual access to capital you're in as good a position as you could be you are you get the best of like secular uh uh um education you get the ability to live a life well-lived without having it constrained by oppression and happenstance and conscious alienation and yet the engine the motor of all of that is this poisonous self-conception this uh imagined singularity called you know your 0:3:5
ego and this the satisfying of it because you can't satisfy your ego it can only ever just be fed from outside uh in the form of desires that are given to you to want and which make you take your beautiful car and drive it all over the ***** road in any way any a just drive you away from from truth because the ah uh so jeffrey tubin took his dick out huh and was jacking it is this what happened he took out his penis and was jacking it during a uh an election simulator you say interesting i guess 0:4:6
that's just the peril of the modern workplace am i right folks coven just to think if it

hadn't been for covid we wouldn't have had that little hilarious uh story to all enjoy so maybe it was all worth it might as well look at the bright side i do wonder how many people get off on being nude during zoom calls though from the lewis down or something because you'll never know and that's probably appealing to some people 0:5:7 especially since zoom calls are so deadening and and you know they they further alienate the work day by making even your place of you know your your home uh kind of a constant office and getting rid of any private distinction like being able to assert any independence of that is going to be pleasurable maybe in some extent and maybe if you really concentrate on it sensually thrilling so i wonder what percentage of people do zoom calls uh pantsless i am wearing pants i i have shown myself to wear pants in previous streams in which i was moving around so i think that the benefit of the doubt could be extended uh that i am in fact wearing pants but honestly really what's the difference if you especially since you never know who else is pantsless you sort of have to just leave it to fate and just act like nobody is pantsless or act like 0:6:8 everybody is pantsless whichever makes it easier for you to engage with them i will say that uh i'm not going to talk too much more about that good lord bird show but i did watch the third episode where they go meet frederick's douglas and it just seems very obvious to me the whole thing just seems very very surface level i mean i don't really see what it's it's like a lot of shows now it just feels like the twitter hive sensibility expressed visually in a different context like here's sort of the hive mind of the twitter received liberal left wisdom that all of the creative class who make all the stuff marinates in what is that gonna what would that be and then they show hey what would that be when you're talking about the civil war and and slavery or 0:7:10 john brown or what about if you're doing um you know uh rich people in the current moment like succession which is another show like this it's just is reproducing sort of the received wisdom of of online left liberals and that's just not interesting more than anything it's dull to me because i can see where everything is going i'm not going to be surprised or challenged in any way i'm just going to have myself affirmed but that's what people are looking for in art now as we've had to settle for the swill of like this mass-produced television which is just getting worse as a medium while it becomes more hegemonic over everything and tough film itself is destroyed as a ***** genre and turned into just another type and i don't i don't need that i don't i don't want to just see it reproduced and barfed at me like a baby bird which is uh which is yeah we can't get any middle around movies so we get middle brow tv 0:8:17 shows but then everything becomes that that's the problem because it's like it's the middlebrow film turned into an entire the entirety of and i gotta say that guy that jeff the jeff the the uh the guy who plays thomas jefferson on hamilton who they got to play frederick douglass who have seen a bunch of things i just don't like that guy

he's just not uh he just doesn't have he's one of those guys who just i hate to use the word soy because people get it was like oh you're winking to the alt-right and you're creating a fash pipeline but god help you it is a useful descriptor of a certain sort of affect that you see with people with guys trying to sort of accommodate the more you know feminized public space of this moment uh and and it's like it's not bad it's not evil it doesn't mean you're brainwashed but it is a certain sensibility and this show it's like at that point a character like that exists for like a soy infusion 0:9:18 because that character frederick douglass is the imagined creators of this show like fred john john brown is is is removed from us by his faith and his in the distance of his worldview from us frederick douglass is a more worldly man and we can imagine ourselves in his shoes so he becomes the stand-in so of course he embodies all of those characteristics ethan hawk is a trump supporter damn that's a zig when i didn't think it would have been a zag that's pretty funny i think you do you mean uh he thinks john brown would have been a trump supporter because i don't think that ethan hawk is a noted hollywood lib i'm being gaslit in my own comment section again i don't know why the hell now i don't think soy is homophobic because it's 0:10:27 not about it's not about anything having to do with sexuality like a performance of uh non-threateningness and like if that gets coded as gay that's just that's just that's not that's not a first order intent if it's there it's it's it's not intentional on my part we love artivo folks we love tivo we love it we love tivo folks you go and you get all the shows you know i gotta say uh the guy who's uh who po who who people all found his uh his trump impression the guy on uh twitter man it's really 0:11:29 good and actually watching that it uh that's what reminded me actually yeah mine is terrible ***** it's like not even close it's brutally terrible because that's an actual good one and i'm like oh ***** mine's not even close to that i was stunned by my accents though damn velma and i am better than that of alec baldwin who's this terrible we love it don't we so because we love to do the trophy we love a trump i 0:12:30 do wonder how many uh like uh coups and assassination attempts the cia never got to run because they couldn't get trump to sign off on them because he was too busy drinking milkshakes and it's amazing he might be like a genuine like mr bean like an anti-imperialist mr bean who's just going around just destroying accidentally all of these you know like finely woven uh clockworks of intrigue and deep state para political power and he's just smashing it up without even knowing it like mr magu in a construction site of course people say ah you're you're saying he's a dove or something no no no he's he's got incoherent nationalist uh leanings he could have definitely be brought into war except for his individual narcissistic terror of losing 0:13:32 and being seen as a loser which is what stopped him from ever doing any big military action like when they wanted brinksmanship with iran what pulled him back from

the brink was that he didn't want to get owned because he had owned jeb about the iraq war and he was like why do i think it wouldn't happen again and that's what stopped that from happening i mean it doesn't necessarily mean there would have been a war but he pulled back from the brink at several moments where presidential decision making is crucial just out of a naked fear of being made to look like a loser loser folks and you know if that speaks to anti-imperialism it's just that um it's just the anti-imperialism of his like narrow focus as a totally self-centered uh egomaniac looking through a totally personal lens and recognizing the weakness of american power which maybe it's you know planners are less concerned about because they know it doesn't matter if they win it doesn't matter if every politician has this 0:14:34 around their neck forever they still get their war that's what matters they don't give a ***** who takes the electoral political flack for when it goes bad or what doesn't get its objective as though there's ever an objective other than just maintaining the ***** war changing the terrain disrupting the enemies maintaining but trump is narrowly focused on his re-election which is a similar reason that obama kind of reigned in a syrian intervention i know there was a ton of u.s syrian intervention but the deep state the blob was clearly much more intent on pushing farther than obama went and uh in most cases like the the difference there from a democrat and a republican is fear of electoral uh blowback for the their narrow short-term 0:15:35 interests from the american people in general due to their the fear that they have and innate hostility to failed american military ventures because they don't want to see people getting blown up for no reason in foreign countries because they don't get a benefit from it at least not nearly directly enough to feel it as anything other than continual loss and and humiliation and trauma and ways for and whether that's because they're animated by some international spirit that says that those people are just as much as right to life as i do and that their suffering is mine or if it's just narrow focus on the idea that there's a limited amount of resources and we shouldn't waste them on other people one way or the other i don't care if it's blowing them up or giving them schools that's money and men and resources that we need here right now whatever it is whatever strain of uh like moral calculus gets you to the point there is this majority that wouldn't like it and it's sort of the only millstone 0:16:37 around the neck of the of the deep state but it doesn't stop the drive that underlies it because at the political level there's never enough of a organized opposition an articulated opposition to the very existence of the thing and sadly biden is not going to change that at all the good times are going to keep rolling for the for the for the draculas of the military industrial silicon valley entertainment ***** complex i did see soderberg's shave but it was a long time ago i should watch it again i'd be interested to see somebody's banging a dang drum is it seven not six i'm seeing the 0:17:45

chicago seven movie tonight we are going to be doing an episode on thursday that was inevitable apparently it's rich with liberty goodness and sorkini nuggets it's got all of our favorite things it's got all of the specific sorkin idiocy it's got more general delusional like boomer nostalgia and and uh misunderstanding of the of the 60s and it'll be interesting we're gonna hopefully talk to uh dave anthony and josh olson from the west wing thing podcast who talk about sorkin every week to talk about it that'll be interesting especially since apparently like they like the new left guys a little more than i think i do and i know amber does so there might be but i'm sure i've heard it's terrible and that makes me very excited because there's nothing i like more than a bad movie with very high production values and a lot of good actors in it oh that's 0:18:47 some of the best movie watching you can do is a just a bad like uh in some way like risible film that's got a nice rich patina on it especially since there's so much there's so little content these days in terms of streaming that it seems to pop out oh man barry's that very seal movie that was amazing that's like a ***** definition of a limited hangout deal where they talk about barry seal and they say that they say yeah sure the the cia hired him to run guns uh illegally uh into uh nicaragua to arm the contras during the iran-contra scandal yeah he did that but he also and 0:19:48 he also while he was doing that uh was moving a lot of cocaine for pablo escobar into the united states at the same time and maybe the cia knew about it and looked the other way but most of the government didn't know about it that's the official and that's perfect example of a limited hangout because there is the the horror of oh my god like they're they're giving these guns these drug dealers are arming these terrorists on behalf of the us government that's amazing but the idea that the cia is directing the flow of ***** cocaine into the united states in order to fund a ***** terrorist war in central america genocidal ***** attack uh where'd you get no look we're telling you as far as it went he did move drugs while he was moving the guns and we maybe looked the other way but you know at the end of the day he was 0:20:50 just a an american boy who wanted to do good and you know what the fact that he was so ambitious about everything and just wanted money so much doesn't that just really indict the entire american system after all move those crack rocks meanwhile you're moving crack rocks you're turning ***** you're turning pieces into weight and then back into rocks after having basically created the modern heroin trade during vietnam and then in afghanistan you went from having a situation where the taliban had been very successful in eradicating opium production and it brought into like into it near extinction like it was on the path towards eventual uh extinguishment and then the u.s showed up after uh 9 11 and after that moment from that moment on not till now uh afghanistan has gone from something like in the single digits or 0:21:51 like i think under 25 percent i believe of world opium uh production to 90. like oh wow we just we couldn't do anything other than let that happen like these huge networks of uh ***** you know uh extremists and guns and uncountable amounts of untraceable cash just gonna go out of the country without the u.s having any oh god charlie wilson's war another sorkin bomb we are honestly the show goes long enough we might end up doing every sorkin property because i think we've talked about doing a charlie wilson's war episode but we never got around to it it is absolute dog ***** not just from the standpoint of its awful typical like it's another limited hangout deal oh we armed the muay jaadin oh weren't we stinkers um and then oh man taliban exists now exists darn fumbled the ball in the end zone i guess what we get for being too cocky but sorkin dialogue terrible philip seymour hoffman is the only good thing he's he's great as the pissed off cia guy who by the way uh was one of the guys who helped administer the ***** uh the the military coup in greece that led to a wave of disappearances and torture but the action and the directing also dog ***** it was like mike lee mike nichols in his like senescence when he was just making these boring ***** tv movies and it's got this amazing the only action scene in the entire movie spoiler alert is this is a shot of some mujahideen uh shooting down a hind helicopter with a stinger missile that had been provided to them courtesy of representative charlie wilson and the operation cyclone and it's just these two guys in sandals and and headdresses standing on a rock that could have been in ***** griffith park and then they cut to what looks looks uncannily like stock footage of a soviet helicopter and then they should cut back to the guy and he fires the missile it looks like an snl sketch and then they cut to and more footage that swear to god looks like it's a stock of an exploding helicopter and bad a few good men i say is his best stuff but a few good men is an unimpeachably solid film i would i would not really want anything else out of that movie and you know it's also one of his first films it's one of his first chances he had to uh show off all of his tricks and ***** and i think the fact that it's a different context and it's different actors that is subsequently used over and over again you can kind of enjoy the sorkin stuff uh without it hating your ear wrong because it's not reminding you of the 500 other times he does that same thing because he has three ***** tricks in his sleeve but it's still i think it's entertaining and rob reiner who's certainly nothing more than a journeyman at best i have more responsibility than you could possibly fathom what's so funny about that is that he gets up on his high horse about this ***** and this is in the 90s though and it's really going to show how america was grasping towards the cold war without even knowing it how we needed to reestablish like the the threat matrix of an external enemy like the soviets for our entire defense posture and our relationship to our military to make sense like we have to find a new one because this is the end of the cold war and ***** uh nicholson has this giant stem-winding speech

that's supposed to like cut to the quick and make you question your assumptions as a pious liberal uh and it comes down to i'm afraid the cubans are gonna get me even though i'm hanging out in a ***** uh i mean this is a post-war world where america is the dominant hegemon of the entire globe everybody else is either building themselves up or putting back the pieces together and this got their their colonial outposts uh in front of like a cow economically sanctioned pariah state that we've like waged unceasing war on for 7 50 ***** years and he's good they're going to five i sleep 200 yards from 5 000 cubans who are trained to kill me it's like yeah they're going to come over the ***** wire any day now but like our culture didn't have time 0:27:0

911 showed up just in time to like catch the foot as we were spinning off into nothing like catch us on the next rung of the ladder and move us along oh good now we made now the world makes sense again because for a while there we were in a real ***** uh uh personality crisis we were real real crisis of identity there uh and 911 came wrong um uh either because it was an inside job and it was the state making it happen or because we were literally just driving into it as a culture subconsciously because of our like zaroz ask death urge to to find meaning at the end of history because we've been so deeply a culture to this barracks mentality and this apocalyptic framework of confrontation that our institutions could not survive becoming decadent we could not survive the end of the punic war any better than the roman republic could and now we find oh no this replacement has only accelerated the process because the process was always accelerating it was just disguised by some freak moments of uh 0:28:2

unprecedentedly um ill-distributed capital accumulation after world war ii pubic war indeed indeed yeah because the alternative to that uh apocalyptic confrontational framework is a climb down from our position at the head of this thing a chance to put the gun down and like close our eyes for a bit and hav and step down from our position as this global global strategic hegemon and also as the consumer of last resort and the the primary uh just mouth and that means like not not a stat not a drop in standard of living if you're talking about a like redistribution of wealth if wealth is genuinely redistributed you could eliminate profit and replace it with public 0:29:4 welfare in a way that reduces any kind of like felt material deprivation even if maybe there aren't many toothpastes you can choose in the ***** aisle it wouldn't matter because you wouldn't care because you'd have other things like ***** healthcare like roads you could drive on like some sort of guaranteed government income slash job program i i know those things are always fighting each other i don't know you guys figure it out those things could be achieved well like allowing other countries to uh to absorb like a a and we never had the political constituency for that because 0:30:8 by the time the crisis came our political system was wholly subsumed into a that has almost no real participation from the working class at this point and and that

real re-establishing that uh someone asks if i will carve a gentleladder sir **Music playing** it makes me want to do a twitch uh can you watch like old movies on twitch do like a twitch halloween like movie night be like a svengoolie type guy like a local uh like hey welcome to chapel halloween theater whoa that might be fun i 0:31:10 might do that later we'll see if we'll see if i can get a night though night of the living dead for many years was public domain i don't know if it still is though there was a while where any publisher of any like vhs company whatever could just put out a cop an additional night of living dead with any kind of aspect ratio they wanted her although i got to say the fact that he lost living in the in the copyright divorce with his co-producer i think it was to his benefit because dawn of the dead day of the dead i just feel like those are punchier than night of living dead now night of the living 0:32:11 dead is perfect but i just feel like day of the living dead just doesn't have as much punch as day of the dead or dawn of the dead most of all dawn of the dead molly's game is not bad molly's game is very sorkini but it's also zippy and entertaining and one of the things that makes it fun is that the stakes are very low i mean obviously he tries to build up molly as a world bestriding genius because he has to because it's his protagonist and he can't doesn't care about a protagonist unless they're as smart as he thinks he is which means they have to be world uh it's got the snappy dialogue and it's just about her like her life if she's gonna go to jail or not there's nothing about the fate of the republic there isn't there aren't even like a lot of grandstanding around around like civil liberties in regards to the fbi uh prosecution uh and that 0:33:14 made it reminded me that he's he is just he's he understands rhythm and stuff and what makes like dialogue surface appealing to people what makes it smooth even if it's you know not realistic i watched qb halloween it was kind of cute there were so many callbacks to the old happy madison films i was like ah i feel like this is my like dying dream like i'm dying and for some reason as my brain is asphyxiating the last part of my memory that's getting accessed is all of my collective experience of watching happy madison programming and it's turning into this film in front of me that's suffused with elements of all of it and i'm like turning all of these elements into imagine people in my past as i like so it's fun uh the 90s version of night of 0:34:21 the living dead is interesting because it really does it changes the source material in a provocative way uh because it switches things from in the original night of living dead there's barbara and uh dwayne jones uh the protagonist the hero uh and then the family with the bald creep his pushover wife and their little sick kid and in the original barbara is basically catatonic the whole time and gets eaten by the zombies pretty much immediately when they burst into the house uh and uh the hero dwayne jones he shoots the dad the mom gets killed by the girl and then even though he survives the night when he goes there out to look that's what's gone in the morning

spoiler alert to a movie that's 50 ***** years old uh a local posse of people hunting 0:35:23 zombies shoots and kills uh oh snap in the remake tom savini directed me remake barbara sort of is is the main character who over time kind of comes into her own and uh she escapes like i think joins the posse or something comes back to the house uh the hero has been zombified but the dad is still alive uh after being a craven piece of ***** and she kills his ass so it's more of a girl boss version it's more of a girl an empowerment version a feminist feminist retelling the special effects are very good it's tom savini but it just doesn't feel necessary other than other than that you know inversion do i ever wake up with music in my head often i'll i'll go sometimes 0:36:24 like a week or so with the same song it'll just get stuck there like at the beginning like at groundhog day and with uh i i got you babe but eventually it just stops but yeah i'll have it happen a lot i uh i watched the cats movie recently and i got the uh the mr mistoffelees song stuck in my head for a couple days there that one that one got wedged in real good yeah there's no cat more i think i forgot it now there's no cat more more dastardly what is it never was a cat never was there ever yeah that's it never was there ever a cat as as pimp as mr mistoffelees i actually found cats is 0:37:28 obviously i think bad from a dramatic perspective i mean obviously the content is bad uh it's just these dumb cats introducing each other for ***** uh 90 minutes i mean that's it they're just hey i'm this cat that's hey i'm this guy that's all it is there's no structure there's no story at all it's barely even there it's just an excuse for the song so it's all about how good the songs are some of them are pretty good some of them suck the big most famous song from the thing in my opinion is awful and i hate memories one of my least favorite songs on earth uh thumbs down to that one uh but some of the other ones are fun the skimble shanks song uh of course the cavity song you know they're not bad i really hated the the whole thing really hated the whole thing with uh with rebel wilson and the dancing crowd uh uh cockroaches grotesque uh kafka ask in a buster jones revolting thank you for reminding me of something 0:38:29 i blacked out in my head definitely the low point of the film was the introduction of the disgusting simpering creature known as james corden uh just subsuming the screen and his early genius terrible terrible is one of those brits who they just give us and say here you take him now like a cursed amulet like that trampoline that uh he's like that trampoline that homer gets from uh krusty when he goes to take it back he takes out a shotgun and says keep on driving that's what happened with courtney we tried to send him back and the brits were like nope we rescinded his visa he's yours now and it's like i guess we'll put him on late night disgusting awful man simpering oaf but yes thumbs down to the odious buster for jones the cavity is 0:39:38 truly not there it's true it's true so oh this is one thing i wanted to clear up so the uh the hard done by outcast cat jennifer hudson who plays who sings the terrible uh

showstopper and is given the the the uh she's she's taking to she's taken to jellicle carousel at the end and put on a ***** hot air balloon that's just a euphemism for 0:40:39 her being killed right like being put down by like maybe the pound comes around or like somebody has to get kicked out of like the warm spot and freeze on the street she's dying right it's it's it's euthanasia i talked about eucalyn two things someone wants to talk about bolivia i i said my piece on bolivia uh on the show today it'll be out later tonight good news for once and for anybody who says cynically and i know that the instinct comes to me to think it this is all this is only happening because moss has been uh in some way disciplined that the message has been seen sent and that ensures that there will be further there will be compliance in the future and you know what there was certainly an element of that to some degree they wouldn't have they wouldn't have they would have pulled out more stops i think if there was a real threat that they thought uh that that uh moss posed an existential you know danger in any way but uh but at the same time they only had to they still had to give power back because of popular pressure and that means popular pressure is still sufficient 0:41:41 to advance like a unified interest uh in the face of all of the entrenched institutional deep state ***** and the connections to finance and global uh capital and that you know as conditions change that power can be advanced forward especially because you got this victory under your belt like everything everything is a double-edged sword all events have potential for disaster and an equal measure of triumphant only time will tell seems like a cop-out but it's the only way to engage with the moment earnestly and in good faith when it happens instead of just writing things off because you've already made a decision that can't be made until uh is castro 0:42:43 a contender for all-time chat you know i was talking to brendan james about that the other day and i think that was exactly what we said i think we actually said castro has to be the chad of history at least at least modern history you know the condition the the industrial condition how do you get more chad that you're you're a fail-son lawyer who uh who has an absolutely failed attempt at a revolution just a ridiculous adventurous uh action that makes you get you in jail where you could very easily have been executed but instead you give a historical stem-winding uh prison oration that gets you essentially a commuted sentence and then you go to mexico and then you borrow somebody's boat and come back and go into the mountains and take over and overthrow the government from that position and then look at the face of the the continent the striding hegemon that had determined the fate of 0:43:44 your country's politics since 1896 and uh 1898 i'm sorry uh and just say ***** off and then survive for 50 years of constant assassination attempts and undermining efforts and meanwhile to like establish a system that is rooted enough in some sort of social project that it was stands the fall of the soviet union which which very

few other socialist states could uh and then also the death of castro himself the the guy who was supposed to charismatically hold the whole thing together it's it's it's mind-blowing and then you know just baseball player cigar fact that he just had an instinctive understanding of how not to get killed by the cia which which scuba suit not to wear just know that it's the one that doesn't have the fungus on it that's going to make you choke to death in the water so that when when the woman is sent by the cia to kill you you seduce her and then get her to confess that she's there 0:44:46 to kill you and give her a gun and say go ahead and do it and say you can't do it because no man can kill me well i think the difference between tito and uh tim fidel can be in part shown by the fact what happened after each of them died he had an ability to withstand uh he he he would he had created he had helped coordinate the creation of institutions that were durable in a way that the ones created in but i will 0:45:48 say that yes one thing that tito had to deal with which uh castro did not is the whole ethnicity problem which is a real deal like it wasn't entirely ginned up cynically by guys like milosevic and tujman uh after the fall of soviet union it was certainly in part but it had been there and it had been simmering i mean the ustasha really did that ***** in world war ii like that's not made up like the ***** czech the croats did a genocide yes that's the funny part they all hate each other but they're all just turkish i don't understand why all these turks are mad at each other i hope nobody yeah uh the ustasha were the were the uh the guys who were most with this the 0:47:20 catholic church was most directly involved in uh in helping to flee europe after world war ii it was called the rat line it was a joint operation of the uh the catholic church and the oss to get the high level of stacia guys including ante pavlick the head dude out of uh croatia and into latin america it's pretty wild like i can see why there's hard feelings there and then of course you have like the civil war between like the czech 0:48:27 knicks communists i did like siriana siriano was a was a good movie it was one of the few uh hollywood products of the of the bush era that i think hold up analytically in any way i mean obviously it's very on the nose and sort of on its sleeve and and simplified in many ways but you know it's got a kind of social realist uh uh charm to it and clooney's very good in that as well that and that and michael clayton are my favorite clooney performances i think besides oh besides the stuff of the cohens all of which i love i love all of his stuff he's he's they're so good getting getting the i will say this about clooney has obviously made bad movies and he is you know in his convictions and aesthetic preferences he is a very stayed uh uh you know lib like 0:49:29 clearly you know the bogus of standard libs you could get and therefore not terribly interesting when he sets out to create like uh self-conscious works of heart like all of his directorial efforts and stuff they're mediocre at best but i will say this about the guy one thing you can say about as a measure of a a-list actor's commitment to you know actually trying to be an artist in some way any way you can in that world it's directly related to how often they play cops and it's not because of any ab a-cab ***** or worrying about propaganda it's just because police officer is the most boring bog standard job you can have in a movie and movies where the protagonist as a cop tend to be boring and fog standard in some way because that's like the default thing is hey he's a cop doing x and then you have implied drama and action it's like it's it's just a big bowl of ice cream for everybody always and so if you're 0:50:31 always a cop it's like you kind of don't really care about anything other than what people and clooney has almost never played a cop i think the only time he's played an actual like the closest thing to a cop was when he was a marshall in um a us marshall a desk guy though uh in um after reading so i'll give him that like look at a guy like bruce willis on the other hand he basically only plays cops just just shoots half those movies while in so i'll give i'll give clooney that i think he's still trying to do work even if his instincts aren't that great there's intention behind it which hey is not true of most of those guys yeah i would like to get tubin on to do some uh some we could get him in age he could we could have him come out 0:51:34 in a judge's robe that's cut off right above here so it's actually just sort of like a judge's tank top and you can see he's oh yeah clooney is also a big propagandist i believe he actually like funded the creation of a uh satellite to like uh hover over sudan to prevent the sudanese from doing any more genocides which i'm pretty sure is like part of some rube goldberg contraption of like neoliberal clampdown in africa like some yeah like it's part of the spoke of some like surveillance wheel that's part of you know the molly uh uh uh installations and and like you know the special 0:52:35 operations headquarters and djibouti and the ***** predator war in somalia and all that ***** uh but they're all they're all reptiles of course their morals are ***** i'm talking about i'm talking about the product you ***** people we've gotten to the point where the personal is political has been so absorbed and the idea of the gramscian cultural hegemony being like this sole vector of reinforcement of capitalist relationships that we get we can't think in any terms other than uh ideologically ooh 0:53:42 the best halloween candy certainly not candy corn which is disgusting uh and vile but of course if it's on a table i will eat it if it is presented to me it will be eaten by me and i will at least one occasion maybe two give myself vampire fangs that will i really i gotta say guys i don't know if i like candy anymore i think i ran out of candy love i mean i kind of got i got gentrified taste now like as soon as i got my first taste of like a a dark chocolate covered almond like that's delicious i want that i don't want i don't want hershey's it's just too it's coin i'm afraid i'm a sophisticated now i'm a dreaded member of the pmc grifter over class which means i must have the finest suites i must get the 499 tub of trader's joe almonds thoughts on garibaldi uh 0:54:50

pimp what other word do you want to describe him with uh like you could say that like john brown was like the american garibaldi uh and garibaldi just was operating in a little better uh tactical environment they both they both had problematic age gaps in their relationships though and i would say to my italian american brothers and sisters that if you really have to have a day you really got to have a day for your people uh fine but how about garibaldi he's right here hey he's a better guard what's so wrong with him huh he's a gold i mean he's the guy who actually created an italy 0:55:52 in the first place for you guys to be and i know the idea is like well columbus like is the american part but again not united states of america a concept of america that they don't encompass at all in their self concept as italian americans it's an entirely different national identity yeah and garibaldi did go to he was in argentina doing ***** revolutionary pimp but i honestly don't know why the italians need a guy i mean who else has a day the irish have a day i guess it's whoever was in whoever 0:56:55 was in the big ethnic east coast machines that like ran the democratic party for a while that was their version of identity politics that was the identity politics part of the material the care the material and cultural case uh for the democratic party in the 20th century was yeah we give you patriots jobs and suburban houses with union benefits and also we give you a day for your people okay just imagine fdr like old patrician blue blood fdr going yes yes would you guys they got to be like yeah we're part of the team we're part of the ruling class it's like yeah sure you are buddy thus perpetuating false consciousness but germans don't have a day i mean oktoberfest doesn't count i'm sorry and it's just what it's just because we fought a couple world 0:57:56 wars against them i'm sorry but they make proportionally the largest percentage of like european extracted americans i don't care about it either way really it's just kind of a thing that's one of those things i have a hard time getting my mind in the getting myself in yo god how about an english day where we just eat disgusting fourth of july is the opposite of a british holiday i guess technically because the 0:58:57 people who did it were thoughts on the carbonari i'll tell you right now i could go for some chicken carbonari someone keeps asking me about nicotine what why how would you have me profitably discourse on nicotine it's an addictive substance that is utilized in the sale of uh they're a drug that has been successfully synthesized it's it's a market has been successfully successfully synthesized into the workings 0:59:58 of uh the aboveboard capitalist economy unlike drugs like marijuana or cocaine or what have you scheduled narcotics but is essentially the same thing as a scheduled narcotic in terms of its market i i know i shouldn't respond when people just kind of rep spam comments but that one was baffling just because it seemed so left field and i was hoping maybe there would be a follow-up but it doesn't look like i'm getting a follow-up it looks like once again i am lashed to the mast eternally to be tormented how do you feel i need to let go you know you know no you don't you don't wanna shine on out and the hearts of man i wanna reach out with the back of my broken hand another headache another heartbreak i'm so much older than i can take reflection well it comes and goes on the direction to perfection no no no no we're back on the case 0:1:3

how goes it out there in twitch land i hope everyone's ready for the second of turns out two presidential debates gotta say i'm excited now that i've pushed through to the other side of the looking looking glass and especially after i watched them both simultaneously during the town hall last week which actually ended up being way less jarring and discombobulating than the first debate because one i had a bunch of other co-hosts who were talking so that added you know cognitive uh distortions but just the fact that they were talking like at the same time but about without being aware of it like without you know challenging one another it really uh like symphonic 0:2:6
quality because i was able to sort of tune pay attention to one or the other like i'd hear both but if i looked at one of them i could hear them more directly and the other one kind of fell into the background and so i could kind of pick my pick i could turn into a pixie song and i could go for a nice like shell like a nice a minute or so just listening to joe just this soft for grandfatherly senescence of of joe just sounding like he's talking himself into uh into dreamland sounds like he's getting he's waiting and it sounds like he's waiting to get the edward g robinson treatment from soylent green and that's soothing but you know it could get it would get boring if i listen to the whole thing so then i just look at trump and he's screaming at samantha guthrie about how we have the best we're doing the best we have the best test we have more tests than anybody in china no and it's like boom they it's like loud quiet loud and then you 0:3:7
go back after that becomes too taxing and you go back to biden it's like soothing again with them actually talking to each other and having like one conversation i think it's gonna be uh honestly more challenging to keep zen but i think with my last couple of experiences i've learned to just absorb the gestalt and you just absorb sort of the noises the sounds yeah like like a symphony like like their voices are just instruments for aesthetic appreciation they do not exist to communicate uh ideas or facts or policy or anything is there a more failed world leader in history than benito mussolini that's an interesting question because on the one hand mussolini is one of the great political entrepreneurs of the modern era this is a guy who saw the writing on the wall in world war one saw it as the death knell for like marxian socialism as a meaningful political current or at least a political current that could realistically take power uh in europe after world war ii because you know they sure were hedging towards that point when world war one happened and shattered everything uh as we've talked about before on the streams but a lot of socialists were left after world war ii very bereft of like an understanding of how to move forward and you saw them fall to bloody uh internal mayhem and germany and elsewhere because no one knew what to do especially after the mussolini looked at what was happening said what do we got here we've got a left wing that's got this massive popular base but is existentially feared by the powers of being in our society and as we just saw they're willing to do almost anything to prevent the left wing from taking power including destroying europe here we are what we got on the right we've got a right wing uh movement that has obviously or a reactionary you know power base that has control of all the power within the society but has basically no popular uh support among actual people which in the modern era in the new 20th century era of mass politics is now necessary so mussolini said well we'll take the ship that gets people in the streets for the left and we'll just do it for the right and in so doing he created an entire he helped create and he wasn't the only one who did it but he was the most he was the first one and hitler was slavishly uh fixated on what mussolini was doing and the beer hall push was inspired by the march on rome he thought that the nazis were in a position similar to what the black shirts were uh in 22 when uh they marched on rome and and mussolini was just given control of government by a and it failed miserably they got the cops shot him and uh he went to jail obviously not for too long but anyway like that was a hell of an insight that was a hell of a uh move you know he's kind of like a ray kroc figure of politics uh and i say all that in with those terms because fascism needs to be understood first and foremost as this incredibly cynical attempt to create something that will work it was a it was a it was a a brand it was a it was a um it were people it was a group of people in search of power that they knew worked like what the kind of stuff that had emerged out of the push for socialism in europe had created like this uh this thing that the public at large understood to mean opposition to the status quo in opposition to the powers that be and the idea of a new and better world than the one we had a progressive one and he pulled what worked out of that and put it out there to prop up capitalism basically not the old rulers not the old people who ran capitalism necessarily but but capital in general which meant that they got they were able to draw large numbers of people into their organization with the promise of but without having to worry about really getting any kind of pushback from power in fact getting supported by power and getting huge checks huge uh uh wheelbarrows of lyra from uh the big landowners uh and uh the budding capitalists to break strikes and stop agricultural work stoppages 0:8:18 and it got him into power almost immediately like look how long it took hitler to get his ***** together italy took power almost immediately in 1922. that's impressive but then the problem with fascism is that it really does it is predicated on imperial expansion it's predicated on uh on expanding its internal market through domination of new territory and new resources uh because of its resistance to the subsumption into any kind of like uh global network of power like it's it's a uh it's a philosophy of national supremacy which meant that for italy and uh i mean i don't think it's a coincidence italy and germany were the countries that had fascism and they were also the countries that missed out because they weren't uh they were late in being formed as nation states as coherent nation states they lost out on all the imperial spoils that had allowed capitalism to extend itself and extend its capacity beyond like 0:9:20 the locations of its original founding but if they were going to maintain capitalism as the engine of our economy uh and resist the sort of corporate of uh like naked capital domination that leads to uh uh the social atomization uh that you see in the in like the cap advanced capitalist countries so rather than do that rather than strip that national character you've got to grab some of that territory and when they try to do that it didn't go very well ethiopia was honestly harder than it should have been considering what the ethiopian military was capable of and they still used poison gas and ***** everything during world war ii really everything during world war ii he honestly might have helped save the soviet union because operation barbarossa had 0:10:23 to be uh postponed uh because when it was originally supposed to happen because against hitler's pleas mussolini invaded greece after taking albania and in so doing got his ass kicked so bad that greeks were actually taking back parts of albania and so they had to divert forces to invade and uh conquer the greeks would throw the timetable off and then yeah overthrown taken away by otto scorseny to live in salo to where he presumably ate poop according to that movie then caught in a roadway shot by a firing squad hung up by his ankles at a that's pretty fail that's pretty fail 0:11:24 but the only reason i can't give him a full fail grade is because he really was a guy who came from nowhere you know i think one of the definitions of fail for me that's most important is that a lot of it comes with just being of the generation that comes that later the generation that's had it happened are for them already the ones who are supposed the ones who are given the position of someone who has amassed a huge fortune or a huge amount of power in the world but then none had developed none of the traits that the person who had uh developed in the course of getting it you know what i mean like the things that the things that help you get somewhere are the things that help you stay there and he didn't and these guys a fail person to me is someone who got the position but had none of anything that uh like makes you worthy of the role you know in any meaningful sense obviously you know we're talking about cap even in capitalism there is still a role for like skill and ability and that's what capitalists like to point to is the thing that we're trying to reward with this system but it's very very small what we mostly reward what is vastly vastly over rewarded is luck and not just like the luck to not have a brick fall on your head or you know get cancer or something which is part of it or get disabled in a specific way uh that's all part of the luck but the big part of the luck is being born into a position of already uh of already having assumed power and we're being ruled right now by the copies of the copies of the copies who built this liberal meritocratic system and so they have none of the the the abilities that are developed and chosen for through like the theoretical uh uh competitive architecture of capitalism or politics so i think anybody who is really fail they have to have in some respect some significant respect fumbled the ball dropped the bag and hit and mussolini ***** uh fargo people are asking about fargo uh five episodes in very poor in my opinion very bad show uh just the it's blunt it's obvious in a way that it didn't used to be like i kind of got bored with the way it would create these thematic and symbolic uh presence to be opened by reviewers but i now realize that i kind of missed that compared to the just lack of any subtext and i think that's because they're trying to address a social issue which it's not i mean the whole point of fargo right it's supposed to be a riff on the coens the coin universe and the cohen worldview and the cohen aesthetic right and i'm sorry but that's not a big feature of it it's like social awareness you know that's not really what they are interested in and a movie and a series of shows that like don't really make sense honestly outside of that context there's a reason that's called that there's a reason that they have all these like the plots and the settings and even the characters they're all established by coen brothers archetypes and now they're making a season that's about like you know the realities of race as it's lived in america and i'm sorry that's not something that coens have ever really cared about and as a result you see just like the term paper mindset kick in where it's like we're going to give everybody a monologue about racism every episode which is not something that the previous but i will say like i don't think this is some huge drop of quality because fargo was always like clever but not fantastic just because it was so so you know fixated on like appealing to you know an idea of quality and now i think the thing about this season is is like now that element like having to have a racial or like a social awareness element to the plot i think that's now here not just as like some pander but because are not like a direct pander to like oh people

are woke now let's give them something that's woke but just you know if the show really does seem to be in some way being driven uh by like the pers the idea of what the critical response will be then now i think in this current moment everyone is aware that the new critical consensus has that like for a real work of art to mean anything in the popular culture it has to speak to these questions and if it doesn't it is inferior and i just don't think gabinet uh somebody wants uh biden cabinet 0:17:6 uh predictions i'm gonna go with the grimace for secretary of the state uh i know you're gonna think uh hamburglar at treasury no thank you no i honestly don't get why people get riled up about uh any of the pet cabinet stuff one it's all just being leaked by specific staffers to make up like to do some internal office politics ***** the way people read ***** like that and just assume oh this is like the campaign telling us the truth as opposed to this is some weasel in the campaign trying to position themselves for the post-campaign era and you know that doesn't mean that it's not true and it certainly wouldn't be surprising but it's also not something that one first of all we can even no means anything other than office politics and people shocking for position which i mean tells you something but two it doesn't ***** 0:18:7 matter who's in the cabinet it doesn't matter who's in the cabinet we know how this ***** government will be run we know because we actually saw a primary contest that had like meaningful stakes and the party destroyed a number of its presiding uh institutional concepts from me too to the iowa caucus and then killed their own ***** voters and if you can't give them uh you can't say that they're dumb like trump when he denied the pandemic they're the they're the party of science right they listen to doctors and they were telling people after the ***** lockdown started i'd go vote don't worry about it be a hero do democracy and if anyone said don't do it they said wow the sanders campaign bringing up the ugly history of voters voter intimidation and suppression hearkening back to the days before the civil rights act when democratic when minority democrats were prevented from voting and that's 0:19:9 what bernie sanders and his gang of bulls connor are trying to do like that was a fight and like they didn't want biden i think it's pretty clear when you see how wide the field was and how long it took that the last thing they wanted was to have this ***** fossil on top of the ticket but they had no other options because the party faithful broadly construed didn't really have any preference among the heirs to the throne because the democratic party has forgot how to appeal to actual voters like look at what look at what the democratic electorate and these are people who are democrats they accept so many of the premises of the democratic party they they're in fact basically enthralled to the democratic party because they will vote the way they're told to which is what they ended up doing but when it's when they were forced to choose between a choice like they basically got a lineup the the ms the dnc

basically said here's your choice it's who you want and of course bernie was off the table bernie had his supporters birdie had his chunk of the electorate and you know he was working to try to expand that mostly through reaching out to non-voters didn't work well enough but that was the goal meanwhile you've got the regular democrats these are the people who go in there and punch the ticket on the Dems every four years every two years these are people who don't believe a lot of the uh you know right-wing uh american knee-jerk slanders around the democrat party like they don't think that they're eating babies you know they think that NAFTA might have had some bad effects but in general it made America better you know like these people are not even like trump curious folks right these are solid democrats and with presented with a next generation of people a next generation to assume the mantle of the Obama Clinton uh neoliberal democratic party the DNC the DLC mutant that emerged out of the 80s uh and post and in this like in a post 2008 world this is these are your options kamal uh buddhish gila brand uh Biden whatever uh all of the new ones all of the ones that were supposed to be the fresh face uh were got no influence no no i mean no uh real interest besides of course the freaks in Iowa New Hampshire who specifically uh are fixated on the new and the fresh basically they see themselves as like focus groups and they see give themselves the self-satisfaction and seriousness of purpose of a focus group like okay this is going to determine the next year's new flavor of Eminem i have to make sure that it's a good one or like oh my god these chips if they're bad that's going to be my fault like they think that way because they're first everyone else is actually trying to think of like who they want to beat uh who they think could beat trump and who they'd actually like to see and none of them caught fire at all none of them got any real stick with any of those people the only one who got any support was as a default Joe Biden because he was the one most directly connected to Obama who they actually liked and who they were really fond for the guy who was able to successfully mask neoliberalism with a uh like a appeal not like just to black Americans but to like a whole segment of like college educated whites as well that uh that just disarm them to any of his faults and to the democratic party party not the democratic party's faults in general which they have you know fallen away from but from the democratic party and even though these are all people who like oh you know they're all intersectional they all know the language they all know the language of this new you know woe capitalism people talk about that is the only thing that the democrats are standing for at this point and no none of them could gain traction none of them could and when it came down to uh to South Carolina people say like Clyburn uh chose the cha Clyburn sealed the fate of Bernie and guaranteed for Biden when he endorsed him uh i think i mean that's i think that's in a sense true but i don't think it's because Clyburn picked by the democrats and

said biden i want him what happened was it was getting down to the wire none of the other people had any kind of uh support among his actual base in south carolina he didn't want to go like out outside the lane to pick somebody that he knew people didn't like who did people still like they still like biden just give it to them like that's what he knew that he was connected enough to his own constituents to know that biden's the guy that people like because they think it relates to uh if they remind him of obama and they think that because they think he's a safe choice he can win and that's because they don't know his brain is gone like everyone in the democratic party does so clyburn was forced if i'm gonna be if i'm i'm either gonna keep my mouth shut until election day and then i know then i've lost my power because who needs me for anything or i'm going to ratify the decision of my supporters or my constituents by saying uh biden and then getting everybody in south carolina to get rally around that which is what happened because south carolina was not just huge margins in the black community it was a huge surge in white suburban uh turnout for democratic primary it was a revolution against bernie which until that point they had been stymied by the fact that none of these people looked good but biden also didn't look good and for another reason for it's like different groups had different awarenesses of the different uh uh problems of the other candidates and so biden was the last choice and i'm saying all this just to say they didn't do this for nothing they did this to hold power look at what they did with the ***** platform where they could have said anything because everyone knows the platform doesn't mean anything they still made sure there was nothing in the in the platform about at universal healthcare or ***** israel or anything anything hot button they didn't give the democrats any uh the bait the base the leftists the berniecrats they didn't give him anything because they didn't have to they saw the measure of their opponent they were able to defeat them which means they don't fear them anymore which is why i keep saying there is no left stake in this election from the standpoint of like doing anything in a biden presidency there is no pushing him left there is no having them like somehow recognize the worth of having the left as a part of the coalition the fight has been one lo has been lost at that point like we're already in the aftermath of the defeat like that bernie was the effort it was to hollow out the democratic party from within like like one of those wasps who like bore into the head of like a grasshopper or something and lay eggs like if you want to vote for biden do it for whatever like harm reduction reason makes sense to you even though none of that makes sense to me at all i don't think we're heart we're reducing dick uh but for god's sake don't do it thinking that the left has anything to do with it and by the way same thing goes for saying no i'm going to vote for i'm not going to vote or i'm going to vote for a party or i'm going to vote for trump as the ultimate own that's

not going to matter either because if you they lose they're still in charge and they get to blame you for not coming out if they win they get to take you for but honestly i've been thinking about it and like the entire the entire liberal argument that they give use for making the left vote is in my opinion basically incoherent uh like from 0:27:22 just a moral perspective tell me if you think this is crazy but uh like they say a vote for a vote for anybody but biden is essentially a vote for trump and of course that only makes sense if the underlying assumption is is that that person would be voting for biden or should be voting for biden and more importantly than should because technically shouldn't everybody be voting for biden shouldn't even uh trump supporters be voting for biden why are only leftists the ones whose failure to vote for biden is the is the cause for them to be the reason they lost that's because they they say no no but those trump people they they are back they're either stupid or evil but see that's twining different types of knowledge into one thing like that what they're referring to is the fact that you have a similar understanding to the liberal about 0:28:25 you know the need for you know uh things like anti-racism or uh uh you know civic equality uh economic egalitarianism even because the liberal will insist that they're just as socialist as you they just know it's realistic and they say we both want these things you want those things then by not voting for biden you are voting for trump but the thing is is that there's another level beyond just that common understanding it's all right we have these values how do we enact them and that is a tactical question that is separate from the question of whether or not you have a similar understanding of what the political good is how do you achieve it that's the whole that's the whole thing that's the actual point of argument and they lie to completely to assume it within the greater moral imperative for you to vote and i would say that if you look 0:29:26 at voting as it really is not as we fantastically imagine it to be as for you not as a general thing but as you as a person sitting in a voting booth uh what it is is a expression of a preference for government right so if like you're saying the person has to vote because like everyone should vote basically the kantian imperative of do it do what you want everyone to do like in a political realm you should behave the way you want everyone to behave and it's like yeah then you want people to participate because otherwise then you just have some sort of dictatorship you have to if people aren't going to participate in a punitive democracy you don't have one so yes you should vote but then you should vote but then the next but within that is who are you voting for because you are doing an act of individual moral reasoning you got to remember that you're not coordinating activity we pretend we pretend that voting is a collective endeavor instead of 100 million individual ones to allied this fact but 0:30:29 this is some fun like when reasoning about it if we're gonna if if i don't know what anyone else is going to do really beyond like maybe the circle of my close friends and

like what i see in ***** polls then i just have to act from what i think should be done and so then the imperative is not to just vote it's to vote your conscience which means vote for you know a third party of your choice or write in somebody because if everyone wrote for that person you'd have something good if everyone voted for who you're voting for then i mean that's and if anything that's an argument not to vote ironically to like if you're not going to vote for biden vote earnestly for a third party person of your choice or write in bernie or something but it's not an argument about who to vote for that's separate that's about tactics and it's also about your understanding of what the parties mean and what biden's presidency would mean because there's plenty to art there's plenty of evidence that a biden presidency will you can't say like it's going to be not as bad as trump in a broad sense but once again like what does bad mean uh but it will definitely be a further development of terrible terrible processes it will not be interrupting but rather accelerating the worst things that are happening in our political and economic system and even there you know who to vote for is up to you you gotta thread that needle but it's not this open and shut case because the open and shut case is buried down here in like the moral uh argument about like a coll a mutual understanding of like you know rights-based human humanity uh and equality even though if you really are if if they really are a diet if they were really are a lib and someone really does have you know deeply felt socialist priors they're not even there's not even an agreement there because the idea of what constitutes you know rights and freedom is different but say at like that level you know not as deep as where the conflict begins and not as shallow as where it comes back tactically there's an agreement but that's just like one thin slice of agreement and they turn it into a moral imperative to go along with their horseshit and i say i just want to ***** i just sound at this point i just want to see something funny happen trump talking about how he wanted to kiss all the guys for a couple days while he was jacked up on steroids that someone says we need to stop moralizing about everything 24 hours a day holy ***** if i see one fundamental flaw like beyond obviously the nature of online political argumentation i would say that you know the specific expression of that like the the the the category error that occurs that is generated by online argumentation and like the the structures of it is the constant turning of every question into a moral one every question is is a question of like essence like a good or bad is this act good or bad is this person good or bad and those questions are unsolvable by definition because unbeknownst to the people making them they're making them just to have something to do they're arguments that who is the moralist favorite president jimmy ***** carter absolutely carter absolutely was a moralist first and foremost earnest one i would argue that that jimmy carter like he has had a virtuous post-war post-presidential life i would not argue that point at all compared to the other ones my god it's not even close and that kind of gives people this idea of like well he couldn't have been that bad of a president because he is a better man than most presidents and the thing is yes he is a better man i would say in some sort of soul-measuring contest with the other presidents he would win but that very fact in the context of his presidency is what made him such a uniquely terrible president because he was absorbing all of this essentially reactionary uh economic uh propaganda and turning it into like the firmament like the actual structure of reality and then reasoning morally from within that constraint which as president of the united states i'm sorry he should not be doing unless he wants to reify all of the worst emergent ideas within capitalism and the worst tendencies and he did what he did like try to bring about a recession on purpose steer somebody said uh uh that yeah that like well volker did a lot of it with the with the interest rate hike and that wasn't you know that was just that's technically not carter because he's you know appointing somebody first of all that's ***** the federal reserve is just like the supreme court it is a political institution that is designed to look like it's somehow independent of the political process and it's and it's all a a a collectively agreed upon lie that we maintain in order to prop up the system which is why john goroberts is the smartest republican on earth and why every dem every republican who yells at john roberts really proves that he is well he's either playing to the base or he's a ***** because roberts for example roberts joined the liberals in a pennsylvania case about a lower court ruling to stop the republicans from preventing mail-in ballots from going out three days before the pres before the election and some democrat republicans are genuinely pissed about this they do not understand or they don't want to understand or they don't care i guess that roberts unders roberts understands that these things being perceived as independent institutions is what maintains their their persistent power in american politics if they did not have that they would eventually be attacked by the political system if everyone understood them there was a collective understanding that these things were not independent of politics if there was not a taboo against politicizing them uh they would be immediate that's what the republicans are saying we're going to get put more guys in the supreme court and then they're going to add guys the supreme court like if you're me i i go who cares so what liberals democrats understand that that's a genuine threat that's scary because if that were to happen it would politicize the supreme court in a way that would render it no longer usable as a box stop to prevent real you know left-wing government control or exercising of control because you can you can't point to the ref and say it's not me it's the ref if the ref has lost his if the ref is understood to be tim donaghy for example uh and so roberts understands that if the court's gonna be around to do things like stop a green new deal from happening with uh uh legislation or more likely than anything uh prevent universal health care from coming into being uh or just like further stripping voting rights away especially if the left becomes ascendant uh that's only going to be possible if there's if if there's enough uh there's enough political cost associated with attacking the supreme court to prevent it from being 0:39:3 carried out or more importantly to prevent the base from demanding it be carried out like right now the thing that allows democrats to play uh possum with the dem the supreme court uh is the knowledge that there's really nothing their base is going to do about it they don't ***** care uh they or more importantly even though they are horribly angry and awful and feel terrible about this well they have absorbed the democratic ideology that there's nothing to be done because the supreme court has to be protected from from politicization if that perception goes away it becomes inevitable over time that there will be pressing there'll be pressure on the court as an institution and he wants to prevent that from happening and doing things like joining the liberals especially on things that they really care about and right now what they care about more than anything is making sure that this election does not turn into 2000 again that's buying him good boy points for the next ruling but anyway this is all a big digression to say that carter thought he was reasoning in this 0:40:4 reality that was actually a pseudo-reality that was being projected to him by this new uh post keynesian austerity economics that said that the thing that was driving that the only way to solve inflation and to get the economy back on track was to break the back of working class power uh rather and essentially end the continual rise of the workers labor share of uh of now dwindling profits instead of i don't know taking those profits from the uh ownership side that wasn't on the table and so when he told people wear a sweater and you know turn down the thermostat and we're going to stop you from being able to ***** um borrow money like i was this is what i was saying when i was talking about the vulture shock it wasn't just volcker he wasn't just applying volcker it was doing he didn't do wage and price controls he did credit controls where in the second half of his uh term he reduced the amount of 0:41:6 money that could be lent to people at the retail level that's the kind of thing that will basically force a recession to happen they were doing it on purpose and he was doing it out of virtue he was going to wean america off excess on behalf of virtue not capitalism so yeah moral questions at this point what is the point of it other than entertainment how about some questions of efficacy how about some how about some questions of usefulness and effectiveness and i know that these are not totally un uh uh removable but i find that any actual tactical questions get turned into moral questions almost immediately and then it is insisted no no we have to solve 0:42:7 this moral question and decide who's right between these two sides and this moral issue before we can progress because then we're going to be using the master's tools or some ***** and my answer to that is just these differences you think you have are unresolvable and besides the point because you know the rightness of the of the morality honestly a lot of it will be revealed uh in in the course of who is arguing in good faith uh and uh and with an eye towards like reality those are the kind of things that suggest you who is uh more connected to reality and more likely to be able to conceive of uh is it that is that easy to remove your choice from revolving 0:43:12 ironically from the af effect that not having trump in office has on many americans well for one thing i don't know what that effect is going to be people say that but what does it really mean do you what do you really mean by that is my question i guess what and i would like people to list this what realistically do they think what pain what persistent pain are we going to see removed from america by biden being president instead of trump i'm not talking about anything in terms of uh you know norms or or even even things of normalizing and all that stuff because yes that's that might be true but it's a little pie in the sky i'm talking about actual conditions i mean do you think that they're just gonna open up all those uh cages for the kids and and just let them out and do you think that's going to happen i don't think that's going to happen now yes uh i would say one group visa holders or people 0:44:13 seeking visas absolutely 100 i agree that that will that there will be a immediate uh i'm not like saying there is none i'm trying to run through what they actually are so that's one for sure visa holders in general but other than that like people who are here illegally there might be fewer ice raids and stuff but like deportation's still going to happen ice is still going to be there environment i mean what does by what does biden want to really do what does bind really want to do that's that different from what trump's doing maybe he might close off a few public lands to drilling which is good but once again like in a broader sense have we decelerated any trends significantly and like the big one people want to talk about authoritarianism but i'm sorry with this ***** whitmer kidnapping plot and a response to it i mean i don't really i don't see some sort of ratcheting down of authoritarian uh like excess 0:45:16 in the biden term if anything what you might see is sort of like a war on terror more on domestic terror like where the whitmer plot becomes a model for like a newly anti-fascist uh a federal law enforcement mechanism like antifa dhs and fbi that's gonna uh you know maintain popular support by reminding people how many how many nazis are under the bed even if they don't do that there's gonna be plenty there's going to be uh plenty of uh blame to go around enough to allow sort of the the current uh authoritarian moment to continue essentially unchallenged like these democratic mayors who send in squads of psycho cops to gas everybody they're not going to act any differently with bidens in charge and binds not going to what put 0:46:28

any real pressure on them but again these questions are secondary because none of you are going to determine the outcome of this you pressing a button doesn't make it happen you going in and voting for biden doesn't mean that when binds in you're responsible that he's in there and therefore responsible for all the lives or if you don't vote for biden you're responsible for all the extra deaths and misery why is voting for bernie a collective political act for voting for biden can't be because bernie represented a coherent challenge to the democratic party as such from within and you had to accept certain premises that differed from fundamental democratic policy uh uh agendas and and tactical uh understandings and doctrine in order to vote for bernie and that wouldn't mean that you're going to now become a die-hard 0:47:29 you're not going to but it's going to mean that your voting is it's not just for one candidate it is for a coherent political project the democratic candidate who emerged from that ***** primary after defeating bernie uh has no such there's no coherence behind the vote against it it's everyone from embarrassed suburban republicans to uh to anti-fat and who the hell do you think is going to get the actual influence in that campaign or i mean then in that presidency that's another way you can tell the really dumb the dumb cons the dumb conservatives are the ones who actually believe that biden is like enthralled to antifa or whatever the ***** like there was some dumb thing from that nitwit uh weinstein brother and ***** conceptual james today about involuntary conservatives about people who will accept all the horrible ideas that yes we understand 100 how terrible trump is we are reality based we understand that trump is awful and that he lies and that he is a fraud and a criminal and all this stuff because to not unders honestly like educated people understand that to 0:48:30 not at least recognize trump's manifest and manifold failures as a human and as a ***** president and his everything requires a certain uh glassy-eyed mania to you it requires you to be in the thrall of mega to some degree uh to to a degree that is reality warping outside of the accepted level of warp you're allowed in polite company so you've got to think of some other reason and the one these guys have cooked up is that i can't vote for biden because look at these guys saying abolish the constitution and court pack and and uh and enforce and that is a result of someone being a ***** and also just looking at twitter all day and thinking it's real life because if you can't look at the actual dynamics of the party and what has happened in the last year and see that there is no actual influence from that part of whoever ends up voting 0:49:31 for the democrats on biden on the dnc on the party in general you are you are as you are as self-hypnotized as a cue person i'm sorry i don't care if you want to think you're smarter than them but you're basically not if you could look at the world and look at the democratic party and say yeah you know biden he's a he's a puppet for uh for the ***** um for what the new black panther party or whatever the ***** i

mean now when you want to talk at the level of like language yeah i would be i can't wait to see how hilariously woke biden tries to be like obviously they're gonna use kamala for most of it but there's gonna all the language all the academic anti-racism language is gonna come up it's going to be horrifying and i welcome it because you know i think it'll be an alienating moment for a lot of people to just see the wildly uh cynical use of their language and they're going to be left with a choice like do i do i accept the the reality that this stuff really at this point is just just a cudgel for the establishment or do i realize that it has to be transcendent and i mean i'm not saying everybody's going to choose the right choice there but i think some people will and i welcome that as a possible good outcome of biden being in there but anyway there will be no practical changes no policies are going to be enforced to make your life they're not going to ***** blow up the constitution or the supreme court it's just talking about how they need to reinforce the the the public uh they need to super what they're going to be doing in there is taking every institution that trump undermined by treating it like it was because trump went in there like a child and he didn't understand that he's supposed to be upholding the kayfabe that no these institutions are not independent these institutions are not political he just went in there and just like yeah no this these guys all work for me right fbi director works for me supreme court worked for me these guys are i'm on the apprentice and these are my employees in reality yeah like at this point you know the constitution plus uh you know 250 years of uh of governmental uh expansion and complication all of it being concentrated in one executive office that is the combination of head of state and government for some stupid ***** reason in reality all these things that were supposed to be checks on presidency are not just extensions of presidential power especially and then if the party that the president in a new par in a partisan political environment where there's two coherent parties with like different agendas that supersede any kind of investment in an institution that they might be a part of that means that if you control the legislative they essentially work for you too and he treated everybody that way and democrats have spent four years freaking out because we're not supposed to realize that we're not supposed to know that we're supposed to think that no these things are independent these things are checks on both sides so that they can be used when they need to be used and when you get a six three majority in the supreme court you're the democrats my god that is a gift now we now we have a guaranteed uh excuse for why we can never follow through on anything that our base wants and has a delusion in their mind that we actually want have any interest in pursuing and so when he gets in there biden is going to just be like ***** uh uh fix it felix from wreck-it ralph just going around and uh putting back all of these institutions building up the their independence from from the executive and that means they're not gonna ***** monkey with the constitution they're not going to add any seats to the supreme court and if you think they are you're a ***** ***** and you and you've just stared into the abyss of the online for so long that you've turned the ***** random hooting of a bunch of just cope addicted um pseudo radicals who spend their days online cosplaying a political revolution that they know in their heart will never happen and then say yeah these guys actually wait a minute all right this is interesting your argument is forget about the visa holders forget about the covet victims forget about women and minorities i need to wax ambivalent about voters to self-sooth about the bernie laws once again i don't get what that has to do my vote and even when i say on the stream will not determine like losing these things lose these ritualized pseudo performances of political power have to be broken down and that means voting as like the locus of political meaning and moral expression and also posting because they're just different manifestations of the same the same phenomenon of of just this shadow politics now voting for dinner nope that's different if you don't get why it's different it's not for you and nothing in this world all right what is it it's almost time voting less than posting less than podcasting i would say i would say voting is will be one step closer than either podcasting or voting to real politics because it does contribute to an event that has an actual impact on something i will say that but it's just one level more advanced it's just one level removed uh and the thing is there's an accelerationist case for biden too like there's all these guys out there who've decided that they're gonna that their their form of cope is i'm actually voting for trump because uh you know he's the real challenge to the status quo and over like that you're just trying to uh ring some some meaning out of this some sense that you're not owned sorry everyone's owned in this we've all been owned there's no way out of owner there's no vote you can do there's nothing you can have in your head while you're pressing the button that's gonna unown you in this election we are fully fully owned uh if voting isn't meaningful then running for office isn't either i didn't say it's not meaningful i'm saying that its meaning is not in proportion to the way that people talk about it to the amount of psychic resources that it kicks up the amount of people's and i'd say running for office would be one more step closer to real action than voting but once again at that point come the questions of like tactics and feasibility if you're going to run for something why is it to get out of the house do you have an actual thing to contribute beyond i've read the posts and i have the good politics from the good posts is there something about you specifically that positions you well to present a socialist alternative in a plausible like uh electoral context like it's a it's a stack like political identity is the stack of actions you know that go from thinking some having certain things that you think of as ideas to expressing those ideas to the people around you expressing them online in different formats then expressing them through actions like you know organizing uh you know organizing a union or your work if that's viable or running for office or whatever or voting whatever those are actions and it's it's a our understanding of ourselves like pursuing political goals embodying political ideas is some percentage of those things and all i am saying is that voting is this gigantic thing in people's self-conceptions around it and as long as it is it's just going to rob you of the fuel to really pursue anything that might be more close to the ground and more consistent like a daily use of power that goes beyond just thinking things and expressing them online a daily pressing against living a political life living political ideas and voting not saying i wouldn't be part of that this isn't all this isn't either or it's yes and it's adding things to your understanding of what it takes to be what it really means to be a political subject and the only way you can do that is if you have to make room for other things and and i'd say the thing to kick out first of all the thing that dump off the ***** uh the hot air balloon to lighten the load is your understanding of the of the moral uh weight around the issue beyond that like when people say what do you okay well log off what do you do that's up to you you have to make that decision based on your own world and your own life and your own understanding of your world in your life i can say vote as part of a political expression all right guys i'm gonna log off here it's amazing i'm going to likely the fake news media is going to smear me again after this about what he said about voting but it really does seem like there's like a conscious decision to not hear what i'm ***** saying maybe i'm not expressing myself clearly and that's very possible i am just going off the ***** top of my head but i really do feel like the responses i get from people when i try to explain this stuff it does seem like they're trying not to get what i'm saying

how's everybody doing today i hope everyone is relaxing and chillaxing man it's been a hell of a week for old perverts huh some good stuff good stuff first you got jeffrey tube out slapping his hog around while zooming um proving that he just couldn't he couldn't continue to simulate the 2020 election from the point of view of the legal system and not satisfy his uh unleashed hog because of how erotic that is and i understand election simulation is intensely erotic but i think the beauty giuliani thing is of course hilarious and i think people are kind of missing the force for the trees i feel like when they're talking about it because a lot of people are hitting on the fact that oh according to this story uh borat claimed that this girl was 15 and that she 0:1:1 took rudy into another room and laid him on the bed and like he was gonna ***** a 15 year old and then other people are saying uh actually and apparently they're being paid to say this in swarms on the internet actually uh that's the 15 claim uh was never made to rudy giuliani that she looked like a young woman and that he had no reason to believe she was underage and people are arguing that point and to me that is a pointless point who cares the reality take think about this situation think about the reality of what happened rudy giuliani thinks that he's going to have an interview with what some russian journalists or something they take him to a hotel room they talk to him for a while it's wacky but whatever and at the end of it this young woman just leads him into another room and what does he do he immediately just lies on the bed that's what rudy giuliani expects to happen when he has any kind of public interaction that's what these people do this 75 year old gargoyle he goes into these nice air-conditioned rooms to talk to a bunch of guys named like ivan 0:2:2 stroganoff about like some sort of uh money laundering operation or data swap or whatever the ***** ***** he's been doing in ukraine and russia whatever like just money on his grind and at the end of those meetings like instead of a cheese course they just lead them into a room and a woman who he has no idea who they are where they came from if they've been ***** trafficked or what age they are just lays him in a bed and just sucks him off that's his expected encounter in the day think about that think about how socially conditioned he is to expect that what the *****

do you think these rich this is the proof you need that the only thing that's crazy about q anon is thinking that donald trump or anybody else in a position of power wants to stop this it's just a giant disgusting power orgy these guys are doing rich 0:3:3 i mean as they literally suck the vital vital fluids out of every human being on this planet and turn us into just hollowed out uh ***** capri suns they enact ritualized conquest a despoilation of humanity through just this wretched disgusting sexual depravity and they don't even have to be thinking in these kind of epic ritualistic terms all they could just be feeling is how do i fill the hole within me that is made by being a soulless uh uh a capitalist husk like i am nothing i am empty of any goodness any virtue what can i pursue and the only answer is selfish pleasures and what does that mean it means even when you're 75 you've still got to have some disinterested maybe sex slave tug you off in a radisson that's how ***** empty you are and that means that your life is just it is public and private uh obscenity and 0:4:7 uh despoilation of humanity solo really got to the heart of all of this and that means all these guys do this trump bill clinton uh bezos allegedly all of them are just have turned sexual debasement of people that they have power over into a component of high stakes public and private folks they're gross they're sickos q is correct about that they are genuine sickos the problem is that there are no white hats if there are white hats it's us we have to be the white hats no one in anywhere anywhere close to a position of power they are either blissfully unaware of all the ritualized sexual uh uh degradation or or they enthusiastically participate in it maybe at best 0:5:9 they've reluctantly participated it because it's necessary to maintain trust at those high levels of power and intimacy any way you slice it no one in power is going to do anything about this and and the belief that anything otherwise is true is the real fantasia at the heart of q all the craziest ***** in the universe comes not from that essential insight about power and about the people who wield it but from trying to make sense of trump somehow being opposed to it that's where the crazy stuff comes in that's where the the clones and the lizard people and the ***** uh holograms the secret guantanamo uh uh executions all of that is generated by the need to make sense of the basic fantasy that trump is in any way really opposed to power and the monsters who wield it rather than being a perfect so it's really is important to say like what is the cue delusion it really isn't anything to do with their analysis of like 0:6:12 who who rules power who rules broadly speaking and what they do with their rule what they pursue with the power they have the personal indulgence that they seek as their sole means of soul distraction and and uh pleasure that's all just real good solid materialist analysis of power it's thinking that anyone in power will stop it that is madness and that could only create more madness and that delusion is powered by the fact that they're americans god bless them and they are ensorced to the fantasy of the two-party system to politics as a meaningful endeavor and that means that they have to map their deeper understanding of the horrors of power onto this shallow fantasy of genuine uh partisan conflict where in reality you just have a organic uh osmotic relationship of power within this one organism of the democratic republican political party machinery and uh and uh cultural attachments i'm auto-tuned what's 0:7:15 going on i'm sorry i was ***** with the mixer oh that's funny i am a robot hello i am a robot programmed but sadly that's going to be one of the last illusions to die is the idea that there's genuine uh genuine conflict real high-stakes conflict at the high between the democratic and republican parties and we're gonna have to enact more and more symbolic uh and then not symbolic acts uh to consecrate those realities in the face of what's really going on which is bipartisan rule by the dracula **Music 0:8:17 playing** there's someone's asking for good uh books on gladio there's not a lot of great books about gladio honestly all the good stuff is italian and untranslated there's two ways to go though broadly there's two books that you can go to if you want to go dry and academic and more grounded and also uh a broader than simply italy like more into like it has a nato network a a nato program of a network of cells within places like belgium and uh france and spain and uh even sweden even switzerland even though it was technically part of nato they had a they had a uh a gladio program there uh it's called nato's secret armies i believe it's pdf available on the internet uh and then it'll give you that and it's a little dry but it'll give you the overview if you want to get pulpy though you got to go with arch cast catholic 0:9:19 lunatic paul williams book operation gladio which uh it reads like sort of the skeleton of a james elroy novel just the plot stuff without any of the charac the characters of you know repressed cops uh and there's not and there's stuff in there that is it is much more speculative uh including his uh tale of the possible uh murder of john paul the first at the hands of uh gladio figures uh and also the likely gladio involved involvement in the assassination of attempt against john paul ii it's an undisputed fact of history that the assassin the attempted assassin of john paul ii was a turkish ultra-nationalist gray wolf uh and the gray wolves were one of those gladio created uh paramilitary organizations that sprouted up after world war ii it was directly created 0:10:21 by the the generals uh who were the implementers of gladio in turkey and he also was only able to go to saint peter's square and shoot uh john paul ii because he had been uh arrested in turkey and imprisoned for the murder of a left-wing journalist and then had just escaped prison and by according to all a testimony he's just walking out of it and then he showed up uh in saint peter's square shot john paul ii uh and like i said not a lot of sources but it's all very interesting it's it's the it's the indulgent one and it's also a little the the pros is a little more uh punchy but you know i don't i don't say everything in that book is true you have to look at everything with a critical eye and but a lot of the wildest ***** in that book you look it up and it's 0:11:22 oh yeah the part of the problem is he doesn't have a lot of good sourcing in it uh but if you take the time to like follow down specific leads named around people and names it's very interesting it's like they're like uh a nato general in italy was arrested uh for uh involvement in like the drug trade and did indeed uh epstein himself in prison like that happened like the one big the one main uh witness in the credit on braziano scandal that brought down the vatican bank and exposed the gladio network and p2 uh was just poisoned in prison like there wasn't even an attempt to make it look like a suicide he just drank some coffee that yes had a ***** ton of poison in it and no one ever ***** figured out who did it and they just said yep so if 0:12:23 you want to go down the rabbit hole those are good ways to start those are different entry points but either way you're not going to know and i like to like anytime i get into the nitty-gritty ***** like gladio or any of the assassinations or even kennedy or whatever i always try to remind myself that at the end of the day this is mostly recreational because your ability to get to anything like a comprehensive overview of the ***** evidence of of that can fill in the gaps it's not going to happen and seeking it can kind of drive you crazy but it is fun and you have to experience it i think the best way to do it is fun and the thing is it's also constructive because while you're sifting through the conspiracy uh silt you could get a ton of gold that you can hang on to like what you mainly have to do is just stop is not have to feel like you have to carry around in your head a resolved answer to a lot of the questions surrounding stuff like this then it really doesn't matter if you know in your heart whether one 0:13:24 it's one way or the other because when you get to that point that belief is going to end up being brittle because you're always speculating and then because it's a brittle belief you end up having to defend it in public compulsively because you're just anxious about it all the time because you haven't convinced yourself and that leads you further away from the truth and further towards pointless confrontation to reinforce your ideas instead of just allowing yourself to glide between and just remember what you what the bedrock is you know between what you think you know about the world and what you know is speculative and uh and anytime we find ourselves getting really wound up around questions specifically of like more moral questions and questions of like historical uh veracity you have to be able to recognize when you're sort of floating when you've lost uh connection to bedrock and and and that'll keep you from just keeping yourself on the wrong course you and you can stop 0:14:26 swimming and just kind of float back towards the shore i just used like 17 metaphors there and they were all i'm such a dumbass how's it going in the chat guys i'm oh man someone says just jesse ventura and i'm just reminded again of what we lost by him not running as the green party candidate a synthesis of trump and bernie

the one we need too bad uh people say like why would why would gladio guys want to kill john paul ii it's not like he was a liberation theologian he was a good cold warrior yes but according to williams he refused to bail out the vatican bank with money that they could have done it with they're basically saying that he was uh 0:15:27 too because he was not really aware of the whole program he had sort of come in from the outside you know he was a pull lock he wasn't part of the inner circle of uh uh american and italian uh prelates who were like in p2 even though uh catholics are not supposed to join the freemasons all these guys all these italian guys were on p2 but he was sort of outside of it so he didn't really know what the vatican bank was in terms of this crucial element of the global uh like arms and drug trade that was financing the uh the the right the paramilitary right in italy and maintaining this the balance of powers that prevented the communists from coming to power he wasn't aware of that he was just like no no he shouldn't do that that's corrupt and then that helped lead to an a lot of spillage and a big scandal that led to the collapse of a number of the banks a big a short-term economic crisis in in italy and 0:16:29 then eventually the revealing of the entire uh p2 net organization and gladio itself so you could see why there might have been a motive to perforate that ***** and get somebody who in there who would spread the money around and keep things on the qt but as i said i don't know it's fun to talk about it's fun to speculate about but i don't know yeah godfather three actually talks about all this ***** and in godfather three they show the ***** uh john paul the first getting poisoned and i honestly feel like that one's almost an open and shut case i feel like he was probably as close as i'm gonna get to confident i'm gonna say that john paul the first was ***** gacked that this dude coming in here and taking he wanted to look at the books is the thing and that was not going to happen 33 days in the pontificate but yeah not over any uh any doctrinal issues just purely covering their asses related to 0:17:31 the giant drug money laundering inauguration that they had going that's the thing that i don't think is a question whether or not the assassinations happened is up in the air but whether or not the vatican was laundering drug money for the mafia and the cia i don't think which is kind of nuts when you think about it because that does sound like crazy conspiracy gibberish and it often gets put in with other stuff that is more outlandish but it's basically established fact and it doesn't change anything and that's my real problem with conspiracy theory as a heuristic is that it presupposes that revelation of the secret will somehow change the reality the end result of every security of every conspiracy narrative is a generalized awareness it's supposed to end in a congressional hearing or opening of files or testimony that brings to light a 0:18:32 secret reality that people aren't aware of and that's why q is the perfect accelerated version of this because it imagines an apocalyptic revelation all that you knew all the people you thought were uh were trusted custodians of power or or celebrities are actually demonic creatures bent on your destruction and that's not how it's going to work if we're going to beat any of this ***** it's not because people are going to know how bad everything is the thing about hyper reality is everybody knows as ***** leonard cohen would say everybody knows every other worst thing you could imagine everybody at a base level knows if we found out tomorrow that bush did 9 11 it wouldn't change anything it would have go from a thing that people kind of thought was true to like ah yeah there you go i have figures we have normalized everything because at a bone deep level we know and we just distract ourselves from that reality by carrying out these ritualized political performances that imbue our life with meaning and drama and distract us from that fundamental truth and so no nothing based on like educating people about like what the bad guys did and and who they are is gonna do anything knowledge alone will do nothing only knowledge that is generated from action is anything that can be built upon and that's what comes from people doing things together and finding in the doing of things is the bird drinking the birds drinking chris we were worried the bird wasn't gonna drink that ***** is guzlin very happy to see it i love a good drinking bird don't we all love folks we love it the bird he drinks he's the best he's the best at drinking they say they say he's the best there is i don't know i honestly think it might be me folks i think i drink better i drink really good i use both hands never spill a drop never get a job spilled ever never spill trump seems like he's uh he's not happy right now i think maybe uh the the steroids are wearing off a little bit storming away from the uh the 60 minutes interview not a good sign i think he's gonna be tonight tomorrow night i'm very much looking forward to i think it'll be fun so here's the thing we were thinking about i'm gonna put this to you guys i kind of don't want to stream the debate itself just because watching the first one it really felt like having a hat on a hat to have anyone even commenting because it was like the shape of the thing was what was funny and it was kind of felt wrong to interrupt it and yet we couldn't stop uh i was thinking maybe since this is going to be the last one where they're like together in the same room uh and that means trump's going to be rip snorting and hooton and torton because i really don't think that there's any way that they can uh pacify him at this point uh short of rhino tracks i think it's going to be a absolute cacophony and as such i think it might be better experience just as something you allow to uh wash over you but maybe we could do a post debate react where we just kind of go over some of the highlights does anyone sound does that sound fun to anybody getting getting some agreement it looks like we're getting good approval on that all right let's do that then all right it'll be at least me and chris we'll see if we can get any other buddy anybody else to go on i think everyone else was so destroyed by that last debate and so traumatized that they haven't been able to even think about doing another talk about one and i can pull up clips and stuff afterwards and we can watch the highlights and i had a great time i had such a good time watching that debate eventually after i pushed through but then i had a great time watching the dueling town halls uh honestly that's i hope i wish they it was a vibe as they say all right so we're going to do we're going to do a react that sounds good all right perfect we'll see who else wants to do it remember when matt did joker make up for the bernie debate i remember i remember that that was back during joker vacation which was the last stage before grill vilification kicked in oh god remember when i got super drunk oh i really don't others do poor chris oh man i feel so bad about that that was a real bungle uh can i make a um embarrassing mia culpa for that uh i feel terrible about that whole incident mostly because i was the one who brought the rum i was the one who said you know what let's get let's get real real wild for this and then i was so consumed with running my first ever elaborate stream that uh uh you know i feel like that was a producerial lapse um yeah but i'm still the ***** disgusting glutton who drank an entire bottle of rum without realizing i was the producer saying that it would be good it would make for good tape so i think we can i want to take like 50 of the the uh well i'll take a little load off because it does still bash me a little bit i just assumed others would be drinking from it and i didn't notice that i was the only one pouring from it until i was like halfway done and then it's like the momentum had taken over well i drank the entire thing and that was overproofed yes it was overproof that was over ***** proof took the entire thing to the dome god yeah that was uh i think that was the i'd have not gotten anywhere near that drunk since then i think that was like the low point for me alcohol wise in a while uh yeah so i think i'm doing much better now i'll take this moment in that recollection to say that we are planning on doing some kind of elaborate election night broadcast absolutely and i will not be hammered off of rum we will keep it keep it under uh control and try to put it i might i'm not no promises i might be rolling hell yeah i might be uh i might have some acid in me uh or i might have chinese research chemicals but there will be no uh ***** handle of uh rum to the face i'll just take this moment to try to promise to put on the in because i've been feeling very depressed over the last few days that one of the things covett has taken from us is getting to do a big election night show yeah that would have been so fun ***** coveted the china virus but i will try to put on as big of a best of show as i can from this gonna be here in the office we're gonna finally get to use this whole set which uh chris had made and which is fantastic it's going to be like the dick cavett show when peter falk and john cassavetes and ben gazzaro are there just a rollicking good time as we watch the election not get called that's the funniest part because

there will be no call that night um unless biden wins at a huge landslide uh there will likely not be a call on election night which is uh this is the first time i think in a long time that that has happened with anyone expecting it to be the case i think we all just assume that you'll get a call before uh midnight but i don't think we're getting that this year although you know there's that whole thing about we're at a position now where a biden landslide is more likely than trump winning in any way you know so those polls could be you know because polls can be wrong two ways and if they're under counting biden in some way and i understand not saying that's likely it's like it's possible if you could see a huge landslide and even with the ***** 0:26:44 right and ballots you might have the thing you might have enough electoral votes decided to uh end it then and honestly that would be one of the funniest things in the world if we had a goddamn uh after this like hugely uh dramatic build up about how we're getting ready to reach some sort of civil war type situation like it's and then whoop uh it's over go back to the brunch everybody the uh uh we've switched to a kindly old grandpa instead uh the chicago seven episode will be tomorrow i've watched it it was i gotta say it was entertaining it's his movies i think are better than his tv shows just in terms of uh being entertaining because i mean the shows 0:27:45 are what they are you know brutal sklogs his movies molly's game is fun a few good men is a solid 90s uh programmer uh american president's pretty good and zippy and has some good stuff in it uh um social network is a great movie he's uh charlie's wilson wilson's wore his absolute dog ***** but there are good movies among those movies i just listed there are no good shows among his shows i think it's because he can't allow he can't like he every time he starts making a project he's locking himself in his garage and just farting essentially and it's like the shorter the project the less time he has to just die of fart inhalation which is what happens on his tv shows he just starts huffing nothing but pure methane and i think with a shorter run time and a shorter character arcs he's able to sort of trim the fat and and keep it 0:28:46 entertaining instead of uh sucking on his own donk but i think it's a fun movie it's fine but the lib delib the lib the lib ***** in that movie it is pure uncut liberalism and uh it is yes it is the purest form of the liberalism it is quite liberal of course the real hero of the movie is the prosecutor as uh that's of course perfect for uh for him it's just so perfect so we'll talk about that if i can get a hold of an hbo max login i want to watch that ***** uh west wing hamilton election special that they did that is available now i don't know why they would leave that on hbo max if they really wanted to affect the election isn't that just proof that this is all stroke 0:29:47 off ***** hey we're going to inspire america to vote as long as they've already paid 15 a month for some ***** boutique ***** streaming service for a streaming which means the people who are going to watch it are people who already vote are you

***** kidding me this isn't reaching anybody on the fence about voting or voting democrat it's just a chance for them all to stroke each other off just a giant ***** lemon party of liberal piety wouldn't you make that ***** free wouldn't you put it on youtube nope 30 a month pros if you want to learn how important it is to vote and participate in our electoral system but i would like to watch it i would like to see what it is i thought see i wasn't too excited when it was it debuted because i thought it was just a table read but apparently it's a whole production lin-manuel miranda as we call him in the midwest what's going on what's going on what is the body without organs uh my butt we should do a chapel election simulation like the one that was stimulating the erection of jeffrey tube out everybody plays a different element somebody's the deep state somebody's a deep state somebody's q somebody is uh uh nancy pelosi's blood bag that'd be funny oh god mitch mcconnell's hands hands are only supposed to get that red if blood is pooling in them which is what happens after the heart cease is pumping if once you die like if you lie in bed and your heart stops beating your blood stops circulating in your body and it settles so if you're lying down it settles in your like butt and in your back if you were to like be hung up it would settle in your hands he looks like a corpse on a ***** rope why why why is he alive how are these eldritch creatures kept living did you guys see that picture of ***** prince charles's hands where it looks like he's got a ***** fistful of like uh of beetroot he's got these big yam fingers that are bright red he's got a he's got like the pedophile association signet ring on and you can't even see it around the ***** throbbing they are being kept alive by eldritch rituals it's either eve literal i'm either talking because like there's two ways this could be true right and this is true of all good conspiracy stuff the stuff that tracks there's a shadow like narrative reality and then there is the bear you know uh uh material base that it comes from and in the case of uh of like the unnatural long life of these freakish old ***** it's they are using sorcery right they're doing ritualistic sacrifice of the innocent to power like a satanic machinery of life that fills them unnaturally but the bare material reflection uh reality that that gets turned into by the mind is because these guys just get to swim in an ocean of abstracted surplus value that is torn out of everybody else in the world at the expense of their own health and happiness and ability to thrive and have access to material uh restoration they're able to have access to the the most developed forms of capital uh in every air aspect of technology that includes medicine so look at that fat piece of ***** chris christie this tub of ass this guy who's the loser's loser who he was been eating trump's ***** for four years who got owned by him in the primary and then simperingly kissed his ass and got his mcdonald's in the hope that he'd get in the cabinet got turfed out of the white house by jared kushner because he put his daddy in jail and how dare he put his wonderful dad who was an absolute scumbag and huge criminal and 100 guilty in jail it's not like his dad was one of the central park five and then he goes off into the wilderness grubs around on ***** cable news and tries out to be a ***** sports d sports radio guy and he can't even hack that and then he comes back crawling to trump gets coveted because he has to be a alpha like trump and not wear a mask and now and then that guy who is just a giant bundle of comorbidities a ***** fat turd with asthma he gets the experimental ultra miracle serum that eli lilly has that is not for general consumption the guy who's the ex-governor of ***** uh of new jersey he has no executive power he has no need for what does he do what's the point of chris christie what is he doing he is unnecessary he's going to call into mike and the mad dog and complain about the cowboys he's a ***** waste of space he's lost his political career is over his usefulness to the cabal is finished it's not anything other than an errand boy and he still gets the experimental super serum that allows him to survive a ***** coconut diagnosis that absolutely should have killed him just like the crazy ***** they put into trump including experimental ape semen and ***** irradiated uh tiger blood and a ***** uh steroids that would make sea biscuit's heart explode he gets to survive maybe who knows how long he seems like he's running at a high temperature he could just pop at any minute but he's still going and that is the aldrich ritual that is their access to the the this stuff that we don't get none of us get that why why are we less worthy of the beneficence of our social product of our of our scientific advances that the fat puck piece of ***** and i know people might say that i'm being ableist or or lucas about fat people first of all i am not a thin man myself secondly i use that just to say that christy as a man who has no socioeconomic uh uh determiners that might make him a larger a man who has access to all of the benef the the highest beneficence of being in a high earner in america meaning access to good food exercise regimes the ability to stay uh healthy and and given and the fact that he has driven enough to acquire uh material uh power and wealth and influence and position to this and be focused enough to be a ***** guy and he's still a piece of ***** eminent eating piece of ***** it's just it's proof that he is like many of our ruling class just a disgusting uh a selfish scumbag and that none of them have any virtues to speak of and that their lack of virtue manifests itself in different ways and in this specific form of chris christie it's in his the fact that he's a ***** big fat piece of ***** but anyway apologies for uh fatism it just drives me crazy that more than anything anyone would feel the need to crack out the ***** crack out like the case of uh you know the the eight the 1796 uh rothschild you know like the 200 000 bottle of wine for chris christie he has nothing to give anyone and yet he still gets it because he's in the ***** club he gets the miracle cure because he's been initiated into the cult of malik and so he gets so yeah they are ritually sucking the life of the rest of us and using it to unnaturally extend their own lives mitch mcconnell would be dead if he was a pharmacist donald trump would be dead if he was a guy who worked at a grocery store yes chris christie was too big to fail 0:39:2 indeed what's going on what's going on what's going on hey what's going on what's going on hey what happened with the moon has the announcement happening yet i believe the announcement is coming monday oh how are you going to tease me that long well that's how they get that's how they get you to tune into nasa these days you have to that's great that's true they've really learned they're leaning into the game show host model and hey it worked for the president at least for so for so long it has we'll see yeah but the moo they're gonna drop moon too it would be so funny if they're like uh we're blowing up the moon remember that mr show sketch we're just 0:40:3 gonna do that america can and must and will blow up the moon and we're gonna do it during a full moon to make sure we get it all hey mr monkey don't be asking why cause you don't mess around with american pride c.s lewis jr man that's a good show mr show mr show yes formative program for me really uh yeah help create my uh my outlook in many ways but yeah what else could it be they're gonna put a base on it that would be cool they found life there i i've said this before but my most nationalist take is that it uh it sucks that we can't put that we have lost the ability the domestic ability to put americans into space yeah if we're gonna count out there we should invest we should like take it seriously don't don't ***** around like try to 0:41:4 privatize it anything worth doing is worth doing with the full gusto and weight of a coordinated federal response and i think that should include moonshit and and space ***** because there's a lot to learn there and there's a lot of stuff that could help us domestically and it does but it should be part of a broader you know effort that is not this bare bones monstrosity that we see before us yeah and also i think it works on the um symbolic level to like show people that the state is still someone wants to grill a thanksgiving turkey good lord how could you possibly do that very carefully grill on the moon yes before the end of the decade american who's the grill on the moon not because i am very hard i am the president i am the horny president my 0:42:8 name is john f kennedy you know what he actually wasn't that much hornier than a lot of those guys though although he was in the top quartile i will say that but lbj also wildly horny big time horny he once said about jfk quote i've had more women on uh warren g harding uh impregnated a woman in the senate cloak room oh i've been seeing earlier in the stream there were a lot of calls that uh you should put an offer on quibby matt uh yes let's no apparently they're not no one's yeah no one's buying it so i think we might be able to get it for pennies on the dollar i think that all six of us should forego one month's uh uh salary yeah put an offer in i wonder 0:43:9 what would we do with it will we keep uh just slowly increase the number of bits and decrease the number of shows until you're just putting out one really good show on quivi oh okay i get what you're saying oh okay like all the different shows start off as separate shows but then you slowly realize that they're all part of one big show and eventually all the dividing lines between the shows go away and then it's just one long program and then it never ends yes and it becomes a show that like keeps it's oh ***** this is we just made it charlie kaufman needs to come in on this i mean people charlie kaufman's quibby is what we just discovered i love that ***** people love tracking out extended universes realizing that one character in one show is like the audit of another character in another show yeah no that's it so that shows that's charlie kaufman presents quibby yeah we got to get him his creative director charlie quaffman with a q that's what looking at my cards here uh folks i was talking before 0:44:10 the stream that the um the the desert storm trading cards have been a great source of uh fun and riffing on the stream but you know there's only so much juice that desert storm has if you can anybody suggest another thing that would be just you know something we could pull randomly of that would like a desert storm trading card to uh to know uh uh inspire tangents garbage pail kids i'm sure you would be uh disgusted by the horrible garbage pill kids matt pathetic no i actually had a big old i had a large garbage pail kid collection in my home when i was a child and then one day my sister my skunk of his younger sister went in and took them all off took all the stickers off the backing oh i was furious but i really enjoyed them i enjoyed the the garbage pail children they were disgusting and hideous but i i thought they 0:45:11 were cute i liked them a lot uh they were awesome and and epic i think uh you know and a lot of them were very gross like they want they got really serious like some of those are some of the art in those things you've got real like grotesque ***** like ***** and viscera and blood and guts but i remember they did a reissue of them a few years ago and i bought a pack out of nostalgia and they were like updated and there were references to like gangnam style and ***** uh like variable movies and i was like oh ***** this get out of here terrible so somebody suggested um q anon trading cards which i didn't know if it was real or not and i had to look up and uh there are apparently q and on trading cards in the style of something else we've talked about this uh magic the gathering and i think if i could get my hands on one of these i would love to bring them in that sounds awesome the ones they have displayed is uh flynn uh who is a creature type former us army general dash patriot 0:46:13 they also have a um hogwash former parkland student dash traitor david hogg he's of course in the swamp ***** hog i think we should get our hands on some of this we need those i need to must cop as the kids say i'll see if i can i'll try i can track some down uh there's one here that i enjoyed out of this pack it's uh personnel navy u.s navy seals having their roots in world war ii sea air land seal teams are trained in unconventional warfare they perform reconnaissance underwater demolition and special operations in coastal areas yeah like afghanistan highly mobile and lightly armed they rely on stealth concealment and surprise to accomplish most operations this elite forces members are highly educated and physically fit i just wanted to show this because the actual picture is a couple of beefcakes with no shirts on on the beach it's like it's not a dude in an outfit with his you know his scuba suit and a mp5 or something it's just some hunks playing doing the they do i gotta say they look pretty 0:47:16 hunky but none of them are looking at the camera because you have to maintain opsec which i respect matt did you see the uh that video from the egyptian army that was going around the other oh hell yeah the parade of beefcakes oh man i'm trying to find that real quick cece's egypt is on on one man they're really having a good time over there god there's got to be something freeing about just having naked military rule like not even pretending to put a patina of politics on it like oh yeah the army just runs everything that just feels like kind of soothing and then what do you get out of it you get parades of beefcake you get sweet beefcake parades hunks let's look at some of that beefcakes it's raining man hallelujah is raided men yeah yeah 0:48:19 it's raining man hallelujah is raining man yeah yeah look at those boys look at those beefy boys does it have a soundtrack uh let's see absolutely so get wet they are ripped these guys are ripped i i gotta say if i was if i was the uh the false government of libya uh standing in the way of the glorious general haftar chat so thoughts on bolivia i 0:49:28 thought we covered bolivia twice this week yeah bolivia i think we got our words out there oblivion uh we it's all as usual it's we'll see that's how it all boils down but it's certainly a better it's i think better than the alternative in every respect for now so that's good uh i want a shout out this was way back when matt was talking about the uh the pope about how the assassination of the pope was obliquely referenced in the new pope uh new pope young pope great series highly recommend both of those i got matt to watch the young pope which he didn't really care for but new pope you were pretty into yeah i couldn't really vibe with the austere hair shirt uh jude law pope i was on much more on the same wavelength with the uh erotic sensuous 0:50:29 indulgence pope uh john paul iii played by john malkovich i was like okay this guy wants to seduce people into catholicism i'm vibing on that rather than uh ***** jude law trying to get you all to just revert to the your childhood stage by spanking you absolutely so get wet thoughts on aoc and illinois twitch stream i don't know if i have any uh i'm just i'm did any of them have have heated gamer moments it seems to me like twitch a lot of people on twitch a lot of young people better to have them seeing that than to see ***** pewdiepie doing uh like uh playing uh you know a ***** holocaust simulator i mean i guess that's better than the alternative but it just it 0:51:31 seemed like it it launched it was the game that launched a thousand soy faces i'll say right here okay see like it looks like a fashion magazine and you're like oh is this the latest fashion uh wrong no it's not because some of the letters are scratched out it's been hacked it's been ad busted i gotta say though guys ad busting makes if we got an hour we're we're almost at an hour i'm waiting to see if there's anything let's wrap it up shortly any more uh uh questions any more good ones ad busters but for balls you've been culture jammed i'm afraid you have been culture jammed here's a thing called the mental liberation front and it's got this thing i didn't sign up for total surveillance [Laughter] this is so this is some detournment is this this shit's detorment as ***** uh let's maybe uh because we're talking about the debate a little in our plans for let's do a uh maybe just a quick debate preview somebody asked do you think trump will go all out at biden tomorrow since it's his last major appearance like what is that what is the end game uh i got to assume that they've they're keeping him going on steroids so he's going to be zort zooted and he's going to be the blood's going to be pumping um he's going to be on that wanted ***** you know and like james mcavoy gets the super high he's like the things start vision blurs he's gonna be on that ***** and he's gonna see bert biden and he's gonna be like i gotta ***** just stiff this old man and apparently there's going to be a mute button is that what i heard yes it's going to be hugely affected and what's going to be very interesting to see is how trump reacts to that because that's a first that has never happened to him before and i and i don't know how he accommodates that if he's going to be able to stop himself from just charging into the red cape of the uh of the bullfighter well we shall see we shall see didn't they didn't aren't that did they also agree the last minute to make it just a foreign policy debate he demanded that i don't know if they agreed all right because that that felt like a bit of a punt for him he doesn't really want to talk about cohen i'll say that and he does want to talk about ukraine specifically hunter and his crooked beat dealings sorry guys everyone likes hunter and everybody likes uh what's his name but joe everyone likes joe biden too he's just he's the opposite of hillary clinton it's like this really does show we act like these things have some sort of logic to them like even if trump is an incoherent and and uh and frankly pathological uh political uh phenomenon it's understandable uh is a rejection of clintonian uh obama-esque dlc centrism which holds no hope for anybody but now it's four years later and the same ***** centrism is being brought back out but because it's a genial old man instead of that harpy who frankly a lot of people didn't like some for good reasons some for genuinely sexist reasons it's okay now in fact it's great and we love it the there's the political system is so many ***** levels of mystification and baffling that we could we really must try to restrain our desire to pull pan too much meaning out of who wins these ***** elections because people are voting off of the most obscure and mind-bending uh of rationales that collectively i don't think add up to any kind of like desire on the part of a collective as much as sort of a collective expression of its sanity well it's also that you know 0:59:43 as you were just saying it's it's you can much easier say that hillary lost 2016 than trump won it 100 i think that you will be able to say the same about this if it if it goes towards biden that it isn't as much that trump lost it that biden won the election 100 we'll see if that pans out who who knows how the these totals and and splits are going to go maybe there is a huge surge in democratic turnout and he's you know but even that is something to argue that it's all just polarization against trump that peop people are showing up in huge droves not to vote for joe biden but to vote against donald trump there's no way that biden can be the source for any of this one way or the other even if you see a massive title wave of an election it will not be because of biden which is the way they want it they want it to be about trump because that means anything they do is by definition good because it's not trump doing it and hey if you think it's not good enough do you want trump to do it because he's there he's waiting in the wings him and his followers if not him the 1:0:44 next version there'll always be someone there to discipline you away from criticizing or falling away from the democratic project yeah and the worse it gets the more you can be chastised indeed it touches but it you know i mean i don't want to draw this out too long we should sign up soon but it is just interesting to see how that dynamic plays out of like being like trying to position ourselves as like it's not going to be good but we the democrats are this bulwark against some kind of incipient fascism that will roll over us like a tide from an unleashed dam if you don't vote for us coupled with what you're already seeing and you this this has been uptick just even in the last two weeks so much of the attitude of man i can't wait to go back to not paying attention to you yeah thinking about it even though all the things all the bad things are only getting worse and on a fast accelerated timetable and the need for people to be activated against them in some way and by being activated find a way are instead going to retreat even further into fantasy in fact just another realm 1:1:46 of fantasy where they get to disconnect from their imagined connection to politics whatsoever because oh my god that whole time they were freaking out about trump they could have logged off they could have stopped caring they didn't because they enjoyed it because they got it got their ***** rocks off and defending biden against the blood tie that he's about to unleash is not going to get the rocks off so they'll just care about something else which is exactly why i've signed off from from the time being for listening to pod save america but i can't wait to start listening again if after a biden victory because i can't wait to see how they're trying to engage their crowd of people who have they've been corralling this entire time being like we absolutely like you have to stay engaged we absolutely must work is forever you are you are a soldier in the army of democracies and that's also their success is b as being that i can't the one thing that i have i think that might come the only positive i see coming out of this is that i think and i hope that that phenomenon will be less prevalent 1:2:47 on the actual left and that the actual left is now will be in fact engaged to like to compel now to engage this new reality of this democratic this feckless democratic hunger chancellorship and that will power them against an opponent that will be demobilized that's the uh that's the hope yeah i mean i don't want it is it gonna happen i don't know but it could it's a lot it's realistic it's not it's not pie in the sky it's just it comes down to a lot of other factors but i could definitely see the failure the immediate failure of the biden campaign to do anything other than whatever your worst nightmares of it were going to be not driving people to move forward because even if they're doing it libidinally they're their libidin libido has already been jazzed by the fight and by the defeat they're already like committed to it so it's like it's just a further you know stab to the groin whereas for the liberal when you've made it your architecture that like democratic uh uh rule is by definition uh you know uh 1:3:50 uh peace and justice and an ideal state the closest thing to a panglossian best of all possible worlds then how can you keep caring yeah so i think that's hope yeah it's not a lot it's a thin read but the only reads we have are pretty thin at this point i'll leave you guys with this i just took this off of my jacket uh these just came in the mail today they're demo mock-ups for some new chapeau uh pins lapel or you know little pins you can put on your shirts or backpacks or something and these will be on sale soon and they look really sick and they're nice and uh uh heavy good metal and everything um so yeah looking forward to that uh anyway uh should we sign off matt yeah let's do it all right i'm going to throw in a song but i am the man who will fight for your honor i'll be the hero that you're dreaming of let me forever make me eat leather and do awesome sandwich fighting with you what the ***** happened did i get cut off again does this sometimes ***** oh wait a minute there it is like a nice shining armor from a long time ago oh no i thought i had the mute on didn't now i do muted is on are you ready for some debates thursday night 0:1:1 party we got frank and l and steve it's gonna be a big party i am so excited about this debate honestly specifically how trump is going to respond to being coveted ruined and gacked up and also clearly in a death spiral where he is at some level aware of his position even though he denies it which means he might be completely buck wild in this thing and apparently they're going to try to actually mute him very interested to see how that actually plays out and if there's any willingness or or on the part of the moderators to really try to rein him in but maybe they put him on the rhino tracks to preserve the senate they're like oh god we can't let him go out here like this they just ***** take him down and he like gets to half speed and he's doing like 0:2:2 chopped and screwed trump which is at least you know they could point to and say see he's not quite as erratic and manic and wild and seemingly uh on the verge of tears as he has been in every recent public appearance we'll see i mean after that 60 minutes interview i mean my god the gan the man is just a whiny ***** it's kind of but of course it doesn't matter it's all just a fun fun uh spectacle i think that race was i'm pogging folks i'm pogging and don't we love to pog that we love pogging but anyway because i think it might be fun and because honestly i didn't feel like our contribution to the first debate really made it any funnier or more interesting because of just how how language broke down and it was just this symphony and 0:3:3 it was like we were talking during a symphony uh i'm going to we're not going to be doing a chapo podcast related stream of the debate i believe alex lowe auction will be uh doing it for fym on here and uh if you want to have like a chill you know friend to watch with alex will be very good but i really just want to enjoy it i just want to sit now that i haven't had my breakthrough moment with the last debate i want to sit with this one and just let it wash over me like forget any attempt to

to interrogate you know the sentences or words for meaning break them down break them of context turn them into just music and then just let it wave over me which is what i kind of felt like i did during the town hall when they were competing streams i was listening to both of them and i was kind of toggling back and forth and creating my own pixie song so that's gonna be fun but then when it's over i think i and chris 0:4:5
and i don't know who else whoever wants to will pop on i don't think we're gonna get we never got that son's debate never made up for the lost debate by giving us the sons he does seem to sound bad lately i mean maybe that's people's wishful thinking but it does seem like covet has taken a little bit out of his sails he seems to be kind of delirious when he i'm not sure all who will be in the post-debate stream i know i will 0:5:23 be and i think chris also i hope chris since he runs the yeah the one way you know that trump is either either thrown in the towel or just has lost his touch is that their big their big psychological move at the last debate which in 2016 was in the face of the planet uh the uh entertainment tonight tapes coming out and the grabbing by the ***** controversy in the teeth of that mere days later he went out there and put all of a he put a chorus line of bill clinton's most prominent uh sexual assault uh accusers in a row i mean absolute master class this time it's uh some guy named tony baloney some guy that is the equivalent of when the democrats would like epically 0:6:25 talk about oh my god you know who left parnis knew that's right if you're thinking it's flirtage it's flirtash okay and that's the kind of stuff that nobody outside their screen their area knew and they would scream across the void during the whole the ***** impeachment ***** which lol can you imagine think of all the ***** energy these people put into that even the people like the people who did it and the people who watched and cheered about it and cared about it and got wrapped about it think of that energy do they not in their heart know that it was completely wasted that it meant nothing that it was just jacking off into an ocean they don't get that at some point i think some of them do which is why they have to keep shrieking and creating more and more like insane hypothetical universes where their brand of uh of pragmatic idealism is so this would be like if if this would honestly be like if 0:7:26 say biden was say covet hadn't happened right uh um and the economy like maybe it's maybe we're seeing it start to cool off a little bit which is what the there were fundamentals that seemed to indicate that we were headed towards recession even before covet so but maybe it's like it's not a huge drop and then it's you know that is honestly even if it started then that might be too early to really affect the election like the reason george w h bush lost in 1992 is largely because the little recession that happened at this end of his second term was in the exact right moment to just ripple out and and be maximally impacting people's uh minds uh the news and uh and their votes which wouldn't necessarily have happened depending on how severe

it was but anyway say we live in that world and in the election nothing's about covet and it's all about you know uh probably about trump being corrupt and probably 0:8:27 more russiagate stuff and let's and and impeachment stuff and maybe and and like trump is up by five going into election day at the national level and the democrats are going insane because how do people not get it and their big coup de gras would be to bring out like uh stephen parsnip or one of the people that no one outside of the rachel bubble ma rachel maddow bubble knows and put them in the front row to remind people about the ukraine crimes or something that would be as out of touch and ridiculous as him bringing hunter thompson hunter thompson hunter biden's uh what crime buddy no one gives a ***** and it just goes to show that you know you live by the sword die by the sword in terms of uh like that trump in 2016 ran a campaign that was effective in part because trump knew what the people wanted because it was what he wanted having watched the white having watched obama 0:9:28 be president for eight years and having been personally infuriated by obama and by democrats and liberalism in general as a result of his revulsion of obama he is able to articulate with perfect clarity the concerns of you know this this dispossessed lump in bourgeois we have in this country and they and they were he was able to affix to hillary clinton uh all of the the horrors of the last 40 years not just social liberalism but economic and neoliberalism she was the avatar of all of it and he was able to paint her in that way and and her personal corruption was able to be put about her her husband's sexual license was able to neutralize any attacks on trump's personal virtue this time he's not he spent the last four years not outside of the presidency he has literally been dictating the news that he's been watching while everyone else is watching him and trying to identify with him and what that means is that he is now no longer able to pitch himself to a broad spectrum of you know relatively 0:10:29 uncommitted less than partisanly uh identified voters which has a lot of people in which a lot of like the dedicated partisans who make up the consumers of most political media have a hard time imagining but it's true and those are the people who make the decisions every ***** four years between one person winning in the other and also who decides to come out and vote who wouldn't have otherwise and none of that is getting none of them care about glorp simpson and flicht doodleberg just like they didn't care about the the stuff with uh with trump and the russians it's the exact same sort of epistemic uh black hole it's the same uh bubble which goes to show that like there really is no difference between these people like even even trump once he got into hollywood i mean sorry once he got into the white house just turned into another disconnected holly uh uh hollywood hollywood slash washington sicko he even as he fought against what he saw as a hostile culture he 0:11:32 he subconsciously absorbed all of their priors including that people care about stuff

like who hunter thompson's hunter thompson hunter biden's uh uh co-criminal is as though as though like the hillary clinton thing had anything to do with the content of the case like the emails themselves it was that represented about hillary clinton and he could do that because he was challenging an incumbent and now he is he's the incumbent and it just he never learned how to realize he was in power because he's just been watching the presidency for i'm very interested to see what the turnout ends up being because you're seeing crazy numbers in early turnout in states like texas and georgia now of course that doesn't necessarily mean anything we have no idea how many of these people are banking or how many of these are banked votes 0:12:33 that would otherwise have come on election day we have no way of knowing but when you see how big it is compared to the number of votes that like were the in the last election it's hard not to imagine that you know even if it's just an effect that because fewer people vote on election day it's easier to vote on election day and more people who might be on the fence about voting will do it because it's less of a hassle like even if that's the amount of effect it has it could be a significant in terms of moving something from you know a a a clear elector uh uh popular vote victory but then you know the the the nightmare of litigation and all the swing states uh and a relatively anticlimactic biden victory who knows it's interesting i keep saying hunter thompson i think it's because there's uh he seems like the kind of guy who has read hunter thompson and taken some of and i would say that the numbers of people 0:13:36 voting is the thing that's more at this point interesting and dispositive than um the polls because obviously you can say the polls are wrong because they were wrong last time you know i mean i do think that that biden has a bigger more durable lead than hillary did at the same point i'm pretty sure that's true uh but even if you say they're still ***** up and the methodology's still wrong and even if you assume it's in the same direction uh i think just the trend of the polling plus the reality of holly's early voting i mean if there it's just if there's a hot there's two models here there's a high turnout model and a low turnout model trump could win a low turnout model in fact a low turnout model probably favors a trump victory over a biden one but trump basically cannot win a high high turnout election because we know from the last 20 years what the gop percentage of the trump did not have any kind of big 0:14:38 surge of support over previous republicans what he did is he had support in some different areas that were crucial for the uh electoral map because they because of our ***** electoral college but overall it was basically the same percentage the thing is that because of the electoral college and because of voter suppression and and uh and you know the explicit policy of the demo republican party wherever it's in power to to make it more difficult to vote as a as a party policy as a as a matter of like platform uh uh importance and that they've been successful at that means that they can win but if there's a lot of people who vote if even with those things people still vote for some reason or another they're motivated to that would swap it like hillary lost because the share of vote that went away from her in terms of people not voting in the right states and a few of them shifting from obama to trump but mostly just not bothering to show up in the crucial states those people likely are not going to come out to vote for trump because those are not really politicized people which means i don't think they're looking at the ***** coronavirus and saying well you know it's all china's fault and uh fake news because they don't if they accepted his premise they would already be on board you know what i mean now there is a theory that says the q anon style ***** and like the dissolving nature of reality and the way that we have totally just like stepped through the looking glass in terms of living within a spectacle that maybe all of our understanding of like incentive structure and voting has been annihilated by our collective break a nervous breakdown in the face of this overwhelming sea of information that cannot be traversed with any kind of certainty that we basically have to drive ourselves insane and create fantastic uh uh like rituals to charge sacred objects with power in order to describe meaning out of the darkness and chaos of online and the world around us and so that means that why people are going to vote for who they do is almost uh quantitatively improbable to predict in which case anything could ***** happen and i am not ruling that out as i have said i'm not going to be surprised by somebody else was papio daniel a precursor to trump i mean he's part of a tradition you can trace trump through a line of american political figures and papi or daniel would certainly be one of them uh papio daniel is of course the name of the uh governor in mrs in a mississippi governor in oh brothertow and he is the guy who has a old-timey radio station that plays ads for his flower that's the real guy papio daniel but he was not governor of mississippi uh it was texas uh and the the thing that i think is and he was a guy who who was a had started off as a like door-to-door flower salesman and then become a flower wholesaler and then sponsored a tv show or a radio station a a radio show a radio program of old-timey of uh folk music and the papio daniel flower hour and he became famous enough in texas that he ran i believe for governor and then for senator and uh he defeated lyndon johnson in lyndon johnson's first run for senate in 1940 uh was in 1942 or 1940. uh i think it's 1940. um and in that race he lost because both o'daniel and johnson had certain rotten burrows like uh counties in texas where the local uh justice of the peace essentially controlled the votes and could determine how many votes uh the respective candidates got and then just delivered them to the highest bidder basically and they both had these these guys these votes collected and over the night as the votes came in the legitimate votes and the illegitimate votes they would let them out sort of as needed and there was always a a staring contest

about who would like release their votes last because once you once the enemy had had released their last crooked votes you knew then how many you needed and that meant you could go over the top and that's what happened is that johnson released his last counties prematurely because he felt like he had a big enough uh margin 0:19:48 that he could just let him all out there to like flood it but that gave papio daniel's people the number that they had to beat and so they just scrawled it up and posted it and boom they won and so that's the environment that texas politics was like when he ran in 46 when he finally did win the landslide uh the election where he got that nickname for a just absolutely crooked completely stolen uh senatorial primary campaign that's a wild story it's very uh that volume of the cairo he's got there's one uh one of the early carol volumes about lbj is just about that means of ascent basically uh and it's fascinating he's a little too easy on coke stevenson who was an awful just reactionary political figure and would have just been worse in in office than uh johnson but it's a fascinating like minute by minute telling of it and the 0:20:52 funny thing is is what ended up determining the vote after this crooked election that had this hugely disputed outcome and like the ***** the texas ranger who killed bonnie and clyde had to have a showdown over the contents of a bank vault in in duval county which is the crooked county that uh that johnson had was part of the johnson fiefdom and it ended up being officiated by the net the democratic party because it was a democratic party primary and the democratic party at the end of the day was full of new dealers who wanted to see the new deal wit succeed and coke stevenson was anti-new deal so they picked johnson and the funny thing is that's the right decision that's the correct decision if you're there that's the correct decision and if you don't understand that it's because you believe these institutions serve any reason that other than the pursuit of power and that respecting them is going to save you from capital deciding to change the rules and the thing is you can't 0:22:3 even say oh no you know you're you're defaming the sanctity of the electoral process stevenson stole votes too everyone was stealing votes it was not and there was voter suppression was was systematized i mean you know texas wasn't as bad as you know the deep south and in texas uh a lot of the times what you had instead of outright voter uh uh repression is that you had like urban machines like in houston uh uh like black vote was like a block that could be purchased which in terms of you know actual uh you know franchise isn't much better than not being able to vote because you know the reason you're up you're being bought well like what's buying you is just pure money in the form of like connections through the uh political machine uh not actual benefits to anybody uh who's me who are making the votes not like the old you know tammany draft or at least not as not as a beneficently because you know you can never really vote against the racial apartheid that you but anyway 0:23:4

that's an interesting story and that's uh yeah it definitely showed uh what johnson was capable of holy ***** i mean he was like so there's so many points in his life story where it's he absolutely should not have gone on not just that he grew up super poor i mean that's the thing that fired him and it was the engine of his his ambition so he that was necessary that's origin stories yet but throughout his life like his uh he took a bunch of insane risks and like like that that senate seat was insanely a huge long shot to begin with because coke stevenson was ***** beloved he'd been a former like three-term governor everybody loved him in fact and it was like a cincinnati thing where he had gone back to his ranch and they basically had 0:24:6 to coax him out of retirement to come save the democratic party in uh texas and he was and and johnson was like some uh you know relatively young fresh relatively inexperienced congressman uh in a giant state like texas who had almost none of the name recognition and he had he like used all this money to do insanely innovative stuff he had a helicopter he campaigned under with going around uh texas at a ***** helicopter bought a ton of uh like uh radio ads and like you know just to get his name out there and then had also to just steal a ton of ballots just make a bunch of fake votes to get to be able to even compete for it and like that was while he was having some sort of horrible like gallbladder problem like he almost died every big point of of real stress in johnson's life and like when he felt like it was slipping away he would go into some sort of like bad uh serious health decline sometimes related to like gall 0:25:9 stones or stomach problems he had a ton of heart attacks like in in moments of real stress he would essentially almost die but then he would will himself back to life and end to victory the craziest one for me is that i mean unless it's unless you think he was in on the kennedy assassination uh in which case it makes perfect sense but if you buy any version of the kennedy assassination that does not involve johnson being aware of it for him it was just blind luck he was on the verge of having a career-ending expose of his corrupt dealings as the majority leader when he'd been in the senate it was going to come out in i think life magazine the day of or after the kennedy assassin kennedy was assassinated and was going to reveal his relationship to this guy bobby baker who is who is like the head of the uh like the interns in the senate uh and was running just a a massive graft and kickback operation that involved him getting kicking back up to johnson and he had they had him dead to rights and then 0:26:10 after kennedy was assassinated they i haven't read jfk and the unspeakable i will be because to me this book seems to be the thing that's got like the most important like rallying point for this new emerging i've talked about consensus where like kennedy actually was killed by the deep state the deep state does operate that way and he was that much of a threat to it after being fallow for a while so i know this is a text i got to engage with but uh uh i'm it's on it's on the list i'll read i have read the devil's 0:27:11

chess board uh which is a fascinating book and it's great on dulles but i think it's really interesting that for a book that's like pitch is is that it's trying to argue that dulles was personally responsible for the kennedy assassination is that as the book gets closer to the kennedy assassination the figure of dulles recedes from the ***** story more and more and it becomes much more conjectural which i mean if i'm putting up suspects uh for deep involvement in the kennedy assassination like alan dulles is up there with like lee rv oswald but i'm not sure i'm not convinced is all i am not convinced by any theories of the kennedy assassination i would say that i have read legacy of ashes which is very much you look at it especially now of the stuff that i didn't know when i read league of ashes that i've discovered about the cia sense that 0:28:12 isn't in league of l legacy of ashes it's a jaw-dropping feat of a mission i mean it's it's like the definition of a limited hangout all the stuff in that's like outrageous in legacy of asses is all selectively uh threaded around the premise of greater uh organizational incompetence that makes the case that the cia is essentially only able to waste money and shoot itself in the foot and has never been able to effectively do anything which i think is is not an accurate representation of reality at all and it's a perfect way to like get into the public consciousness real crimes but but always in that notion of well that's that's was the better oh uh the carroll book that's about the ooh if i went 0:29:24 on doughboys what chain restaurant would i pick that's an interesting question i'm going to assume that i'm i'm probably not going to be able to do anything for the first time like they've probably been everywhere at least once so i would have to be bringing them back somewhere the easy answer would just be culver's because that's wisconsin's contribution to you know regional chain excellence i think but honestly i think i could probably have a more uh fruitful conversation a more man i really want 0:30:26 one of those euros i don't think there's an arby's in new york though somebody asked if uh if if they think that gibbon is right because christianity ended the roman empire and it wasn't gays well it wasn't gays obviously but i'm not sure it was christianity either i'm pretty sure it was something more firmly i mean a lot of me i don't know 0:31:28 that much honestly about the fall of rome i think that that uh like climate and uh and uh like agricultural yields have had something to do with it i mean it uh you had that contribution of you know uh of an agricultural of like intensifying and then you have you know just the unwieldiness of uh of an empire of the type that the roman empire's tried to be uh it was like it's it's fitting that a lot of the uh reforms of the like late period involved delegating responsibility away from a single emperor nothing like that can have one cause or even like a handful of causes it's like a rope 0:32:41 it's like a you know you could pick out the strands but yeah anyone who says it's any one thing is wrong and certainly gayness is the worst one i remember francis i think i saw francis schaefer saying that made like the opposite of the gibbon point but totally incoherently where he said uh like the guy in later hosted who did those 70s evangelical history and culture videos i think i was propagandized with those in my like uh high school history class when i was going to school in the middle of farm country in wisconsin but he talked about how the the what doomed those societies was a finite world view is how he put it i remember at the time just thinking what do you mean i mean my main issue with that is that the roman empire fell apart as it became christian it wouldn't wouldn't that have like prevented the collapse the emergence of a christian you know uh ideology suffusing the empire baffling so yeah no if anyone's talking about single answers then it's they're just trying to get a rise out of people the question is how the those strands are entwined you know like that's it's all just like documenting connections and figuring out how mechanisms work as opposed to uh you know trying to sell a single patent explanation which is comes out of the sort of entrepreneurial nature of like academia sadly like novelty is rewarded you know so there's always a need to create schools of thought that require certain shibboleths and that lead you farther away from i don't know it's tough i mean i'm wrestling myself with how best to try to create narrative history that acknowledges you know the contingency of of chronolog chronological events while still grounding everything all those events in sort of the inevitable context that made them you know if not inevitable sort of predetermined in some way it's tough but it's worth doing because i think it's the only way to communicate really just like how contingency works in history and therefore like what what what matters now and what needs to yeah we need a diocletian that's for sure and i don't think we got one jesse ventura could have been diocletian jesse diocletian who's the most cucked president i mean not in terms of uh i wouldn't say in terms of politics or like sexuality but just in terms of a guy who got owned sort of pathetically william howard taft has got to be up there so taft never really wanted to be president he wanted to be a supreme court justice and he is essentially badgered into running for president by teddy roosevelt and his wife who really wanted to be first lady and to please both of them he ran for president one almost immediately his wife was very much looking forward to being first lady uh and living in the white house had a ***** debilitating stroke and he just the wind went out of his sails and he just sort of went through the motions and then while he's being president the guy who helped like drag him into it is yelling at him and saying he's not good enough doing enough job and then challenges him for president and then runs against him and gets more votes and gets more electoral votes and becomes the last time one of the two major parties finished out of one or two in the electoral vote count and the popular vote count for that matter that's cucked but he uncut himself by later finally getting the job that he dreamed of when they made him supreme court justice which is a nice little maybe he got owned so bad that they had to give him a consolation prize and lucky for him it's what he wanted there's some sort of parable there that maybe he just should have you know no no there's sound to be any acids this evening no no no who poops himself during the debate very good question i got to think that with the covid trump will trump have his mojo tonight this is the question all signs point to no all signs point to his mojo having to pardon him he seems low energy his instincts are all off he's talking about stuff nobody cares about if he goes up there and talks about hunter bonnie then for an hour but you know the universe has a way of preventing the the shattering of of consensus reality in one motion like that we like to just wear away at the edges of reality and not rend and asunder because i don't know that's i'm just trying to explain how in my gut i have a feeling that it'll be kind of lower energy he will be less uh disruptive he won't look like terrible ***** and it'll kind of come off as a trump win by being uh like low like less of a circus and that's just like that's where my stomach is it's like doesn't that feel right like having it be a real like trump just wheezing like baron harkonnen and like fleming up and yelling at the ***** about tony polonie in the front row and spewing like gallagher all over the place i just can't see it happening or biden stroking out as funny as that would be don't see that happening either just some i don't know maybe i've just uh i've run out of things to believe in maybe i feel like i've gotten to the point of hyper normalization where even if that did happen i wouldn't perceive it that way i would perceive it like viscerally as oh just boring because i will have hyper normalized that quickly we'll find out though i'm looking someone asked enver hoja cringe or based i would say that enver i mean the bunkers are ***** cringe i will not be streaming the debate alex will be streaming the debate i'm going to be watching at home and trying to let it wash over me trying not to feel like i have to have a response to anything that's i think what really trips me up is i find myself feeling like i need to have a grab point to say something instead and that's going to make it harder for me to just wash over me so my hope is to just just a we will do a post game though at least i chris might actually looks like chris might be on the debate as well with alex so there you go i might pop on who knows we'll see how it goes somebody asks uh if i feel like chapel in general is more disenchanting with the system than it was in 2016 and i would say absolutely in the sense that we have had after 2016 i think all of us had a feeling in that aftermath of that race and in the aftermath of trump winning that there was a possibility to take the surprise bounty of the sanders candidacy which arrayed all these forces that were opposed to the clintons for whatever reason good and bad to rally iran and that that could be the baseboard like a counter uh hegemonic like self-consciously class-oriented uh uh political bloc within the democratic party that could seize control of its commanding heights and

like reorient the party from there uh and whether or not that is theoretically possible as a strategy i think some people would say ah peru i see prove you were wrong i don't know if that's escaped i just know that the illusion that we have had been dissed from is the illusion that american politics in this year and the american electorate in this term and their relationship to voting and their relationship to the media and the relationship to the economy and the electorate the the cultural like relationship of the classes to like the means of production and the means of cultural expression and the means and willingness to participate in electoral processes they're all askew and they do not add up to a force that can't be harnessed to that end at least not now i mean you could say that the campaign made mistakes and i agree completely people have been very upfront about a lot of tactical and strategic errors that the campaign made bad hires for bad hires to bad strategy to a bunch of stuff but when i look at the results to me it seems like there was an unmovable block conviction among somewhere around 55 to 60 percent of the broad democratic primary electorate if you like think of that as a stable grouping and the only way it was going to overcome that was by energizing and engaging non-voters non-participators in the democratic primary system and that failed to happen and you can talk about why but i think fundamentally it's because there are there are missing belts cultural conveyor belts between the political the the symbolic and meaning orientation around politics and enough of the people you'd need to reach to switch to swing the demographics of these so yes i'd say like but the thing is is that that's constructive because it tells you where you are you know it tells you what you what won't work and it tells you what not to do again and the thing is is that the democratic party now that they have now that now that the command of the neoliberal you know consensus has been has been is no longer challenged within it they're going to govern as as monsters it's going to be a a hunger chancellorship and that like any crisis is also an opportunity or it needs to be that's all i can say i don't know if we'll be able to meet it i don't know if we have the institutional flexibility or or capacity to meet the moment uh i'm skeptical but at the same time there's nothing else to do so if enough people have that conviction then you know that's all you actually need but hitting that number is is so hard because you never know what it is until afterwards you'll never know what all right mad or cracked you know this is funny uh i know crack became kind of a a cringy uh radical centrist like lifestyle website but back in the 90s and 80s it was a knock off of mad magazine that i think was made by like former writers and editors for mad who left because mad wasn't paying them enough because william gainses was a ***** cheapskate and so they created an off-brand mad which that's the one that i could subscribe to i did not subscribe to mad magazine i subscribed to crack and i honestly can't tell you why i guess one time i just picked up cracked and i like

i read a thing i maybe i saw some john severin art because john severin was a guy who wrote for years who who he wrote he did uh cartoons or he did comics for years for mad and then he left with the crack people to get more money and so he was in cracked and i really liked his drawing style and otherwise it was basically the same material and i just i went to cracked i still respected mad magazine but i only had crack delivered to my home cracked had a print version yes it was a print magazine it was originally an arrival for mad it was like mad tv too mad apparently people didn't know this the children around here don't know this yeah sean baby was very funny sean baby early internet for the old heads in the chat the the guys who invented a certain strain of web comedy and of course that's why you can't really go back and read it without cringing because everyone talks like that now it's you know it's like how joss whedon for a while it was kind of funny and then it became monstrous but it was good at the time fat chicks and party hats is one of the funniest things i ever saw i just thoughts on charles babbage how are you going to ask a ***** about charles babbage you want to know my opinion on the the guy who ***** sketched out the difference engine the pr a primitive computer what opinion of tarot's babbage am i going to have i don't understand you just wanted like see if i knew who he was you people you're a very wacky answer somebody asked if chapo is based or cringe and i would say again we are i read somebody asked about neil stephenson i've only read snow crash and uh his way of writing action kind of annoyed me over time so i never someone wants my opinion on the pythagorean theorem i really don't have one i'm not even 100 sure what it is a squared a squared plus b squared equals c am i voting yes absolutely i vote every time i can i've only missed a few times it's fun i like it and i think there is something like in me like at a civil like at a civic level like i think as someone who thinks ritual is important to reinforce behavior so you know obviously voting has way way way way too much psychic significance for people but it should have a little bit and so it should contribute a little bit so i i do vote but like the thing is that's a totally separate question then who to vote for and it is a different rubric and like a lot of the undergirding assumptions behind a lot of these browbeating arguments don't apply in my opinion but like i said i think i'm going to be writing in hillary cause write-in i'm going to go into the polls because that's part of the things i liked i i when i lived briefly in washington state where they do they all mail in and i didn't really like that i like going to the thing and doing the thing i'm really annoyed that i've never uh voted on a machine an old timey machine they used to print the sample ballot in my local newspaper in manitowoc wisconsin it was a mo it was a it was a sketch of the machine and it had the different candidates and where they'd be and i remember thinking it was cool and i wanted to go and do that but i was too young and then by the time i was able to vote i lived in a different area where they did scantron bubbles bubble uh sheets and then i moved 0:54:0 to new york but right right before or right after they got rid of the old machine so i've never been able to go on a machine which is a bummer but i still like filling in the little bubbles and i like going all right just maybe a couple questions here before i go thank you talking about those euros got me hungry there goes my hero horror 0:55:29 movie suggestions i said return of the living dead the other day so i gotta pick a different one uh on the zombie tip it's actually available on you you can just watch it on youtube peter jackson's dead alive also known as brain dead that's one of the bloodiest films ever made delightful slap splatter core slapstick not very fun not what 0:56:54 movie spawned what war spawn the best movies all right well we can eliminate a few right off the bat revolutionary war what the patriot war of 1812 i believe there's a movie about the battle of new orleans with charlton heston as andrew jackson but that's basically it maybe there's some terrible movie about the writing of the ***** star spangled banner or something civil war considering how big a part of america's like historic memory it is it's kind of stunning how few really great civil war movies are i think glory is a really good movie i think it's a great movie i'm sorry i know no no white savior is yes i understand there's a lot of issues with what stories get told in hollywood but the way that that story was told i thought was good um but man it's in it's not it's a thin rank past that i mean what are we talking birth of a 0:57:55 nation uh which you know you could say is bad politics but it's a good movie at the time i honestly do not get i can't watch a silent film and like appreciate it i can't do that i don't have the film historian thing of going like wow i can put myself in the head of somebody who is impressed you know by seeing the train go by on on a screen i'm sorry i'm not that person i'm not that rube i cannot be impressed by this but whatever uh gone with the win same deal uh ***** what else gettysburg which is pretty much dog ***** and then gods and generals which is swear to god one of the worst films ever ***** made uh it's it's stunningly there's like a john houston red badge carriage of the 50s i think it's crazy how few uh civil war movies there are especially considering how many crazy good stories there are you could do about the civil war uh but so that's not on the table for sure uh world war one where you got sergeant york and of course uh all quiet on the western front wings paths of glory 0:58:56 that's pretty good so we're getting a little better there uh than world war ii of course you know there's a lot of bad world war ii movies obviously but because of just how many world war ii movies there are there are also a lot of good ones there's a lot of good world war two movies you know uh ***** kelly's heroes uh sans of iojima uh the longest day the big red one uh ***** uh oh ***** flavor saving private ryan sorry it's a good movie uh a thin red line uh midway not pearl harbor that's a bad movie um the ***** harp even uh that uh what heartbreak ridge or whatever the

***** hacksaw ridge i mean that movie it was a little sappy but it had some awesome action scenes awesome oh some war scenes uh tora toratora yeah guns of navarone 0:59:59 uh ***** von ryan express that's a fun movie we're ***** uh where frank sinatra and a bunch of uh allied pows hijack a a cross of iron holy ***** bridge of the river kwai inglorious bastards come and see okay i think we got it because vietnam's good too but i don't think i'm getting anywhere near this list patent bridge too far the dirty dozen is the good the great escape holy ***** god i mean it was it was like that was the big good thing we did as a civilization even though it was it involved us basically just lancing a boil that our own civilization had created in the form of feral german national and japanese nationalism unleashed by uh like the late application of capitalist uh modes of production to a primitive civilization catch-22 is not bad 1:1:0 oh man memphis bell i saw that movie a million times as a kid love it uh casablanca people like i've never so yeah i gotta go world war two ww2 wwii not enemy at the gates that's not a i would like to see some more spanish civil war movies although smash of war does not have a lot of uh not a lot of pageantry honestly a lot of uh 1:2:1 confusion and bungling and and cannibalism i want to see that uh that bread and freedom movie i've never duck you sucker is a very good movie about the mexican revolution which could use way more movies the mexican revolution come on give me kelly's heroes we love it folks kelly kelly and his heroes they're the best we love uh oh hmm perhaps i don't know i forgot about that until you did it oh ***** well you gotta stop doing that damn yeah ***** well whatever oh we'll cut that out before we after we do this that didn't happen apparently twitch has been descended upon by rhea which to me that's that's your uh missing the force for the trees if ever i've heard it like where what what are you doing where what is the the even theoretical point where you're gonna squeeze some more money out of this by doing that like oh darn it i can't listen to somebody on uh what playing zelda listening to uh to the the chain smokers now i don't have to buy that i could just watch that and it replaces that experience for me it's ridiculous but folks what are you gonna do you or 0:1:1 more accurately you can't fight uh mickey mouse who is the avatar for the copyright regime that stands bloodily over our destroyed uh did you tweet about this matt i didn't yet thank you for reminding me you should put it up i will right now i often forget welcome to the early morning when i do it when i do it myself it has a thing that uh prompts me to show it so i often do it that way so i've forgotten i'm having a bit of okay there we go i so congratulations to uh uh andre cunanan o'brien for uh joining the supreme court uh with the other worthies with the other wise men and women who will decide this nation's future i think it's going to be you know what i think it's all going to turn out great uh let me just write this out rgb plus a cb 0:2:4 equals that's right folks what the ***** what's gonna happen now uh there's a lot of ways that people are hashtag coping with the reality of this new unbreachable 6-3 dem republican essentially super majority on the supreme court uh there's basically no way that they'll ever that the right will ever lose a case again because uh every every avenue of uh of swing voter has been cut off like roberts is certainly a wild card when it comes to things that he thinks are crucial to maintaining the sense of like institutional legitimacy that he thinks the court needs to maintain uh and kavanaugh is kind of a wild card on uh like criminal justice stuff uh you don't have to 0:3:7 worry about anybody throwing off any kind of curveballs because you'll always have at least five to do the dirty so that's cool and of course everyone is very angry about the democrats just letting it happen and of course the wise smart people will tell you

there was nothing they really could have done and i think that is technically true there is no because the senate rules can be changed by a vote of 51 at any time and there is zero zero chance that mitch mcconnell would have hesitated to do it do that which means that all they really could have done is maybe delayed it until after the election and then hope maybe that changes the calculus maybe because it is pretty close hypothetically but honestly i don't even know if they could have done that uh but the one thing we know is that they wouldn't find out uh they didn't try to do it and that's the real question that people are asking why didn't they even try like even 0:4:10 if they knew it would fail why wouldn't you try to show the seriousness of it because the supreme court has been the thing that democrats have pointed to as a reason to get people to vote for uh democrats and the presidential level for my entire adult life every every answer to the reality of the democrats you know total neoliberal character and and constant drift drifting to the right on all major economic issues is met with yes but the supreme court and now it happened the the red line got breached rbg died uh girl bossing and they replaced her with a younger uh morphekund and uh uh psychotically catholic one rgb so congratulations all around uh but the question has to be if this is the right big red line and they crossed it without an effort being 0:5:11 put up without them even trying then how could it have been that big of a deal and how can you expect the democrats to put up a bigger fight to anything in the future this is what the real baffling thing is and i think the answer to why they wouldn't even put up a fight is they don't want to show how fundamentally powerless they are because they need to maintain this fiction for a majority of their voters that they are crucial that they exist as a crucial stop gap for the worst uh rapine of america's reactionary uh government and and base but uh also they have to fail at every specific juncture that they would count as a red line important one uh without any kind of effort like they they can't uh how are they they don't know how to reconcile that 0:6:13 fact but and so what they do instead is not establish what it would be to fight at all leave every fight to the next fight so that you never have to show your cards basically you never have to actually say oh like this is how much power we actually have because you either see how much they've been holding back or you see that they can't actually stop anything and if they can't stop anything you don't need them and that's the real nightmare scenario if the extent of their full incapacity is ever expressed publicly they lose all reason for being so they essentially have to at every point back off from a final confrontation and convince their voters that it isn't really the final confrontation that there's something else well hey what was the point geez this is a bummer get vote vote go vote even though biden has said i he has no plans to do anything significant to change the court's composition which guarantees 0:7:14 that any major legislation that did come out of the biden administration would end up being shot down including any attempt to remedy like the wild amount of voter suppression uh and uh and misallocation of representation in this government where you have these this ***** permanent minority that is able to exercise veto power over all social and economic uh issues uh we're gonna vote vote vote vote you know even though we now have said that this is gonna be the way things are that nothing we do will ever actually go through you still have to vote because that's the next thing that's the next fight and then at every point every fight is on the terms of the democrats meaning they determine how much effort to put in in terms of engaging republican reaction uh so that they can always exist in this quantum state of of being 0:8:17 the only thing stopping you from the horror happening and the horror also occurring right in front of you how they just phase shift away from the point of crisis because this is supposed to be it how many people on the liberal left said if they even try to fill that seat before the election we will burn this ***** down i mean it wasn't just reza ocelon it was a bunch of people and at that moment when it happened they probably would have agreed with that but then after those hearings after feinstein after the democrats doing nothing except say some ***** about keeping arrows in their quiver it's just like cutting your veins in a warm bath it's like well it couldn't it can't this i guess isn't the thing to burn things down about i mean obviously it all springs from the fact that they're not serious about doing anything ever so democrats never have to worry about a response they never have to worry that they're gonna get kicked out or punished for failing to do the thing because not doing the thing just 0:9:18 it keeps these liberals in the state they want to be which is always activated about politics and aggravated and worried about it but at a bone deep level not willing to do anything except virtue signal publicly and vote because anything to do otherwise would be to engage in a politics that could undermine their social position which they do not want to have happen so they have this relationship with the democratic party where they're kept in this frothing state of of crisis and the democrats have to be reinforced over and over again to the public as the only thing standing between us and oblivion and then allow the thing that we fill our minds with as the worst case to occur and then do nothing thereby meaning it's not the worst thing meaning there's a new fight the next day that we're going to keep having and we're going to keep withdrawing it's uh it's an amazing mechanism and i have to say you know 0:10:21 if you ask me what i think's going to happen realistically nothing i think there will be no court packing there will be no court impeachments there's not gonna be anything they're not gonna even do term limits they're gonna do what joe biden has promised to do which is to form a commission and that commission can exist as a idea an option that could hypothetically change things that we have like studied and found to be worthwhile but the making of it is the action not the implementing of

it implementing it is uh is another moment where the the what's possible kicks in because forming a commission is never going to really get any kind of real uh veto from the the republicans they love a good commission i mean they don't do them when they're in power you ever notice that they don't do bipartisan commissions 0:11:22 they just do things only democrats do commissions because it gives the illusion of action without the actual action which means it doesn't engage uh conflict with the republicans that would require them to actually pursue like political uh change that can you know allow them to ***** compete for power realistically as opposed to play the washington generals for the next hundred years which is what they're on path to do uh so yeah it's uh it's a real bummer but you know i think the good news is just this mechanism is so deeply broken i think that uh that these questions are going to become obsolete as i've said in one or two ways like either the political has been totally foreclosed in which case you can at least kind of relax you know you can stop worrying about politics because politics aren't real anymore uh in any 0:12:23 sense it's it's it's just been foreclosed as an option uh or the terrain changes so fast and so dramatically that ***** like the composition of the supreme court uh is no longer an impediment to anything because the social uh investment of authority in those institutions has been compromised so thoroughly that they can't be enforced anymore that's going to be it and not saying that will happen or even likely to happen but it's uh not off the table uh and that's what i i hold in my heart when i think about how just from like the chessboard perspective the american political system is so d it really does feel like it's a ***** 747 where the pilots have been killed and somebody has just chained the uh tiller to one side there's such dive bombing into the ground they're just it seems like the the the the uh the existence of the constitution overlaid on uh like a late capital crisis of uh of uh profit uh and a fully 0:13:25 polarized ideologically sorted uh two-party political system has essentially means it's like pouring uh sugar into concrete it it just it destroys it it destroys any chance of that political uh mechanism working even at the level of just ameliorating the most dire crisis in a culture you know which is subsidiary of course class rule is about maintaining profits and all that but what maintains profits is a viable social base for generating uh surplus and at that at that basic job that bourgeois democracy is supposed to do better than anything that came before it and has a good track record in some cases is essentially zero there's no capacity there's no state capacity at all because the political structure is so deeply broken which means that whatever is 0:14:27 going to kick-start this process is going to come from without if it and is going to uh attack it orthogonally but once again i don't know i don't know i mean last time this happened in the 30s it was a work it was a labor movement it was workers striking and rioting and sitting down in i don't know if the conditions obtained for something like that to happen again but there are certainly enough people working in enough dire circumstances close enough to crucial nodes of production and distribution in this country that if they were organized they could ***** bring this goddamn thing to a goddamn halt it is possible it's just we're very far but the uh i don't know the the way that this political system has been just denuded of all authority beyond just the naked words of it the way that no one really believes that any power is legitimate anymore that there is a public i mean i know that scares people and makes them think there's going to be a civil war but i think it's also a necessary precondition for people to rearrange their understanding of politics like for people who think that it's all voting and it's all elections being disenchanting from that and for people who also think it's all voting in all elections and that voting in elections are stupid no it's actually something that you can contribute to and can make change in inshallah of course we hope but like take for example the prospect of joe biden presiding over this upcoming continuing uh coveted crisis and concomitant economic collapse like we're really going to see depression level economic activity in the next quarter or so and they're going to come into office going to leave the filibuster going to do nothing about the supreme court are going to uh get on to the process of passing you know excruciating compromise ***** in the obama care mold piece by piece just like like passing kidney stones uh until the failure to do anything about the underlying economic crisis and probably not doing much about covent honestly because come on what's on the table at this point the genie is completely out of the ***** bottle nobody knows how to put it back together that you get another uh repeat of 2010 and there's a republican reaction that means that well now there's not even a possibility of operating within the system as such because even the possibility of we'll see though because that seems so bad and it seems like it's so likely to happen that you wonder if maybe self-preservation will kick in for some of these democratic leaders maybe they will and maybe just ambition maybe just the fact that they want to stay elected maybe that'll do it but that requires people to be pissed and that requires people to be pressuring these ***** and that requires people to be not at brunch as they say and for everybody pissed at liberals to talk about brunch it's good they should be a brunch they're ***** hindering everything they're a huge impediment but the people who who are going to be really pissed and still pissed and not mollified by biden's presidency uh are the ones you want out there in the first place but how are we not going to become further and further estranged from any expectation of redress from government when our decrepitude and our disaster and our catastrophe are presided over by a guy who is going to preside like lloyd benson in hot shots part two chris can we all get the video that was of today aye aye captain jamie can you pull this up i'm getting to rogan it out right now jamie uh yeah can you pull this up here

we go this is uh biden being uh asked a question and look at this fellows we got we 0:18:34 got kush with a earphone so we can both listen to the clip at the same time here's uh today i ***** up i ***** up here we go get back to back to one thing **Music playing** he's still going in the background okay so he says he says here's the deal the one thing you have to remember is keep in mind that reporting that they're going 0:19:36 to vote on barra today because he says it again right you got to remember it's really important he goes you got to remember it's really important to remember that she's getting uh confirmed and it's important to remember that just a circle a doughnut hole there's no content to that it's just fillers and they're confirming this guy's going to be president and i know they're going to try to hide him as much as possible but that's going to be hard you know what i mean he's gonna have to give big speeches he's gonna have to give an inaugural address in january in dc you know william henry 0:20:37 and how is it i mean he's like obama's just his charisma and his persona and what he meant culturally and and and racially and socially just blinded everyone to what was happening but we're going to have just the skeleton like because barack obama is like barack obama is the terminator and when his exoskeleton gets shredded away it's joe biden like that's the the exoskeleton of the politician you know that obama is under the flesh the surrounded with human tissue that that metal carapace is biden so all of that mystification is going to be gone which is good not necessarily helpful but i think better than the alternative so you know another thing we can look forward to at least it'll be funny even if nothing else imagine i'm really glad that now i get 0:21:42 to call things up like rogan jamie ah oh yes like a baby cyclo on a diet of straight kabango oh dang i realize i forgot to set up you with your monitor for the chat today matt you want me to hook you up with that real quick what i forgot to set you up with your monitor for this yeah you didn't it's all right you can see anything and pull it up real quick did you uh did anyone uh i i don't i don't think so i was a monitor in the chat oh was that a talk about borat that's all i'm seeing very nice uh uh the answer to that is battlefield earth that's what's a little quote from i saw borat too and i think borat 2 is a perfect example exhibit a in any case you wanted 0:22:44 to make that donald trump killed american comedy i'm not saying that borat is bad or terrible there's some good stuff in it uh but you know it's not as funny not just because there's less novelty although that is part of it it was not going to be as good it would have been a miracle for it to be as good as borat because it just wasn't as fresh you know uh and i mean how the hell do you even fight people who don't know who borat is in america at this point but so there's good stuff in it he was good in it the daughter was very good uh but all the stuff about trump and politics just felt so stale and uh and aaron it's like making fun of russia ***** and then like how trump's a horny cheeto and then going and seeing the awful supporters the q people

and the conservatives and tricking them into being racist it's like i'm sorry but in the intervening 14 years since the first borat those people who he made fun of got self-aware trump showed up he told them that it's okay to have fun with this stuff 0:23:45 they're they're winking they're they wouldn't they it doesn't matter if they even don't know they're being filmed in their head they're owning the libs so what are you even proving they're in on it man they are laughing with you and then the fact that it ends with literally saying vote are you ***** kidding me vote hey america is a wasteland of uh savage bigots and vapid narcissists uh and people who are willing to just dehumanize each other and and oth and foreigners at the drop of a hat in pursuit of uh of mere looker and and uh it uh it just feels a little it it felt a little felt 0:24:46 a little lib to me and in a very it's like a like a genuine uh like bone-deep way like it was a project of liberal cultural analysis it is an attempt to make sense of the trump years through the ve the lens of like a a liberal of a cultural liberalism so but i gotta say i was uh i kind of felt like giuliani might have been set up a little bit when i saw it in the movie i thought maybe he was tucking something in but like but it's still an absurd amount of intimacy for someone he just met uh it's clearly someone who 0:25:47 is used to being led into a room by beautiful women and then just sort of taken care of be it you know flight attendants or hostesses or you know paid escorting partners cousins uh i want to say one other thing about about bite and trump i realized after i saw this amazing picture from a rally it was a woman in a a shirt that said my son died of corona and i am still voting trump which reminded me of course of charles taylor's slogan when he ran for president of liberia after being a warlord during the 0:26:49 civil war he killed my mom he killed my paw but i will vote for him uh and the funny thing about that is not just like yeah he can kill my kids ***** that it's that it it it uh it admits that a central premise of trump's defense of himself over covet is not true he has said that he did as well as he could and that none of the corona deaths are his fault because it was china and democrats that made it bad and that he made it as good as possible that shirt essentially says no trump is responsible for all the corona deaths he he chose to slay my sons but that is his prerogative because he is my abrahamic god like christians at this point they worship america which means they worship an avatar of america which is both themselves and some external alienated version of that which has become for many many people trump 0:27:51 he is their god but he is not a christian god in the sense that he is not ecumenical he's not universal he is tribal because they see themselves as under threat that's a fundamental thing that defines them as a sense of persecution which is what will give them licenses within themselves to persecute in turn all the violence that they will sign off on culture police and military borders and everything is premised on the idea that they are in fact under threat and persecution and that anything that they do uh in protection of themselves is uh vindicated and warranted uh it's it's a pure projection of what they want to do onto others like when clay higgins to defend a regime of concentration camps on the border went to auschwitz and talked about the jews being rounded up and so that was going to happen to suburban louisiana white people that he represented by ms-13 gonna show up with cattle cars outside of a ***** uh lake puncher train that's what you have to think in order to justify doing the concentration camp ***** like they have to uh feel persecuted uh and that's why they love trump so much because trump you know is nothing but this ball of persecution he's constantly being oh my god everyone is against him which um and so trump is their avatar of america he is their avatar of persecution and suffering he is their christ but he is here with a sword he is here to to destroy the unbelievers and the infidels and the faithless uh and and and that is all the people who are outside of the communion of magga outside of the tribe of maga now that's the appeal of trump to the people who really like it i think the reason he's going to lose at the end of the day like i'm ready to say it i'm ready to say ***** all everyone worrying about everything and yeah we'll talk about the supreme court's decision about ***** kavanagh holy ***** uh but i'd say right now it's gonna be too big to steal and the reason is because that pitch of trump as being the abrahamic god of thunder and apocalypse no more water the fire next time cleanser of the earth get on the ark or drown uh there are enough people outside of that who still might vote for trump and maybe did last time who are going to see that and contrast it with biden's pitch well biden is pitching himself as the new testament god of jesus incarnated here to to embrace all in forgiveness and suffer on their behalf because trump because he's always talking about how democrats republicans are good people too they're good americans too uh every all americans need to come together like just like obama did yeah and he was similarly christ-like and and and uh biden's personal sacrifices and tragedies in his life and his obvious pain that he's in now those are all are signs of the suffering that he's enduring on behalf of bringing a wounded nation together to one communion of of common humanity who are all saved essentially by enduring the suffering of covid and austerity together and even though by the end of that but his term i think everyone's going to realize that he was a false messiah i think right now there are more americans who are going to be turned on by that pitch than by the idea that it is uh in fact time for the the flood to come and wash away the unbelievers because i think a lot of them might feel like they're unbelievers at heart too like those crucial swing voters that we talk about and ex and suburban republicans who are maybe college educated and who find the cultural demands of being a republican to be gauche and who don't want to find themselves on the outside of the tent when it's time and i think that as a new testament nation we will we'll

embrace uh uh jesus biden as our savior for a minute until it's until the the threat of uh the final judgment of our abrahamic god i'm looking at the chat hero what's uh apparently you can vote at the barclays center did you see that you hear about that chris i walked by the park late today people were waiting to vote did you know that uh i assume it has to be your precinct to vote there no no i don't think so i think the 0:33:1 early voting locations are concentrated and that like they just there's a i think you get a directory and they send you or something i don't know but it's all in one big place i think they're also doing it in manhattan like madison square garden anyway i think i might go vote there because i haven't been to the barclays center inside i'll maybe want to see what it looks like oh it's nice inside yeah i haven't gone to anything yet uh and you know why not and waiting in line is fun not if it's too long they'll ***** that but if it's not too long i'll probably do it and now probably as i've said uh write in hillary cause i still think that's the funniest that could change um i was just trying to find that clip of trump at one of his recent rallies being like no one likes me anymore why am i even here oh god that's so good i wish i want to get in that truck i want to drive away i want to drive away i want to go away oh i was so 0:34:2 happy i was so happy am i over life and now i'm here why'd i do it why why i never asked to be bored uh it's hilarious he's emo af right now uh he's in his feelings as they say and it's pretty funny uh although when he said i used to have a great life i was so happy he's lying that's why he ran for president he was miserable everything he has ever drawn has been ashes in his mouth as soon as it has been there as soon as it touched his tongue he is a miserable and hedonic toad who has gone from one uh uh just destructive hateful isolating uh attempt at uh like conquest and power and sadistic pleasure and had every one of them immediately just become used to and commonplace and i mean the man has been strapped to the hedonic treadmill his entire life he is uh miserable and he ran for president not just despite barack obama 0:35:3 because it was a different thing and he didn't even think he was going to win and then when that became a possibility hey maybe i'm going to be president i'm going to be on the news all the i'm going to be the only thing on tv because that's all the only way i can like soothe myself for even a second like the way that the ***** return of the living dead zombies have to eat brains to keep away the death the pain of their rotting he has to continue to see himself on television and he's like great i'll be on tv all the time but what's this oh no there are parts of the media that don't like me and say bad things about me and i have to watch that too and that immediately destroyed it and it has been misery ever since the first bad review the first the first thing the thing about the goddamn size of the ***** uh inaugural that doomed him he he was never gonna have a second of fun as president after that and he hasn't except of course for when he put the uh the medal on the dog when he was in the big uh truck and of course the handsome quarterback hamburger party but those 0:36:4 were it and that's why that's why he is coming to terms with losing because he's talking himself into how at least it'll be something different which means it might be better and then of course he'll be ex-president and it won't be better it'll be terrible many many french fries i was thinking he kind of looks happy when he's doing the the trick-or-treat appearances i think yeah oh god when he put the ***** candy on the head of the blow up minion for some reason like what did he think that i still don't know what he was in his head i think he was trying to be funny or something like hey get this i'm gonna put this on your head i'm gonna put it over here all right i found this clip let's play it real quick by the way nice trucks you think i could hop into one of them and drive it away i'd love to just drive the hell out of here just get the hell out of this i had such a good life my life was great and then i said let's 0:37:7 do this darling this will be a lot of fun i'm so happy with it because nobody has ever done so much in the first three and a half years no administration trump trump rallies have kind of the patter of watching stand up in a foreign language yeah where it's like no matter what he says the audience responds when the laugh line is so he's like he's up there being like i hate being here i hate being here i want to drive away and the audience like when he gets the end of the sprays just claps and laughs like train seals i mean he insulted the city of erie pennsylvania the other day to their face he says the thing that would have actually killed the campaign in that state anyway the thing they would have talked about years later is the legendary gaff ah the eerie kerfuffle he goes he goes i'll tell you right now if it hadn't been for covent i wouldn't be here i'll tell you that right now i sure wouldn't be here that's for sure like you guys are beneath me but of course as i've said the trump fan is a worshiper 0:38:8 of hierarchy because they believe themselves to be elevated but in any hierarchy has to have someone above you realistically and so like some avatar as i've said and that guy who combines christ and like george washington into one figure is uh donald john trump and then like his that's why they see him as so authentic even though he lies all the time because he is saying what they are they say he he's what does he do for her presidency he doesn't actually do anything even though he's responsible for everything because he's the abrahamic god he has no direct control over anything he's watching us it's like the way god watched uh watch the people of israel like lose their way and to get pissed you know and decide to smite some ***** that that was it just watching and getting madder and madder at our failure to live up to him but that he's watching on tv which is what they're doing watching television which means that there's no way they'll ever not like him no matter what happens in 0:39:10 the world because they don't attribute that to him they attribute it to us failing to live i was just thinking about uh ed muskie and how his presidential campaign was basically the canuck letter thank you that's a great pickup that's a great reference i was thinking of ed musky the ***** canuck letter when he ran in 1972 one of dirt nixon's dirty tricks teams the guys that the ones that included dudes like roger stone sent a a fake letter to i think a newspaper claiming that they had overheard muskie refer to french canadians as canucks and there are a lot of french canadian abstracted families in maine so uh it's like a sizable minority in fact uh in the 20s when the clan was all over the united states there was klan in maine but there were basically no black people or other minorities so they went after french canadians uh the french canadian the most oppressed person of north america yeah so and it became a huge scandal and he had to go and deny having said it but people were mad at him and it ended up helping contribute to his campaign uh being torpedoed because the other thing was that they released some oppo about his wife yes yes yes that was the best that was the end of this right yep he had the canuck letter and then there was the accusation about his wife uh being drunk i think or something like that she was alcoholic or that she had cursed or something i don't know and he went and he gave a speech and he famously some people say it was just snow hitting his cheek but people said he cried and that was the end of him bye bye bye-bye you're a loser i had a tear hit his eye defending his wife's honor out of the campaign trump goes to erie and says you're all you all suck yeah awful pigs why am i here paul lepage is a native french speaker that's hilarious that's perfect that he's that much of a freaking canuck he's that much of a frog that he's one of those like deep deep woods acadians coming out to be like hey i'm going to be goldar i know that's i know that's louisiana but same origin i know the canuck isn't for uh french canadians but that's what he called the kai that or in the he was accused of calling him matt can i read you some highlights of a jacob wall yes let's get some teeth spilled so this is a i you know i was thinking of putting this for the show yeah that we were thinking about doing yesterday before we moved on to doing belly garage right after this we'll record it we're laying that down so that's uh but this is something somebody passed to me of jacob wall and jack burtman their their first hearing in their federal trial about robocall their robocall scheme um which it was basically like a voter suppression version of homer simpson and the happy dude yes auto dialer uh so they're just like mail your vote to 631 evergreen terrace 7 30. three things from this i found really funny blundering right wing activist jack bergman and jacob wall appeared before the u.s district court in the southern district of new york monday morning over a newly filed lawsuit on behalf of the national coalition on black civic participation here's the thing that made me really laugh the suit alleges the two violated the ku klux klan act by sending out over 85 000 robocalls to discourage black communities from voting fellas you do not want to get accused of violating no that's you don't want that odd stapled on your resume oh it says here a clan act violator huh yeah well we'll keep you in mind mr wall uh the other funny thing is that uh they ended up representing themselves notably friday afternoon always a smart thing to do the old saying is the man who represents himself has a genius for a client uh notably on 0:43:15 friday afternoon wall texted the daily dot and informed this reporter uh he would be represented by new york city-based lawyer that lawyer david schwartz did not respond to multiple qual requests for comment from the daily adult dot in court that morning which the daily dot was present for the duo further claimed that schwartz would represent them but at the hearing no council was present okay so i got to say something now i have talked about how much i respect jacob wall as an artist and how in all i am of his commitment to the bit whatever it is but i've always said that there is one possibility in the jacob wall you know mysterium one thing that might explain him and it is that he is just insanely stupid but he is just deeply dumb and i've always discounted that just because of how perfectly he seems to hit these notes it just seems like a hundred thousand monkey tiptuation like yes you know one of the monkeys might write shakespeare but what's the odd that the monkey i'm looking at is the one who wrote it you know uh and so i just always said that doesn't seem i know occam's razor but it just seems too pretty too neat but the 0:44:16 fact that he did this ***** that is it looks like going to land him in perhaps federal prison uh that's not i don't think anyone's that committed to a pit i think he might actually just be a complete ***** even though god like why would he not get mad at me when i'm screaming in his face with laughter tears are running down my eyes and then i see him at the cadillac ranch two hours later and tell him how much fun i had and he's just like ***** the terminator just like glad you enjoyed it his eyes dead eyes like a doll's eyes maybe he just is that dumb amazing uh the judge asked whether berkman had in his possession a list of all who were contacted by the robocall to which berkman stated i do not in my i do not comma in my possession berkman then admitted to giving the third party california company which sent out the robocalls of green light here's the other funny thing bergman's associate jacob wall then chimed in claiming that the robocall contents were conducted with publicly available registration information and that the robocalls were never never stated to 0:45:18 quote stay home so he never stayed to stay home navarro the prosecutor completed the hearing dave navarro yeah dave navarro the prosecutor instructed everyone to live moss completed the hearing by shutting down's wool objection she read the transcript back to the court where the last line of the call is quote don't beat don't be finessed into giving your private information to the man see the other thing is that means berkman's as dumb as wool and i wonder the odds there are two guys that dumb who are like able to function and you know clothe themselves of a vastly different of like different generations like how do these two even find each other yeah bergman's like 55 or something and jacob wallace what still 20 yeah they remind me of like the the little gangster mice and looney tunes where one was like that's very yeah and one was like big i wonder if this is going to impact his only fans output 0:46:19 well jail is a great place to get even smaller **Music playing** uh i do not believe navarro played on under the bridge matt i'm sorry damn it he was only briefly in the chili pepper right yeah only after they had to let fruciani grow for the first time they brought in navarro for an album or two was that due to heroin yes uh was george washington chad yes george washington was a chat george washington was insanely chad he was huge for the time he was over he's six feet tall six feet tall which meant a lot back then uh he was always described as a physical specimen strapping powerful rebuilt uh physically intimidating uh he athletic very much so a writer and sportsman 0:47:20 accomplished a military man of course but he was always in kind of ill health he was like jack kennedy in that way jack kennedy was always the picture of virility in you know mid-century manhood but the dude was just wracked with ***** injuries he had the back injury uh he had the ***** what was that uh the graves disease or the addison's disease uh and his uh uh and just was whacked out on uh painkillers all the time oh yeah but anyway uh he had terrible teeth that's true uh very bad teeth very and he was kind of miserable but he's the he's the most he was the quiet founding father he was not an intellectual unlike all the rest of them he was the stem guy uh washington was the stem lord because he was all about practical application he was all about buying land and making it cultiva cultivatable and all that ***** uh and then doing military stuff it was all about applying knowledge so he was like the stem lord everybody else is a ***** humanities nerd he was a stem lord uh and 0:48:23 uh incredibly repressed just like throbbing with suppressed emotion because he had this like weird he was he was a guy who had come from like the middle the whatever like kind of vestige of british english aristocracy was left in america he kind of came from like the middle gentry part of it and he was very acutely aware of like not being fully uh being sort of semi-rusticated compared to like the higher uh levels of uh even american but certainly especially english society and he chafed under the under uh the belief that you know that the colonials were seen as lesser in some ways than uh in terms of refinement and you know breeding than english people than english people and it made him kind of miserable this is always just like a throbbing but i think from outside he was uh he or he might have been sterile he's never had a child 0:49:25 no kids but i would say that he was six foot twenty ***** killing for fun made of radiation uh i was just chuckling at somebody who just commented and simply his ***** fell off yeah his ***** fell off and he uh he got bled to death by his quack doctors not the last president to be killed by incompetent medical intervention uh i saw another one that asks uh i think less interestingly who is the most soy president but another one that i think is more interesting who's the most lunch pail guy nine to five no flash president yeah eisenhower he uh he did the work but he did not make a show of it he did not make it about him he was a real caretaker uh he was really 0:50:27 the last president i'd say who like transcended partisanship you know he was the last president because there's a real problem in the american system that we have the head of government and head of state being the same guy that's bad it confuses our politics because we have this understanding of our presidents as exemplars of the nation as a whole and then also as representatives of a faction of political of a political faction within that country and that those there's a conflict that gets to become psychic confusion and we end up fighting over like the symbolic role of the president like right now i would say that trump and biden are almost the enti the argument is almost entirely at the level of like what what is america what is the head of state as opposed to what government is going to do in the face of i don't know catastrophic climate collapse a ***** rampaging pandemic and a steadily worsening economic uh uh failure how about that nope we're talking about like this like people 0:51:28 want to talk about how who to vote for if you want to get rid of wokeness like like there's a ***** bill someone's going to pass to end wokeness or make wokeness more like any of this stuff is this all happening organically within that culture as a response to accelerating material collapse and and the the the shredding of like the political uh fabric of meaning and like anybody uh investing in this ***** and we have these clashing notions of the presidency and eisenhower was the last one where that kind of made sense because he was not really seen as embodying like a republican agenda because at that point the republicans had been so thoroughly cowed by the dominance of the new deal that they were almost a self-consciously they were they were in the position of the democrats are now the republicans of the 50s were like the democrats now basically uh not i mean not as bad because uh uh 0:52:30 they had more money like that they still were you know institutionally powerful and they had a lot of uh they were able to hold on to like huge chunks of the midwest and the northeast uh but they were having to sort of tack towards the center of this like uh this center-left country around the pole of the new deal and the new deal state and eisenhower instead of challenging that just sort of implemented it like from a common sense perspective by virtue of the fact that he was presenting it it turned these you know new deal concepts into concrete and turned it into a consensus and he was the last i think president to really do that uh and i think one of the big reasons for that is because uh the real frictions that are going to come up during the period of economic growth when you know we stopped politics was still you know we still had political control over the economy but it was smoothing in such a you know we 0:53:31

were getting such return on investment during that period that we ended up talking about culture stuff you know not as a distract not as a distraction from pressing economic concerns but from an emanation of like a growing prosperity it really was happening like the economy was distributing gains evenly across the society which prioritized for younger people social issues and prioritized for uh you know minorities like a commitment a access to this new prosperity and raised within white people for example uh uh willingness to change socially because they were being uh the social order was benefiting them and then this so but but then you had the people for whom that didn't apply and the crisis that emerged around things like uh civil rights uh and then vietnam war um break that and i don't think we've had a president who 0:54:32 really captured that since reagan came kind of close after 84. uh just but that's just speaking to the hegemony of you know dominant republicanism uh but yeah i'd say i but eisenhower did all that without uh without foregrounding himself during the whole during the whole uh course of his presidency the fortist consensus that's it and so who better to represent that period than the the time when you go to work in the factory and then come home to your split level than the guy who went out to the golf course every day and signed off on alan dulles overthrowing another government and uh on them doing mk ultra and ***** and uh then told america hey you know how we just built this giant military industrial complex you might want to keep an eye on that uh that's a whoops uh i suspect i know the answer to this 0:55:34 question but i saw somebody posted earlier and i i guess i was wondering about it at least what your answer would be um which is lol nothing matters but uh what do you think of uh the rumors that bernie is trying to get in at labor in the biden administration i mean as i have said the we know there was a war in the democratic party and we know the winner the the conditions of their victory have not changed which means the leverage of the left versus them has not changed which means any concession to the left in the form of giving bernie sanders a cabinet position would be on the terms of the party which means it would already be determined how much influence sanders would actually have how much ability to influence policy he would have and it would be judged acceptable like that's has to be assumed now you might argue even in that case that maybe he serves enough purpose to do it or you could 0:56:36 argue that his acceptance his part being part of that administration will do more to camouflage it from criticism than push it in another direction i would argue that that is the case because i see no reason to believe that the biden administration is not going to push austerity uh is not going to be a nightmare for working people in this country and that people coming to terms with that as quickly as possible is going to be the key to organizing resistance to it uh bernie doing fake work in the cabinet is uh only going to make it harder to get people to that point i'm not saying they even

will get there but because i don't know why any where anyone is getting anything about biden's presidency being anything other than a intensification of obama's uh one of the things that i've been finding concerning about the way that i've been seeing some of the returns in this election going and seeing some of the democratic establishment talk about it you were posting about this in a chat the other day matt uh a breakdown of voting groups by uh income and that trump still maintains a highest support among the richest members of the poorest areas yes right right the local barons but at the other hand yes the beautiful boaters the beautiful boaters but on the other hand the democrats increasingly have the support of the richest people of the richest areas oh yeah the richest zip codes in america i think are all now represented by democrats i didn't know that the congressional ten top wealthiest zip codes in america are yep congressional districts are all represented by democrats yeah if that's your doc if that's your if that's if that's if that is where your votes are now i don't know how the hell you interrupt their progression how you turn them into anything other than another and a party of neoliberalism and the other thing i was i was i um you know i was watching looking at some um breakdown of the early votes and basically seeing some some democrat democratic people talking about the white working class as always throughout this entire time has solidified as a problem to be overcome not something to be reached out to and even more troublingly a small but significant shift of black and latino working-class voters too republican even under trump as being something to be overcome not fought for and it's hard for me not to imagine that one of the outcomes of this uh election is just not a further entrenchment of that the liberal party in this country is something that explicitly exists to act against the interests of the poor for the interests of the well-off yeah uh the people have talked about a realignment party realignment and you know people talked about that in in terms of a some sort of socially conservative or socially liberal or socially conservative fiscally liberal like ethno-nationalist party that would uh you know be take trumpism to the next level things like the people have talked about tucker carlson representing that maybe uh and i've talked about how i think that that's not going to happen because there's no money in the tail there's nowhere for them to actually from a position of being the republican party and being controlled by capital uh to offer anything realistically to make any play uh pilot at persistent you know concession for about okay you win once now what you know uh i think more likely is that you have a d alignment along race which is what we might be seeing now in which case you have change you have pulled apart the two parties and now the divide line dividing line is no longer uh uh uh economic at all it's off there are no real economic issues in the political sphere it's purely cultural and the two parties become the socially conservative the republican party and the socially

liberal democratic party i mean and that means that the racist the the minorities who disproportionately vote democratic because they ignore the social issues where they disagree with the democrats on in order to vote for uh economic issues that they think they're getting have now decided well what i'm real i might as well get the make they're gonna make the same decision that a generation ago the reagan democrat white people did which is if i'm not gonna get any bread and butter i might as well get some blood and thunder and they're going to do the same calculation and all of a sudden you're getting pulled away like huge chunks of working-class black support to republicans because they're the party against abortion and against homosexuality which they are as well and same thing in the latino and other minority communities where there are is social conservatism but it hasn't been salient to them because they thought there's something else that's salient now race is the problem there you would have to have some sort of de-racialization of like the white chunk uh and that's a big question but uh i feel like the if there's any movement we're seeing in polls now it's in that direction oh man we've gone an hour already yeah we're we're we're gonna have to sign off here yeah we gotta record our battle garage we're gonna go win a bit we're going to talk about what's going on in the states and the government do you have your final picks locked in yeah i mean i haven't thought about it i'm going to go for the hip but anything i say i will believe because i feel like i've internalized all the data and i feel like anything i say extemporaneously will have my full uh soul behind it with no uh no second guessing from the cheap seats well let's sign off and do that folks in the chat look forward to a beltway garage on your pod players and i would guess let's see it's 5 p.m now uh six and a half hours yeah let's make that turn around go it depends how much time i want to spend making that song sound good but we're good wrong who is there the great commotion motion motion all the country's here's room ball i'm rolling on for tippecanoe and tyler too and with him will be little vain van is a used up man and with him will beat the little fan i on again what did was i on and then dropped off or so was there like an interruption or did it just not go on until now i don't understand how the ***** works i was never really here ***** all right 0:1:3 well here's my voting ball i got today when i went to vote when i went to my early voting place which lucky me was the barclay center and i was able to walk up today i'd see lines in previous days but today no line strolled in got the deal it works it took me five minutes uh and if you want to know who i'm voting for who i voted for i'll just say that for a long time i resisted the demand of people that i put you know my country first and future generations of this planet and sacrifice my lofty ideals in favor of the practical need to defeat uh rising fascism and i i admit that i've resisted for a long time but i finally come around to the wisdom of it i'm finally ready for her and so today i voted for hillary clinton and i believe that uh that her defeat has 0:2:5 humbled her and i think now she's ready to come and uh and clean up washington i think she needed a loss before she could really uh understand you know what the stakes and and uh what she really wanted you know like she took it for she took it for granted and now after having lost it she'll never take it for granted again which is why i think she'll govern wisely and and so if anyone yeah you can't get mad at me uh i actually wrote in everything because i did not have a very interesting contested ballot there wasn't even anything at the local level that i could punitively influence the results of so i went nuts i think i voted for myself for congress uh real fun was in the judges i had to vote for all the supreme court justices most of whom were 0:3:6 running unopposed so i got to write in some fun people there like judge reinhold so as usual i enjoyed the experience i enjoyed getting my ballot i enjoyed filling in the little bubbles and most of all i love sliding it into the machine and going a little boop and then get my little guy and hey i even got a stress ball here don't know why you would give that to somebody when they were already doing it but i guess the idea is they bring it out there maybe it gets thrown in a little waste dump and someone picks it up and remembers to so the supreme court recently ruled that the that states will be able to suspend uh the the counting of mail-in ballots after the election uh because they will be by according to kavanaugh prima facie uh in uh 0:4:8

illegitimate because they will flip the results of the of the race in that state that is i think people i mean people pointed this out insane what he is saying there there is no legal or constitutional basis for that states have five weeks to register or to certify their results there's nothing in any law saying anything has to be announced the night of the election that's never been true what he's talking about is tv the fact that we have the media to do projections and take early returns and exit polls and make like journalistic guesses that we because they're pretty you know well hedged and they wait long enough take his gospel and then aren't confirmed later by the actual vote count but if you're a cranky old man watching tv no you don't know who who won on the night and that's not a standard it's insane to expect oh to say that legitimacy of the election matters because grumpy confused old senile fox news 0:5:11 viewers like the president uh are too angry uh and and confu too confused by the prospect of them not announcing the the winner on the on the night of like there is no way that you can argue that that's the reasonable standard for undermining legitimacy of an election unless you think the entire country or those who count anyway are fox knowing fox news watching demented old people and of course this tells us that if this does come down to a trump versus biden uh style court case that they will figure they will find a way no matter how ludicrous the base is to invalidate the votes necessary in the states necessary for trump to win i don't think anyone will should uh have any illusions about that there will not be some moment when uh all those supreme court justices stand up and say no sir the the honor of our institution will not allow us to go along with this blatant theft they've already laid the groundwork they're gonna they already they did the thing that uh even the guys 0:6:14 who wrote bush versus gore said don't do which is sight bush wishes gore because it was just an extraordinary moment where their partisan leanings took over they said look we don't even want to bother creating sustainable legal theory around this we just want the result and that'll be it again and the response i think from liberals to this ruling has been very interesting and it's one of those things where you see in the small bore how they might have a point in why they act like this but then you see how their small bore thinking inevitably sabotages them in the long run so the response has been okay now that we know that if anything is if if anything's in the mail on election day it's probably not going to get counted because that's now the precedent according to the supreme court uh which is legitimate um that means it's your responsibility to get those votes in early do it now and i understand the 0:7:15 argument that well hey nothing's going to change this you want to be able to you

know adapt to the situation but what you're doing when you're doing that is you're also setting up the situation perfectly after the election is stolen where it's really all of our fault isn't it the same way it became nader voters fault that they stole the 2000 election it'll be people's fault for not voting early enough even though now we knew you were supposed to the same way that the fact that uh presidents have been elected the last president was elected with less with negative three million vote lead well hey you know that's these uh that's the the system and you need to plan for that so hey they're not going to count your late votes so you need to plan for that it means it'll always be our fault it'll always be the fault of the electorate it'll never be a systemic but i mean these guys are freaking out about some sort of judicial coup 0:8:32 we already had one and they blamed the third party vote for it they blamed susan sarandon for it okay well somebody says it's amazing how much faith uh libs put in a system that keeps ***** them over the thing is for the most articulate media libs and the people they represent demographically it that the system doesn't ***** them over the system rewards them they do well under the system but doing well under the system offends the liberal sensibilities and bourgeois senses of manners and values that they've absorbed to be part of the people who are doing well by this current regime and so they need a political expression of that discomfort which is democratic politics but it's not designed to do anything to the system itself because it's not hurting them it's in fact the thing that sustains them they merely want an 0:9:36 expression of uh uh disappointment and a way to feel the discomfort uh but well with relieving a personal relationship to that discomfort it's not because i am an extractor or i am in any way uh advantage by the system it is that the the racism or like the constitution or or fox news has led weight around our nation and prevents us from uh from being fully democratic oh well at least i'm aware of it and i'll vote and so when i say that they're setting themselves up for failure down the road not for them continued success and and uh thriving within the system uh but for the people who take cues from them so the masses of regular voters who've internalized the logic of the liberal uh of the democratic party to the point of um psychic you 0:10:38 know fusion bernie should not join the cabinet i'd say that for one thing bernie is not an administrator anyway i mean at least with elizabeth warren you have that pathetic thing about how she's missed plans and miss details and you know maybe that's right put her you know she probably does belong certainly not a politician she should be some sort of uh regulator at best you know it's just a cog in a machine designed to like look over balance sheets and find out when to you know there's too much uh fraternizing going on between corporate entities let her do that but bernie's not a ***** uh administrator i mean i know he was mayor of uh burlington but 30 years ago but i don't know if that's relevant really also he would then be part of a regime that is going to be hostile to the left on day one and so he will only serve as a mechanism to deflect anger towards what is going to be a wildly reactionary regime that is going to declare war on the working people of this ***** country and he's going to be no matter what no matter how much old yes but look what he's he's stacking you know the the the um you know the nlr what i don't even know what the ***** labor department could do honestly whatever it is whatever flurry of regulations he imposes is going to be nothing compared to the larger battle over the future legitimacy of the democratic party because he's going to be part of that regime but that's i don't think it's going to end up mattering because i don't think man if chile does uh revive cyber sim that'd be so funny they're not gonna revive uh it'd be funny if they recreated cyber sin and then cyber sin brought ayande back to life that'd be funny no probably not gonna somebody's talking about bucharan don't i'm kind of uh i'm kind of thinking that bakarin might be a little underrated honestly like he probably had the right theoretical position vis-a-vis breast lotus and then collectivization it's often described as like a whip side i mean it was a recognition of the of the of the fundamental weakness of the of the russia as a potential place for socialism to be born because of the fundamental weakness of capitalism which they all recognized as marxists is necessary for the building of socialism and basically just because they were in a position to win in a contest with the state because of the state's collapsing legitimacy and authority uh they basically made a post-hoc rationalization around trotsky's permanent revolution idea to say will kickstart a revolution and that'll do it and that meant that when it got to the point of ending the war but current said we need we're going to need europe for this we're not going to do it so we have to turn this into a revolutionary war because i mean as soon as brussel tufts happened then what was this what did russia do sat and waited with baited breath for germany to have a revolution and they failed to do it what if they german communists have been able to meet up with some sort of you know pressure anyway like that might not have worked and it wouldn't have worked for one reason that lenin recognized the ***** russian people wanted the war to end that's why they have any legitimacy to the bolsheviks and what bakaran took from that is oh right we're a giant nation of ***** peasants what are we gonna do we're gonna have to climb down now and if that means implementing capitalism again at least we're doing it and i know it was i mean it was so horrifying that nobody else could even conceive of it even though the alternative what they ended up doing which is the only other thing that could have happened they were either going to climb back down and negotiate a deal with the peasants to to compensate them for their surplus in order to maintain and expand industrialization and sit and urban life were either going to pay him for it which would have revolved bringing back

capitalism or they were going to take it and the currency to be the only person to recognize that except for of course stalin who didn't care either way he just wanted power and trotsky who essentially went crazy because he couldn't accept it doesn't mean the october revolution was a mistake they needed to to revolt when they did it 0:15:49 would either have been the bolsheviks or some sort of military rule and probably like an anti-semitic pogrom wave unlike anything we've seen before like an industrialized proto-holocaust uh no they were right to rebel when they did and they needed to win but every question after that is in the context of what happened then what happens with the end of world war one what happens with the war with poland when that happens what happens in germany and at every point decisions have to be made by people then something isn't a mistake one way or the other because it's always contextualized if it's a mistake or not it boils down to like the options before you and in 1918 1917 there was no other option but revolution uh but then options change as the conditions change and i mean you know it can't there has to be something 0:16:50 wrong at some point right with the soviet union or else it'd still be here and if the answer to that is no it's because you know they were choked by capitalism well i'm sorry that means it never would have won like it had to have been a combination of the decisions and actions of the of the people who were in power in the soviet union and that was in the capitalist world it was an interplay of those two sets of decisions and actions there had to have been mistakes on both on the side of the soviets i did leave lincoln in the bardo it's great i gotta read it again actually i own it i should definitely yeah i should read it again karensky was wildly cringe his entire 0:17:52 approach to holding the war effort together and the provisional government together in the face of just absolute collapsing authority was just to cry to cry all the time have big emotional weepy speeches and just hope that everybody was to got too embarrassed for him to kick him out of power it was uh yeah wildly very one of the cringier characters in uh he had to keep fighting the war because at that point the war was the raison d'etre of the realm of the provisional government of of the non-communist but when it comes to because people should uh just to get back to 0:19:8 the thing about uh kavanaugh and that ruling that should tell you all you need to know about what will happen on election on the weeks after election night if there gets to be a jump ball florida type situation they will definitely rule for trump no matter what and it'll work out fine libs will get mad they'll probably be another woman's march but that'll be it because who's going to the streets for joe ***** bite especially if it winds its way through a court system and a court uh process that as it goes along cools everyone's ardor just the the blade the hissing blade sunk into the uh the water like think what would happen with uh with the barrett nomination and all that ***** about we will burn dc to the ground if they try to fill rbg spot that was a threat but uh it's defused every moment after it's made that the conditions no longer obtain and if there's a process that leads you towards a conclusion and you accept broadly the legitimacy of those of those processes even if you disagree with the outcomes you will by the time the decisive moment occurs be fully disarmed and demoralized so that's what's going to happen if that occurs my thing is i don't think it's going to be that close i have decided that you can only psych yourself up too much psych yourself out too much uh because here's the thing about the polling deal and how polling is doesn't work anymore polls have been basically as good as they ever were before and after 2016 and since in i think that the specific confluence of insanely unlikely events that occurred in the 2016 election which included i think a lot of people probably lying about whether or not they were going to vote for trump because they were embarrassed by it which was a real thing i think in 2016. the thing is i don't think that's the thing anymore because everybody who did that has either gotten on the train now there's part of the trump base who says ***** you libs and who gets off on upsetting people or they're that cottier of college-educated white suburbanites who all the data seems to indicate in the last two years four years have shifted dramatically to that those people probably are just voting biden now they're not lying anymore if you call them and say they're voting for a democrat so i think it's going to be not close enough for a shenanigans simply because it's going to be so many states that you'd have to uh do it in and the configuration of powers is different in each state the ability of these guys to coordinate is i think totally unestablished and most importantly if you're members of the republican party and you're not directly tied to the trump machine part of you would be very relieved to see him go i think and to be able to deal with biden fund raise off of a democratic president obstruct him at every level uh prevent them from doing anything that you don't want him to do and hey maybe bully them into doing some sort of a big uh bipartisan uh uh bipartisan uh entitlements cut that is that means republicans are no longer the party of austerity because democrats just did it too like both they're both the knife is bloody from both of them and biden will be president when it happens so it'll be totally you know branded as a at least bipartisan and maybe democratic proposal that's great you're you're fine risking anything for him at that point when there's no direct pressure on you that's the important thing here like if it's up to a few uh like uh senators or something the pressure of the trump base over their political future will be enough probably to make them do what they're what they're scared to do what they're scared not to do but when you're talking about dozens and hundreds of judges and state legislators all over the country none of whom individually are going to get blamed if trump loses because the republicans i mean they're they're not going to turn they're going to get mad at the democrats for stealing it which

because they understand who their enemy is unlike confused liberals like when the the election of 2000 was legitimately stolen as such a thing could be uh and who do liberals blame by and large third-party voters the 2000 the election of 2008 was by all measures of relatively fair free election in this country without any theft at all and republicans not only think that it was uh illegitimate they blamed democrats for stealing it they're gonna they're going to blame democrats they're not going to blame their legislators especially if they legislators are able to pull off the relatively 0:24:14 easy act of looking outraged at the outcome but not actually revealing what power they would have had hypothetically to intervene on behalf of trump and everybody just it's like he's doing a trust fall and everybody's hands just go away i think that makes sense uh oh uh i need to commemorate this uh before i went on chris told me and i would not have known otherwise that this is my 100th kush vlog i have spit over 100 hours of gibberish into the internet now uh feels like time well spent gotta say more than most of my time on this planet has been one hundo nice round 0:25:17 number pew pew if you've watched all of them uh wow i hope i hope it has been in some way helpful so we're uh going to do an election night show from our office where i've recorded with chris some of the vlogs here next tuesday it's gonna be uh at a minimum i believe me and felix uh chris and i think uh virgil in the studio 0:26:20 and uh special guests aplenty i think amber's gonna call in uh and we'll have other people adam friedland might be in the building it's gonna be fun and it's gonna be interesting too because we're not gonna be able to organize it around a climactic moment of truth because we'll likely end without knowing although i do think that florida will be because florida vote uh counts their mail-in ballots ahead of time which means that they will have earlier faster and more complete results than a lot of the other swing states and that is the state where it's sort of a microcosm for the polling in general it's shown a solid consistent uh biting lead but at the same time you look at it and you think it's florida though and then you get some you'll get a few polls where oh what it's like within a point or something oh my god and then 0:27:22 you got the fact that you know they've got their felony disenfranchisement still in effect and they're going to challenge a ton of uh write-in but so i think if it looks like florida certainly florida is uh is called for biden on election night i think you might be able to just uh lean back if you're if you care about the result uh if you're terrified of providing of a of a trump term and find solace in the idea of a biden presidency i i guess i envy you that a little bit because for me i just i guess i do want biden to win simply from aesthetically i'm sick of talking about trump i feel like there's not really much more going on there his ability to accelerate us towards something i think is pretty much his useful ability to accelerate us towards anything has been uh kind of spent i feel like he is i also i just kind of feel like he isn't the man for the 0:28:23

moment i feel like to preside over the kind of sustained collapse and then like reorder of this of uh of the economy like away from um small business ownership uh and employment by an employer towards this entirely decentralized a gig economy where everybody is some is is working for some you know a company that fronts them uh capital which nobody will have except for a few of the big corporations in exchange for them to basically turn into digital sharecroppers and that's going to suck and you don't want a guy in there banging the dinner belt screaming all day and trying to edge people towards political conflict you want a guy up there just with a richness of of grief just saying i'm sorry i know i know it's terrible isn't it i know i know oh 0:29:24 i feel the pain we weep together as a nation that's to me that's what uh the system wants trump will not be prosecuted they're not going to start they're not going to break the understanding the unwritten rule that nobody is responsible for anything they do in power because as soon as that's broken then all of a sudden uh the matrix of decision making of our leadership would be destroyed like impunity is built into being in power it is an assumed condition that undergirds all of the other decisions you make because the question of what if people find out what if this it can go to the level of oh i might get in trouble oh i might lose my job oh yeah but it'll never get to the level of oh i might go to jail for this they don't think that way thinking that way would could specific could actually change the way they govern they don't want to 0:30:25 do that they don't want to tie their own hands but if they call florida i think i think biden's gonna win the whole shebang in like as in every state where it looks close like if they would if florida's called on election night he might win texas he'll probably i would say if florida goes to him he will definitely win georgia probably uh definitely when arizona rather probably win georgia and is 50 50 for texas uh and that means he definitely wins north carolina and what goes off saying he gets back the entire uh great lakes firewall and i think that he would win iowa in that context i think too in fact i think he might win iowa anyway the one that i think would be kind of funny if he didn't win is ohio which i honestly think c could see happening i could see him when florida georgia texas and arizona and lose ohio just because of the way 0:31:29 the demographics have changed there in the last but he could i think he'll win iowa either way iowa iowa is a state that has been hit hard by specific trump policies uh in terms of the trade war that has uh hurt the price of corn very badly and then of course the horrible response to the tornado apocalypse that they had he's uh he's taking a actual hit from that but of course if i would say this if florida is too close to call at the end of the night i think you're still looking at a biden victory probably but if it's called for trump now you got to raise some eyebrows and think these things might not might be close enough that a tip ball could situation could emerge in which case referee tim donahue is going to come out and i think we all know what 0:32:31 the outcome is going to be at that point and i hope you've already placed your bets beforehand apparently biden's looking bad in nevada and it'd be very interesting if he won apparently the the early voting situation in nevada isn't great for democrats they're not getting back the kind of numbers that they were looking like they needed to to match the 2016 results so who knows shift uh latino's shift towards trump seems real which of course that makes people apoplectic because what about the cages what about the babies at the border we're americans the people you're talking about are americans that means that even though they're latino they're still americans which means that their understanding of themselves in a race is very much contingent on a million other ways that they understand themselves and in america there's a huge cultural vortex towards being a guy who doesn't give a ***** about anybody else 0:33:32 because that's the only way that you can ***** live in this ***** country without going insane and so it's a very persuasive political valence and trump embodies it for people of all of all religions and races and all this stuff the difference is the way you experience race in this country is going to color how you take trumpet like he's also gaining among apparently black men not as much nearly as with uh latinos but still a shift and why because because the appeal is is a transcendent of race and the way you experience race can be very much put on a scale with a bunch of other identities and found to be by you less persuasive to direct you towards something which is why all the standpoint epistemology that undergirds so much identity politics and uh like theories of um like uh uh both understanding political reality and formulating praxis uh is hollow and insane because there is no totalized racial experience that over 0:34:35 gerds every other part of a person's identity and decision-making matrix and so you cannot use that to determine the rightness or wrongness of someone's because people specifically to talk about like trump's horrible stuff with immigration uh during the last debate trump kept saying about immigration to biden who built the cages and a lot of people were baffled by that because they said you can't say that when you're the one using them and no you can depending on what premise you're operating from the liberal premise is that this is a horrible thing that these are monstrous violations of human rights and that we need to stop them the trump undergirding argument that a lot of people agree with regardless of race is look we got to have immigration 0:35:36 laws that means you're going to have cages because people are going to come and you can't trust them so what are you going to do with them you can't trust them so you have to keep them in jail and how do i know that that's true because even obama mr whiny whiny heart heartbreak makes crying about uh immigrants had them and built them and put people in them because we're going to put people in them and the question is do we accept that it's necessary or do we pretend to be sad about it because we're literally just virtue signaling to each other and that's a persuasive argument to people and there's no challenge to it from the liberals there's only a further uh fake orchestra of of of pathos that if you think about it to think you guys built the cages you put kids in cages too makes you realize well this is ***** he doesn't really care he's not really sad about this you guys don't aren't really you're just using it as a weapon of convenience against republicans because that's all it actually matters and that's and therefore there's no content to any of our political ideology and it's merely a war of of sides and position and the thing is is that's true because they are not they are not on other sides it's a inner uh it's it's an internal conflict within capitalism about like the best way to uh like the the way the degree to which you have to soothe your conscience in the pursuit of the total market domination of the planet and that's i mean that's another expression that's the way that it's perceived up politically but that's an expression of a greater tactical question of how much can we squeeze the peasants before this thing breaks down and we don't have any system at all we get that thing that marx called the common ruin of the contending classes and that's the basic tactical or strategic argument between liberals and conservatives about these kind of things but uh it's expressed politically as a moral question but it's all just imperial management the border regime is a part of that it's not going anywhere neither party is interested in having it go anywhere there's no policies that are going to be pursued they're going to make it go nowhere that means you need things like interdiction and you're going to have to house people especially if things keep getting bad in other parts of the world those parts that are convenient for us closer to the equator more likely to get hot and uninhabitable and flooded than us and they're gonna have to go somewhere they cannot come here under the current regime they're not assimilatable even the liberals understand that because what did obama do he deported a bunch of people and he built the ***** cages and that's what biden will do and they know that and there's no liberal counter argument to it except to further undermine your moral co moral case which you think is so unimpeachable by highlighting its essential hypocrisy because the greater bet that the conservatives are making is that uh are the ones in power like the ones directing pressing like the accelerator button on here the ones who say no like the mitch mcconnell types brick on the accelerator are doing so because they think there's nothing else to be gained by prolonging the fiction of democracy in the face of falling profits and rising uh ecological and uh instability we there's enough momentum in the system for us to loot it while it's while it is still excellent and be confident that we can uh if we have to uh negotiate exits i think they're really yeah i don't know i got to think about it more i don't i got i think that like any in america anyway where we're like the reserve currency and we're in charge of like the institutions of global finance and we're we're the like the ref we're the referees of the global financial system there needs to i think that that one immigration policy would be a recognition that a big part of it is going to have to be helping people stay in the countries that they live in because that's where people want to live and the reason they can't live there is because their countries are largely being destroyed and the thing about that though is that you know you it's a frame that is xenophobic 0:41:19 in a way like this keeps them out of here but in practice it's actually the hardest thing you can do which is get people if it would work is to get people on board with spending money outside of the united states which they hate doing they hate it there's a reason that people think that a foreign aid is like 25 of the federal budget when it's like less than one because they're just always imagining some foreigner with a big sack of rice but on merits that's the thing that has to happen like the world has to be ***** habitable for people where they l where they live now because there's no situation where the entire world population becoming liquid and just moving across its surface is going to facilitate anything other than a techno regime of like essentially uh mass incarceration beyond anything we could imagine just large-scale 0:42:20 human containment because people in flux like that are not able to resist they don't have anything they don't even have like the confidence of like ma of mastery of like a geographic area they're familiar with or access to community resources they're at the mercy of just the global tide pole of capital and and the the um expressions at that point yeah like the the need for enough the need for those people to actually be like inputs into the economic system is going to be basically not nil they will be uh disposable there will be a beggman's a gambin's and the funny thing is matt iglesias 0:43:43 with his 100 billion with his billion americans book he even says he just coughs his mouth and says uh of course we'll uh they'll have to choose the type of immigrants we accept oh it's like i'm sorry isn't he supposed to be uh advancing this left wing case for open borders and sneak it underneath the the sleeping uh maw of right wing reaction by by camouflaging it with this nice nationalism that they love so much he still concedes a regime where yeah no we're gonna get uh the people who we who we need to like run our ***** server farms and then you're still going to have to have massive uh uh uh uh a massive system of border enforcement if you're doing that so it's it's not even the thing that his uh pathetic uh uh bad faith defenders claim this brilliant attempt just to to rebrand leftism it's it's just more neoliberal ***** but but it's it's his fetish for a neoliberal uh uh reimagining of the city like he the 0:44:44 reason i think that he is so enthusiastic about markets is because he genuinely has absorbed the idea that everything good about uh like social life is to be found in the gentrified american urban center therefore we need to facilitate that metastasis of that into like the uh the mean experience of being and the reason he thinks that is because that is the place for the nietzsche's last man to live because it gives you

the sociality it gives you all of the uh the most uh superficial uh uh benefits of living socially access to different foods and entertainment options and things like that uh 0:45:46 but with none of the spiritual uh connection and like community formation that comes around different social like uh dense social con relationships and he needs that to be the thing so that because he is trying to imagine what policy will benefit the most people and he has to imagine that people are him because we all imagine in some way that you know everyone is like us in a fundamental way it's just we hope to get deeper at the root of it than him he is only able he's so shallow he can only get to no everybody should have this coffee shops and thai restaurants and stuff this uh this thing where i get a ver of uh as much of a varied experience in the most superficial way to to essentially imitate like a social existence well as i'm basically on 0:46:47 my phone to him that's valhalla that's utopia and so he wants everyone to live there and he imagines that the free marketization of urban life will will bring that about that it's it's the restrictions on development that make that the case which is very much backwards the the the restrictions are imposed by a governing ideology that is powered by a governing um mode of production and you know political economy and that is what dictates these regimes so sorry buddy you gotta you gotta get down to the studs to make any of this stuff accessible because i think that that kind of dense urban lifestyle is is is i've lived it i think that that has benefits and i think that in a less alienated world it can be the basis for real social unity or social cohesion but uh it's certainly not something that is a panacea for any of the current and also and i 0:47:48 mean the big thing to say ***** you about iglesias is that you can see the outlines of a coming st ramping up of war with china as an option uh coming down the pipe like raytheon is putting out like yellow journalism now in order to get people behind this idea that we have to confront china uh we like the the our our our economy and our political order are going to push us towards conflict with china uh i know that you know there's the full full-fledged war would be bad for both of us and so that kind of thing can prevent an escalation but some degree of like rising tensions and 0:48:49 military spending to go with it and military activity to you know keep the blood flowing through the american hegemony hegemonic circulatory system is gonna have to get expended and anybody who wants to help that along uh can uh stonk my donk ***** off what you you're gonna ***** help us uh send the sixth fleet to to carpet bomb the ***** uh uh south china sea and start a shooting war over uh koyan and matsu uh so that you can get a starbucks on every ***** corner but politically like trump blames china for the virus and i gotta tell you guys biden's gonna blame china too once he's in power sure there's gonna be trump but it's gonna keep being bad and that's going to work less and china's still going to be there and the incentives are going to be there on both parties to ramp it up as a way to express off the real horror 0:49:50

of how badly this was ***** how badly we've been failed by the political leadership they have to put it off on somebody and the other party is not ever going to be enough china is going to be more and more the bipartisan source of the the place like look at the guys who people talk about is the successors to trump they're like guys like holly and cotton they're not doubling down on his fake uh peacenik ***** from 2016 they're reign they're ***** uh ramping up against china too as is trump they're like any kind of non-interventionist paleoconservative strain and trumpism is getting squashed out by covet and by the by the the the psychic demand to find a suppository for our anger and it's and it's china china china so i think the fifth 0:50:52 column of neocons colonizing the dn the democrats is a threat i mean that thing about that is stuff like you know guys like bill crystal and from in the lincoln project it's not that they are doing some sort of stealth takeover situation it's that they are being absorbed it's it's it's not an invasion it's it's a merger uh on on the on the fully conscious terms of both parties because the democratic uh plan has been since 2016 to turn the republican party into a party of purely white grievance and pull off every other sector of the ruling class away from other than like this the buddy garrity beautiful boater type small bourgeois everybody with any real connection to the global financial order the people who used to be the rockefeller wing of the party and absorb them into the democrats and make the republicans the white grievance party of the of the downwardly mobile middle uh uh lower uh upper uh like upper 0:51:53 class and that means absorbing all these people and so the project now is is happening it's been accelerated trump winning was actually the best thing that and the reason this is happening more than anything is that so the uh it's not true to say that in the two-party system we have in this country that the two parties aren't actually representing like different agendas they are they aren't they're literally the same in their expression of in the expression of their political philosophy because there is actual conflict there uh at the level of you know political economy and things like tax distribution and regulation you know government structures actual differences that is true uh but those differences uh are expressed through a political class that differs basically in its relationship to global capitalism you have people connected 0:52:55 to finance old money the people who've been rich in america the longest and then the as the country filled in the regional powers that grew up the small producers small manufacturers and small uh like land holders and bourgeois they grew up even though of course their relationship to global capital is very real it is not perceived as such they may perceive in fact global capital as a conflict as uh as a competitor for them because in some ways it is the system as it equalizes it sacrifices some interest for others in order to maintain homeostasis like tariff regimes harm some uh internal companies or internal markets or internal uh internal resources or whatever

industries that's the word i'm looking for industries like some industries are harmed 0:53:56 by a tariff regime others benefit their connection to the hells of power and their you know the crucialness the influence they have within the political system kind of dictates which is which and so there is a real conflict there and that has been for most of american history the contours of the actual battle between the two political parties the new deal changed that the new deal brought the working class to the table as a third point away from small producers in small bourgeois the working class as such gained a seat at the table through their mass agitation around the great depression they essentially they barged into the top levels of influence within the democratic party because they were able to assert their independent uh political agenda in the face of the crisis of the great depression that persisted for a while after the wagner act the nlrba put gave gave uh and at political level the fusion of the top 0:55:0 levels of the biggest politic labor unions with the democratic party happen at the same time those relationships persisted until the 70s when the crisis of productivity the crisis of energy led the political order to at that point sever the last connections between eight at that point more bond labor movement that had lost its vitality lost its ability to assert itself as a uh as a equal partner in this in the in these political negotiations between these centers of political power and crawled off and died under the porch and we returned and since the 19 since reagan basically we have returned to the political order being a battle between finance capitalism and local uh local small bourgeois now the thing about that is that even though this is the conflict it's not expressed evenly through the parties there are parts of both that support each 0:56:1 but the acceleration of the culture war and the way the culture war uh beliefs are conditioned more than anything by social class and specifically uh college education we're getting to a point where they're the the voters are polarizing around once again uh the small bourgeoisie and global capital and because now the issue are whether he went to college or not and the the party of global capital is the party of like college that becomes the party of uh you know minorities uh and uh or like seminars black people more than hispanics because that's a more fluid racial category uh and college-educated whites against this lump party of you know red-pilled uh i 0:57:5 would say red-pilled minority males and then white white uh non-college-educated whites uh both above and below like the poverty line or like the hundred and this is a part of that process the assimilation of the old uh the the last uh uh vestige of the old eastern elite which formed the globalist uh uh part of the republican party because the war that started in the 60s between goldwater and rockefeller and which was won by reagan in 1980 for the side of the small producers and for the side of cultural reaction uh it still has taken decades since then for the last tendrils to break away and trump has accelerated that process and now we are reaching a point where

there will be less and less of a uh or at least if the democrats get what they want 0:58:6 there will be less and less uh party wing it'll be just pure like robert welch stuff and then you know uh pissed off guys and camo hats and stuff and then everybody else will be in the democrats that's how they think that they can even without offering any alternative to austerity nightmare hell world will be able to hold off hold on to power because they will have the demographics in their favor in that younger and younger people not only are they more diverse they also hold cultural issues closer to their chat hearts because they've grown up with no other issues to talk about who's 0:59:7

it's a beautiful day in the neighborhood a beautiful day for a neighbor would you be mine would you be mine won't you be my today we are pouring one out for the god himself king and pimp jeremy corbin the only uh run out of his own party by the worst it's tough but i get to when i see this i get to re assess and reassert my own sense of gratitude which is that i don't have to live there or care about what happens on that accursed pedophile island phew but he i mean it it really is a case where corbin was too good for the english like they learned nothing from their humbling of their colonies all they have is this petty resentment that they're no longer the world's hegemonic overlords and they're ***** pissed about it it's it's sad i mean obviously they're as exploited as anybody else outside of the power corridors of this country but they metabolize that uh their angst and alienation through the lens of this imperial decline and uh they're not very uh they don't give a generous reading to people who challenge the perceptions of what england is which is a disgusting uh money laundering operation and jeremy corbyn shows up and goes hey how about we aren't the island that just provides financial services for the world's pedophiles and also supply the world's uh arms to all the world's worst pedophile regimes and they said uh actually it's anti-semitic to say that it's anti-semitic to not want your country to be governed by absolute jackals because some of those jackals are jewish don't you know the thing about the anti-semitism deal is that it was never the actual reason that gorban got uh ganked it was just the it was an issue that just provided the a a rallying point for the nation's political class and political leadership uh and also media most importantly to rally around like they had to say something was wrong with corbin something made him bad because the problem with corbin was all of the things he wanted to do were popular things and his record as a politician was of pursuing popular uh and more importantly um humane policies for his whole career instead of being a oxford butted dracula like the rest of the leadership class of both political parties in that ***** country so he had to be uh brought down to earth his his persona had to be punctured his virtue had to be besmirched and uh they decided hey since everyone in uh everyone in england already hates muslims everyone who

isn't a muslim already kind of hates them in one way or another uh because they're terrified of uh you know their chip shop going halal or whatever the ***** uh we can just take uh criticism is it israel and decide that that's uh anti-semitism uh because that allows us to just transfer our islamophobia and call it a virtue this is a great deal for us and the thing about it is it was very transparent and phony the reason that it had purchase is i think more than anything and it had less to do with like the fact that a lot of people in the labor party were slow to combat the argument i mean a lot of them were lying and they were doing they were sabotaging corbin on purpose because the corbin's big failure was not purging the party to the extent that he could uh and they sabotaged him but there were some people who were just dumb enough to be earnest about that ***** and they were saying we have to take this seriously because of the lived experiences of jewish people and all this crap like just absolutely being played like harmonicas by woke capitalism at its most like vulgar and but that wasn't what did it what did it is that the entire is that england is controlled by a elite that has persisted in that island since ***** uh william the conqueror came out over from normandy and has that entire country in a ***** stranglehold and controls every expression of mainstream uh political opinion and is able to determine the boundaries of uh of of acceptable discourse at every point and is able to make a conclusion through just uh classic uh uh sorties and and and uh and trial and error that what could get purchased against corbin was this layered anti-islamic uh pro jewish sentiment that of course was completely transparent and fake there are very few jews in england anyway most the people who were horrified were only doing it on behalf of jewish people they never met so they could be they could allow their petty uh pigheaded english scumbaggery their native grasping nastiness to have a patina of virtue around it and as soon as you gave people permission to do that everybody with an interest in obfuscating the stakes of politics in favor of uh capital and its possessors was able to go ***** and uh you know the real problem even deeper i think than any issue of uh the media response to corbynism was a deeper belief by the people of britain that he was never going to do the stuff that he promised anyway i think that that's what killed him better than anything is that brexit became the pivotal issue and the failure to the failure of the corbyn left to sufficiently deal with the remainers in order to appeal to pro-brexit labor constituencies in in the north uh i think that only ended up mattering because the the that materialist pitch that was supposed to obviate all these other issues was just not taken seriously because we are all living in this capitalist realist uh state where the system is so totalizing that we are incapable of imagining any effort successfully breaking us out of the uh worst cycles we find ourselves in and then anybody who claims they can is selling something and is fundamentally dishonest i think that hurt bernie and i think it hurt

corbin too and that is a deeper malaise a deeper political pathology than anything any elected official can address because what can they say their position has already been vacated by the fact that they are a politician and what do politicians do not the man was too good for that island and now i really wish he would just walk away just leave you know ***** serve out a suspension with rap knuckles like a a kid who's at private primary school who got in trouble for telling on uh all of the buggery going headmasters yeah he should come to america and smoke weed in my backyard that is my message to jeremy corbett ***** the labor party ***** parliament ***** england ***** that entire cursed bird ***** splattered collection of islands and come party in the usa we can smoke some mad doinks i guarantee you the ***** that you've been that you smoked back in the 70s got nothing on i mean the real canary in the coal mine for for labor's chances of being uh of of being a a effective labor party again was i mean when i say labor party i mean like a party of labor a party of working class was when they lost scotland like uh to the snp which was essentially uh pitching themselves as like uh you know labor but we're more serious about the non-austerity stuff and also we're gonna we want to be an independent country and scots were like if we're getting nothing from labor anymore then let's be our own country like nationalism is appealing now in the absence of a transcendent national socialist message which labor was no longer interested in offering and then though when and then the hope was after that happened and then corbin became the leader that that scotland could be brought back by reinstating socialism as the guiding principle of the party uh but that didn't happen i think a large part of it is because apparently scottish labor which is you know because it's a ***** federal system is independent of the inner the larger labor party uh just stayed stacked to the gills with blairite scum uh and made it almost impossible for a good faith scottish person to vote labor anyway considering their hostility to corbin's project but what some combination of the infighting within the party and just the steadily uh receding horizons of the possible in people's minds meant that even with corbin on the ballot essentially people said no i'm going to stick with nationalism we're going to stick with nationalism and then in the next election after labor had to flip-flop on uh on the stupid ***** brexit issue uh the northern labor area said well if and getting them to believe that no it's not all the same i think that's that's too big of a job for anyone at a national prominent position in politics now because that position has been tainted because none of them have done anything and that's why trump is president because i think his most effective line on hillary was always everything's terrible you're admitting things are bad why did you not do anything about them and he tried that on on biden again because he's got that you know idiot he's got the brain of a child and he has no object permanence and it worked before and it's going to work again just even though it's a completely different situation and he was saying to biden why didn't you do anything about it and that doesn't work if you're president doesn't work if you have and that's one of the reasons that i think he's cooked and that as much as we want to sort of prevent ourselves from getting owned by letting our guard down at a certain point if you go into this election really thinking trump is going to win i think you're at some level deluding yourself or you're just too traumatized by 2016 to accept what it would be funny if uh brexit ends up breaking up uh the uk like it successfully prevents the reformation of a like socialist majority in the labor party and the labor party as a viable socialist uh uh party uh contesting for power but at the cost of the actual united kingdom i mean they'd take it no question but it'd be funny if that's the cost do the cornish want independence at all do you ever hear about the cornish getting into it people forget about the corn about cornwall down there little peninsula uh you know they're also a celtic people and they have their own food the pasty the cornish pasty go to greg's and get a pasty i believe that the cornish accent is the closest thing to a pirate accent in the uk and i think that i'm not sure why that is i've heard that it's because that cornwall was a center of piracy uh but also i've heard it's because the guy from who played long john silver in the disney treasure island in the 50s did a cornish accent and then because that was such an iconic role it gave pirates a cornish accent all right you can be a tired our shiver me timbers yes the original english accent was rhodic it's true it's amazing and no one has anyone no one knows how that happened no one knows how they just decided to wild uh somebody asked about a book club for cloud splitter if someone wanted to do the thing that's interesting about linguistics is that you can like structure it very well and you can chart it but you can't really explain it can you like the shifts is are there any actual schools of of theory of thought that are compelling and go beyond speculation as to why accents form the way they do and where they do and how they change like why we have an english accent in a scottish act or why american accents are different why the english accent changed like the specific uh incentives for it i'm not sure is someone says we ***** know and i'd like to know how like one thing i'm pretty sure of is that the jamaican accent sounds the way it does because uh at the time of jamaica's founding it was peopled by african slaves and uh irish uh indentured servants who were essentially uh enslaved after cromwell uh retook ireland and that like africans coming to jamaica had that as like the model for english so that's why it kind of sounds like an irish accent i've heard that but like more specifically regarding like american accents i don't know i someone says they think my their dad could beat up my dad my dad's dead so yeah you probably could or no that means you couldn't you can't beat up a dead person right so by definition no you could not oh australian politics man if england looks hopeless ***** at least like corbinism had a had some purchase and was able to to make a play for legitimacy australia just feels like everyone just wants to grill it's 0:18:52 an but you know not in a and not in a centered you know transcendent way but are they just shut up and let me go to the go to i do love that the australian labor party has no u in it because the founder one of the founders of the australian labor party was american and he thought that the u was cuckolded and i was like you guys are being cuckolded by england and then they ***** listen to him which is funny because australia is insanely cuckolded they allowed the ***** queen of england to do a coup on them on behalf of the cia in the 70s and then after that they voted down a republican referendum how is that not the end of the ***** commonwealth relationship when 0:19:54 they do that it's like oh like we only accepted this arrangement because you know british sovereignty is basically uh technical and and non-uh dispositive no no if we want to we will just replace your government for you and they just said sure okay keep doing that right on will is doing good will uh is doing well he's he's been very heartened by all of the well wishes and the very excellent uh obituaries that have been published in the last day his dad was a hell of a dude and uh just reading a little bit about him we'll felix does play too much people are mad at felix because felix felix is bit he's doing right now on twitter i know it's stupid to talk about twitter but this is a thing that i think transcends this is he's doing a thing that transcends the 0:20:55 discourse so i think it's worth talking about felix has created in his mind a per ability to perfectly reproduce the content of a certain type of soy based media uh figure like broadly left blue check discourse and in so doing he has created these tweets that are both just searing satires of this way of thinking that show its hollowness and that fill you with nausea that anyone could find this uh persuasive as a way of thinking about the world but also are perfect exemplars of what he's talking about to the point where if you are enmeshed in that world you cannot see the ***** satire you process it at the literal level because you are part you're swimming in this sea of banality and so he is the perfect uh terminator now he can go behind enemy lines 0:21:57 he's getting he's getting ***** uh followed by like anne applebaugh the awful wapo columnist who's all about like we can't have uh socialized medicine because of the gulags and and he he did some just awesome uh corbin related stuff that's getting all these disgusting disingenuous media reactionary hacks on board and it's because they can't notice that he's joking so it's like he is both entertaining his his his fans the people who recoil from this uh of course they say they're horrified fighter they hate it but you know come on it's any reaction is a good reaction on twitter.com and um the this other people they're seeing the same tweets but they're seeing it through a glass darkly and they're like yes and i honestly feel like the tweets he's putting out right now are like a voigt comp test for whether or not you were still

a human being with blood in your veins or the discourse has turned you into one 0:22:58 version of a lizard person there's a bunch of different ways to be a lizard there's different way different ways where your engagement with the discourse shapes you and bends you away from true humanity and through any like perspective outside of the absolute howling banality of the discourse itself and if you see those tweets and respond to them earnestly you are one of the lizards i'm afraid and if you are rightfully horrified by them congratulations you might still have some blood in your veins now it doesn't mean you haven't been turned into a lizard by the discourse but not in that specific way in this specific sense when you do the the the thing test with the hot coil on the petri dish of blood and i see people respond earnestly not people who you'd imagine not blue checks whose out to lunchness is sort of taken for granted because they're media people but people who you think by every other 0:23:59 measure should know better and then they they they fall for it and you're like lizard you i thought you were a real person but nope did i ever follow cat cat williams farrell i still do i don't i really have an opinion about the glenn greenwald thing i've never really read this intercept i don't really care about that stuff honestly it's just never been a thing that grabbed me uh and like his his baileywick it's just the electronic stuff the bleep bleeps i understand it's important but you know like it's all recreation a certain perspective and you don't need to know everything about everything uh 0:25:0 and and so i've just never really paid too much attention and uh but just the idea of like the hunter biden story being this thing you're gonna go to war over i kind of blows my mind because it's just russiagate it's just russiagate it's like how can you make this like salient critique of russiagate and how it's vapid and how it ignores the reality of the functions of power and then decide oh no this thing that's an exact uh partisan mirror image of russiagate this is actually really important and powerful and you need to know about it and you need to know like he's out there flogging tony bulgasore he's saying you guys tony bulkasaur he has the documents it's like how is this that left harness all over again and that is uh that's what happens when you behold the discourse too long you lose perspective i think that's the number one thing that makes people decide insane things like that the punter barton story is 0:26:1 some important crucible for understanding the times or that uh the real class war is happening on twitter and it's people with check marks and that they're the new ruling class like these are only things that make sense in the absence of the perspective of a grounded understanding of the world no i still don't know who tony bulbasaur is and i swear that i will not find out any more than i know who ***** love partners someone says i'm wrong about michigan that's a very broad claim like in what sense that it sucks no i think i'm right about that that biden's going to win i mean his polling pleads have been pretty consistent and they have they're they're they have a strong turnout so far in the early voting and they have a democratic governor i mean i don't know oh yeah the people the liberals piling on glenn right now are all absolutely milk-hearted scumbags they're the people i was talking about who would respond to uh felix's twitter account earnestly i realize now that some people might not be familiar with what felix is doing online so i'm going to read you some tweets i know this feels bad but the reason i think this is useful is if you're horrified by what he is saying remember and reflect on the fact that people like this and think how could anyone like this and i'm telling you the answer is they're on here enough that they have lost touch with earth moisturize change your bed sheets more than once in a while don't stress about your body as long as you feel healthy and remember chris pratt's relatable every man act is a way for him to escape accountability just think about that think about how many things like that you've seen think about how someone could think that that is a good thing to say this one actually i felt like he was taking my skin off with a potato peeler when i read this it looks like conservatives in the 1980s were right we did all become goth socialists they were just wrong about how it's actually extremely good there are people who have read this there are a number of people who've read that tweet true i'm reading the tweets that are awesome people want context i'm giving them if you don't understand how these are bad then you are not online enough for it to matter in which case you are a blessed creature you are an ascended being and i and i praise you uh but i just beg your pardon for everyone else for a few more minutes i'm just in awe of this i have friends who voted for bernie friends who supported biden from the get-go and even friends who voted for mccain and romney the fact is no matter what we're all in a dark period and we need each other to get through this jail this one might be the best one honestly i wish mike pence's fly had said something about voter suppression because then at least we it would have and then this is my favorite one no you're wearing sweatpants and having anxiety sweats over inadequacy even though you got a promotion during your just think about it just think about it though that is the affect that is that is i mean it's what uh a certain type of like professional uh uh person who uses twitter as some sort of uh networking mechanism that is the lingua franca that is the way they communicate to one another that is the chemical uh slurry they spit into each other's mouths to identify friend from foe because that is one of the many reasons i've talked about this before why you can't discourse online because all people are doing they are not seeking the truth or falseness of any statement they are seeking from the way you made the statement and the contents of it whether you are on their side or an enemy that's it that's why that exists and that's why all these people are now following felix and going and and and being like oh who's this guy spitting truth it's because he is perfectly mimicking their language

and that's and that speaks to another failing of it because it leads you are totally at the mercy of people who at the end of the day you only trust because they can mouth pieties we have to go back to message boards felix has been on that tip for a while and i fully agree having everybody on one format having everybody discourse on one site is an absolute disaster and i honestly feel like 99 of the things wrong with uh like all the questions people have like we've dissolved reality like people don't know truth from falseness anymore you know we're all in these clock clicks and there's no more transcendence authorities uh and you know uh conspiracy theory and and crazy thinking run riot and all political movements are ground to a halt by these petty differences that are totally theoretical because everyone is just fighting amongst themselves over clout rather than really trying to move towards making a meaningful practice that all comes from all of us being in one room together trying to basically recreate a social that recreates society in a miniature and then therefore it's gonna have all the problems and require the same degree of uh like overarching alienated institutions as actual society does but it doesn't have those it has so people say what do you do do you nationalize amazon google and facebook do you break them up i think that you you send everyone back to the forums i think felix is right about that if we have to be on here we should be in forums although me and virgil have come up with an idea for a class of posting mentats who take it upon themselves to go to the discourse and then translate it to normal people who then do not engage with it in any way who only get it through one or the other though what we have now how are these people selected to curate the material see that's always the question how do you do it i honestly feel like it would have to be some sort of combination of it would have to be like an early selection process like as children like adeptness and not just adeptness but inclination towards certain ways of analyzing information uh like you know you might say are you just talking about you know people on the spectrum no uh people who would thrive there as opposed to people who struggle there which is i think a lot of us because everyone being online from the time you're a kid i think it it really does disrupt your ability to engage with the world on an emotional level like you can't be present in a way you have to be in order to absorb like meaning from interactions you create a uh a negative feedback loop whereby you find you are less and less present because you are more and more concentrated online so when you where you are and what you're doing is more likely to be shot through with your mind being elsewhere specifically online and that means that you would hear less meaning to the experiences you do have because you're investing less of yourself in them you are less present you are not observing that which is around you you are not adhering emotionally to people and things around you and and actions and uh and skills that you might have but for some people that's because the symbolic

order makes sense to them more and they're not going to really be profitably uh utilized trying to engage with the real world you got to find who those people are early and then you send them to mentap school but then everybody else people who would more profitably live a life that is present in the world in the in the in the uh firmament you don't go on there at all uh someone's asking about shin fein i don't honestly know that much about them i know in terms of their like political project now i mean i know that they have pivoted to be the anti-austerity party in ireland and are now the opposition party in ireland because there's a unity government between the two center-right parties they have which still they don't even bother they didn't even bother with a fake two-party system just two parties with basically identical center-right politics it's kind of amazing so they're the they're the official uh opposition now for the first time uh but you gotta wonder to what degree their anti-austerity is uh uh opportunistic because when they participated in government in the north they have helped carry out austerity i mean the real thing that's going to matter is what hap with them is how how ireland is going to respond to brexit because it looks like they're really headed towards no deal border going back up ass uh brexit which could legitimately read to reunification which would be hilarious but as i said i don't know too much about the specifics i'm keeping up someone asked specifically about abstaining sinn fein abstentionism given the fact that they are first and foremost dedicated to the removal of british authority over the uh ir the uh irish the ireland the island itself uh i understand why you would not want to uh become entangled with any coalition government uh that might happen because you would your issues would always never be sacrificed to the greater uh national project of whatever uh government you were part of so i get why the percentage wasn't there but the question really is is irish independence that important at this point is it that big of a deal is reunifying ireland really matter in this globalized world where like okay ireland northern ireland breaks off from the uk and rejoins the republic and now you're still now you're part of uh uh eu and your real laws are written in uh in frankfurt anyway in brussels oops what if i mean connolly said that you know if the if you replace the british flag with the irish one but you don't replace capitalism you will just hand over the deed to a different set of landlords and it doesn't look like they're anywhere near uh getting socialist revolution in ireland but at this point i think most of those nationalist movements are are an expression of hopelessness uh our expression of the embrace at some psychic level of capital realism of capitalist realism of the notion that there is no transcending any of our uh contradictions and therefore why not have a different flag why not feel like you have more independence even though the government that you're going to be supporting is going to be driven by the same brutal logic of maximal profit extraction but i'd say the corbin thing

more than anything just like with felix's tweets it's just a way to like the real way to be uh to to to to find friend from foe is not whether they're mouthing the right words and using the right frames or the right memes it's what their positions are and so much of actual positions and not their positions on internecine ***** but on important consequential questions like jeremy corbyn anti-semitism is this a thing that you want to accept as a real deal and accept the premises of this this uh assault from capital in the form of a media propaganda campaign and an internal uh coup attempt by a bunch of weasley backstabbers are you on board with that or are you gonna take seriously the fake terms of the debate and if you do what am i gonna why would i ever take the declining rate of profit is a theory in marxism that says that over time the tendency of profit in the capital in a capitalist economic system is to go down and that that leads to a crisis within capitalism that leads to a final confrontation it helps helps accelerate a final confrontation between the working class and capitalist and capitalists uh and it's one of those things that is often pointed at as proof that marx didn't really know what he was talking about or that there's a fundamental flaw in marxism because it has not been observed since he said it capitalism has shifted so much in in the in the years since marx died in towards the creation of a global market a global capitalist system that did not exist in in the 19th century there was still huge huge huge huge huge chunks of the world's uh uh productive capacity that was not at no point uh was integrated into a capitalist a world of uh exchanges now we are reached that point and what we are finding is is that like specifically in america since the 70s since the great uh the great crisis the the the the uh the turning point of uh where the overheated econ the open simultaneously stalled and overheated economy was re uh was reasserted with the power of labor removed and so the labor share of income held stable in order to keep profits flowing that was done in part because profits were dropping significantly in the 70s and what you see since then is a chart that is not a straight arrow downward which a lot of people point to is proof that it's that there is no declining rate of profit but that is in its trend downward which is what you would call a tendency which is what marx called it the tendency of the rate of profit to fall and there are a bunch of people who have reached the belief that we since the 70s have reached a terminal crisis point in profitability within capitalism and that you will see bubbles and you will see bursts but a lot of it is going to be well previously uh non-marketized segments of that system are turned into uh profit centers privatization basically like that gives you some burst uh and but that's literally the body eating itself like that that's the fat store is being absorbed it's it's uh it's the stuff that we have left out of the market in order to keep it stable being destabilized on behalf of maintaining or of a uh temporary profit uh percentage and that if that's the case then any political project that says we can return to a social democratic model is inherently doomed 0:44:33 because the social democratic model depended on the sharing of a large amount of profit between capital and labor that was the premise of the post-war labor and it has not been repeated because that specific profit situation where america was the sole producer of global goods basically after world war ii once that ended and you have like a globalized market with countries producing for distribution all over the world at different price points uh that we can that we don't have the profits to split up if we're going to make life habitable for people it's going to be by removing profit from the equation completely and socializing that element of the economy and using 0:45:37 our uh technological capacity replacing exchange for profit for and i generally agree i believe i i am on the i love the school that we are in a crisis i'm of the school that the tendency of the rate uh to fall is is asserting itself in a sort of a terminal direction line go down as they say and yeah and like it's not there's a lot of lines too you know the data i'm not a data guy but i've done enough looking at the reading to know that this is not just a a thing that some crackpots are are open to finding the data there's a lot of confirming and so places that have social democratic systems are over 0:46:38 time going to strip them are going to start selling uh the the furniture and the and the silverware and stripping out the wiring and the copper piping that's going to happen the only thing that will prevent it is a re refoundation of politics a removal of the of the parasitic political classes that are just managing this class exploitation any tips on writing out the next two weeks uh smoke weed baby just don't pay 0:47:39 too much attention like find something outside of uh this to care about and engage yourself with someone says was bernie too wedded to the social democratic agenda see now this is the thing i agree completely that social democracy is dead and can't come back but some people took that as a reason to write off the bernie campaign uh or say that it was you know uh insufficient to the moment and to my mind that just uh ignores the fact that even if we can say with some degree of confidence in ourselves that this is a dead model and that we need to go new get something new that is certainly not true of anything like a working majority of americans we have we only understand like we have a vague understanding of history and then a vague understanding of what is happening around us uh concepts that are outside of that framework they don't have a buy-in for most people you have to get to that point and that requires uh dealing with like the language symbols policy ideas and legacy 0:48:40 of american politics as it exists and so that means you any any so any attempt to like reinvigorate a electoral left in this country was going to have to evoke uh the the social democratic uh high point because it's an entry point and i i don't think that there's any likelihood that if he had been less adherent to social democratic ideas that he would have been more popular i mean at the end of the day he was disqualified from office because he didn't engage enough for the people who weren't paying attention oh no the people who were they were operating within the world as they understood it how high will i be on election day probably pretty high i would 0:49:41 imagine we'll see though maybe tune in on tuesday night to find out i will not be taking a bottle of overproof see people are saying it's gonna last for days but as i said florida is the one to look for i'll end with this if people are worried about uh having to sweat a long election because they care for one reason or another florida counts their votes mail-in votes before on election day they're all counted up so they can start releasing results after the polls close which means you will probably get florida called on election night and if biden wins it you can go to bed now if trump wins now maybe you want to stay up if you're uh uh the other reason that i think i mean 0:50:44 florida obviously is going to be huge for biden if he wins it because of the electoral weight it has but if trump wins i think all bets are off because florida has shown a significant durable biden lead like biden has not has not lost his lead in florida i think in a month and there's a new poll that with him up by i think 11 that's the most recent florida poll if the if trump ends up pulling that out then then that systemic anti-trump bias in polling people say i would be surprised if trump loses florida there that if you say that then you are accepting that there is this huge anti-trump bias in the data again even though he's the president instead of the uh uh the challenger he's running against biden instead of clinton i honestly wonder if that's based on anything other than just not wanting to i say there's no 11 point i guess it wasn't 11. 0:51:55 it was big though it was nobody had me i never got asked on calm crowds that's still pretty big biden's lead in aggregate is not as narrow as clinton's was but my main thing is i think that i think that the systemic bias against clinton or against trump in those polls i think it honestly might have been people lying about voting for him and i just don't think people are going to do that this time i think people who are voting for trump why are some universities so into polling i think it's just because 0:52:57 they got a big chunk of money at the right moment and then they uh put it into like putting a poll together and then at that point boom you're the pole college and then like when i think of monmouth when i think of quinnipiac i just think why would you go there for anything else why would you go there for quinnipiac for anything other than polling polling science why would you go to monmouth for

way they were ever going to buy out slaveocracy that was never on the table and anybody who says it is like rand paul's and so they not only did they not run as the republican ticket they ran on the national union ticket they got as the vp instead of one of these scary northern abolitionists uh they get ***** andrew johnson the only uh elected a federal elected official from a seceded state to have stayed loyal he was a senator from tennessee and so they put him on there as a gesture of of uh olive branch when it came down to it he was he won thanks in large part to the military vote the 0:5:8 guy the boys in the field voted for lincoln the yard the union army supplied a huge percentage of the votes for lincoln and they i don't think they gave a ***** about uh some cultish border staters or butternuts but i gotta say even if there'd been a radical republican in the as svp i think anybody other than lincoln in that spot is going to lead make it hard much harder for uh reconstruction to have any chance of of of a greater impact or success you really needed lincoln there we really that's a real keyhole spot in my opinion when you consider the flex the the liquidity of the moment stature of the ban is whatever you want to say about lincoln it's impossible to imagine the south the war happening the same way without him uh and i know 0:6:9 a lot of that is retrospective but his mastery of the moment was such that you can imagine him in a situation that fluid in the aftermath of a war that he had steered the country through being a a lightning pole for like progressive mobilization and concept and uh and like the awakening notion of like class orientation over race race orientation and he was the only one who could have done it we only had four spots in the fail bracket there were a lot of fails people we missed i mean my god the entire bush family is a bunch of failed people i mean george w bush is somehow a two-term president and fail son at the same time how the hell do you manage that and of course 0:7:10 you've got jeb who's one of the faillest faillest of all but there's only so much room and i honestly feel like even if you put them in there dj tj wins just because of this i would feel better i would feel worse for don jr if he didn't take out his pathetic insecurities on endangered species and like some of the most majestic creatures on earth any one of whom's life was worth that of and look at him he's trying to build a political 0:8:17 career around his ***** uh likes i mean how much more naked can the desperation be the government needs to make people like me more that's what it comes down to that's what that whole strain of conservative grievances it's the government's fault that people and they'll say no no no it's because they're throttling my content and they're shadow banning me and if it wasn't for those things blah blah blah it all boils down to you're not as popular as you think you should be it's just a pure pathology and that is and that is why um ***** somebody threw me off like people are talking 0:9:22 about nick land in the comments i'm like what why are we doing the neil reaction i mean we're a little are we are we wearing uh bell bottoms but now the reason that uh donald trump will never be president is because the naked need is too great he doesn't even have the ability to give it a patina of uh like policy gloss like trump's trump had built a wall and while i think that there is a core to the republican base that does care more than anything about their facebook likes i don't know maybe we'll get there maybe we'll get there if the if the snowman keeps melting the way that it is the republican party is going to be more housebound and more delusional and more convinced that the only thing that matters is whether or not people like them on the internet and therefore will be more responsive to a we really need baron to become the quinsacada rock it's really our only hope he needs to marry uh one of the obama's daughters and create the god emperor it's it's it has to happen it's the only way america's uh destiny can be salvaged from oblivion because the the the sire of that union would in fact be uh clearly the either antichrist uh or uh messiah either way this story is over and uh we will either get a thousand years of peace it would be really funny if kimberly guilfoyle is the one who was able to have a successful political career and donald trump jr had to be go from being a presidential uh son to like a senatorial husband that would no bear no bristle palin the palin's are second class the palin's are not one of the pure bloodlines are you ***** kidding me you two two years as governor of alaska than a national punching bag and then a failed campaign and then she what got a ***** uh reality tv show and instagram tummy tea ads out of it are you ***** kidding me obama the last two presidents the people who were able to will themselves to power through sheer craven need to be liked the only difference is that obama wanted the like of the specific uh cartier of elite power brokers whereas trump wanted the like of his dead father in the form of the mass of american public i.e everyone who and they both were driven to power one through just a focused ambition and cold-blooded pursuit of power the other threw a focused ambition on being famous and then oh what's this the fecklessness of one of these guys contributed to the degradation of the political process so that it becomes merely a question of entertainment and what's this the guy who's best at being famous is now also president oh so you've got the two strains of uh ambition the two str the two bloodlines of of will of power their the first born of the the the uh the firstborn product of their bloodlines coming together will be the napoleonic figure who embraces embodies and subsumes the contradictions of american and in fact global life within himself so yeah i'm gonna say sasha she's the older one right or malia the older one and uh baron shall mary i guess the younger one all right melea then malia obama and baron trump will produce the god somebody says who directs the donald trump jr biopic that's a very good question somebody were making a biopic or biopic as some weirdo say about donald trump jr who would play it well all the cocaine and twitchy energy makes you immediately think safeties and certainly they do good stuff about people who are in over their heads which donald trump jr definitely is but the thing is is that there isn't really an urgency underlining it because donald trump jr is never in physical or financial danger he is always going to be ignored from anything other than just public humiliation so you need somebody with less of an existential edge um i don't think that cohen's now no i don't think so that donald trump jr is such a pat character and such a path a a fair character of pathos that you need a director who is able to provide more of a clear transparent screen between themselves as creators and the character like what i mean is that if they if not if the cohen's did djtj it wouldn't be dj tj it would be some cohen brothers uh like uh riff on it which is it would be interesting but not what i would imagine in the ideal dj tj uh biopic because he feels like a character who could not who uh cannot be parodied it is just like a pure embodiment he's a uh alexander payne maybe he does like that verhoeven verhoeven would be funny but once again i don't think i want people who are going to heighten it too much i want people are going to play it like you guys are all thinking of these fun riffs and it's like okay that's an interesting idea but it's then if that's the question you're not really answering who's making a dj tj movie it's who is making a movie that's going to feature that as like a side character or something like who is making the this person himself as close as we can understand him the subject of a film uh there has to be adam mckay could do good with like this like the absurdity of his character and stuff but i worry that he would uh forget the pathos heidiker is not a bad idea well heidecker is such a great channeler of trump energy in general hey what if it was tim heidegger tim heidegger and eric uh scorsese no they're not catholic nope they're not catholic are you ***** harmony corinne's not a bad idea kundun is a catholic movie are you kidding me of course condones a catholic movie now i know martin scorsese can make movies about about non-catholics but i just don't think that the specific architecture of the this character's angst is too orthogonal to his his instinctive understanding of danny mcbride and jody hill yeah i guess also seems like one to one actually michael bay in pain and gain mode would do well i think in fact if donald trump jr could write a movie about himself and then have it directed by michael bay i think that has anybody ever said this about twitter before that it's essentially tech support for like the american experiment like people are essentially typing in their complaints about living the way you go to you know amazon or something if your package doesn't show up but there's no one manning it like we're all manning it we're we're just manning it there's no one actually like picking up the the message and responding to it safety brothers hunter Biden on the other hand now we're talking because you can see a death wish in hunter Biden's behavior that kind of you know uh that kind of thing where uh that they excel at where you create this situation where in most movies

the character the main character is like presumed alive and all and the joy is just following him through the things that pop up like their movies are the opposite is that the characters are doomed and the the tension is just seeing how they're going to uh be annihilated uh and like that's why i don't think dj tj would work because that guy he's a soft boy he's he he doesn't have that he does not have like the ambition of spirit that hunter does to be that tormented by what a loser he is he can get it all through getting coked up and going to cpac and and swapping knock knock jokes about he's never going to be in a situation i was thinking of lars von trier i think von sure could do donald trump jr for sure i think he could do hunter too honestly uh i'm actually going as halloween tomorrow i'm going to an outdoor gathering and it's going to be a little cold so i'm wearing i've got a combination it's it's pretty i think it's pretty brilliant i'm going to wear my red track suit but with my and then so i'll look exactly like teddy kgb basically but then on top of that to get meta i'm going to wear my uh official crew member jacket from the film conair so i'll be going as john malkovich if i can find any other stuff in and around my house that i could relate to another john malkovich role your based on the favorite i'd say yeah yo-yos could pull it off although i'm not a huge fan of his honestly i haven't really been blown yeah i know the tracksuit is rounders he's john malkovich he's dressed up like one character from who he he's wearing his jacket from a different movie that he was in dog tooth's okay i never got what everyone loved about dog tooth didn't really like the the deer movie was colin farrell lobster i actually actively disliked and uh the favorite was just all right for me dawg it was i'm actually excited for if if Biden does win i'm actually excited for the show for chapo afterwards because we're finally going to get to do what we had wanted to do originally when we thought hillary was going to ***** win which was to provide a like counter-cultural critique of a ruling democratic party from the left that refused to be absorbed into a coalition of government against the republicans because they're you know hey they're doing what they can or whatever ***** operated under obama and then we didn't get it and so we had to like coexist with these ***** this like resistance coalition this popular front uh and Biden gets in there especially during this ***** massive crisis we're gonna actually get to do what we always wanted to do which was to to peril to polarize the relationship between the democratic party and the punitive people who make it up and the fact that like i think there will for a while anyway be like a a reduction in cultural like ***** just as people take a that's going to be nice too to just not have everything be just this frenzied culture war at all times but of course we don't think we influence national politics i'm saying as an artistic enterprise that has value to me i don't ***** think it's gonna we're gonna like destroy the democrats just gonna hopefully the people who listen to the show can self-identify in such a way that can they can be a poll that other people are pulled towards they are to some extent it's a question of how much but the democrats must be destroyed i mean that was true in 2016. it's way more true now democrats delinda belden program could help with that hopefully i think everyone should i think anybody with a podcast should be cynical about their impact because to do otherwise is to i think lose perspective because i'm trying to pull away every day from the idea that the that the discourse represents a real project that the people engaging in it even though it makes them feel like they're part of a political project are actually part of one and i don't want to in any way indulge it's outside god why is everybody freaking out all the time i know that we're all in uh we're in corona uh apocalypse which who could have predicted but does i mean i don't know is trump right a little bit like he keeps saying that the deaths are down and the thing is deaths are down and it also doesn't seem like anyone seems to really care that we're way over the left like the records for transmissions no one cares like people are saying about another lockdown i'm not even hearing even a glimmer of of a suggestion anywhere like it does seem like we are without anyone being the one who's doing it everyone with our eyes closed like foot on the gas but not holding the holding the steering wheel going we're just gonna normalize this ***** it's just gonna normalize it's gonna be a thing that you have to factor into public life and existence working and going out you might catch the dang rhona yeah spain's in lockdown but we're not i will not get the rona i've already i've i i have i've i'm fairly i'm fairly certain until i get it and then i will have it is pretty astounding how badly we're europe's doing bad too it's not just the united states there's something else going on than just america's specific and honestly that makes me wonder could like people say that trump is responsible for all these deaths and i'm sure he's responsible for some because they did make a lot of terrible terrible decisions but what if you think that maybe like it not being contained and therefore the waves just kind of echoing off one another instead of ever recessive receding because you can't get it the lid on the thing is tightly enough doesn't that mean that eventually you get to uh like the same level of infection regardless that we would be around this number no because like the europeans are basically like there's they've got a bet they've got they're uh they're the slightly less advanced version of us they're the less neoliberalized less marketized version of us like they still have cultural uh uh you know they still have cultural resistance to full marketization they still have institutions that reflect that but uh and i mean obviously they are happy having that stripped away by the marketization of life but it's in a less advanced process than ours but the overall framework is the same because the results speak for themselves europe is once again completely ***** even though they don't have trump running around telling people that it honestly makes you think that sweden because they are the country of blank-eyed lutheran zombies for whom life is a walking shadow neither good nor bad just from futurama they could look through all the uh baffling obfuscations of cultural uh denial no no no we're a country that can value life and we can have it both ways we can keep the economy and keep people alive and we because we all this frenzy lock down lock up unlock and it goes through you all you got to you just have to get to the end 0:33:59 of the the denial cycle and i'm not saying like that would that's like better than a successful project but clearly nobody had the capacity in the western world to pull off a successful ***** uh project of containment because china did very well obviously vietnam did very well and is still doing well new zealand does not get to brag there are two tiny ass islands in the middle of nowhere islands honestly don't get to brag too much any island where you can just shut off uh the border to me does not get 0:35:2 to brag during the 30 years war it was often commented that the swedish soldiers were terrifying to the catholic armies that faced them because they marched into battle with completely slack expressions they didn't appear to be alive it was like an army of the dead and people were freaked out by it all those lusty bohemians and bavarians those those uh those beer garden and uh and vineyard i gotta say the fact 0:36:5 that new zealand legalized euthanasia but not weed that one has got me performed because like there are certain social issues that kind of bundle together the kind of people who worry about the sanctity of life being violated by allowing people to opt out of life themselves uh are generally also hostile to the notion of bringing another intoxicant into the realm of the possible so first because they are concerned about social cohesion like that's their conservative principle that is animating that you can talk about how it's all actually racism or whatever and it there's a lot of that too but that's like the the logic of it so they often run in parallel and yet people are like yeah you should get to kill yourself but marijuana it's no good i mean what do they think what do they think we does did they just get reefer madness over there they just watched it if you've already got because honestly like there are arguments to be 0:37:8 made to you know in a functioning society uh have restrictions on certain drugs i think once again not in this social order but in a functioning society to have a social taboo that maybe must be enforced in some way against certain substances just because of the the the way that they could you know be socially uh uh dangerous uh but if you say any argument you make any drug you'd make uh make that argument for if you agree that alcohol is is not one of them then you have no leg to stand on on weed i'm sorry if you've got legal alcohol then there is no standing to ban wheat because alcohol is by far more socially corrosive than marijuana could ever hope to be in any access you choose so while i agree that there are theoretical places where the law should prescribe certain dangerous uh indulgences because of their 0:38:9 socially destabilizing nature if we have metabolized ***** alcohol at a social level

and accepted that amount of uh then this is not a society that is actually caring about social cohesion when they ban uh a drug banned so yeah like the alcohol line for me means that basically everything we call on the illegal drug in this country you're telling on yourself as a society about why you actually have these things banned that it has nothing to do with preserving a social order because you allow in this thing and yes they tried to ban it and actually the experience of prohibition helped reform the american relationship to alcohol american alcohol consumption 0:39:11 plunged uh and there's a number of reasons for that of course the the shift from uh you know people working on farms living in cities is one of the big reasons honestly because you couldn't be shit-faced at work all day but part of it was the experience of prohibition like made made like the social relationship with alcohol fraught and made people reassert it because you know one of the big driving forces of prohibition was the woman's suffrage movement and it was considered a uh a feminist issue because women thought that men were beating the hell out of their wives because they were drunk all the time and even if you might say well that's just treating a symptom not the cause but what i'm saying is that coming out of prohibition we had metabolized alcohol as a social ill that means anything less than alcohol we can 0:40:13 metabolize and when you consider how much less than alcohol many of the ones that are still banned are like any hallucinogen certainly kratom i mean my god get me out of here katie bar the door we love our kratom folks don't we love it i could never i could the the the the ephemeral pleasure of ingesting kratom for me would 0:41:14 never outweigh the visceral disgust of consuming it people keep asking me about me maradona why would i i mean he's a left-wing soccer guy from argentina who cheated argentina to a world cup in the 80s however hallucinogens have not been absorbed into capitalism outside of the i mean in that sense everything's absorbed in account every every every commodity is absorbed into capitalism and that is true i mean the the black market like drug money undergirds is the is the liquid engine of global capitalism like one of the things that saved the global economy from a complete uh shutdown in 2008 was the liquidity the system that was injected in the form of massive amounts of laundry drug money that existed in the oh if you mean 0:42:15 like like guys taking acid to like be better capitalists california man the does this that that the the post-60s turn after the cultural shift the after cultural change uh had had exhausted its capacity to change the political structure in the 70s people will look inward and in california a bunch of people came together and said the system is immovable the system is corrosive the system is soul destroying we must transcend it by essentially seceding from the system and creating our own systems not as a class of course but as individuals and the internet became the way that and they are so 0:43:17 tunneled into their notion of like innovation and technological advancement being the

cynic of human consciousness raising like they basically looked at the failed structures of american life and said the only way we're out getting out of this is a technological solution because the political is uh is foreclosed there is a technological solution to our social ailments our social sickness that we all experience during vietnam and the civil rights movement the sickness we knew was in the heart of the system and we tried to change it and it didn't work we're going to change it technologically and then they are so fully in they're so at base convinced of this fact that they are pursuing this hyper capitalism that is dissolving the world into liquid goo into a ***** uh you know nanobots of of exchange they're accelerating they're hyper accelerating towards this point because it's the only thing that they think can uh transcend our 0:44:19 dying system our dying social order and so when they take mushrooms when they take acid they do the mind expansion when they like commune with the collective unconscious and the eternal you know moment they're doing it through the lens of technology through the lens of applying the thin wedge of reality to like pry open the actual atoms of existence as opposed to uh you know the broader questions of why you would be doing that in the first place and that means that they're so far from that that and they're so baffled and uh self-deceived by the fact that what they think they're moving towards what they think that they're cooperating off of this road map towards utopia is actually just the algorithm of the value form and of uh uh profit extraction that's it they are some of them know that but many of 0:45:20 them i i don't think no at least or they don't want to know and it allows them to to uh yeah they've they're they're captured and that's why you can never do the thung hey man they should just spike the water or whatever people bring to the experience of hallucinogens their own minds and that can be changed and the fact that you get hit orthogonally to your life can make that productive but it doesn't have to be productive if you hit the wrong thing it clangs and then oh boy like if anyone's seen mandy the guy who leads the the uh the cult that kills mandy and provokes the rage of nicholas cage jeremiah sand who's sort of a a man inspired man a manson-esque figure he's a guy who leads an acid cult and he's a former uh and failed uh musician which is like manson was and there's a part where he has mandy uh kidnapped and he's dosed her with lsd and he's on lsd and he explains to her 0:46:22 how in a moment of uh of uh transcendent you know highness of of of tripping he felt like the universal forgiveness you know for all and that's a real component of any like spiritual experience a knowledge of like how everything that ever happened had to happen the way that it did and therefore there is no blame and therefore you can be forgiven that is always there and he says i had that but then he said and that told me that that means that anything in the world is for me and i can take it and it's and then then i can do anything wrong and it's like no no no no no that

oh oh am i on here finally is it oh there we go i always feel very very old when i'm trying to start the stream because sometimes it doesn't go and i had to do it three times and i was like oh boy so i just i'm like grandpa trying to get the damn vcr to work let's go no embarrassing but i am old i'm a boomer you can call i'm boomy boomy boom boom i'm big boy boomer i remember i remember when vh1 i remember when mtv showed videos can you believe that yeah i was writing about the world series i said the dodgers and that made sense because like they've been so cursed right in the last few times they've gotten to the playoffs that what better time for them to win than in the most cursed season like that is an asterisk season i gotta say that seems like so i was thinking today about how much how donald trump is a genius i talked about a little bit on the show we just recorded uh and i think it's a good one but there's a lot of talk about like trump's murder dumb and i think when you're talking about like the stuff that you're supposed to be uh that you're supposed to be doing when you're president traditionally like the job is theoretically supposed to contain no he doesn't care about that stuff and so it doesn't matter trump i mean if genius is the ability through application of will and ability shape the world the into some warped version of the world of the way you want to see it like that's i would say the genius is when you are able to grab reality through some application of some ability mental or physical and some skill and some just in a deep bottomless desire drive towards it a combination of those things is genius as we define it that's how i define it anyway donald trump is a genius who applied his genius to the singular task of being famous and if you want to get simplistic about it it's because his dad never loved him and honestly that seems cliché but you know a lot of the times it can be that simple i mean when you see his pathological lifelong need to be recognized by others because of an in of this hugely indulged ego that centers a complete absence and a terror of of uh of being bad of being insufficient of being unloved and madly he seeks through his whole life to have people talking about him reflecting well on him so he can fill that hole and he drove himself towards the goal the singular goal of being famous however it happened was incidental like he wasn't a genius business he was a very bad businessman but he didn't have to be good at business in fact his business plan was being famous he got so famous that once his ability to uh actually manage businesses was revealed to be non-existent and he started going bankrupt his name was too valuable to let him actually lose any of that ***** uh position or or equity because if he didn't own it well then who the hell did and then debts get called in and the whole thing falls apart and so his name became this thing that could also be used as a money laundering front and then he also became it was able to drive himself towards becoming a actual game show host and that's why he's president and then he ran for president because somebody's he was being talked about but in a negative way and it drove him crazy he needed 0:4:10 to drown out that negative thought and he did it by running for president and he wasn't trying and what i'm trying to say is that donald trump is a genius because this man who doesn't know or care about any traditional element of becoming a politician either from the point of view of having a political philosophy caring about anything politically one way or the other having any any coherent political beliefs at all and then trying to apply them to any subject from economics to civics ethics anything nothing uh uh and then also just like the the job of being a politician of of like conforming to sort of the the media uh uh uh ecosystem in such a way that you like maintain homeostasis you don't create too much sparks and tension and and uh and hostility whether you're able to stay under the radar and stay stay viable uh by massaging you know all the instincts that all the stuff that goes into being 0:5:13 a politician or a policy maker of any kind or a human being he puts no effort into singular pursuit of fame meant that he became president by accident he did a thing that some of the brightest minds of american history have sought with their entire body and spirits many of them have been dashed across against the rocks of their own ambition others of them few of them have miraculously made it to the ascent to the top all of them powered by this gnawing need to be uh the president trump just wanted to be the most famous person in the world and that just eventually led him to by definition becoming the president of the united states who is generally the most famous person in the world so he wasn't trying to be president he was trying to be the most famous person in the world and by seeking that so successfully and singularly so trump's not stupid what's stupid is any system that could produce that result any system that would create a political structure that would incentivize and 0:6:14 uh and select for being psychotically good only at getting but we bungled that that ship sailed but i honestly think trump's done for uh and today the real honestly more than any polls i've seen and there have been some really eye-dropping ones or eye-popping ones one that showed that trump is uh trump won people who said they disliked both candidates by almost 20 points in 2016 and right now people who say they dislike vocal candidates prefer biden by almost that much like those the breakers and the late breakers last time went incredibly far for trump way out of proportion even to historic trends that's not going to happen this time almost by definition because he's the incumbent and and traditionally incumbents uh uh are not the choice of late-breaking voters like breaking voters tend to break against 0:7:16 incumbents and then you have the fact that trump is uh people look dislike him more than they dislike job unless you're a real psycho trump wrist you don't really hate job and honestly do they even really hate joe biden he's sleepy joe they have to make up the idea that he's a puppet of antifa but most people don't think that because he's sleepy joe so i don't even really hate him enough to like drive it and yeah the covet spike i mean it was predictable people all said brace for a second wave in the fall it's because that's how these things work and yeah here it is i mean we never got it's not it's our third wave because we unlike the rest of other a lot of other countries allowed us they never really ended the first wave and created like a second wave of the summer that's the real trump difference is that and you might honestly though if it turns out that we end up having this thing for years and we end up somewhere near here like actual herd immunity just by incompetence and 0:8:17 inability to do anything else uh it ended up might not be a difference like this you're gonna have the same number dead just like maybe different names but if there is some sort of biden coveted plan that's going to turn us around uh then i'm sure we'll see that but the thing is voters even if they don't believe that's going to happen they're going to pick it they're going to pick not this because they know this isn't working unless you already buy into trump premises this isn't working but anyway uh the real nail in the coffin for me more than any of the polls uh is the court ruling specifically the one today by a federal court just judge who is one of the most nakedly partisan uh just uh judges on the federal bench rejecting a a republican party uh injunction request to have a hundred thousand plus uh harris county votes invalidated because they were collected at a drive-through uh location instead of 0:9:19 a fixed polling place a classic fa absolutely uh uh fraudulent basis like prima facie ridiculous but that doesn't matter and the the judge today the last hope of this thing he shot it down and to me this is confirming what i suspected which is that there is now no question that the uh the apparatus exists within the federal government just specifically within its judiciary and its currently aligned uh state legislatures in key swing states that if there is anything like a close election the republican party has a veto override on the outcome i i think that's true with coney coney 2020 on the bench uh i think it is they have that the only question is when would they press that button for trump and i say the answer is they wouldn't okay i'm back on okay 0:10:23 i'm back i'm back i'm back i've not been redacted but i did lose my train of thought

what was i saying **** oh uh why they're not gonna go out uh it's essentially a question of how much they'll be willing to stick their neck out how much they're willing to break norms now as i have said all norms will be broken if they have to be but it is like an emergency type situation and will people in power in the republican party specifically in this judiciary and in these state legislatures where there's not as much scrutiny like not no one of them is ever going to lose their job because they fail to stop biden from winning people will just get mad at the deep state and the media and stuff and they'll get and they will not blame the dop for allowing it to happen uh i really don't think so so they have the freedom to to operate off of their self-interest as members of a party clique which is they are what they are which are independent from the interests of trump and trumpism which is entirely based on his personal uh uh uh not even political objectives but personal like mood objectives 0:11:26 and that there's no reason that they would want to have to spend being the party in power during a giant recession and continued covet crisis dealing with this guy's ego as the sole basis for party policy especially since they got what they wanted out of them judiciary locked up the veto in place if there ever comes a point like say bernie was on the ballot this time and it was closer for some reason and there's a few jump states they would press that they'd mash that button you wouldn't even have it wouldn't be a question of people matching it everyone would come spontaneously to the decision the self-interested decision that this is what we're gonna do just like there didn't need to be a big plan before uh before the 2000 election as soon as that ball got in the air and it was tipped they just everyone knew what to do because everyone knew what the stakes were at least the republicans of course the democrats weren't doing that the republicans instantly knew what the stakes were and that's all you need is everyone understanding the stakes and moving towards those ends at the same time then you have a spontaneous judicial coup and that will happen but i don't think it's going to happen in this election one because i don't think it's in it for 0:12:28 in it for the average republican judge or republican legislator for trump to win really especially at the risk of deepening a political crisis that might eventually snap back in their face of course there's no real reason to fear the current democratic party but you can't guarantee what's going to happen in even the median term considering how deeply deep the crisis is i mean some of these people know that but the other one and the other one is that i don't think it's going to be close enough you would need to have like three or f the idea that's all going to come down to pennsylvania i just if that's the case polling is not a thing anymore maybe it isn't but i think you need extraordinary evidence to make a claim so i'm going to hold off and say for now since i'm only predicting and this is why predicting things is stupid like it's an if then situation if polls are broken then trump will win but like well are they i don't know

no one knows but yeah predicting stuff i talk about how like arguments online are exist just to be had and some in some cases i think people are aware of that at some level and i think i hope people are aware at some level that like people predicting who's going to win that that is purely ornamental speech but i don't know the way people get invested in it and the way that like they're signaling something by which uh thing they're predicting and how that speaks to their like overall credibility and whatever even though you're just talking about a snapshot of a moment and there's so many variables that nobody can have confirmed until we get some actual results it seems like you're uh you're putting your you're demanding too much of this as an emotional uh load star of conversation and and concern about investing ideas about who it is i speak for myself but i see a lot of and i usually i've tried not to do too much of it but it is literally tomorrow so i'm kind of psyching up because i'm gonna have to talk about it a lot and then one way or another i think there's going to be a big it's really interesting so we're not going to get catharsis no matter what happens no catharsis but i also don't think an explosion but i also don't know if we can continue the level of pitchiness without an explosion i think the only way to square that circle is if there's thwarted orgasm ruined orgasm as they say in the internet and just sort of like a refractory period i don't know i just think everyone's still gonna be miserable and tense there's not gonna be any kind of exhalation but i was also like even if trump wins there's not gonna be some apocalyptic confrontation with the state even if trump does a coup there's not going to be that there's going to be hyper normalization but how do we assimilate that at considering the level of uh tension and the fact that people are literally running out of money running out of money so there's a real material wick burning away in the background of all this cultural uh frenzy that the election is provoking and that's the thing that's really driving it like that's the actual engine and it doesn't appear to be that there's any chance that it's going to be extinguished before it hits the ***** lame dump trunk will be very fun lame dump lane dump trump lame duck trump will be funny very funny uh i honestly think that if it's with if it's around nine or ten points which i think is really reasonable at this point to think of as an interp of a vote gap i think even with states not declaring right away i don't think trump's gonna have anything like the ambiguity in the air to even get the wheels spinning especially when you see these early decisions uh kind of setting the tone um but he and so he's gonna give it a go i think but the thing to remember about trump the most fundamental facet of him is that he is a coward which means that as soon as there's a bit of resistance he will crumble as soon as he makes a half-assed like uh request to like the joint chiefs uh and then they they rebuke him he will ah the famous turtle dick simile yes i've got turtle dicks on the mind because i'm always not far from thinking about mitch mcconnell i would be funny if he like literally crumbled into dust as soon as uh the new congress is inaugurated like he just he willed his body to stay together long enough to get the judiciary completely zipped up for a generation and then he just am i not sir at long last totally enough for the turtle club sir i ask you have you no sense of turtlehood at long last i mean people are going to go a little nutty that's going to be interesting but i see the vast majority of these suburban warriors everyone's kind of deciding to freak out about they're not going to do anything they're not gonna do anything there might you might see some uh some of those awesome like protests like where they drive onto the road and just park their cars it's perfect like you could hey go to the drive-in and get a ***** uh guess get a soda and a burger and then just sit there and honk your horn what are they gonna storm uh state houses they're gonna raid armories no they're not going to do any of that a couple of their more unbalanced kids might do some sort of uh elliot roger ***** but that's at this point that's just a background radiation and then of course you gotta factor in domestic gladio but i honestly think for at least a little bit i think that the powers that be are gonna try to ***** down like tamping up was good for a while it was especially good when bernie was going on tamping up was good but now especially especially considering how high it got they're gonna want to tamp down a little bit so i wouldn't be surprised if the gladios got turned down although instead of uh or the gladios get busted more and you get just a bunch of uh fake fbi entrapment stings like the one they did in michigan to justify uh like the state and and like turn the left around on uh on the deep state basically because hey we live in reality and these institutions are the only thing standing us between us and the ravening mob the fascist hordes it'll be very interesting to see how q metabolizes the trump loss uh at this point i'm sure most of them are too far gone to consider that oh no maybe this was a dumb idea i think some of them will because you know not everybody's at the same level of commitment and of an imaginative you know an emotional uh uh identification and transference to it you know like people internalize concepts like cued at a point where it's like an identity and once that's the case nothing can change it because it's too fundamentally existentially terrifying because if you're not that what are you and that's a question that most people don't want to answer so it will have to for some good chunk of these guys it's going to have to be turned into something else and it'll be very interesting to see like trump is occluded is he is he going off to to summon god's angels and commence like a right like wait for the sign of his return i think that stuff might be i mean if it is just a modern-day gloss on the the evangelical christ story then it would make sense that it would it would culminate with like i think a a figure who essentially becomes the messiah like trump is no longer just because you know for for christians right for self-identified christians their leaders

are their ideas of jesus you know that's one of the big reasons that people said that's so hypocritical for them to love trump so much but they viewed trump as like this embodiment of uh like this embodiment of all the that is worldly and corrupt but who it has like a godly soul which is of course the fate of all christians who know deep down that they lived the botched and fallen lives that they are totally slaves to the flesh slaves to the lives they have that they don't really have a spiritual sense at all uh and that they but they seek to transcend that that shadow knowledge and trump him stepping down for power can become some sort of passion play that you know will presage a redemptive resurrection that will then finally abolish the distinction between the world matter and the kingdom of heaven so i'm looking forward to it if that uh everyone has such opinions about daylight savings i can't i can't seem to care i don't know i like the fall back i like the extra hour i know people don't like that it gets dark early but it's not like abolishing the penny which i am much more passionate about it's just a symbol of how the like the the built the dependency bias of like a large bureaucratic state is genuinely infuriating it's one of those things that you need to have like democratic controls on the mechanisms of state to prevent like when it comes down to it the reason we still have pennies is because there are more people who are more deeply invested in the production of pennies than there are people who are even aware of like pennies as a stupid thing that we shouldn't have like because the it's essentially i think the copper lobby or something wants to maintain demand as a lobby that keeps the bucket that makes sure nobody even comes near the penny and who's going to make the penny their priority and that's what you would need you'd need enough people to have make the penny their priority to make it a litmus test of involvement in government or politics and that's just not going to happen because who is what is the vested capitalist interest in not having the penny and since there isn't one it'll just continue forever and that is a small silly example but it it it's this rolling ball of gunk that fills every piston of governance and you know people say that that's that's like oh that's bureaucracy that's the nature of the state well no in this case in a lot of cases it's the nature of capitalist capture of the state like the specific interest capture that's part of the broader you know assimilation between like ideally i think from the from the liberal model of the state not the way it is but the way they theorize it is that yes you know they will admit maybe if you really corner them all right yes liberal the liberal uh government liberal bourgeois government it really is the executive committee of capitalism but i'm a liberal i think capitalism is good and if we're going to have it which we should we should have it integrated into a system of democratic check that can prevent the colliding and uncoordinated uh short-term interests of specific capitalist concerns from leading to a accumulation of inefficiency and conf waste more than anything

uh that essentially make the government no longer functional either and and turn eventually government towards the specific uh interests or perceived interests of a smaller section of capital that maybe doesn't know what the ***** it actually does want maybe it because it cannot see beyond the end of its nose and it brings the whole edifice down and they would say no we don't want that we want we want uh we want a uh seamlessness there between the interests uh and and they and checking 0:25:50 the emergence of like specific uh capital formations taking power over the overall and conservatives point to that and say no look this is bureaucracy this is bureaucracy this is this is the doom of the liberal uh cons uh uh this is the doom of the liberal conception of state and liberals only real response is uh no we gotta just get rid of the corruption but it's like well where how if the whole system is powered by money at every point and it is just a piston response system of industries uh you know engaging with industries and and capitalist individuals in firms and such uh and individually like interacting with the government and producing outcomes that they want for themselves uh eventually wherever there's more concentration of capital there's gonna be more concentration of influence and that means there's no way to have the system that you're imagining you can have unless you eliminate profit and 0:26:52 you eliminate capitalism from the mechanism and you clear that out of the out of the the so that's like a a central right-wing critique of like the liberal project and once again as with all these things the finger points backward it's not crony capitalism it's capitalism capitalism becomes crony inherently no matter what kind of uh equal uh playing field you're starting from and of course you're never starting from one it just accumulates pockets that then uh self-deal so even your even your i uh idealized liberal state will not be able to prevent specific interests from overwhelming any generalized interest because remember the liberal idea is sure yes it's capitalism it's it's the it's the executive board of capitalism but capitalism is just the accumulated choices of people that's the liberal idea it's like the yeah of course the market should 0:27:54 be this the total thing because the market is the expression of choices of people and therefore what they want to do is what should be done and therefore the state should just coordinate it and make sure that it's it can't exist within like a a safe space of like market transaction but even on its own terms it fails because of the unequal distribution of uh capital within industries and within interest segments and demographics that buckle it and turn it even away from your idealized notion of a general will that is expressed through you got to get rid of the profit you gotta get rid of the capitals you have to just you have to socialize the surplus i would love to 0:28:57 be an admiral someone said general will admiral matt what was the other one who is felix going to be colonel colonel yeah he's he's like those ops guys you know they don't want to be on a desk so they're not general generally maybe a captain even i'm not really cold it's in the 40s it really is i run hot anyway and i grew up in the frozen wastes so i generally don't get very cold but i gotta say a lot of people are wondering what's going to happen in the coming weeks and months and i've decided and it's going to be a little bit because i've made a few commitments i now realize you know uh in the immediate going on some other shows to talk about what i think is going to happen i'm really hoping though that like after sort of getting it out of my system following this you know this specific pageant that we all get psychically fixated on every two years or four depending on your level of intensity of worship um i'm going to stop trying to predict anything because without the election coming up there's nothing to peg it on it's all vaguely in the future and so there's less of a pressure to specifically opine on things going to happen so i'm going to try as much as i can i'm going to make a conscious effort to reduce my amount of predicting things because it really is uh it's catnip it's it's it's a it's a uh it's an people are saying is chapel gonna be funny undermine i honestly think it's gonna be a whole new i know this is self-serving but if mine wins there's going to be some hijinks because like he's going to be president you know his brain is jelly he is so out to launch in a completely different way than trump is which means we're not going to get you know it's not going to be boring just very funny and then the fact that they're going to have to dress up whatever like uh monstrous neoliberal regime they're going to do out in like uh like inclusive woke language and the army of people who are gonna try to do it on its behalf and the number of people who are gonna go from like prison abolitionists to like talking about working within the system and understanding like what the realm of the possible is oh that's going to be finger looking good seriously they're going to be so many people who couldn't support bernie because he didn't he was like against he wasn't for reparations or some ***** are gonna be ***** bending over backwards to defend this old white man imposing this austerity uh authoritarian neoliberalism it'll be it'll be worthy fodder and the way they're gonna like have kamala out there to try to like remind people hey they're a few it's not it's not it's not this old skeleton there's a new pup there's a new bottle i'm gonna we're gonna do a ritual dances like the spirit of the party is gonna infuse me and now it's gonna be all bouncy and inclusive to match our messaging even though the actual policy is the same cheese grater to the soul what man i got to say that that video of uh of of schumer saying i got i heard about this veteran who lost his job to decoved and then got his house taken away and killed himself and how as a result we're going to introduce legislation to require police to require and fund uh local police to do inter i mean this is this is the ratchet effect it's like you make the life on top intolerable and then conditions of intolerability create uh you know pathologies and then you you put all of your energy into fighting these things that are direct outgrowths of the system like look at ***** france like look at macron macron is doing one of the most disgusting and cynical ***** pieces of politicking i've seen in a long time i honestly say more like self-consciously evil than almost anything trump's done uh so the boy the boy wonder 0:34:11 macron knows that he is on a knife's edge that he is like the the opinion poster man for this this unbridled neoliberal state that is like coming for the french way of life like they're fighting but they're coming for it and the resistance to that is it's it's it's not polarized the law from right to left culturally like there's a big right-wing chunk of it like like the front national and then you know you got melanchon and stuff and macron knows that you know the french love love picking somebody to fix this intractable crisis uh not do anything and then get really mad at them and throw them out and he doesn't want to be that he doesn't want to be chump bait so what he's doing is he has decided to declare war on like a separatist islam uh in order to polarize that right-wing populism towards him and mobile and and uh and 0:35:12 undermine the the the risk that uh the national front and marine le pen who le pen was the uh opponent in the last the run-off opponent to the winner in the last two presidential elections and and i think got a significantly larger vote the second time he saw the writing on the wall potential the arc of that and he wanted to interrupt it very much like cameron deciding to do a brexit vote to neutralize ukip cynical manipulation of a cultural problem that is caused by the fact that uh i mean yeah there's like cultural issues with france in uh assimilating anybody but there's this fundamental you know perpetuating uh uh neoliberal austerity and specifically the fact that like that french you know uh way of life was never really extended to um muslims who came to france and and they exist as a economic underclass and these things cannot and will not be addressed instead you hit the beehive with a stick to 0:36:13 get everyone frenzied to to essentially make any kind of class project impossible and now like ***** horrible shit's gonna happen like the guy gets killed a teacher gets killed there's attacks and people say well look at this is this proof he was right it's like well he's right that there is a problem that he literally is completely invested in not doing anything about except to profit from the creation of it someone says uh do i think that chapel would have been funnier if hillary had won i know that that's what we thought at the time because we had basically prepared for hillary winning and had a had an idea what to do with it uh i don't know i mean she's very funny 0:37:14 but she's also kind of she's got um she's got x-pock heat you know what i mean and yes some of it is some of it is gendered i'm not i'm going to admit but it's not entirely like hillary clinton has a transparent hatred that she hides behind this screen of fakeness that is so revolting to me anyway and yes it's probably gendered to a degree but it's it's i feel it like resonating like off of like but my fillings and i don't know if that would have like made it less amazing over time or if that would have made it funnier i don't know uh i do think we did pretty good making fun of giving the business to the old uh orange uh the old the old mango mussolini uh the saffron uh the saffron satrap i don't know uh but we're gonna find out if making fun of you 0:38:15 know the uh the wokification of neoliberalism i do think that the the the hairpin turn that's going to happen with the maximalist rhetoric around around around identity issues that has been whipped up like the notion that we are in this like hell hole of white supremacy that requires immediate revolution and that you can't reform this i think that is gonna pop and watching the fallout from that and seeing the entire media try to act like not only is this decrepit old man uh some sort of uh civil rights 0:39:17 icon and uh slay queen but uh that he's not mentally incapacitated because you've got to figure he's they're not gonna be able to do i mean trump proves that you don't actually have to do anything to be president i mean he watched tv all day like they could put him in front of a tv it wouldn't even have to be on um but you still have to give speeches you know and you still have to do semi-regular contact just to like shape the narrative because you know you're the one everyone looks to and that's going to be a lot of stress on the brake pads he's going to be smoking and you'll have an attire and the media will be very funny to watch to watch these guys who spent the last four years you know doing the whole resistance insurgents thing you know p uh descent is patriotic uh deciding that the deep state uh that the the police uh the 0:40:21 police power of the united states is now legitimate john biden was pretty sharp in the debates i said although the first one he was really blown off the blocks by trump and then uh centering his like stream of consciousness i don't know it's like next to trump i guess it's okay but he really does get he can you see in his eyes he doesn't know where he is i guess i would say and that happened multiple times during the debates like you could there there would always there was a there's these moments when you know you're arguing it's like answer the question and uh somebody will like have to be like wait what was the question because you know it was a long clause he would have those moments but you could tell it wasn't about what the question was it was like deeper than that it was where am i what is this like he was having to 0:41:22 go he was having to like collect himself more than just what question were you asking like there's no there's no adherence to anything other than the very narrow tunnel in front of him he has this way that he like tries to name three things and by the third one he just runs out of gas he was talking about how uh trump is inciting racial uh hatred and he goes praising charlottesville telling them they're very fine people building a wall it's all a mexican's rapist just going out there and doing all kinds of stuff i can't get to a third specific example can't actually engage beyond just the most capaciously nerf like sentences and and uh and phrases that just it's like it's like somebody getting like a diamond ring in a giant box filled with p packing peanuts

like there's like the actual the actual content of the senses he says even in a debate 0:42:23 where people said he was good are just these tiny little kernels and it's just the rest of it's just uh peanut packing peanuts and i don't i wouldn't be surprised if they try to have him step down depending on how like the the whole operation goes i mean maybe maybe dr jill biden is the 21st century edith wilson maybe she's able to lock that ***** down her and like her hand-picked chief of staff are able to lock it down i don't know maybe the obamas take over maybe rahm emanuel is the man maybe the clintons somehow stage a ***** comeback like uh hillary sneaks in disguised as a uh as an intern i do not think that he will run for reelection that's for sure it's funny 0:43:26 as and i also have to say though like whatever adrenochrome based therapies they have for these guys work well because before the primary before the uh convention i was half convinced and a few times i was able to fully convince myself that they were going to try to switch him out because he was transparently not up for the job i think eventually they realized that kovid kind of covered for a lot of it and they were able to reserve him they were able to keep him like on the battery saver mode in a way they wouldn't have been able to do he didn't really do a basement he was out and about but like they were able to curtail it in a way they would have been able to do if it was a normal election uh and i didn't maybe i didn't anticipate that how how well that would go in terms of not hurting his polling like i kind of my assumption was him not being out there was gonna hurt his polling but no turns out he's the alternative all these things are set all this stuff's baked in nobody's really considering moment-to-moment changes really other than at the margins and those people aren't really paying attention to you know how much he talks and what he sounds like in his or his record or anything like that he's just the not trump option which i think is 0:44:27 going to be the more popular option and so they got him through they're going to get him through election day i don't know at the rigors of the office like i said it might not be rigorous but it's going to be a question of the power dynamic that emerges in the white house and that's the thing i can't know so once again i'm see i'm still i'm still predicting things i'm still ***** predicting things i said after the election though so the election still happened it hasn't happened yet i'm getting it out of my system i'm trying to use this week to squeeze all the ***** toothpaste out of my tube and leave me you know i thought i think jim carrey's uh joe biden impression is actually a decent impression of joe biden like he kind of has the same croaky voice like some of the same intonations as him the difference is is that he is much more 0:45:29 coherent than joe biden which is why it's not a funny impression and the reason it's it's it's not good as like an impression for something like snl is because impressions are supposed to exaggerate things to make them funny instead what jim carrey has done is he has taken all the absurd things about joe biden and sanded them down into a less terrifying least uh uh incoherent uh like like a friendly grandfather like they literally had him do uh uh the fred robinson uh did fred robinson uh the the mr rogers ***** with the ***** like they're they're they're not trying to say wow isn't that they're trying to like enforce that that's manufacturing consent because the snl writers are and cast are in an unprecedented fashion uh just clearly doing propaganda on behalf of the biden campaign because they literally brought a guy in who's known for doing big wacky exaggerated uh stuff to do a version where joe biden is boringly coherent and maybe he'll just maybe he maybe he wanders off a little bit 0:46:30 grandpa but you know at the end of the day he's still he's still sharp as attack he's spry i mean that's a that's a that's serving a campaign function of course maybe it's just the fact that like they already don't really exaggerate anything about trump uh baldwin that's because you can't exaggerate trump i think you can exaggerate biden or you could at least not do the opposite of humor with the character like this they're trying to be funny with trump they're deliberately not being funny with the biden impression they're putting their ***** thumb on the scale and the thing is it's like if you're a conservative i can see why that's alienating it allows you to feel like you're oppressed and if you're not oppressed but i can understand why seeing like all of the tv stations of which we only have a finite number all the things that have like 0:47:31 a cachet of mainstream culture and are accessible across like a broad demographic are all in alignment against you i mean that's why they give yeah like uh that's why the good impressions of trump uh not mine because i do try to exaggerate it but i'm trying to just like do a soul i'm just trying to do a soul impression people are trying to like make it sound like him you can't make it sound like him more and make him funnier you can just sound like him and then it's what you talk about and it's just doing a it's it's having his words come out of the mouth of someone else folks you can't do it you're so good scooby-doo i have kept up with a good lord bird 0:48:39 still have not warmed to it i guess i see what he's trying to do it's not terrible i just haven't really found it terribly engaging like forgetting any ideological or historical issues with it i have found a lot of uh just the stuff isn't very interesting i mean it just doesn't it doesn't interest me as a uh gloss on the material which you know i'm familiar with like i'm not really learning a lot here so it's an interpretation and i'm not really grabbing it's nothing that grabs me the come lord bird come on that's chat come on i think we're better than that very very crude fargo uh ooh terrible sprinkles not jimmy's i'm not a i don't know there's like nothing i like about like 0:49:47 the fargo season i don't like the heavy-handed way that it plays its uh its themes i don't like a lot of the performances that like that the italian brother is like he's in a silent movie and chris rock is not a good actor never has been he's a stand-up comedian and the characters aren't interesting i um if trump wins revolution no to 0:51:6

put it lightly no the one thing i know is that if trump wins it will be by stealing it but that no matter how if he successfully steals it it will be uh not metabolized as a coup it will have a patina a fig leaf of legitimacy enough so that as outraged as people get they will for the most part talk themselves off of the precipice of doing anything about it because at the end of the day they are relatively comfortable only in the sense that they would perceive their precarity more than anything they could win out of some sort of apocalyptic but i think that anything that would like actually look like a coup to the point where it could not be metabolized you know just canceled election guns in the streets that kind of thing they wouldn't do that like i said the forces that would do that are not invested in trump enough to do it on his behalf ah waukesha wisconsin uh fascinating place so crucial waukesha county as it's called is one of the gop strongholds in wisconsin it is the county directly west of milwaukee and it is the white flight uh headquarters uh it is where everybody went in the 60s the blockbusting within city neighborhoods was uh successful and they are uh very concerned about public transit out there they really don't like the extension of bus lanes they really don't like the idea of any metropolitan rail system we had a we had a mayor of milwaukee who was like kind of a mini uh daily there he was got he was mayor for like 16 years his his machine ran the city his name was norquist and his single policy objective of his ***** 16 years in office was to extend some sort of light rail system connecting the suburbs to the city and it was the providing political project of the generation of politicians that scott walker emerged out of actually the guys around mike mark belling and like the talk radio and uh and like waukesha county republican uh uh political uh leader you know uh formation uh and and they vote a lot they vote their votes come in suspiciously late sometimes uh and they off they often form the uh the margin in a lot of like off-year races and stuff like uh especially supreme court which is lamentably elected in wisconsin which means for a long time uh right wing uh would just buy it by spending more on ads than their democrats could raise but yeah it's very racialized as you could imagine milwaukee being one of the most violently segregated big cities in america i think number one by many metrics i i went to college there but of course like it's been uh diversifying a little bit recently the irony of irony is there uh for me is that so waukesha was originally a resort town it had a it had a system of hot springs so people would come and take the waters and albert parsons actually one of the haymarket martyrs after the haymarket bombing fled chicago and he was hiding out in waukesha before he turned himself in but there was a uh like a water war with uh chicago over the waters from the hot springs from waukesha and it saw like armed confrontations over people digging pipelines and now 100 years later not only are the springs all gone or if they i sure as hell don't know if there's anywhere you can go and take them if you can but the water table is contaminated with radon and they want access to milwaukee's water the place that they fled the county right next to the lake that has access and privilege to whitewater thanks to the great lakes compact which is to prevent any areas outside the immediate contact area of the great lakes 0:56:18 from accessing it in the coming and now they want hey you know we like fled and took all of our uh tax money with us and you know created a hyper-segregated social corridor sanitary that we heavily policed could we get some of your water please well the water war is between places that currently have access to great lakes places that want it like for example ***** arizona arizona wants and the great lakes compact is a regional agreement to prevent that from happening but i don't think that's going 0:57:20 to stop it from getting all right guys i hope everybody's excited for tomorrow i hope everybody's ready to take a ***** uh potato peeler to their frontal lobe one way or the other metaphorically uh by observing and absorbing and having wash over you the results of our magnificent democratic pageant uh we will probably i kind of think 0:58:22 we will not we will not have a call there will be no check mark there will be no call to on election night because i think the the media is so neurotically fixated on not accidentally helping trump ***** do a coup that they're not gonna do that uh but i think that you will probably know before you go to bed who won if it's biden that would be my prediction and i would say that since i think like

uh okay i think by now we've established everything is inherently worthless and there's nothing in the universe with any kind of objective professor to scream for a hundred years split the sky with a thousand curses to tell the evil that men do honey you wouldn't even scratch the surface too many implications not enough time to make them explicit too many generalizations not enough time to make them specific hi folks so uh some was there a vote last what happened was there a sports ball uh 0:1:2 oh boy uh i've not really looked at anything i looked at the the the uh i streamed through stuff a little bit to find out just the general stake it looks like we're get it's going to be the bush gore again it's going to be bush gore again they're trying to stop count votes from being counted there's legal challenges it's bush b gore uh it's a coin flip though i mean it's i'd still my gut says trump pulls it out but you know biden could still win at this point i realized the full stupidity and futility of protecting anything in politics how it is totally futile i'll explain more about that as we go on but uh but that's as much as i'm going to talk about i'm not actually interested that uh much like the debate the first debate with the biden between bind and trump where just the experience of it helped me like sear me into a deep level a deeper level that i've ever been able to like uh um lock down my knowledge that there's no reason to listen to these guys talk because nothing they say means anything something you know deeply but it's not accessible when you're dealing with 0:2:3 it and you end up getting caught up because you can't detach and then that debate helped me detached this election another one of those moments where you are able finally only in the in the uh aftermath of it to look back and see what the hell you were even in the middle of the owl of minerva alights at dusk as hegel said you can only know the **** what was going on until afterwards which is why the entire concept of predicting elections in the first place the entire nate silver world is an absurd and insane uh uh pursuit it's a pure it's a pure entertainment product that's the thing they pretend it's it's suppose polls are supposed to be a science but they're an entertainment product and it's like you have a choice do you accept the reality of that and then decide i'm gonna um you know what i'm gonna have some fun with this uh i know it's an entertainment product let's do the horse race or you're gonna be like no this isn't an entertainment product this is actually real science like nate silver and then you drive yourself insane because if nate silver was smart he would have realized that what he was selling in 2012 when he became popular was not 0:3:4

um expertise or science specific scientific knowledge or anything he did a thing that any ***** uh first year statistics student would have done could have done which is just ***** aggregate polls instead of looking at one specific one that's easy uh he just specifically did it in a year where by happenstance you had a situation where liberals still traumatized by uh the last election that didn't go their way in 2004 were absolutely nauseous at the thought of obama losing to mitt romney and they did what liberals always do before an election they pull their hair out and freak out about oh my god we're blowing it because they know in their heart they're ***** blowing it and the thing is is that they're always blowing it but you know it takes time for blowing it to really sink in so you might still win a few elections here there and hey maybe um uh and they're like oh my god obama's gonna lose and then 0:4:7 specifically when he lost the first debate mr obama mr smooth mr entertainer ate ***** in the first debate in 2012. o'romney was seen in by basically everybody as the winner and that almost never happens to a republican in a ***** presidential debate and his numbers dipped a little bit and liberals were tearing their hair out and nate silver was the one place they could go on the website the internet to feel a dope a soothing cooling feeling instead of anxiety and freaking out and oh my god because they had nate silver there oh and he poured over them like a holy gravy and to feel centered again and then when he won when obama won and it wasn't even really that close he uh and the one person who had told them and calmed them and petted them and kept them kept their bot kept them on the couch and and sated and sued like mommy's finger before that election was nate silver and so they just decided to worship him and dumbass nate silver instead of looking at that be like oh ***** i got lucky i better cash in and then just like figuring out a new grift decides no i'm gonna i actually know something and i'm gonna find out things and so what happens 0:5:9 oh no those conditions don't obtain anymore that was just happenstance that you provided that service for those liberals that entertainment service for those liberals now in the midterm when no people don't really care as much how do you make that interesting because they don't need to be sued and then 2016 it was the other way around everybody assumed hillary was gonna win and so what did they need nate silver for he was he was discarded like yesterday's uh toy and he was freaking out about it and trying to like figure out no there's still a value add for me and so what he could do is just say unlike everyone else who says it's 95 hillary i say it's 75 hillary and then of course he felt vindicated after the election and everyone else was

like you're an idiot but once again he was correct in a narrow sense it's like yes there was a huge statistical voting error that was making everybody's predictions off and he was able to recognize it more than almost any of the other aggregators were able to that's still a value-add but it's not what they wanted they wanted the oohs they wanted and now we're in the first election where nobody trusts polls at all which means nate silver has nothing to contribute they don't even remember why they liked him and he's frantically trying to like find a way out of this maze to find a way where he can give himself a a a like a a status as a scientific scientist somehow or an authority when he is doing a thing that is fundamentally irrational and meaningless when you say 75 it's it what is it right now uh it's if trump's up four in michigan no he's not that's not a thing all of this is just what is the general vibe like if an election happened today and that means it's it means things in like you know a lot of big numbers way but it has it has essentially no there is no uh the amount of like objective scientific like attachment to the material reality is very very tenuous to begin with and then there's the fact that the end result is a binary outcome where your percentages mean nothing because it's going to be one or the other so giving me a percentage is not an answer it's not a scientific response to the thing because it's not a thing that's worth doing it is not a science because there's no reason to do that other than to provide entertainment for people i mean yes polls are used to like guide coverage and stuff but for the people who consume news polls exist to provide entertainment either or yay boo a little more for the for the uh for the pop and hiss of the political theater that we're living the mug's game of predicting these things and i and i felt leading up to the election i felt like every time i was prodded to talk about what i thought was going to happen with the election anything from who's going to win to was there going to be a coup or was there going to be some sort of all these questions uh were ones that are essentially like asking somebody what's what's the poll say it's like i'm just looking at the polls but i don't know if polls are real we're not going to know if polls are real until the election happens and now we know polls are not real anymore and it's because i think i don't know this but i suspect it's at this point the only people who answer a poll are a person are on one side of a coming divide i'm going to talk about with an american uh politics that's now emerging between people went to college and people who didn't i.e broadly speaking people who see politics as a field of meaning or people who see it as one uh option among a bunch of other options in an entertainment menu that they choose not to really engage with and that means that those people are the people are the demographic slice that everybody talks about and the democratic party is most fixated on and is the majority of voters in that they're the ones who show up every two years but then there's this other group of people who show up every four years what is their thought and i say those people do not ***** pick up the phone 0:9:15 that's what i say i have no way of proving that but it doesn't matter it's just it's i'm just speculating on a hypothesis it doesn't matter what matters is is that there's a systemic and now undeniable break that means you don't you can't you cannot think you know unless you want to just be like assume it's just like add a number or something you know at that point you're just and i'm very glad and polling breaking breaks another thing in me and that is uh and that is just to look at this to look at the voting outcome look what we're seeing with these returns and seeing how it uh blows up a lot of our perceptions and understandings of how american politics operates uh and honestly i feel like in the last four years like i feel like we breached out of a like a reality out of like earth a when trump won we're like thrown into a quantum state where whoa that was a big that was a weird bump that was like 0:10:16 that was like one of those things that was in the arc of history one of those moments that's one of those few moments that is both contingent and consequential because you know all events all events obviously are you know enmeshed with both of those historically most historical events are a concept if they're consequential they're not contingent but there are a few some assassinations battle and war uh outcomes uh uh big social like pivot points where you actually do have both uh contingency and uh um consequence and that put us in this quantum state of like what did we run into and then our response to it was going to be how we figured it out and among people who were on the left the response was oh ***** battle stations what do we do now of course the republic the democratic party decided and didn't decide and i'll get to that later but did what it was essentially programmed and required to do by its own internal algorithm which was attack right tacked to the center attack 0:11:18 towards disaffected republicans who were grossed out by trump that was inevitable and could not have been stopped nobody made a decision to do that any more than anybody wakes up at ***** goldman sachs and gets on the phone and says hey uh make more money today no one does that it's just it's it's it's the underlying logic that you never even get to in a day-to-day conversation of motives and stuff the deep deep structure of ideology um but the contingent thing was the emergence of the bernie sanders concept the social democratic alternative to uh to the new coke of dlc uh democratic politics and the four years where people drop manning battle stations and trying to like okay we're in new space but what does it mean all right uh well hillary did terribly because they didn't talk about material issues and the democrats had gone away from labor and we need to recommit to material uh politics right and you get a big quorum of people on the left saying yep that was it and they said all right well let's do it and from certain assumptions they 0:12:20 operated and one of the big ones was we have to change the electorate this electorate

is trapped in this partisan box where these people are just biting each other's faces off because they're just bored suburbanites who are watching television you have to have skin in the game in terms of feeling like changing society is something that needs to happen and and that your perception of your own self-interest is merged with a class of people like oh this is going to help and so that's what bernie did that's what bernie tried to do tried to operate off that big uh huge bump in his popularity and and people's awareness of him and then he hit the streets for four years we all operated off the assumption and we operated the assumption that if you change the electorate you enlarge the electorate and if you enlarge the electorate by definition you will break through a lot of the structures that the constitution and now later on gerrymandering and self-dealing by the gop at the state level have erected against 0:13:22 like popular participation in government which would mean popular participation by working class people because there's more of them than there are owners uh and that was that was those were the assumptions and i held all of them i held all of them and i think basically everybody did until yesterday and if they're not if they're not dropping them now this is the point where you're like you're ***** up i don't blame anybody for accepting that that was the reality i think everybody was operating off of that base assumption and we weren't going to know until the election and bernie's primary defeat really signaled that oh maybe this isn't how this works because bernie was able to get a good chunk of those democratic voters the young engaged ones uh and and brought you know and he did get some working-class people who were aware enough of politics cared enough about it and knew who he was to believe who he was because he was so genuine like he read authentically in a way that only guys 0:14:23 like trump do and which you need to actually break through like the the kayfabe of politics to get at people who are not already invested in it uh he was the guy he was the potential like he would if anyone was gonna do it it was gonna be bernie sanders but the thing is if he was gonna do it he would have been able to do it in a country where in the smaller hot house of the of the uh primary campaign where you have individual states where you have turnout that is much lower than it is in a general election that you can micro target through outreach which you can you do because you have a big army of motivated volunteers and a ton of money from people willing to ***** put it in for it and they did it they ***** did it i saw it folks i saw it and it got results but what it didn't do was get decisive results and we know that because whatever you want to say about the dnc rigging it for biden at the end of the day if bernie had been able to expand beyond the base of democratic uh primary voters it wouldn't have mattered that they coalestronpide because he would have been able to have a chunk that could have still overwhelmed them he was left 0:15:25 with this fragment it was never it had the lowest he had the lowest floor but he also had the highest ceiling which is what we found out because it wasn't going anywhere because no one was coming in from outside of it because the door had closed and now we get these results where we see that uh yes the dnc strategy of appealing to uh suburban republicans worked they moved there the white people moved white people with college degrees or associate social status moved to by that happened and it might have been enough for him to still win but at the same time not only do you see a continued drop away in working-class white working-class white democratic vote but what's this you're seeing a racial dealing among latinos here and even a 0:16:27 little bit among blacks where now though that that's that that bifurcation is now extending beyond the dreaded white working class maybe it's just the dread white working class were like the canary in the coal mine and because they were privileged they didn't really get uh get a fair hearing when they started getting pissed off that everything was going to ***** around them because hey they didn't have it as bad as the minorities but now these people who are supposed to by the fact that they have it worse than white people as a group are supposed to inherently band together and against whiteness what's this turns out that the culture ***** works on them the same way it works as everybody when all you're doing is clicking channels and this is what you're saying you're not getting this structural ***** about like what these things mean what these cultural uh arrangements are you're literally just creating two political parties uh where the message is from one don't be a ***** and the other is don't be an ***** and you gotta pick one and that is a question that is asked on a devil that transcends things like race it gets to like ***** like deep uh like primal 0:17:29 associations with you know like concepts like aggression versus cooperation like and all that stuff that's supposed to matter shatters and so we're seeing no coattails and so even though this might be enough to get biden across the finish line what it did not do and no one can deny this is that it has denied him the ability to govern right we all get that everyone understands that right like no matter what happens here governing is over you're gonna have a ***** uh uh a tied senate maybe uh with biden uh and a reduced house majority with han nancy pelosi at the realm nothing will don't will happen uh and that is all because the the coattails don't exist in that concept and of course the model of the change people the bernie people that i was 0:18:30 was well if he got bernie in there c he would have changed that because he would have got those working-class people to vote for their material interests because he would have been engaging it and i think that would have been true to an extent and i think bernie would have won much more decisively than this but on the question of coattails and creating like a governing ability in this country uh it's it's grim it's grim because what happened in this election is what the left broadly has been wanting to happen for a generation which is for people to show up to people to start paying attention because the assumption is the mass of americans because they have like broad liberal left-wing conceptions of you know the working class and the and the ruling class that they ascribe that they believe even if they might not agree on who those constitute they believe that that is the central tension in paul they understand vaguely that that's the case because that's why they think of themselves as uh on the left is so that if you can get participation you can breach the walls around democracy and flood the zone with people just voting their own interests but this election we got that break 100 uh uh the biggest turnout in the century uh shattered records everywhere because kovid made it easier for people to vote so a lot of people who vote casually which means they don't put a lot of emotional investment in voting which means they have not ascribed to a lot of the cultural values around citizenship that lead you to wanting to be a member of the don't be an ***** party uh they got out there and they're like and i think that if bernie had been out there he might have got the same deal because at the end of the day i honestly think this and jeremy corbyn is why i believe this people don't think that they can change anything with politics anything structural if it's structural it is by definition not political that is what we believe because that's what we believe and why do we believe it because it's what we live we it is the just our lived experience ironically enough our collective lived experience is capitalist realism it is that because we stopped having a uh a like a class adversarial relationship at the top level of government in the 70s and that the democratic project has basically been dead since then uh and that as a result of that the two parties don't argue about things like how how long should people work whether that should be the conditions of their work what should be remuneration what should be the standard of living for america those questions are not political to people even if we talk about them sometimes high-mindedly and what that means is that at this point i feel like if you get in front of a bunch of people casuals who are going to just come into the polls because it's so easy now they're going to hear you say i want to get rid of get medicare for all and i want to make everybody have free college just like corbin did because corbin got to run a general election where he got to make his message spread in a country where they have a ***** parliamentary system where if he got in power he could actually have done some stuff because they don't have our stupid ***** constitution it's a majority rule and yet uh in the in the red in the red uh the red red out there the red wall they went uh with they went for brexit because brexit was more real to them than the stuff corbin was promising because they didn't think he was telling them the truth and even though some people are going to be disarmed by the genuineness of a guy like corbin and bernie and that's going to get you some people it's not going to get you enough people and a lot of people are gonna see it and they're gonna be like yeah and then they're gonna go back to the big questions which are cultural uh and i think one of the big reasons that there's a disconnect here and that like the political class and by that i mean literally people who pay attention to politics at all uh and give investment into their vote uh they believe that um when they think of a political party they think of it as a historical entity and they think of it as having a history of things that it's done and as having a coherent platform that involves things like distribution of resources but the thing is that's only if you learn that ***** and keep it in your head when you think about the democratic party for these casual voters who will come in if there's a breeze they will be blown into the voting booth they uh they only see the party in front of them and the democratic party is the party that is just says don't be an ***** in a wheeling voice say come on guys do we have to be so mean because as trump says trump's big joiner to the kids in cages is who's built the cages and the thing is we're gonna have cages and the question becomes culturally are we gonna be an ***** about having the cages or are we gonna be a ***** ***** about having the cages and that's the difference liberals say i don't wanna don't be we gotta have cages but don't be an ***** about cages liberals democrat republicans say look we gotta have cages don't be a ***** ***** about cages that's it those are the two parties as people understand them as cultural uh uh signals like those things in older generations the people that make up the leadership of these political parties and are largely like disproportionately hurt in its culture such that it is this is political culture self-conscious political culture they all remember a time lived in their lives when there was some sort of uh ideological coherence and meaning to the democratic party that involved material relationship but people living now certainly ones who just decided to vote in 2020 do not have that they see the don't be an ***** party they don't be a ***** party and whether you want to be an ***** or ***** in america comes down to did you go college thank you that's it educational attainment did you go to the etiquette school a thing that used to get you entry into a real middle class right because you get a professional degree and it would give you an access to a professional lifestyle those are gone but the attendant social uh uh prestige is still there and so people still go to college and consider themselves part of this thing even though it doesn't get them anything but the same gig economy job everybody else has but it changes the way they vote but not on material basis because that's not part of our politics and then you have the people uh who and in college you learn you know hey we're moving papers around in here we're we're muffling all the horrible ***** that our system creates all the blood that we create when we create a bunch of ***** language that we talk to each other nicely good good phrases and we raise our pinkies up we learn this from the british when we talk about how many ***** slave barges we've just moved through the port of ***** equatorial guinea uh we have acculturated ourselves to the brutality of extraction of being at the top of a pyramid 0:25:40 of human misery and so we've learned how to uh kind of ext let off the steam of the anxiety of living that every day the horror of it in the form of liberal politics like it used to be manners it used to be religion then it became manners after god died and that manners used to be you know in the old reactionary era pinkie extended stiff hey i'm going to really get a career out of it the suckers in other words they're going because the don't be an ***** thing it's so awfully con ascending and sadistic and 0:26:43 contentless it has no meaning related to anyone's actual lives it says keep your voice down we're trying to study and what if you don't ***** want to study what if you don't ***** want to study ***** what am i studying for you used to be able to say i'm studying to get a job but now that's not it i'm studying so i can sit around with another bunch of people and pretend that i'm part of a ***** cognitive elite but one of the things about that was once you're out of that there's the sucking sunk cost and it's like ***** i'm not backing i'm not going bad i'm not gonna be like my dad no no i'm a good leftist i'm a lib and it's going to affect you regardless of what your uh what your gender demo is or race or whatever if those if those manners and the anxiety the social anxiety related to being aware of things like privilege didn't like seep into you and like become constitutive of your ability to enjoy yourself which 0:27:44 you can only get in those experiences of collegiate uh brainwashing then what do you know you don't ***** give a ***** and that means when someone tells you to keep your voice down and tells you don't be an ***** you're not thinking you know what you're right you're thinking you're lying you're just saying that to get me to be quiet because you're a ***** selfish ***** like we all are and you're saying some ***** about oh we're gonna do we're gonna all get good grades on the thing it's just it's disingenuous it's a lie oh oh the caged babies you built the cages and it's it's true because the conditions of american politics assume that there will be like there will be climate catastrophe there will be pandemic that will never be stopped there will be continued economic bottoming out there will be people killing themselves in greater and greater number indirectly and directly there will be just social collapse like it and the replacement with just the mere like attenuated like nerve endings of pure stimulus response the people who can bury themselves in the internet to find some like reason to keep moving forward imagine frontier they can walk through into 0:28:45

the digital and we are seeing this with the vote we cl race is being uh we're seeing the poll now the biggest weight the most dramatic one you can see is latinos and of course people say ah those latino men it's the machismo it's like well that's kind of true in like a vague sense in the sense that the don't be an ***** party uh is feminine culturally marked and the uh don't be a ***** party is masculine and so if that's just down to boys versus girls if politics is just boys versus girls and you're you think you're a guy why wouldn't you pick guys unless you wanted the girls to like you and you only learn that when you're sitting with the other kids so if it's the dude's rock party and the uh and the hens party or whatever i don't know the a woman should name the the equivalent of the dude's rocket because obviously this is not dude's rock it's awful it's toxic masculinity it literally it is it's awful it's bad it's political expression is noxious awful the policies it proposes are terrible but they're the same policies and the same outcomes that the democrats do and so because latinos do not experience race in america the way that black people do because no one in america experiences race the way black people do and the idea that like because we race like we invented racism you know through capitalism but like branding black labor for to keep it you know uh trackable in absence of greater technological ability like if we had if they had chips in people's uh wrist that could like blow up if you weren't working enough they wouldn't need a color system it was that i'm taking people to the new world i don't want to first run away and start a farm with the indians which is a hell of a lot harder to do if you have a completely uh alien uh culture and ***** a notifiable color difference that marks you as as as as out of place if not uh uh accounted for and so but then we took all like the people outside of this mostly liberal whites basically created these theories where like they listened to minorities they listened to lived experiences of being a minority but then they took them and applied them to the only rubric they knew which is white and black and latinos do not experience race the way that what black people do and the evidence for it is this ***** election like look it up think of the way that like uh i think of the way that uh that trump guarantees that the like he will never get no republican will get more than ten percent of the black vote right it doesn't happen it's not going to happen he might have done a little better with some black men but that's the ceiling for and that's and if you think about it when you think of the way every other demographic breaks down in this country that's an insane statistic especially the user how many black people are in this country that's a crazy amount of real estate that they are seeding and cannot even hope to get off the block meanwhile latinos are flat fluid and even though he went hard anti-hispanic he went hard anti-immigrant hardcore anti-immigrant and that said oh god what are they gonna do he actually didn't do that bad he did a little better than romney i believe with latinos and then what's this he's done even better again because all that stuff about kids in cages it's not experienced as like that level at the visceral thing like the blm stuff like every police killing i think it reverberates to the black community in like a shock wave but like kids in cages if you're an american latino there are so many different what things that could mean from being a ***** gusano in south uh south florida to like a like a fourth generation mexican american in in texas or something you're an american and those kids in cages aren't they're not your ***** kids they're ***** they're not 0:32:50 it's not they're like i'm not they're ***** el salvador i don't know those ***** people they're not my kin the way that like george floyd's death is felt as like a collective uh attack by black people and so that means they're not gonna respond to race the way black people did which means they're not gonna be the malleable mass that the uh college educated elite that make up the democratic party can mold to their liking oh no what's this it's packing away oh no our stuff's only working on the college-educated ones oh ***** what about the rest of them oh no oh what's this the society is breaking down along glass lines oh look it's they're going away and what is that they went to the dude's rock party they ***** exiled themselves to the dude's rock party because that's what they care about they care about dude's rocking they don't care about some ***** some mexicans in mexico hates central american immigrants what the ***** do you think american mexicans people who are american remember none of these people are going to get an ice raid by definition they're voting in american election and so they see this is like look i'm in america i have a barbecue 0:33:52 i don't want some ***** uh guy who speaks like what some central american indian language coming up to me and taking my ***** uh grill or like asking me to wash my windows ***** that we gotta have a barrier how do we have a berry we have a ***** wall we're gonna have well we're gonna have cages there's gonna be kids and of course like the black thing is going to be a little different though you're not going to see that happen because part of that dude's rock lifestyle we're talking about involves explicitly in a way it doesn't with any other racial group in this country not being black not like a specifically like blood quanta stuff like liberals do like the 23andme psycho so it's like well look at my ***** thing i'm 1 16 something and that means that i should be the chair of african american ***** studies or whatever um they uh they're like no it's an americanism it's an american nationalism and that 0:34:54 means that like latinos yeah look like but black people no thank you and that means that you're gonna see college educated uh blacks get even more dedicated to being democrats and not allegedly blacks not voting gop just not showing the ***** up and why the hell would you why would you care about this fight between these two things when you have no investment in the in the ***** outcome because you are not invested in the state project to the degree that they are because they're not aware of their collective uh uh exploitation and their collective alienation which they which is class-based that is based not on income but is on class and is disproportionately felt by african-americans but is uniquely among african-americans felt collectively whether you like it or not and some of them don't like it and become republicans but that's a minority most of them are going to see this ***** and check the ***** out and what that means is is that the only reason that democrats ever had for thinking that they were going to be able to like take over politics and time to stop this country 0:35:56 from just burning to death in the ***** lava field uh is that well the demographics look we're getting younger and we're getting browner brownie of america but the thing is that brownie of america is not a blackening of america either the population the us the u.s black population i believe is decreasing or if it isn't it's steady it's latinos it's asians and if that if they can be melded into the dude's rock uh uh keep the noise down party structure you're going to see the emergence of two political parties that are going to fight what appears on paper to be a class war between rich people and poor people and it's gonna be fought on those terms and the republican party will to some people look like it is now the party of the working class but uh oh what's this working class just means culture ***** oh no it's completely it doesn't like because we've assumed everything else because remember while all this is going out the gears are turning the system is pumping out the only outcome it can do which is profit extraction through stripping and destruction and undermining of the american ***** uh uh economy from the inside out to get the last bits of ***** profit 0:36:57 out of this thing and because we've created a situation where our ruling class is this like lumpin uh billionaire class of non-self like class unconscious rich people which is not supposed to be a thing like we there we have literally a lump in ruling class in this country and and when i say this country i mean the whole atlantic sphere like the nato sphere uh that it's a ***** um it's it's just a bunch of it's the way it's it's this thing that it's the thing that government structures exist to prevent from happening which is the direct competition of capitalism reducing and destroying all profit and surplus instead of allowing it to be uh hoarded by some that's what government's supposed to correct but we've created a system now where because uh politics died in the 70s it's been dissolving and so now there's no way that it can respond to 0:37:59 changing conditions because changing conditions were the only thing it was the only temperature gauge we had things got worse uh pressure built up you had ***** uh steam rising and you had to address it but that ***** the monitor is broken now and it just steams off into culture war and so that means that if we do get this slick big realignment where it's like a working-class republican party which i think honestly is inevitable probably it will be totally divided of any meaningful connection to a working-class project that has any meaning any any hope and why i say meaning any hope of creating the conditions to transcend the uh the um contradictions of capital and move to another ***** stage of human development because that's the only question anybody should be asking about politics is like do these conditions allow us so the real issue here is that uh this system cannot be defeated from outside of itself 0:39:2 it's completely self-contained uh and i want us and for anybody who's saying actually no you know i think that there is something to this working-class trump thing and i think yeah cuckoo carlson is going to be like he's going to synthesize trump into his trumpism into a working political economy and then that's going to he's going to use the revenge you know uh reactionary heart the cultural like you know uh the cultural gag reflex of like you know traditional culture to wheel fend off the worst excesses of capitalism which is essentially the duganes thesis alexander dugan is like the mastermind behind putin but it's mostly full of ***** it's it's the it's it's all like fourth period it's it's it's steve bannon ***** that's the dream that's the fantasy that's how you convince yourself to sleep at night after your coke binge that no this is for the good of humanity uh the real the real the real smart people the real dead eye 0:40:3 geniuses they know that that's emotional they know that's all ***** and the proof of it is look at trump's campaign if trump won this election because remember the thing that matters is the votes and the votes came out and the vote said people walk people walked into the voting booth during a unprecedented pandemic that had seen 200 000 americans die no end in sight and in fact the highest rate of infection we've had since the thing ***** started an economy that is bottoming out millions millions threatened with eviction by the end of the genuine signs of like a deep penetrating and long lasting recession and ***** that it could we're talking depression people just don't want to say it because that's one of those words that triggers things and we don't want to trigger anything do we shh they walked past that ***** tire fire and because they were just pushed in by the breeze remember these are the casual voters who filled the rolls because it's easier to vote now they saw the two choices 0:41:4 and uh they voted trump and you can say no they voted because he says he's going to bring the jobs back you could have argued that in 2016 and that's the thing we had a quantum space we were floating in space for those four years we were in a quantum superposition between that happened because uh well we know why it happened happened because the democratic project is doomed dlc project is doomed we're going to press this button and see if it connects to anything and then there's two states that we were in the ***** schroeder's box for four years the cat was both alive and dead the american working class as a concept was the cat and we took the ***** lid off and the and it died is what happened uh the cat is dead and now it's a question and the thing is i my prediction that i'm now owned by oh was premised on my guess that the cat was alive and i only thought the cow's alive because i'm bubbled in a cocoon of of media like self-satisfaction where i really only talk to other 0:42:6 people on the don't be a pus ***** divide if they don't be a ***** don't be how many don't be a ***** ***** people or how many people how many don't be a ***** people do you like interact with online to not make fun of in a day no come on so you think yeah these polls are right but it turns out polls are literally you even the ones who are even the conservatives even the conservatives even the republicans these are the never trump republicans in that screen that's where they are that's that's suburban shift but that's just this it's not connected to any other uh data and so then we get the moment the actual tally we see what people poded we see when they saw the tire fire they saw a situation where it was this current situation hell world exploding everything corona disaster guy who's keep doing it someone else in every previous like crisis moment in american history like magnate 32 when you had the great depression a deep deep spiral and nobody doing anything to stop it you add 0:43:9 on the ballot the current state of things or something else and it was a no-brainer it was a no-brainer because you had this emergent working class movement that was connecting to the democratic party in a way it never had from an ideological valence and not just patronage which it had been like the working-class relationship the relationship between the working class and the democratic party goes back to the 1820s when the democratic party was founded by my boy martin van buren but it did not become uh actually left-wing in any sense and still the depression or until uh and then when the new deal happened and when when roosevelt got it that's what actually gave uh uh like working class interests a stake in democratic politics because before that the relation to the working class was patriotic networks and it's not like patriotic ***** went away after the depression in fact the two things became merged but before that it was just patronage at the 30th boom seat at the table why because people just regular americans pursuing their lives not ideologically committed most of them not having gone to college at that point barely anybody in fact very few 0:44:10 people with manners many people with problematic takes that we would all cancel them for now i think we can say that pretty clearly they saw the burning tire fire and they said no let's give me something else please because everything was on the table because politics everyone understood to be the distribution of resources splitting stuff up whether kids go hungry or not that's politics and so when an election happens and something like that's happening hot damn i can help make this thing stop well we've had the biggest one of those since that election and the results are in person who is just casually engaged in politics tries to better their life they will watch the two options and what was trump's closing pitch his last video was him dancing to ymca and a bunch of hooting ***** shuds he's talking about luciano pavarotti and how big his ***** dumpster and they can't go down the toilet give me one element of his of his post-covered pitch to this country that was changed in any way with 0:45:13 any genuine policy-based appeal to material conditions especially considering as i said while he's campaigning he's allowing a non-existent response to covet to be the the only response which is of course just destroying the working class saying you guys we're not going to pay you to stay at home and prevent you from getting sick and making your family sick no you have to work you have to work you have to get your family sick and when you get sick you don't get to you you're going to have to pay for it because we got to keep this thing going that's on the that's not that's on the menu this is prefix ***** that's not optional and so you get there you don't you're not picking between this horror and something else the horror is baked into the choice it's how are you gonna experience it are you gonna live in hell like an ***** or a ***** are you gonna get your kicks whining about it or are you gonna have some we're gonna have war in afghanistan until we all die don't be a ***** 0:46:14 about it we're gonna have a war in afghanistan until we all die don't be an ***** about it we're gonna ***** get coveted until everyone's dead uh well okay but let's pretend huh let's like let's make our masks and let's be distant from one another and hey everybody you know let's let's try to be responsible uh yeah everyone's gonna get it everyone's gonna ***** get it dude what are you doing you're just getting you're putting your ***** pinky extended give me some ***** hot fla hot wings let me go to ***** tgi fridays what difference does it make and the fact that trump got covet and then didn't die that sealed it for him i mean i'm not even talking about him winning or whatever i'm talking about just him him wildly over performing for any other president previous to this time in american conditions and his entire campaign 0:47:15 was anti-fun thugs being very unfair to wear statues that we love him getting banned off facebook people being very nasty to it luciano pavarotti you know lady gaga and it all boiled down to lighten the ***** up yeah everyone's gonna get covered your grandma might die you might have lung scarring forever you also might walk outside get hit by a car why is there a ***** car why is there a giant vehicle that could just crush you at any given moment well we got a road there what do you want we got to get the stuff to the stuff lung scarring and dead family members is just baked in now are you gonna accept it and just ***** have some ***** fun while you can or are you gonna whine about it are you so corona response doesn't didn't hurt him because people just people who hadn't really thought hey what can the president do about this thought about it for a minute and said oh nothing but i really like the way dance is he's pretty funny he's sure he sure seems more high energy than joe 0:48:17 biden who seems like he's asleep all the time and what does he look like and what are his policies actually like why do i even care like god damn this trump guy he's he's pops look at him pop on screen because he's good at being on tv he's good at being famous even in those in those when he was like zooted out at the end going to those rallies to talk about pavarotti in front of these like absolutely bemused uh hicks and ***** t-shirt like ***** car hearts and like ***** your feelings t-shirts and he's like yes sir luciano pavarotti one of the three tenors i believe it was his performance it says you wanna you want more of this on the tv or you want sleepy joe and it's like if that's the only question then it's not a moral one and that's where liberals get ***** up they think no no people aren't going to be they're going to see the ***** around them and they're going to be morally obligated to stop it that would be if they thought they could by voting you think you can by voting because you've deluded yourself you've gone to college and gone brave scambly brains you've been brainwashed you've been microwaved sorry you can think your way away from it but 0:49:19 like that's going to shape your ability to understand the world around you all that stuff that you think are moral horrors that trump is responsible for i think a lot of people don't see them that way they see them as the weather and are you going to complain about it or are you just going to like enjoy it you're going to go bro you're going to hear those big rattling thunderclaps that are going to cry under the ***** table like a dog about it and that's the question people are asking and that's what they're going to keep asking because as i said this cannot be engaged with from below no mass movement of the left or right will ever affect it because it won't be a mass movement it'll be a mirage of look like one that is only ever a part of the group of the party they could either be apostate republicans and then you have a situation where like i honestly think if this tucker carlson thing goes anywhere it's going to be the absolute mirror image of what like stupid paul uh people's talk about like the aoc wing of the democratic party it will be a sheep dip operation all those people all those 0:50:21 like true true-hearted americans like those those uh those guys who love america but did go to college that's who they are really there's the guys who did go to college and ***** hated all the sanctimonious liberals and now they really want more than anything to go back to the state of grace that they used to be in when they were in the land of innocence before they even knew it was bad to be and like tucker whoever else is going to be a a a dog whistle to get them all to think that their petty identity politics which is all it's going to boil down to uh is going to mean anything against the vast machinery of the republican party which is just part of the greater vast machinery of world capitalism that's not going any ***** where and you're going to pull people who might otherwise have had some like dim notion of like a civic duty to one another like a dim remnant vestige of an idea which is now just something 0:51:22 you learn in college not something anyone's have a lived experience of who's under like 60 of like a social obligation to undergird society that's going to just pull you towards these twin polls these fake parties that are gonna fight this endless culture war until the world drowns and they will be mirror images of each other yelling across the divide that the other one is either being a sucker or is a and i feel like people say well what do we do about it obviously that's the answer it's like well if this is the case ***** what do we do we have the data now all right you can say i told you so to the libs but that doesn't mean anything it doesn't matter because the notion undergirding a lot of the criticism of the democrats here that i think is misguided and is going to be that they made a choice to run the campaign they ran they did not make a choice the logic of the party the fundamental operating system of the democratic party was rewired in the 1970s during the crisis that i like to talk about 0:52:24

the crisis of profitability in the in the world capitalist system where we had been the central like productive heart of for our generation and piled up this unseen amount of wealth that we were able to just dis uh distribute to in a obviously racially unbalanced but uh but downward uh redistribution the whole system froze up the ***** engine melted and the political order had to put a new engine in and just like in the 30s this crisis was happening but in the 30s the crisis was experienced as the crisis that it was but because of all those years of of you know relative security well where where these questions that had been live become deadened even if it's towards like a new deal uh social democratic like uh uh status quo that status quo still becomes dead over time because it's not being engaged with from below it was created by a huge 0:53:25 downward explosion of energy from those working-class movements from the strikes and the wildcats and the ***** sit-downs of the 30s that pushed uh the working class on into the into the room where these big questions were being asked by the 70s they were out of the room the only people in the room were uh people who had no class identification with working people either like as an experience as a felt ex felt lived life experience uh or uh materially had no connection to the working class at any time had only an emotional and uh psychological uh uh conception of the working class and the thing is is that any cause if there been any real ***** democrats in the room just like if there had been any real union leaders in the room in the 70s when all these things happened not just in the us in france where there was the great turnaround for meteron and of course in the uk uh and um all throughout the ***** 0:54:26

nato sphere that crisis came and the people in those rooms they had the titles of those other guys and girls prime minister secretary a treasury secretary of union or whatever comp you know but the people in that spot had been changed by time to now be embedded not in the working class but in this and so that means when the working class is on the table they're not it's a corpse and because if you were really in that room and you saw the stakes and you understood the stakes you would leave and you'd say i can't be involved in this and if enough of the people at the top and throughout the system were still engaged enough in politics at that point to get to

that point then you have a confrontation with capitalism which must happen and it did happen it just happened behind the scenes it happened behind our ***** back and they slit the ***** throat of of of democracy in america and it is done and it was just all right we have to re-center the economy's profit engine inward we're not going to be exporting anymore we're buying now that means people are going to have to ***** spend and not make any money that's the only way it works so how do we carve up this ***** turkey and they said well the black people uh when we de-industrialized well you know they haven't really built up a lot of working of a you know middle-class uh experience because you know we so unevenly distributed all that lucra after the war because of the racism they we really can't buy them off so uh uh they're gonna have to be just shuffled off into prisons in a mass uh just a war on crime that annihilates the urban centers and prevents them from becoming hotbeds of civil unrest uh and then in the suburbs we're just gonna give them bubbles bubbles bubbles credit credit credit uh and their money they're not going to realize it that they've actually gained nothing they're passing nothing more on to their except for oh what oh yeah that house that house grandpa bought after world war ii you still got that everything else and they were only able to make those decisions because they did not in a critical sense have skin in the game and that meant the party was different and it became constitutionally different like the watergate babies were all uh they were all college-educated professionals in suburbs they became known as the atari democrats and gary hart became kind of like their kingpin in the 80s and then they essentially took over the ***** party completely dlc was like a attempt to basically put uh the atari democrats into a uh like blue dog southern and like midwestern democratic uh basically a way to like get uh rural get some rural votes out of uh and urban votes out of you know that coalition just to extend it a little bit it had nothing to do with changing the undermined dynamic and the thing is is that that dynamic was set as soon as the working class was dead you are now just the ghost of a democratic party but you have to pretend that you're still living to fool everyone else no you don't know you're doing this but that's what everyone is doing they're making they're making trade-offs that you wouldn't make if you knew the stakes and you don't know the stakes not because you're not smart enough to know because it doesn't behoove you to know because your position is better if you don't know there's no way you can upton sinclair said there's no way to convince somebody something that they're paid to not understand and what that happened what that meant is that like the project that i was a part of the bernie project it was dead then but no one ***** knew how could you know you have reagan rearranging the landscape and then clinton shows up you're being buffeted by the tides of history there's no ***** sailing and obama shows up looking like this absolute mirage until

you find out oh no he literally was just the the embodiment he was the anti-christical like hobzy and leviathan composed of this new group of people who were supposed to be the future because look at their demographics they're so young and diverse but it's like oh no then the con the economy never got never recovered because it can't recover because it's just uh it's secularly stagnant and we're all doomed and to just strip life of every meaning and replace it with a ***** transaction that leaves us bereft and that drive is going to make us matter and madder and it's going to make us less more and more alienated from the political system we're going to be more mad at things and we're going to really want to things to change but our political system is not going to be able to accommodate that and the parties whose job it will be essentially to absorb that anger is the working-class party of the democrats and they do that by finding the anger points that can be profitably integrated into the greater agenda of capitalism unrestrained by human intervention and that is identity and the thing is that's not the democrats making a decision if any and also they're doing it after the republicans did it the republicans did that ***** with um the southern strategy that was just white identity politics and then that was the response it's like well they got the they got the ***** the whites uh they they got him in the divorce uh what about um how about we get some um what do you call them uh how about we get some of those uh this is blacks let's do it good idea let's do it and that's what they did that meant that everything then just built around uh it every emergent crisis and misery of capitalism was recast as a cultural issue like there's actual issues and policies at play but the embedded ones that generate the problems cannot change only the epiphenomenal ones like i'm sorry police brutality police brutality and police violence is epic phenomenal to this it is not the wellspring it is it is the epiphenomenon it is the system it's so it's it's the white blood cells of the system of american capitalism attacking this this tumor of like the undigestable uh prolonged uh you know uh deprivation of like a racially classed let there be light so the whole thing was dead then but people fought the good fight in these systems because they're the only ones we have and only conditions can clarify our situation and for me and other people got here before me and i give them credit but also hey you know if you want to do an end zone dan fan fine but and don't end zone dance fine but the whole point is to get people to a place to an understanding so that means that if they do it don't get mad at them for doing it and don't say that you're better than them because you did it first congratulations and there are people who haven't done it yet but i know for myself that clarifying moment has happened with this election and what this means is that the democratic and republican parties will break away will realign along this axis and become a pure culture war spectator party while the actual business of american capitalism is con concluded behind this uh the scenes which will be the deterritorialization of the anglo-sphere broadly into cantons of techno-feudal uh overlordship that's what's that's where it's going if that's unless can unless something intervenes and it might but it'll come from the bottom as scary as that is for anybody who's not because you don't know what they're doing down there you're not really one of them you're only guessing what they like what they think what their instincts are are they really maybe they're all maybe they are all savages oh god they scare me maybe maybe i do like this police state now maybe i do like the idea of government actually you know what all that drone striking and uh prison population stuff that we're doing you know what i've decided is actually good uh the fact that now we have like a much higher uh white incarceration rate and therefore there's less racial discrimination in our prison system i feel like that's progress now because you could gotta fight off those bad guys the gremlin demons but i'm sorry that's where that's where the power has to come from because this system is the uh the the ships are in collision course the the the um the wheels are 1:2:43 lashed to the fat masts and they're going to smash and what's going to be left the remnant of that is just going to be whatever capitally accumulated system of private power has been accumulated and the thing is uh that's because i really think um wait was community communicated ***** i just uh yeah so there's no there can be no interference with this there can be no transcending of this within itself like i said within itself like that in this and this is for me this is a continuation of a realization i had about twitter i was like oh this isn't politics this is a mere shade of politics real politics must be engaged with in the real world but now i realize that oh no 1:3:44 that extends to the electoral and not just electoral because people who like don't vote as a principal i'm sorry they're voters at heart there don't be ***** people at heart because they have imbibed that uh that civic ethos most people are just um so and that's when i realized oh ***** like i was wrong about basically everything i mean i feel like i was right in that i understood a lot of like i feel like i'm kind of recapitulating a lot of stuff i've been saying for a while now like but it's all a growing creeping dread and the reason it's only a creeping dread is because you can't know there's so much other data there's so many other possibilities what are they building in there it isn't until you have something like an election as in 150 million people saying what they want at once basically do you actually get to snap out of it be like oh that quantum superposition the ***** uh the cat thing it's over and the reason 1:4:45 this is happening it's nobody's ***** it's not the ***** cultural marxists uh it's not it's not the ***** uh it's not the frankfurt school or or anybody it's not and it's not uh it's not the it's not the just the racial hate at the heart of america i'm sorry it's not that either uh it is the fact the bare fact that we have collectively been stripped of political subjectivity as we used to understand it as people as as a ***** species

political the the the like uh the 19th century emerging understanding of oneself as a liberal subject among equals uh participating in a political process to chart the destiny of broadly understood a a group you might think some people thought of this as internationalists like this communist a lot of people found themselves as nationalists but they still thought there was something there that they were working on behalf of and what what our free real estate what what the fat of the land strategy 1:5:47 what the shut up and eat strategy of american rule that just developed out of the sheer fact that we had all this land that we could just distribute and then all this resources by the by the fact of the world war two to distribute then that we could just put off all this stuff and and then like so all this class anxiety that should have been building up like even like even with plenty there should be there should be class antagonism and alienation building up it is the thing is it's all being steamed off into culture uh because uh we're able to buy people off but now we can't buy anybody you off anymore can't buy anybody off everyone's going to be miserable everyone's lives going to be worse the kids guys are going to be worse than theirs are all you can do is blame someone for it political theater is involves finding someone for your someone that you have imagined as an other that the techno state can punish on your behalf techno state's not going anywhere they're going to be throwing people in jail they're going to be shooting people in the streets someone's blood's running the good guys are the bad guys schmidty in reasoning which is and that's what happens not out 1:6:49 of like some sort of you know white supremacy or some uh woke plot by capitalism to to exploit identity politics is because people don't experience uh life through a lens of class at all they have they have class experiences but they are experienced not on class terms but on gender race demographic terms that is how they feel then that is how it absorbs into them and that is how they express their politics which means we move to this carbon copy world without us even understanding it so that when the time of crisis came in the 70s oh ***** have we been building ourselves to a conflict with capitalism because we've come to a crisis point no we spent the crisis point fighting over this big pie that we all had not knowing that the pie and so now 1:7:50 it's all about blaming somebody because we're not part of a class we are 100 we're 350 million individual american consumers with individual um mediated capitalized identities pringles in a tube the raw peasantry of the world and it is the peasantry like america is a country of peasants like if you were enmeshed in a in a bourgeois like uh life matrix for the most part in most like early formation of america you stayed ***** put it was the goddamn excess ***** mouths in the countryside who came to america no matter where central europe ***** uh ireland and uh um italy uh throughout uh and we got turned not into workers we got turned into consumers because while we were building this post new post new deal political power the engine 1:8:51

of our of our mobilization uh motivation which was class felt antagonism class felt alienation is steaming away from life and being replaced because you got a house now you got a backyard you got a knife hey this is pretty nice why do you have to work your concerns are no longer material because you're taking it for granted and so we had a ghost of a political movement already even before the ***** thing hit and it wasn't until that happened when those guys in those rooms made those decisions volcker shock putting the ***** uh we're putting a bullet through the heart of the working class and we're going to use bubbles and credit to keep us going and people are gonna have to learn to live with less like carter said but then rager came figured out yeah they're gonna have to learn with less but hey you ***** yokel you don't have to tell them that you ***** stupid hick you tell them we're just gonna cut your taxes you ***** ***** because carter was a better man than reagan because parker was a good enough man to see what was in front of and how horrible it was in a way that a lot of those other lizards weren't but he wasn't uh connected to the working class as a concept enough to realize the stakes he moralized him his way into thinking well if i just tell everybody to wear a sweater and be nice to each other it'll be okay it's like good intentions but it didn't matter because you didn't have anything but that's not anybody's project that is the de materialization of american politics and so what this means is that the democrats cannot act any other way than they do with no political subjectivity there's no way that the mystery and disenchantment of living in this world will be funneled into a coherent challenge to the existing structure of the democratic party it will just bleed out into cultural uh resentment that some of it will go towards political targets but a lot of it will just go to people's like people they don't like in their lives like somebody who stole their headphones or you know somebody who doesn't know how to raise their kids or somebody in the next town over of the wrong race or whatever the ***** whatever like thing that just can satisfy that urge to make somebody pay for why everything's so miserable and that's the only thing anybody's gonna vote for and you're gonna either get the abstract expression of like actually punishing somebody for for something or the uh the the more uh the more civilized voter type form of boop going yes please we'll have a we'll have one murder i'll have some uh all some murders please can i have some murders i mean i would like uh the fbi to raid a uh proud boys meeting and shoot 50 people could could i have that please yeah yeah what you got can i get some like 15 blm guys get run over by a ***** killdozer and then trump uh uh gives a ***** medal to the guy in the white house loan it's like death machine either way and the thing is the funny thing is is you're not even really picking who's gonna get it you're picking is who you are going to feel good about it happening to that's it you're just putting a cone of like perception around some people that you can feel bad for it or feel good about ***** up depending on if which party you're from and 1:11:55 the democrat republicans can't do it different either there's no class base to this there's no class base to this move to the this working-class move for the republicans none at all and if you can look at any of this stuff from from trump's actual term in terms of things happening like policy happening helping working-class people which up there is zero uh and then the actual it's all you're picking that ***** out of pepper you're you're pulling the turd out of the back of the ***** shrimp and saying this is the thing because you're sitting there with the other politically obsessed ***** entertaining yourself with politics like it's a sport because that's the kind of thing you think when you go and so any like i said any any any pop national populist movement is just going to be the same ***** sheep dipping grift as the left wing version of it would be that people are freaking out about it and the thing is that was happening that was coalescing during bernie like oh ***** there is this new like 1:12:56 wave of alienation oh no we better make sure it's not directed towards class that was a project for sure and it worked to an extent but it didn't matter because the people you needed to hear the story the people who needed to hear the whole fight you were having in one way or another or even if they heard it to assign value to it didn't because bernie was selling a line of ***** if they knew who he was he was selling a line of ***** because if you say something like i'm gonna give you free healthcare they say well you're lying okay what are you really gonna do just like with corbin corbin put social democracy back on the ballot and they said i want brexit because brexit was real to them even though brexit is ***** not a thing i mean none of the things that it's not a thing in the sense that when you press the button for brexit basically nobody who is doing that is doing it with any expectation that brexit will accomplish that fact it will only punish the people they again you can make it you can make a left case for brexit and of course the ***** eu is terrible but leaving the eu because it's part of the system is part of this collapsing contraption that's heaving towards defeat and destruction and this bleeding robot corpse uh can only 1:13:57 ***** hurt it's not gonna be a good left there's and i think that this election once and for all settles the question of like is fascism here and i think that once again we got turned around spinning in the ***** quantum wave waiting to be brought into superposition at by the election we were like yelling at each other about well trump's fascist i don't know what's your definition of fashion are we talking about uh why is it just racism you mean or that's not that's not fascism well actually i think the country has always been fascist america is always what that fascism is already here that was all waving at ***** ghosts because you were talking about 30s fascism i mean even if you can say no no it's an american vegetable no if you're using the word fascism if it's going to mean anything it's going to mean the thing and what that

thing was what the 30s was was yes it was capitalism and crisis yes it was capitalism bringing the ***** colony back to the ***** uh metropole to to you know enforce 1:14:59 uh authoritarian extraction economy and to to replace profit laws uh yes but it is it but what is its political expression its political expression is the aestheticization of politics where you take the politics which is in the 30s for people hey sharing shaping human society that's what people thought politics was in the 30s in europe and italy shaping human society because they were fresh with it this was like the first liberated work class conscious group of people in human history basically and uh fascism was a way to square the circle by taking that enthusiasm for change the idea that you can change things and directing it towards these notions of like national national identity uh of course an internal other who must be defeated because you can't have the one without the other uh as as a antidote to communism and it worked to an extent in that it was mostly effective among the lower ***** class the the lump in essentially the lump in bourgeois and that's who we got that's all we are no matter what your job is you're in your life experience the ***** lump in bourgeois but the thing is is 1:16:0 that you are no longer a political subject you have the political you have the class cut characteristic but you do not experience politics the same way and so applying a table like fascism to it doesn't make sense because as i kept banging the drum reading up to this we don't have fascism in this country because fascism is about incentivization of politics taking the project of of politics and turning it into life making politics like life like strength through joy projects national greatness because we have no political subjects in this country what we have instead is post-fascism which is um where aesthetics is politics andrew breitbart was on the right track when he said politics is downstream of culture i was like that's not true because like i'm a marxist but i didn't understand it's like it shouldn't be true but we have created this unique freak show situation where it is ***** true and now it's even more true politics is no longer downstream from culture politics is culture and that is post-fascism and you might say well where's all the where's all the uh the scary stuff that you know is it the 1:17:1 proud boys is it the police it's like is it trump it is literally everything man and it has been for a while it essentially has been since the 70s when the public space collapsed something was going to fill the ***** gap and what it was in the public sphere is our ***** wavy ass uh wavy gravy ***** uh diaphanous culture politics and behind this scenes what it was was the total militarization of society and the technological intensification of our methods of surveillance and enforcement as well as good things like fentanyl and massively available you know mind-soothing drugs and potence and entertainment options beyond belief all of which get huge amounts of money create whole new revenue streams to make up for the old dried up at revenue streams and keep things specific you don't need people you don't need brown shirts the brown

shirts is everything the brown shirts is just the air you breathe but that's not fascism it just post it as a concept and the reason that's important is because that's the only way you can think about it that reminds you oh yeah this can't be street battles then this can't be fighting along these political terms these can't be this larping campaign between these joint members of the college party one of whom are pissed one group of whom are pissed that they're in there and they want to be in the other one and then they fight each other over who's the right person and who deserves the misery that's being inflicted on all their heads and that's the key about this that's the real fascism as it's going to intensify the post-fascism as it's going to intensify into just you know like i said techno feudalism like like amazon warehouse encampments where you like live work uh and get your nutrient face like that all sounds like a cliché but it is in everything and it's not it's not even a joke anymore you're not you're not even gonna get any like satirical buzz by saying that it's so s evidently true and what that means is if we're going to try to like fill in the void of people who are essentially just entertaining themselves with politics even though they think they're really doing politics if we're going to fill it with enough energy to keep them invested it's going to have to mean that all politics will become essentially sadistic and all politics will be about voting to punish either the ***** or the ***** and you can say well that real people you're talking about real issues and real body people in cages and you know real climate stuff and it's like yeah it all is it's all true and the body count is going to shift depending on who's in charge for sure specific bodies are going to fall differently one way or the other but the ***** main mass of human misery and the drift towards oblivion is uncheckable within the system so voting from now on i think like i said it has been since the 70s but it takes a while to ***** come to these conclusions some people came earlier bravo i have not is it voting at this point and has been for a while is it's like voting like voting for heidrick or himmler to like replace hitler in 1965 to like who's gonna sign a better treaty with the japanese you know it's like oh ***** we were like should we really be fighting over uh you know the remnants of mongolia like uh can we just take a chill it's like ***** no it's like and then now oh you know there's the moderate nazis which is literally the end of the hilarious thing is that that's how the first season of man in the high castle ended where hitler is the like the reasonable moderate he's like the never trump nazi against the crazy man hydra who wants to start world war three that's basically in like a less of a scene and of course like we do have real differences but in broad strokes that is what politics is just in the sense that it cannot be the engine of a change like the system no longer has the political participation and that's why amber said something on the stream last night that really hit me like the thing that makes sense now 2024 who's running for president donald trump jr versus ivanka trump because trump no matter if he

wins or loses this ***** election is now we live in his america in the sense that he has changed politics in that he has heightened the stakes of it as an entertainment he's broke both brought poor people in just because he's entertaining to look at but he has heightened tensions due to his his unconscious just maestro-like ability to pluck 1:21:5 people's sensitive spots related to things like identity the things that cleave them to politics and so if it's trump no matter what then the trump family should really duke it out between the college people and the non-college people now of course at the top they all went to college guys like josh holly what the hell went to college turner crosstalk obviously there's tons of college educated guys in the non-college park there's they're they're they're the ones directing the show but they have an affect they have views all of which are cultural even if some of them they pretend are material dj tj mr carhart hillbilly i like uh triggered uh epic griper ***** rich kid fancy land ivanka impeccable uh graceful mannered lives in new york wants to be still be friends with all of our upper west side ***** uh uh par uh cocktail girly friends the divides right there and eventually we will all be ruled by the ***** inbred 1:22:6 midsummer descendant and the ***** laws will be and so the question then is like all right well where does change come from i think i have to uh charge this phone i think that might have helped it i hope it doesn't run out of battery um so where does change come from well if we are in that situation where it's like it's we're at the same state like we're at the same stage essentially in our development that if we want to put a crude like uh comparison to the nazi germany uh is like after uh after the enabling acts basically were passed if like if if if the volker shock is like the enabling acts of post of like spectaclized post uh uh uh spectaclized entertainment 1:23:9 based uh techno uh post fascism uh then how well how do you defeat it you can't defeat it from within nazi germany held pretty i mean there was very little internal resistance to to its uh project it was from without it was from a force that was able to marshal enough but human material to defeat it and of course like we helped but at the end of the day we were just a different version of them who had just gotten there earlier like the anglosphere war with germany was essentially over the third world it was basically we got there first from england in the united states and france to germany and italy and japan who came late because they developed their economies later in the 19th century but realized the same point oh this line only points down ***** we have to um we better ***** think of something let's start invading people we can't invade anybody the brits and the americans already have all the ***** land what do we need to do they gotta crack open somewhere and so laban's realm and the ***** greater uh east asia co-prosperity spear but the real horror of it from the 1:24:11 point of view of the anglosphere was that they were trying to horn in on turf that had already been taken so that was essentially a sibling rivalry the real enemy was the soviet union and the thing is is that soviet union was not like i'm talking about how like this world this this system we have is not a project that can in its current condition get us to cap communism the soviet union was not either and like that one is definitive like we can't say that about now really because there's still contingency that could emerge we can say it very definitively about the soviet union why because it's gone because it's a ***** it's a it's a kleptocratic uh uh it's an absolutely cr it's a kleptocratic uh nightmare gangster state it's like devolved capitalism it's our future it is the techno feudalism just less techno more so but they were able to defeat 1:25:14 defeat nazism which was good even if they themselves were you know an attempt to like stick create this like zombie communism out of like this this just resource extraction machine that just turned them into a state capitalist enterprise um but it was it did very necessary and progressive work it also while it was around helped shape a lot of the post-war world in towards a democrat social democratic way it pushed it helped give people like leeway in the third world away from imperialism it helped push the center of gravity left in europe and the united states and latin america that was all good it did the job but then once it stopped doing the job once once it was gone which was the real bye-bye and that was the inevitable uh end of the 70s because as soon as like this is so uni was cut off completely from any hope of a working-class collaboration outside of the uh so we're we are in a world now 1:26:16 where confronting us is this system where we are ruled over in this this atlantic uh you know global economic order this the dollar empire that is completely ruled by what is now a fully atomized and lumpin ruling class because when i'm talking about the de-atomization and declassifying stuff that's happened it didn't just happen to the working class it happened to everybody it happened to the ruling class too and now they have so compromised the political structure of this country to pursue their naked aggrandizement to to strip the wiring and get the copper piping out cut taxes keep profit keep labor costs low that they're destroying the thing they're destroying the engine that allowed the thing to go they're killing the golden goose because they don't have anything else they can do because anything else reduces profits and there's only one button on the ***** machine and it's more profits that's that's 1:27:18 the logic of capitalism that's the algorithm it's a teleology extract all profit until our problem is gone there's nothing else you can say there's other stuff but it all gets squished against that reality so that's what we have we have this like lumpin this terminally decadent lump in brutal capitalism and what is what is opposing it and i gotta say i look around the world i don't know a lot of stuff i know a little ***** about a ***** but i don't know everything uh it's china we're ***** we are all to to paraphrase nixon we are all dengusts now because i do not think that china is a communist country or even or a socialist country remotely it's not

social democracy either which i hilariously saw somebody call it it's an authoritarian state capitalist enterprise because uh the communist revolution was not like a real communist revolution it was essentially a peasant it was a cyclical peasant uprising that was like a feature of chinese uh uh chinese history for two thousand ***** years 1:28:20 it was essentially the culmination of a process that began with the taiping rebellion in the 1860s when the korean regime should have ***** toppled but the western powers kind of pushed the coke back over to render coke machine from falling over and then it wobbled around for a while and then it smashed and all the ***** goodies went everywhere and when the communists took over there essentially was not a mode of production we as we understand it there which means they couldn't build communism but communism is you take the mode of production of capitalism the development of it and then you tr you you further transcend its contradictions they didn't have any contradictions a thing they had ***** they had ancestral patterns of ***** uh of resource distribution and and exchange and commerce and they've persisted since then cultural revolution great work forward none of it ***** moved any of that but there got to be a point where you had people in charge who understood that they felt communism to them was chinese in a way that communism wasn't for soviets like soviets it was not russian like there was there was soviet there was always russian uh chauvinism of course in the soviet union but communism was not russian to 1:29:22 soviets the way that communism was chinese to the chinese because like most of the places where there was a post uh world war ii communist insurgency or revolution uh nationalism was engraved with it because they had not gotten to a point where they were able to create like a fully realized bourgeois democracy to create contradictions within itself so they were still stuck at the nationalist level that europe was in in the 19th century and that's not their fault they didn't do anything wrong it's inevitable uh but that's what happens and so we don't it was not it's it's not but what it is is it's essentially capitalism with chinese characteristics and the 21st century will be capitalism with chinese characteristics and a capitalism with atlantic characteristics and what that boils down to is uh the algorithm of capitalism working its logic of extraction and stripping resources and human degradation until we are it's one guy in a ***** amazon fulfillment center with a gun to his a robot gun to his head like delivering himself a package um and then like one guy on a ***** moon base with 1:30:24 all the remaining money like ***** a sex bot in his 50 000 uh uh clone body uh that's that's it now once again not saying that's inevitable it has to happen because there's the stuff from below and that's happening in china and it's happening in here and we can't know what it's gonna do it's a black box because we're not in the box we're here we're here in the the the discourse zone and we can't get out of it we can only guess so i'm not saying black pill ***** nothing matters i'm saying it's going to come from the roots and that's all you can say you can't operate from lonely premises and try to make it happen you can't be uninvolved with its capitalism with kindness chinese characteristics and capitalism with atlanta characteristics and so it's like all right if that's our option don't give me this ***** about who has better human rights or whatever the ***** because check me off about that for a number of reasons one of which is like the matt stoller terror vision of the chinese taking over like they imagine they imagine that the chinese took over they would imply the impo they would import the amount of social coercion they use in china on here they absolutely would not do that why would they do that what would be in it for them they wouldn't need to do it we are all conditioned already we have our toys we're fine just give us a ***** rattle and a ***** red bull and let us watch ***** blues clues we're good so it's not nothing having to do with that it's if the future isn't building socialism in the near term it's um essentially dealing with the uh not unstoppable number of uh exacerbating and and echoing and resonating crises that are going to make up the 21st century climate related ***** covid is number one it's like we're already doing all these disasters are happening but they're happening beyond the perception of like us as happening to us it's just kind of a thing covent is is is the first real event like global warming it's all discrete stuff that is not this is materialized this is a crisis like this is like model u.n ***** like crisis how do you deal with it and you give the you give you got the model you and hey chinese team you got a corona outbreak and wuhan american team european team because it's not just us it's the entire anglosphere european team you got this all right what's your project what do you got china yeah we contained it locked it down it's gone you can go to wuhan the place where the ***** thing came from and have a pangolin and a ***** uh rave jacuzzi wave pool with 500 other people um how about you atlanta says oh we've all just uh realized we're all gonna die of it or not uh or maybe get a vaccine uh but we're just kind of like working out how we're gonna you know deal with the fact that we're ***** all gonna get this to me this is uh this is not a difficult choice because they don't have a lump in bourgeois or a lump in uh ruling class running their ***** they have the chinese communist party which for now anyway seems to have maintained a degree of like self-consciousness to some degree understanding of china as a project understanding of themselves as having a part in a project that is chinese as in like the well-being of the people abstractly understood figure into things and you might say yeah but not really no of course not people are sacrificed every day it's a ***** thresher we're all going in the thresher but they at least save some people from the ***** thresher there's just fresh there's just thresh so people say this is dark this is depressing but for me this was liberating because i realized okay we're all dengueists we have to in the coming conflict between uh the dragon

and the eagle we must back the dragon uh and i think that's true uh but the thing is 1:34:30 there is literally nothing i can do about this at all zero percent zero percent i think can do can't do a thing a thing about this uh i'm not gonna move to china what am i gonna do join the ***** young communist league i ***** can't speak chinese they don't ***** need me they have a billion ***** people they're good they have no use for me all right i stay here i go somewhere else what am i gonna do am i gonna go on twitter and like argue about how many swimming pools they have at the uyghur concentration camps and how that means they're actually woke what difference does that make it's all just in the ***** theatrical enjoyment sphere it's all in the ***** holodome of political amusement am i getting anything out of this if i'm not contributing to the chinese victory no the most you could ask of me is that like i will live my normal life and i'll be like those early english romantic poets who would sit around and do opium and read each other's sonnets about how much they wish so this whole thing has just been the circle i'm back to exactly where i was i 1:35:32 still have this political system i still have this job i still have this brain i still got to do what i got to do but i have just shed myself of an expectation of politics providing a meaning being a vessel for pursuit that i thought it had and what that means is is that if i go forward talking about american politics the way i have the last four years i will be a grifter which many people of course have called me over the years and i always never i never got that i'm like i give people a show they want to show what do these people mean i'm not i'm not lying to them they get a show i'm not like wrist delay but not saying you know pay for my wedding or you know pay for my kidney replacement than buying a ***** vacation it's the undergirding grip is that and this is the reason everybody calls each other grifters is because in the political media which is where the term grifter emerges and what people use to describe it not just consumers and distributors which is a lot of the same people it is a understanding that we that there is no political there's no political meaning to any of this that all 1:36:34 these arguments will flow towards no good end they are being had for amusement and so that means that if you talk about politics for entertainment and you invest it with meaning you are grifting them and the thing is i think now that that's true but only if you know that it's empty and i swear that god hand to heaven i didn't know and nobody on the ***** chapeau knew either i had ***** known these people and talked to them passionately over the last four years i ***** know they didn't know we didn't know i thought i was in the ***** quantum zone i can't like this all makes sense now this is all obvious now but we didn't have the data yet we had polls which who the ***** knows and like what the falcons like we finally have the data we have the ***** information the box came the top came off the ***** box the cat is dead pretending the cat's alive now would be grifting and so i'm not gonna stop

talking about american politics obviously sorry i am going to promise right here to do it only in that entertainment mode and to not give the false impression to people listening that their consumption of the product of my show or stream or anything i might put out is constitutive of political action i mean i always used to say that but god i didn't know how much i meant it i was afraid to know how much i meant it because then what do i do with my life and the answer to that is i can still do what i do but if i feel like i want to make life better for the people around me i have to look around myself and what is that if i'm looking around myself if i'm really paying attention to the world around me where i might notice oh my god what's that oh my god what the ***** i was on my phone the whole time why was this happening what i'm in here now oh my god is that gonna happen i don't know i do know that if i try to convince myself that that's not the case no i'm gonna get out of this rat maze i will end up like nate ***** silver i will end up like anybody who uh has fallen into the discourse hole in the side of the like real world ruling class is uh like globo homo or whatever this idiocy is you have all been trapped by the ***** maze and i'm still going to be in the maze this election just has given me a experiential load star that i can grip whenever i feel like i'm spitting off into anything other than a cold-eyed understanding of where the ***** i am in this thing where all of us are in this thing and you can listen to all that and say he's full of ***** he's got a ***** grip he wants to keep it going this guy this sort of thing is the perfect way to keep it that's true too i of course i don't want a real job my god who would they're horrible i've had real jobs they suck i would rather do this i think i'm good at it i'm pretty i think i'm pretty good at it people seem to like it i want to keep doing it if i can but i i can't pretend it's politics anymore at all which i used to be able to certainly during bernie i really thought oh my god i've squared the circle i can just have fun and not do real politics and actually be doing politics is to look at this but anyone i was wrong because i didn't understand how the mechanism worked i guessed it i wrote an article for jacob about the uh the iowa state fair and how i saw bernie and i thought it was really cool but i just noticed how few people actually stop and listen to the presidential candidates at that fair considering how many people go to it how many people are just going to get the ***** corn dogs how many people are just walking by at the end of the article saying it's going to come down to how many of those people are going to stop and turn around and we didn't know and now we know i think definitively what we have so it's up to you to decide to see full of ***** is he is a ***** running around uh and then you pay me put me on the pain on my list which i understand or does any of this make sense and if it does is it entertaining to you does it help you maybe re-center politics for yourself so you don't spend the next four years whether it's biden grinding through some fight with a republican congress giving way to uh ***** uh john taffer winning in 2024 or um or dealing with trump ratcheting up and then like trying to cope with it by uh deciding actually no i'm going to convince myself that the aoc if i'd uh neoliberal uh like synthesized post-bernie left thing that's going to create a real working-class movement in america or against that saying you ***** fucks it's tucker carlson an american greatness conservatism that's going to save the working-class project in america you were both unable to get out of the maze and find real meaning in anything other than convincing yourself that this little ***** rat maze means anything you will be rate silver and look how nate silver his age the man is just falling apart because he lost the ability to recognize where he was in the maze of of perception and being able to understand the vast difference between his position in the world and his ability to affect change on it the only promise i can make anybody is that my god if there is a ***** chance to stop this if there is a chance to stop this and i'm not saying there's not a god damn it in my heart i know there is i know there is cause we're still ***** here it works somewhere somewhere it worked we're ***** here against all ***** odds we're ***** here it's gonna be because enough people have broken out of the this rat race of and just grievance mongering where you're driven towards a politics that is just is polarized grievance aggregators it'll and because they've seen the conditions surrounding them and with people around them who they trust who they build trust with through cooperation move forward together and break through a lot of uh political like superstructure that is very rickety and could be once again orthogonally attacked from an unexpected direction just like it was in the 30s but it's not going to come it's not going to be reasoned out that means not only not being on reasoned out through talking about elections it's not going to be reason out through elections now maybe at the local level you can get enough people together behind a candidate with a position like a position a specific fulcrum of power within a system to actually help things create a thin uh thin edge of a wedge that you can gather momentum behind go for it but the only way you're gonna know about that is if it's right in front of you you're not gonna ***** go through ***** twitter and figure out who is the real deal and who is the pseudo uh leftist from the discourse around them on twitter it's gonna have to be personal ***** experience and that sucks because we don't have the time or energy for that ***** that's why it's very difficult to imagine it working but detaching from this matrix is the only way and that just as logging off it means logging off from caring about politics as we have conventionally understood it entirely and it is sports for ugly people that is it and anybody who said that before me you were right but if anybody who says it isn't saying it after me i'm sorry you're wrong and you might say well you were wrong before and it's like yes i was wrong before and i'm still wrong about other stuff but

i'm not wrong about that and you can just look back we have an actual record now it's a fossil ***** record of this trajectory you don't have to guess anymore we were caught in the ***** limbo we're out of the jaunt it was a long jaunt indeed and 1:43:42 we're the gibbering madman at the end of that story and now it's what what are we going to do are we going to just go to the mental hospital and tear our eyes out or are we gonna get the ***** work uh figuring out our connection to reality again re-territorializing our surroundings so that is our task we'll see how we do with it the ***** why is it why is it hosting burning ah there we go they were hosting burning bob is that a is that a gamer of some sort someone who engages in the deadly mental onanism of gaming not approved by me no thank you although i shouldn't be one to talk uh i am essentially a gamer i mean fundamentally i am a gamer uh like if you if you if you like trace my you know uh career trajectory it is essentially that i gamed so hard that i became a professional gamer and the game of course being posting 0:1:1 because that's a game it's got a score it's got a it's got an object it's got players it's got ranks it has emotional stakes but no real material stakes that's gaming it is a sink for one's uh pent-up and so i guess this is my admission that i am in fact not only a gamer i am an so the election's still going on it's actually the exact nightmare scenario that people were worried about right this was the liberal and left wing for in many cases worry about this election because of the nature of the ballot collection process you've got these states where trump is but coat's going to take a long time 0:2:2 he's going to declare victory and he's going to call on his supporters to go out and and committed and carry out a coup on his behalf and stop voting that his judicial goons will back and what is actually happening trump is doing everything that everyone said he would do he's not taking the high road he is he is saying the stuff that before the election people said i want people to go back and run and maybe i even said this because like i said i didn't realize until i realized you know i hope i didn't i always i think back i thinking back to this stupid issue i feel like i was pretty consistent that i thought this was all ***** horseshit but maybe i like was i even i feel like at this point if i give it any credit i feel like i oversold the case but honestly i felt like i had to give some credit or people just wouldn't listen to you they're like well this is so absurdly ridiculous to think this isn't a real threat that we don't live in this country with the fascist police state and the proud boys and the nazis in the street you can't 0:3:3 tell me that there's a realtor and so i felt like i had to ***** like extend just a a bone to even like be able to get a conversation going or get people to like listen but now it's like okay the barn door is closed because this is the scenario think of someone before on election night who said what if this happens they would say he will do a coup that's what they would mean or there'd be some sort of fighting in the streets and blood in the streets would be the number one thing they would say they would say violence how it would come out they might not essay but they would say violence what have we actually seen where are the proud boys that were told to stand back and stand by where are the militias the three percenters and the oath keepers and the promise keepers and the the patriot prayer boys where are they with their guns the biggest crowds i've seen are a bunch of ***** chuckle-headed uh parrot ***** jimmy buffett concert going ***** doing the ***** ymca in a parking lot some guys 0:4:5 in ***** pennsylvania just they went through the protest and they and what does this lay on to it lays onto a situation where all these issues that we've wrapped so much importance around like this is titanic titanic battles about the future of the of the race are identified as sports fandoms these people get together they basically and you see videos of some dorks chanting and they're like this is voter suppression this and it's like yeah sure the intention is bad these are people who don't respect you and don't think that you deserve rights and yeah all that stuff is true but what is their power to enact their world what is their power to enact that world their power to enact that world is is their vote and then what else though what else what else really besides posting maybe if they go on facebook besides amplifying things and getting other people to vote maybe what are they doing being obnoxious to people 0:5:6 in viral videos are they actually applying any base on their consumer consumer uh interactions in society to to make the world more racist i mean some of them are doing like hate crimes and some of them are doing shootings and once again that's terrible and awful but you have to ***** put those things in perspective or else why aren't you a psychotically tough on crime conservative because if like one life lost to violence is like evidence we have to drop everything then you're dick cheney things have to be put in perspective that was how terrorism worked people in the ***** bush years were saying my god terrorism what's the at the end of the day what's the big deal people would say my god you're saying you would allow a terrorist attack in america so it's like well it wouldn't be ideal but like if the cost of not having that is this awful ***** war like i'm sorry maybe we take some they would say you would that makes sense but in this case in this specific instance no any violence carried out in the name of politics we have to orient our entire politics around stopping and i'm saying that was a big part of whatever the ***** kind of campaign we just 0:6:8 saw in the last four years and what did it accomplish and what was the real enemy because the moment is this don't be ***** telling me oh yeah well you know uh they they're waiting for their moment this is the moment this is literally the scenario that everyone was talking about this is dip to the t everything has gone as they have said and what has happened uh guys like rupert murdoch said oh yeah arizona's uh for biden and ***** you we're not gonna reverse the call what did uh mitch mcconnell say he said you know there is actually a difference between um uh you know counting votes after a vote and uh recounting or getting new votes like it's just keep counting them they're they're all regular votes what about the ***** federal judiciary that he stacked with his ***** loyalists one after another these judges are saying this is a ***** ***** case and the cases don't even have like a beer they're too incompetently put together jared kushner literally was like googling how to uh steal election on election night that's how much planning had gone into this ***** trying to say hey is there a guy like james baker can we find like a incredibly uh powerful and influential 0:7:9 political fixer who's been uh you know right in the top levels of american politics for 30 ***** years oh ***** now all those guys are tired and their ***** kids are running because yes there are millions of crazy trump supporters but their craziness is the way that they're crazy about being a ***** football fan they'll certainly go out and do things in public to ***** register that ***** uh the belief because that's how you reinforce the emotional connection you have to the idea of yourself as a fan of something but are you going to risk your ***** life at the end of the day because how many i mean in europe it's one thing with the soccer where it's actually very political like you know in in cultures where polit political life actually had some like teeth to it as recently as world war ii and afterwards um even if it's dissolving now there as well as it is here but what like we have riots sometimes when a team wins but some guys turn over a car that's it there's no huge apocalyptic confrontation with the cops there aren't ***** deaths there isn't any real confrontation with the state there 0:8:11 isn't any kind of ethnic pogrom it's just a spontaneous expression of people's over pent emotional connection to a pseudo event that they're participating in virtually and that's what they are doing they're doing what you would do if your team won or lost or i guess waited for a really really long instant replay call and you really cared that's what we're dealing with and what that means the good news people said i was really blackpill yesterday i don't think that's the case i think blackpill is some ***** online cop ***** like everything else it's part of the culture of like having an identity and a take that like takes the place of asking yourself what you're gonna do about politics because like i have said you have to make politics part of your life as a citizen and as a family member and as a friend and as somebody who lives in a ***** community in a country because you are a human being but with the but the but the actual content of that is determined by your experiences not 0:9:14 a black pill oh i took the black pail now i get the game all day if you're gaming all day you're deadening the thing in your in your soul that says you should try to make things better black pill is it's a pill it's a ***** it's a zolof you're gonna have to answer those questions people say it's blackmail because it tells them you can't find it here and that is a blackfield that's the truest black pill because you're saying this thing that i have pseudo that i have identified with as like a zone of of political participation and engagement and like building my character and ethic as a human being and building real real uh like actions around my reputed mental values that i hold the things that give them texture and reality uh that cannot provide me with a political meaning well then political meaning doesn't exist by definition because that's the only place you can get it and that's one of the reasons we're in this mess is because people feel that in their guts but it's not ***** true because even if it's not electoral and it might be there will still be something you can do that can turn into politics if enough people do it and i know that that's not great but i know that sounds like maybe some anarchist ***** it really isn't it's just an acknowledgment that this thing is not the society i mean i know that's cliché it's literally the matrix but it is it's like it is the matrix there's a reason that people love talking about the matrix because it is just a perfect ***** metaphor for the experience of this again we have all accepted it's up like yeah i know it's the matrix but i know it's the matrix but and i would say that for the last four years i don't blame anyone for thinking i know but it's a matrix but because we didn't know what was working we didn't know what was happening we only knew that everything was up in the air we were trying to figure it out the only way we knew how which was to consult the only forum the only public engagement that most of us have which is the online space and we went looking for answers and that was the only place we were even we were only going to be able to find them there so it was totally made sense to do it and i think things were learned by doing that things were built that had material consequences but now is the time to recognize okay there is no but the good news though is that there is another place and that means you have to build institutions and you have to find institutions that connect to the people you know and who you have trust with and who you could build out with like say labor unions and things like that not spontaneous street demonstrations that's what they're doing right now that's what everything has been for the past four years spontaneous personal expressions of an overflowing sense of political a need to politically define oneself driven by the trauma and horror of the living in the moment and feeling like you're a political subject but ara's conception of ourselves political subjects is illusory and so when we go out and we perform political uh uh identity through demonstrations riots uh karaoke protests it is inherently limited by our uh limited ability to recognize um to coordinate action because without coordination the action does not reverberate out upward and reinforce it like anything driven kinetically will re hit friction and momentum will be slowed and eventually the ***** the water pours out of the cup and it just and that's like and and those particu eruptions can be very powerful and have short term be like traumatic and involve death and violence and these horrible narratives and real trauma and horror but they will not they are not the building blocks that people think they are they are not the steps in an ascension that people think they are they are random they explode the ripples go out and then the ***** 0:13:20 waters still until another eruption comes out because none of these are building anything beyond the sedimentary layer that over time might reach a tipping point but i think definitively i'm sorry it and i think this uh i think the way this is going the way this recount is or whatever the hell count is going the way that there's just none of the stuff anyone was worried about has come to pass and the way that we are just sort of suspended in like in a eternal uh election night i think that we are in for like a weird it's weird i don't know how to put it like we're not gonna get an exhalation we're not gonna get an exhalation but we're not gonna get a any catharsis it's gonna be a ruined orgasm just an internal edging like a a election day that never ends but 0:14:23 i think because that level of tension can't be sustained i think the tension will turn into something else like the emotion can't go away but it will it will uh mutate and i think like all that the the anxiety is turning into something else because i don't know how the hell we see this totally muted response this non-apocalypse carry come out happen in front of us and not respond by lightening up somehow which is i think permanent election day baby just suspended because like this was supposed to be the apocalyptic confrontation we were going to banish evil or evil was going to roar its head at us one way or the other like if you're a conservative or or a liberal that's what you thought blm uh uh antifa will be at your uh preschool uh feeding your child 0:15:25 he'll all meet or uh you know the proud boys will be uh bursting into your uh your local health food store and making and calling everyone soy based you'll be able to do nothing about it uh but that's not gonna happen and there's not gonna be a uh you know you're not gonna get your chance because like i said both both urges are inherently sadistic it's like yes you're scared of being punished but you're also excited about inflicting punishment so that's that's the the lure of it that's like the emotional edge of it that makes it enjoyable the reason people do it because obviously we're gonna have to find a new sort of i guess we're gonna have to change the channel and 0:16:27 switch genres you know election day is gonna go on and now it's no longer the uh like the big budget um apocalypse movie it's no longer the roland emmerich end of the world movie that we were all in until election night it's like uh i don't know some sort of uh i don't know we'll find out it'll be funny though it's just going to be this thing the thing i'm looking forward to is just is hopefully the uh the the need to like assert culture i hope that goes away but honestly i'm a little worried that because a lot of people are gonna take the election i mean wow there's more racists out there than we think and so many more minority racists than i thought existed especially since i didn't think minorities could be racist oh boy i might have to go you know what we need to do we need to get rid of all this uh uh anti-white or anti-minority sentiment all this racism we need more strided cultural hectoring for people to not be racist we're going to have to hit the hit the accelerator but honestly i feel like without trump to goose people towards that like as you know a market incentive it's gonna wane and we're gonna see uh some more fun programming as we said i said we will said on the show we just recorded they're bringing back entourage the man show we're gonna have all the fun like bush era knuckleheaded hijinks there's gonna be no more anxiety cartoons everyone's gonna just sort of get uh get 70s about it like if that was like a like a 60 it's not supposed to be like a 68 you know national anesthetic horribly illus anise horribilis then biden's going to be like that 70s come down that 70s come down where everybody just turned into hedonists and that means more fun and more fun more more entertaining entertainment stuff that doesn't have to that that does not stuff that is not marbled with politics like cut with politics to make up for the lack of entertainment value like i think that's what that's the best way to think of political content in uh modern uh art the stuff that you know that the gamergate people hate wokeness and culture specifically television programs and stuff like that uh as i have said you know as capitalism is as totally uh marketized entertainment as a concept it has made entertainment materially worse it's made it it's it's by removing the artistic element of it it is no it is not it is less and less every year art because artistic intent is leavened out with money more and more uh and that means that it's it's it's pretty i mean you'll have good stuff but like the trend line like the ***** rate of profit there's a reason for that those things correlate uh is going down and that means like if you think of it as uh like you're a butcher and you have these like it's it's the it's the it's the it's the um it's like the golden age of cinema and you've got just this beautiful flank steak and you're making these like porterhouses for people they're just like oh my god and there's all this rich deliciousness over the years though your stock your business gets bad you can afford worse uh less and less impressive funds of meat by the end of it you've got this very disgusting uh like ground beef how are you gonna ***** serve this to people it's rancid well you cut it with stuff that there are a number of american cuisines that are basically that like scrapple and uh and ghetto they're they're uh ways to stretch meat to make people uh get uh more of it to be able to uh get more out of less meat more food out of less meat and what they cut it with is something that isn't art but looks like art and politics is that politics is experienced as an art because it's experienced as an aesthetic experience and not as a lived experience as art is but it does not have the individual you know like human expression of art it's it's directed to a very material and cynical end which means that it cannot speak to like a human a real real

authentic human expression which is what art is it's an authentic human expression and so it cannot be art but it's experienced like art it's like it's like high fructose corn syrup to real cane sugar you know uh and you throw that in there and you and the thing is for all the gamergate people who are trying to be like yeah exactly if 0:21:35 you get get rid of it if you got if you pulled out the politics it's not like you get a better ***** burger the shitty meat is still there there's few there's less of it there's nothing to cut it they've got to cut it with something and because of demographic trends uh and because of the way that uh the consumer economy is directed towards college-educated people because college-educated people tend to have more money and therefore are the subject of advertising attention has to reflect the politics of those people who you are directing your uh your advertisement stores which is how you have a ***** uh entertainment product in the first place in the case of television but like it expresses itself similarly all across you know people with college degrees are more likely to be able to send their kids into the arts and so that means you get more people actually in the business of that doing having these opinions and that's 0:22:38 not there's not there's no conservative conspiracy there there's no cultural marxists in the in the wings there isn't a ***** zombie theodore adorno cackling in a graveyard in a prague uh there is just the market forces churning through this thing called art squeezing all of the possible ***** profit out of it and leaving a charred so i haven't looked at the chat in a while content versus art exactly content is it can have artistic 0:23:39 elements to it but the fact that it's content means that it's our artistic uh content has been inherently adulterated in a way that not all art is all artists to a degree because everything is commercialized but uh but that experience of expressing art is commercialized to different degrees and over time it becomes more commercialized that means it turns into content the needle goes it's like if it's if it's art up until here then it's content over time stuff tends and now we're at a point where not everything is but a lot is and more i didn't say it was a dichotomy i said it was a ***** spectrum 0:24:41 it's not a thing it isn't a collaboration of things with certain tendencies emerging from them you've got two different things that break into you've got a trajectory of things over time that break one way or another and then you have a periodization where before they were this and after that there's something else that's like the way that the means of production uh change over time and then the relevant uh social structures that emerge from them you can't get me with the false that's not gonna work that's the beauty degrees oh boy trump is speaking at 6 30. i might have to 0:25:46 log off a little early tonight i think that's okay i went ahead 45 minutes last time so i think it's okay if i go 45 this time but i think i might have to log on for that i haven't watched him speak in a while he hasn't sounded good lately they have to have him suited up i actually kind of suspect that he's going to be down beat but

that'll be funny too i will say shout out to trump because it looks like he's going to get the result he wanted which was he gets to stop being president without having been branded in his own mind anyway as a guy who lost the presidential election especially to joe biden because he has convinced himself that it's stolen from him and more importantly he has convinced the vast majority of people who voted for him that he is right he can maintain his position as a guy who gets all the attention of being president and all the imagined positive attention of being president without having to do all the so once again this guy the irony of ironies donald trump is 0:26:47 the luckiest man on earth in the sense that he has pursued single-mindedly a single desire in his entire life and achieved every uh possible stepping stone that you could conceive of accomplish with that goal in mind and he has been miserable the entire time that is what i have before referred to on this program as the hedonic treadmill and it's a ***** and one of the worst things that can happen to someone is to always get what they want because at some point you have to reflect inward on the fact that getting what you want doesn't work but if you are s focused enough and narcissistic enough you could just you can thread that kneel and never have that moment and never not be able to drown that moment out with the blaring television piping the 0:27:48 ***** empire carpet jingle in your head while you're ***** ordering the assassination of a i gotta say though him just like going we we claim the like and that's the other part of this that is hilarious because you had yes this army of the darkness that was going to emerge from the suburbs and just claim the government and i know people say well the cops were the real ones i'm sorry these guys all ***** have pensions they have to have they are as atomized as we are they are reactionary and they have power to club people and they get to like carry out higher levels of violence against the population the guys who have the same opinions and would want to do that but they have the same ***** selfish desires as everyone else they have the same non-existent political imaginary as they just want to crack heads didn't ***** complain about ***** uh uh minorities in their in their rumpus room you really think they 0:28:49 have visions of but the other part of it the other flip side is trump had to actually do the thing and his idea of doing the thing is exactly what everyone's joke version of it would be he literally just tweeted it and expected that to do the job because that's what his entire presidency has been because the actual wheels of power have been grinding behind him the just inexorable pull towards an eye annihilation you know the background hum of of neoliberal just austerity uh strip mining the human the the planet and our species being and he's just the whole time and that has been because that's what people talk about and all he cares about is what people are talking about because he's he gets to uh solve every problem through tweeting about it and here is a problem that must be solved it must be solved or tweeting about it and that means what that means that his dumbest acolytes like ***** rudy and his and kushner decide we're gonna rally the troops and ***** blue dobbs does exactly 0:29:51 what those pants sweaters before the election were terrified was gonna happen he goes on national television and tells the treason followers to go to the cities but what about the actual people who would have to do something like state legislatures or federal judges or anything like that who's doing what a guy like mitch mcconnell what are they doing they have institutional prerogatives institutional uh ambitions that transcend the trump administration they are part of the deep state that's the funniest part is that for most of these ***** mega people and almost all honestly of like the post lefties who think like oh trump the ***** deep state hates trump so that means that he's a real threat to them it's like yeah they don't like him they would rather have a guy whose motives they can anticipate because they're broadly theirs which is of like a ruling class self-directing his is a personal ego completely 0:30:53 unbound by adherence to any norm or project beyond his own validation and that's not ideal now you need him you need him you can't win without him and now the people who make up a big bulk of the of of the voters and a lot of the people in power have an ideological connection to him and they they root for him and they take his framing on a lot of issues but you still would much rather especially at this point after you've got what you wanted four years federal judiciary completely stacked six three supreme court majority for the next decade and now my god this election think they might keep the senate and more important than anything they kept those state legislatures those ones that they won in the 2012 freedom caucus uh tea party wave the ones that were supposed to go back to the democrats in the big wave we were going to get for joe biden with this huge spike in voter turnout to repudiate the disastrous trump administration they kept them which means bad 0:31:54 maps are going to get worse and it means that the the electoral path for even the neoliberal democratic party to wield power let alone any fraction of left-wing voters within it why would they want to put any of that in jeopardy for him personally and his network of ***** buffoons and cronies all of whom are just like you can't even invite him to your office to talk about doing illegal ***** because they're gonna like steal the ***** uh paperweight off your desk and hock it for five dollars you're gonna go and have a sp secret meeting with them about you know adrenochrome harvesting or something and they're gonna try to sell you a time share you don't need them and you've got the fact that you've got this rolling crisis that there's nothing in the leo liberal playbook to fix why wouldn't you want to let the democrats do what you did in 2010 22008 which was taken on the chin for the failure to reconstruct 0:32:55 anything out of the economic collapse and best of all there is no direct incentive to you personally as a member of this class of people to help him because well like the impeachment was a no-brainer no republican or at least no republican who didn't live in utah was going to vote to impeach trump because they would have lost their job and they all liked their jobs no one in the important crevices of republican power over like the electoral legislative judicial system has that threat none of them are going to personally be blamed for long this happened my god they're ***** blaming fox news you're off the hook all of them by the way have essentially accepted that he's going to lose by i mean that's the other thing that's another reason that the civil war idea was never going to happen because neither side was going to be able to keep up the head of steam about an election being lost because you know when 0:33:57 i think about it as i pick up my ar to go out and like maybe eat lead some ***** kid with a spiked uh some kid with like purple hair like putting a machete through my eye because like you might say oh they're not gonna do that but like the one that's kind of ***** has to happen and two they all think that kind of stuff could happen what for an election like i remember when obama was president like i would get mad at him he was on the tv but like i still had a tv and i like watching it and i still do it's just gonna it would just eak it away now if he wins and trump could still win it will be not because they stop the count and a bunch of ballots are just invalidated it'll be because the actual count requires a recount or there's a narrow enough discrepancy that they can do actual bush be gore ***** again and if that happens then that's par for the course the same way you can't complain that you lost the electoral college because that was baked in that level of voter theft of election 0:34:59 fat theft is by definition uh baked in because it already happened and you have no excuse but you sure ***** can't ***** say that that's a coup or that we've ended democracy and nobody will believe you if you say it and so you'll say it with less and less force as nobody takes that principle seriously and then you're back into the slog so really i think we're gonna see this sort of like ease tension like just sort of prolonged brezhnevia shrugged towards whatever that it's not terminal it's not like i'm saying everything's going to collapse this could go on for god oh god you have no idea how long you've gone what becomes of q that's a very good question i think 0:36:7 there is going to be if he loses there's going to be some serious disillusionment but i think the real hardcore and this is always what happens when prophecy fails not everybody sticks everybody who's committed enough sticks like i was talking about all these things are in degrees not every q person is a rabid cue person a lot of them and they will say this when you talk to them in these interviews everyone gives them they'll say look it's like an astrology basically like you get up in the morning and you know you read your ***** horoscope nobody really thinks that shit's true but it's interesting and you think about it over the course of the day and it like makes you reflect on yourself and it provides you with like some texture to your social experience cube here is the same thing you can read them in the morning and it's like a ***** horoscope like be on the lookout for the letter l and uh the number 88 and then you do during the course of the day and it's a little entertainment and when that happens like eventually you're just gonna move on to sudoku for the real heads though it's gonna become a religious thing and like trump will be a ***** occluded body for them or something or like like the holy he's gonna like go to the he's like trump left washington on a ***** submarine and left behind a clone so that he could find the holy grail under antarctica in a submarine like okay fine but i think that it will be stripped of specifics and like that ambient q stuff is going to find another poll if trump loses but it will tend to to go towards like a reactionary like anti uh like a reactionary like socially uh hostile direction that's for sure but i think that the specific contours are gonna it's gonna depend on what's i will be interested to see how the cue congresswoman does like is she gonna just start calling everybody up for and be like ask them under oath if they eat children that would be very funny my guess is now that she's in congress she's gonna settle down just like the tea party people did and the funny thing is is people like to say that's proof that like oh yeah the tea party was a failure like no it wasn't it absolutely reoriented the demo the republican party broadly to the right which is all it was ever viable to do that's how these things work like it's a pressure group exerts like an influence that like over time ratchet affects a a party in a direction ideologically and creates new new barriers for like for litmus tests for candidates which ideologically then cohere onto the actual people who run for office it's a ***** success q will do the same thing like these people will change the ideological con the ideological content of the mind of the average uh congressman and that will have its effect that's certainly true i would say yes someone says glenn beck's chalkboard was proto cue correct problem with that was that it was not collaborative it was watching someone play a video game which isn't as fun as playing the game yourself and that was the quantum leap forward that was like the thing that boosted q and made it so enduring because oh this is a game you can play yourself you have to have to watch some guy do the controllers which is what is fun like you get to do your own blackboard do the home game the bet the glenn beck home game and now he's a ***** loser huh totally the guy i mean it was bad enough when he bet when he ***** up on trump absolutely how i mean how do you not recognize how do you not recognize your audience enough to know that that was going to be a bad play unless he figured and i think correctly that his shtick it's not like he could like he could not have been pro-trump because trump was a direct replacement for him like his figure in politics was it's like a ***** sun going supernova like he's this little planet over here during the obama years he was consumed and he would have been consumed there was nowhere for him to go but his attempt to go anti-trump was a hilarious bit of cope is to try to like pivot away 0:40:15 and it failed and then he ***** came crawling back and then that that made him the most somebody else keeps asking me about what i think about custer which is an odd question i'll leave it at that because i'm gonna go and uh and watch this trump uh talk because i want to see the li the live stuff like we're like the entertainment value of trump is going to wane pretty quickly once he's no longer president and i want to get the last good uh drops of juice i mean custer was a very glorious buffoon and that uh just a a a parody of a human being which is what uh mark twain said 0:41:16 about uh francis fuston but it it uh attracts for him what i think is interesting about custer is that in his role uh with fighting the sioux both with washida creek and then finally little blue corn he was essentially acting as a ***** uh mercenary on behalf of railroad interests like he was not ordered to do any of that stuff they went out there as part of a a collaboration to to engage the sioux in a war that would see them thrown out of that territory this is a provocation i think he's not a ***** general all right guys i'm going to go in i'm very excited about this very excited about this talk see on the flip

**** 16 times and what do you get another day older and deeper and dead save peter don't you call me cause i can't go i owe my soul to the company's store now now some people say a man is made out of poor man's made out of muscle and blood muscle and blood and bone and steel and the right one won't get you then the left **Music playing** all right folks how you doing so i know that a lot of people have said after my post-election stream when i laid out the case for the uh the incurable deadlock between two purely culturally effective political parties that cannot be resolved by any appeal to material conditions because that's black pill and that that's doom scrolling or whatever that means and especially since i just kind of ended with if something comes it'll come from below and i can't say what it is it's like god damn that's a **** uh kick the groonies what and while i still can't say how it'll happen or who will be participating in it because that's gonna have to occur in the moment i do think now having thought about it a little bit that i have an idea a sense of what the general's general shape of such a thing would be so i could lay it out and given a description of how i think something might emerge that people could keep an eye out for uh and involve themselves with uh if it comes into their view personally not something that imposed about from me or something that exists now that's for sure but like just structurally just to give people a something to think about while they're trying to tend their own garden without getting too so let's go to the election let's start there looks like biden has won looks like the threat of the com trump coup literally did just turn out to him be him asking someone else to do it and everyone being like nah things are fine uh we'd rather we wouldn't rather we would not like to risk either our lives in the form of like his supposed shock troops who were going to come and flood the zone and initiate the day of the rope or that are careers uh in the form of the people at the top of the uh political and judicial structure and you might say uh well you silly person like they have no consequences i don't think that's true considering how it wasn't close enough for that to be the case these it's like it's not a florida uh gore voice situation there was no room for a a real grab that would have been normalizable maybe like some not something that the snake could digest and so it all pivoted away so we're getting biden and i know a lot of people are breathing a sigh of relief and some people are pointing to everybody who is breathing a sigh of leaf and saying aha you cuck you said all you could you could say all you want about how you didn't like biden and you weren't voting for him but you are rooting for them and that's the same thing you're secretly just through your discussion the way you frame them you're brainwashing your audience to vote for biden you ***** cuck i knew it and as to that i say fair play because if the democrats are the don't be an ***** party and the republicans here that don't be a ***** party i will admit at those culture at that cultural level i am a member of the don't be an ***** party or otherwise known as a ***** i fit the demographic i went to ***** college a middle-class white kid went to college at the right time had the right combination of life experiences to connect to the college experience in a way that conditioned me towards having certain social views about cosmopolitanism and things like that and i know 0:4:7 that those are uh you know um uh i know that those are real issues with real policies related to them you know police funding and you're talking about racial justice or something like that and you know immigration but those all connect to real things with real consequences but for me they are felt effectively they are felt emotionally they're not really part of my like material interests because i'm a white male but i know it's not it's an ***** to just let people get exploited and racist and done racism on um and fair enough uh i cop to that i have those views because that part of the conditioning i keep i've kept because it's it's not people like the new theory is like those set of affects are uh uh like neoliberalism it's no they are the cultural uh uh 0:5:8 like architecture of the broad cosmopolitan uh point of view which is contrasted with the parochial point of view that is uh manifested in the don't be a ***** republican party those are the people who didn't go to college and absorb those things or went to college and rejected those things and i'm not one of them so i am ***** rooting for biden i'm sorry i was cop to it although i have to say though i have absolutely no faith that this is gonna be a better outcome than trump having won reelection in fact i think there's a very good chance it's a worse outcome i mean nothing to be done about it there was never anything to be done about it by any of us be realistic but i i when i look at the next four years the way this vote happened i really do 0:6:9 see no reason to have any um the uh divided government means that nothing of any consequence is passed beyond like the beer the the the very nearest like minimal amount of uh of uh recovery money and and and such and that we will allow ourselves to go through a second cleveland term response to a crisis where we just sort of allow it to continue without any kind of significant government intervention the only big if we get any big legislation it will be something like entitlement reform uh the the grand bargain that mcconnell is waiting and salivating at the prospect of passing in which with a democratic house led by nancy pelosi instead of a ***** crazy group full of tea party psychos uh under uh boehner who wouldn't take a deal when it was given to them by obama they might actually be able to get it uh culturally all the wars that we think are over are only going to get more intense and more annoying i mean i think that the the uh particular keening were of them will go down because trump's not there to like keep the uh keep the liberals psychotically activated but just the general drift is gonna ratchet towards more conflict and there's gonna be more police violence there's gonna be more demonstrations about police violence that there's going to be more political violence in general that people are going to spectaclize and assimilate into their political view and it's going to harden things and that means that those newly introduced republicans who showed up uh the ones who aren't just going to stop paying attention are going to become more convinced of their republicanness but more importantly all of the people who came up to stop biden are in the midterm going to stop paying attention you'll see another red wave like in 2010 and then a failure to recover at all from the uh collapse unlike the fake recovery we got under obama that was then covered with obama's personal charisma and like narrative power to shape shape our you know relationship to the government uh just joe biden's rickety skeleton uh presiding overall like a ***** dance macabre uh we he gets destroyed by whatever comes after trump donald trump jr john taffer my pillow guy maybe tom cotton or josh hawley i mean it's gonna be a battle royale but whoever it is it's that and then you get locked in like a full suite of anti-democratic things that legitimately limit franchise and that uh allow for the full like securitization of life the full privatization of life for the uh coming break up you know into the techno cantons and the and the dissolution of central authority which is the engage game of that faction of capitalism and the democratic party will be unable at every point to stop this because as i have said their drift cannot be reversed they can only double down on what they have been doing like you see it oh uh trump won because america is more racist than we thought well we're just gonna have to scream more about racism then okay that guarantees that all those people who started who voted for trump in 2020 because they think that's a bunch of ***** ***** talk are going to double down on it uh and meanwhile new all those working-class people you're hoping to bring into the gov into politics they're going to see you screeching and howling and they're going to mostly tell you to shut the ***** up because they didn't go to finishing school meanwhile the democratic party will just be the party of college-educated professionals and the problem with them is that they don't stay in big parts of the country that are demographically rewarded with congressional representation and political influence places where that make up 270 electoral votes and that are where people are uh where senators where

two senators can be elected by a couple hundred thousand people they leave those spots they go concentrate in already dense urban areas and contribute to already lopsided political victories that mean that their influence over legislation is basically non-existent those people in the middle those are the people who are left over those are the older folks those are the ones who didn't go to college or came back from college and said it was a bunch of dumb ***** and didn't go off to seek their fortune in the big city and they will just be republicans and that means you will not even be able to get to 270 you know it doesn't matter how many votes you win by in the popular vote you'll never get another ***** uh electoral quote victory and you'll never be able to change uh get rid of the electoral college either and the response 0:10:16 will only be to double down on identity because that's all that exists and it'll all exist for republicans too it's a mirror image thing like they will be doubling down on identity like all during the trump administration people have been complaining about how the democrats and leftists in general are talking about identity too much so was trump to a different and the issue is is that for the non-college educated uh when you talk about those issues it redounds to the benefit of the don't be a ***** party because don't be a ***** is a more visceral and understandable reaction to this kind of stuff because you have not learned the undergirding ideas and in fact a lot of these people say you should never have to tell anybody those because it's not their job to educate you meaning that you're guaranteed to hear the ***** have it bounce off of you and say so i mean that is that's a bad that's a bad case and it undermines hilariously the only case you could have made for biden which was harm mitigation right you can't make an ideological case for voting for biden 0:11:17 that he's going to make anything better uh and you can't uh and in his case you couldn't even have made a harm reduction argument in my opinion but of course the harm reduction argument was in the process it was in the assumption of well we're going to take all these voters in this crisis election and they're all going to vote for democrats and we're going to get a blue wave that gives us the senate and yeah we have the filibuster but hey we'll be able to get rid of the filibuster and i know we don't think it's going to happen but it could and just the prospect of that fills them with this idea that there's possibility and they convince themselves that that's what they're voting for when they vote for biden what they get is the result of this party presiding over these conditions which is uh college-educated people basically being guilting by the tv and and like their fellow college educated people into getting rid of the the bad orange rude man many of them if they're wealthy enough sticking to voting republican down ticket because they're still class conscious along those lines and they know that their interests are in low taxes since that's basically what the 0:12:18 government does but lower high taxes what else does it do that's kind of it because everything else has been pushed off the ***** table as a possibility as an intervention that that the and they're either going to be doubling down on that cultural shift or say well trump's trump's gone now i've normalized trump so nothing's gonna shock me anymore and i'll just wrote republican again you'll have those uh you know younger ideologically committed democrats who are either you know class traders liberal class traders who think they're on the side of the of the downtrodden even though the democratic party is a capitalist party as integral to the maintenance of capitalism and its exploitative system as the republicans are but they don't think of it that way they think they're the party of the downtrodden because they're the party of minority views and i uh and uh you know uh uh uh the the uh yeah minority rights against the oppressive majority like that's that what left means it doesn't have anything to do with distribution because once again distribution is not on the menu but those people will be concentrated in these ***** cities and that means they'll never be able to exercise power over the federal government which means as as capitalism gets more savage and extractive and and social cohesion and social uh obedience are undermined the techno surveillance uh machinery of of uh of control will be instituted by the republican party essentially the which means it probably be will be have like explicit racial character to it now say the democrats win though like this is the real grim ***** is that say you break out of that somehow without under i don't think you could but if you could break out of that somehow without changing the undermining under girding reality that the democrats are not a working party they are a workers party they're a capitalist party uh if you could somehow get them to uh uh winning get them to power in in an event of a crisis all you're gonna do is is is uh is the cliché joke about uh you know rainbow uh painted nose cone predator drones it will be the the violence will be maybe more just less distributed by explicit racial categories but it will be as oppressive and stratified along class so like there's not even really a harm reduction case for trump because that's they're all it all ends badly because say they somehow parlay a bad trump response in the second term to covet to like people just kind of shrugging their shoulders be like things are so bad and these are the only options i guess we'll give them a shot and then they will just be presiding over catastrophe from the point of view of stabilizing capitalism at the expense of us like chuck schumer saying people are killing themselves because we're evicting them let's give cops the power to detain them if they show evidence that they want to self-harm that will be the democratic response to crisis instead of you know build a wall and and lock up these these uh these immigrant children it'll be a like a little drone buzzing over your head that'll blow your brains out if you uh if you frown too many times but it will be the same essential machine for the same essential uh purpose pulling the last ***** marrow out of the bones of the system

before it collapses now once again this is long long time frames but if we're talking about a political party and like the the relationship between political power parties over time in presidential elections we're talking long time scales and we all know that the time scales geologically and ecologically are getting narrower so i'm not saying in anyone's lifetime even i was listening to this but in in in generations this will be the trajectory either way and as i said that cannot be changed from within itself because of how it's structured because there is no class politics that is going to be able to inject itself into the overall dynamic between democrats and republicans because as i have said uh the we have now reached a point where the the end result of the democrats no longer being the party of material advancement for the working class or the downtrodden or whatever for for 40 years the democrats ran this country basically uninterrupted even with eisenhower and nixon in charge the democrats ran this country because they went every two years out and said we're the party of a bigger paycheck after the 70s they could never do that again not in real sense not with any kind of conviction behind it either in policies or in people's memory of their ability to to to deliver on those promises so they've had to find something else to stand in for the party of the downtrodden and because their new constituency was college-educated people who have absorbed ideas about the character of alienation and oppression in this country that have nothing to do with class and everything to do with discrimination along identity axis that narrative is now the accepted idea of what it means to be a a party of the of the little guy it's to defend them against unjust uh uh uh unjust uh an unjust oppression that prevents one from fully participating in the market like that's the real crime of racism and sexism and all other of the patriarchal boogeyman is not any kind of violence against human dignity so much as violence against the ability of a human to inter gage in market relationships the way like everyone else does for one's for one's own personal pleasure seeking as the homo economic as libertarian automaton and the reason the democrats i think are doomed in this dynamic no matter what is that over time as politics gets louder and louder to deal with the fact that things are going to get worse and worse there's not going to be a big influx of these college educated people into the electorate they're already there they're baked in what's going to happen is you're going to have like what happened in 2020 which is a investment by de-politicized socially reactionary working people because they have not absorbed the manner system that they got in college and they're going to see the options we have and they're going to become republicans and that means that you will have this situation where the demographic advantage of the democrats along all accesses except racial in the case of black people but even a long income is going to go away a big chunk of the people are just still not going to be voting at all they will be deeper into despair but those who do vote

are going to vote with more anger and it's going to be directed against the people who want them to keep their voice down even though everything is terrible i think 0:19:29 a good example of the dynamic going forward is uh does anyone know the name uh what's their name this woman who is elected in an up in a lan in an upset uh in the congress this name lauren bobert the one who owns shooter's grill the q anon lady in rifle colorado uh her her story is interesting because uh she has the story of someone who historically would be a democrat she was born in florida when she was 12 she moved to denver she said that she had democratic parents and she they lived in poverty her mom was on welfare uh she went to mc worked at mcdonald's and she was 15. she got a ged she's like a ***** uh uh she got uh pregnant in high school and dropped out she she got her ged this year like a real american like striver uh 0:20:32 and that background according to everything we've absorbed is supposed to make you some you know a democrat but the reason it isn't is because she's white and so it's like well yeah but she's racist so therefore of course she's a republican but the problem is uh nobody is just racist for no reason that's i know that's what we've been told that 16 19 projects and ten tiny houses coats have told us that racism is this intrinsic thing to american life it's a stain and i would say like race distinction is but racism as an operating principle that guides your behavior is not i'm sorry and i know you're going to say yes but at the sub-atomic level it's there every moment it's like yes it is but i also think that when it's at that level its manifestation isn't really noticeable isn't worth freaking out about isn't the thing that you should be tearing your fleshover out about i'm sorry she's racist for some reasons but look at her life you know we're supposed to use mitigating circumstances when considering people who do bad things like she had a shitty life she blames people for it why is she blaming black people instead of uh if she's racist i mean who maybe she isn't racist 0:21:33
i don't even know one way maybe she does just blame elites for why things are bad but why does she think that it's democrats why does she think republicans aren't elites it's because the only thing she's ever known about this party is that it's about this set of uh of ostentatious displays of concern for other people and that you're supposed to not want anything for yourself which is of course what upper middle class polite liberals see politics as but somebody whose life has been like bad somebody who's struggled somebody's been in poverty they're not necessarily worried about how empathic they look to other people because they're trying to ***** survive and liberals and democrats don't seem to care about them so i know that sounds like oh he's justifying racism oh my god once again i wouldn't vote for her she shouldn't be in charge but if we're talking about people in general these things carry out over time and if you take this bobert woman and you look at her background and you compare her to someone like aoc and it's like oh she's like aoc aoc also struggled c also worked 0:22:34

she was a bartender it's like yeah but she was also a congressional aide and she went to ***** boston college majored in political science this is a person who has received the etiquette lessons that you're supposed to and it's like look this bronx latina look she's a good socialist yeah because she went to ***** college and if the question is is the future going to be sorting the party into the part into the party sorting people as they come into politics while things are getting worse and worse into the democrats or republicans to fight over it and it's aoc versus this bobert woman considering how shitty everything is there's a lot more people in this country who are going to be in robert's position than in aocs that are gonna have the chance to go to college you get a four-year ***** degree in some in political science so some people are like why does he keep talking about college like this that the there's plenty of non-college educated people in the democratic party and there's tons of uh college-educated republicans of course there is the reason i'm talking about college is because when we're talking about the electorate in general we're divided into these demographic groups and then try to analyze their voting behavior and we put those on top of one another and it gives us a sense of like what people are the politically engaged people in this country anyway what they are politically what they view how they view things and and and and how like uh the experience of being an american is is is absorbed and those are all things that people do feel about are those all are ways that people absorb things like college education things like race age uh gender those things uh income all do but the problem is in america because we've got thanks to our ability to spread broadly or more broadly than historically has been the case um our lucr after world war ii we created this thing that was kind of non-existent before called the middle class this lumpin look small bourgeois in america or at least it became lumping as we got suburbanized and atomized thanks to media and geographic yeah so our lump in middle class the one uh they are the ones who vote generally so like this is the electorate that's one of the things that always made fascism like the question about fascism sort of interesting because like fascism emerged in the 20s and 30s as a way to counter working-class political mobilization and they did it by essentially mobilizing the lumpen bourgeois the lump and lower classes in germany and italy the thing is in america there is no left-wing movement among the working class the working class is politically inert so it's all an intra-middle-class movement like people say oh all these young men are turning into proud boys like well yeah but it's they're not they're not emerging in to conflict with a working class classified conflict it's just another it's a show off with other college kids it's other middle class strategies and the reason i think college is so important as the one demographic descriptor not only because we're seeing things pulled towards college very dramatically over the last couple of elections but because of all those markers were talking about college attainment uh gender race uh the only one of these that really gets even even income even income i would say the only one that's the only one the one of these that gets closest to actually pegging someone towards class as it's lived in america is a college because the thing about class america is that even though our lives are totally determined by our class class is not a lived experience because we are not conscious of ourselves for the most part some people are but the vast majority are not we do not walk 0:26:41 around conscious of ourselves as members of a class we are much more conscious of ourselves as those other things men haven't gone having gone to college marks you as having gone through a essentially an ideological car wash and most importantly that because basically a ton of working-class people's kids went to college after world war ii and came out uh with professional jobs and moved from the working class to this uh to this middle class this lumpin lower bourgeois uh that means that a lot of people grew up in middle class homes means they went their parents went to college which means they absorbed college from their parents and then they went to college and then they came out having gone through the ideological car wash and uh and 0:27:44 that means that they are somewhere in this middle class like there are some who are going to jump way up and like the rich of course send their kids to college but also they're well you know some people jump up in the income from before they before what they grew up from some people do rise from the working class to go to college they are the minority but they do and then some of them go off to be very wealthy uh some have significant uh collapse in fact the whole generation of these millennials is all kind of nose-dived but they have nosedived back to sort of being in like a income or even working uh class relationship that is similar to people who didn't go to college but having gone to college and the reason that's important is because the experience of going to college creates your conception of yourself as 0:28:45 a political subject either because you went yourself your parents did instill those things in you and then you didn't go because you didn't like them or your uh or if you didn't go to college you absorb culture because everything that is made to be consumed uh in the media is made by and for people to go who went to college because they are professional because uh professional credentials are required for professional endeavors or were at least traditionally in in our system now and that though and that so artists are overwhelmingly uh going to be people went to college and from the point of view of commerce people who went to college since they make up this middle class these are the this is the group of people who are most numerous and have the most money because the poor there's a lot of them but they don't have any money and also how do you even talk to them since there's very few poor people who make art that is seen by the masses and the rich who yes they can be owning 0:29:46 all these things and they can have their kids like you know become actors because they're bored but you know bill gates can only see aquaman how many so many times by himself even if it doesn't cost him a lot of his fortune to go see the movie you need a lot of people watching movies you need a lot of people exposing themselves to advertising you need a lot of people watching the shows so it's all pitched to the middle class so they're absorbing all these moires too uh but the experience of so everyone had who is politically active is what i'm saying is is that way because of their exposure to the psychological regimen to the value system that is created by college this is what moldbug calls the cathedral and it's real it's real uh but the thing is is that it's assumed that this thing exists to make people democrats and well it is true that that is the intention i would think of the majority of the people who make up the collegiate structure uh that is not the full purpose it crea it creates political subjects it creates people who see themselves politically and now the people within 0:30:47 it want to create democrats but because the experience of college is not you know it's not a factory it's a bunch of individuals going into it all of them with individual life experiences individual backgrounds individual personal uh lived uh standpoints whatever the ***** however you want to put it and it means that they're gonna respond to these things in unpredictable ways so that while college in this cathedral makes democrats on purpose it also by accident because they go to college where they have absorbed college in their media have go grow to detest those values and then decide to hold the other values because what you learn in college is the don't be a ***** worldview which is cosmopolitan which is uh worldly which assumes in equality of all individuals uh the equality of rights of all people uh and and the 0:31:49 necessity to create some sort of social justice like that is um and a lot of people absorb those views and think yes that's good a lot of people uh and and i think that broadly those are correct in abstract the problem is is that they are not uh as they are encountered in college and in the culture produced by college they are turned into this brittle list of uh personal virtues that are expressed through concern not through actual policies that are going to help anybody like that's the key part about this is that this this this soul washer that we built to send people through and have them come out uh valuing you know diversity and all these things uh is in a system where you're literally telling them at the same time that you're telling them that uh there's oppressed people in the world uh and that uh you know it's the duty to make things better for everybody you're telling them that communism cannot work that uh the competition and uh is irrat and uh is competition is like the the essence 0:32:52 of human experience that uh that the economy is a system produced to create like maximal value through uh people seeking their self-interest in the marketplace and on top of that uh but and so but in that system in this system that is immutable because remember we're not teaching you any marxism like that's the big joke about

right wingers is that there's a bunch of marxists in the academy marx has been purged from the academy for decades marx is not taught as a serious option marx is taught as a historical curio and a dead end that didn't take into consideration such intersecting issues is patriarchy and racism and blah blah and that means that when you absorb this stuff you're not just absorbing equality you're absorbing that the only problem that is caused by inequality is personal manners is people being mean to one another it's not systemic uh re-inscription of the social uh exploitation 0:33:54 because that's not the thing remember society is not a system for exploiting the side of the society is not the haves sucking the ***** life force uh and species being out of the the half knots exploiting those with only their labor to sell uh to by vampire like sucking their surplus no no no it's equal exchange of of of desires across the the equal marketplace uh and if there's if black people are or immigrants are disadvantaged or women it's because people are mean and we're and that's not a viable answer and people you either ignore that fact because you're caught up in like the drama of either having experienced those oppressions and wanting to see them corrected or being if you haven't feeling guilty that they're being done on your behalf and one either way you have an emotional investment if you don't have an emotional investment like say you're a white male you're more likely to go uh yeah maybe the they're they're just less maybe they're just not as good like if this is all uh if this is 0:34:57 an open contest and they're behind maybe it's because they're shitty like if this is a race it's like oh they're they're being held back it's like i'm not holding them back i'm seeing them advance like they're all over the place and yet they're not cutting the mustard there's no answer for that other than uh no it's because you're racist that's why they're doing it it's circular it cannot it cannot get towards actual justice uh and so this machine creates these numbers of these well-intentioned liberals who think they're being nice people even though they're really doing is taking a bunch of excuses to be mean to other people and to hate other people to displace their anxiety about being at the top of an economic rung or whatever they want to punish them and so they inscribe their hatred upon you know knuckle jagger the neanderthals men being trash and then they they decide to to you know hate them uh and then or you join the team of ***** and be like it's these whiny ***** and these ***** uh 0:35:58 so the way this works basically is that america has this weird middle class that's not distinct in its relationship to the means of production it contains per it's people who coined the term professional managerial class i prefer lumpin petit bourgeois because it's a very specific american flavor of this where it has never gathered together into any self-conscious thing because class was being abolished when it was being created as a concept that was lived by suburbanization and mass culture and so no one has ever thought of themselves as a class the way that like the small bourgeois maybe did in germany and so uh they have to be turned into aware of of their uh place because the thing about these people in the middle class is that the broad middle class the reason that it's such a weird category and it's such a liminal space is that they're not as the working class are purely exploited by the system and they're not as the ruling class are pure beneficiaries of the of the extractive system they are both largely victims and perpetrators they might uh have employees uh people that they hire on like a freelance basis or even as direct employees they might uh they're members of professionals they're managers of other employees that's a big part of it is management like you have people who you could fire but someone could fire you it is a liminal it's a spot between and this has always existed in every society but in america we've been able because of the post-war boom and everything we created this huge explo explosion of these things and it created the need to create things like the ***** jobs david graber talks about because people had to have something to do my god we've got too much free time here we've got too far free time and we can't just have people sitting around they're going to get ideas so everybody has to get busy becoming managers and and consultants and all this horse ***** and then their kids live these lives where their parents and them are the experience of plenty boom and bust you know the lean years and fat years uh and and you know the good and the bad side of being in this middle spot in the capitalist pecking order uh but they're nonetheless they are the pr they are being exploited and therefore they suffer alienation as the working class do and uh that working that alienation at some point turns into or can turn into depending on how you experience it can turn into something called class consciousness where you're like oh these are not discrete symptoms of displeasure in my life these are all epiphenomenal to a single daily moment by moment attack on my spirit and soul which is that i have been denuded of my ***** species being at like a basic level control over my time on earth by and by my un uh requested my necessary my uh my my curse like my i'm like i am as a surf was and for many people that never occurs and in the 19th century like the the working class as mark saw coming together and then was ratified to see come together later uh the the collective experience of coming to a city living in a in a district of workers and doing the same job with other people just the the mere social exchange within that relationship produces a resonance of experience between people a checking of notes that finds one answer and then that is class consciousness there is no mechanism to create that american now it was broken by the prosperity really of the post neutral era so the but the so the people who are now we're being born to the boomers and to the exeters they emerge into a world that has been denatured of any kind of real class consciousness and they find themselves in this for the most part these middle class people in this liminal spot between the two uh and so they might never put this in a class context or more specifically in a political context they might not ever think oh these things can be addressed by a political project that's what now if you grow up around middle class people that's basically impossible like as a kid you learn these are political concerns this is a political world your parents have political views so you know the things that are good now this is probably all a bunch of uh cultural epiphenomenal ***** like you know uh abortion or uh if you're like the anti-abortion movement you know like all these people in the 70s they're terrified of the fact that people that the the working that the uh that the nuclear family was being pulled apart when it was being pulled apart by the fact that you couldn't have a ***** nuclear family anymore you couldn't afford it but we're going to put it on the blame of women wanting to be able to control their reproduction because they now have to engage in the wage relationship forget that it's going to be abortion so like even though abortion is a real issue that has real consequences the reason people are mad about it the reason it's a political football is because they have a false conception of what it means what they're really mad about is something driven by the economic system that undergirds it but they can't see that because they do not have a fully formed political consciousness college is where people take those generalized feelings of anxiety about society they might have as a young and idealistic person especially if they are going to college they think we're going to learn something about the world and it's where they're given a form because in college is when most people encounter for the first time concepts like communism socialism the wage relationship you know economics that kind of stuff and that is where they are then able to emerge and go oh oh ***** damn there's this whole thing about the economy and how that structure stuff wow now of course college then informs you as soon as it reforms you that yeah you know these things are real and also you know the country you came from it had a lot of violence in it and it's had a lot of exploitation in its history and you know there's been a lot of pain and blood bloodshed and you feel very shocked about that and if you're white you might start feeling guilty about it but then with the next breath you any any idea that there's like a new frontier for uh uh like uh changing that at a fundamental level is foreclosed and you are left having to deal with those epiphenomenon if you want to feel like a good person uh because there's two ways you can learn about something like your class and what it means to be in a class relationship through experience and through uh uh instruction and middle class in america until recently now the ones who are out of college are the first to not experience that since the post-war era uh those middle class people aren't experiencing it because while they are exploited it's masked their exploitation is masked by the fact that they're relatively well off so that it's almost impossible for middle-class people to get a lived experience without the intervention of instruction on what it means to be in a class poor people have but the thing is is that well they have the lived experience of class exploitation they don't in this world that we live in now have the ability to compare notes the way that working class people used to be able to and so that whole gets filled with you know whatever is in the culture around them which ends up being stuff like you know alex jones a lot of the time or or other you know entertainment products that sort of fill in the void of that instruction that is not there if you did not participate in college so the people in college get this first experience of class consciousness and they process it in two ways depending on not their income or their family's income or anything not if they came from the working class not if they're in the middle class not if they're coming down from the mountaintop of wealth and privilege to get an education for some reason which a lot of them do because what else are you going to do with your time uh they can all have different reactions it's not determined the individual response is going to be determined by your individual life experience like i for example i think the fact that my spinal column just exploded when i was in high school i i nearly died and i was in a wheelchair it basically made it impossible for any reactionary social argument to hold sway with me because no argument that anyone has anything bad coming to them because of like where they were born like what skin they were born into or what social position they were born into will ever hold sway for me because i am more intimately aware than most people in my position of the fundamental and terrifying contingency of life on this ***** planet the fact that nothing is earned that everything is is is a uh random uh uh uh thunderbolt that we have to deal with and that our ability to thrive in life is largely our ability to just avoid through happenstance the calamities that surround us other people have different experiences maybe you had really annoying hippie parents and you're and they're like really mean but also sanctimonious and it like turned you off on the entire thing or you had like evangelical psychos and you've decided that conservatism is inherently bad but you get to college and you learn all these cosmopolitan things hey in case you didn't know all the other people in the world they're all equal they all deserve life on this planet but many of them are struggling and that's now if you didn't go to college there's two ways you process that if you have had likely and like i said didn't go to college doesn't necessarily mean poor but it disproportionately means poor uh and specifically it means your parents probably didn't go to college which means they probably make less money than the parents if your parents didn't go to college and you worked your way to college like you took out loans or whatever you very well could see all this stuff and be like i made it ***** you and if you get out of college and are successful and you're like driven and that's how you got there and that's how you made it you might have contempt for the people you know in those conditions who didn't get out like jd vance for example or you know uh um uh like uh uh lit uh you know a pull up your pants guy you know like i made it they didn't you know like poverty doesn't ennoble the character like poor people being poor sucks and it picks people have a hard time empathizing with others sometimes and it makes it harder for it makes people mean sometimes not everybody but it makes them mean people and if you're poor and you're around mean poor people sometimes you decide ***** them or and then maybe you decide you see all this stuff the democratic rapping and you're like ***** this i'm a republican or you say yeah i i feel a kinship with the with the suffering of these other people once again this comes down to the personal experiences you had that made you think that way i'm broadly speaking a democrat i might consider myself a left-winger but i'm a democrat and 0:47:21 this is what i have to say that these are binary categories everybody uh who went to college uh or votes votes consistently along a a political access or doesn't vote but because they're making a point about it is one of these or the other because they're very broad uh they reflect the broad uh binary dynamic of american politics they're democrats and republicans a lot of people say oh chapel you're democrats that's like i don't like the democrats i didn't fight for joe biden i never told anybody to vote for joe biden but broadly speak i'm a democrat but here's the ***** shock twit plot twist ***** you are also a democrat everyone listening to this everyone watching this i would wager is a democrat even if you didn't go to college you have absorbed left ideology to the point where you're on that side of the cultural divide you have the same sort of visceral responses to these cultural signifiers even if you know they are 0:48:22 cultural signifiers now if you go to now wealthier people if for one reason or another they don't feel guilty about the fact that they're exploiting other people and that they're the that they just suck and a lot of people do they harden their hearts one way or the other or for one reason or another uh they say no ***** them they should be that way and they're republicans uh but people who are wealthy and don't who do have like a human connection haven't like forsworn that human connection haven't decided to justify themselves they become democrats but of course they become liberal democrats because they're never going to want to get rid of class hierarchy because it benefits them they are much more likely to decide you know what class is always going to be there but racial discrimination and all these uh inequalities we could do something about those just so happens they don't really do anything about me except me except what i might have to pay higher taxes at the end of the day rich 0:49:24 people can always afford to pay more ***** taxes and then you've got the middle class where they experience life and their parents experience life both exploiting and exploiting or not or their exploitation is not felt as class exploitation and they might come aware of the very idea that their class exploited in college and be like whoa how do they respond that boils down to whether they decide to feel a kinship with the working class even if they aren't technically part of it and even and or they are or they decide to disdain the working class and adhere their heart to capital for specific personal individual reasons but the thing is you get these like these might be random these might be a happenstance within an individual but over large groups of people they sort into broad categories and broad broad world views that people hold and so you you shift these working class these these these college educated middle-class people into sort of in their hearts working-class people whether they are or aren't who believe they're part of a project with other working class people to to get rid of all the racism and the bad stuff or maybe if they're more radical you know get rid of uh capitalism either through the democratic party or defeating it but maybe voting for it strategically sometimes and then you've got the uh the ones who decide yeah no my bad my dad uh you know he worked his ass off to become an insurance salesman and yeah his boss rid him but you know he uh he wanted to get good work out of him and he got and then he took over the boss ship and i could be the boss someday and these things are pulling these two groups to identify and a lot of it is about gender because gender is felt much more closely to one's lived experience than uh than classes and it's still in it and it's actually structured by our relationship to that college education we got and like the language we learn in college is the education is the is the manners of the professional sector which is in like engagement terms in in social terms it is a feminized space it is a face that rewards uh politeness that rewards an ability to be socially observant uh cooperation over conflict and in fact that's one of the things you really learn in school is to act like that that is and so women are more likely to find that uh agreeable because they have been conditioned to be like that because of gender expectations men are going to be less comfortable with it so that helps split this atom this is more this means that men are more like of all races are more likely to go through that process and come out as republicans women are more likely to come out as democrats and then you've got the men who identify as uh you know with that working class with those oppressed people they're more likely they're going to be male feminists they're going to be they're still being different and then women who are like feminism is stupid are going to follow the men to the republican side but the leading gender like split is in that direction so in all cases like it's going to have people of every group but i'm talking the the polls where the where the things demographically aggregate into parties that are going to then vote and determine the outcome of the ***** and so what this means is is that over time uh these working-class people who have not gone through that process of coming into like full awareness of the of the virtue of this specific uh cultural uh etiquette are going to be brought into politics by the trauma of the moment offered a choice between you know vigorous uh uh resistance of uh of formalized nicety uh and a series of elaborate social uh demands uh kabuki uh uh abnegations that have no goal that have no uh benefit because that is the key point to all of this this is the thing that's going to drive the democratic party into oblivion uh is that all of this stuff while self-evident the virtue of which is self-evident to people who went to college and adhered to the democratic worldview the people who said yes to all those things about inclusivity and yes all those things about privilege and yes to all those things about the need for diversity and voices being heard and all that uh it 0:54:31 all makes sense to them and the way that it relates to human uh flourishing makes sense but if you have not encountered it at all let alone rejected it you hadn't even had the chance or which is a lot this is a lot of traces you would reject it through viewing it through the culture and the media and saying it's sanctimonious ***** because you have not been absorbed into it when you see it all you see is a demand to be quiet all you've seen is a demand to me nice all you see is a demand on you to behave a certain way for no benefit to you the benefit of someone else and why you're supposed to care about them you could get there and you could even get to a point where hey helping them helps me if you go through like a whole political awakening but americans aren't doing that if they're being asked to ***** fill in a form every four years they're gonna see the thing in front of them and they're going to be respect respond to something that if they went to college and said ***** this uh or they didn't they saw the culture and said ***** this so the upshot of this to me 0:55:41 is that any question about how to politically engage with this perpetual doomsday machine that we've created between the two parties this dance of death this tumble off reichenbach falls between the two political parties be done through the democratic party cannot be done through the through the device of the democratic party because the democratic party is in my opinion fully and completely the party of ***** it is the party of manners and politeness to anyone outside of the the educational matrix responding just to its cultural uh uh expressions and its political expressions it is just the party of keeping your voice down and that means that anyone within it trying to reach people outside of that bubble will be received the same way even if they're socialist even if they're they're saying medicare for all in full throat because they're 0:56:42 not all that is going to be heard is that through the ***** filter of all the other ***** that the democratic party actually in a day-to-day basis represents to these people which is unpleasant interactions with unpleasant liberals both online in the real world and on television and if there will be a democratic expression of working class challenge to the coming neo liberal austerity hell it will come in the form of a new party not a break away from the democratic party but a party that emerges from labor action the actual coordination of people in their place of work where those people doing that work come to organization the same way they did in the ***** 20s and 30s the same way they did in the ***** 1870s when pinkertons were shooting them and in so doing that they will because uh state lesson uh people even if you have not absorbed the values of going and voting because that's the important thing here is that uh is that you say like well what about uh uh what about all these dem to trump what about all these trump to damn uh white people aren't they republicans didn't they say ***** the ***** it's like yes they did but the thing you're getting from college isn't just the content of the cosmopolitan worldview it's the container which is objective reality which is norms and institutions which is the constitution means something and the presidency has meaning and voting has a worth that's why you do it and that means that when trump shows up and does his clown show for four years even if you are not really that uh attached to the ***** uh democratic party even if you are as a you know republican adhered towards a policy of keeping your taxes low at all costs you very well might decide okay this is too far especially when the other option is joe biden that's why people are mad at the but the the democrats were doing what they did and hitting them pitching themselves to suburban republicans i'm sorry but it was their only play because the democratic party unless bernie had been the nominee and even then i wonder would have been able to break through that and so the only voters they could realistically get were them now what they didn't anticipate is that a bunch of these working-class people would now come into the electoral process and say ***** you ***** that's what that's why they're owned but their general strategy was the only one they could have pursued because this is not something that is chosen this is something that is predicated by the algorithm of the party and by it's now it's it's it's it's demographics so those those uh trump to uh biden voters you know they they never bought into all the ***** stuff about uh lived experience and and uh reparations and ***** like that i mean that's why they voted down ticket republican but they do think that trump is a bad president and an erratic president and therefore should probably get out of there and get a nice quiet guy who's not time so anything in the democratic pile would pile anything coming out of the democratic branding is going to be buying for those people and they don't know it that's the thing the people who are even doing this like the people on the left of the democratic party who are imagining some aoc led insurgency they are not even aware that their project is stillborn because they think no we'll reach out we'll reach out to these people that's like yeah you will but they're just going to see some ***** they're going to see aoc they're going to hear when you say medicare for all free college they're going to hear ***** charlie brown's mom but then when you say intersectionality and uh and kids in cages they're going to roll their eyes because this is not being done in the democratic party the people in the democratic party the people who vote in the democratic party they're not operating on be for uh they're not operating as an expression of working class interest they're working on what they perceive to be behalf of working-class interests they are they are stooping to they are condescending inherently because even if they are you know they are struggling themselves they're struggling in a context where they assume they're part of a of a middle class by virtue of their education and they're not connected culturally to those people they just aren't and that means that nothing within the democratic party is i think realistically going to blow out and grow out and increase the share of those uh working-class voters it's going to get some of them but i think the the it will not change the uh drift because this is all about big numbers and about drift over time it's not going what might happen is that working people might realize that they can ***** organize their workplaces the ones who still have workplaces and then because they live in america and they know that this is a political country and they've realized oh ***** voting yeah that's the next step because they're not going to go to revolution i'm sorry nobody's going to skip this if you're like hey maybe i can do politics and there's an option of voting and maybe doing things without having to get your head cracked open most people are going to take it so just yelling at them that it's not going to work and that you're being sheep dipped into electoralism isn't going to work because everyone's going to take the ballot over having to ***** shoot somebody or get shot because they don't have any assumption it's going to work they have not been conditioned as the people who believe in that those vanguard partyists they have not been conditioned to believe that they have not come around to the realization that electoralism is useless they have to come to that realization so they're going to try sorry and that means they're going to build a party and it's going to have people who are like went to college in it but not coming down from above as organizers maybe the media figures might inspire not me for christ's sake not nearly famous enough but maybe somewhere down the line somebody like will uh run some sort of third-party insurgent campaign that galvanizes people uh and and like a party will emerge semi-spontaneously from the working class it will not be a spontaneous like anarchist organization it will be structured as a leninist party should be i think and it would come from the intersection between a working class and like an emergent party uh activist base organically now i'm not saying that will happen and i would in fact still say it is highly unlikely that it even gets off the ground let alone has any chance of successfully challenging for power i do think though that if there is going to be something that emerges from those grassroots i talked about the other day that's the form it will take it will have to be a new party an explicit working-class party that does not emerge from some split with the democrats and is not constituted at the top level politicians so is that still i guess is that black pill

is that brown pill i've at least expressed you know a possibility um but you know a lot of people who hear third party their assistance their sphincter wraps up and mine did too like that's one of the big reasons i kind of rolled my eyes at people who got mad at bernie for not running third party it's like this system is designed for two cis parties it's it cannot be broken the constitution itself it necessitates it uh 1:4:56 and so i said forget about it but there is a historical precedent that might give some hope that things might be a little different and that would be hilariously enough the republican party now the republican party emerged not from the breakup of the whigs and that's one thing that we're not going to have on our favor i don't think the democrats are going to break up but the whigs broke up because the whigs like the democrats for years were a party that was brought that was uh broadly uh national although there were far fewer wigs in the south than there were in the north but there were wigs in the south uh whereas the democrats were more numerous in both places because while they made up the the gentry and the uh labor and the white uh peasantry of the south they made up the urban working class of the 1:5:57 north as well uh whereas like the smallholders were generally the small holding uh like craftsmen uh in were split between the parties uh and and the uh wigs were largely the part product party of work the emergent middle class the emergent classes in the cities the people who worked in the uh the new like proto-capitalism uh and uh you know staffing things the the rude mechanics and or not mechanics were uh were actual laborers but uh mud sills i guess i would call them like clerks the kind of people that the southern aristocrats despised that that was the whig party the wings and democrats both had a policy for years of just ignoring the sexual question of slavery because they didn't want it to lead to a ***** civil war uh and that was okay because it wasn't a salient issue to people and the democratic party 1:6:59 in the north was largely bereft of anti-slavery sentiment for a long time because for northern workers um and northern farmers slavery was a material issue it was they didn't really care one way or the other because it wasn't happening there or to them uh and since that was the case they really just wanted abolitionists to shut up about it so that it didn't ***** lead to a war they didn't want to fight um in the middle class there was opposition to slavery uh which made the whigs like a less pro-slavery party than the democrats were because it had this uh middle-class base that was that objected to slavery on ideological grounds slavery was bad because it was the enslavement of people and that drove the conflict for a long time but then with first annexation of texas and then bleeding kansas and uh uh the question of slavery and 1:8:0 its expansion became material to the workers of the north because everyone sort of understood at a basic level as lincoln said the highest divided against itself could not stand and that if the sectional tiebreak was ever broken in the favor of slavery it meant it would mean that slavery would become uh uh a car it would uh be across the entire country it would be brought into the north just as the south was certain that if the uh deadlock in the government broke the other way which it did in 1860 and caused the secession that that slavery would be done away with they were both certain of this and so once the uh the balance got threatened by the question of kansas the issue of slavery became material to the working class of the north and they said ***** i don't want to compete with with unfree labor and so that led to uh pressure within the parties and the first to crack was the wigs because the wigs were because they were more middle class more ideologically opposed to slavery which means their ire on the question got hot hotter faster and meant that the uh ability of the whig leadership to hold together the sections became uh attenuated and so in the early 18 uh 1850s it uh it broke up and the republicans emerged as a essentially the whig party's platform but explicitly anti-slavery and it was originally staffed mostly with former wigs and it competed in the 1856 election for the first time uh and because it was a new party uh it went for star power with its nominee they nominated john c fremont the pathfinder who was a very famous explorer and free booter who had done uh like uh i think he explored i think like colorado uh so he was essentially a celebrity and third parties love celebrities because they need to get their foot in the door with people and they actually ran in that race against james buchanan and against millard fillmore representing the no-nothings who represented a different breakaway from the from the whigs uh of people who were pissed off about slavery but even more than that were pissed off about the very existence of the democratic party and decided that instead of going the slave power that ran the democrats they would go against the northern expression of democratic power which was catholic immigrants and within four years though they were gone and the republican party was the party in the north uh because the issue of slavery had become completely salient to everybody both workers and uh uh middle-class people and eve and the democrats broke up in 1860 and a big chunk of uh democrats in the north still voted for uh the northern democratic choice stephen douglas there was a good uh democrat switch the democrats or i mean switch from republicans to democrats but uh lincoln mostly won with the ex-wig strongholds and then was able to take advantage of you know douglas's uh not being able to get any southern uh so that you know that could happen and what happened during the war is that you have this fusion of the whig the republican uh like middle class opposition to slavery which was ideological and then the working class whose opposition to slavery had been this felt material threat the idea of having to compete with slave labor uh the the very process of fighting the war and defeating slavery brought them to sort of a synthesis and by the end of the war there was a broad understanding even among you know the largely racist working class of the north that slavery was an evil it wasn't just a threat to free labor it was an inherent evil of itself and that it needed to be stamped out tragedy of reconstruction the reason it failed is because rather than the because these republicans who at the leadership position were the democrats of their day in that they were middle-class people or wealthier who had absorbed middle-class values not through college necessarily although a lot of them had but just through the drawing room propriety of life in these you know well-heeled urban areas and their opposition to slavery was always that of the um of the aesthete and that means that they did not connect it to a deeper issue the way that like a working-class person could connect to the deeper issue and connect slavery to the concept of wage slavery of connect like compelled labor to his his life of exploited labor uh and so when the war ended capitalism in the south did not end this the plan plantations went back uh uh the cotton got extracted again the slate the the former slaves were were rehired uh and and the poor southerners were forced to pick up the pieces while the planter class was re-established because these uh these former wigs didn't really have any interest in transforming the means of production and and heightening you know the the conflict with capitalism the way that like the german idealists like my boy agus village and joseph wedemeyer hoped it would and that possibility that that moment we had after the civil war of like a a a coalition of uh of this militant working class these people who fought the war to end slavery the former slaves themselves and maybe even the ***** former uh you know white uh smallholders the ***** dirt farmers of the south who'd had nothing their entire lives could have been brought together in a project of uh of of liberation i'm not saying that would have happened it's still it's very unlikely but in any world where it could have happened abraham lincoln doesn't get assassinated i'll say that but even if he doesn't get assassinated the overall issue of the fact that the whig party which drove the the caboose of the dem republican party that became hegemonic in the post-war world was not fundamentally working class and therefore did not have any interest in furthering the conflict with capitalism and in fact reinscribed capitalism and just instituted the whig program which was hamiltonian developmentalism uh but in the context of the massively accumulated capital that had emerged from uh from the civil war itself which created an industrial behemoth that destroyed uh that became this oppressive force and that is why you don't want to see the democrats doing any of this because if they're riding the thing it'll be another middle-class uh exercise in aesthetic morality uh but there are examples of things like that emerging and i'd say the populist party is probably the closest we've ever seen to something uh becoming becoming just sort of sweeping out uh through uh like mutual uh mutual cooperation in the face of exploitation and uh hardship but eventually they were absorbed into the the platform uh of the democratic party which is kind of inevitable the democrats could collapse like a house of cards i mean not it's not in like some of these suburbs but i think that uh that their failure is going to be pretty dramatic and a lot of people who are very keyed up right now are going to be very very mad and i don't know where it goes like i said it probably doesn't go anywhere but it might go it might go to somewhere and if it does it'll be an emergent party i'd say because that's how people are going to express themselves in america because that's what that's what politics will mean to people who are being brought into it not by book learning but by lived experience and cooperation and if we could do that we might finally have a party that the post-war republican party could have been and that a lot of people like marx and certainly willach hoped it would be which is a party of uh labor that would have in my you know best case scenario for a more successful reconstruction have gotten rid of the us constitution and refund and created a new refounded american political structure that would abolish federalism entirely i think that that any hope we had to not be on this trajectory would have required that and i really do think that like i said although there's no guarantee it would have worked it probably wouldn't have i think that the assassination of lincoln is one of those rare contingent and consequential moments in american history but if we ever got a party it would be a party that will take up the banner that the republicans should have held which was to take the war against slavery and continue it against wage slavery the way that bukharin wanted to take the red army after uh the after world war one uh and turn it into a people's army against uh western imperial capitalism the difference uh but it didn't happen and honestly one of the big reasons was that after five years of war people were ***** tired the way this is going to happen like i said i don't know what to look like in terms of real structure or specifics but if it occurs it'll be because people have enough people will have found a way to motivate themselves towards a collective good through a not through reason not by logic not in order to uh performatively demonstrate virtue to other people and alleviate themselves of their own anxiety about their class position and the amount of exploitation that they uh that they uh benefit from in this world but because they truly believe that their lot is tied with others to such an extent that that they can abnegate their own uh narrow interests uh and it's to that point i would like to read something that uh one of my favorite people in american history eugene debs wrote in his the socialist newspaper appeal to reason in 1907. about john brown and the need for the spirit of john brown to return i want to say before that i read this that when i say if we need like john brown as an example as i've talked about i do not mean any of the violence that carried out which is what people like let's be real people like john brown because he cut the heads off of slavers and they think of john brown and they imagine themselves like beheading a proud boy and they feel like their via this violent fantasy that they have is virtuous that's that's what it is and i'm not talking about that like i think anybody who's observed america knows that like any kind of exemplary violence is not going to motivate any sort of titanic conflict it's only going to be absorbed as entertainment and his content the way that everything else is so not talking about violence i'm talking about a spirit of commitment john brown's violence was in the context of a strategy of ending civil war of slavery which was broadly correct in 1:20:21 that he saw that there was a standoff between sides in which uh no one on the north cared about slavery enough to uh commit enough to create a genuine point of conflict with the south the south was pretty confident up until bleeding kansas that they would just eventually take over the government uh they they were on because there was an asymmetric asymmetry of interests in the south you had an entire working moving working a an entire ruling class devoted to slavery at a fundamental level culture wealth everything was about slavery and a white society that was all built around slavery in the lowlands anyway in the in surprisingly in the hills where there weren't plantations there was a lot less slavery and weirdly a lot less support for the confederacy during the war for some reason i don't know where that is um but in the north like i said it was largely i just don't want slaves competing with me for labor you had some abolitionists those wigs i was talking about and people who 1:21:23 were too hardcore for the wigs like the liberty party people and the free soilers who said no ***** you uh let's end this thing but they were always considered annoying like northern democrats hated abolitionists because they thought they were ***** they were going to create a war that they didn't want to fight because they didn't care about slavery but as the sec as the question of expansion became more central and the the investment of the south in expanding slavery and therefore expanding their control over government became more powerful that changed the math in the north but not enough to make anyone cross the ***** boundary because at the end of the day it was abstract to people it was not abstract to john brown or the people who rode with him it obviously wasn't abstract to black people either but they had very limited power to influence white people's decision-making john brown could go to kansas and do violence that that broke away from the stalemate that that uh that galvanized the free soil factions in kansas who at that point had basically been backing down to the ruffians at every point and made them fight and the fight made 1:22:24 everyone realize that what they were willing to do and brought about the conflict there's nothing like that in the current moment there's no violence you could commit that would have that result all violence would be absorbed ***** stephen paddock shot 70 ***** people uh to death from the top of a building and it was the fifth biggest story of the month there's no amount of violence you can do uh that will have any effect not even it'll be negative effect i'm not even gonna say don't do it i mean yeah if you kill people that's bad probably i mean they probably didn't have it coming especially if it's just because they have the wrong opinions about something but my god which is what it would really be you're not going to go and fight real power you're going to find somebody who said something you don't like on twitter shoot them or something like that because that's what really matters to people that's what they really care about what i mean is that spirit of non-abstract commitment as a life and like i have said i am not that person i mean i see i would like to be and maybe someday i will find a situation where i am like able to believe enough that the thing i could do in front of me would mean something meaning uh that would like that would justify any any sacrifice but i think that that spirit is necessary and i think that it's to be i mean i don't think it's not going to happen i don't think it doesn't occur i don't think it's not out there everywhere in the hearts of millions of people it's a question of whether it'll spark in the right places and among the right people where where the rolling ball of humanity can like gather and and like i said when i talk about how atomized we are and how we are all consumers and how we can't even think politically like that was a huge huge huge problem like brown brown activated in an era where politicization of life was much more uh uh taken was much more uh material it was it was the spectacle of politics was much much less a component of people's understanding of their politics but if we're going to do anything that's going to be we're going to do anything except like volunteer to be a fifth column when the ***** chinese army shows up uh that's what we have to keep our eyes out for as i've said just keep away so we'll close here with this from the appeal to reason november 23rd 1907. the most picturesque character the bravest man and most self-sacrificing soul in american history was hanged at charleston virginia december 2nd 1859 on that day thoreau said some 1800 years ago christ was crucified this morning per chance captain brown was hung these are the two ends of a chain which is not without its links he is not old brown any longer he is an angel of light i foresee the time when the painter will paint that scene no longer going to roam for a subject the poet will sing it the historian record it and with the landing of the pilgrims and the declaration of independence it will be the ornament of some future national gallery when at least the present form of slavery shall be no more here we shall then be at liberty to weep for captain brown few people dared that on that fateful day to breathe a sympathetic word for the grizzled old agitator for years he had carried on his warfare against shadow slavery he had only a handful of fanatical followers to support him but to his mind his duty was clear and that was enough he would fight it out to the end old john brown said an example of moral courage and of single-hearted devotion to an ideal for all men and for all ages foreign is everybody doing it's uh unnervingly beautiful day in new york hey i was walking here hello sweatness my old friend i've come to speak with you again it was uh it was so the last couple of uh streams i've been sort of trying to sketch out a 0:1:2 working theory for the political moment and i think i'm getting there but i think i thought i'd just take a break from that for a bit let that stuff simmer a little bit let me think about it i think i might end up space than this i feel like it's sort of i've gotten as far as i'm gonna get talking about it on here so keep stay tuned for something else where i kind of flesh that out but just last thing i say on the subject though before i kind of move on uh is i know a lot of people seem to be upset by what i'm saying about the idea of college-educated people composing some sort of cultural elite now like a class with with its own characteristics and i get why because that's a claim of a lot of dumbasses who want an excuse to become republicans i mean that's the end of the day that's what that is and maybe it's my fault for not stressing 0:2:3 enough that when i say it's a class i don't mean an actual class in any marks a sense i mean a pseudo class we're talking about pseudo classes in that they have something that is like class consciousness and that it informs their political actions i either vote which is all we do in america mostly but their political actions are symbolic and their class their class awareness is totally illusory and it has nothing to do with their relationship to production it has nothing to do with like whether they're bad or good people because of their relationship to the mechanisms of exploitation like most americans they are both exploited and exploiters it's all about how you see yourself and then what premises you operate from that opera that determine your political uh uh agency and traditionally classes are supposed to emerge out of relationships to production and because that's how you create actual class that can act in itself which is how uh uh marx defines class this is something that uh or at least a a a stage 0:3:5 of class consciousness class coming into being we don't have that here these are not classes and that marks a sense so no matter what mechanism they're operating on for their policy either republican or democrat and everybody is like i've said who's in this matrix is a republican or a democrat no matter who they vote for in any given election it's about just a set of responses to this governing uh cultural hegemony either pro or against and that leads you to symbolically represent that position in your vote which has nothing to do with any of the actual questions of distribution of resources and uh you know the role of cap of this citizen to interfere with the ***** market as it liquefies everyone's bones those questions are not up for debate but both sides are fully invested in this cultural uh uh fantasy which means that 0:4:8 nothing within their political activity in that political world will ever challenge that which means neither the democrats or the republicans are going to turn into a party of the working class in any way i'm not just talking about uh you know whether or not tucker carlson can make a hair involved democracy with white medicare for all i am saying that no one's going to have to pitch what about this election is making anyone think that the people who are going to come after trump are going to double down on the economic populism that's not the stuff that hit that's not the stuff that sparked that's not the stuff that defined the presidency and did not define the race and did not get people to vote for him which means they're gonna go on the easy stuff the culture stuff because it doesn't go against the interests of their actual uh funders and the actual structural incentives of the party same thing as so i think people get mad because they think i'm passing judgment on these people i'm saying you are pmc therefore you're evil and you're why everything's bad and you're this you're the obstacle to socialism no you're people trapped in a relationship just as 0:5:10 much as of false consciousness just as much as working-class republicans are and and that has to be uh broken and it can only be broken from outside the so i hope that i just want that to be clarified because i don't want people to think that i'm really saying that they're a class they're a pseudo class all classes in america when we're talking about what is defined by the political structure of voting in elections because come on that's what we're meaning when we're talking about this they are not a real class they think they're operating off of like a shared uh value system but it is not based on their relationship to production it's based on a position on a cultural question and that cuts both ways and across everyone it's false consciousness all the way down because it's consciousness that thinks that this political structure this political contest is meaningful that is unaware that all the real decisions that make 0:6:11 their lives terrible and worse every year are being made at a bipartisan basis beyond the level of but the thing is i understand why people get taxi about this because they've been fighting people online who are saying the other thing who are wrong and i'm telling you those people are wrong because all they really want to do is excuse themselves is is is carry is basically make sure that their clout is transferable when they would become republicans like they want to be able to turn in all those clout chips that they've accumulated while they were uh you know on the left until

and the thing is i don't think a lot of this is bad faith i think that the terms of online debate will drive you in this direction you will be driven to become the caricature of an id poll a care lord or a nazbal strasserite you will be forced to by the fact that within this debate structure and within these within this locked two-party system you can only can ever outbid yourself in order to maintain a position in the stream 0:7:13 of ideas and takes there's always someone who can outbid you and since it's all a contest for social clout that can be transferred into real sustenance from gofundmes for medical care to a career in the parasocial media relationship all right so that was just i wanted to get that cleared up so that i feel like there are fewer people who are going to be in good faith arguing yelling at me and instead i can kind of feel like oh no if you don't get what i'm saying at this point you don't want to because you're invested in this uh question and you don't want to move past it because it fighting it gets you off somehow just like the ***** libs who are getting off on the prospect of trump doing a coup because they're just because he predictably is not accepting that he lost which everyone knew he would and now everyone's freaking out because oh 0:8:14 my god pompeo said this and they're not they're not uh starting the transition in the executive branch this is another case of people uh jazzing themselves up on a fight that they want to keep having because they didn't get the the orgasm they thought they were going to get out of biden winning they just got this kind of sad seeping uh ejaculation and they want another one their refractory period is already up they want another one the people who are most likely within the government structure that would have to carry out something like a coup the people who are closest to trump personally has been closest to his orbit like personally appointed by him or are highly sp uh our high uh high-profile public surrogates for him that uh that are in the uh legislative ramps like senators and congress people those people he could fire them at a drop moment's notice he could ruin their career the gop potentially admit 0:9:16 say that he's lost before he does they can't do that and in the in congress the voters love him and if they see you cracking they will hate you forever so of course you have to you have to say that he's still in the running the thing is though is that those groups of people the ones everyone's freaking out about because they keep kind of going along with trump instead of admitting the reality they have the least influence over the actual statutory chain of events that will be like the the certification process that leads to a ***** president being uh certified like the the court cases uh and the count and uh the the uh legislative sessions and like the electoral college meeting those people are almost completely insulated on an individual level from trump in any way which means they are free to operate from the best interests of the party 0:10:19 the only way this real cause like there's not the only way this realistically evolves into some trump stealing its situation is if there's a is this through matt through

just i guess the spontaneous the spontaneous moment a bunch of like career uh republican lifetime appointed federal judges decide we're gonna do this and they and they accept some of the one of these legislation the thing is there would have to be a whole bunch of them because this isn't florida they would have to bundle all and they have different mechanisms and different arguments they would have to bundle them all into one to hog's breakfast of a totally conflicting incoherent case and get it in front of i don't think that would happen because those individual judges can make at any point and end any one of them and make the bringing them together in the correct combination that could make it into one argument not even possible and if it got to the court john roberts would do not and they wouldn't say he was wrong 0:11:20 they would deny uh they would deny um what do they call it when it's they would deny standing to the case they'd say there's no standing for this charge or for this thing and they wouldn't even adjudicate it and the reason i know that is because that's why john roberts exists in the system john roberts is the figure and this is the reason republicans either hate him or if they're stupid or pretend to hate him if they're smart is that he exists to legitimize the structures that are built are over time becoming more and more key to gop maintaining its minoritarian rule now of course if we see the continued realignment along uh educational attainment that's started here happen they might not even have to worry about uh you know gerrymandering they might just win that's a terrible thing to think about but it's a real possibility but for now and the thing about a supreme court ruling that eval that validated that 0:12:23 like monstrosity of a transparently uh uh illegitimate uh argument is that it would have to be enforced by some sort of suspension of normal democracy which would obviate the need for a supreme court you don't need the supreme court anymore if you don't have to worry about democrats getting in office or if it's like just acceded to naturally and everyone's like i guess that was a ruling you heighten the likelihood that the democrats do take power again they will neutralize the supreme court which means there's no incentive for you to do it because you have a 6-3 majority you have a 6-3 majority what are you afraid of you are not some yokel hooting around in a ***** parking lot thinking that if soon as biden gets in there's going to be some ***** woke gestapo showing up in his doorstep some antifa super soldiers are going to take him to get gender reassignment surgery in a fema camp don john roberts does not knows that's not going to happen and with a 6-3 majority that they can 0:13:24 essentially make sure that the experience of being governed by democrats is wouldn't you know it almost identical to the experience of being governed by republicans which is extraction at maximum uh velocity profits being stripped out of the ***** uh remaining centers of human activity still yet unexploited prop 22 rewriting the the nature of uh of the ***** uh employment contract as we understood it post lochner

there's no incentive to do it now so that means i don't care what any of these yokels say they're going to keep saying it because he's right there and they can because there's nothing for them to do all they can do is write angry letters now the only reason this matters or should be concerning you is if you think one of two things one that they're going to somehow turn this into a military coup which sorry nope the guy who just the guy who just said on election night uh i claim these electoral 0:14:25 votes nope who thought that they were going to give ***** uh vaccines to santa clauses and the malls to get people to take them unless that was all some elaborate screen and this world is not as it seems that's not going to happen the other one is that well these guys saying this is going to get all those trump voters all riled up they're not going to do anything i think we know that by now but now people are still freaking out because well you know what they're doing they're undermining the faith in this election these people aren't going to accept uh biden as the legitimate president they were never going to accept biden as the legitimate president no matter what the outcome had been they didn't accept obama as the legitimate president the ***** didn't it's just the way they think about it it's like the way they respond to the president's changing hands it's the way they deal with the cognitive dissonance of living in america america is a great country the president should be great and 0:15:27 when the president is someone they like hey what's this the president's is legitimate the president's somebody they don't like what's this the president is illegitimate it's the way to deal with it without becoming a cue psycho and that's way most people process this stuff and it's the way they all are this is just the specific narrative they're going to tell themselves well they just sit around bitching and posting on facebook which is all they've done and all they're going to do except of course for some crazy early cook colonels who are going to pop off and do some mass violence but this is america honey so when you see people talking about this stuff it is because one the media is juicing it because they have to keep juicing it even if they don't want to even if they're horrified by the what they're doing and they really are i think they really are horrified by a lot of stuff because they believe in norms they can't not do it it's it's it's tidal gravity they're being pulled into the black hole of this so they can't stop but at the people at the consumption level i think people are they didn't get 0:16:28 off on election night and they want to get off and so this time they have to tease out the struggle so that they can get another big unclench they can get another big zing moment of triumph but it won't be that good they'll never be that good because it's just ruined orgasms from here on out someone's birthday hi grace grace happy birthday i am chill dude calmer than you are common you are dude i'm literally being chill i'm telling you people to chill out i'm telling you people that this is this is theater and that it serves also it serves a purpose i don't think this is conscious but it just serves a purpose because everything serves its purpose and it's ***** in this machinery of mis consent and manipulation and manufacture is that it tears it wires it ***** wipes you out over time the seesaw for both sides trump's winning now he's 0:17:29 losing no chair he's going to take it back now he's going to lose it both ways it's it's just it's drawing your soul out of you it's it's turning you into just a joyless puppet of uh asphyxiation calmer than you all are i mean i know are you really scared of trump doing a coup isn't that what we all really want we want this thing to end right we want this charade to be over climate change is going to kill everybody in 10 years right that's everyone everyone whenever people try to like you know create a narrative about the urgency of politics it's climate change is going to kill us in 10 years no human being on earth can look at the possibility of joe biden being president with ***** mitch mcconnell being or chuck schumer being majority leader with a 50 50 senate and nancy pelosi in the house doing anything about not only climate change but thing at least trump shattering the illusion of democracy will will 0:18:30 throw us into a new relationship to each other in the world oh my god and finally we can we can we could take begin the task of like living no longer carrying out a script of our behavior but able to be uh be uh negotiating alive and new frontier of course that's what people want but they're too chicken ***** to make it happen all the way on every end of the ***** spectrum because they all have too much to lose because they don't really believe it they don't really believe enough in what they really believe in is their own pleasure and all these structures of politics that are are built on top of that so when the moment of precipice comes what do they do do they 0:19:32 ***** rush the gate do they risk getting mowed down by secret service agents and state police they break out the karaoke machine in the barbecue grill because it's not about a felt sense of a shared material interest and the and so no one's gonna die for this which is what we would need to be able to break out of this this cocoon this this this political zombification that is having us that has us in an unalterable current trajectory towards annihilation and the the the optimism i have is just that the the fundamental uh insufficiency is becoming so transparently true and i think even the pleasures themselves that we are offered in exchange for our quiescence are 0:20:35 losing their luster i think people are going to start looking around themselves i really think they are problem is it's it's what the scary thing is is to admit the lack of your lack of ability to to direct that you can participate in it and we're all going to have to when the time comes but we cannot anticipate it and we cannot incept it at least not consciously consciously we can only interact with oh speaking of the republicans another incentive for all the senate people like mcconnell independent of trump to keep the ***** rubes whipped up it means they're more likely to win the ***** and it means that trump is gonna have more eyeballs on his new tv show this is all about keeping the grip going because it's all ***** it's all a pyramid scheme like the multi-level marketing scheme is the defining uh is the defining uh post 70s american business model everything since the volker shock has been a series of interlocking and and the reason that's viable is because when one bursts another one picks up after it because the money keeps flowing in because we are the consumers of last resort and we are the we are the police we are the enforcers of the global uh uh rulebook and then we are the ones who gobble up all of the overflowing production at the end of the global process so there's no production happening there's only consumption so we just have to swap things back and forth as the as the margin dwindles over time and so the exchange is this is to spark uh these opportunities to provide a rent pure rent seeking the ***** the democrats fundraising for these senate races that had never had a chance in because they have a bunch of uh cucked poles that they either know are cucked help make sure or cucked or are just happy to find that what's this the world we've created is one in which you can no longer actually accurately judge anything because you've created such an insulated cultural cocoon that only cocked people within it will respond to the goddamn phone and you literally have a distorted view of the world around you there's no incentive to change that because looks this we can arbitrage that we can ***** arbitrage this distortion in the reality uh perception apparatus of our political class and politically active people we can take this this nat this built-in deformity now that's becoming gonna get more worse over time and use it to get these chumps to cough money up to us that we will just spend giving to each other as fees for services as campaign consultants and media creators and then to our friends in the media our ***** uh our symbiotic uh sucker fish in the media get to buy get to get it in the form of money for advertisements and production costs to make ads and everyone who's watching has already determined their ***** preferences because they're that's how they that's how you do it you have an identity already the people who look at this stuff are just getting a weird background radiation that they got culturally and these ads themselves have no in but nothing can intervene as long as nothing intervenes with it they're gonna as long as the money keeps flowing in it's gonna keep spinning even though it's broken same thing with the entire tech sector and same thing with this ***** uh uh this coup keep the ***** keep a reason for people to pump money in they're ***** keep you president and then when you're not president anywhere they're going to get you to be back in there now i don't think trump's going to run again but i do think that he is going to try to maintain the spotlight and i don't know maybe anoint but don jr although he doesn't like him enough i think he might anoint somebody else it depends on how self how how bitter he gets specifically about it depends on who he blames for losing and the thing is there's no way to really know that right now it looks like he's blaming fox news for losing and if that's the case then i don't think he's gonna run for president again i think he's gonna buy onan and try to out murdoch murdoch i don't think he's i don't buy that he's an anointed either because he doesn't understand things in terms of a legacy because he can't imagine himself ever dying because his consciousness is so psychotically narcissistic he is so fully flattened the world into his own perception that he cannot imagine dying and the project isn't about a political aim it's about his personal uh glory and when he's dead there can't be any more of that so another reason he wouldn't care no object permanence so that's another reason i don't know i think he'll just be a media guy he might be dead i mean he really could die before 2024. i mean i know it's like lol he's alive but he did get ***** coveted and he is in his mid 70s and he is fat as ***** i mean ***** scalia died at 80 remember nobody thought scalia would ever die that fat turd and then obama got him with the heart attack on on what should the lumpen bourgeois focus their attention on the li on what's in front of them on their working conditions on the lives of their friends and family operate first from love operate from love not a political motive operate from love people that you love and and if that conception of love is expansive enough to include people beyond your immediate family well then the ones closest to you are the ones you're going to be most likely to be able to figure out how to help because they're actually in front of you you can you still listen to podcasts and look at twitter fights and be involved in politics and vote and stuff yes but you should shave down its psychic value to you and and recognize that it is not fulfilling what the whole sensory apparatus is designed to fool you into thinking it's doing which is involved changing in some small way the headwinds of politics like you're not even having a butterfly flapping effect and so like if you have things in your life issues like a union maybe there is a union drive at your place of work where people are started talking about how pissed they are maybe you can reach into the ether of politics to pull something to maybe bring up secondary order not from not bringing it down saying hey guys this stuff let's do this stuff because it's all it's all in a language that is not meant to be intelligible it is meant in fact to mystify things because they teach you this ***** because it mystifies you it makes it so that you that stuff that you see in front of you that is clearly evil and wrong maybe isn't i mean my god have you seen these people who are talking about how talking about food deserts and like the fact that it's impossible to eat healthily if you're poor in this country is anti-fat it's fattest to do that you're taking the outcome of the monstrous pathologies of capitalism and you're saying that it actually is a an identity category that needs to be protected how the hell are you supposed to ever address real meaningful pain in people's lives if you have that kind of thought process which is inculcated by the the the college-based approach to uh

to politics the college-based heuristic to politics like there's that classic uh tweet you know i i'm a fiscal conservative but socially liberal the problems are very bad but the causes are no the causes are very bad but the problem no the problems are very bad but the causes the causes are good right that's a classic tweet uh for these people for this like new liberal like identitarianism that is around things like ableism and 0:29:55 like stuff that a lot of it is the outcome of capitalist alienation they think they say yes the problems are the causes are bad the causes are bad capitalism is bad but the problems are actually good the problems are the good things the problems need to be protected somehow how can you go through this rats maze to get to anything like a consensus politics that could be based around material ends you can't and so you can't bring this ***** down but when questions of like all right how do we how do we like do this how do we actually do this we don't know there are people who do know and then oh here's useful information you can pull out of the ether useful information not this whole framework that is going to make it impossible for you to address the question but a directly useful collaboratively produced intellectual structure or idea or meme or whatever that can be ***** applied to a specific circumstance that's 0:30:56 more than anything what i'm saying to people is that their relationship their the way they imagine the arrows flowing in the media lived experience dynamic have to change know spend all your time whipping yourself into being a political con consciousness and then trying to apply that to the world around you you start you stay there you stay there and like it's like spiritually and personally you stay there as opposed to vent off onto the internet that much which you can only do because you're filling in the part of your soul that demands change and and loves and wants to see that see the people he loves which could be everyone happier and this is our 0:32:4 buddhism honestly takumi comes in because you have to be able to accept your own uh limitations and that means ex uh sitting with the anxiety that comes from not being able to feel like going online or voting is going to really help your destiny and the destiny of people you love that's the real cause of all this online argumentation i think is people are letting off the angst they feel the the underlying panic they really do feel about the fact that we all know how bad this is and yet we can't make it any better that's horrifying and it's because people have a false understanding of their own ability to control this because of the false because of the amount of information about it they're able to consume they're able to get a such information about things that they have no ability to control that they get this delusional they have to they try to even that out by imagining agency over it because to not do that is to 0:33:8 just drive yourself kind of cracked if you have all this knowledge of all this horrible stuff that's gonna happen and you can't do anything of it i mean there's a ***** figure in ancient rome who had that issue cassandra she was pretty ***** uh she was a little loose in her shoes that cassandra because she kept she knew exactly what was gonna happen and that's the position of being online and so people make up for that by deluding themselves into thinking that they have agency on this plane and if they sit with their inability to change things and therefore they're not the fact that the fact they don't need to know this ***** they can reframe themselves around the life that's in front of them and not feel the need to flee to online to relieve the tension and relieve the stress you can sit with it and let it kind of steam off and then move forward i mean maybe it's not buddhism it could be christianity it could be 0:34:10 anything but it has to be some spiritual sense and it can come from and it comes it's a reinforcing dynamic between engaging the world around you and then seeing the rewards of that which are the more you pay attention the more you're able to pick up and it helps your ability to move forward it helps your ability to navigate what seems otherwise and what sucks is that there's no guarantees and it's all very scary but i do think that there's no good to come from scaring yourself even more than you need to be i think there is a reason for everyone to be concerned about the moment i mean real people's lives are really at stake it's not a game you know 0:35:12 i don't think we're going to see some sort of collapse in our lifetime maybe in our lifetime but right now everyone's life is hanging like closer to a thread because of how how dysfunctional this system is and how how critically the crisis within it is but the version of that reality that you get every day online is this five alarm fire of like immediate extinguishment and it's like you got to imagine that if you have like a terminal cancer diagnosis you have there's a higher likelihood that you can come to a point of like dying with less with without fear than if you're on an airplane in the wind the wings fall off you know what i mean like you can you can uh come to terms and of course it's like are you saying come to terms with death i'm just saying like well that is what all you know life is so on a personal level yeah that is coming to nerves with death because because being afraid of death is what drives 0:36:16 you to literal distraction and what drives you to feel like you can make things change on here and drive you into thinking that what is you know is a bad situation is a is a crisis is somehow the terminal crisis which leads you to not like take terminal action but to rather to just flee into panicked paralysis because remember at base of this is just the pursuit of pleasure you don't want to feel bad so you try to feel good and online is the only place you can feel good and you go there to feel good by making yourself feel bad it's some sick ***** and we're all stuck in it and i am my god not an exception and i see people saying like you know oh these religious traditions have all been used by power to maintain itself no ***** they emer they 0:37:20 emerge from and are sustained by human uh ***** material relationships of there's nothing untainted there's no pure categories that can be critically uncritically at like a symbolic level they have to be lived anyway these are supposed to be low-fi beats to to whack off i mean to uh to relax to relax to stuff more uh new religions are more political than the old ones inherently because when they emerge there's more politics in people's self uh identity like politics grows within a per like a person has a greater degree of like a political self-conception the greater degree that they live as a liberal subject so like religiosity is literally drained out of your like personal uh practice of life by your removal from a social context and it's and so there's a political assumption baked into it and yes i think that is one of the big reasons that islam is the most inherently political of the big abrahamic religions is because it emerges latest it emerges at the latest like level of of social atomization because there is like sort of a city like pull away from communal bonds that like subs you don't need to be rational you don't need political reasoning to sustain religion when it is carried out at the at the level of like a fully bonded social order because what's going to interfere with it it's only when people are broken out of those networks that uh that the symbolic order like the the granularity of the symbols becomes uh uh less like the pixels get bigger basically and it has to be filled in with uh like a secular morality basically and like uh the uh so yeah like i think that if we do get some sort of global uh working-class movement that somehow like cuts off the head of this this slowly uh you know communing asian and american and atlantic capital formations let me somehow cut that head off it's going to be it will be religious it will have to have a religious character to it because only religion of some kind not not as a structure but as a feeling can sustain you through the un uh glamorous not pleasurable work of politics both both even if that's true if we're talking revolutionary confrontation with the state or the slow grinding of hard boards through electoral reform either way you need an engine of uh of religious something and it doesn't have to even be it doesn't have to be supernatural it could like it could be completely stripped of that it could just be like an objective uh a a moment-to-moment communal identification between yourself and humanity broadly construed like you could be a ***** hegelian and none of this will impact your material analysis because the material analysis will not be driven by an underlying uh supernatural uh delusion it'll be driven by a desire to help everybody a desire to help us overcome these contradictions within our society and provide a general welfare for the solidarity is a religious concept yes even if it is completely secular it is still religious in that it involves a feeling not any kind of um consequentialist ethic or uh like utilitarian uh and i'm thinking and the reason that this movement would be ecumenical is because because people would be coming to it not from a position of installing and dogma but from helping each other's material conditions when people across religious lines get together they're not going to be asking about religious uh litmus tests because they're not worried about that they're worried about putting food on the table they're worried about making a ***** life for their ***** families and that the only situation that will allow them to continue perpetrating any religious uh practice and so they will over 0:42:29 time and in the aggregate if not in the individual case religion religion will maintain its centrality to a personal personal life while allowing them to participate fully in in a non-sectarian political practice and if that's not possible then there is no future for humanity if that sounds insane to you then show me on the board where anything else happens other than the common ruin qnon is not secular at this point q anon is a religious movement i mean i've realized now that the question of that a lot of people asked of what do they do when they realize it doesn't happen was always kind of silly now i must say here that a lot of people are going to just stop paying attention apparently huge uh like ***** on the actual q websites is dropping like 0:43:30 traffic i get it a lot of people for a lot of people like i said this is a this is like uh the horoscope or like a a sports team that they follow and now with trump gone and like the the psychological uh math different uh you stop paying attention but for people who are really invested in it these people are not like standing at the precipice of like this great disappointment from the original idea of q which was the deep state pedos are going to all go to jail in a week which was the original pitch between then and now they have had so many moments of disappointment where they have had to convince themselves to continue believing that they have done religious practice over four years to have convinced themselves to take a leap of faith over almost any specific instance they have they have created religious a religious logic to this thing now over the spending four years being disappointed and 0:44:31 then reapplying reasserting oneself by creating a new bound of faith getting to the precipice and stepping through it that is creating a religious practice and a religious and a spirituality or in a lot of these people's cases transferring or act like activating a spirituality because remember these guys are all christian but we have talked about how secular christianity is now it is american christianity is just the pursuit of heaven on earth as as a as a material squalid pursuit of pleasure accumulated in the now it has no there's no engine of anything but self-interest and pleasure what they're doing with q is turning that uh original self-seeking understanding of the world into a religious one by creating a a real spiritual communion with not everybody in the world but with the people who aren't demonic with the saved and that's because they've spent four years convincing themselves over and over again to take another 0:45:33 step so they have reinvigorated christianity they have awakened christianity from its materialist slumber so it is a in my opinion or will become but what that means is of course up to debate a lot of people think that means oh there'll be a political movement with power i don't know if that's true they might uh it might just stay in the culture because remember this is all culture and the political element is to give the culture more juice to give you more pleasure out of consuming it and if you have religion you don't really need culture so much so who knows they might they might just turn it into like a a a uh they could go violent but and i think some of them will but a lot of them the ones who are relatively uh materially well-off the ones who aren't really on the ranger's edge of sustenance and aren't really feeling precarity i think they might a quietest faith like a pre-pre-political christianity like until like crit like uh 0:46:36 the way evangelicals were in america until the 70s where you weren't really supposed to get that could happen too don't know don't i'm not trying not to do predictions beyond broad broad sweep stuff because i feel pretty confident about the broad stuff because that's the level that i'm consuming and sort of formulating it's it but like the thing you can never account for is is contingency and contingency only matters in the moment so you can only give full shape to something after the contingencies have ah so yeah that's as far as i'll go in uh predicting cube but i do think that that's the that's the line we're on with those guys and i think that a similar thing will hopefully happen on the left because you know q didn't start really within the political process 0:47:37 maybe some sort of materially reflected version could happen and then be brought into like the into the media superstructure and then and then uh sort of reflected and uh organized like within the media but sort of also orthogonal to it because it's not constitutive it's not depending on the same structures that like recoup all of the all and like enforce uh like hidden uh uh ideological demands on all speech within the bubble because it will not depend on those networks those patriots networks though those media uh income streams uh those those clout networks those like i uh those groups of people who have like a a series of uh every every faction online is made up of people who are simply passing code words back and forth to determine who's good and who's bad and that's why they'll never be able to coalesce into a meaningful 0:48:38 political project something will have to emerge from below engage burst into the political consciousness but without any commitment to those group shibboleths so that when they start throwing their slings and arrows they just bounce off you have no power here be gone because the argumentation uh and the the the incentives within this structure are that either republican or democrat it's the same republican or democrat remember this you're rewarded to the degree that you can threaten to credibly kick someone out of the tent that's all you're doing you're not making a argument with a good faith uh uh incentive towards um resolution of an issue to make something happen remember this is all entertainment your your incentive is is to just keep the gut fight going so your only power within the fight is to be have enough of you who are scared enough to follow your line to punish people who don't 0:49:40 follow your line but you have to care about your role within the ecosystem your clout

position or your media signature for that to work which means if something comes in outside of it and the people within it have a self-generating interaction like they have their own clout network they have their own funding network they have their own infrastructure that when those arguments are from both sides turn to it they will bounce off and then the people who are captured by these narratives will maybe be able to look at something freshly and not have them have something immediately like uh uh uh rejected because it's not ideologically like co uh presented in a way that like they recognize as good because that's all they're doing is trying to recognize good bad it just it'll be like oh look at this good ***** that's been underneath all of this super structural mystifying ***** that we've been arguing about over the past ***** five ah it would be funny if trump did a mishima just got up on the on the 0:50:45 balcony of the rose garden and just started eating cheeseburgers the scariest gladio group is no question that people who've carried out the brabont killings holy ***** that is some grander theft auto ***** i've talked about it before on the stream uh in the late 80s right around the end of the cold war there was this insane six month i believe crime spree in in belgium where these this group of three guys in a ***** panel van were carrying out incredibly spectacularly violent robberies of of gas stations and grocery stores often in broad daylight in which they would just open fire on crowds of people inside these places for very little money for like cash register 0:51:49 ***** and it was never solved which is insane when you think about it it was the entire country was in a proximal of terror like am i going to get murked on my way to and people uh connected to uh the glad like the established gladio networks like the right-wing paramilitary groups that were made up of many nato's troops uh who were found in possession with nato weaponry uh and and even classified documents uh were connected to weapons caches of uh that were found of the vermont killers might have been connected to mark dutrow and his uh uh his child kidnapping ring ooh that's the that is the group that's the like the real satanic heart of the whole thing like the ***** the italian ***** is almost cute compared to that stuff like oh 0:52:52 yeah it's like they're doing the strategy of tension and like they're doing a bunch of terror attacks and blaming them on the left so that political repression will ranch up and the the communists will look bad and oh yeah although moro might make a compromise and bring the communists in the government well we'll just frame the left for kidnapping him and then kill him that'll it's all just feels like a good old-fashioned realpolitik but the ***** belgian ***** it's like what what's going on man what are they doing because i have not found any of the theories around what the point of the verb killing is very persuasive i mean strategy of tension in belgium it's like okay but they weren't even like political they didn't even like use a false flag political justification it was just make everyone jumpy it's like i guess but did

belgium really need that at that point in time i'm not i don't know enough about belgian history maybe that was a crucial like hinge point like maybe there was some government that was going to come in or something maybe it was a cover for an 0:53:54 assassination although they've never been able to find any connection between any of the victims very baffling and then when you can and when he connected with dutrow incredibly sinister the darkest the dark the atlantic beasts that we must all uh which we must all root for the defeat of we must all pray for the eventual uh conquest the defeat of the demonic atlantic beast the seven-headed nato monster by the uh there's so many pedophiles in the catholic church for the same reason there are so many pedophiles among leaders of uh cloistered religious communities all over the world because if you have a situation where a position of that sort of intimate 0:54:57 power exists people who seek it out will put it towards the ends that it that's why power collects the worst of us because you have to be bad to want to do these things it's going to go through these things and with the catholic church specifically i mean john paul ii spent his entire reign looking the other way on child molesters because they were anti-communists because he was war all right guys i want an answer from 0:56:7 you guys say that i'm totally wrong and that they're doing a coup like it comes on the radio uh uh count has been suspended trump has been sworn in like they just swear him in what do you what are you specifically the person listening to this what are you going to do i'm not challenging you i'm asking you like you hear it you hear the news what do you do right away i'm just curious i'm not challenging like you hear it what do you what is your instinct to do i don't even know what i would i'm just asking okay so if we assume that if not what we would do but what we collectively would do would be insufficient to stop this from happening how would our relationship to politics change how in our relationship to the way we consume 0:57:9 media change would we keep listening to pod save america and chapo because they wouldn't ban them would we keep going to work we keep if you think there's any question there if you think here's the deal if you think it might happen if you think we might actually coordinate a resistance to this that has a chance of doing anything other than being then they will not try to do it because why risk losing when they don't have to when they've got this thing by the balls and they really just have to deal with this guy's ego and you know his dumb followers he's riled up like that's 0:58:10 really all they have to deal with if on the other hand there's no chance either way you can free yourself from this ***** and i know you're like well how would they know for sure i'm sorry they've got ***** pentagon uh uh if we think we know what's going on i guarantee you that like there are pentagon planners who uh have run the numbers on like the our civil our civil capacity for resistance in the face of just the overnight abnegation of the democratic process and there would be a percentage 0:59:11

base that they would have on how high the like the attrition of that would be how low the stock market would go for example and i don't think it would be in any one nobody's actuarial chart is going to have them decide to do that unless they're like oh yeah we could roll over them well then why bother why bother with any headache at all they're not a danger they're not a threat they're happy with their bottle put biden in there let everyone get mad at him because there's going to be no pressure from the bottom forcing this that is what i must stress there's no just like you would do nothing like i said if there was some if if biden somehow like did a did a coup on him i don't even know how it would work now that he won but like when he's declared victory and they all feel like it was a coup because think of it this way when biden is finally like sworn in it will feel as much like a coup to them as the supreme court like nullifying a bunch of votes and giving it to trump would feel like a coup to you and what would they do and the answer is the exact same 1:0:13 one that you would you have given so there's no pressure from below to make this happen it would have to be a cold calculated move from people whose investment in the system goes beyond donald trump's personal ***** ego and the thing is about this that i'm so happy about is that if i'm wrong if i'm wrong then it doesn't matter because i'm sorry if you're trying to own people online about how they were wrong about the coup if you're trying to uh score some points and get some clout off the fact that the coup actually did happen and you didn't none of us stopped it then i'm sorry you are the loser you are forever and eternally the loser and even though i was wrong i still win because i don't have to ***** have another say you're the one compelled to like try to get some ***** minutes on a cricket phone in a refugee camp to post on like whatever's left of twitter in code about how you were right i 1:1:14 still spent my time before that happened less anxious for no good reason less with a little not my stomach that i was tending like a little ***** tamagotchi of anxiety i got to ***** drill a little bit and have fun and laugh at this ***** instead of feel like no it's my civic duty to feel upset right now it's my civic duty to feel bad about what's happening that there's going to be a coup do you see why this is nerd ***** do you see how this is a kind of world view that this is based on the the idea that there is someday going to be a ***** test and that you're going to get a grade on how you did as like a citizen you think that you secretly think there's a and there's 1:2:15 nobody grading you there's no teacher anyway calmer than you are dude

by the way i saw someone uh in the chat i was on a roll so i forgot to mention at the time but it just occurred to me uh i saw somebody was saying that like the quality of these streams is very poor audio visually and that that's uh chris's fault uh i would like to say definitively and for all of time that chris has nothing to do with this ***** production this is a one-man show when i'm out here and i hope you will notice that the audio and video presentation are much much better when we're in the office with them this is my show wade this is my deal here so that means if it's if it looks like ***** that's part of my ramshackle approach to everything i'm doing here i mean if i was serious about like trying to communicate an idea to people uh sorry i just got text to distract me i'm but yeah i i if i was being serious about communicating ideas to people i would write them down or something i'd give them some thought instead of just say them off the top of my head and i would also if i was going to you know talk to you i'd like prepare it ahead of time and get a studio or something where it looks nice and it's presentable and like some degree of uh you know thought has been put into it i think like this whole deal with the bad audio and me talking to my phone i think it it is part of like honesty honestly it is a part of me presenting like an entire picture of what i'm doing out here so that you don't get the wrong idea you know although i do hope to write in the future i have plans to do so in the early stages of doing planning for writing something down something a little more uh fully fleshed out so and that will be something that i'll be very nervous to put out there because one of the benefits of doing this is that you you risk that you don't risk that like that fear of dissection that comes when you have something written down i know that that has in the past made me hesitant about writing but i feel now like i'm much more confident in what i'm saying than i ever have been so as a result i feel i can put it down and people will get mad hopefully people will be disagreeing but people say i'm an idiot and wrong hopefully if they don't then i ***** up but i will be confident that i at least man did anybody see trump today you just went on tv for five minutes to say we're gonna get a vaccine folks it's coming the next scene's coming we're gonna get it and we wantedly love it we love the vaccine it's the best it's the greatest everyone's going to be cured and our elderly we love the elderly we love our emily they're going to get it first because we care about them and we want to give them the best of the golden years the years the gold they love them so yeah whatever i don't know april he's maybe we'll see i mean nothing about the process until now has inspired any confidence in any element of the entire uh response and not just trump specifically but the entire western world the entire atlantic sphere comprehensive 0:4:7 ***** around everybody regardless of what institutions they had what like remnant shreds of social democracy they had almost all of them ate ***** everything that everything that was actually that was built by us in the aftermath of world war ii our like score is ***** the ***** bed so i don't know why the hell i should expect anything different from the ***** uh single-minded profit-seeking idiots yeah how are we going to distribute the vaccine what you honestly they should give it to ***** mcdonald's like put it in the mcplant burgers i tweeted that the other day but it's not a joke like there's a ***** mcdonald's within a 20-minute drive of every american in this ***** country have them give us the ***** vaccine they have an ability to distribute all that ***** merchandise and happy meals and smiling hamburglar toys 0:5:8

and ***** uh rigged uh monopoly game pieces they could ***** send a goddamn vaccine out the speedy method as the mcdonald by the way uh that reminds me the master with michael keaton is a low-key really good movie uh and uh his performance is really fun in it but what really is interesting and a reason to watch it is the way that it very clearly shows the the way that capitalism accelerates outside of any other considerations like that nothing that like i've seen very few movies that are better at exemplifying the marxist uh the marx quote from the manifesto that describes capitalism's destabilizing uh uh relationship to settle to social orders everything that is solid melts into air and you watch that movie and that's what you get because the 0:6:9 mcdonald brothers did this they had this like innovation that was a quantum leap in uh efficiency in terms of food service this is gonna like you know that's that changes the the uh entire equation of the profit uh but they did that in their small town new england way you know like a couple of flinty yankee republicans coming up with an idea but they were doing that at a time when uh capitalism was accelerating uh the post-war era where where uh we're where all that capital was looking for investment that we were we were building out a new infrastructure of uh their their commitment to things like we're not we're only gonna use real ice cream and you know well we're gonna uh you know we're gonna keep up a uh quality control over certain elements 0:7:13 of this thing we're going to maintain certain like non-market based values and they did well with their little thing but as soon as ray kroc showed up a guy who because he was a failure basically because he'd been chasing success his entire life had been ground into this like purely miserable instrument of regret and resentment he came along and he just wanted to fill that hole as fast as he could because he was an old guy when it happens he he'd been like he was a and he had never been a success even though he tried his goddamn ass off to be one and so he wanted to fill that hole the only way he could you know of course this is just the uh this is a dramatic you know personalized version of like the greater material you know necessity that's gonna make that happen one way or another like mcdonald's gets bought and gets 0:8:15 turned into mcdonald's no matter what but the fact that it was ray kroc who did it comes down to you know who ray kroc was but someone was gonna do it and then his wife gave that that money to npr perfect he was a funny dude though in other ways uh one thing they don't have in the movie because it stops like after he rests the name away from the mcdonald brothers spoiler alert uh is that he owned the san diego padres in the 70s and 80s and at one time he was watching a game in the owner's box and they were get getting their asses kicked so bad that he went on the pa system in the stadium and apologized to the he would also go to mcdonald's 0:9:16 like just on inspection tours and start sweeping up and yell at people for not doing enough but uh someone got mad at us today chapo's for for again for not taking the coup seriously i'm sorry but if you saw if you saw trump today i don't think you can seriously say anything about that anymore he looked gassed and he didn't say anything about this election that he had that he thinks was stolen from him and that he says he's fighting and you know i was very unfair with what cuomo said sad it's a covent cuckoo folks and we love it he said the next administration oh right i 0:10:18 forgot he's cooked he's done he's finished you know like the the he only really had four years in him honestly i think one way or the other because he didn't like any moment of it and he and what he had to do to enjoy any of it was so strenuous and and required such a escalation of tension that you know his heart couldn't take that biden impression ah come on man ah you know yeah felix is the guy who does bite look look look look fat look god what a man what a king he did that ***** and then 0:11:21 he said that he said go vote for trump to somebody he said go vote to uh you guys go suck an egg to basically anybody who asked him to have any position that was uh you know more that didn't have the like the 1996 dlc stamp of approval on it and he would say ***** off suck my dog threatened to punch some guy who uh talked to him about just didn't matter just didn't matter and what that tells me more than anything is that you know there's this spectacle of politics happening and then there's the actual thing of people voting and i think that i mean i've been saying there's not i don't think that there's anything like a one-to-one like this is not in any way a reflection this is a distortion so severe that it is genuinely uh maddening in the sense that it takes your mind away from a consensus reality between people in a lived environment as opposed to within the individual frictionless silo of your cyber life 0:12:23 which is what allows you to imagine that because you never come into contact with any real thing you can just argue all day and that's why you're there anyway you can never have like a presumption defeated by the internet you can never have your your automatic response to something that is counterproductive so this thing is just completely off the rails and so i'm not sure that any of the stuff that we ever thought mattered really did i think we're talking about like tectonic relationships between like big demographic slabs of people and the reason i say that the future of the republican party if this continues like you know in its trajectory like trump boosted this was happening since 2000 but it really got accelerated by trump being that showing up and being the nominee and winning and shaping the culture in response to obama like obama was like the thesis basically of like what the party system 0:13:24 would be in the 21st century now that we were reforming society's economy again because if we talk about the 1970s as the moment when the relationship between the working class and the democratic party suffered the uh the crash was the severance of ***** the democratic party from humanity like the full and complete abnegation of responsibility to citizenry and i know that that's all you know flummery and culture but it's like stuff that the people in these positions actually believe exists it was the 70s it started in the 60s but the the weak correction of the economy the breaking of the back of inflation didn't happen until the 70s what are you talking about that's that's just incorrect i mean don't try to ***** correct me with incorrect information i'm already out here far enough on a ***** limb people throwing bones under my 0:14:26 feet good lord uh it was carter man carter did it like it was all obviously it was a crescendo and it involved actions by every administration leading up to it but the one who had the decision to make was carter and the one who had the decision to make in a similar environment was obama and because there was no working class to be at the table to just speak for the people at all they did a further re bipartisan re uh affirmation of the economy and a further removing from the political of any economic question again just like they did in the 70s the ***** bailout the bipartisan bailout which republicans pretended to be against which helped create the shadow tea party this like fake opposition to the bailouts which had no extension into any real depths of the party leadership or honestly it's voters if they understood the questions beyond just and then they got turned into culture war like the tea party war cry was rick 0:15:28 santelli on cnbc saying that they didn't want to pay for losers to get bailed out of their ***** uh in uh um bailed out losers from their ***** uh mortgages now there's a world where that happens no matter what right like where as a response to this like action by the government of letting people stay in their homes and voiding their debt and like making making the haircut come from finance rather than the ***** citizen right uh then you would have had like this fake fake uh populist response to it this like jeffersonian jacksonian cloaked uh horseshit like that there's a reason they talked they called themselves the tea party like this this is a violation of american liberty and the thing is yeah it is because american liberty exists to prevent this kind of thing from happening it's like an ideological and political structure meant to harness like the citizenry and any understanding of the concept and prevent them from getting rid of the thing around their ***** neck and there are enough people who have like bought into the you know last 200 years of like phony populism that's at the heart of that jeffersonian project and so they would buy into it and there you would have had a real meaningful conflict and i guarantee you that this election if that had happened would not be about antifa or any of that ***** we'd be talking about industrial policy maybe but of course like i said this is a world where obama doesn't do that but that was not the world we lived in because the working class wasn't at the table obama was never going to do that couldn't have happened he was evil for doing it but someone was going to do it because the forces arrayed could have no other outcome but i'm saying if we lived in a world where that had a different outcome for some reason otherwise we have the same and i know this is why these are you know tedious because you have to do so many what ifs that you eventually the comparison doesn't hold i'm just saying that uh that what we ended up getting instead was this fake populist uprising against the the death of american liberty but then they didn't actually bail out anybody from their ***** mortgages the thing that got the tea party going bailing out losers it got turned it got evidenced immediately into a culture war the thing that romney talked about the makers and the takers because taxes became the only thing that what about the keynesian stimulus i mean it was the bare minimum necessary to to put a floor on the american economy which had to happen like a demand floor had to be opposed for the good of the market and that was what they did but on the stingiest possible terms and that was because obama bid low on purpose because they thought well ***** olympia snowden has this aversion to anything over a trillion dollars there's no reason a rationality behind that that is pure just pig-headed political idiocy they could have been at four and then what's she gonna say nothing over two like it's just arbitrary relative to the bid and the bid was low on purpose and it was almost all found in the form of tax cuts and rebates now i don't think it's that this response the well the thing is with the senate the way it is it's honestly hard to say we really could end up with something as bad because that was because i think the the scale of the problem is in this case uh deeper but and and but also the answer is easier like you really could solve a lot of this just by helicopter dumping money on people like it could have a hugely positive effect and we know that money is free at this point like everybody knows it and of course the republicans are going to talk about the deficit more now than they did under trump which was not never at all because that's their ideological like you know puppet to distract from the fact that what they really want to do at any moment is prevent spending from so like i said i'm not predicting anything anymore but it's not going to be great because the working there's nobody at that table but lizards man absolute demons people who have shed every human skin they've ever had and replaced it with a diamond hard uh i haven't stared at the chat for a while i don't think i got new glasses i'm just i don't know they stay i'm still not used to the look so i kind of like see myself and i think whoa what but the thing is like you cannot overestimate how demonic this is going to be a friend of mine has been asked by the state of pennsylvania to give them back uh 12 000 dollars in unemployment that they say he fraudulently claimed uh when in fact he had literally like mis filled out a form because apparently there's a company that like 40 states paid millions of dollars to to carry out their emergency uh uh unemployment system because of course the state the state mechanisms are intentionally uh deprived of funds so that they are rickety and impossible of abra springing into action so that gaining relief is difficult you want to make as many hoops as possible for people to jump through so that you make them have to have skin in the game oh that's disgusting like skin like skinner mindset that pervades among the liberal and now the state because there's no there has been no step in stimulus there has not been a big federal relief of state budgets because states can't borrow the way that the federal government can so you're going to see massive massive budget funds because basically the complete skeletonization of the whole state apparatus at a time of national pandemic emergency so they're trying to claw money back and apparently they're doing it just me they're sending checks to millions of people and a lot of it is on false false uh false claims in the first place and the horror of it is is that i honestly think they don't even care if they have specious reasoning or not they think a lot of people are going to get that freak out and then just give them back some money and if they get any x number of them to do that well that's that's that much more money you can put on the ledger and then they probably end up charging them more money than they're getting back to do the ***** and it must be stated this is a government with that's a state with a democratic governor this is this is just the way it is now like pain for everybody and then you get to choose whose pain you get to feel good about when you get in the voting booth and then watch politics is the sport that it is you get to root for a team of people to inflict pain on another team of people the pain is taken for granted and the real horror is even the uh people getting it are going to get it either way everyone's getting it it's really just a matter of who you in the observation of their pain get to feel superior to get to feel luckier than that's it that's politics that's the politics at the end of uh history and that's why i think the parties are going to end up being college and no college not going there but embracing the set of values because the whole thing is it's symmetrical sadisms like there is a sadism at the heart of like 0:24:44 the the liberal project i'm sorry there is a sadism at the heart even if you can say it's for better reasons and it's more justified uh uh for for like the the punitiveness of liberalism as it's understood by the people who vote for political parties and so the future of politics is choosing who you want to cease punished who you want to feel good about and the ski and that like uh it's quite it's quite sobering to think about because there's very little leeway for uh for humanity there like everyone's worst instincts are the only ones being fed because the parties will basically become incapable of addressing class issues and for anybody who is actually making this 0:25:46 idiot track towards the republican party just so that they can feel good about an election like the people who are like going well the democrats are too woke working-class people are voting republican now that's where working-class aspirations can be found no what's happening is you are totally invested in the spectacle of politics it is sports for you the pain of your enemy is your supper but now thanks to your your in your mind defeat in the civil war within the democratic side you now have to find a new place where you can feel good about somebody else's pain and so you can go root for the republicans and that means if they win and the democrats lose you get to feel better whereas if you're on the democrat side and you've been beaten for like internal you know for your sense of identification like you can't even identify as a democrat anymore because or as a liberal or a leftist whatever ***** word you're using to cover this identity you can't imagine you can't call yourself that anymore because 0:26:47 the people that other people who do have ruined it so then you can't just watch the spectacle and not have an investment because then it would be robbed of a center of its ability to keep you enthralled and you'd have to ***** do something else and you don't want to do anything else so what do you do you switch teams they switch teams can't beat them join them and then you get to feel good again you get to watch the democrats get owned and feel good about it like you used to do it for republicans or internally what like for a while you can do it with democrats but after let's essentially you spend four years watching the trump people have too much fun if none of it matters and that's true then you might as well have some fun and i would say well okay but even better to not get fun there at all because it's sick place to get fun what are you doing literally do anything else with your time so if anybody 0:27:48 is yeah so for me the answer to all these seemingly intractable questions will always boil down to if not log off decenter because it's a lot easier to see the force for the trees how many people who uh are uh loves screenshotting naive leftists who stan aoc and go look at you idiots look at you idiots falling for this how many of them smugly retweeted marco rubio saying the republican party is going to be the working-class party you have to basically just drill a hole in your head and forget everything you learned about your process of being disillusioned by the democratic party so that you can go on to get disillusioned by the republican party it's like the end of ***** dark tower he gets at the end of the thing and he opens the door and he's back to where he started so you go through this process of coming into identification with the democratic project or the left project the liberal project wherever you are on this spectrum and then being driven over time through this process of disillusionment with it as a vessel for your ambitions which are material but also identity based and then you get kicked out of the process and instead of recognizing oh this was this was what happens when you do that to a political party in the united states of america you go this was the problem with this specific party within the united states of america at which point you're back at the beginning chasing the man in black and you can't blame someone for this necessarily you can only blame them in a broad sense you know just more in pity than anything that they can't recognize the cycle they're in and break out of it so that's sad but you can't blame them because within that within their inability to break out of it they have not yet been disillusioned by the republican party it could be a place where they could get fun and enjoyment and a sense of political identity and own the libs again so let's uh somebody asked about the ideological like motivation or structure of like the whole college thing like the whole suite of ideas you get it's very not it's not really about like specific like culture critical theory critical race theory or white privilege any specific strain of academic jargon that's just like its expression uh you know within like a social matrix like people talking about like these ideas float around the important ones float around and then they get expressed in like sub concepts which by the way mostly start in and around college uh issues but it's more about a broad suite of of values like liberal western values in the broad sense but then like there's an intensity of it depending on like where you are within it you know like you've got the broad idea like western democracy broadly understood shared by everybody in all departments and every class you're going to take you're going to get but then you've got over time you know because of the cultural turn and everything you've got now all these other uh places where people talk about other things and they have more specific takes and they take the logic of the liberalism that's broadly accrued throughout college experience and and lived and then they sh bring it further down into a a point of more specific uh reference to uh to like a theory an issue like they're doing academia you wouldn't call it science but it's science-esque and they're doing it at everything and some places within that like the humanities you're going to develop like a more consistent sub genre of the greater liberal uh ideology and then people will gravitate towards or against that but they encounter it one way broadly or or specifically depending on their specific academic career who they encounter and then they get come out the other end and they accept some percentage of that the very base one being even if you don't believe any of this ***** about a liberal social order you're better if you want to make a ***** buck in your entire life they know that 0:32:55 much and that is shared by basically everyone who goes because they wouldn't have gone especially at this point in time really for any other reason at base that doing this stuff listening believing these things will get you a job and not just any job a job that is in some way personally rewarding that is not drudgery that is not mere alienation that's that's the base thing everyone comes up with but built on that is depends on your experience both before you went into college which is going to choose where you get your first classes and which ones you start with and then what experiences you have in college and your personality and all those things and that shoots you out the other end and you end up a political subject you either vote or you don't vote to prove that you don't that you think they're phony and if you vote you're probably going to vote for one of the two parties more often than anything else you're going to vote for one of the two parties and it's going to come down to 0:33:56 what percentage of that suite of stuff you accepted or rejected the degree to which as is always the case people make fun of me for saying that all the time but it's the only way to really talk about these kind of concepts because understanding them as binaries makes it almost impossible to conceive in your head of what this how the structures work because it's almost as though we are shaped by our material conditions and that because people who make culture tend to be people who went through the college process and specifically went through the humanities version of the college process from that point of view and because there's enough uh like there's 0:34:57 enough generational wealth left at the end of like the rainbow with you know the the last the last bit of equity from the boomers and and some of gen gen x but not that much certainly no millennials were able to cling to if not like an actual working class an actual like um like job job the idea in their head that they could get one yes i'm doing this but i'm really this yes i'm doing this but maybe this yes this is my day job like this i have a greater aspiration and that greater aspiration is inculcated by this deal that college offers you and that you accept and that you have to pursue because you can't just say sunk cost because the sunk cost is six figures in ***** debt it's literally impossible to change direction at this point so that 0:35:58 provides like the social uh motivation to maintain like these these values these public procession of professional values and like to participate in this culture but this is the last generation is going to have that experience that broad middle class experience

of college it's because of the combination of it becoming prohibitively expensive and that at some point people are going to stop going it might already be started now with ***** corona because the rewards are less and less uh tangible they're less and less even conceivable and even if it doesn't the experience of being disillusioned by college is going to become a hell of a lot more completely disillusioned by college is going to become a hell of a lot more prevalent than the one of this like let down by the college experience and it's in its offer of stable employment in a non uh totally alienating labor but the prospect of said from some grind hustle some personal commitment to you know a professional career path or the arts and media or social media and that means that the electoral future of the democratic party is very grim when you combine the majority and built-in structure of the republican system that we have the constitutional order which already rewards people who are going to be uh more likely either to just be rich enough to vote their ***** economic interests which are not the people i'm talking about they have an entirely different context the ones who make it are a whole different scheme of this all like this is a process that happens at every level based on your relationship to actual means of production so if you made it like making having made it out of college and not was the difference between warren and bernie in so if you made it your calculus is that college suite of uh of like social cues moires uh media propaganda you want to call it whatever you want to call it like whatever the ball of culture that kind of keeps people uh having faith in any even symbolic worth in the act of voting for a democrat and its influence on the levels of now the how fast that's going to happen is up to a lot of things one big one is how they actually do respond to this ***** pandemic which i don't know they could surprise me i highly doubt it but they could actually do a competent job or at least better of notice will be better than the republicans could happen not holding breath so that changes the whole ***** thing that could like re that could just by ass backwards like they accidentally like add up add a comma to the stimulus bill like it literally just was a typo and nobody noticed it and then boom they're able to you know like uh juice the the consumer sector and like take the boot of debt off of a bunch of people's neck and allow them to participate in the market again and not be like fully extracted miserable little uh gig monkeys and biden's the new fdr by accident that would be the perfect end to his career and then he dies with a full diaper but no not gonna probably happen the other is who comes after trump the big thing is like trump's specific non-college pitch is built into his celebrity not into any of his ideology none of his ideology anybody who's and that's why the talk about holly and cotton and making it coherent making it policy-based giving ribs and and armature to to trumpism is putting the ass it's it's the kind of mistake you make when you're in the bubble and you turn the ***** thing the wrong direction you're looking through the but who is in a position to replace that who can who can sparkle the way trump did i don't ***** know man uh slogan no i would not trust 0:41:11 any movement led by joe rogan i do i don't think he's a nazi or any of that ***** but just the mind's a little too open i think you need a little more structure there you need a few more first principles that you can depend on when you're dealing with something that would be you know as fragile as a celebrity-led movement oh i guess i'm talking about from the point of view the republicans i don't think he would do that because i don't think he's committed enough to the project i don't i think that politics to him caring about politics risks getting owned like i think a lot of the the apolitical like rogan type specifically one of the reasons that they in their mind or say ***** politics is because why would you risk getting owned over something that doesn't matter and it doesn't have the visceral appeal to you something like a sporting fandom and so you're gonna always stay a little bit away from it and 0:42:12 you might endorse somebody in a primary or something but you're not gonna ***** pick a team color because what if you lose and the thing about tucker carlson is he's got the celebrity he's got the zim he's got the zazzle i think he could get the college educated portion of the republican party those people who went through the machine and decided to oppose it and they're always there too remember we're just talking about them being brought about being having been having them added to by more uh working uh non-college people but they're always there they've always been there and uh they would love love that but would it wouldn't have the same appeal to those people who although they're moving towards the republicans it's not like it's fixed in stone a lot of it depends on who they're running against and what the what you know the happenstance of you know who's in charge when the bad thing happened brands the democrats like it's still it's still there like we don't know 0:43:14 how i just don't know if cuckoo has the zazzle outside of that bubble to appeal in a general the way that trump did don't know donut still not convinced that he could run a economically populist enough uh campaign for it to really matter at all and if that's the case well then you're just talking a rerun of trump but with this ***** bowtie ***** instead of the greatest famous guy who's ever famous i just i think charisma is going to be a much bigger factor there in like creating some coherent trump uh descendant some evolved trump form because like trump is obviously he accelerated a process but you know we don't know yet if he was prefigurative or if 0:44:15 he was then if the next step was going to have to come like up because none of these lines including the line that goes down goes straight down they're all punctuated by changes because they're interrupted all these processes are running against the the uh they're running on the corduroy road of uh of randomness right of the random distribution of evidence of of the butterfly effect and so it's it's it's never a smooth ride you know and the big thing that makes me say that is just who is who else is like trump in the culture i say john tafford but john tafford's not that famous basic cable that's not a network show that was in the top 10 in the last generation of network television which is now gone by the way like that kind of the people being on tv the way trump was on tv that doesn't exist anymore trump was on tv and then he got the fact that he was a businessman so he could fake a sort of pseudo experience of politics it's like i mean people say the rock but he is the soy boy at heart i mean we know which which side of the cultural divide he is on he is the soybean he might have all the appearance of like a a republican type guy and say he's a republican but his he's got a soft core he is humanities no matter how much he wants to say his football team stem he's he's a theater kid he's a theater kid you seen him on saturday live ***** is a theater kid so he is now the real what if is if because there you have like pure charisma and star power minus like trump's specific cynical uh invocation of like crabbish uh um bigotry because you know trump at the end of the day is just a disgusting fat little ***** uh with seven billion dollars in debt to the russian mafia and there he has to fill that hole somehow and you know that's how he got people build the wall i mean schwarzenegger my god and he did he did arnold did kill the apprentice but that was after trump left is the thing that was too late when i say maybe 12. once trump shows up and he gets that uh he picks up the stick the george wallace stick wraps it around his own like fame fame and glamorous public image ooh that was a powerful force that was like king arthur pulling the sword out of the stone but it's all obviously academic because schwarzenegger could never run for president thanks once again to it would be funny though if he just ran and won and got sworn in and they couldn't do anything about it because that is where they got that's what the constitution is now which i'm glad but at the same time the fact that people still other than republicans who should at all times be invoking the constitution because it is the the document that most closely codifies their conception of you know political economy and and uh and the social order like it is all there it's all there which is why it should have been destroyed in the civil war it should have been it was like the ***** you know what it was is the goddamn ring like for america to become uh a coherent national identity the constitution was necessary because the 13 colonies were none of them were in a position to impose force on the other so they all felt but it beca but as but could potentially be subdued by them combined against them it was a mexican standoff or an american standoff i guess and the constitution is structured the way it is for the base democratic overtaking of uh governmental structures and then on top of that uh any like faction within the greater united states can coming together to overthrow uh uh the ruling class the the boston merchants and the southern landowners who made up the revolutionary generation of our founding fathers and the civil war proved that the pressure of you know northern 0:49:30 uh northern wage relationship upon this like quasi-feudal remnant was of course still uh capitalist it was a key component of the global capitalist network but there was a fundamental tension politically at its heart between wage relationships and that could not be contained within the structure of the constitution because those type of people weren't supposed to be involved they weren't even supposed to be here you know they weren't really like here you know they weren't really supposed to be here like you know they aren't real at all like that's but the thing is is that the united the north was only able to defeat the south because of the power that had been accrued over the last 80 years to the executive branch to the federal government uh that 0:50:31 was only allowed by the constitutional compromise with the states it was only while everybody's guns were down that they were able to accrue without even knowing they were doing it the capacity to defend uh the state itself against a fraction within it and then they put it down and then it's like okay good it's done we don't need this thing anymore federalism is dead we just killed it we just burned it we've burned with landed to the ground federalism is dead we've inve we brought a state into the union well uh the representatives of a huge fraction of our country were not there ratified constitutional amendments opened half the ***** land in the louisiana purchase to settlement the civil war should have been the end of the us constitution 0:51:33 it had served its political purpose it had defeated mordor it had defeated sauron rather it had defeated the sauron of slavery now it was time to cast it into mount doom and then you get on the precipice and who's that who's that on the precipice gollum himself uh john wilkes booth andrew johnson now that's of course glib as i've said a million times i don't think that there's any reason to believe that lincoln could have by himself having lived changed things enough to redirect the flow of like racial solidarity and uh you know the direct the the the recapital reformation of the south like away from uh plantation agriculture to the yeoman model that persisted in the north even though lincoln lincoln's entire political ideology was premised on the idea of turning america into a yeoman republic as the whigs but we'll never know is the thing we'll never know one way or another the ***** ring did not get into the 0:52:35 ***** uh volcano and now it's sitting around just corroding everything and turning us and so that's a like i want to talk another thing about american exceptionalism another big like obviously the number one element is free real estate but built on top of that first caused by the same material really reality shaping its politics our constitutional system which had sort of a natural historical purpose really as as a as a like a progressive instrument in the furthering of you know the consolidation of wage relationships into conflict with one another then keeping it around just it's like you blew a ***** tire on the highway so i think any political movement worth this we're 0:53:38

CUSHVLOG 112. THE STUFF THAT HAPPENS IN MOVIES AND TV IS SERIOUS AND WE CANT JOKE ABOUT IT going to have as an assumed assumed assumed basic premise the constitution gots to go now of course that's not a thing you impose for outside i just think it's a thing that an organic marxist not through ideology but through lived practice recognizing class is real less recognizing class conflict is the only meaningful uh uh the only meaningful pursuit of justice but the problem is one of the just as an ideological question how do you fight a civil war on behalf of a document that you then destroy and tear up you know i mean obviously the evolution the war changed the war aims 0:54:41 of the union army and the the america the northern public generally but it wasn't you know supernatural it was it was it was a it was a process and it was unevenly but that that uh that drive to preserve the union you know america as an idea that was a real motivating factor for people to join the army obviously at a certain point you join because there's a hundred dollars in it for you or there's a draft but those early regiments that you know spilled blood bull run and whatnot there had to have been more pressure placed on the constitution for it to uh for it to come under the and it never happened probably couldn't have but man it's past time to recognize 0:55:44 the the enemy uh esperanto esperanto is one of those really adorable 19th century grasps towards the notion of you know true universal human consciousness but it rests adorably on an idealist pedestal of like pure liberalism because i think like the idea of creating a language for everybody in the world to speak is beautiful in a way but the idea that it by its nature of its existence would naturally find itself over time to become a lingua franca that is that's what happens when you don't recognize material conditions as the but one day there probably will be only one language on this planet before there are no humans the last of them will probably speak um 0:56:46 apparently i'm on the first page i'm gonna look it up right now i'm on the first you uh google image page for soy face let me check if that's still true i did the icky i did 0:57:51 it i did the iggy i'm a soul man i'm a sore man **Music playing** i did not invent the soy face of course um who of course are the other side of the coin these are the people who went through the college washing machine and came out opposed to it now once again not necessarily went to college but experienced college in the form of 0:58:52 culture generated you're pepes you're griupers they are their relationship to politics is as sterile and doomed as the relationship of the democrats broadly speaking they will continue to be disillusioned by the party failing to do what it really wants them to do because they have some cockeyed idea that they're representing some actual ideology and some actual like notion of the good which is what they got from college even so they're constantly having to do the same pathetic uh uh bargaining game with their party some of them are moving in the other direction there are a number of alt-right people who have become like uh kind of bernie crats right in the past uh in the past couple years if i'm not mistaken that's the same process moving in the other 0:59:53

direction and then the question becomes when they hit the zero barrier and preach do they recognize that they are in a sterile loop that their relationship with politics is illusory and fantastical and that they need to re-foundate give it a new foundation or do they just keep moving on and now they're going to be like the the most gripery uh uh leftist and then move their way through somehow you will continue to cycle through internally if you can't give up your libidinal commitment to one party or another one spectacle or another one feast of domination yeah the proud boys are 1:0:54 the dsa of the right it's the same college graduated losers with a different cultural uh sadism box and a different cultural grievance collection uh trying to uh concept of their political identity that is so powerful that it is spilled out into the real world they have to affirm it uh in real life but of course only in the most spectacular way possible and if they're more violent than dsa and you say that's not that's not a good comparison because the dsa is not violent they don't do things they're antifas and violent it's like they are on the right so of course they're more concentrated in their violence as politics because that's what right-wing it's the step remember the fascism you talk about aestheticization of politics instead of doing violence on behalf of a class project doing violence for its own sake violent now of course the dsa is actually 1:1:56 doesn't really have a right wing comparison because of how demobilized they are plowboys aren't a good really comparison because but they're the closest thing there is which just shows you how unorganized it is on the right and how atomized it is because they don't even have the fake solidarity of you know the grasping towards uh uh uh you know a public good that once again is no one's fault and we're all including myself operating from it it is the confusion of our libidinal self-interest with our understanding of a general self a general interest we're only grasping at it we're only guessing because we're not coordinating action through experience and through class consciousness whatever you want to call it and that's all of us there's no blaming people it's not saying anyone is bad for doing it like i said there's and 1:2:59 no one is worse than me or better than me because i am 100 implicated in every and i think people in uh dsa there's nothing that says they can't do great work within it and outside of it but because it's going to be doing the work in the real world that they're going to find what works both inside and outside the organization and doing anything to stay in the real world is worth doing no matter how cringe it may be and no matter how politically sterile it might seem because if it feels to you in the moment like it's worth your contribution if you see things in the world that you and the people within that organization feel like you can do that by god keep doing it if it feels good as they say do it but when i mean good i mean actually satisfying of a you know d a a a materialized political will to power a materialized 1:4:1 material will devour as opposed to a fantasized one and that could that's in dsa it's

outside of dsa it's wherever you are but it's you have to drop the charade that you're finding anything other than uh pleasure from this pantomime and the spectacle of like political combat as you understand it all right i gotta go guys talk to you

Moloch n' Me

11.16.20

there i am next week gonna find you i'm gonna get you the dogs are barking are barking for us they're calling for me hound of the bed steivilles the hound of the bed 0:1:2 stifles paul come on ***** you that was pretty good that was some good stuff yeah perfect timing this dog just started as soon as i did i think he is honestly responding to my voice maybe he's telling me to pipe down maybe he's telling me to shut my trap yeah i'm just feeling a little shaky not feeling as centered as i have recently trying to i'll find my way back i'm not thought i would do a nice chill stream this time a real one answer some questions just maybe have a this would have been a good day to go to the office maybe but man i don't know i think we might be shutting back down again here very shortly i wouldn't be surprised if within a week there's another some 0:2:4 attempt at a lockdown it's a bummer man it's a real bummer low audio ah hell i put up the volume i could speak louder also ah okay so how's that sound that doesn't sound good i can get the microphone because i have the mic so how's this always off to a good start with audio issues my favorite thing i love being on the ones and twos while trying to figure out what the hell i'm talking about it's my favorite thing in the world i love having in a bit yeah no it's my own fault though you know uh i 0:3:5 would if i really cared i so i'm sorry that i haven't done better honestly it still sounds muffled i'm sorry ***** you know what you guys got to hold me accountable i agree you guys have to hold me accountable i need to be held accountable i think that i need to understand that i need to do better and that if i don't then i need to be held accountable i understand this i could use a gamer chair not going to lie oh i mean no i absolutely could not use a gamer chair it would be a send have a gamer chair but i certainly imagine rocking back and forth in custom contoured comfort but yeah no that would be the devil that would be the devil getting me that like the devil would give me a gamer chair and have me survey you know uh survey the online and go here this could be yours no no satan ah muffled mike ah christ ah all right i might have to 0:4:7 go get the uh is apparently uh it doesn't record as high for the youtube so that's why i try to use this chord this has got to be the single worst content you can find on the internet is me trying to ***** fix this like a goddamn boomer like trying to get talked through tech it really does tell you like how tightly people are wound by whether 0:5:12 they say it's good or not because obviously something is wrong and obviously it's not so bad that it's unlistenable it comes down to how much it bothers you so if you say it's fine it means you're not noticing it if you say it isn't fine then it means that you're noticing it so some balance between you know wanting to hear my words and not wanting to hear them in a way that like challenges you to hear it or something i don't know or challenges like some aesthetic assumption about how you think and that really just seems like an issue that you just it's like i'm sorry and tonight today i guess i'm not worth listening to and yeah it probably also depends on how good your computer is and how good your headphones are and all that yes it's fine that 0:6:18 it's not fine i have to remember my rhyme i have to remind myself that the universe will unfold as it should all right you know what i i'm gonna still oh i want to get the i works all right i don't know if i'm going to be able to get over this we'll see this to like accept the things i cannot change because realistically i'm not going to yes maybe i should be uncomfortable tonight maybe maybe i have to have a thorn in my saddle for some reason maybe i need to be agitated i don't know right now it just 0:7:19 feels agitated it doesn't really feel uh productive but that's why we play the oh now they're mad at me for not getting the mic i just i didn't want to step away from it it seems like it's kind of bad you know all right you know what i'm doing i'm hmm so all right young greats let me ***** try this god damn it who signed up for for the 0:8:24 love of cry many tell me that oh thank god all right fine i guess i can't use the chord anymore apologies for the youtube people hopefully it'll be loud enough i'm trying i swear to god i'm trying i'll ask chris i want the people to be able to access the content i understand that the content must flow above all that it is our very enema that it 0:9:25 is our spice melange i understand that and i will never not facilitate the flow i will never allow the flow to be in any way i did not see alex jones speech i'm assuming he said some ***** about overthrowing the government or whatever ah entering the rat zone squiddly squiddily lennon was a great orator trotsky was the best though trotsky was the greatest orator of the he got him spellbound he first did it in 1905 0:10:26 when he was a kid got brought in and ended up heading the petrograd soviet purely on his oracle or or or radical skills however you want to whatever oratorical that's it god oratorical skills and then he was the most spellbinding speaker at and he got everybody uh and he ended up drawing the blueprint really for the whole damn thing tactically and strategically really is more it was more his idea than it was but lenin was the one who you know directed it and the one who gave it the actual uh like 0:11:30 operating system the lennon was pretty he was on the stump he was pretty big him showing back up him showing back up uh in in at the at the finland station was was a historical thunderbolt because the bolsheviks until that point really were terrified

of the prospect of taking power because they kind of knew they didn't have the the authority to do that in that like yeah they they they represented a like absolute huge majority of you know bullsh of saint petersburg workers but what did that mean in the whole you know the terms of the entire russian empire it was a terrifying prospect and they kind of wanted to lean back that was their instinct anyway and lennon was the one who stepped into the breach and said no no this is not a stable equilibrium this will collapse one way or the other and we have to choose which way it's going to go by which which which direction we push our shoulders to uh because and i think that was true i really do think like i don't think there's any world where the uh the provisional government survives into some sort of bourgeois democracy it would have collapsed most likely and given those options you cannot blame anybody in fact i think you'd have to say that the only moral action is to try to seek power in that context that abdicating power is abdicating responsibility and in fact making yourself responsible for horrors to come that you could have stopped but you know it creates new situations that federalism should have been ended in 1865. the federalist system was tried and found wanting or rather it was destroyed by by might i mean it was it was extinguished as a uh as a real basis for sovereignty because when it when it when they break into pieces the greater half will absorb the other half we know that now so there is no real source of power there other than to just create a temporary disequilibrium and waste resources and waste time and more than anything gum up the progress of you know creating a a a a political structure that can actually and that probably would have you know it's hard to say we ever would have gotten rid of it but should means nothing we kept it because it was useful and it has always been useful but i think it should it'll have to go it'll have to go can't imagine it not going any any realistic even medium term uh play for power in america would not be constitutional i think and or rather could be constitutionally pursued but in power would negate the constitution as white claw lime is the worst flavor it's the only one i had left though sadly these are the these are the struggles of those of us in the coveted plague years stuck with the worst of the of the of lime is a great flavor in many contexts but for some reason in the alcoholic seltzer business and honestly even the non-alcoholic seltzer business it seems to be an inferior flavor to many others say somebody said that if trotsky were alive now he would be on sub stack that is 100 correct because if you think about it when you look at the origin of you know like the modern the modern like policy intelligentsia the modern like political wonk class you know the people who write for the public intellectuals people who write for you know uh name brand uh institutional think organizations not necessarily famous people but people who are known within among people who are inside you know the bubble the people like the they'll they are they were largely

trotskyites they were largely people who came out of the 30s split as trotskyites and 0:16:40 then in the post-60s disillusionment era turned into neoconservatives like every uh every op-ed columnist is a and so everybody who ends up eventually quitting their org because they you know want to be oppressed to justify why they're not being listened to more or why they're not more popular than finds themselves with only the market to blame as they i'm back on i'm back on the content must flow like i 0:17:42 said nothing will stop it neither sleep nor snow nor dark of night shall keep me i shall always be here i shall always be here mining the content taking the content from the mines panning it molding it flattening it stacking it into bricks transporting it across mountain passes exchanging it for various uh eastern silks and spices i lost a bunch of viewers there that was bad that was bad work sorry i had a i had a thing hopefully 0:18:43 they'll come back but if they don't that's fine this already feels kind of like a cursed chat with all that uh damn i've actually thought somebody's asked about the 30 years war i've actually thought about doing a project like a podcast project because it's 30 years more because it's wildly interesting and i don't really think that there is a very you know there's a single sort of agreed upon uh coverage of it like patrick wyman was going to get to the 30 years war but he basically he did so much early modern that he kind of got sick of it which i understand you know you get sick of the habsburgs after you're just describing how their jaws just got farther and farther and farther but it's got a lot of early very interesting stuff the way that you know 0:19:45 religion operated in that early reformation period and the spread of uh early spread of media how that contributed to the whole thing definitely like to talk a little bit more about the swedes the swedes are fascinating to me that they were a continent bestriding military colossus adolphus then you've got things like the emergence of modern realpolitique when cardinal riesler had the french bourbon throne support the 0:20:47 protestant league against catholic habsburg because they were the greater uh that's was the ultimate don't play the sorry guys you're not going to get away with me that easily i'm back uh this is yes on the third stream he rose again so this will be the last one i think one way or the other when this one stops i will be done thy will be done on earth as it is somebody asked if one of the reasons that uh the united states did 0:22:4 not become socialist is because it was too secular i think there's actually something to that because if you take secular to mean that you have replaced that so the degree that a society is secular is the degree spiritual non-marketized emotional connections between people like in some places where capitalism is being imposed upon a well-structured social network or if it emerges like in uh it emerges out of class struggle like in europe you get this effusion of from the root uh a a in a spiritualized sense of the social obligation that can then interact with capitalism whereas in america because we came in as as scattered shredded you know refuse of europe uh the 0:23:8

having been stripped of our social bonds completely having new religious orders that resacralized you know our relationship to the land and our relationship to each other by essentially removing the social dimension altogether from life and replacing it with and that's what we have tried to build a social conception on top of while we've been rapidly capitalizing and it's tough it's very difficult it's like you're trying to build a it's like you're trying to build a airplane while it's in the air i'm not saying that those pre-capitalist modes were socialist they weren't they had to evolve into capitalism they but they couldn't skip directly to socialism because they were peasant social relationships which are not the social relationships of a uh of a uh 0:24:9 like socialized subject who has gone through the process of like the contradictions someone keeps asking why was john brown insane which was a weird way of putting it instead of just saying was he uh and i guess it's a good way to put it because he was if you accept the definition of insanity to be demanding like to the point of violence to insist on the world being a way that no one else recognizes it to be without like taking the hint of his social relationships to understand that what he 0:25:10 thinks is real is not you know what he thinks is his connection to all humanity and his moral obligation to it is not real and if that's the case and you know in the in the modern secularized way that is the only thing that insanity can be like there is no underlying truth or falseness that's not that doesn't come in it so he was insane in that sense but he was also right and that tells you that there is a more complicated relationship between sanity and conceptions of sanity and the social order than it is presented to be i'm not really liking the good lord bird at all somebody said it was hamilton what they say like hamilton but violent and that seems to be basically it that's i mean i still haven't seen hamilton but it feels like that's correct hamilton 0:26:12 with violence and that that's not very interesting to me i'm not mad at it anymore but it's just like it's not even interesting it's not even like doing enough to get a similarly asking if the mujahideen or gladio unit there is a a thing that's like not officially part of the gladiator operation but it's sort of a conjecturized operation 0:27:13 called gladio b that basically says that the uh invasion of not even the invasion of afghanistan the buildup to the rising of tensions within afghanistan that led to the invasion was an operation that was essentially along the same lines where the like afghan versions of the you know lump and mafia figures that they used in europe uh were similarly plied with drugs and money and given guns and let loose on a communist opponent uh and they're it's their parallels are striking i mean we were we had money and guns into the the resistance in afghanistan before there even was a soviet uh invasion when it was just we were explicitly trying to give them their own vietnam and we were it worked i mean like like zbigniew brzezinski was very proud of it and he famously said you know i don't think you can compare the liberation of uh 0:28:15

all of eastern europe to some riled up jihadis in the middle east because for him that was like what they got to do they got to pay him back for vietnam and then also they fell they then collapsed shortly after that really vindicated them and they felt like that's what matters you know a few 911s or whatever and you know regimes and like fundamentalism taking over and more and more places and ratcheting up violence that's all good for them that's not blowback even that's that's interest that's yeah 0:29:52 so south africa was a country that as a country was just a one giant gladio operation they weren't even like the the because like boss was if p2 like boss was if he too was a foreign hey what's going to happen with the damn brexit what's going on are they 0:30:54 really just going to crash out i thought this thing had already been like done three times already i really don't understand i don't really care which is nice because if i did it'd be very frustrating i'm just kind of curious what is the deal what's the tumuppence what's the what's the bobs what's the what's what's uh give me your butchers how do they keep having to keep this deal how many times have they like how many times have they said they had a deal and then what happened why did it not go forward so when does it happen is there actually a day is there actually a day where this ***** happens as opposed to what has happened it's like the election it's just drawn out forever it's been brexit for five years it's a drawn out it's like an orgasm it just can't it's a ruined orgasm it's like our system it feels like brexit can't ever come it's like zeno's paradox so you're really guys telling me these guys are swearing like hard brexit they put up the ***** border back in northern ireland the troubles kick back off that all happens on january 31st or is it going to be like 0:31:57 five to 500 other deadlines i heard about that pass with nothing changing so tell me what's it gonna be what's it cursed island who cares is the correct answer cursed island who cares who care putting it on the neverline list especially since nobody can give me a straight answer about whether anything's ever going to happen over there that's going to be interesting enough to pay attention to because for now it's all been snoozeville although if ***** boris johnson gets coveted again that will be 0:32:58 funny not gonna lie if he pulls a bolsonaro and gets ***** covered twice that will hello i'm kia starmer in there i'm keep leading the star mate i'm bleeding kei starmer hello i'm sir keith starmer i'm a knight i'm a knight at the bleeding round table and i hello i'm keith starmer the naught of the bleeding uh richard spencer haircut hello topansa bend oh cheerio what's this i mean what how did that happen i don't care it 0:33:59 is a pedo island we all know that it's ruled by pretty explicit pedophiles jimmy savile we all remember that lord mountbatten whose assassination was just commemorated on the crown famously long-time pedophile who apparently treated northern irish orphanages as his personal borders a disgusting depraved sick piece of ***** and one of the hot what a high counselor and ***** direct relative what uncle of the queen vile i mean forgetting what he did to the ***** partition to basically ensure it became swine and then of course there's uh all the revelations about thatcher's cabinet and inner circle everywhere so anyway i i wish good luck to the good people 0:35:0

the ones that exist which is basically jeremy corbyn uh in the uk but everyone's gonna have to tend to the road garden now man let's see what we can come up with let's dig dirt let's get in the dirt let's get some worms favorite irish historical figure that's an interesting question who do i like who do i like uh i like um uh wolf tone is like hardcore uh daniel collins or daniel mcconnell i love the monster monster mash 0:36:2 monster allies but yeah james connolly obviously for richard caseant was a g not a big fan of uh eamonn devalera i and uh and uh patrick pierce was kind of a fine of a looney tune honestly not in like an endearing uh i don't know if that's really in a john creepy and of course the greatest irishman of michael rappaport the greatest irishman uh chris wade is definitely on the go on the irish good books he's a fine 0:37:25 irish lad nick mullen of course also i think we'll i think will is actually scotch irish and they did not count i'm sorry scotch irish don't count ***** off ***** out of here hon get out of here you but uh i would say that like i don't think that's even true in 0:38:44 ireland like i don't think there needs to be some program against protestants it's so pointless it's stupid it's a remnant but i do think that in america demographically they're a distinct group like their culture was distinct and they settled in distinct areas like our you know our potato eating patties our good catholic boys and girls settled in america's like east coast cities and you know settled into roles is like is the is essentially like the the uh the early uh like state bureaucracy of the emerging market economies of the american cities you know the very first bureaucratic the bare bones of the bureaucratic state which is its police and its politicians and so they got this patronage relationship within the capitalist system to facilitate you know the exploitation of the greater number of these you know lumping uh uh former peasants now the scotch irish they settled entirely different pattern they settled it they went out into the woods to make their fortune or more likely in misfortune scrub 0:39:45 scraggling life out of the the rocks of creating a completely different social structure with a different uh religious with an entirely different like religious and spiritual uh like world view that shaped their relationship to each other and the project called america those are yes somebody asked if spiritualism was an upper class theology and yes it absolutely was i mean these people these were the heirs of you know states in the united states and they because of their exposure to the most refined 0:40:47 elements of you know enlightened urban existence had over time lost their ability to invest traditional religious concepts with meaning and had to invent them out of the whole cloth of like post-modern like uh or modern like positivist uh empirical uh rationality and science and what emerged out of that was a way to reverse engineer

spirituality again in the form of of uh spiritualism and ectoplasm and people pulling ***** ugh oh that's an interesting question i've thought about some i love counter 0:42:6 factuals somebody asked what if nixon had won in 1960 instead of kennedy and that is a contingency that was skin of the teeth and it did involve theft like that was not made up and with any of those cases it hangs in the balance you want to talk about a contingent consequential event and i thought about that and one thing i so the bay of pigs happened the way it did because kennedy got in there with uh the plan already existing uh in what he inherited jfk inherited the bay of pigs plan from 0:43:24 the eisenhower administration and he never got the full brief and the top planners like bissell and weisman weisner knew the thing wouldn't work without air support but they were afraid of asking of telling uh kennedy that because they're afraid then he would say well i'm not going to do it then they were going to hope that in the moment he would he would not recognize sunk costs when he saw it and he would decide to overcommit that was what they were banking on and he said no now not only was the bay of pigs planned under the eisenhower administration it was under the aegis of the vice president's office nixon was eisenhower's point man four in the 0:44:25 executive branch for the uh bay pig's invasion so if he got in there presumably he would have been more committed to it as policy whereas kennedy never saw it as his baby was basically willing to let them try it thinking hey this is a low low cost low commitment thing if it doesn't work we can walk away from it and then finding oh no you can't do that because these guys over committed you nixon might very well have put the bombers in and maybe the uh the foothold is positioned now i'm not saying they would have won but you could very easily see a situation where a somewhat successful bay pigs incursion leads to nixon committing american troops to support it and instead of having you know america's uh cold war experience grow hot in southeast asia in the mid-60s it happens in cuba in the early 60s uh don't know if that's true i just i always thought that was an interesting what if and basically 0:45:27 you know the result of that would be that the 60s social fermented conflict would sort of have sparked early and become more intense and coupled with the fact that you would not have seen the so i don't think you would have seen the sort of civil rights uh advancement under nixon just because i think that the southern strategy would have uh revealed itself its logic within the greater context of this heightened cold war standoff you know like the lines would have been more firmly established between the democrats and republicans on this question the the the coalitions the political coalitions would be clear i'm sorry that took a while there's that's why i've 0:46:29 been off and on it's i thought i i misjudged the time so i've been kind of riding the lightning here i'm not moving yet it's all in the air we'll see we'll see but i might yes we're gonna miss the yard uh yes i'm going to move to the bunker i'm going to be moving to a secure facility now i have no idea pittsburgh is a great town i have to 0:47:47 say the paris of appalachia i do ever enjoy it i would go there i'd get like a disused firehouse and again i'm getting on i've been off the beam on meditation and i think that's contributed to my weird feelings i got to get back into it tomorrow i will get back on the beam i think i'm glad someone watched the ninth configuration i'm glad 0:49:3 it's a good movie i gotta actually get into a practice of it like i think i need a group context but man not happening now i mean it's getting bad there's gonna be no public anything soon you're getting to a point where like a tipping point where if it's not a full lockdown where you're not like cutting off almost all contact with other people you're basically gonna get it it'd be funny if we we reached hurt immunity the moment the ***** vaccine came out like oh yeah we just hit we hit 300 million infections and then within the ***** viruses and then the ***** uh the vaccine shows up that'd be perfect we could just all like just have a virus fight with them have a fun little virus fight with the vaccines boned i am not blackpilled why do people keep 0:50:10 saying i am black belt black pill the only black pill in my opinion is if you ex if you take the conclusion that you know the spectacle is self-contained and unbreakable that participating in it is the surrendering of your soul to a sterile uh phantom tango that just drains your life essence and leaves you incapable of fulfilling your human destiny as a ***** self-directed agent of your own interests and the interests of those you love and you go yeah that's all there is since this is that what the since that what this is well then i'm just gonna spend all my time here thinking i'm the damn 0:51:12 joker instead of thinking oh i can disengage from this nothing is actually making me be here and maybe the things that seem hopeless when i'm stuck my head into this hornet's nest are not if not fixable something i can do about it there's actually something i could ***** do about it and at least something that can make me feel like i'm standing up for myself and for my fellow human ***** beings and that cannot be black pill that is hope pill that's love pill red blood pill the real red pill the blood of the red of the communist got hot blood run under my veins and if you have hot blood then this will never be enough for you so the black pill is saying yes i will steady myself spiritually i will try to just continue to seek ever ever intensifying 0:52:15 and a need to ever be intensifying uh emotional engagement from this disgusting pantomime this this performance this spectacle this this engagement is that's that's black man that's saying yeah i've given up hope and like that is blackville and i say you can only do that if you have forsaken the world outside well the apocalypse has already happened someone says i think that in a real sense like being human is coming to terms with mortality individually but then also socially and civilizationally and existentially and you know even though we don't know how the human race will end it will you know and every formation that humans take is going to at some point 0:53:18

end including all the ones that we think of as eternal and part of living is accepting like the realities of the trajectory of of life and instead of fighting them coming to terms in a way that allows you to live within them like a good example of that for me is we live in a situation where our politics are dead and frozen in this cult sterile culture war because the underlying presumption of politics which we have all been operating on since the ***** cold war uh about what the government does about what uh we can we what our relationship with government is in terms of its you know uh it uh is it doesn't actually pertain like the government is not going to provide us with the justice that we assume it will and so our participating in the system oh man oh sam yep that's sterile well i forgot to say god damn it exploded yeah civilizations are cyclical until they like power up basically like the cycles continue but things change as the cycles move the accumulation of those changes eventually create a phase shift now i remember what i was going to say if we accepted that the new deal consensus is dead that the idea that the government can just distribute us all the profits from this huge capitalist system that is bestriding the world and which no longer persists that way and that we are just like eating our civilizational like heart out in order to provide profits for a system that cannot provide what we think it can what even like the social democratic dreams of bernie cannot be if they allow capitalism to remain intact if we accepted those terms that reality that point of no return then we could address the moment with clarity and move from those uh those those uh priors and i think those priors lead towards an engagement with capitalism like an actual engagement with capitalism and profit like a socialization of these these like marketized lives that we've lived and that would only be possible if we accepted the death of that stage of american like civic uh understanding and political economy like it's like it was 19 you know it it started with a great uh like start you want to start it with with the inauguration of fdr from 33 to 79 and that was it and now we have to do something else but it accepts limitations it accepts that some things are not not the same that they've ever been and they can't be that way again and we have to start start building from something new and that the only place that we can uh find what we're looking for here is not by growing the pie it's by reclaiming control of how we distribute this thing because my god we have the resources but they are a portion the way they are so that situations for commerce can be conducted within them the thing that's supposed to signal us where everything should go the price signal conducted by the market we need it there but we don't ***** need it there amazon i think has proven pretty conclusively that we don't we have private enterprises that are the size of small governments and sometimes mid-size governments that operate with no price signal and are able to distribute some sort of uh you know resource we can do that but it means cutting out the entire

class of people who stand within these in uh this smaller smaller group of people who live to just stand within these uh transactions and just passively accumulate power and well as the rest of us by necessity because there's less and less to give around so that's what i mean when i say you know sometimes coming to terms with things does it lead you to black pill it leads you to real uh effective action because you can see more clearly you can see clearly now the rain is gone you can see all obstacles in your way or at least more than you could come friendly bombs and reign on slaugh it isn't fit for humans now i'm going to read that i'm going to sign off here but first i'm going to read come friendly bombs by john benjamin famously read by ricky gervais on uh try to find this thing patience it's not coming the ***** i can't find the goddamn thing oh it's called slaugh oh that's embarrassing that's like when uh that's like when people think that uh that uh that weaker then song one great city is actually called i hate winnipeg because that's the that's the chorus very embarrassing it's called slow come friendly bombs and fall on slaugh it isn't fit for humans now there isn't grass to graze a cow swarm over death come bombs and blow to smithereens those air-conditioned bright canteens tinned fruit tinned meat tinted milk tinned beans tinned mines tinned breath mess up the mess they call a town a house for 97 down and once a week a half a crown for 20 years and get that man with double chin who'll always cheat and always win who washes his repulsive skin in woman's tears and smashes desk of polished oak and smashes hands so used to stroke and stop his boring little joke and make him yell but spare the bald young clerks who add the prophets of the stinking cat it's not their fault that they are mad they've tasted hell it's not their fault they do not know the bird song from the radio it's not their fault they often go to maidenhead and talk of sports and makes of cars and various bogus tudor bars and darren look up and see the stars and belt but belch instead in labor's saving homes with care their wives frizz out peroxide hair and dry it in synthetic air and paint their nails come friendly bombs and fall on slow to get it ready for the plow the cabbages are coming now the earth exhales that's that was written in 1937 and it basically presaged the eventual and inevitable split uh after the working-class you know uh political movement stalled out in its you know development of of self-articulation that would immediately emerge within like the greater uh uh uh progressive coalition that made with that the democratic party was between its urban uh uh educated uh progressive base and its working class um less educated base right then and there right that song like because all the stuff he's describing all those horrors that's what the labor party had fought was fighting for that's what that's what the democratic party in the united states is fighting for that uh is part and parcel to the overall effectiveness of the capitalist response to growing uh labor militancy at the heart of empire which was to buy it off which it could in the united states established the conditions to allow them yeah they were well the 1:2:53 thing is they were bought off in the uk but they were bought off i would say the the uk they made a better deal i think those quarter those quarter acre lots i don't think they stack up to like the nhs and social housing and i certainly don't think that in the coming times of like full collapse i think those things are going to hold together a little better for people and make those lives better than here where already like that that uh that has already turned a message because the buying off in europe involved like actual infrastructure you know redistributive infrastructure of the state in the u.s it mostly boiled down to uh you know first it was it was in it was income in the form of you know ever increasing paychecks which is what contributed to this to the to the inflation of the late 60s and 70s uh and then when that wouldn't sustain itself 1:3:54 anymore and they re they broke the back of the labor movement and its ability to demand more for its uh constituents replace it with credit and that's all we have now is just which really makes me think that if there is any hope to like stabilizing this system in capitalism's favor in the near term it's going to involve some sort of debt cancellation some mass debt cancellation just getting numbers off the books because they could do it and not doing it is causing more than anything even more than covid which you could solve for this like gasping and cranking and wheezing of the of the like consumer economy the demand the demand uh leg of the ***** uh engine here the piston but no like it will not be the reason it will be that is because that's just putting moving numbers around on a paper and more importantly it's a one-time 1:4:58 thing all it really does is allow is give you so you can keep it going i'm not saying that it would be bad if people got that it would help them live a little more dangerously maybe make them more amenable to doing something politically that they wouldn't do since their lives since that debt was so heavy around their neck maybe people who are would be afraid to organize in a whole workplace because they had a lot of student debt or or credit card debt if they went that way which they absolutely should ***** student debt i mean yes student debt but credit card debt too and medical debt as a no-brainer i mean nobody even expects to get that ***** like that stuff is pennies on the dollar already fractions of pennies on the dollar that should all go like but i'm saying is that even if if that ends up being it as good as that'll be uh over time the the old patterns will reassert themselves because the distribution but that might be what we get out of biden and that would be i will say this that will 1:5:59 be a best case scenario because there's nothing in the government there's nothing in the democratic party there's nothing in the dynamic here to push anybody to the left it can't realistically be said to happen i don't think people talk about protests and stuff but i mean i just don't under i don't see the the organizational capacity to make them effective especially since there's going to be a massive downward pressure

on mobilization thou that bidens in a lot of people are going to want to just relax for a while and as people have said go to brunch go to brunch will you go to brunch so i don't know but i'd say if they do go with that that's the smartest thing they could do just to keep some keep in terms of keeping the economy going but really what it'll be is it'll be just it'll be a a boot up and that's if that's what happens then by god don't donut uh what is it do not light a candle to curse your darkness whatever 1:7:2 the hell it is if it emerges do not just be like this is ***** and complain about it hey embrace it and move forward with it just saying do not take it as a sign that the winds are shifting in any good direction if it happens though use that exactly use that time use that ability use that breath to to reassert your life to reassess put the mimosa down mimosas are for closers only has anyone ever done this before it seems like this should have like uh lib glengarry glen ross these are the posts these are the glengarry call out posts to you these posts are gold nice guy don't give a ***** good 1:8:5 father ***** you and get all right guys i'm going sorry about the interruptions today that won't happen again and i hope the audio issues were cleared up i'll just stick with the microphone hopefully chris can boost the sound for the youtubes i don't know what the problem is there was that the muppets originally did they make that up did the muppets write that if so kudos it's a hell of a song we all love to listen to it we all love to hum it sometimes it's fun for the whole family you don't even have the lyrics to deal feeling good guys i feel like i've got i'm getting i'm heading towards being able to articulate something on paper soon just put that out there because i'm feeling pretty confident i'll be able to put something together soon in a writing form uh i'm just excited about it so i 0:1:2 just wanted to put that out there as a more of anything as a as a marker so that i don't like get lazy on it because i feel like i could actually uh i could get myself across anyway that's all i can really realistic uh man i've been thinking about uh battle bungler man thinking about that oh bungler that'll bungler he is as narcissistic as trump is he is a it's a mayor it's amazing liberals and conservatives have now created like union archetypes around their collective behaviors in the form of this figure of the united states president and they have polarized around these things and like donald trump is the malignant narcissistic heart of american reactionary ideology which is 0:2:3 of course just super structural aesthetic uh ornament to the bipartisan neoliberal economic order that is undergirding all of it and completely depends and it is the two are totally meshed in and are insufferable from and cannot be removed from uh and then the democratic id the democratic narcissist the democrat who thinks he's a progressive because he wants what's best for everybody which is really just what he imagines is best for him personally in every sense of me what i mean personally uh as in personal pleasure personal uh like uh narcissistic narcissistic self-conception and he is a narcissist in the way that liberals are and these guys both made incredibly improbable runs at the white house when you think about it now unless you want to believe the idea that uh that obama was like a cia mark project as a kid and they're like we're going to make him president someday i mean maybe he was cia maybe his mom was like her postings are very suspicious and like anybody especially at 0:3:5 that period of the cold war involved in any kind of international academic outreach they had an involvement with the cia but that cuts both ways really because it's like well everybody had their involvement but that also means that these organizations

anyone involved in them is has an implicit association with something that they might not specifically have because not everybody in all these orgs like even usaid is cia i'm sorry like they don't at least they don't know they are whatever you know like they're not agents they're bureaucrats and they think that they have that their job is real that's true in every one of these organizations but anyway whatever one way or the other if you take him for seriousness he wasn't a plant which i think is silly he got to where he was from single motherhood in hawaii and and uh you know being one of the chum gang through just a single-minded pursuit of his narcissistic self like of of feeding the furnace of his ego and what he wanted because of his because it was 0:4:6 the specifics of his uh background at the specifics of his life experience what that meant to him was approval from the establishment approval and absorption and uh ratification by a status quo that he was awed by and terrified of even if he recognized its evil and so he pursued it with a mad gusto a life force that makes him you know in his own way a genius this trump is and that led him towards absorbing every status ever because since the end since so as a young man powered by this desire where do you go where do you go to make it in the world you go to college and when he went to college he absorbed college he absorbed it like ***** galactus absorbing a planet at like a molecular level he absorbed it like it's mores it's this because he's like oh this is how you get ahead these are the values you hold to get ahead this is 0:5:7 the operating system that you move from to get ahead and then he embodying them move forward and of course over time that stands in for what being a progressive means because those are the people who are progressives not of not they're not all sociopaths and unnecessary maniacs like obama they have souls but they also have false consciousness and so they adhere to him because they have like an emotional connection that is not substantiated by like his real con his real position in the in the in the global uh exploito sphere but him at the center he's fine because he knows real power is always elsewhere he is happy to just circulate amongst power like a ghost i've trump has talked i've talked about how trump acts like he's watching himself be president and he isn't president same thing with obama he just didn't do it publicly he did it through like this uh this this literary style trump does it 140 characters at a time tr obama does it with these ***** 700 page door stops it's it's 0:6:8 just because he's trying to impress someone he's trying to ***** impress someone and that is the essence of the democratic ideology as it exists that suffuses everyone who went to college and came out with a political idea whatever it is not everyone holds it the same not everyone is obama for god's sakes and there are people of good will a part of that hell i'm part of it so you can't be completely tainted if you are then stop listening to me completely and sure maybe you think that's okay it's fine but let me just try to express this for the love so their values are obama embodied

by obama's life and now by the politics that he created in in the in the in the the void of the two post 2008 uh crisis when we vaporize the economy again and had to refund it and we've created just this quantum economy of pure cash injection of 0:7:9 pure liquidity adhering to formations of capital that already exist in order essentially to to just exchange for its own sake to pass briefcases back and forth at the end of the global production line that's what they're there for the president doesn't have anything to do with that so it becomes how do you approach the presidency just as for us held hostage in this machine we don't feel like we can do anything about how do we come to terms with this world and for obama it is by you know being the most he that he can be like we all are trying to do and that's how and that was his presidency is it created this identity that was creating its antithesis in the non-college uh i wouldn't say not college educated because a lot of them are college educated not college housebroken people the people who the majority of them certainly in 2016 less so in 2020 but in 2016 his base was people who went to college were in that 0:8:10 middle strata but instead of absorbing college like obama did rejecting it at some level not completely not completely like all these republicans who voted against trump this time they adhere to the stuff at the base about the norm's meaning stuff and democracy being a real thing and that one man would vote like they do believe that stuff they just step they stop believing once you get higher than that to like well racism is real and there's responsibility and you know rawlsy and no things are the way they are there's nothing you can really do about it trying to change things only makes them worse you just have to try to succeed within that rubric and that's the undergirding logic of the whole thing and that's what you learn but then if you're if you're a liberal if you have a certain sensibility you learn on top of that well that can't change but we can make things more equitable against race and against uh racial oppression and against gender oppression and against class oppression which is another form of oppression and they get that gets you to liberalism that's a bunch that's like a tower babel that ends with obama's head on the top now trumpism 0:9:11 emerging out of just like the the cultural uh you know organization opposed to the thesis that obama presented in the in the collapse of the bush administration and the collapse of the economy in 2008 obama arose as this new thesis in american politics and liberals and democrats and and socialists because how many people who were of age at the time who are now socialists who hate obama weren't in favor of voting for him at the time when he appeared i was for bungler i didn't see through his lies i wasn't i was not a child either i was a there are a lot of people who would be like how did you get suckered by obama it's like well you had to be there because you had to be there you had to have absorbed like the psychic reality uh so yeah i was an old bungler we all thought there was something there because what else was

there there was no working-class response working-class had been demobilized from a social point of view and the working class was scattered to the winds it could not go here in a moment of crisis all that cohered was think it could be expressed in culture and that means college kids created this guy obama out of the sand like a gin and then he captured this whole demographic slice and then over the course four years he created an antithesis this new this this thing that started among the people who went through the machine and said okay yeah yeah yeah liberal democracy whatever uh uh whatever keeps the money flowing but no ***** the rest of that stuff and ***** your feelings and they organized around trump and that created a eventual disdain for all the institutions that the the uh that the the college uh absorbs including the ones that are actually important structurally but over time because it's all just it's all just a performance remember this is politics as theater and by 2016 uh just like obama emerged almost out of nowhere to to to smite hillary and against long odds trump did likewise to embody this new end to business which takes all the values that you learn past the basic stuff about this is how the money works capitalism is bedrock capitalism is immovable the stuff that's on top of that that's negotiable because that's the stuff you need to get a job and prosper which is why people actually go to college as aggregates and not completely i mean if you talk why people go to college the motivator is money that's the through line of everyone who goes all the other stuff is built on top of that and is in fact college kind of advertising itself to people it's not just about money it's about this other stuff too that's like saying you got new features and so a college-educated uh republican reactionary still wants to make that money still is absorbed that much but the rest of this even though it might be like the way that you negotiate changing demographic realities and the way that capitalism atomizes social bonds and has to replace them with just more market which means you have to give up prejudices of all social kinds you'd have to give them up in exchange for money or market participation market replacing life market market decisions replacing individual decisions turning you into just a circuit and uh what you see i think with biden getting the nomination biden got the nomination sort of this i mean people talk about i've talked about how trump is like louis iii uh napoleon louis napoleon i'm sorry talk about how trump is like napoleon iii and like you know he's this comic opera uh presence who just bundles into history because of the inability of like the ruling class to create a politics that can facilitate their disagreements but it's really biden because what happens with biden is you see in the political sphere this coalition of people some of them class conscious in the sense that they are aware that there's capitalism and they like it that way the upper middle class the strike the successful strivers and then at the bottom end the people who think no ***** that stuff too we do need a revolution but are still operating

from a lot of the other assumptions that they got in college that dilute their ability to organize effectively and make them kind of hostage to the democratic party uh the people who would say when bernie sanders shows up adhere to him and then what the what the what the uh what the uh 20 2020 primary was was a civil war basically uh within this emergent you know young diverse college educated demo the one that put obama in power and then kind of lost interest especially and didn't really show up for hillary uh and there was a split you had among the successful successful which is like people under the age of 45 who have their own home it's pete 0:14:24 or uh maybe klobuchar uh or cory booker or something that's not a base you're not gonna win with that then you had but you could get a good you know but then so basically the rest of it is renters under 45 and then bernie and warren kind of split them along how are you doing otherwise are you renting but you have a decent gig are you renting but you feel like you're participating in the creative economy in a way that is remunerative to you both spiritually and economically are you secure in a way and you sense security and do you want to maintain security then you were ***** wore it if you went through that whole rigmarole but found yourself uh in a declension in a social declension or uh which is this and and like even uh treading water is going downward with debt um and they went for they went for uh bernie but all the time the rest of the of the voters the non-college they're just sitting here once 0:15:27 the first round went and it was clear that all of the weller off we're not going to be able to stave off the lower off they uh freaking panicked but what saved them is those early results in south carolina that said this other hunk is all for biden because it has nothing to do with this whole argument you guys are having all the argument bernie versus warren on progressivism racism and like how do we like uh uh reparations and medicare for all even even like those things they are all framed as i think outside of the college bubble as just more politics talk uh all of these things are um they're just passing through like gamma radiation and the only thing that's left is this guy who was there when obama was in and so why wouldn't you go with that you could 0:16:28 get rid of trump why wouldn't you want to because all this stuff that's happening is mostly delusional it's tapping around the fact that the democratic party cannot be moved and i will say that among those people i think the bernie people if things have gone differently could have maybe assembled a coalition to push over the coke machine but as it was if you don't think bernie can win and you're and you're not in that if you're observing that civil war there's nothing to make you go in for him and not go for the safe hand which is what they did and as soon as that happened you saw the big flight first happened in south carolina the the richest the night the wellest off olds the ones who are class the most class conscious because they they live class they're for biden of course they are and they see bernie as a uh and a lot of them are republicans they don't even vote democrat that's how conservative 0:17:29 they are they see bernie might win what's the safe hand to stop that it's biden and everybody played the safe hand at once and then once that happened it snapped the snap it broke the fantasy it broke the fantasy politics that were pervading within the bubble that i was part of i was in the fantasy i was ensorced it broke that i was like oh ***** this race isn't what we thought it was at all these coalitions aren't what they we but bernie was basically ***** at that point everybody else the question was how are they going to make a deal everybody had a price and we'll see how well they negotiated like i think if if mayor pete only gets like veterans affairs i think he didn't do a very good job i think he had a stronger hand than that and maybe he's just getting cocky because he's so young he thinks he can just like go just like start i don't know i think he's ***** up or he's uh he's dumber than everyone than he thinks he is which obviously i highly entertain that notion uh you know i don't we'll see what the club will get because she doesn't seem like a very negotiation she's 0:18:30 like one of those classic people the reason she beats up her underlings is because she kisses ass everyone who's uh more powerful than her like that's why they do that because they have to express their frustration somewhere but they're cowardly kiss asses literally so she's going to take what they give her and she probably already did and warren of course is either a sucker or uh or a a chump no that's a guess the same thing i mean just she's either cynical and just got outplayed or she's uh she's totally uh earnest and is just a and then that that that like it's like they called a truce and then they subsumed under biden the same way that the fractious bourgeois uh after the 48 revolution in france were eventually subsumed by the figure of moving napoleon iii because they couldn't ***** otherwise agree ***** early honest and legitimists and the ***** uh born-up artists he was the one who was able to just 0:19:32 cut the ***** and oh and the constitutional republicans and the radicals and the socialists absorbed it like the ***** plot uh and that and of course you might say well this is this proves that like you know these people these are all the work these are uh the new ruling class no these are not real class categories these are essentially uh these are skins you put on in the virtual reality battle drone of politics they are your team jerseys when you go play uh like paintball that's what they are and then you go and vote and those votes are cast and those are real elections that have real consequences but all the real consequences are not discussed the ornamental stuff is what we actually respond to like ***** pavlova's dogs because it's all the only voice we can hear and so now you've got this democratic coalition the future of the democratic party unable to resolve its own contradictions because bernie because 0:20:33 ***** bernie's because of how bad things are basically could not be absorbed could not absorb bernie like a ***** uh like uh like a piece of grit in a ***** oyster that turns into a pearl or whatever it was there was some pearls in there damn it damn it and that means that and this must be stressed there is a reverse of this politics occurring in the republican party at the exact same time because there's a lot of these college-educated republicans who come out and they still think that they are pursuing some version of the good that isn't being a pro profit maximizing goblin that is not being an instrument of capitalism they have a sense that they are being alienated they have that same combination of material pain and guilt that has to be put somewhere that is inculcated by the college experience and they have to express it somewhere and they find enemies and they want to fight them and as conditions get worse the enemies are harder and harder to mistake it is the leviathan of capitalism that's why we see this acceleration of anti-semitism because you've got to find an alternative explanation because you're on the right remember you still say that the hierarchy is right and i belong believe in my position in it and i will defend it that's you're still observing that so everything else flows from that and so you have to get into more and more like contortions to imagine that you're like defending like real culture against an encroaching global homo like uh united nation ***** like this is any different than the ***** john birch society it's the exact same but you have to do that to find purchase to find a reason to care about this stuff because you know everything good even at your point in the ***** hierarchy is going away because you probably are a renter too and if you're not you know your kids are and you're aware of precarity except at the very top where you're just making the bet of oh yeah the people and man the people i see talking about how like donald trump was a anti-war president you respond to that you say he's bombed the hell out of everybody he escalated bombs over everybody he's done more drone strikes in uh one term than obama and bush did and their response is yeah but what what have hillary done or what do you think biden's gonna do in this moment that is indistinguishable from a liberal defending obama's drone policy because what would have mccain done the exact same ideological conditioning tool and it operates in the same way which means all that all that righteous like socially generated right-wing populist energy that people like to jack themselves off exist like this sleeping leviathan of white working class solidarity when it gets expressed politically it gets expressed as this stupid uh petty ***** uh uh fighting about who to blame for what's wrong and it'll never get to capitalism because it is entertainment because everybody involved has made the decision that even though they do believe they say they believe in things they say they have ideology and they say they're trying to fight for a better future remember right wingers think this too they just have a different idea of what it's all a farago people will choose continuing to pleasure themselves through observing and participating in the social media spectacle of politics as consumer and creator then do anything that sacrifices their personal pleasure and i include myself and that is why anything that's going to come and break up this horrifying stalemate this awful political situation where we have detached politics from the material completely and absorbed it like we've absorbed the internet as a replacement for real life a real activity uh is going to come from outside of it and i've obviously very you know fastly you could say that means log off and it's like yes duh replace time online with time doing almost anything else i can imagine just pure that's clean your room level basic but it's ***** i can't think of any other word for it that is time online is inherently alienated and you have to get that back you have to get that that that experience of being a place because you want to not because it's it's it's uh it's it's a distraction from something that's because it's palliative doing something because you want to be doing it and it's never being online and then it's going to be people infusing their relationships with in a way that makes it so that they can't get the pleasure they used to get out of this because they feel too much what's going on because our own pain can always be perspective because we can put it in perspective of what we could lose even if things get worse for us at every point of the ladder even if we're exploited more or alienated more and remember the rich are alienated more too in the spiritual sense it's just that they express their alienation solely through sadism and ostentatious spectacles of waste because that's all they have they they have all the guilt they have none of the pain so they have to channel it somewhere else it's the people in the middle who are and the only way to break out of that is to detach your libidinal package of desires which are mostly created by capitalism like as in root and branch like your pituitary development is like wrapped around a spectacle a capitalist spectacle like you've turned into a cro you're turned into a cronenberg creature before you're even you even get hair on your balls and then you're you and then that to you is the sum total of good like we extrapolate all of our abstract ideas about what the best is what what what's good what's bad what love is what does that even mean we get them from our own experience of what those things mean and they are alienated even from ourselves and only by unalienating time can we unalienate our relationships and i'm not saying completely i'm saying into a degree that can allow us to be where we want to be with who we want to be with and when you are where you want to be and you are with people who want to be with you that's where the magic happens baby for real baby i know i'm sounding like jim jones right now but i think that that's true but of course the thing that makes me not jim jones is i don't say the answer to this is follow me to guyana the answer to this is to be continued like that is the end like one of the things i've been trying to drive at one of the things that's made me hesitate to like write stuff down is i've had a hard time sort of getting to a conclusion that felt meaningful that felt like it wasn't just passing the buck and i feel like just that notion of you know importing impor imparting the idea of like what is built in social spaces which includes people's uh places of work by definition because that is the engine of their alienation whether 0:28:49 they have a and of course the brutal horror of this is as someone has pointed out is we're all ***** stuck inside a pandemic we can't even be able their ***** family members this is a nightmare and yeah it's terrible this is as bad as it gets in terms of just having all of the social forces like ***** dominoes just pushing and so it really is it's it's boats against the ***** current but you gotta you got to do it anyway it sucks there's no alternative is the thing we can't the thing that like brought me to the point of feeling like i needed to just like rebuild my mental engine is just the recognition that i cannot think myself out of this in any way in any way that will be satisfying to me spiritually and if i can't then i have to find some other place because 0:29:50 that's where i'm being like that is the engine driving me towards peace and i need to instead of ignoring it i need to engage with it and and the pseudo spectacle of politics allows you to ignore it allows you to find a pleasure principle closer to you than any abstract notion of a greater good that you're operating off of because there will be no emotion behind it it will be dry it will it will be some sort of uh symbolic logic and that will never transcend your lived feeling and your desire for pleasure and your iron and salt debates oh that's intriguing i don't think i've heard of that is this having oh yes i don't really know anything about ancient china i should though 0:30:52 i mean if they're the past half of the chat is trolling the other half that doesn't seem like healthy behavior but it's okay this isn't either me doing this isn't healthy behavior none of it's i don't want to read heidegger that sounds boring i feel like i just kind of get the gist of it isn't that true with all those philosophical concepts you kind of just get the gist of them in terms of like your day-to-day reasoning you read the books i've read some of these books man i folks have read the books the like the texture of the argument doesn't hold you beyond the reading of it you end up just with like these placeholders unless you're gonna every time you're engaged with the issue stop and re-read it you're not gonna do that so what you're really operating off of is the echo everyone's operated off of just this like echo located uh 0:31:53 uh socially distorted version of a thing the impact of a piece of reading a piece of work on us is a degree to which having read it changes us in our daily behaviors and patterns and outlook in a repeatable way in a self-reinforcing positive as an engine as an engine of of of presence of mindfulness as awful as that word is as and as cheapened by capitalism as it has become as all concepts are like the thing is is all the ideas we talk all the words we say you know like when we talk about religion and politics we talk about values we talk about things like socialism or christianity these things only have mean these as these things have a symbolic meaning and they have an emotional meaning and the more socially attenuated your existence is the 0:32:58 less your the meaning of like the symbols you use is grounded in an experiential an experiential communion with other people the more they are merely symbolically or logically convincing which means that when you get into a conflict between resolving a question towards answering it or resolving a quest and therefore having to maybe do something you don't want to do and just keep having it because that's more fun even and is filling up the same psychic slot in your head towards political action and political activism and political self-fulfillment you're gonna pick that and that includes me that's why i made a ***** podcast because it was easier and it was more fun it will always be more fun and easy to post and the sacrifice has to be has to come not from a logical proposition that you pose yourself it has to come from a place of dare i say it love where the love is transcendent of your individual sense of consciousness where your ego has been reduced in your calculation of value 0:34:0 that's the john brown spirit i'm talking about where you are it was not the violence that he carried out that mattered really that was a tactic what mattered was that he was willing to sacrifice himself with actual efficacy in a way that others weren't like um i've said this before but john brown was the synthesis of the two strains of anti-slavery uh politics that emerged in the antebellum american north you had abolitionism middle-class phenomenon centered in cities like boston of doily bored rich people who saw slavery as a moral horror which boiled down to boiled down to because they're still participating in the system and they don't really challenge its ability in any meaningful way because they don't operate from any awareness that or desire to to abolish class anyway uh that boils down to impolite impoliteness it's 0:35:1 a moral horror but but it's because it's it's gross i'm not saying the people these people weren't good i'm not saying that they didn't operate out of pure hearts but like their pure hearts were wrapped around a definition of good of morality that was desacralized by the experience of being a middle-class urban urbanite and it was replaced with this abhorrence in manners now in the sa in the in the butternut north and in the urban tenements of the of the irish mostly irish urban rabble there was and although less with them because they were clients of the democratic party the the non-uh irish urban workers the non-catholics the non-tammanyized ones uh who were like there were plenty of mechanics who were who were anti-slavery who were free soil and then of course the almost the whole of the omen ray across the whole northern tier were eventually as the issue became more prominent more committed 0:36:3 to anti-slavery because they saw it as a material a material threat to their way of life a competition a labor competition in which they were at a disadvantage and which would lead them or their children to end up in a situation where they would of course have to either be master of slave and being a small holder with no capital likely to become a ***** slave and what this meant was that these two movements they had different approaches to the question of opposing slavery uh the abolitionists had a general theory of moral suasion like that was the garrisonian school proselytize the awfulness of slavery and eventually people will realize how horrible it is because of the power of our oratory and it will make them stop doing it and of course they thought that and they thought it deeply but what was underneath even their understanding 0:37:5 is that the real reason they didn't they thought that is because they didn't want to get their hands dirty they lived nice lives they did not feel precarious they did not feel threatened by slavery they did not feel the daily pain of alienation of being a ***** backbreaking yeoman trying to you know uh like pay off a mortgage to some ***** uh bank they had real problems to worry about so the abstract pain of somebody else wasn't any more real to them than it was to the and so their anti-slavery was basically just vote wig and then over time vote republican like vote for you so just like i don't yeah yeah yeah i'm not going to do that but if there's a choice more slavery less slavery i'm going to vote less slavery let me know what else what happens then of course this the south says oh yeah no we're going to get rid of the union they're like oh i guess we got to throw hands and out of that out of the war anti-slavery sentiment became real because the bloodshed and the experience of it actually made 0:38:6 it real but before that it wasn't there what consecrated that ***** what catalyzed that opposition to slavery which was attenuated because it was divided in a way that the southern pro-slavery aristocracy was completely undivided was john brown fusing the real pain i mean this guy was miserable he was he he made attempts at being a a a speculator like a lot of people did in the ohio uh the the um the ohio river valley i believe or the the western reserve uh and he speculated on land but he uh was ruined by the 1836 panic thank you martin van buren martin van ruin more like it and he uh was broke the rest of his life he was constantly hounded by debtors hounded by debtors he was in court all the time he went to ***** england on a cockamamie scam to manipulate the wool market and ended up eating ***** and owing everybody money he was mis he was always uh on someone else's tender hook 0:39:7 he was this close to thing even though he like had his own property and he had farms that he worked either like gifted to him by garrett smith or owned outright before they were taken from him he was working for other people even in that capacity and he was always tenuous but his uh and so he had the rough manner and and the willingness to take questions to the extremity posed by his own suffering he also lost he lost 11 of his 20 children i believe in childhood or or dying before him including a number of them who were killed in his war against slavery either with him at harpers ferry beforehand in kansas fred for example he was it was like real human like real experience consecrated his pain is and he's expressed it towards an institution that was offensive to the human spirit at a level that only he really could sense because 0:40:8 of the wealth of his the depth of his pain and his connection of that pain to the pain of others that spiritualized understanding that the swells in boston said they had mouths but for most part at the end of the day didn't really believe because remember these guys weren't really christians for the most part they were unitarians by this point they were all like emersonian transcendentalists they were their their faith was weak tea they did believe in the brotherhood of man but they were ideas as they are to us now like these are our predecessors uh and uh like this is the favorite class this is the buffeted costed favored like middle strata class that's like born born up through uh the tides of history until now at which point the but on like on the bedrock was theirs they're wanting to preserve their comfortable position brown had no comfortable position so his moral horror at slavery was and his religious horror 0:41:9 slavery was a live wire it was grounded to a well of real pain that was connected to him and his family and his the people he loved the most and that drove him to break a stalemate that was always being settled on the side of slavery because the slavers wanted it more they were on the precipice of winning the the kansas battle because they wanted it more because they had a unified working class that as whole and a social order that did away with any of the niceties surrounding this is an issue either by because it's there is no uh social opposition to it at least in wherever plantar economies were hegemonic they were hegemonic in the creation of the entire social order around them and the alienation of the small heart holder uh of the south the white smallholder of the south was as ideologically uh ensnared as it was in the north just towards the planter position and there was no real opposition like uni uh like 0:42:11 southern unionism didn't even really like cohere until very late in the sectional crisis because it didn't seem like it was really going to happen until that point and john brown was the one one northerner who was willing to put the ***** bet down and say i am willing to sacrifice this this might not work because the reason the north kept backing down is because the only way to win was to risk and why risk because nobody's really that concerned like even the nor nor they're not opposition to slavery in in like you know the the non-middle-class spear was um was firming up but you know you could also let things go john brown wasn't going to let anything go and the violence all flowed from that and you can question the tactical necessity of it but you cannot question the morality it's more moral than anything any of us and i think 0:43:14 even tactically you got to say it worked you know they hang him in 1859 within two years the guy who sentenced him to hang was in a federal jail after having been uh taken off the uh css trent trying to go to negotiate with the world can turn upside down but you're not going to live to see it and or in realistic terms because we're not in that moment we're not in that apocalyptic moment we're at the very basic

CUSHVLOG 114. WIDENING GYRO

level of like building even you know like the the rudiments of a social consciousness to to operate out of uh so there's no need for that kind of thing there it does know need to be a willingness to sacrifice in terms of just letting go of some possibility for personal selfish pleasure which is always going to be more and i'm i'm as implicated by this as anyone and i hope that i can find a place to put that energy and feel like i'm doing something with it but yeah i mean i'm certainly not blaming anybody 0:44:15 for not doing it and certainly not now when we are literally all being told to unless you're being compelled by the market to run around like a ***** uh gerbil and a habitrail delivering things to people or risking your life staffing grocery stores and stuff you got to stay home so nobody has any position to do anything other than just be compelled either to ignore things by distracting oneself or just being distracted by the brutal reality of having to you know work 15-hour shifts or whatever the ***** um and the degree to which we can distract ourselves is the degree of which we're not going to feel that enough to push out of ourselves and that's why logging off is the first and most important step all comes back to this as banal as it is it's like the hope is that with each circuit like you intensify the feeling around the thought so that that when you think it you think it more powerfully than you thought it before you're amplifying you're like charging it with psychic energy you're you're 0:45:18 you're in sorcering it you're giving the word or the phrase an actual like psychic energy and that happens through repeated like reaffirmations of the truth of it and the necessity for it that's what i think i'm doing with these i hope it's having some echoing effect on those who listen but i don't know obviously all of my reasonings related to my life are filtered through the same thing and as much as i say that i'm trying to build a sense of love that goes beyond myself i am certainly not there i certainly struggle with the desire to just listen to the fully structured i mean i went a long time operating on autopilot that way and so i'm still i'm bucking a lot of programming and so all my reasoning this way might very well be like and yeah yeah yeah but you know what right now you really can't do anything but i gotta say right now i really don't know what i can do like as in there's a virus going but one of 0:46:19 these days this thing's gonna stop and i hope that the people we have used this time wisely is i guess what i would say is that we have used this time if we have it and a lot of people don't and that's terrible but if you have it use it wisely whatever that means cannot be prescribed because at that point you're just operating off of some flimsy rickety ***** ideological construct that's really just designed to like improve your take position in the clautosphere it's not placed on anything more than but if anybody i mean i have not used my time i've used my time better than i could have in the worst case i certainly know it hasn't been as good but that's okay it's finding it's just knowing that you're trying it's knowing what you're trying it's just not letting

it run on autopilot because that's the danger it just sucks time away from you and 0:47:20 that time doesn't just go away that time is alienated and that time that alienation has to be recouped somewhere that pain has to be vented somewhere and the more you're there the more you're going to want to stay there to keep venting it because that's the only other way you can do it and if you are working use the time at work wisely once again what that means you're there i'm not there i couldn't ***** tell you why would i propose my god what a presumptuous ***** i would have to be to make any presumption just wisely just being aware mindful yes that'll be 5.99 get it on a ***** mug i know this is all commodified ***** pabulum i know then this is david foster wallace style uh uh faux self-deprecation as a rhetorical turn yes what about it because the standpoint at the end of the day cannot be attained anyone 0:48:21 interacting with any text cannot attain the standpoint of the person who present through who expressed it which means they'll never be able to weigh their heart against a feather so yeah it's a it's a very tough place to find yourself at any end of this it's very alienating i mean it's literally alienating it's accelerating alienation it's because i really do feel like every like not just talk about labor i feel like every hour spent online as a concept like when i say online i mean social media i mean uh not all cases of gaming or uh or uh watching films but most of them definitely none of this is 0:49:22 sin none of this is evil but that amount of time that can be defended to it is so elastic there's so much stretch in those ***** genes that if you just let it go long enough you will find yourself lost and i have i've been lost doing that basically my whole life and i agree i look back and i'm like man so many places i made mistakes so maybe where could i have been if i'd done x y or z differently but the thing that i remind myself is that i'm only here because all that happened and i have no idea what the ***** would have occurred what kind of catastrophes could have intervened how i would have responded to the stochastic terror of life and all that time is alienated and it it makes us unhappy because it's not what we want to be doing and like i'm saying 0:50:24 that's alienation is at the base you're not doing what you want to be doing and of course what is want but we're i think that want is so deformed that even doing what you think you want to be doing is not doing what you want to be doing if that makes sense and i think come on that makes sense right because what you want to be doing is just programming it's just the options presented to you here's the one you want it's like when they gave the uh they gave the different magazine covers to eric trump and he got to pick one that's what his job at the trump news magazine and they go and we really like this one and they put it towards him he goes that's the one and then that is what we want i was like yeah we want it we want it no one's i'm not going to deny anybody's lived experience but we want it as consolation we want it as soporific we want it as balm for an underlying injury which is unaddressed and

going unaddressed continues to suffer separate and ***** weep pus and that has to be expressed somewhere and one way it can be is to turn all of those bad feelings into into spectaclized amusement and in politics this is where it all comes together in politics the inflictment of pain the vicarious infliction of pain on others people that are responsible for why things are bad things are bad they cannot be changed because we cannot change them because we cannot operate out of anything other than self-interest we are the homo economicus that the ***** chicago boys made us we cannot break this programming and as such we are doomed whose fault is this and the trump people say it's these ***** jews in your ***** fancy talk all the guys making us feel bad about just being uh kings about making that money all you just nagging little ***** chirpers chirpy chirping your fault you got you threw off our ***** aim we were vibing and you ***** it up and of course the democratic the broad democratic response is no it's race it's you racist misogynist male white male demons you yacubian monsters you are the ones who poisoned the ***** uh garden not eve and so we will array our politics around using this machinery of state that is dishing out the misery of neoliberalism at an accelerating rate is going to try to direct it towards our enemies that will be the sum of politics until it is interrupted from below and from without and from within as people like opt out and burst away i have not read corey robin's book on clarence thomas i have to say i am a big fan of corey robbins just want us because someone mentioned him uh i think one of the very few legacy left establishment media people who understood the trump uh era at all they just people seem to just like people who have a real grasp of every moment until that just like his his election short circuit their brain rick pearlstein is an example of this his books are great reagan lands fantastic he ***** put in oh you know what he did he got that greg gumbo he got that culture or he got that culture over there oh you know that culture is good oh yeah he got that list of all that my book of the month club main selections there oh you're gonna slap your mama that's some good stuff right there oh what's that oh yeah put that over here he's got them politics oh yeah you got that nixon in there you got that reagan oh yeah you got that those guys at those conventions causing all that ruckus oh that's good but what's this he gonna bring some political economy in there oh my god this stew is off the chain slap your mama but he just like even though he wrote stuff like reading up to trump about like yeah this is this thing's a whole giant marketing level marketing scheme and it's a bunch of people ripping each other off and that's the whole core of it trump shows up and it's just like he fritzed out like he was fretting about like how we were going to have war in the streets on election day it's like do you not get that this whole thing is transactional this thing is too transactional to allow for an ideological contest these guys are all just selling each other time shares you just can't apply it because he was too enthralled to the drama of the norm breaking he was too invested with the norms corey robbins seems like he was like yeah no i get this because like obviously uh uh the reactionary mind is on point i think largely there's stuff you might quibble with but i think his generals his general turn is very accurate and then his his diagnosis of trump uh has been very good and like his main emphasis has been that like trump as policymaker is basically powerless and was the entire presidency and that was always true and if his policymaker is powerless then 0:55:32 all the questions about him being a fascist and his agenda are essentially ornamental because even if he was he couldn't do anything about it and that i think that like first principle for him i think it allowed him to not get carried away with a lot of nonsense that got other people carried away because they didn't have that grounding of yeah no these guys are these guys are all ***** scout and his whole thing about like seeing trump as a disjunctive president the way that like carter was uh and predicting very early on that he wouldn't get reelected uh that i think sort of fell apart towards the end of the term with the covet and everything and biden getting the nomination i think that like a lot of that was predicated on the assumption that bernie would have emerged as like a counter as like an as a reagan style antithesis like a new nemesis to the current system like a nemesis to to like the degraded conservative uh 0:56:36 decadent conservative uh ruling class but then that didn't emerge and we got biden instead uh and so i think that the grounds the grounds are febrile now for something something more sulfurous than that to emerge but it's not here yet and i appreciate that he doesn't go crazy uh trying to ring the damn bell all the time just because everyone's got a goddamn uh soccer on their neck and they're jacking off to this stuff there's an auto erratic quality to all speculations of purges and coups happening and then stealing the election because if they stole the election that means that because you say what's going to stop him okay take that logic seriously why are you scared why are you worried what are you fretting about you literally are describing a fan accompli to the point of metaphysical certainty so what are you actually scared of i would submit that you are not really scared of anything you're scared the way that somebody in a movie theater is scared watching the blair that is what i would say 0:57:45 and of course people get mad at you because they'll say that you're denying their lived experience and that is one of the mystifying horrors of this current moment this cultural turn this this like autoimmune system kick in as capitalism gets more and more extractive and and the superstructure has to find new away your lived experience doesn't really mean anything because it is not yours you're a constitutive of an entire matrix of ideological formation that tear apart your very idea of even imagining yourself a unified being that can express a desire or have a point of view only through them the accumulation of these things at the at the at the population

CUSHVLOG 114. WIDENING GYRO

level can there be grasped any sort of uh intelligible pattern you filter out the *****
and that is what comes from mass organizing which you know that's easy to say 0:58:46 but it's still the only thing we're going to get and a lot of people say our a lot of arguments online really boil down to like how do we get that mass movement that's like yeah you can't plan your way there because these mechanisms are broken but if it emerges like i said that's we are all in fact contradictions that are resolving ourselves and that's why you're never sitting still and all that time online is not just you're it's like it's like you're doing a ***** you're solving a bitcoin you're you're mining bitcoin in there you're you're mining like social bitcoin you're getting your you're getting your little fragment of clout that you can exchange i'm doing it too and i'm doing better i'm one of the winklevosses of the social bitcoin cloud but meanwhile your ***** computer is heating your room and filling the atmosphere with ***** uh toxic goddamn gas you're literally cooking the earth to solve sudoku's or hang out in the ***** waiting room which is what we're doing we're hanging around in the 0:59:47 waiting room of western civilization yes corey robin i like him indeed i would like to read the songs book because i think clarence thomas does make sense like people think clarence people have a very hard time analyzing him and i think that robin's from what i've read some articles uh in excerpts i i broadly get him is saying like clarence thomas is a black nationalist clarence thomas is operating off of coherent political objectives and theories that arise from an acceptance of a racial pessimism and acceptance that there can be no uh non-uh multi-racial democracy he believes 1:0:48 that he believes like afro-pessimism but he also believes a lot of other stuff and built up together it turns into his political ideology his uh his political ideology expressed through his to uh his uh his judicial but yeah i realize i'm just howard beale now yelling turn it off right before the commercial break and they bring out uh josie the ***** psychic and we do vox populi and then i get murdered by uh by epic maoist zoomers i mean we could literally just do a remake with my life if that's how it ends 1:1:50 but honestly anything that does end it would probably be like similarly yeah like the thing about that that network ***** is that you got to take it all the way and if you take it all the way all the way to like no all of this is entertainment like everything that doesn't directly everything that doesn't directly connect to you your sustenance is a person your your tearing from the earth's bounty your ability to sustain yourself and your family members everything that isn't that in this social order at the end point of the conveyor belt of the global economy the big open mouth at the end of the thing homer simpson eating the ***** uh uh hot uh eating the ***** donuts 1:2:52 in hell that means it's all just pleasure because we have a baseline uh uh protect protection from the worst of full immiseration and you say yeah but like there are so many people in this country who that's not true of correct but they aren't part of the we they're not part of our body politic in the way that we conceive of it they're not participating in it because they have been let go because the way we normalize is by when horror happens we localize we cut it off and we just create a new class of people who are no longer within the continuum of our moral consideration not at the same level even if we feel for them we feel for them at an abstraction and a distance that we don't feel for people who are closer to us and that's because the more we feel their pain the more we can't distract ourselves so we have to damp it we're not doing 1:3:55 it on purpose it's our spiritual sense our antenna are dampened out of self-protection because if we didn't if we could feel it if we could feel the real declination of people just the people around you in a city the people around you in a town the people that make up the country that you live in the people who make up the world you live in you would not be able to indulge in the compensatory spectacle observation and engagement that we are okay i feel like this was a breakthrough i feel like this was a good one i got real real down low here got to the gritty i realize though a lot of people are going to say you sound crazy i realize that now i know people tell me don't worry about it but i'll today right now i'm not worried about it i know you got to do this sometimes you've got to find the extension of your ability to express things in symbols and other people's ability to figure out what you mean like you 1:4:57 need to know if you're translatable if you're operating at a level of translation and if you're not you got to slow down and so i i welcome the feedback certainly hmm driving that train i don't contain casey jones you better watch your speed trouble ahead trouble behind and you know that notion just caused my mind i've replaced the cord here to try to get a better sound if it's muffled at all say the word i have the mic right here i can switch but i think last time it wasn't connecting like 0:1:2 it wasn't plugged in really this time i think it is it's muffled all right never mind this this time i have all the necessary equipment at my disposal there we go there we go now you can hears me you guys can hears me can't you can you hear me now verizon or is it t-mobile who knows that guy's a ***** mercenary he'll ***** advertise for anybody how can you believe in anything when that ***** will just jump ship at the no wonder people don't believe in anything in this ***** country see a guy come on tv as a trusted symbol of of cellular uh telephonic clarity and bargain and he tells you this is the bone to get and then a couple years later yeah no it's actually these 0:2:5 guys how am i actually supposed to know who has the superior cell phone clarity and coverage if you guys are just saying this because people are paying you i mean what the ***** man honestly i feel oh man you know i was feeling kind of a little uh spooked up you know feeling not too good about things in general i mean i feel fine personally but but i was able to ground myself by remembering hey i can always hold people accountable and man it really did help holding people accountable all day it's fantastic just get the point of people to say accountable now i didn't say accountable for what so this still technically isn't politics that's not politics i want to hold the t-mobile guy accountable for switching i want to hold uh whoever the first guy to figure out that you could make a ***** cgi blood gust instead of a squib 0:3:7 and save x number of dollars that but yeah it's a lot of fun it's a lot of fun to uh to hold people accountable and it's free it's free either it could cost you nothing you don't and that it requires no effort it's like white diagony said when he was uh he talked about masturbating and he said wood that were so simple to soothe your hunger by rubbing your belly it's like you get to take all of your sense of outrage or anger or powerlessness and convert it into accountability who wouldn't take that 0:4:8 deal we wouldn't take that deal who wouldn't be uh who wouldn't be uh sucked

off by that i have to say the mississippi state flag is a good one they jumped up in the tears from very bottom tier to top tier flag best flags this is now one of the better ones but new mexico is really good the symbol um uh uh what are the other good ones i really like new mexico that one always stands out but there's a couple i'm forgetting about uh texas i mean you got to give it to him just for simplicity and starkness um flags are not politics flags are aesthetics we're talking purely on aesthetic grounds virginia does have a murder on it which is pretty ***** metal but i don't like flags with human figures on them because humans don't pop on a flag 0:5:9 it's too much detail it's too busy you need big bold strokes and colors in my mind that's the best flag which is why new mexico is so good it's like ***** anything that looks like it could be the emblem of like a alternative history fascist movement that took over the world that's that's a good that's a good flag uh ohio can ***** off for two reasons it's actually a decent design with the big o for ohio but two problems one it's a pennant get over yourself everybody else has a ***** rectangular flag you can get a rectangular flag too who the ***** do you think you're nepal the nepalese flag is like that because it's you know those pennants are like you know traditional elements of of of nepalese buddhist practice you just want and too many stars why are there stars what are the stars doing what are the stars on there just busy and they're not even in a they're not even symmetrical or anything they're just 0:6:10 almost randomly thrown scattered and i will cop as a wisconsinite wisconsin has one of the worst flags in the country wisconsin and new york which both have the big emblems with the two figures and all the ***** on the on the ***** shield that's dog ***** huge swinging and miss there and the funny thing is is not only do they have similarly shitty flags they actually basically have the same state motto because the same out of wisconsin is forward and the state motto of new york is excelsior which is i believe forward in latin or so i will cop wisconsin bad state flag wish it was different but it is really bad wisconsin washington's yes clip art is the word for it ***** just a terrible line drawing of george washington excelsior is upwards well depending on like where you're facing upward and forward being basically the same 0:7:12 thing you're talking about progress you're talking about positivism you're talking about like the brazilian flag ordo progreso you're talking about upward or forward movement progress the worm turning towards greater prosperity and safety for all uh what yeah arizona's is good too the the the southwest flags are both good uh oh yeah that's great oh with the star and then the ***** sunburst behind it it's like ***** imperial japan but not problematic because you know arizona has not carried out any uh genocides in the greater east asia coast yeah no arizona is what you want in a flag for sure people are saying people are shouting not bad the torch 0:8:13 is pretty good the torsion and the in this case the stars make sense unlike on the

ohio flag so yeah no indiana is not bad i mean ironic since in the end is absolutely bottom tier toilet garbage state somebody's yelling for missouri this has gotta be bad those ***** hicks man think you're midwestern i do not think so okay is it two bears are there two bears are there two bears holding up an emblem okay that's kind of cool they have literal bears i believe those are two of uh alex branson's ancestors that's impressive yes missouri is the south correct i'm glad someone pointed uh this is interesting i have a little bit of data here maybe it's because i'm early uh it's either because i'm early or because i put friday vibe stream no politics in the header but i have way fewer viewers than usual alive uh and i wouldn't be surprised if it's because 0:9:15 people are like give me the politics and that's good it's good to know what my uh uh wow i did not yeah two figures holding up an emblem is boring but if the two figures are bears it's kind of charming it's almost like a flag for an alternative world where the bears took over planet of the bears that's whimsical i like it the bear is also the symbol of the city of berlin you see a lot of bear themed emblems and and no albania has a great flag anything with a ***** a a symmetrical bird too ***** headed eagle it's good uh mexico also has a good flag mexico and canada both have vastly better flags in the united states i hope this is all understood both canada you can say 0:10:16

what you want about oh it's a leaf that's kind of you know it's not viral in the way you want a nation's to be represented whatever if you're you know going to be uh heteronormative about it it's just it's it's striking and it's it's it pops the colors and the design pop and mexico what the ***** eagle and the snake great america bunch of lines not even symmetrical bunch of light like the ideal version of the american flag is the british union jack that is that concept made into something visually interesting everything else is just some version of bars like france and poland and russia and germany borrowed colors that all mean something if you're gonna mix that up the british and maybe it speaks to the difference between like how the political cultures came to be like the union jack has three three crosses on top of each other right 0:11:18

you've got the uh the saint george's cross that represents england that's the english emblem you've got the saint andrews cross on the on the blue like the red on the white for st george that's england and then the white on the blue which is for scotland although they change the color scottish people real like snp people will not not cease to point out that the blue in the union jack is not the blue in this in this in the scottish flag it's like a powder blue and then there's a royal navy blue which is of course a navy blue is very fitting for those ***** limey ship flying driving ***** and then like there is there's also a like a welsh flag in there but i don't know how it ends in there but anyway it uh it's all three on top of each other which represents like a political polity that emerged sort of organically uh as a whole the united states and the fundamental problem with the united states from a political perspective like the 0:12:20

the reason this exists the the real materialist reason is the reality of free real estate europeans creating a european polity in a world of uh almost limitless expansion that is the reality that created our absurd situation where our political polity was this weird mutual stand down between mexican standoffing states where they all relinquished the minimal amount of power and negotiated entry into this thing a system that only worked in the absence of sharpened regional or sectional uh or ideologue or party-based uh divisions and the proof of that was in the civil war that happened within 80 years of its uh adoption which should have ended the document but because we were still expanding then because we were still pushing outward we were still venting outward among other reasons but i think that's the generator of all the other ones when that war ended we left that ***** thing intact which was oh 0:13:23 what a ***** the one with uh flag the one with the wheel man is really good and so the colors in our flag are just gingerly separated like here are the 13 colonies all separate from one another and not crossing in any way and then here are the stars all one after another and it's like oh my god god damn it this should have been dissolved away by the create the fermentation of america's social base that exploded the civil war but no the necessary container for it that contained those things in european polities the first the other capitalist policy polities of this era didn't exist the hard lines like the social structural like resilient institutional realities built by the endless 0:14:24 lapping of social currents along a our conflict happened in a in a context of continual expansion a continually unfixed border and that meant that we never really had to confront the class con the class the growing and emergent and finally you know uh terminal class conflict uh when we could just buy it off like the history of america is buying off all of our social problems all of our political problems all of our economic problems that are generated by the contradictions of our society buying them off at the expense of others that's it at the first the expense of the native population 0:15:25 of this continent the expense of um imported african slave labor at the expense of indentured and then immigrant uh working class labor from the the peasant and then uh the re-encountering of like uh remaining indigenous people and integrating them through you know conquest and over time these different these different groups of people become political subjects and obtain a political stake but while doing so they are bought off with new lucr accrued through the exploitation of people other places uh in in um in our little burgeoning uh uh empire that we built in the united states uh for a while before just taking over the control of the world empire from the uk and then x and then uh like making uh fighting a war with uh communism over the resources of the post-colonial world and prevent and maintaining a position 0:16:27 where they uh were essentially confiscated from these places that they existed no recompense at all for the the and then our current crisis comes from the fact that we can't do it anymore the border is closed the myth is over as greg grandin says and that is where all of this this spiral downward we're seeing like with the president not conceding i mean this is a big deal not in terms of there's going to be a coup but a big deal just historically as a as a new normal as a new degradation of like the the political space as a as a as a like self-conscious public arena where both sides accept the basic outcome of agreed-upon structures of government and law that's a big deal 0:17:30 and what is causing this breakdown is the inability that's definitely politics and you know what you guys should hold me accountable for that please hold me accountable i did a politics i didn't know growth i did an imperialism uh i did a white fragility and i have not even begun to contemplate the multiplicity of my offenses very sorry give me another flag folks let's let's keep uh reviewing some flags uh of course before you say it mozambique everyone loves it it's got a ***** the soviet flag was really good hammer and sickle how do you beat it just in the one corner though so you've got that just field of red movie bob does not want to debate me does he no did he 0:18:33 challenge me he's he hasn't blocked me so i could check it out has he is he has called me out i would not do it i don't debate but i'm amused by it if that's true i don't i think you guys are pulling my leg i gotta say i kind of feel bad for movie bob i can't get i can't torment him too much he he did this tweet where he talked about how sad he how he felt like all of the progress he'd make in building made it building a social life over the last 10 years is all being undone by covid and he worries he's not going to be able to get it back and it hurt it hurt i ***** felt for the guy like that is a that is a thing where i recognize that he and i are basically the same guy in many ways like our backgrounds are similar or the way we encounter the world after going through college roughly similar uh with just differences of you know happenstance things that we did not control like we got sorted away from each other by by the 0:19:35 quantum just interplay of of everyone going through their you know so i made me really think like damn they're but for the grace of god uh so i don't feel like i can really i'm not gonna ever at him again or anything i mean i stopped doing that in general but this is definitely another reason i can't do it for him and of course this is true for every person like the fact is that if you think about anybody long enough if you know enough about anybody's history you will find some narrative whereby it really couldn't have been any other way it doesn't absolve anybody of personal responsibility but it should drain from you the ability to hate them but i have to say it is very difficult to practice that especially when you see people who do real evil enormous evil and they're right in your face in a way that that wasn't always 0:20:36 the case in the pre-media overload age somebody keeps asking for the isle of man that's the one with the that's the one with the ***** lovecraft like occult wickerman ass leg guy right yep what's that thing called i'm gonna look this up there's a name for that right the three legs nice triskelion we love it folks don't we love a traskelion we love it we got three legs they go down the street bye oh man the red hand of 0:21:44 ulster is uh it's appropriately metal for what has uh the history of that region of the world like if you guys are going to fight over symbols and you know historical memory and identity like that you better have some badass symbology to back it up and i gotta say red hand of ulster pulls it off irish flag on the other hand man i always was hard for me to see all these patties get all teary-eyed about you know the raw and just flying that thing like you know flying the irish flag is a defiant act uh during the troubles in england it absolutely was but it's really all the irish all the irish flag is is the italian flag if you leave it out on the pole for a month it's just green white and then faded orange instead of red and i understand yes it symbolizes the catholics the symbolizes the palestinians you see the grain of himalayas is the 0:22:47 catholics and the and the orange represents the protestants and white is of course the pace that we make between us boring get something more interesting the the harp is pretty good the harp isn't bad they should use the heart more aruba that's not bad i don't i don't like the star the star looks like it's a hood ornament uh it actually looks like the that's yeah the reuben flag looks like the door of a cop car the south african flag the new one is good the old the the south african flag is great because 0:23:52 it's it does the you know uh the challenge of just lines or colors like representative colors it goes above and beyond just lining them up and it doesn't even just do like the you know the the the the pen the internal pennant thing that you get with like puerto rico goes through us it's good but man the old apartheid one which was like a clip art deal where it was like orange and then like the british flag and stuff like all in little yeah dog ***** dog ***** look at that thing it's a little uni it's orange on the top white in the middle blue on the bottom and then in the white stripe in order is uh the little a little tiny union jack a flag and a flag and then another 0:24:53 flag that represents probably the the ***** bores or the dutch or something in the middle that's the other direction and then another flag which it's i think represents like the natives or something it's it's dog ***** milwaukee flag is really really way too australia anything with the union jack on it is cucked you're cucked get a new flag get a new head of state you ***** had your ceremonial ass governor general overthrow your elected government once already and you didn't get rid of ***** yes the red letter media guy sitting on a couch should be the milwaukee flag agreed 0:25:55 they represent the sri lanka sri lanka no this apartheid south african flag is some clip art ***** a collage of other people's flags it's like something you you it's like a flag project like design a flag for your country and you forgot to do it until the morning of class just dragging flags on a ***** uh clipart thing and putting it together uh what did someone say i forgot already ooh yes sword lion you're doing well uh it's a little busy it's gonna stay out it's not gonna be in my top top because it's a little busy but big if it is if it was yeah like if maybe the border wasn't there sorry guys 0:26:56 am i back i think i'm back right i got a phone call i don't know how you uh if there's a way to stop that but yeah if uh if i got a phone call it just knocks me off i guess yeah i can't go airplane mode can i go airplane mode do not disturb i don't really know how to do it i've never really looked at the doohickeys all right uh so give me another flag gibraltar oh i thought i made my point about the sri lankan flag clear welsh flag they used to be have a leak on there and they switched to dragon because 0:27:58 they thought it was cooler she have some ***** confidence in yourself like you know the welsh the welsh patriots who ***** fought uh edward longshanks they flew under the ***** leak the alaska flag has a big dipper on it right yeah that's not bad just a big dipper like it actually reflects something natural which i like brazil is funny it's the only flag in the country in the world national flag that has any words on it and those words are ordo o progreso or order in progress in portuguese because the people who design the brazilian flag were part of a essentially quasi-religious cult around french positivist philosopher august konkt and they believed that the the the 0:28:59 enlightenment and then the industrial revolution that came after it had created a situation where human perceptive capacity human ability to to empirically observe its world rationally would become so powerful that all human issues how problems would be solved through the application of reason that was the basic faith and it was an actual church they had churches that they were all over the place in the 19th century uh they're kind of like a fraternal lodges it was it was like it was like a nerdier less ritualistic freemasonry basically because freemasons believe kind of broadly the same thing but in occult terms like when they talk about progress you know us improving the world you know it's in these in the terms of you know like the grand work and everything but you know in practice that means applying reason to the world and solving its problems and they were very influential and especially in 0:30:0

latin america like the uh the uh scientificos who were caught like a like essentially the intellectual uh the coordinating committee for cap emerging capitalism in uh 19th century mexico under the porfiriado of diaz they were similarly positivists in that they felt like if we get the data here we can turn this country into a modern society and all of our problems which are lingering uh issues that come from colonialism and racism and everything else will be resolved and uh it had a lot of influence i think uh world war one really kind of took the window of the sales on that uh world war one was kind of a oh boy we got more technology than we've ever had we have more scientific knowledge than we've ever had and we just had the world's biggest ***** uh like pie fight at the family reunion that led to the death of ***** tens of millions 0:31:1 of people just death over whose mustache is more waxed in the greater inbred *****

puddle of european royalty but you know really it was about you know the system overheating the need for markets to be found elsewhere and uh and the need to deal with the rest of uh working class who were acquiring political power at an alarming rate in all of the countries that went to war and that kind of took the wind out of the sails of positivism but then for a while there in the 19th century it had a real goal and one of the legacies of it is the flag of brazil ordo and progreso and then you look at brazil now and you look at ***** uh bolsonaro running around getting pecked to death by emus and getting 16 types of corona and saying that we need to not be homos about it only worse than that i don't know man i don't know uh 0:32:4

think the i don't know if i agree with your police work there lou south carolina flag uh is a good flag there's an interesting factoid about the south carolina flag uh and it speaks to the history of uh of like the settlement into plantation agriculture of the south because the underlying reality the underlying thing that creating the dueling economic models in the north and south out of the american colonies was uh was geographical it was distribution of soil riches basically the northern tier thanks to weather and other things had land that could be used for agriculture but was could not be profitably utilized in the nutrient-intensive extractive economies of cash 0:33:5 crops so the model became small holding farmers who traded with cities they traded their surplus production to to urban areas in exchange for finished products in the south the existence of this rich bottomland allowed for this large-scale exploitation which required a degree of labor input that was simply not affordable on the market no one could be paid enough to do what it takes to take to uh to make that profitable you would take all the profit there would be no profit there would be no place for the guy to sit on the veranda and fan himself and that simply wouldn't do and so slavery had to be invented out of that reality and the people who carried out that slavery were culturally distinct within the people coming to the new world because 0:34:9 every every like wave of europe english uh first english and irish uh immigration british immigration in the very early air of the con of the of the colonies was the distribution uh uh first almost randomly like religious outcasts and uh you know people seeking uh trade but over town over time as the area became settled and as like its actual distribution of resources became known people started self-selecting and in a place where there's a ton of land that could be bought held and converted to uh to like massively uh labor extractive agriculture meaning indentured labor or slaves this brought uh the aristocracy it brought the the gentry of the of the of great 0:35:10 britain it brought the the the overflowing squires the children of the of the of the land-owning elite the the real blue bloods uh in heraldry the crescent moon is the sign of the second son who doesn't inherit anything under primogeniture the one who has to become a uh join the army or the priesthood or uh find something to do because you don't get the you don't get anything you have to find your way and a lot of these people in after the after immigration uh and colonial colonialization colonization started in first in the west indies and in the americas um they started following the generation of uh leaders of colonial south carolina the ones who built its 0:36:11 institutions and built its culture and built its political you know architecture uh and and it's like economic uh arrangements were largely the second son sec second the second sons of planters who had already been established in jamaica and in the west indies controlled by the uk places where the uh you know the dwindling uh land like the land of the old aristocracy was sort of dwindling away in its profitability during this era in england and at the same time you could take your capital if you accumulated there go to the new world buy some land and recreate it there with slave labor instead of uh tenets or or hired hands and a much higher profitability rate than like ***** shearing sheep or whatever you were doing in the cotswolds and so they recreated the old aristocracy in the new world but the same issue of primogeniture arose and so the early elite of south carolina were the second sons of those jamaican 0:37:12 and barbadian planter aristocrats so that's a fun little fact uh anybody nepal yeah that's the one that's the pennant right that's the one that isn't uh trying and that's actually like ohio is just a pennant this with the with the saab it's cool it's good it's good it's a good battle standard which presumably it was maryland is weird marilyn if you look at it too closely you get a headache it scariest world war ii group except for 0:38:29 the nazis that's a good one there's two big contenders in my view one the eustachia in croatia ante pavlick these guys were uh when the not when when they entered into their junior partnership with with the third reich uh they saw what what they could get away with who boy they went ham uh and um and uh even like the local nazis were so appalled by it that they said hey tone it down a little bit there was a uh there was a uh group called uh i mean there was there was a rumor i think it was like in a you know it was it appeared in a novel but people sometimes think it's it's true i guess it's apocryphal it's too good i kind of believe it's true because it's too good a story that ante pavolik the guy who uh was the head of that puppet regime uh was 0:39:32 he had a jar of eyeballs on his desk but he along with a lot of the other estacia uh in a higher rate than like other collaborators was able to escape uh europe through a rat line involving uh the vatican and catholic priests uh the cia and the mafia like this was the early stages of setting up the networks that would become the gladio operation the first thing they did was get these croatian catholics out of europe and into south america and anti-poverty went to argentina i believe where he lived for like relatively in the open for 20 years until a i think a serbian uh nationalist found him and ***** plugged his ass uh and he actually survived the initial gunshot and was flown to spain for medical treatment under franco and then died there so the ustasher up there the iron god of guard of romania who carried out one of the most gruesome pogroms of world war ii where they literally took uh jewish people i think 0:40:34 of budapest into our bucharest into a uh slaughterhouse ***** texas chainsaw asker stuff like the kind of stuff that that even for holocaust standards is pretty grim you know like because you've got your holocaust stuff which is all like bone-bleachingly sold terribly so shreddingly terrible and then you've got things like the iron guard the dural wongler brigade come and see is based on those guys that is like and of course mengele where and then i will say non-european edition you gotta go with japanese imperialism believing that you are literally like a divine people descended from a living god and having uh internal combustion engines and ***** machine guns is a but that on the list that goes above and yeah it's a very good likelihood that uh i 0:41:40 mean you can trace seven you uh mk ultra starts with unit 731 because it was from that research that the cia developed the germ warfare that they were using in uh in korea that they had to cover up and uh and also the mind control techniques they used to try to like reverse engineer brainwashing and also create at and you got to say though though like of all these places like the japanese to just like not really talk about it at all to just sort of act like okay why are you bringing up old ***** it's it's 0:42:41 pretty breathtaking from like uh uh you know from a g8 country it's like come on guys you guys are rich you guys are rich look at the germans the germans are like are bad and it's like sure you know they can they can feel sad they're all chop stuffed with chocolate and round and enjoying a big frosty beer and listening to some oompa music they can be like yeah sorry sorry about the holocaust you guys have ***** sex robots and uh like conveyor belt sushi and like vr karaoke rooms and pachinko machines uh that you can ***** you can't ***** say my bad i mean turkey you can kind of understand a bit more you know like it's it's been it's it's it's a developed country but it's also a much lower you know just per capita income level than japan 0:43:43 uh it's much less politically stable i mean four or five what i think what i think believe three coups since uh world war ii and an attempted one only a few years ago and you know like the fact that they're uh that their whole domestic political culture is this sort of like islamofascism it's kind of funny like that was a made-up term that was a made-up term for years by guys like christopher hitchens to squint at the cold war and turn it into world war ii but like specifically like the akp political um you know military uh machine that controls turkey is like fusion of like the old uh you know right-wing secular uh nationalism of the grey wolves with like explicit uh islamic and 0:44:46 of course also just shock through with gladio but of course the japanese government was also shot through gladio i don't know as much about that but apparently uh there's a lot of stuff like the us and the yakuza operating it to essentially create like a shadow structure behind the entire political facade and the like the emerging conglomerates that dominated japanese economy i'd like to know more about it click at the same time like it's all behind the scenes and they get to groove they get to dance with like the mascots they get to do the mascot dance turkey doesn't get to do the mascot dance they go to ***** soccer matches and i'll have to stab each other so i say japan you have less of an come on japan come on yeah both the japan in both 0:45:47 japan and italy the united states essentially created one-party states to replace the fascist governments staffed largely by former administrators and political figures of those fascist regimes to maintain make sure that calvinism did we're going to play cod cold war on sunday we're going to try anyway i do not i mean i i trust chris but i don't trust the equipment necessarily so and i don't like know how this is the first time you're streaming something so we're going to be in the office having tested each other and had our tests done and we're going the fact that it's all there in the 80s is 0:46:48 just so mind-blowing the amer i mean we like to think of the 80s as the grand like climax of the cold war in terms of it's when we achieve moral clarity it's when we finally had a president who had the guts to call them an evil empire and demand the end of oppression in eastern europe tear down this wall and it all ended up to the walls tumbling down like ***** jericho but in terms of our actual policy like the strategic uh uh geo like the the the geopolitical like strategic operations that made up our cold war response our comor gamesmanship was at its most depraved and monstrous and that's because we felt like we had him and we were gonna squeeze the ***** life out of him what was like the u.s cold war in the 80s was let's go around the horn we'll start close to home in the 80s cold war was in latin in central america 0:47:51 uh support genocide against indigenous people who are resisting the the uh feudal overlords the the post-colonial fuel overlords that we had installed there or in the case of nicaragua respond to a popular political uprising against our disgusting latifundist comprador class collaborators we declared unofficial and illegal war on them and uh that were including the illegal mining of their harbor and the funding of a bunch of drug peddling psychopath former military officers whose main tactics were burning down rural hospitals and raping teachers and burning down schools that's what they did they didn't fight they didn't fight the san anises they murdered civilians and 0:48:52 destroyed civilian infrastructure with the drug money that we helped them get by selling drugs to american citizens that's another part of this thing let's not forget that uh in the 80s it's collaborating with operation condor and the ***** hunters in argentina and uh and the arab ways in chile and brazil in africa holy ***** it is full-throated uh military and diplomatic alliance with the south african apartheid regime in its death throws supporting it against international censure and uh and the the effective application of uh sanctions and then militarily collaborating with them in trying to defeat indigenous or uh uh african uh uh independence movements in

namibia you get a situation the battle of queento canavale the biggest land battle in 0:49:53 africa since world war ii a stand-up month months-long battle between uh uh marxist angolans uh and supported by cuban and russia cuban troops and russian advisers against south african uh against a uh a native like uh puppet guerilla movement supported by south africa european mercenaries and us that's what we were doing in europe that's what we're doing in africa at that time meanwhile uh the the uh south african uh security service the boss the bureau of state security is going hog wild doing everything from assassinating obviously assassinating domestic political opponents like steve biko creating uh puppet organizations like within the zulu uh communities to create like a a turf war with the anc so if i undermine their position 0:50:57 from the inside uh killing opponents in foreign countries they ***** put a mailbox they put a bomb in the mailbox of ruth first who was one of the heads of the african of the communist party in south africa and blew her up they probably killed they very well might have intentionally infected uh townships with aids if you believe anything that was in uh cold case hammerstroll and there's reason to the middle east who did we support in in the in the convulsions of the middle east like the lebanese civil war israel and ***** uh the phalange the people who carried out the severance shittily massacre funded both sides of the iraq iran war which is the biggest land war of the 20th centuries under the world war since world war ii and killed millions cease 0:52:0 needlessly defend uh supporting the mujahideen in afghanistan a bunch of ***** uh uh tribal psychopaths uh reactionaries in every sense like the the up up holders of like the least progressive elements of the society intentionally to undermine communism with no idea or care about what it would uh also just dealing drugs let's not forget that just dealing wild amounts of coke and some heroin too the golden afghanistan oh we were supporting the ***** po uh the khmer rouge in exile isn't that funny the khmer rouge and exile because they had been kicked out by the vietnamese the the vietnamese communists uh was supported in the u.n uh and materially by the 0:53:2 united states and britain and china of course which is hilarious but uh and so yeah like what's one of the missions you go in and meet paul pott and you give him a ***** bunch of land mines just like there's nothing but repression and bloodshed there's nothing you can like at least in the 60s there was like the usaid thing there was like the peace corps which is awful as you could uh as you want to say at least was an attempt to like extend a carrot and by the 80s because the tide was turning there was no carrot that developmentalist ***** like the the the proud papa good neighbor policy that was ***** that by the 80s that rug had been pulled out after the vulcan shock especially in the domestic in latin america the vulcan shock we talk about what it did in domestically but what it did internationally is also still 0:54:3
with us and what specifically it did in latin america is that it essentially exploded

the death of every ***** country in latin america which was priced in american dollars and had american interest rates therefore determining its transactions and they could and so their interest rates on the the debt just exploded and it essentially broke the back of the entire like developmental model that was being tried in latin america like there was an attempt even among like the right-wing regimes to build independent domestic economies and not just be extraction economies for the west and and the the yankees uh but those efforts were fundamentally in every sense abrogated by that and everything has been struggling with the fallout of that so once again nothing nothing to write you know i'm trying to think of like forces that the us supported other parts of the cold war that might have you know even if they were bad because we were supporting them why wouldn't they be but you know like the people making them up you have some sympathy for like i would say that the hmong the the mounted yards that the cia recruited uh to to uh fight on their behalf in vietnam and laos i i it was all bad but like i they themselves you know were fighting they weren't fighting to oppress anybody really you know you could see that they were like just trying to maintain a way of life maybe even maybe that's ***** and of course everything was fueled by drugs and so you've got local leaders just taking over and it's corrupt of course there's just something i could see is like yeah you know what that's that's a bum rap i don't know what i would do in that situation either but by the 80s it was all just monsters it was it was it was the worst the settler colonial over class unrestrained by any concern for needing to negotiate with like working class power so yeah i'm very interested to see what the missions are like i said it'd be very funny if the verbont killings were one you got to go into a ***** uh belgian grocery store and just spray everybody like the no russian scene trying to think but i'm wondering whether it will actually be in there where is he gonna go i saw some jungle action are they gonna just do ***** rambo like pretend that's what we were doing yeah there's a good idea the dalai lama the dalai lama is basically a cia asset they they got him they got him out of there as donald sutherland said in jfk for to serve a purpose like he his his international position is is a was maintained because of its advantageousness to u.s foreign policy but at the same time i can't get mad at the llama and i can't really feel the llama is doing that much bad maybe he's doing more i don't know that much about the llama he probably i mean and it is true that hereditarily the llamas were just feudal overlords and they were extra they were exploitative and like they were but like when they kicked him out is he even that anymore isn't he just kind of like a hobo so can't get too mad at the lava but that was the 50s in the 80s it's jonas savimbi uh it's ***** uh pk botha uh it's uh robert debusson and uh el salvador afrio rios mont yeah there should definitely be a a a thing where you just have to escort like a shipment like an escobar shipment

because we were buying it for we were uh they were moving it for escobar the cio was moving for escar escobar through central america among other people uh and just stuff you got to get like a giant thing and you got to get it through and like escort mission wrap up maybe cigarette boats i know it was most of california but maybe just like a cigarette boat thing like someone wants to know about the ecci i mean it was essentially a front bank for cia transactions and money laundering which the vatican bank also served as is the 80s uh if there's a contemporary equivalent deutsche i mean all of them are obviously if in a case of emergency all of them are but in terms of ones that act on a day-to-day basis for that purposes you look at 0:59:35 the global war thing hsbc is up there they got dinged for that like multi multi multi-billion dollar cartel laundering case where nobody did a dive the second of jail time and their ***** uh their their their um their their fine was basically a rounding error compared to how much money they'd moved but deutsche bank man deutsche bank i don't know a lot about all the ins and out stuff i'm not true not i'm not a details guy i'm big picture oh yeah chechnya you could go to oh man i want those vatican archives somebody said vatican irvines are the deutsche bank archives they would 1:0:36 both be rich rich treasures but i would love to get like the whole depths of of the vatican's specifically their inner intervention in italian politics after world war ii very interested in that but also all the pedophile stuff there was a uh cause like if p2 is like the secret government like the social secret government of italy after world war ii then south africa had one too someone is reminding me this uh south africa had one of those too uh it's it was called the africana broderbund the african afrikaner 1:1:38 brotherhood and it was a it was like kiwanis club and if you if you wanted to be if you wanted to get into the the top ranks of the national party you had to be in it and that's kind of what you get when you get a situation that it happened after after they after south africa officially got separated from the uk they became kind of a one-party state for a while the national party became like the the the governing structure even though they were still formally a democracy within the white you know electorate uh so that meant that like politics had to become internalized and it was internalized through this organization a broad report and you know it was it was a way to to uh identify talent and then groom it through social uh trust and connection because that's how you actually have to govern you have to govern through insinuation and trust uh so that you can leave unspoken horrible things the 1:2:39 only way you can do that is by the acculturation of trust over time and so these ritualized sort of initiations and so like that is why you know that's one of those things that is distorting because conspiracy theory turns it into the whole sum of the thing but really it's just the social ritualization of power that is there implicit in the str the structure that we're all finding ourselves part of and we're but at the end of the day there was enough like when any of you talk about any of these shadow governments or anything they're able to rule because they represent a social order that is that is uh in some sense materially generated that's why they're able to rule so something intervenes with them they will rule ***** was any of that politics i 1:3:43 said there wasn't going to be any politics and i kind of think i ***** up and put some politics in there and if i did i have to say that i i feel that i am accountable and i want everyone to know that i feel that i am being held to account by you and that you can be aware that in the future i will always remember this moment of accountability and carry it forward into the future to remain an accountable boy an accounting accountable boy who we all love to account for and account for every day don't we love him isn't he a sweetheart he is isn't he say goodbye to the accountable boy accountable boy they all said is my god dammit i got a colic at this point i'm getting to a situation where i've got this thinning promontory in the front that is separating like the berm here from this lake of lava in the back and i'm basically okay with my hair as it is like this is essentially like mid-80s nicholson and i like it you know i think he looked like a goddamn pimp in ***** shining and ***** like that which is the beast wick come on 0:1:3

uh he was absolute king but i'm just worried if it keeps going the peninsula's the the ***** infamous is gonna wear away it's gonna be some ***** global warming ass uh sea level rise and then i'm in the costanza zone in which i get sides which i just don't know if i can handle the sides i mean i'll have to if i have to you know you have to you you you handle whatever happens you know but it is uh that's not something that i have yet been able to accommodate myself too hopefully if it happens it will give me i'll have enough time to say goodbye before i end up with sides not shaving it can't shave it can't do it can't do it can't pull the trigger on it just it's a look it's a general vibe and look that i don't uh really find convivial i don't know it wouldn't feel and i do feel like there's something uh i think there's people say like you know 0:2:6
hey say ***** it cut it but it's like well isn't ***** it letting it go like the real ***** answer is just leaving it there because it's more hassle to keep it that close you got to cut your hair more often why if you're saying ***** it then the real ***** it is just letting it go which is what i'm going to be doing one way or the other so if i get the sides then i got the sides oh god damn it the ***** volume again this is really getting annoying maybe i need a new phone i do need a new phone but i haven't uh gotten one yet trying to ***** all right i'm gonna try to see if because a lot of it is getting this thing to connect because if it actually is connected shut up everyone be quiet all right i'm giving up i guess i gotta use the ***** mic the reason i don't 0:3:8
want to do this is because people watch on youtube say that if it's not connected to the computer it's really soft there and it sounds better with the microphone but the microphone isn't or i mean uh it sounds better with this than with the microphone but if i do it with with this everyone gives me the business while i'm not doing the stream and that is of course more distracting because it's right there as opposed to some youtube comments oh god i really what is wrong with everyone why is everyone why can't people have a common experiential like framework so that they have when they say fine it means the same thing to everybody can we get some sort of uh denote some sort of connotative esperanto because i don't get how some people can say it's fine and some people are like it's terrible all right how are we able to have a functioning society with like agreed upon rules that we could all like follow some sort of rule of law or uh scientific pursuit or engineering if if there's that much difference in people's experience of the same goddamn phenomena how can things be that much uh determined by your subjective experience of it explain this to me so okay this sounds good but now the poor schmucks listening on youtube they can't hear it so good so i don't and since you guys are the ones yelling at me now i guess i will listen to you and that's just you know it's a way it's the way that young players are always screwed in any uh sports contracts it's because the people who end up in leadership positions in the union are almost invariably veterans and they don't really have anything in common with younger players and so they're always happy to to underpay younger players for them to maintain their privileges as uh big shots and that kind of thing happened throughout all strata of business unionism in the united states and it's one of the big reasons why when push came to shove and the crisis of capitalism happened uh within the democratic framework we there was no uh working class there to uh uh speak up for its own interests because the institutions that had been using to do that had been totally co-opted and now we live in the aftermath of that and i think that's what i've really been trying to get my head around and what i want to express more in a written form hopefully soon is is the degree to which we really are operating from a a fundamentally different political reality than the one that governs the way most everyone assumes politics works because of the total removal from bipartisan political debate all questions of macroeconomics all questions of distribution of resources within the political framework with that with that's gone that changes the dynamic within politics and it removes it from the material world over time to the point where when you have something like say a 2008 uh economic crisis where even like the bubble fueled rickety machine they put together after the end of industrialization in the united states even that fell apart it was restructured with even less allowable uh argument now the question of hey when the economy collapses uh should we just give all the money back to the people who did that and kick people out of their homes in the millions do we want to do that well both political parties think we have to do that so there's no political there's no friction here but the political process and like our general trajectory the thing that determines our actual fate as opposed to the short term you know uh uh ebb and flow of the political fortunes of two factions within capitalism that mostly just change a

distribution of uh of intensity of infliction of pain on one segment of the underclass or another on behalf of the same algorithm-ridden and i want to talk about the way that this works the way that this like creates subjects who essentially are incapable of operating out of anything other than a most based narcissistic self-interest that they don't even know that's what they're operating from uh and that that dominates the way we approach politics we have been d d classified we know we do not process class through lived experience or expressed through culture as experience we live 0:8:19 atomized lives as consumers we are consumers first and foremost and that is that and so if that's the case and i think it is because we could no longer hold the ***** machinery of state anymore like a working class is a class with a a in itself that works on its own behalf a class for itself what mark's called that's a transition that's class consciousness and we were flickering there for a while in the u.s but the door slammed shut in the 70s the ***** box got opened and the schroeder's cat died to use that analogy again and the ***** uh the thing was dead on the table and what replaced it was this uh lived experience of consumption and so that means we have to look at if we're going to look at what like the general trends are of ours of our social organs of our of our destiny as as a nation and then of course you know because of our central places in the world the world around us the world itself also so if 0:9:22 that's what we are now we're consumers how are we expressing ourselves because we can't express ourselves through the language of class uh uh class struggle strikes uh you know paris paris like counter cultural organization against the state along class access the entirety of what used to compromise working-class culture in this country you know uh uh harlan county usa is a good example uh that still exists but it is not coordinated it is not at the level of anything beyond like an individual uh you know industry or uh specific shop everyone is everyone is operating on the every man for themselves principle because we are in this sense of constant crisis because we are 0:10:23 so precarious everyone is on a tenter hook that means everyone is forced to choose the most basically the the the uh illusion created by the total precarity of american life post 1980 is that the building is on fire because everyone is so ***** precarious all problems all political questions specifically are phrased in the assumption of a burning house with very narrow time sale for survival because everyone lives that way when in reality these questions are the house is ***** fine the house is fit as a fiddle the house could but we don't think that way and if the house is burning who do you save do you save the neighbor's cat or your cat do you save the some you know stranger who's wandering around in the and for some reason in the second floor or your grandmother do you save your wife or your i mean this is it's the lifeboat 0:11:24 ethics and that is what what uh we live with that's the politics we live with because of the precarity we all feel and that means that all politics are are based on this this

uh grasping panic and this uh expressed as sadism as i have said the the sense that we're going down we have to protect for us what we can which is why democrats and republicans align in whatever their narrow uh lee felt economic interests are they uh they support them now that means that working-class people are more likely to adhere you know to the job they do there but everybody even if they're positioned you know in that tenuous zone we all are where we're both exploited and exploited the the stuff we get we're going to cleave towards and we're going to want and more importantly now we're going to want to punish the people who are responsible 0:12:25 because if the house is burning and we're all going to die which is the end stage after you realize you can't get anybody up more out of the ***** house who's going to pay for it who burned it down and who's going to suffer and that's what our politics are because everyone is operating at the end of the day out of a political uh narcissism including myself because we are our the entirety of our idea of what the political good is is not grounded in any kind of transcendental transcendent morality that encompasses anyone outside of ourselves we think it is but at the level of emotional uh truth that the at the level where you know the things you believe go beyond believing them as words and believing them as actions what we're really driven by is what we think of as our best interests our best material interests and because we do not live class and the class is not conscious that ends up meaning getting mine and 0:13:28 it creates monsters it's creating monsters every day it's turning us all into monsters and that's the idea to turn us all into just attenuated strings of neurons who are being forced by the algorithm of extractive capitalism to consume and uh labor at the uh request of whatever uh stimulus or stimuli are being uh uh offered you're just there to avoid pain and experience pleasure everything that is not forbidden is compulsory that's the end state of life under capitalism and we're all headed there slowly and within and it happens within our lifetimes it happens in the lifetimes of families uh and it's it's not like that means people are worse now it means that the forces pulling us apart are stronger than they've ever been and it means that our expression our cultural expression of this of our of our attempt to you know battle 0:14:31 the tide and maintain some dignity is marked with that it's marked with the trauma of that and i think a way you can look at that is look at who the last two presidents were the presidents who came in the wake of the 2008 crisis when there was this massively unpopular bailout that no one wanted and both and it happened during a transition of power from one party to the other this is still amazing to me nobody wanted the bailout politically like the the people no one wanted it and both parties got together except for a handful of republicans who had cover to do it because they knew it was going to pass anyway voted for it and both presidential candidates running supported bush's plan and when biden obama won he continued it in the aftermath of that we lit we fully inhabited a world that we've been transitioning to you know or accelerating our transition to towards the 70s obviously but really like 0:15:32 this was the moment of like full liquidity of of of the the liquefaction of the barrier between the spectacle of entertainment and culture as expressed by our purchases of media like that's the sum total of what we are right is what we buy to watch and because that's the residue of all the other transactions that make up life as a commodified atom but that we can't see except in our like anecdotal daily life the only expressions that we can access are cultural which is stuff we pay to observe some way or another an economy because everything has been commodified and the way we do that politically the way we did that politic the political expression of that consumer thing is voting and so our there was this dynamic where our expression of our lives is as atomized consumers composed of buying things and once while voting created this 0:16:33 dynamic of a political superstructure and a cultural superstructure and what we did where we who we voted for in in the in our acts our symbolic uh enactment of our uh consumer choices within politics would then like set create a material condition that culture would respond to and the degree to which that vote contributed to a change in anything has reduced under over time to now where the stick is not connected to anything anymore or if it is it's at almost a quantum level the machines are growing on grinding on behind the scenes almost completely all we really have is the shadow of the shadow and that is and that is and that and that that has left a gap in our belief of ourselves as political actors like this stuff's not working and yet we still care and that means we have and the degree and that hole has been filled with our absorption of politics into the overall of our overall emotional response to media in 0:17:34 general and so the expressions on the population level in the hundreds of millions of people level the only population level you can get to where like you can really trace trends meaningfully and screen out all of the noise you have what people watch and buy and listen to and what people elect and since 2008 we have had our choices and what we have done is essentially recreate two uh archetypes of two different um groups of people divided by geography and uh uh demographics mostly not class one of them but not in any way different modes of value i guess different like a package of 0:18:47 cultural and aesthetic and boiling down to aesthetic preferences because we're talking about is whether you're voting or you're buying something you're you're watching a channel and contributing to its ad revenue you're purchasing a streaming service you're downloading something what you're doing is you're wanting to see a certain thing a certain thing that expresses your and i think that we can see those both in the politics and the political figures that we've exalted specifically the presidents because that's the biggest sample size you can find right that's where you're really talking big numbers and turning trying to get something out of you know the vibrating uh

hornet's nest of american society with its you know it's total atomization of social 0:19:48 interaction the ***** and you look at the uh figures who emerge from our culture where you also have hundreds of millions of people contributing and this brings me to a subject that i've been talking about for a long time i wrote an article for it embarrassingly enough now uh that i look back on it for current affairs a few years ago where i kind of scratched the surface at what i was trying to get at about prestige television and i think i finally getting to kind of get my head around what i've really been getting at this whole time because i think you have to because what really made me realize this because i've been trying to articulate this i wrote the article which i think was okay but it really glossed over a lot of important stuff and i've refined it over the years but uh what really kicked it in for me was the realization and i think i've like known this in the back and other people might have said this but it never it 0:20:49 never really hit with me before that barack obama is the prestige tv president and that's been sitting in my head for a while and i finally figured out like what i meant by that and now i think i understand or at least i think i'm close to it so i'm going to try to talk this through so we've got our atomized pringle population okay in the 80s and 90s we're reacting to the the the end of labor power in america and this new nor this new world of debt financed consumption as the american uh economic model and all the cultural implications that that has further just deepening these processes of alienation while at the political level deregulation accelerates to create all this new explosions of money and everything so the deregulator deregulatory framework that came in with carter and reagan broke up the old uh calcified fortis business model 0:21:53 of a bunch of big sectors of the american economy finance real estate and most uh for our purposes most importantly broadcast media before the before the 70s uh the media the television media what that meant was three networks that put on shows every night to try to get as many eyeballs as possible to sell soap and beer that is it uh and what that meant is television was broadcast it was trying to catch a big net and even within that there all the attempts to uh like narrow cast vote for uh you know like soap operas for women who are home all day and you know uh westerns for dad and cartoons for the kitties those are all sub-demographics within a broader conceived like american suburban family right fam it was a family thing and it was the demographic was i mean it was the demographic was made by the media 0:22:54 itself you know what i mean it was it was a totalizing you know obviously it uh the reflection of it was biased because of you know racial prejudice and and all of the uh attending you know distortions that that brings but the people making it were making it on behalf of what they imagined to be an american audience and of course that was a very racist assumption patriarchal all that that was part and parcel of the social order at the time and you know uh and as a result that as bad as it was is not what we're talking about when we're talking about what the business model was getting people to watch the shows as many as possible by making them appealing to as many people as possible what that meant was television was not a challenging artistic medium because you couldn't afford to make something that a lot of people didn't watch it was that simple it brought things towards the middle like there was 0:23:56 there were higher brow shows on tv especially mini series and there was lowbrow stuff like he-ha or whatever but there was still a sort of a a self-conscious sort of middle tier thing a idea that this is a general product for a general audience meanings like there's things below it on the entertainment scale that are more tawdry like you know uh uh b-movies uh and uh pornos maybe and like professional wrestling and then there's things that are more uh refined like theater and books in the opera we're right in the middle and that's where we are like you can stay there you can go out either way but we're here deregulation broke the whole thing up and it brought a new business model in and that was making things for people to pay for a fee based system now the challenge there is well how do you get people to pay for something that they get for free and they say well if this is what they're looking for will go 0:24:59 here and here now the easiest place to go of course is below obviously because it doesn't require art you don't have to have the perfect chemistry of people coming together to bring something that has any sort of you know agreed upon quality the quality of nudity or a guy's head getting cut off or the word ***** is purchasable it's quantifiable at dollars and cents and so when hbo for example started in the 80s called home box office the pitch was you can watch theatrical films in your home and that didn't just meet because you could see those on tv too unedited nudity violence and then when they started doing their own shows like first and ten and dream on which i remember watching as a horny youngster uh the premise is essentially this is as this is as good as like a mid-tier network sitcom but there's tits that was there was 0:26:2 it was not highbrow at all now two things happen though in the 90s that complicate the matter one is the internet explodes and that means the long-term uh value of pitching here to a fee-based audience is going away because i can go on the internet and jack off why do i need this so where do you go you go to quality you go to quality the first hbo original series was oz and it came out in 1997 and they poached tom fontana from homicide which is one of the best procedural cop shows of the 90s in terms of critical acclaim the closest thing there was in the pre-cable era to a prestige show and the funny as funny as oz is on rewatch it's interesting because they were clearly trying to make a show that was trying to appeal to a higher brow aesthetic audience and they were doing it through the traditional uh mode of narrative artistic 0:27:3 expression on television which was the teleplay like shows in the early uh broadcast era that were pitched towards a higher brow audience were largely things like show house not playhouse 90 and like twilight zone or whatever it's things with set stories uh and uh and very bounded uh dramatic uh uh very bounded um what's the word like blocking people you know people in rooms people in rooms and the need for and uh you know like the the the popular uh kitchen sink melodramas of the day well in the 90s by the 90s the the equivalent the theater equivalent to that the theater equivalent to you know edward albee or eugene uh was um or neil simon was like experimental theater moment shots and all that ***** and so when they did tried 0:28:4 to do that when they tried to bring that playhouse 90 spirit to cable television it was expressed with all the goofy physical ***** with harold pirinu like talking to the screen and zipping around on a habitrail and uh and you know being splashed with paint like that is a theatrical approach to high brow art and that was kind of a misfire and it's but it's still uh an interesting you know artifact but what it speaks to more than anything is that there was a recognition that if there's uh in broadcast in in fee based entertainment a lot of it is going to come from offering a superior product in quality now this is early that calculus changes later but while there's still this remnant monoculture it's uh it's quality as broadly understood by like a educated audience who is always who you're pitching mass-market and so when shows like the 0:29:7 sopranos showed up they were meeting a new demand for people who you know were working longer hours were more stressed less able to afford time or money to go to the theater or read books who were more yearning to find a easy way to distract themselves from their growing immigration by i don't know watching a show uh the sopranos and those attended shows and the network of uh you know recap related economies that sprung out around him we're there to codify a new standard of quality within the entertainment industry around this new uh model this is essentially this new uh business model like it was all it's the entirety of prestige tv as an ideology is just wrapped around the material reality of the fee based cable television model uh competing with and replacing the broadcast ad that leaves us to wonder if that's what 0:30:8 happens if it's breaking off and and bound and like uh being defined in opposition to like it's not tv it's hbo where what direction is it going culturally if you're doing a fee based service by definition you're going for the wealthier half of the people who watch broadcast television like the people who don't have money who can't afford to pay to watch shows there's nothing you're going to be able to say to them to get them as long as there's a free alternative that offers something that to them is so that means you got to go for the upper half that means you're going for the 0:31:10 more educated half you're going for almost exclusively college-educated people the people making the program for them and what do they come up with what is this what is this feedback loop of people paying for services talking about the shows the show's staying on creating culture moving forward rip-offs being made an entire genre

of programming being created what do they come up with sopranos breaking bad mad men people joked about how it's the anti-hero it's it's this uh it's the figure of tortured but highly competent narcissist uh sociopathy and there's a whole cottage industry of critics asking the question why do we look up to these psychos and it's 0:32:11 because they're us in in exaggerated form they are the luciferian selfishness that drives everybody under capitalism magnified into these figures of our reflection on ourselves and when i say us i mean the people who watch these shows so the college educated half of that middle and upper middle flop and what do we see we see these psychopaths and what who operate purely from narcissism and then the drama of the shows is them dealing with the consequences of that and they are of course i'm not saying that we're all as evil as they are we're not anywhere near as evil as they are we all have humanity that they don't but on the flip side they are also much 0:33:13 more competent and powerful than we are when i say that they are us i'm not just saying like their worst they are our dreams of ourselves our dark dreams of ourselves if we were essentially we those guys those characters are answering the question what would i be like if i was handsome as don draper if i was as good as chemicals as walter white if i'd inherited a mob fortune and was also smart like tony soprano what would i be like what would i do if i had those suite of skills and suite of of of abilities and traits and attributes those exaggerated stat that exaggerated status and the answer is we would be monsters because we're operating from selfishness once again i'm not saying any individual person entirely i'm saying at the population level collectively 0:34:17 our decisions at the end of the point the pointy end tend towards us choosing the self most selfish path because we are fixed in a network of precarity and counter and exploitation and mutual exploitation self-exploitation with no undergirding uh class consciousness to solidify as an opposition and uh now that's what's being created by the prestige tv genre that is this that is going to become synoquinon in my opinion culturally with the democratic coalition i'm going to just say it that's the democratic party prestige television viewers of prestige television uh that that if you want people say i talk too much college non-college if you define it correctly i could say prestige tv no prestige tv or rather prestige tv self-consciously indulged in and prestige tv 0:35:20 con indulged in as just something else on the cultural menu and that like the whole package of prestige tv uh uh uh cultural artifacts and and like uh expectations and values are just sort of so if that's what they're getting what about the bottom half of the tel of people watching network television what are they going to get well network television itself responded to the pressure of cable by doubling by creating and then hyper exploiting the concept of the reality television show which is the the act of watching a show stripped of any artistic elements whatsoever like as in it is no longer an expression of someone's you know creative will it is just someone being

themselves and of course no one is themselves everyone is performing but every like the barest art in reality programming is the art of performance of oneself which i 0:36:22 could literally get that and there was a while there in the early early in the late early aughts just was reality tv is shaping up into a genre when reality uh or uh prestige tv was shaping up into its own genre reality tv was reaching depths that it has not gotten too since uh ***** like ***** uh who wants to marry a millionaire the swan where people would get people with like facial deformities uh would get plastic surgery and then compete in a beauty contest which with each other uh man versus beast where kobayashi had and if the prestige tv generation created their own 0:37:25 characters their drapers they're uh they're walter whites they're tony sopranos what are the reality tv generation the people who do not find all of that pretension around hey this isn't television this isn't entertainment this is actually soul craft whatever the ***** people who convince themselves that there is some deeper transcendent artistic association with a television program tried to talk themselves into no this is as good as a book this is as good as as shakespeare they don't have the cultural wiring to trick themselves into thinking that's true which is what it comes down to they haven't been conditioned to think that's true and so this whole thing this whole performance of quality falls on deaf ears so who gets created out of the muck of reality a bunch of celebrities most of whom are non-political but what's this a few of them become very political one of them of course we all know becoming king of 0:38:27 them all but back to the prestige tv shows as i've said if prestige tv and the prestige tv anti-hero is sort of a cultural topa the cultural expression of like this uh then barack obama is the prestige tv here uh president he is the political equivalent he is our expression of ourselves which is as a narcissist what would a narcissist someone devoted to their luciferian self-pursuit do if they were to pursue the highest office in the land and just like the answer is what would you do if you were madison avenue slickster is be don draper what would you do if you were a ***** uh el prestiging genius with uh cancer b walter white what would you do if you were a ***** baller 0:39:28 ass black guy politician you'd be president of the united states barf sacko crumble and clear and if you read the stuff that obama has written about himself and written about himself and written about himself he seems to know that he is this character like he is driven to express himself which is what we all are driven to right like that's the other part of this narcissistic compulsion is that how many people who watch all this artist all this television watch these movies believe themselves to be destined to participate in that process to contribute to it how many people have flames of self expression through like a creative life that is the only life by the way that means anything in the entertainment that we consume every ***** movie and tv show premises that's basically the lesson we get from the culture is that you have 0:40:30

to have a higher ambition you have to either be working towards some sort of life of mental reward or you have to uh be even if you're in like a a condition of physical manual or unstimulative labor you have dreams that you're working towards mike and so we're all we are all we're all looking at ourselves through our entertainment is what i mean is that in a co in a totally commodified artistic and cultural space like the one we have in all art boils down to flattery because you're trying to get people to watch it and people are gonna watch it if there's something they like about it and like we could talk about what quality is but quality is much harder to buy 0:41:32 so what we get over time in every program to some degree even our favorites but way too more degree in others and over time more and more as i'm saying this is a ***** linear this is a progressive process this is art being attenuated out of the sum total of our of our media consumption is flattery and you say well why are the anti-heroes why are they uh why aren't they good guys well we have the good guys those are us in our fantasies of ourselves but because this is art because we've convinced ourselves that this is meaningful art which means it has to make us uncomfortable it has to make us challenge our assumptions it has to make us feel something this has to be the dark version of our fantasy selves of our flattered versions of ourselves where we have the competence of our heroes and barack obama pursued his life 0:42:42 like a ***** prestige tv anti-hero he is fully invested in the notion that the world is unchangeable that the fundamental machinery of exploitation to make the world run is an unalterable it cannot change all we can do is find a place for ourselves within the gears and that the value of our life comes from our ability to make those experiences uh meaningful to ourselves and of course we can you know turn that into any other self-justification but at the end of the day to create an impression a pseudogrowth to hide our central core of just narcissistic self uh compulsion because obama was driven narcissistically to the point of uh total commitment by a desire to 0:43:45 be to be acknowledged and ratified by power not to wield power because he flatters himself intellectually too much to think that he could be so naive as to think that a politician could wield power he knows they don't that's part of what makes him deserve his station because he knows that and his knowledge of that gives him a layer of irony that coats all of his behavior and sanctifies every decision he made which any position person in that position would make but which is another person a cruder person a less refined person a person who didn't follow the rules didn't peop their pinky extended didn't go through the right ideological conditioning there is nothing that anything could do anything could only be worse and the thing that made it better was him and not his virtue his irony which is all you have when you cannot 0:44:47 when you feel in when you feel that sense that happens that has happened to me of total uh complicity in all the worst and most monstrous facets of life there is a

deep desire to just pull your own skin off and and and deny your guilt and that has to go somewhere a lot of it go some people reactionaries for example love to put it outward and uh and and blame others but uh a sophisticate uses irony to condemn themselves well at the end not condemning themselves giving themselves the reprieve and that's obama and he spent eight years as the economy was stagna turning into this gigafied hell for everybody and essentially denying a viable future to everyone who came out of the ***** sluice vats of childhood into adulthood that became the expression of the top half of that distribution of culture who both watched prestige tv and voted in elections because remember even though there are other people who vote and there are working-class people who vote they're not riding the caboose or they're not driving the train because without working class act action without effective working-class organization the the democratic party will be run by people for their own self-interest and that is as members of the democratic party not as representatives of anything but themselves and that's what happens when there's no accountability within a system of total uh atomization and narcissism and and uh every person for themselves behavior and so that means that these shows are essentially the brain of the people who run these parties and the people who put out the the talking points that make up the cultural conversation around both the shows and politics and this is the pnc as people define it this is like the thing that needs to be killed according to people but what they're missing is that it is just this ghost it's a ghost of a machine and it's and it's not in the sense that it's haunting it in the sense that it's like and so politics at the democratic party cohered around this obama uh consensus which broke down with uh with which basically broke down were for lack of a uh successor like that was the real reason they were ***** after that is they needed another one and there wasn't any uh but more importantly was the eruption of or actually no felix said something today on the show uh hillary was the fx version like uh obama is like the a uh the hbo amc anti-hero he's walter white and hillary was jack teller from sons of anarchy just the o fish fx metalhead version because she's from the 90s and she doesn't really she wasn't of the moment like obama just stepped into it like a ***** rape but anyway while obama was creating this thesis this political thesis reality tv was creating this antithesis and because it's reality television and because the membrane of like propriety that the college people have around themselves that prophylactic of propriety that they use to ***** reality even though it does nothing it has nothing it's just denying themselves pleasure uh they don't have their their raw dogging reality so give me donald trump give me the actual reality show oaf give me the guy who's only actual artistic uh uh talent his only talent in life is being obnoxious in a way that is compelling to watch and then we got the rise of the the reality tv antithesis and now they're fused you've got the

prestige tv and that doesn't mean that you know we're going to get another case of like perfect examples like this and i think that these coalitions are going to see some uh pressure in the coming years for sure so there's no way of knowing where it goes from here oh okay that was good yeah trying to get all this stuff whenever i get anything done written down i want to just be able to feel like i have made them my case and i don't have to like defend it oh the other thing about obama in the prestige tv so this to me is the real nut of it just as like a as a metaphor so barack obama famously loved the wire right loved the wire loved watching it many many liberals pointed to the fact either publicly or you know in their heart that one of the things they liked about obama now what's the buyer about right the wire is this dickensian foray into the demi-mon of baltimore and it's a social it's like a drizer-like examination of the social ills created by our unjust system and it even lays out like a case in five seasons and the show is essentially the ideology uh as a performance as an aestheticized uh uh uh expression you got that first season right shows the horror of the war on drugs as you love to see in a in a genre entertainment but what's this oh it's failed this is a failed war on drugs it doesn't work oh ***** oh ***** damn we've acknowledged that we know that we know what's up this problem it's bad and we're aware of the badness uh what's all right the second season answers the question well why is it so wait a minute if the draw if it's if we can't solve this problem by locking up drug dealers we got to find out what's causing it if it's not just drug dealers and the second season is about how yeah this is all because the economy of baltimore basically ***** shut down in the second eight seventies and there was no money and uh created cycles of poverty and dysfunction at every level political and economic life and it's it's it's like it's not actually that difficult it's pretty clear but crucially there can be no solution to it because what is the only conceivable means of uh reversing this sort of economic trend right you would think it would be some sort of uh labor movement well the labor movement is one part of the problem labor and even if frank sobotka is a good guy he has no hope of actually affecting change like it's a doomed uh criminal scheme that gets him killed in his ***** union to certified and it ends on a note of well jam i guess we're not going to be able to do anything about that so the next three seasons essentially find new culprits real things that we can do something about because we can't do anything about that pesky base third season is about drug legalization if we gotta have these drugs we don't have to be rocking people up which of course the obama administration never carried out but you always got the feeling that they knew that they should you know that's how people justify all this stuff the fourth season identifies oh man we got a real bad school system if only the schools were better these kids would get in better situations and then the third season oh man this media we got it's pretty bad we only had a better media this thing could be better and that is the way that is the obama democrat which is like 0:54:3 the brain now of culture uh approach to reality this acceptance of capitalist realism and then a jaundiced view on reforms that we should undertake and try to make go but which are at the end of the day also probably insufficient so how mad should we ever get that we didn't really do much more than we any of that stuff we said we would we know what to do but there's only so and for a lot of liberal democrats the fact that obama watched the wire stood in for having any actual coherent approach to any of the problems in the wire because he'd seen it and that is all of us in that headsapce feeling complicit in a system but also precarious wanting to uh assert what we think is the best for the best without rocking the boat too much to fault make us fall off of it and the answer to that is broadly uh neoliberal the neoliberal democratic 0:55:6 status quo it's like well you know yes this is a horrible unlike uh unfortunate system but and yes you know i'm just one of the lucky ones who got out of this whole college experience with money and everything but what else can we really do what else actually let me rephrase this what else could we really do that wouldn't risk my position and the answer is not much and that's the democratic party but the thing and remember is the republican party is equally held by the wealthiest and most class coherent and uh portion of the people who reject all that ***** the ones who see this package of values and say no thank you i'm on the other team the bottom part of that coalition is no more able to assert influence at the political level than the bottom half of the democratic coalition is and cannot for the same reasons it's just 0:56:8 beautiful boaters and and uh and buddy guarantees of the world trying to uh create a fa uh trying to act out this fantasy of national auto autarky out of you know a this remnant the last gasp of the uh of the dreams of jefferson that that anyone could be ungoverned because the conditions to be ungoverned in that jeffersonian jacksonian sense no longer exist but try telling them that and you don't have to because they still have money and they still have a lot of power and they are still a political power and they're going to assert it and they are yeah they are at war with the broader like globalized finance capital but neither one of them have a goddamn thing for anybody below them except exploitation and misery they are court they are ***** trying to maintain their position within this hierarchy where the ***** will they get 0:57:10 any benefit to putting anything off to anyone else in a moment of capitalist crisis when there is no structural incentive either politically or economically for redistribution to occur and that's why you cannot get anywhere i did watch the wire what are you not watching the wire critically i don't and if you're saying i didn't i didn't get the right message out of it that's not a thing sorry that's not a thing i know how it felt it seems to me to have been processed and you can't tell obama didn't watch the wire what are you obama watched the wire shut up gaslighting me a conversation with 0:58:12

president obama and wire creator david simon h president praises the hbo series the why would you do that are you guys are you guys getting riled up because i said something about your program you didn't like it's still a good show i've seen it twice oh you all are gaslighting me and i'm not here for it and by the way forget what the politics are with the wire it's entertainment value is undeniable the great acting some decent photograph decent camera work although nothing too impressive it's 0:59:13 not one of the more uh i mean it's like intentionally sort of near realist i guess uh but without the wacky camera movements and there's good stuff in it i enjoyed it i've seen it i'm just talking about it's it's residue it's like political residue and like i see a lot of people saying like when obama says he likes pr uh parasite or something they say did you really get it it's like well you didn't really get it either nobody really got anything you get it the way you want to get it he's getting it the way he wants to get it and we're all getting it the way he want they we want to get it i think people like obama get it the way he got it and that's why judging programs on their political content is dumb car kenny that's somebody said that the only person 1:0:21 on the wire who would have watched the wire and i think the reason people don't like that idea is because there is buried even in the deepest materialist i think who feels capped in this at some level behold into cultural critique is like a way of life that if enough people watch the right stuff things would change i think there's no way to understand people's response to art the passion of the way they get about the politics of it and the prescriptive way they get about the politics of it if they did not believe that somewhere there's no other way to make sense of their behavior and that is in my mind delusion because everyone's just gonna see it the way they were gonna see it which is conditioned by their pot in life your your the magical elixir you think is in there is only seeable by you so like people say does wolf of wall street 1:1:40 make uh uh encourage being a amoral scumbag yes to amoral scumbags i am not an amoral scumbag and i had no desire to become one after watching that movie it's a great movie that has nothing to okay good i feel like i got somewhere she i'm done watching tv i i wanted to get this out there and now i feel like i have i feel like i finally kind of birthed more than anything when i was talking about prestige tv i just wanted to get at the idea that that the the the quality that's being imported 1:2:42 there is is a it's a fantasy that we're all kind of participating in will consciously and unconsciously because we're we have to make do or we feel that we have to make do with it and i don't judge anyone for feeling that but i do feel like that's the underlying drive and i didn't really ever feel like i articulated that nest as as fully as i have here i feel good about that most cringe hbo show uh that's a good question that ***** the show the weird romance show where they were all ***** all the time tell me you love me or whatever the hell it was i was kind of like what the ***** is that what

dream on is good shut up there's a sitcom plus boobs what else do you want weeds 1:3:45 is a showtime show how dare you oh god newsroom is very cringy newsroom is quite cringy i've never seen john from cincinnati i kind of want to i've heard it's pretty funny i loved tales from the crypt oh my god ***** keeper what a stitch and that was hbo in its quintessence there before they got fancy it was literally just ec comics the stuff that they used to keep under the counter in the 50s and they had ***** uh conferences they the the ***** keefer committee had william gains in to ask him why he was perverting the youth and it never that kind of content would never cut it with the fcc just condensed into a show guys getting their heads that was the original pitch and then they got haughty and the thing is is i would rat that's the lie because you can buy tits and blood you cannot buy art and that was the lie that hbo and all these other ***** have been selling ever since and all these streaming 1:4:47 ***** have been selling ever since that this narrow casted pavlov this parrot this algebraically created ***** this machine learned garbage is good and why because we need it to be because we ***** need it to be speed a goddamn book i'm trying and failing trying to read books trying to write a book books are good folks what can i say books we love them we love a book we love a book just read a book but when you watch shows and i watch shows just have fun just have fun with it don't get mad for no reason and don't go into a show going how can i use this show to express a political view in some way or like get mad at it or decide that defending 1:5:49 it is part and parcel of defending like uh all that is good i got to say much better much better than the sopranos if you had told me that i had to judge which of those two shows would become the big cultural defining uh hit come out of hbo's prestige lineup and just by the theme song i would have yeah the soprano song is terrible one of 1:6:53

okay all right good good good i think that did it well i guess it would be nice if i could give your heart away i know not all the games you play well i play okay now god old man yelling at his computer why did it come to this didn't have the hustle that's why that's why i'm here officially fiddling with devices that are simply not for me they're for tweens they're for dead-eyed zoomer someone was playing katamari damasi i would like to play that sometime on a stream hopefully we can get the damn office after the covid uh murder festival is over and we can uh record some stuff we 0:1:2
want to do black ops we weren't able to do it because no one feels comfortable now being in the same room but when we are we will do katamari damasi we will do black ops cold war we'll do the whole thing um oh but yes here i am slave to machinery a device that's it's just yes as i said it's it's for those who were born into it it came into mind in my life i muffled ***** off dude tell me this i've had enough issues today all right they're saying i'm not muffled but once again we are left with the horrible 0:2:5
reality that we could all be cartesian brains and vats and i have no idea if you're lying to me or not or if you think it is but other people don't i don't know what the color blue is to well today i wanted to talk about faith specifically bad faith but really more accurately lack of faith i've talked before about how online requires you to treat everybody in bad faith because there's a you don't know because you're not trying to determine a course of action you're trying to determine a status hierarchy so you are never approaching someone uh on the sake of their good intentions because they are a competitor with you they are a competitor as daniel plainview saw even 0:3:7
if you don't think of them as such even if you think of them as comrades in the social media hierarchy that we're all embedded within and are motivated by without our knowledge we are competitors with one another so it's not so much that we're assuming bad faith it's that we are practicing because we when we imagine other people's motivations tell me if i'm wrong here but this is how i think we really do imagine others motivations you have to at a certain base assume that other people are like you because you are the only reference point for humanity the definition of human is you because you're the only one you know so you are the only person

you know so you're that's the only standard you can use for what uh for what a 0:4:8 human wants and why how they operate and i would posit that since we are all in like the post-modern era where none of us really believe in god even people who are deeply religious in this in this i will say at the level of population where it matters not individually we effectively live in the secular wise world that the modernity has created and that pluralistic society demands and that capitalism requires some good things some bad things all of them come together to bring us to a point where we cannot invest our religious faith with actual emotional power because we don't get to live it because we don't get to live the part of religion that actually generates feeling and not just a dry narrative a a a calculus if i do this i go here the feeling of what oneness is if you're a buddhist or what what god is if you're a christian or something that sensation is is uh generated by physical existence by your life by the 0:5:11 practice of your days and those as much as they are determined by the market they cannot be imbued with those things because your actions are alienated during the all of the time that you are operating at the command of this capital within this market context you cannot live the way you cannot live religion the way that people in pre uh capitalist civilizations did now like i said that's a good thing in that you couldn't do that because religion is so specifically fixed uh that because religion when you have like the the terrible thing you want with religion the worst thing you want is when you have that real faith any kind of power but for the most part that is like the faith of the powerless because it's the faith of the mass of people who in all but as we 0:6:16 become less oppressed as the evolution of you know liberal democratic principles that go alongside the evolution of capitalism we are able to exercise freedom on a personal level in the marketplace and that changes our ability that changes our uh uh the way we perceive religion and it abstracts it away from sensation and towards rationalism which is the protestant movement and which is the religion the christianity that pervades in america so everyone i think does not really believe in god in this country in that that they are believing in their head something that they don't feel other than in maybe fits and starts and the thing that they take with them is a uh is basically wrongly translated by their cultural wiring so that even the moments that they actually do feel the real sensations get channeled into this uh uh this this just 0:7:17 market practice this mental conception that doesn't have a practical expression in the way you and so when we act in the world we're acting from a principle that there is no god there is no eternal judgment for our actions therefore we are forced to act in this world existentially as even if there is no freewheel i mean we must act as though there were and choose a choose things to do that's it that's all we can do now we can do that because we think that we can build a a a scaffolding of reason to say that there is actually a god and that that god is real and that that god

makes you do things and then you can make your actions accord with a deeper desire but absent that all you have is your your drive however it's been shaped by your cultural exp experience what you think you want that's what you are operating from 0:8:20 and that's true of everyone else and so it is a narcissistic point of view that is what we are supposed to be homo economicus and that's what we've been turned into by capitalism in this the most advanced now you can say it but then why are why would people be you know uh left-wing in that why would they not just want hobbsy and war of all against wall well some of them are captured by the consequentialist arguments that uh at the pragmatic arguments the reasoned rational arguments that cooperation in the long run is better than competition it's more efficient because it is it i would rather it is less wasteful and more pleasurable to live in a peace than in an anxiety of domination basically and that we should all cease we should seek that through an application of our reason but that's on top of our personal desire to 0:9:21 civilization live in a society that we as we currently exist would want to live in which would provide us with the stuff that we want which we don't really want which is it's our libidinal drive wrapped up in our now the thing is is that because we inhabit ourselves and no one else and we experience our whole lives everything that goes into our lives all of our narcissistic desires and their expressions in our existence you know the way that we hurt other people or you know seek selfishly and have it backfire or be rewarded all of those things are experienced from the inside so we know why we did it and so we forgive ourselves at a certain level and we justify why we did things and why we want things and we have this ball of justifications around a lifetime of actions and so we know we're operating in good faith because we know what came 0:10:22 before us we project outward to everyone else that essential assumption of narcissism but removing any accompanying trust that comes from knowing why someone is the way they are knowing why they believe what they believe and why they want what they want all you see is the naked desire stripped of any context any kind of uh extenuating circumstances any kind of like any reason just pure hostile competitive drive that you have to compete with and that is where the bad faith comes from as everyone is operating for the assumption that everybody else even in their comradely spaces where everybody is a good socialist but yeah but what do they really want where are they really interested in because what would i really be interested in if i was somebody else like me but worse like me but not justified for the things i did well guess what a lot of those people are just as justified as you but because you don't 0:11:24 know them you didn't experience that from the inside you don't know you can't you don't operate from that assumption you operate from the assumption that they are you stripped to the barest id and so that's why there can be no meaningful solidarity at the intellectual ideological level of online uh or even organizational left uh politics

because everyone is because absent the unifying experience of a class identity and a class life to push you towards that you just go in a hedonic circle banging into and like if the if we die out if humanity is destroyed if we do get to the common ruin of the contending classes which at the end of marxism if you end up with that option 0:12:26 if it clicks zero if it clicks black instead of red uh you go you're done because it's a totalized it's a whole it's an ecosystem now that is like the the uh the feedback loops are fully developed because the market is totalized and the economy is sterilized and technology is totalized so it's it's it's one and the other so common rule of the contending classes at the end is kaputski it will be because everyone operated from that assumption and because you cannot have a society where everyone is operating for that assumption that is not pure capitalistic exploitation that's how it will end up always and the libertarian sees that reality and says good because i we i am stripped of any emotional uh connection to the world around me which is are my actual understanding of my connectedness to the rest of the universe like emotions 0:13:27 are our sense literally of connection it cannot be expressed if it could be expressed there would not be all these disagreements about religion there would not be this spiritual deadening if you could just say it you have to feel it and that's why like you can't even and like there's no you can't say like the old post left the 90s post left the bob black guys like eco primitive guys guess what we will just rise from the ashes and do it again we'll rise from the ashes and do it again unless we get to a point where species uh the world spirit the old hegelian conception of a of a species coming into awareness of itself biologically as a species the way that a consciousness comes into awareness you get to a point where technology our ability to like manage production 0:14:29 homeo and create homeostatic uh interactions between our biome and ourselves cellul like individually within uh our our species and then with other species that cannot be done in the absence of a technological development not just bear technology but social technology the the unembedding of people from parochial pre-modern social formations that are not allowed for the interaction between uh other societies or a system where the deterritorialized into into the same organic relationship with his community as existed in pre-modern societies but the community now is the human race okay i hope that made sense that got a little abstract i think i know uh cause like 0:15:31 let's see let's go back to the the the president's as uh as pop culture models that since now uh you know politics is fully fused with entertainment at the level of like not not no longer like subtextually you know like in the debordian sense directly like our our our social relationships stripped to market transactions that interact with our choices within a spectacle that consumes both politics uh and entertainment and we've coughed up these two dysthesis and antithesis these two gods around these two uh sets of cultural mores we got the prestige tv anti-hero and obama who i talked 0:16:32

about last time and then the reality tv star in trump that i didn't talk about as much and i want to bring him up back up because in both cases what you have is the dream the dream because it has to be a dream it's not a nightmare because they're enjoying it they wouldn't be watching if they weren't that's the crucial thing to understand here everyone is enjoying themselves yes their lives are miserable but when's the when it comes to politics they are enjoying themselves in fact if you really want to break down my college non-college divide it might basically boil down to uh are you enjoying yourself or not when you interact with politics and i mean at the deep level like are you engaging with it to get off if you are not if it's imposing on you i think you're gonna find the whole ***** spectacle of of this uh this pseudo-class war that we're biting and this cultural expression of this confused attempt to sort people into meaningful like uh categories while ignoring this vast number of people for whom this whole thing doesn't mean anything but is supposed to be very important to them and are going to over time get more hostile and they're going to form up with those people within the bubble who are hostile who are driving the conflict with their other half the half that insists on mores and norms and insist on you not enjoying yourself in order to enjoy yourself and saying yes of course we're all having fun here but as democrats the way we have fun is not having fun the way we enjoy ourselves is by denying ourselves why well see we went to school and when we went to school we found out that if you are quiet sit at your desk uh be respectful to other people uh and uh are good in interpersonal interactions and sensitive uh and uh conscious of others well and you pay attention in school you learn things and you're good at it well you get a piece of paper that lets you get a nice job where you don't have to work with your hands and you get to imagine yourself as somebody who could be the protagonist in one of the shows you watch like the job and so the things that get you that are these things so now i know all that stuff that the carrot at the end of this doesn't exist anymore there's no applause no you're not getting that you're not getting any of this these are gone those jobs are over that's not a thing anymore this paper only gives you debt that you got to pay off any way you can find out but you should still do all this stuff because it makes you a better person and we're over here deciding who's good and bad and we're going to put you on our side if you do if you don't now once again it doesn't confer anything to you and once again here we're talking about everyone who is operating essentially from total narcissism because it is the godless cosmos who is taking that deal when the other team says because front was prestige tv but hey network television but with more boring parts network network television but with more stuff that you're supposed to think about so the entire prestige tv genre is about sublimation and it's this these guys the people who watch it the boys and girls who watch it they're in participating in this erotic

sublimation but they have to have been initiated into that to care outside of that are the people who think this is why why would i want to do that why would i want to root for a losing team essentially well i could get with the winners or at least who i imagine the winners to be and i can imagine myself to be a winner instead of pretending i'm a loser even if i am a winner and then having to wallow in it if i am a loser wow those are great options no thank you no and so the prestige tv antihero is the fantasy imagined uh protagonist of the dream of this sip this kind of person the person who went through the car wash and came out with those values if i had this talent if i had this set of skills if i was able to negotiate the machinery of our fallen world skillfully enough i could get these rewards i could get the ability to be a tough guy alpha guy and uh not worry about feeling uh you know getting being awkward in social situations like tony sprano uh i can dominate all spaces with my like a ***** super villain like walter white i can seduce any woman i want like don draper and of course they're all guys because there's a male the male gaze is implicit in mass entertainment but women are there too and they're enjoying it as well because part of this is this is for everybody remember like this is post-feminism this is for everybody this is what we're all seeking and that used to be a male dominated still is a male-dominated concept but women are now expected to participate in it as well now that's because we want to be you know equal but it's also because everyone needs to have a job now everyone needs to have a job so it's better to have one that's a little and so but what is reality tv in reality tv world you have people who have succeeded your dream because they're on tv they clearly aren't doing a shitty job by virtue of the fact that you're watching them on television and they're not and people who know who they are and um why it's not for skills really it's not for any uh set of values or performances of etiquette or anything like that it's uh it's just being themselves it's just being themselves it's just just i am so me that people should look at me and that anybody could get that and remember these are the fantasies that we project out of our miserable reality and so they have to applaud but they have to plausibly involve us invol being there we have to relate to them that's what makes them fancy it's always us that we're imagining so we imagine that we you have to have gone through that thing to look at these sublimated boring prestige tv ani heroes and go yes or strip them of all the prestige and just watch them if there's violence like the guys who love sopranos because if he shoots a lot of people uh but and then the dream of the person who does not accept those they look at someone who is just themselves and burst through and succeeds on that by virtue of will will charisma whatever you want to call it and donald trump was one of those guys in that era that was that archetype was being created the same time it was of obama the same exact time it was of obama he was uh he was one of them

donald trump yeah he went to college sure he was a businessman but that's not why he was the ***** uh the guy that's not why he was the king because he was ***** donald trump it's because he was a big orange maniac who you couldn't stop looking at just like everybody else on reality tv because even if they have a real job they don't have a real job there's a ***** million pawn shops why are we looking at this guy's pawn shop because he's chumly and he's ***** the guy the guy three guys who look like each other's dad i think somebody described oh and i forgot to say the 0:24:48

the the uh the way that that reality tv served as um came into being as the network alternative to uh trying to elevate content by just doing shooting real people because one thing about it was it was way way cheaper reality programming is vastly cheaper than the descriptor program so it is once again driven by the market driven by this competitive this this market being created essentially by the deregulatory framework of the 70s of the 80s and 90s telecommunications acts and such all of this is at every point like you could talk i mean i'm talking about you know sort of airy stuff but all of it ends up being driven at base by changes in material relationships those are in turn driven by shifts within a greater cultural superstructure but the question of the question is always where is the where is the conduit and my main thesis is that what we think of as the driver is not nothing is driving that i think we have 0:25:50 reached the point where it is the market itself driving and the cultural superstructure which was necessary to create uh to fill the void of coercion that co that coercion couldn't because that's essentially what the superstructure is right what ground she talks about you know all societies are oppressed or our class societies are oppressive so there is you have to coerce people into doing stuff because they're doing it for somebody else and once again they have no reason to want to do that so that has to be coerced culture is the thing that fills the gap where coercion can't because there can't be a guard at every door there cannot be total surveillance in all in previous civilizations and uh people's conditions of life could not be so precariously balanced upon a wage relationship that could be rescinded at any time like we are in the thing the main thing about americans the main thing that makes us the vulnerable so precarious the sa the reason that precarity in america defines our politics in every sense is because we are so removed from our ***** means of persistence for the most 0:26:52

part uh our means of um i can't even ***** say the word i'm so that we are fully coer we are fully the market what we what we don't even think of as a political order what we think of as natural because we can never for the most part say no thanks we can't opt out we can't do what the uh english peasantry could do which would say no thank you i'll uh i'll just i'll farm my i'll do my turnips over here i got my uh i got my sheep over they go into the the the common uh the common grass over there it's great yeah no i'm fine in fact in in the england the real starting

gun of capitalism was the enclosures when the royals went up because they couldn't get enough workers after the black death to do like the to to uh you know to create those early cottage industrial centers uh because people could just stay on the land that they traditionally lived on because they could graze in common uh and those commons were taken and privatized and fences were put up and those people were thrown off the land and forced to go to cities and become wage laborers but even then at that level of development you really could opt out you could try to find some land and in america for a long time the thing that prevented us from having real revolutionary ferment in this country or developing a working class is how easy it was to sustain yourself on the land like that the that is the uh like that's um that is what's one of the elements that made the working class in the in europe actually build up was when there was nowhere else to go but people were packed into cities as coherent working-class people and became more and their precarity became energized because it was part of a movement at that point because it wasn't all getting spent off by us moving literally across the continent and just failing at every level to develop the necessary uh militancy among working-class people and coordination because we could always vent off the steam we are fully at this point in time in america except for a very small percentage of the population fully precarious in our subsistence in that if we don't participate in the wage relationship in some way if we don't get a check from someone we cannot live in a literal sense at least as any way we could imagine it we would become not we would not go back to the farm we which is a real condition that we see around us everywhere and which is essentially the nightmare of western civilization wake up in that condition and that terror it is not accompanied by any corresponding class consciousness to kindle it into coordinated action it just exists as this fire of discontent and anxiety that drives everybody towards the most uh hostile version of themselves the most self-interested the most grasping version the most angry because you feel yourself being squeezed away from from life and having nothing to and can't and unable to think of anything to do about it and that is why politics in this era now as i have said before is about distributing the pain the inevitable pain of the neoliberal order to your enemies because it's their fault this is happening we are in a sinking ship and it's two groups of people trying to kill each other because they think that they're the reason that they slam the iceberg that's it and i mean look at the extreme left and light mean people online what are like the the archetypal uh uh edgelord memes of the left and right guillotines and helicopter rides there's no in neither of these uh imaginariums are you talking about justice are you talking about a new uh worthwhile social order nobody has any hope in that happening even the ***** the nazis don't imagine they're gonna get some edenic splendor and the ***** on the left nobody's really thinking about anything

beyond revenge obviously this is not reality the ship is not sinking we could pick fix 0:32:1 the ship but if paula if the political horizon is as our our mediated reality tells us it is and as our lived realities demand that it is this we will not we will sink and so if all we have is our ability to to instruct our puppets to attack our enemies we're going to do it because what else is to be done other than to let it and that's why what's gonna what's gonna stop this is people reigniting their faith from personal life from experience i know that that's a long shot but i really do think it's the only shot we've got and the sooner and more p and i just think the sooner more people come to that realization and act from it in a day-to-day basis the sooner that kindling is going to catch oh god don't talk about anarchists anarchists are trying to impose their fantasy 0:33:9 notions of of uh their their liberal secular conception of the right their personalized individualized libido that is the most important part libidinal definition of liberty and they operate from that and that means that they cannot get anywhere other than up their own ***** like the rest of us one way or the other anarchists think but if they're anarchists it means that they are accepting the liberal subject not the embedded social subject and that means they can only go in the in the decadent circle of of of performative expression of virtue which subs which is their and part of 0:34:10 this is because we're all operating in america from a folk understanding of freedom that is a yeoman small petty individual uh liberty not a socialized liberty like i said the socialism that emerged in europe emerged out of a feudal bedrock where our understandings of our lives were so socially embedded and inherently socialized that our expressions of uh of the demand for liberty from oppression have a social context that defines them which is why it was driven towards why it was driven towards socialism and why reaction took the form of uh fascism which similarly uh arises or it makes an appeal towards the social embeddedness that american liberty and american like folk conceptions of freedom never did folk autonomy never did we imagine ourselves to all be petty barons that was the jeffersonian ideal we we we 0:35:13 square the circle but we square the uh like we we divide hobbs by lock essentially through real estate like that's it because what the the the question of like uh modern political theory was hobbs and lock how do you fit one in the other how do you accept the need for structures that allow for social and economic intercourse while also allowing for human liberties without destabilizing the system that allows them to flourish this is the question how do we solve that problem and socialism and fascism are european responses socially embedded european responses the american response has only ever been and this is why america is not a fascist country and can't be has only ever been the jeffersonian model of a landowner a sufficient smallholder who is free because he cannot be economically compelled he is literally free because the the 0:36:16 the modern like liberal progressive idea the understanding the synthesis synthesized

version later on that became liberalism as we understand it says yes okay we would all we all know that but in reality there's it's it doesn't quite work because you have to interact with one another if you're gonna facilitate trade if you're going to have a social life and so you have to give up a little bit don't you and that's like our the system of the arc of america's like political ideol uh uh contours are the mark of that that conflict being uh dialectically resolved first in the democrat first between jefferson and hamilton then between the democrat republicans and the federalists then between the whigs and the democrats and between the republicans and the democrats uh that's the that's the movement and uh and like the parties 0:37:17 have switched in their ass in their central role but that's just that's but they have but uh that's really more just an accident of semantics you know and and the civil war more than anything defining and so even our left-wing ideas of liberty are this idea of being ungoverned which is only possible in the jeffersonian fantasia of everyone being a little sufficient smallholder which only works if the land is infinite which it's not if the land's not infinite then eventually you have to start interacting and once you start interacting and you have a social and you have an ideological structure all of this facilitated by the reality of the material relationship the fact that it was this 0:38:18 massive settler colony with this incredible expansion that's what made this a viable ideological superstructure on top of it in the first place if you have this idea that no you cannot be governed and be free and then the necessity of integrating people into a abstract system of a uh like national uh economic market and uh political uh uh organism you get the first big explosion was the civil war which by all ***** rights should have ended with the original structure that uh assumed that degree of autonomy broken up and a new structure created which we didn't do and that is one of the the on the political side you could you want to look at what has hobbled us politically throughout the entire history of the country i think one of the things that like i said the real reason we don't have socialism is because of the uh the free real estate but the political reason the political expression of that deeper truth is 0:39:20 because the constitution's still around everything else is everything else you want to talk about from the ***** new deal and the way that the labor movement was not able to uh continue its uh uh pressing its case against uh capitalism and you know uh uh assert itself through the political organs as a as you know part of the multi-party bourgeois dictatorship all boils down to the constant goddamn tuition being around which means if you want to pin it on one event even though there's no guarantee that anything else would have been different the real give me a ***** quantum leap jump somewhere moment for me in american history is the lincoln assassination once again no guarantee anything's really different but i still such a very hard time imagining anything being better structurally without that having to

by necessity be the one thing the most contingent thing that could have been changed 0:40:22 because everything else is too over determined there's nothing you can pull away and really expect anything else to be different and even this is not that i mean it's still pretty determined but it's just slightly less over so i'm not a marxist of course i am what i think i wasn't i just describing how the ***** material conditions have like moved through stages throughout american history but anyway all of this is to say that i saw a thing online someone asked what's your tendency which i think is one of the most annoying questions ever asked and like the entire impulse i think to get 0:41:23 a tendency is just picking it's it's very much about the subculture it's about being more than anything else like if you're trying to do it like if you have one for yourself is one thing but if you make it if you make it a part of your identity especially online it's it's something else so i've always disdained that but thinking about the the idea of like the post left this new post left as opposed to the 90s post left which was anarch it's like oh you know uh actually it was uh industrialism not capitalism that was the problem we have to go back to a pre-modern social order and stay there uh now it's oh the democratic party has been fully taken the thing is is that this the the first clause of the post-left critique is 100 correct i'm not really adding anything to it when i talk about it it's correct everything i say about the democratic party is 0:42:24 correct but the following cause the enemy and my enemy am i any reasoning that well there is this you know working-class revulsion to this this height this neoliberal like woke hydra that can be channeled to defeat it that is incorrect that is wildly wrong in my opinion and i think the reason that you believe it is so that you can keep imagining that your engagement in this zone is in any way meaningful not just spinning the ***** hamster wheel for your own amusement and that's why i am not post life i am pre left i am in the pre pre-left let's get it going in the chat pre-come free left because as i have said over and over again there is no working class as such in this country there are workers but there's no class consciousness to 0:43:25 go along with it that can be channeled or has been channeled into political uh into political action and political identity and so that means that there isn't really even a left left and right are fake the left and right are complete shadows unconnected a shadow boxing among a subsection of workers and owners who share a common set collection of college inflected and so that the left is going to come out of those people not just those people people who are in part of here too but who opt out who break free those people that group and both people within both of those are going to form some left so this moment the reason everyone's freaking out and yelling at 0:44:26 each other all the time basically is because there isn't a real left so everyone is just out for themselves even if they do believe earnestly in socialism even if they are of the most pure of faith it's still because they don't think anything can be different

at base and they're not operating from any faith that things could be different they are also operating out of libidinal desire and they overlap and so and so i will keep my eyes as focused on what's in front of me as i possibly can and if i see this left if i see sparks and embers of this left by god i'll holler to the mountaintops but not for people to do anything for people to pay attention because it is only through people operating at the level where their basic needs not this sensual desire not our pervy little recreation but our needs are connected to a belief that we can that's the hope is the ***** thing that's missing hope is the thing that makes all of our political activity sterile and speculative we don't have hope and you can't have hope if you're online because it's designed to destroy hope it's this acid bath for hope hope comes from the people around you hope comes from seeing the fruits of cooperation seeing and feeling feeling what it means to connect with someone else and cooperate with someone else towards an end and wouldn't you know it doing the thing was easier and it worked and that means that all these questions that have frozen people into these this dance this death and and have meant and it made it impossible to even imagine coherent political action coming out of it can break out of those because those concerns will simply i submit not appear and if they appear they will be dealt with not in some traumatic horror show that results in splintering and accusations so that people can take the moment to remind everybody that they're the good one it will be in real good faith argued and real good faith resolved because everybody will be in a position to have skin in the game know that there's a reason that they're doing what they're doing of hope that it will be successful and then to see the results of it and that continued in a cycle literally builds consciousness that is what describing what i'm describing is the how it actually functions people say it but that's what it means that's in practice and the reason everyone feels like so paralyzed is because there's no practice part of it there's no imminence it's just dry air we build ships and bottles and then we bring them to the ***** harbor yacht and yes it's a pandemic i'm not mad at anyone for not doing that i'm saying don't gnaw yourself into oblivion over this ***** replace that need to care and i know it's like what do you want me to do i'm in my apartment like i said just reading a book is better that's better talking to someone is better even if challenge yourself read something you wouldn't normally read on a subject you don't know anything about get orthogonal to your experience and just give yourself an ability to recognize the moment when it appears instead of letting it go because you were too round up you were you were mistaken for us for trees and your attentions were elsewhere and of course you know get your uh go bag ready and your survival seeds and your wind up radio and all of your mres always a good idea to do that but all of it starts with logging off again and again i say it it is the mandala we come back here and here we are jordan peter one somebody

said that this is jordan peterson for people who hate their parents and i just that threw me because jordan peterson people hate their ***** parents why didn't they clean their room of course they hate their ***** parents why wouldn't they have cleaned their room why do they need this weird old canadian how many times their ***** mom tell them to clean the goddamn room and it took this freak to show oh 0:50:35 because thank you thanks to the uh ancient or anciently imprinted dragon slaying archetypes you should not live in a collection of ***** socks and empty mountain dew bottles you needed him to tell you that you clearly don't respect your parents i don't know about love or hate but you somebody said at the end here tony said 20th century progressivism and its failures i would say 20th century progressivism was on its own terms an incredibly successful project i mean we are living in the aftermath of it like the progressive project was how do you channel social alienation 0:51:36 away from revolutionary militancy and the answer was create a government that was mixed in its economic structures enough to facilitate redistribution and minimize hyper exploitation and prevent the working class from reaching the coherence and militancy that marx imagined would lead to the overthrow of capitalism and it was the progressive movement that spawned a new deal and directed it from its heights that directed the the purging of the uh labor movement of communists in the 40s and 50s and then was right there in the in the driver's seat in the carter administration to carve the heart out of the american working class so on its it was a it was a successful project and i would say of all the even its political practitioners most of them would agree if they were alive today i mean some of them are real i mean maybe la follette you know but i'm talking about like i'm not even talking more 0:52:38 so much about the political the politicians as i am the the greater um you know the army of of uh bureaucrats and thinkers and uh and culture creators who made it i mean as woodrow wilson party the democratic party if if uh if the republicans are the party of dem of jackson then the democrats are the party of wilson and i know you say well they're both democrats that's because that slice of of like the pie that was the republican they were the never trumppers you know like they're now they're now drifting over towards the wilsonian side and they will they'll they'll just be yeah and the democrats are also the parody of hamilton and uh republicans of 0:53:40 the party of jefferson in a more abstract sense but yeah like that's that's been the twined that has been the central driver of the political uh element of you know the greater all right okay oh wait a minute i think i was a few minutes late last time so question yeah because like people say oh well lincoln wouldn't have gotten rid of the constitution in 1865 absolutely not but say that the rat a radical reconstruction is pursued that creates a that uh manifests in a greater degree of resistance from uh the white elite like what if they realize oh this isn't this is an actual surrender not 0:54:41

a like conditional surrender oh there's this is this really is at stake and they would put up another fight but the the union would have been in a much stronger position even than it was in 1861 and would have been able to win that fight too and if it had i think that by the end of that war if lincoln were alive or if the successor to lincoln like oh god thaddeus stevens don't let don't oh god don't oh getting a little fatty president thaddeus stevens is getting me a little flustered there it was in a position to remake of that you think they're ***** bringing back the constant ***** tuition ***** stoves then we could have had a situation where you know we don't have this insane machinery that is designed to obfuscate power it's designed for skate power the presidency is supposed to be commander is supposed to be one of the rare positions in the western world of someone who is both the head of state and head of government those are usually different people in constitutional monarchies the head of state is ceremonial it is the king or queen royal family then you have the head of government the prime minister the head of the in a constitutional republic similar thing like israel uh has a president ireland has a president and they don't really do anything either they get voted in but they're mostly ceremonial the real power is the head of government we have a situation where it's supposed to be one and the same but now i would say that the full solidification of like the ideological polarization and uh within congress like the the full taking hold of like the post contract with america republican party has created a situation where for the past two presidencies i would argue the president has essentially been a head of state in uh in pr in practice has been a head of state only essentially if the head of state had like authority over foreign policy domestically though they function as a head of uh state and the first it was paul ryan i would say at the beginning from 2010 but since 2015 the prime minister of the united states has been mitch mcconnell the president was barack obama now then it was trump and he'll be biden now but all through those years is mitch mcconnell it will continue to be mitch mcconnell he is the actual wielder he is the actual head of government but we don't think that way we don't respond to politics that way we don't talk about politics that way we don't imagine power that way which means we have no way and that's a situation that would not have allowed to exist i think because uh you know restructuring of the american system because there would have been a recognition of oh yeah this doesn't work it only worked then because it was a ***** talking shop full of fancy boys who had a totally unified class position and this figure of george washington to imbue the office with it only worked they were only able to sell the presidency because it had ill-defined powers and everyone knew george washington was going to be president and it's still almost buckled under that immediately that as soon as he was out of office they ***** passed the alien and sedition act and essentially said yeah forget the first amendment that we just ***** signed because partisanship immediately flared up and then it took a war of 1812 to create another like a false dawn with the air of good feeling but then immediately within that uh van buren and jackson created the the and then the whigs emerged as an opponent and then the sectional crisis which could not be cons uh constrained by constitutional order exploited the whole thing and it's like yeah it exploded the whole thing but it was arrested and the arresting it was 0:58:49 lincoln's assassination that's what stopped everything in its tracks the worst possible person took off the worst person in the world basically who conceivably could have gotten that job got it it's almost demonic because it's so contingent we talk about history you know as this as a as a material drive of something that is not made up of of decisions by individuals or the outcomes of individual events because everything is over determined by everything else and it's true but within that firmament there are moments there are those quantum moments where the whole thing dissolves where things move so fast that individual decisions become much much more magnified in the power of their lasting impact and a new world can be built you've literally created a portal and we got the rad bad one or the worst one it wouldn't there's no telling 0:59:51 it would have been perfect of course there's always the rod sterling chance that it would have been worse because something else would have happened that nobody could anticipate and it would have killed everybody or whatever but i'd guess it would be better but we don't live there we live here we got to make the best of it and let's try folks huh let's all get together for the big win

baby here i am i'm a man on the scene i can't get you what you want but you me getting back into chocolate milk loyal viewers of the flicks vlogs will remember that 0:1:3
i went through a chocolate milk phase at the beginning of quarantine it really is delicious i have to say the chocolate melts with the milk truly indulgent combination of okay i wasn't gonna mention it but babies are not workers why are people mad at that kids can't work the only way you make money in our capitalist system is through wage relationships if you're not an owner so kids can't work so that means the more kids you have and you the jobs pay per person so if you get wages as a parent or as 0:2:5
two parents the more kids you have the farther spread the money is among mouths and therefore the more the inequality exists how is this a thing to be controversial how can you get mad at that unless you have like everybody online confused uh moral arguments with empirical questions like they hear this they're non-workers and they think oh my god he's saying they're bad he's saying that they're parasites no he's saying that they can't contribute to the labor market and get money on the labor market which is the only place you can get money if you don't have capital and so therefore the more families you more the bigger your family is the heart the more inequality will be between you and somebody who has the same job and makes the same pay but has fewer kids and the only reason the only thing this might wave any of this makes sense is if people are hostile to the idea of people having children they think we should not be encouraging it through all their leftism what they really are is a eugenicist progressive who wants to make sure that people don't irresponsibly 0:3:7
over breed as if that's the real problem we're but anyway i won't say anything more about it because it's a dumb twitter argument if people don't know what i'm talking about that's good it's some ***** people have been yelling about matty b stats my boy matt brewing who look the man has the arks you do not have the args the people yelling at the thing that makes me most annoyed about it is everyone who's trying to yell at matt burning knows less than he does about what they're talking about who are they because and they half the arguments are made up and mis understandings of the of the point for that very reason they literally don't understand what he's saying

because they're too dumb but they they decide they're going to take them and the thing is is that like the people who the closest thing to a real coherent critique of it is it's not actually the labor market that it crosses inequality it's capitalism okay no 0:4:9 no ***** that's not what he's interested in matt b matty b's entire idea as like his contribution to the public good is that i am very good at the args and the numbers that means my job should be to create policy ideas that presupposes the existing political structure that we live with it that presupposes capitalism because we're not getting rid of it right away there's nothing to be done about capitalism right now but as it brought up a broader left project having policies to talk about and push for in the cur in the reality of the world we live in that that's it's not any less valuable than anything else anybody's doing on the political spectrum let's just say that it's certainly not uh uh undermining any like greater revolutionary energy it's providing a service now you can say it's useless you can make an argument that there's no point at this point in the in the decline of capitalism to even be uh uh humoring 0:5:11 the notions that we can do any kind of systemic reform to this thing there's no reforming this as people like to say and to that i say okay fine but then don't get mad at matt brennan bruning because he doesn't agree and he's not operating from those principles you're essentially yelling at stradivarius because he doesn't make pianos he is he does he does wonkery therefore he presupposes that you can do some sort of change to capitalism that could move it in the direction of socialism and make people's lives better at the same time if you say that project is dead you might be right i might be persuaded but that has nothing to do with what he is saying and getting mad at him is stupid and it's about positioning yourself as somehow smarter or more informed or more right or more good or more virtuous than him in the marketplace of ideas and personalities and it's because everybody's a ***** idealist 0:6:15 everybody is an anarchist at the end of the day no matter what your tendency is if you've really invested the discourse with meaning in your life you're an anarchist you believe that it's all about phase shifting reality through persuading people because how else could you explain using all that time and energy to make arguments on the internet unless you really think if enough people hear you you can convince them to change their beliefs which will somehow change their actions as though their beliefs are not the byproduct of what they have to do to survive or where they find themselves in the in the hierarchy of precarity within neoliberalism ideology i'm not i am for i mean i'm projecting in that i'm describing what i'm doing too yes but i've also accepted that and part of my what i talk about is an attempt to break me and people listening away from the cycle and using examples of how if you don't do 0:7:16 that you end up wasting your very life you're not even having the fun you're not even having the most fun version of of diverting yourself there are more fun ways to get your rocks off than this they're more they're less uh there are ways that do less to like tighten you up into a ball of anxiety the way that obsessing about online politics does there are ways to get off that get you off like actually relieve and out end an orgasm instead of this like agonized edging that is what political ideology uh as subculture amounts to like go to david buster's for christ's sake virtual dave and busters my vibes are i feel pretty good lately i feel like i'm in a good place i think part of it is because finally understanding the scope and structure of what i want to put down on paper which i really feel like i have to do at some point to justify keep doing these because it is indulgent to do this like this is easier than like a harder but maybe more meaningful attempt to express myself could be uh but as long as i feel like i'm doing them with a a real near-term goal in mind uh they're very fulfilling other parts of my life also i think not coincidentally going better going well because it's just i'm better able to deal with everything around me including stressful stuff that means i appreciate the good stuff more it's good and of course a lot of that 99.9 of that is not me it's not my mindset it's my absolutely privileged condition i'm in a little ball i'm i'm i'm tucked away i'm genuinely not affected by this slow motion catastrophe of living in america it gives me the freedom to work out my stuff and feel and and like you know address my relationship to you know my indulgent artistic pursuit of a career whatever you want to call it uh and that's you know that really is i think why i understand people who do turn into the gay state's communism fantasy because they imagine like people who feel are relatively positive within the structure but also feel a sense of guilt and participation and exploitation because they do participate in exploitation and then they imagine well if everybody could have this we'd be okay but the problem is this is too bound up in your personal pleasure it's too bound up in consumption as lifestyle what this is is an atomized uh de-spiritualized uh socially dead existence that has to be sustained uh through the uh transference of meaning onto objects and then the consumption of those objects the physical pledge using surplus to assuage existential anxiety through consumption is the engine of everyone's idea of what the good life is even mine in my little bubble being my little in my little artisan bubble which of course is still connected to networks of exploitation that i participate in and benefit from and i feel that same spike and you want everybody to feel good like you but if everybody felt good like you it would be a nightmare because it would require uh full automation and but it would end up with us being the wali people because we would have no spiritual drive it would be it would be it would it's it's dead like uh like that's the part of you know uh like the conservative response to uh to modernism you know like the the meister reactionary argument against the enlightenment and the french revolution is that you're losing a a felt spiritual communal identity a a crucial part of life when you pull it pull human existence out of its social embeddedness and the thing is they're but the problem is there's nothing you can do about it that process is inevitable we are driven we're going as soon as we accumulated the capital surplus to create the cultural institutions that gave us permission to to hyper exploit the way capitalism did the technology both uh in terms of physical things like electricity steam engine whatever uh metallurgy uh and then social technologies like the and uh and humanism as soon as those as soon as those tools exist in the hands of humans 0:12:28 they're going to use them and and accumulating that surplus requires the these the the uh eviction of people from the rural idiocy of smallholding uh tenant farming into the urban environment of markets and exchange because that's where ***** surplus gets made or that's where surplus gets gets lived it gets taken from the country into and that was going to pull us away from that social network no matter what the question is how are we going to uh integrate that you know the the ghost of that into the institutions we were creating and we have had done a bad job so far but i argue that if we do build any alternative any uh class collaborative challenge to the existing paradigm it will come with a a spiritual dimension that will be infused throughout 0:13:29 its structure whereby and it won't be religion it will be a civic tr it will be a civic translation of the old religious feelings a modernized secularized spirituality that will emerge as a byproduct of and generator of class consciousness and but that's why you that's why uh that's why we have to work together because it's far too easy otherwise to convince yourself uh that the perpetuation of a status quo that sees you as a fat happy little sack of i don't really have any thoughts about maradona i'm 0:14:30 not a soccer guy he seemed like a pimp seemed like an absolute pimp in a legend the guy was doing bumps after uh after king ***** cheated and then kind of admitted it uh in the world cup against excuse me the disgusting english anybody who beats the english is a king of course i hear but i'm not a huge uh huge soccer head i'm not a footballer mate i'm not actually a gooner that's a bit when i say that i'm not a gooner i'm not a bloody gooner mate yeah dudes rock has definitely taken a taking it on the chin here with the death of maradona he's a dude's rock icon what is a like a jock who embodies all of the most zesty hedonistic cliches of the sporting life 0:15:34 combined with a you know perhaps theatrical and perhaps indulgent but still deeply felt left-wing religious sentiment you don't see that too often because it's not like you know yeah yeah like a lot of a lot of famous people have like fake politics just like a lot of non-famous people have fake politics but he was like hanging out with fidel it seems like another one of those type somebody asked for a book recommendation 0:16:39 on american history which is kind of a hilariously wide topic but i would say that to cover a subject an area of time that's generally understudied by even like you know casual but serious uh american history hobbyists or or academics or something

is the the antebellum period uh like the development of the of the first two party systems before the civil war and uh sean williams who is an insufferable lib uh awful politics but a damn good historian uh which is you know true of a lot of people uh wrote a book called the uh rise of american democracy from jefferson lincoln which i think does uh an incredible good job of laying out the dynamics between the two political party the political factions that emerge out of the constitutional order uh he is very uh clearly pro democracy he's pro uh he's in favor of the jacksonian turn his essential premise is that once uh the two like factions factional uh of government 0:17:41 like broke up the federalists and the anti-federalists uh what happened is you saw a general correlation among the federalists and then later wigs with restrictions on the franchise in terms of uh like i uh voting uh poll taxes and uh you know uh uh land ownership requirements uh age limits things like that um and the jeffersonian and the jacksonian party was favored expanding the franchise uh and that boiled down to uh the fact and and and and willins is right that you know the democratic urge like if that were going to assign a progressive value to the america's democratic notions of one person one vote that we now sort of take a sacrosanct than that drive even if it was at the behest of a party that was essentially made up of at that point uh 0:18:42 drunk uh award healing crooks in the uh uh in the cities and drunk indian scalping uh scotch irish but they were the people and what they wanted expansion what they wanted land what they wanted the ability to get some to be have no man be their master was the democratic impulse and the federalist wiggs who wanted us to hey how about we slow down and build up a little bit so we can compete in this new like global uh politic uh this global trade system that we find themselves ourselves in and this like alliance system like we are now part of like an emerging global world system an economic world system we have to participate in that we're not going to be able to ***** around in our little sandboxes we need to ***** have an actual coherent government power that can compete at the global stage but the people who understood that were people who were at the heart of commerce in cities like new york and boston and philadelphia they weren't out in the countryside which is where the people were breeding like rabbits and more were coming in every day and so these people who had the best interest i would argue of the the united states 0:19:45 as a political project even in addition yes like were they looking to exploit labor absolutely or did they want to financialize the economy and like bring people under a yoke of like economic compulsion yes but that's government the only reason that feels like a ***** uh some sort of norman yoke is because we're operating under the delusional notion of individual liberty that can only be persist in the fake uh eternal expanse of america where everyone has operated off the assumption of land as being infinite can you imagine that you could be ungoverned because you could be subsistent you can live in a current world you can interact socially you don't have to go back to pre-civilization you could be civilized but you cannot be compelled because you could always grow your own ***** stuff even though to do anything with that to you know buy more to uh improve your land to uh inc uh to acquire the fruits of surplus like the finished goods that you can only get by trading with cities any of that requires cooperation that does involve a alienation of authority to a third party to adjudicate these uh exchanges you have to give up some liberty and because there were so many people who had an interest in just expansion in its own right southern slave occur southern slavercrats who made up the intellectual backbone of this movement by the way they were all southern slave owners who made up the the intellectual heavyweights behind the jeffersonian um demanded this endless expansion but without any ability to hook any of this together internally improve create canals great networks uh create a national debt reduce tariffs between areas so you don't have to pay ***** uh 15 cents every time you go across a state line with your and that's the two-party system it's the superego and the id with the ego being like the overall project of capital accumulation in north america and that's the party structure and so at that point the democratic impulse which we now which we now post working class as a the rising of the working class and then the arising of racial uh and gender you know uh uh uh resistance to those hierarchies now the democratic experience in our minds is connected to uh this virtuous sort of you know on the left we'd say like a working class socialist demand for for you know freedom and liberty for everybody meaning a freedom from and a freedom too but that was not the original conception of american freedom it has been turned into that or i should say like proletarian like closest thing like mass little guy you know because we all imagine that we're regular people in this country no matter what we owe uh that that the definition the democratic definition of who though it is and how we conceive of it is different it was individual freemason or uh yeoman families striking out into the wilderness and so willans is sympathetic to the democrats just on the argument like hey this is the democratic impulse you know uh but there's also a book called what half god wrought by daniel howe that covers the same period uh but from the point of view essentially like as a as a uh partisan of the wings and saying that all the stuff that these hillbillies wanted required the creation of these institutions and the thing is that's the way like the reason that this is a dialectical process is because these two things need each other these two things are inextricably linked but the nature of their the social relationships of the people who live in these in this system the fact that people who understand the need for trade and the need for strong government and the need for organs of state live in cities all concentrated together sipping tea with one another and the people who think that the next thing the only thing to do is grab the next uh acre of land you can find are all just running off into the countryside and just larger in number and only like aggregate through their votes and have no other understanding of a desire other than just personal advancement of their family unit their ability to pile up means they have to fight each other even though they need each other and in the fighting you create a new thing and the fighting led to eventual the whole thing blowing up because the sharpening of the contradictions and the civil war which should have like i said and maybe could have without lincoln dying bloggered in a a a self-conscious like i wouldn't say working class but like proto-proletarian essentially the mobilized yeomanry and working class 0:24:52 of the north in the form of the union army against the econ and and hopefully the uh the small holding and poor white population of the south could be could have united to essentially instead of making a uh a treaty which is essentially what happened like the united states over the decades of the reconstruction worked out a peace treaty with the southern slaveocracy the terms of which were all right no more slavery but racial caste system and compelled labor through uh sharecropping and convict leasing that is equivalent to slavery and then they spit their finger and they that made the deal that was the real end of the civil war it was the treaty ended with with the real treaty was not in appomattox it was uh the uh it was the 1877 0:25:55 uh uh agreement to allow rutherford hayes and the republicans to hold the white house even though samuel tilden had won the popular and probably electoral vote in exchange for ending reconstruction that was the real end of the civil war and the reason it ended on those terms is because any capacity to create that coalition was destroyed by johnson essentially by immediately reimpo by immediately reimposing in power the former confederate army and the former confederate state apparatus and its ruling class if they had been surrounded they would have fought back like it wouldn't have been they wouldn't have went meeklis the reconstruction still would have been violent but the fight would have been essentially a continuation of the civil war which had ended with the north end of dominant position and with this new 0:26:56 coalition of forces would have been sufficient to finally win a actual unconditional surrender like the one u.s grant demanded at donelson and then you could have initiated a new conception of liberty and new conception of democratic freedom and built on a structure a governing structure around that presumption not maintained this ***** news this this this chain around our neck of the constitution which is predicated on this notion of unfettered individual rulership literal ownership not just of land of course but of people and the labor of people people say won the war lost the peace i think that's i don't know maybe the better way to think about it is that the war didn't end until the end of reconstruction like they had a peace treaty and then they negotiated the settlement like the tweet treaty of west failure took years you don't say the thing ended until the and the turning point was the lincoln 0:27:57 assassination hard to get around that opinion hard to get around that in my mind that that really is like in america history because you look back at what we have and it's like yeah we really never had a chance did we all this land drove us insane all this land is what drove us insane and all this land is what meant that absent lincoln we were bound to do what we did absent lincoln it was over they were going to recapitalize the south reconstruct the planter economy which required essentially required compelled labor because it was labor intensive the thing that ended slavery in the south like the condition of slavery was automation of agriculture the thing that led to the great migration was the fact that in the 1920s automation had caught 0:28:58 up to the agricultural sector to the senate it was much much less labor intensive to to get the crops that uh that were able to be grown as staples in the south and that led to a huge reduction in the demand for rural agricultural labor and so black people move to the urban centers to become part of that army of industrial labor that's how you create a working class as people move to this from the countryside to the cities for one reason or another either enclosure of some kind or but it's it's to me it's easy to imagine a way where if if the coalition of forces in power is different that instead of reestablishing planter agriculture the yeoman model that had settled the north and that the the republicans had extended into the west with the homestead act during the war saying go out there grab some land could have been extended 0:29:59 southward but the reason it didn't have to be is because it was able to be extended outward we could always get more of that yeoman land out there meaning there's no pressure for any kind of internal uh uh that means that the ability to just keep the south as just this cash cow persisted instead of forcing the confrontation over the land because if they've because if yeomanry had been extended through confiscation and distribution of former plantation land the 40 acres you would have broken up the system the structure of uh of racial oppression that underlines southern life even if you don't necessarily break up the the the habits and the important thing is if you extend this redistribution redistribution of land to poor whites and you make the consequence of the civil war that their lives improve then you change the dynamic 0:31:5 of every relationship these people had but also there's those engines those infernal mills out in the east and they demand they demand they demand they demand they need ***** cotton they need staples it's not that cold it's not that cold it's been a relatively warm november i'll say that we've hit it at 60 a couple times it's going to be 60 the i think this is you know part of our new normal that we all love so much don't we love it folks we love it we love you it's so warm i gotta say though that given the ***** uh pandemic and the quarantine i very much appreciate it because you know i can only really see people outside and uh i've been able to see them later than

i thought i would be able to because it was getting really cold a couple weeks ago and i was like damn it i think i might have had my last outdoor hang and i know i don't think so i think there's a few left free state of jones was very disappointing not when i saw it when i it disappointed me essentially as soon as i saw the trailer i remember hearing the movie was going to be made and being excited about it because that's a very interesting story but sadly uh the film itself even by the time it came out i was like oh this kind of looks like they ***** the dog and then i watched it and it ***** the dog mainly just because of how dreary it is like more than anything else more than any historical inaccuracy or anything it's just very uh dull mcconaughey is just one of those boring righteous kind of gandhi-like hero figures who is very very because we're just supposed to observe and bask in his virtue like look at this good southern white man which of course the fact that mcconaughey cast himself in that role it really does speak to the lib need the liberal need to be seen as good that that is like the presiding element of uh like our culture of liberalism and this is why so many people hate it and think that it's some sort of cultural marxist conspiracy it's just the incentive structure if all if if if if evil is inherent in our world if we're fallen in the sense that capitalism is real and cannot be changed then the only uh reason that bad things and good things happen is because they're bad people and good people and it's about dividing them into those two groups and then one group kind of yelling at the other group and so part of that is establishing yourself as one of the good ones and here's matthew mcconaughey literally playing a white southerner who sep who leaves the confederate army in order to fight for uh uh black liberation in a multi-racial army oh my god this is awesome you know it's fast john brown fills out a very similar character like he's the fantasy of virtue that the guy playing him is imagining he is and the viewer who of course imagines himself as the protagonist imagines that they are this reminds me of the fact that brad pitt produced 12 years a slave and he also has a role in it if you've seen that movie there's one scene where brad pitt pays a canadian carpenter who comes to build a a barn on the land of michael Fassbender's uh plantation and fastband is this monstrously awful slave owner and uh all pit does is give a little speech about how he thinks slavery is bad and then he smuggles the letter from a solomon northrop home that gets him sprung out of slavery and so he saves the day it's like i'm gonna we're gonna make and it's hard to not think that he decided to make that movie to do that you know what i mean yeah it's gonna be 60 on friday gonna go to the park uh i actually just rewatched a little bit of the john adams uh tv series and giamatti is great but it is just a baffling decision the fact that they it is i mean it's like almost perverse like the gimmick seems to be with john adams that well you guys know all the ***** about the revolutionary war you know all the cliché stuff what about the stuff that like fell through this the cracks what about the stuff

that's like less remembered let's appreciate that and it's sort of this and honestly it's part of that like more than anything it's part of that uh cultural turn in the late 90s the david mccullough ***** stephen ambrose dad history uh thing of looking back on america and like nodding our heads we nodded our heads proudly of two things the founding fathers and the greatest generation like for american revolution the constitution well done uh and also oh wait way to go with that world war ii just this smug self congratulations and that meant there was a bunch of books about the founding fathers and guys like uh joe ellis became household names on the best seller list and mccullough wrote this book about adams and it really did seem to come down to we know all the big stories so what about one of the less known guys and that what that ends up being is that the documentary or not the documentary the in one of them he's just like going to france during the revolutionary war to like just curtsy with some guys then there's a whole episode where he's the vice president and literally just sitting around and then you know he's got one episode as the president and then they have an entire episode that's just him getting old because one of the things about john adams is he lived to be like 92 he died on the same day as jefferson so they give him a whole a whole episode of him just getting decrepit and it's like there is it more than anything to me it says that the received wisdom we have about the greatest the founding fathers like that bad history that wig dad history we were getting both from school and the culture about that it was so banal was so taken for granted that all they could think to do is just pad this out because like these are interesting questions about the founding of this country these figures did things that we live with that are interesting and the insistence that the only lens to look through any of history is is through the personal these are the great guys and gals who made our history because it's a celebrity culture these were the stars the all the stars are here john adams button gwinnette and g smith and the saturday night live bed so all they could do they could spend an episode on him just his teeth falling out because there's nothing else to talk about it's like yep hamilton said this and then jefferson said this and wasn't it a battle of ideas like it's just vapid but giamatti is very good the episode where they debate the constitution is pretty good but that's always great like 1776 is a fun movie to watch because that's a really cool story and you got the big big rousing speeches and everything and everyone's sweating and but that's because we and it in the first episode shows the early in his career moment when he defended the uh boston massacre british soldiers and that was true because john adams was mr damn norms mr two damn norms because the federalist tradition that he helped establish that turned into the whigs and then the republicans then transformed transmogrified into the democrats now is this super ego this structural uh this uh impulse to build structures of of of coercion

CUSHVLOG 118. SEE THE TURTLE OF ENORMOUS MIRTH!

but towards a productive goal now you can say yes exploitation correct but they're 0:39:19 operating in a world where exploitation is inevitable exploitation is built into human existence they do not believe in the transcendental power of a species coming into its own being and why would they they were they were before that was a coherent concept they were before the working class had come into its own and brought with them the historical agency that had eluded every other class before them how would they know not to do that so they thought they were doing good and and in terms of they were looking out for the best interests of the project of american capital extraction and surplus extraction and but that means that they're going to restrain things and they're going to adhere to norms and traditions the id the demand of like the average american since that's who now who gets to call the shots is more land please more land land plan land or if they're stuck in the city in a wage relationship 0:40:22 more patronage jobs my cousin needs to get a job at the at the cholera pit and also more wages at labor jobs at private though eventually as it coheres into a working class so that's why i think it's silly to root for one side or another in this stuff and i understand why you have instincts and like in certain cases i think you should have rooting interests you know like the civil war that's a clear one but when you're talking about something like you know those jeffersonian and those those revolving uh conceptions like that generated america's contradictions and then overcame them and created new ones you can't pick one or the other because they cannot come separated uh no i think if you're going to make them i'm trying to think like if i 0:41:26 wanted to do anything about the founding generation which would be tough because i don't find it terribly interesting because it really was just a bunch of fancy doily boys uh getting together and creating a play-acting government creating a fake a fake little funtime play-doh government because they're their built-in assumption is that the structures they had imposed would limit popular participation in government enough to ensure that it was essentially a a talking house for a what they imagined to be unified ruling class because those morons thought that their their refinement and adherence to values was a byproduct of their social position and that it would be the reality and it would that it would form the reality of their class collaboration 0:42:28 forgetting entirely because they couldn't even realize it that no those fancy beliefs you think you hold are generated by your economic interests and those interests are in conflict and as the conflict deepens the ability for these play fake pseudo-political institutions to to uh restrain uh to uh redirect energy and reduce friction is going to collapse and the thing is gonna bust open and it started to shake and shimmer immediately i mean they ***** write the constitution bill it writes and then second term third term adams uh puts out the creates the alien and sedition act it says it's illegal to say man think bean things about me on the internet because the guy

said that i was a hermaphrodite and it's not just like that was john adams the reason it was john adams is because washington didn't need to do it because he was george washington as soon as he was gone replaced by a reduced figure a guy didn't have his aura the game changed and washington himself who by that time 0:43:29 had been like converted from a guy who thought he could transcend politics like all these idiots did two by the end of his second term a convinced federalist and the whole thing started breaking apart and the thing that solidified it for a little bit was the twin attack the twin moves of the uh louisiana purchase and then the war of 1812 would settle the boundaries of america in the near term because those were both jeffersonian democratic moves towards accumulation of land so that the yeoman fantasy could be could persist the the uh myth that greg grandin uh talks about and those two war those two acts created the equilibrium out of the instability of the dem of the conflict between the land-hungry expansion-hungry conflict with indians hungry democrats republicans democrat republicans and the federalists who wanted 0:44:30 to intensify uh market uh financialization and trade and louisiana purchase bought so much land that it essentially reduced the investment that the jeffersonians had in preserving certain things you know because early on jefferson was freaking out about everything like they opened a post office and he's like this is tyranny because the size of the country like the ability to expand within it was still up in the air how are they going to limit like the war kind of started the revolutionary war the real starting pistol was the proclamation of 1763 which set the appalachian mountains as the limit of colonial expansion into north america that was as soon as that happened conflict between the united states and they were worried about that happening again like the worry about tyranny that that moved jefferson was really a worry about the 0:45:32 uh federal government in the form of this merchant tile class in the new england and new york limiting our ability to and louisiana purchase relieved a lot of that pressure now louisiana purchase also got it into the huds of the democrats that we could have the whole thing which led to the war of 1812 which was a democratic attempt to take canada that was why we really went to war in 1812. i know they say impressment of sailors in the history books but that's like how they say that we went to world war one because of the lusitania even though that happened two years before we declared war and the lusitania was sunk in 1915. in 1916 woodrow wilson ran for reelection on a campaign slogan of he kept us out of war that's how much the lusitania was in people's minds when they were voted for president and then a year later but anyway it's like one of those justice stories the real thing was canada we got louisiana we're gonna get we're gonna extend freedom our ability to persist in a fantasy of freedom north and then it was the war of 1812 it discredited the federalists 0:46:34 because they freaked out so bad that the first real secession movement in america was

the hartford convention of federalists and high federalists uh from new england who contemplated a secession of the united states in protest of the war of 1812 because they wanted to make a trade union with britain they did not and then it was the terms of the war of 1812 which was essentially okay never mind it was a slap of the hand getting out of the cookie jar from the uk like okay you you got it you got it you got louisiana you're done and that satisfied the wig of the federalists and you got that brief little moment of fantasy the era of good feeling the last time that the president ever ran for election effectively unopposed was james that was because the the actual material underlying conflict between the two factions was momentarily uh uh uh at a stalemate what broke the stalemate was the explosion of the profitability of cult because that first generation of of of democrats the jeffersonians were all operating at some level on the assumption that slavery was a short-term solution that it would give way over time because it was its profitability was limited for one thing it was deeply extractive and damaging to the soil that it operated in which means there was a shelf life of there was there was a limit to how long you could actually get uh get profit out of particular acreages and it was incredibly incredibly labor intensive things like the cotton engine and other and the opening of international trade and the infusion of capital into the south made it more profitable and what that meant was that slavery became more salient as an economic system separate from the greater american political uh economic system like the free labor that operated that that the uh assumptions of government within constitution assumed because slavery was just sort of left as this thing that existed but was unaddressed in the constitution because they could they had they couldn't get an agreement on it so they just punted it but they figured it's okay we'll always be able to figure it out because it's always going to be this little tea room full of fancy lads which had immediately broke up into a real political fight because there were real stakes which they didn't assume would exist because they were dumb asses because they were idealist dumbasses but you can't blame them because they had to act that way the constitution had to be what it was at the time because of the unique situation that the united states was being formed out of states that were separate imagined themselves to be separate organized governmentally separately and had this uh conflicting economic interests conflicting populations for conflicting not i'm not and or at the very least somewhat different cultures and none of them with the power to militarily overall any of the others they had to compromise like everything we got in the constitution we had to get it should have been destroyed by the civil war like the order that uh that it had supported until then when it no longer when it failed to uh the it's the constitution failed its first real and the fact that we've had like a uh synthesized like completed bourgeois revolution after uh after reconstruction ended and we haven't had that like degree of conflict within the body politic until now uh we've gone this long without it happening again but it's built in it's built in and like this this presidency 0:50:40 this biden trump uh biden presidency where he's the pr he's the king and mitch mcconnell is the prime minister and there's a global ***** pandemic and economic collapse happening i don't know how uh it'll be very interesting to see i say that's for sure it's it's going to take oh my god somebody's talking about who's most evil andrew jackson profoundly evil person but his position in society his position within cap the emerging system of uh of ex of surplus extraction that was being created in north america the great project that he was part of threw him up because he fit 0:51:42 the moment he was willing to do the things that the moment demanded so yes evil but because the times were evil the times are always evil the people in the positions of power are there because they accommodate and support evil they have made the choice they've justified it in their mind somehow either by being a sociopathically self-absorbed or if they're a nice tea drinker and a nice well-behaved boy or girl a nice sublimated individual they convince themselves it's because they're a and that they've made the right choice and that hey this is bad but it could be worse and if it wasn't me it'd be somebody who's less smart who's less compassionate like i like obama and they're all going to be empty shells they are empty gels that just contain the evil of the age to direct it that's all they are if they weren't they wouldn't be there they would not seek the job they would not have made the compromises they 0:52:43 made in their lives they were only able to do that because they were steamrolling over their own human impulses they were steamrolling over their awareness of any connection they had to anybody but themselves and the the thing is is that that is the reason they're in that position those exalted positions is that we're selecting for that behavior in our social order in our in our economic order so those will be the people who will rise so their evil is to be assumed it's not to be judged one against the other the times are what determine the degree of like vileness the degree of per like personal sadism is is honestly secondary to the whole thing and usually a byproduct of the trauma uh of of living in those times which were more which were less civilized than ours because like andrew jackson is the only president who ever actually led a couple of slaves on the natchez trail actually leading slaves to a market he did that the only president we know of and also of course the only president murdered 0:53:45 people in a duel including one duel where he basically cheated by wearing a very bulky coat and standing to the side and then shot the guy in the dick but that was a time of slave coughless and dick shooting so only one good at scuffling slaves and shooting dicks will rise people who i think a lot of people like to think about the evil of great figures of history because they imagine well i might not be consequential i might not be remembered my life might be filled with frustrations and failures and

inadequacy but at least i'm a good person well your goodness is i mean in a way yes like you can't bring yourself to do the things these people can do and that does make you a better person but also you probably didn't find yourself in a position where making the wrong choice was that easy if you're born into wealth and privilege you can it's harder to do you have to commit to doing the wrong thing if it's work that's why a generation of that's why the aj soprano syndrome that's what the fail sons are you're not willing to do what it takes to make it in this world this sociopathic hell realm and so but you're also addicted to the pleasure of it you're addicted to the consumer uh uh indulgence the soparific of consumption and ease of life so you don't push through to find something place someplace where you can affect work and challenge yourself to do an alternative and so hunter Biden is a perfect example of this he couldn't do that like Beau Biden was evil bo Biden got one of the Dupont scions a sweetheart Epstein level deal for raping his child his three-year-old child he uses a ***** scumbag he would have he would have allowed Dupont to put teflon directly in your ***** and your families they would they would they would allow a Dupont to bring a truck to your house because he was going to be president someday oop oh got to answer cancer hunter had every chance to do what Beau wanted to do but he couldn't bring himself but he was too addicted to ease to do anything hard so what did he do instead the second easiest thing destroying yourself with drugs and sex as a distraction and of course as a way to punish yourself because in the long run you only get more miserable because those pleasures lose their luster over time inevitably and the thing is is that that's really the choice we have because we live so atomized lives because the alternative like doing a life living a life where you can find meaning through labor not necessarily the work you do to live but like a work towards making the world better we're working towards a world where your labor is less exploited and you have more alienation you can put that energy there if you think that if there's a path before you that can plausibly get you to that you can always choose that the problem is for millions of Americans because of our social atomization because of the decline in the collapse of those working classes any kind of self-organizing principle within a society without a self-aware identity all the options are be evil or do nothing be evil or distract yourself be evil or delude yourself be evil or drown your brain in in fantasia and and um and rude pleasure and find yourself hating yourself every moment of it but with and more over time because the third option the channel of those things into you know meaningful uh rewarding soul crafting work is not as real in fact it's invisible you would have to talk to other people you'd have to live near other people you'd have to live for and with other people in order to spark that as an option and instead we don't have that we have this despair and and the uh you either despair or you sell yourself you you

despair or you uh you you kill something within yourself you cut you sever the ties that bind you to everyone else like jd vance and ***** uh hillbilly elegy where he's that whole movie is just him severing the connections between him and everyone who ever loved him so that he can get ahead and that's why he's the disgusting reptilian scumbag he is now if he'd stayed with that family it's not like he would have had a good life he probably would have ended up drinking turpentine and dying of fentanyl addiction some people get out some people may if they have like an extraordinary drive or talent they are aware of and have an ability to pursue that isn't interrupted or destroyed by happenstance they can make out of there but those are the broadly the two options you have and like if you choose to kill that part of you and you are adept at the rituals of you know the managerial class you go to college and you come out a dull-eyed liberal or conservative freak and you channel that freaky tude into some sort of political sadism and a life-pursuing misery for everybody if you don't you come out stunned and stunned and and failed to launch and you just go back to your mom's basement or you uh curl up uh and you retreat to the internet and and sucker your fantasies of virtue because you are unable to find a virtuous life within the options given to you and that's most people and then there are the very few lucky who are able to marry any kind of you know autonomy uh to marry participation in the market with the ability to maintain any spiritual connection to the world around you and the people around that's very difficult but the people who are successful for the people who decide can't beat them join them and cover cut the connection the ones who go to college that's your ruling class that's your managerial ruling class those are your democrats the ones who uh reject it either because they aren't able to apply themselves intellectually in the way that they want they can't sit there and type they can't get enough words per minute they don't understand what they can't get their head around the technical elements or they can't get their head around the uh rituals of uh etiquette they either what maybe they if they if they have hustle and uh and connections and luck maybe they uh start a boat ownership place maybe maybe yeah like these are the beautiful voters the non-college educated wealthy people who make up the base the most consistent base of trump support but also the ones who don't vote for trump but maybe have you know a uh hvac job or something like that a few remaining working class work with your hand jobs that uh that are available to people uh but then the rest if you have cut the connection you are going to be a criminal you're going to take your disregard for social forms out on the society itself which is a all of these are the rational response to the horrors that we're dealing with that's the monstrosity of it so lucky my brain happens to have the right shape to make tech money correct you have nothing to do with it wherever you are in this hierarchy it is it's the uh a throw genetic dice and not just genetic dice the dice the gene the genetic dice of everyone you grew up around and with and interacted with who shaped you in the way they did so only podcasters are virtues is what i'm saying no i'm not see once again none of this is about virtue none of this is about virtue no one is anywhere that they are because of virtue that's the fantasy of neoliberalism neil is a neoliberalism yeah you see this random spray of people where a bunch of people are ***** miserable all the time and a relatively small handful of people get to hold on to some little chunk of uh indulgent pleasure on the top end of a distribution curve yeah that's awful but at base some of them are there because it's all there all of them are there for a reason and it makes sense and as matt iglesia said about buildings collapsing in bangladesh it's okay because the liberal and the conservative says yeah uh smart people succeed but uh dumb people fail and if that's if that distributes itself along racial lines well facts don't care about your feelings look at this iq chart if you're conservative you say or if you're a liberal like you say yes people are suffering why well if it's if you remember a minority group it's because of racism that's too bad but it's also part of our society darn oh between the world and me am i right folks uh and now we even are expanding that to white people with the kill billy elegy which is hillbilly elegy is a perfect copy of a white version a white like identity palette a a white uh scotch irish id paul like lived experience version of like a one of those movies that's essentially a uh an extended college admissions essay like uh about about like antoine fisher about somebody struggling from poverty and then finding success in the marketplace because of their stick-to-itiveness their their adherence to good values in the face of trouble and in the in the racialized uh uh narrative that liberals imbibe these people break out their families are held back by racism and the legacy of racism and you watch that and you go damn that's too bad but the system can still reward somebody who has something else these virtues and those virtues make him worthy in a way that even the people that we pity who don't make it we can't aren't worthy nobility instead of it being racism it's well the factory weapon it's a wave towards class like they're poor why they're poor we're not going to talk about it because we can't reduce it to racial category which is what we like to describe things with because we want to be liberal we want to make it about personal animus we want to make it about beliefs and ideas that's why people treat each other the way they do not material conditions generating relationships between people that they then follow like like scripts that are determined by relationships material relationships no no no it's personal ideas so but so they just say they're poor as an identity poor is an identity like fried bologna sandwiches and swimming in the creek this is these are class markers the same way that like hair braiding and uh you know uh cookouts are in you know like menace to society or or boys in the hood or something and there are the people who fail and struggle even though they should succeed but it's just there's something going on with them like amy adams his mom in the hell billy allergy she's smart she's a nurse but she's heroin addicted and why is she heroin addicted she's just she didn't have the strength she wasn't she was she blamed other people and she was something wrong with her jd vance doesn't do that he's a good person he's better than her he is better than her in a fundamental 1:6:5 way and i say there's no virtue here about either to becoming evil or to being is to fight and we don't know how to fight but not through thinking it out on here not through hashing it out on here not through pushing anybody to the left or building meme armies or determining the correct position on your shoes it's going to be it's going to be stiffening the sinews with a lived experience ironically enough of struggle success not if not successful struggle hopeful a struggle with a horizon instead of just the the the seeming over determined uh cascade of misery that surrounds us this 1:7:6 sense that before us everything is impossible and yeah if you step back it all looks impossible it looks like an impenetrable forest but you've got to get closer to find the chinks in the army to find the exhaust port to shoot the ***** uh missile into don't knock it over oh boy there we go gone we've got viewers presumably **Music playing** dude **Music playing** it's indoors it's raining here in new i have to have class i have to have recess inside not prep not ideal but what are you going to do we're going to have to get yeah the beard's getting a little big i'm gonna have to cut it again because i realize that especially on my ***** head gains 10 pounds after a certain density of beard and it's like the zaroz had shown up and spewing guns and sandwiches i shave it down and all of a sudden i look slender again it's a it's a it's a all right somebody's asking for my steely dan opinion i do not have one all i know about steely dan named after a sex toy that's uh in naked lunch originally had chevy chase as the drummer before he uh left presumably because nobody could stand him because he's one of the least appealing men on earth that they're known for very beautifully and richly textured studio productions they're sort of the opposite of the grateful dead in that ray regard and that they have very uh lyrics that are according to some profound and incredibly uh clever and brilliant sondheim and others uh pretentious as to the actual music i don't know is dirty work steely dan because that is a great song all right well that helps i didn't know that was dirt that was steely that i don't reeling in the years is them too right i hate that song so it's one in the other then i really don't like reeling in the ears but i really really do enjoy dirty work uh and i don't know why steely dance becomes the topic of internet conversation every three months there are a few things that reliably pop up like old faithful david foster wallace is one of them steely dan is another it seems a lot of it is about like this ritualistic uh bringing down of icons of p of like of some sort of perceived overlord cultural overlord because obviously dfw stands in for ma white male literary canon right and pres and i think steely dance serves a similar purpose in standing in for this sort of boomer era idea of like hipster because steely dan i mean from little i know about it just to given its reputation it does kind of seem like the david foster wallace of rock music right like it's got a similar demographic only older obviously and it's got a similar cachet among similar types of people and gets a similar resistance similarly found to be cold and unengaging by those who don't

CUSHVLOG 119. THE DEFENESTRATION OF PROG

yeah i have really realized something the thing about like hating steely and is about hating it's like hating dfw is hating your boyfriend and hating steely dan is hating your dad so if you're online doing the discourse of bringing one of them down that is the direction of your ire so i guess that's how you can chart the lunar cycle is when the boyfriends are getting a little annoying it's time to remind them how much you hate dfw and the literary bros and then whenever you're thinking back on your you know withholding or distant or in some way unsatisfying father figure time to drop a steely dan and then of course radiohead well yeah no radiohead is the direct 0:5:10 like your brother's band but they don't get the ritualized hate that steely dan does because it's for a different generation of dudes that they're mad at uh somebody wants to go somebody wants to go over my birth chart i know what it is i am a libra capricorn nobody got mad at me for saying saying about talking about astrology it's not real no one thinks it's real it's just fun and more importantly it's a way to talk about yourself with other people in a way that doesn't seem as self-absorbed because it allows them to talk about themselves on the same in the same way it doesn't rely on personal experience it's like this secondary category where you can talk about yourself sort of an abstract as opposed to events in your life and that gives it gives other people a chance to play along and it's not alienating the way 0:6:11 that you know just a narcissistic way to talk about yourself would be i will say this though that like if you do invest it with just the suspension of just belief necessary to care enough to like look into it it's very easy to see how people get excited about it because there are traces and of course everyone knows well yeah that's because these are just these are just collections of human traits into like groupings and everyone is going to recognize themselves in it because everyone has all of these traits yes but you know humans are pattern recognizing animals and so when you see it you are going to be like oh ***** that really does track like i gotta say that i do feel like a libra i feel like that's right of like the sketches that go along with the different signs i feel like yeah that's the one that if you just said what do you think you are i would think that was me but then again i can't distinct pull apart the fact that i 0:7:13 know that you know that's why it's not but yeah it's all fake but the thing is it's no more fake than myers-briggs personality test like how many people hate astrology but have like intj in their ***** twit bio um cap moon is my disciplined side indeed to the degree that i have any discipline jung definitely is a based weirdo there's no 0:8:14 question it's amazing how young and freud were both right like in broad strokes like in their understanding of like the way the brain operates at an individual level and then how that uh the fact of living among humans who all experience things the same way generates this third this other dimension that uh that jung was able to like you're essentially talking about uh i i was very bad i i if i was going to learn an instrument i uh i played saxophone for a year when i you had in my my elementary school your second like your fifth and sixth grade you had to join orchestra or band you had to do it and i picked band and i picked the saxophone i was not good uh and 0:9:15 the thing is what killed it for me i mean it was never really good and it never really felt very natural but what killed my ability to keep doing it is that they stopped letting me cheat and write the names of the notes on the ***** music because i could not ever read the notes like i couldn't see the little note and know what it corresponded to my brain is actually terrible it cannot and i realize that what it is is that my brain is just words my brain is just a bunch of words because it still blows my mind to know that there are people including people i know and i know they're not lying to me who say that they don't think in words like their thoughts aren't articulated into language that is sort of heard in their mind and i'm like well what the ***** kind of brain do you have what and yeah like there are people who just see pictures and like they get sort of these every my brain is complete words so 0:10:17 like anything that's that's not that not as good so notation uh um numbers oh my god i am so bad i almost didn't graduate college because of i had to take one math class and i kept putting it off until the last semester and i ***** ate ***** and i almost failed it i think i didn't even know if i was going to ***** graduate until like so it's weird knowing that you i mean it's it's true like that's one of the things that generates different personalities and different abilities is how your brain processes the information that's receiving and my brain for whatever reason compulsively and 0:11:18 and and inextricably connects everything to a articulated verbal and visual symbol i guess but but like verbal in the sense i'm hearing it i'm hearing it in my head it's not seeing the words printed out i'm doing tech support apparently uh apparently the the rss feed for the podcast version of these is not updating i'll tell chris about it and and it and that's how you you know you it's how you end up with people with different skill sets and different understandings of the world and different like people might experience the exact same phenomenon in their life and have it activate the exact same parts of their brain in the same way and have the thing that comes after that moment lead them in completely different directions based on the way that 0:12:19 their brain structures the not the information that and that's why i have not like thinking about it now i think that's one of the reasons that i am very uh i had a very hard time accessing the concept of spirituality for so long in my life like i couldn't i could not get myself to believing in anything and it made me feel detached from every emotion i ever felt and it made me feel i used to say that if that i thought that and now i feel like i've i've confirmed this for myself that religion is a physical faculty in that it is parts of your brain processing the information and adhering it to emotion in a way that leaves you with a residue of this this adherence to a system of symbols and i think that's correct and i don't think my brain worked that way 0:13:20 and now i think the thing that was keeping it from that is the simple fact that i so compulsively alienate myself from all experiences almost instantaneously in the form of turning them into symbols and that means that emotions can't be felt and the thing i've really come to realize in the last six months or so is that there's no information there's no truth that is not adhered to feeling that that emotions are in fact the fat emotion like unl like ben shapiro is an exemplar of like this kind of uh the kind of wrong world like failed you're to understand how uh reason works how like what epistemology is it's the same failing that i had as the one ben shapiro has and one that many many people do have because we are more and more symbolically oriented over time because of our greater alienation from our lives and our uh greater dependency on a symbolic you know uh simulation of emotional connections in the form of engagements online which are inherently symbolic in a way that physical 0:14:22 engagements can are not physical and physical events physical interactions but even my physical interactions were alienated to that point and so for a while i remember when i first heard the phrase facts don't care about your feelings and it felt like oh i get why people like him because it appeals to that notion that there is such a thing as truth that is independent of emotion and in fact now i realize no ben shapiro you little ***** ***** facts are feelings they literally are feelings hume was all understanding of facts all understanding of re all reasons motivated by by feeling and even mine was but it was through this it was through it was through like a muffling you know it was it was through a bed sheet or a or a towel stuffed in the mouth you know it was gagged because i just could not access the moment as soon as the moment passed it 0:15:23 was transmogrified into this symbolic and as a result i felt like okay i'm just going to be a miserable materialist piece of ***** who tries to distract himself from the knowledge that he's eventually going to die which will over time drive him insane because he will not be able to conceive of a world in which he is not in because he is completely detached in his mind from all other things in the universe which is in every level a delusion of senses it is a delusion and a failure to actually perceive the world around you it is the it is the fact of of the happenstance of your brain chemistry and the life you live creating a situation where you cannot access reality you access a shadow literally reversed mirror funhouse mirror of reality in which no it's not sure that you are absolutely intertwined with every living thing everything period that there's only one substance in the universe that death is no more possible uh than 0:16:24 the extinguishment of you don't um you don't feel that you feel oh no i am the only thing in the world the only thing in the universe so the universe's end and mine are the same thing and since i cannot conceive of that one i can't conceive of the other and so as the reality of it comes in contact with the fantasy of your eternal selfness

i just i spent so much of my time as a hypochondriac miserable person because that sense was always there that sense of looming annihilation like i had my first uh like i had my first heart attack in my head when i was 14 years old at a ***** junior high assembly i mean and then i had my spinal injury in my teenagers years which completely threw me off track and and led me feeling like anything could happen to my body at any moment and that only made it worse and so i i live my life trying to distract myself from this reality and then i could do it for the most part but my failure to do it completely my failure to completely sublimate was evidenced by my hypochondria by this nagging sense of annihilation which was just my body's awareness of its own finitude that couldn't be integrated into my brain's insistence no i'm out of dualism i'm saying that that was what i was and now i'm i'm out of dualism i mean obviously i rebound to it in moments of instinct moments have accumulated you know habit that have come through that fixed life tunnel but it over time it's being reduced what i'm saying is the dualism in my mind i think was determined by the material reality of my brain which for one reason or another experience and and biology nature and nurture is unable to feel without symbolic abstraction and that's why it took psychedelics for me to break through that it took my i took a technology that just took the part of my brain that wasn't paying enough attention that was instantly that was not being engaged while everything else was turning the world into symbols and made me made me observe it made me actually sense it and that extended extr uh that that expanded sensation broke through this wall that had been there that was this symbolic order that over awed my you get over one thing and then the other one that's a hundred percent correct i would go through spells because i have a lot of pain associated with my back injury including i'll be real with y'all uh some gastrointestinal issues that lead me to have a lot of pain in my abdomen sometimes for a while i was convinced that i had pancreatic cancer i had colon cancer and that would stick in my head for months and it would kind of be this background anxiety and then i would rationalize to myself well if you had it you'd be dead by now and then i'm able to be like yeah that's right that's not real but then you know i would have some sort of arm injury some tingling in my fingers a nerve issue because i have a lot of spinal issues with my uh i have a lot of nerve pinching and stuff i have big herniated disc so i would convince myself that various chest pains and arm sensations when i was gonna have a heart attack and then once that was not no longer logical to me i would go back to cancer and i was on this cycle and the thing that broke it was this realization of where it was coming from more than anything and now the main thing that stops me from getting in those cycles is that i'm not afraid of the thing i'm not afraid of what it would mean if that was true i mean obviously i am afraid of it but i'm not as keenly afraid of it

because i am not as deluded about my separateness from everything else and that is why i mean it's horrible to hear people get prescriptive about ***** like man you gotta do ass man but it i find that especially if you find that you are unable to feel it very well might be if you're watching this if you're listening to this if you're uh online all the time and the substitute shadow symbol world of online is good enough to make up for the more emotionally rich experience of interacting with the world around you then it very well we might be because part of your brain is just not there 0:21:32

it's not it's not perceiving enough to overcome that feedback loop of of the sensation and then the symbolic translation of the sensation you need to speed it up reuptake which is literally what psychedelics do is that they but the reason that you know it's you don't want to be prescriptive more than anything is is that we have experience with this ***** the cia brought lsd to america in the 60s and had timothy leary spread it around the world country like johnny appleseed and what did it do you know what what was that what was the the the radicalism that was created out of that expansion of consciousness it was bad news i would say on on average overall 0:22:33

bad news i mean the way that people talk about how honestly it's tiresome to hear people talk about ever everything is an op online but honest but if you wanted to say the internet in general is a ***** psyop considering its role in channeling young specifically young alienation from capitalism into cultural spectacle and it's like uh indulgence in narcissism it has the same effect that lsd had on the new left but in that case it literally was an op it literally was the cia bought like a hundred tons of ***** lsd from sandoz they bought like uh 90 of the of the lsd on earth but the other thing is the other thing that gets you there is just sitting refusing to allow the symbolic 0:23:36

order to overall your senses and that requires you to give it nothing to symbolically render give it nothing to turn into symbols even your thoughts will run out if they aren't refreshed by exposure to new things and that's what meditation does is that it robs you of the ability to drive your body into this or drive your mind into this symbolic reverie because you're not getting new stimuli and that's like all psychedelics do is reproduce the sensory experience of deep meditation it's just that to do deep meditation you have to already be able to like you know reward that experience you have to know you you have to want to do it like that's the big thing is that nothing gets done unless you really want to do it is if your desire your libidinal energy has been channeled into a genuinely felt connection to every other life in the universe if 0:24:37

it's not genuinely felt you get back to the libidinal politics that we're practicing now everywhere and it completely online and completely within but there's a real there's a reason that people talk about waking up and so the idea that it that the that that the satori moment is one of a awakening to a consciousness because you realize that what what made your life a nightmare is that it was a it was unconscious you were not being conscious of the world around you you were living in a symbolic haze you were living in a demiurgical shadow realm the problem is that you have to be able to keep accessing that and the and that's why just haphazard exposure to psychedelics that are pursued without rigor and without discipline won't lead to anything because that feeling has to be translated like for me what made this experience with with 0:25:39 lsd different than other ones i've done because i've done it plenty of times before i did it at ***** cpac the thing that made it different this time is that for whatever reason the thoughts i was having that led up to the the the actual emotion the actual explosion of feeling and um and then come back came back down from were connected in a way that i could symbolically link that experience to a cause of reason that could convince my brain that it was true because if i wasn't able to convince it symbolically i was never going to be able to feel anything feelings and that was when 0:26:40 i started to feel you know that's when a lot of the things that felt a lot of things in my life that felt impossible became possible because the the artificial structure side built in my head to to reduce the number of options i had to what i thought was real they were exploded like those and i realized oh like these aren't actually problems in any real sense because the thing that i'm worried about happening is that is worth caring about because i care about something else because i know what it is to care the politics the synthetic politics like if politics if politics practice from 0:27:47

the heart is about love which i've tried which i think is 100 accurate you know the heart the the sense of connection is what drives you to the conclusion that we're all in this together therefore profit shouldn't exist capitalism shouldn't exist there should be no no hierarchy of of exploitation because the accumulation of of surplus first a few people is is it's not just wrong it's irrational because you're not you're you're not part of a different thing you're part of the same ***** thing you idiot you're why are you hoarding this like you're not separate from it defeated but the synthetic politics the politics of rationality are stripped of emotion that we practice 0:28:48 online and when i say emotion that's another word for spirituality uh that spir that secularized politics and in the sense of we're only operating out of base instinct here politics is the assumption that we are all separate and we are all out for ourselves and politics is about figuring out the best way to do that and the difference in that frame is the republicans say we're all uh competition is the only way to sort deserving from the undeserving the democrat the liberal says there's no such thing as deserving and undeserving but capitalism is still necessary because we're all separated from one another and in order to accept to extend like the idea of rights to all which includes property it has to then we all have to operate from personal base instinct but that base instinct will lead us to cooperate with one another because it's more efficient that way that argument is sterile and it leads towards where we are which 0:29:51

is two two politics two dueling politics of sadism of hate because we see lives that are totally restrained in lives and and futures that will only be more miserable than the present it will only be worse this is the first time i think in in modern history when the current gen people living have no expectation that the future will even be worth living in how that's unprecedented and what it leads to if that's assumed because remember you need to have a grounded spiritual politics to overturn this arrangement and if we assume as everyone who is operating within this realm does that no that moment is passed this is all we have then then we are in fact on a course for doom whether you're conservative or a liberal whether you're a reactionary or a progressive whether you think that humankind is inherently evil or that it's good whether you think that the distribution of resources along class lines is is the uh is virtuous it's it's it's a divinely inspired thing uh or you think that it is uh wrong and it's the byproduct of the evil of the human heart uh no matter how you slice it politics cannot resolve to anything other than degradation from where we are now and therefore all we can really do is assign blame and offer punishment if politics is collective action and no good action can be taken only bad action can be taken and we want the bad action to be taken against the people that we hate and that is what the ***** party is going to be about that's what that politics is going to be dominated by it's already we've already seen it coming to district and the reason i think in the long run like all this ***** all this dance angels dancing on the hit of a ***** pen ***** about oh the pmc is it a real class and well is the lit are liberals uh actually a cultural elite and uh what's that what and is it college what has got well there are plenty of people who go to college who aren't wealthy and what about what all of that is secondary the only reason any of that matters is to answer the question well what happens what is like why are we arguing these points if not to figure out what is going to happen so we can intervene with it the point is not to post it is to change the world as some people have said so what that's the only salient element to this point and to me the salient point about the college no college divide that's going to come and over to become and define the parties is that it is going to over the long run help the republicans and help the most socially reactionary version of punitive uh neoliberalism because if voting is going to be voting to punish your enemies whose enemies are more people both who went to college and who didn't go to college were going to want to punish and i think that in a culture where we have these lurid ostentatious displays of completely removed and vile least insensitive cultural decadent uh our ***** 500 streaming services and hollywood movies and then a culture of celebrity and and glamour well everyone is miserable the fact that everyone within that structure is essentially a democrat and will tell you so that is a visible person to hate in this system who are you supposed to hate for the democrats

you're not even supposed to hate anybody if you're a liberal democrat but even on the left who are you supposed to hate billionaires who knows a billionaire how often do you interact with the billionaire how often do you see a billionaire on tv or in a movie how billionaires don't tell you who to vote for the media telling you how horrible it is and defending it to you saying oh yeah all this terrible stuff is actually good lying to your face pissing in your face and telling you it's raining they're all liberals the trump presidency proved that they're all ***** liberals they all want to talk russiagate for ***** four years and now oh the election there's no corruption there it's like yeah you might say that's because they practiced you know all these these institutional values guess what these institutional values over time will be coded more and more as liberal right now like half of it is but it's even the of the billionaires the most visible ones the ones people most know about because they spend so much of their time on their platforms on tick tock on twitter on facebook on google they're all liberals too and the funny thing is is in that case it's not because they're part of some ***** cultural uh marxist conspiracy it's because we're talking about a situation where liberal values come to encompass everything within the structure because that is what separates it from pure totalitarian authoritarianism is the illusion of deliberation through structures like politics like culture so over time as as actual life gets more and more threadbare those institutions that are supposed to legitimize it are going to become more and more illegitimate and more and more associated with democrats because the thing that generates them at a cultural super structural level is the experience of college and the attendance of it and so every and so these tech ceos adhere to the notion of uh of open debate right the idea that we're a platform we're a platform we're not here to to publish speech we're only here to they do that because they don't want to get sued because if they were a publisher they would be liable for the ***** people did on their ***** platform they can't do that so they have a vested financial interest in adhering to this liberal nostrum but then within it there are other liberal uh demands such as uh profit maximization which tell you that certain political uh expressions are bad for business and you're gonna wanna remove them and that means that you're just telling more and more people that you exist to support the adhere the appearance of this fraudulent status quo which the culture exists to perpetuate which it's not because it's in charge it's because it's in charge of the superstructure the democratic party is in charge of creating a uh a pseudo an illusion of movement replacing the existence of inertia with the appearance of forward of deliberation and a process and a practice it's happening anyway the engine is driving us to where we are the engine of profit struggling against the declining rate of profit is driving us towards this full uh hyper immigration and exploitation of everyone starting at the bottom and then going upward just squeezing

uh uh the life out of people and as it does that it's cultural representation it's gonna 0:37:1 become more and more associated with democrats and the left more broadly because those are the people people are going to see those are the people that are going to interact with in their culture on their online in their media the bad guys of the left are hidden they're behind the scenes because their critique of but it's still limited by this liberal framework not because it's all within the and so that is why over time i think more and more people including working-class people including people who are directly impacted by republican policies are going to vote to punish those or own or drag or whatever those who they most are uh associate with the misery of their lives and that will be these super structural uh uh figures and that means that they'll vote republican and they'll vote to help just eventually extinguish culture completely and 0:38:4 replace it with the bare coercion i gotta get another drink i don't have any more how in america be different if reconstruction wasn't ***** up oh boy well how long do you have i've actually thought about this so i just read a book an interesting book i love counterfactual history as you all know and somebody wrote a book that is philip kundi for zero books and it's called lennon lives and the premise is what if 0:39:5 when it hadn't died and it's a 100-year retrospective of what would have happened if the soviet union essentially the premise is what if the soviet revolution had had in fact hooked up with the german revolution and created a like a and hooked up the agricultural backwater of russia with the industrial dynamo of germany what would that have done and uh it's you know it's interesting it's pretty idiosyncratic a lot of it is score settling with intellectuals and political figures the guy doesn't like but it's definitely interesting as someone who loves counterfactual stuff it was fun to read but it made me think that i kind of want to write something called lincoln lives because i do in like the foggiest regions of my brain imagine a world where a second lincoln term is defined by a process whereby lincoln uh momentum which was 0:40:6 towards universal blacks manhood suffrage and towards confrontation with capital on behalf of labor like uh obviously these are all you know we don't know that in the context of like this this hugely fluid moment you know an entire region of the country uh destroyed and occupied by troops like turned into clay for movement clay for shaping in a situation where lincoln's powers in this moment are are at a point where he does occupy a fulcrum in in american and world history like he is he is uniquely uh free to move in a way that very few historical actors are because of how fluid the situation he was in control of was he commanded by his mere order a a what million man army that had military domination and the inf and had annihilated the 0:41:7 infrastructure of its defeated southern tier and a congress filled to the brim with radical republicans insisting upon a a land massive land redistribu redistribution and a political disenfranchisement of of top rebels now if they pursued that because

obviously lincoln said malice towards none but it's like okay who who's malice are you more concerned about and i really do think that lincoln far more than johnson would have been much more concerned about making sure that there was no malice that befell ex-slaves rather than ex-confederates and if that and as i said explicitly if it is connected to land redistribution to that's the huge thing because there was there 0:42:9 were attempts in the 1890s and 1880s among populists to try to create trans-racial uh connections and that that was what brought the real boot of jim crow down i believe uh henry steele commander has a book about that the strange case of jim crow where the thesis is that jim crow the the the uh the jim crow laws were a direct response to uh populist attempts to create uh interracial political coalitions so if you wouldn't have had that if you would have been able to connect cut the connection the social connection between small holding white farmers and the plantation elite reoriented their politics turn them into republicans you you decapitate you internally 0:43:10 decapitate that node of like the capitalist uh uh productive economy of the united states now the thing is lincoln would have at every level been incredibly you know it would have been pressured and and she pushed away away from that by northern capital which was at an unprecedented degree of power following the concentration of capital that happened over the course of the civil war and that really is what jump-started america's industrial economy same thing happened by the way in uh england the thing obviously the industrial revolution in england was in full swing by the turn of the 19th century but it was the napoleonic wars that led to the hyper like the next stage of uh of english capitalism to emerge similar thing happened in the united states after a civil war but those productive forces could have been politically channeled the the forces existed between the ex-slaves of the south the uh former smallholders 0:44:13 of the south uh and the union ***** army which composed the working class and like yeomanry of the entire northern tier and if their politic and their family members the thing the main thing he would have contended with and the main thing that might have pulled us towards something worse is that back door that open drafty back door of land just that that that diffuser of political tension of politic of of social discontent uh at the end of the day what what the the civil war when it finally did end with the compromise of 1877 it was on the backs of the former slaves it was we have opened this bottle we have opened this genie's bottle of emancipation which you know all the wigs and the moderates that always said would be unmanageable because how are you going to get racist white people to live with black people on equal equal 0:45:16 terms well since we got the reconstruction we got with the reimposition of latifundus uh plantation economies and the reinstatement of of slavery or i guess just like the encircling of former slaves uh and and the and the continued exploitation and are the continued um uh languishment the continued languishment of the ex-confederate

military uh rank and file small holders within that framework the decision was made well we'll essentially recreate the old model uh without the without all of the uh i guess you'd boil it down to etiquette all the loud voices all the ruckus all all the dirt and uh and rudeness of channel slavery replace it with a more refined more abstracted exploitation through sharecropping arrangements and convict leasing well there look 0:46:17 at all the forms here this is all in order i mean he owes this much uh this much cotton to uh his former master because he borrowed these many seeds this is a legal exchange this person is working to clear a uh bayou for ***** turpentine mining or something because he committed a crime he was found to be loitering in the town square this is all this is all above board and that was the liberal revolution but it could have been pushed further that's why you know it it was the completion of the blujoy revolution but just like in every revolutionary scenario there is fluidity it could have been the beginning of something very different now how far it would have gone i don't know i don't think you get a situation where like racial harmony is is uh real in america by the turn of the 19th century you know but i have i could see a situation where you have a abolition of du jour or i'm sorry yes you have an abolition of du 0:47:19 jour segregation in america across the entire continent not just in the north uh you have an abolition of du jour uh and you know what kind of politics is created by that coalition by the way what like that republican party what does that republican party look like what are the pressures on it especially as industrialization increases and as a working-class self-consciousness comes more and more into fruition how are the conflicts there fought when you have a unified multiracial working class fragmented and mutually and then yeah like if you have the end of the jour apartheid by the 20s without because the thing is is the end of our end of de jure comp uh uh our end 0:48:20 of desert apartheid in america happened almost simultaneously with the that's the thing that gets overlooked when we talk about the backlash we talk about how white people decided they would rather be racist than have pensions the decision was i'd rather be racist and adhere and maintain some sort of hierarchy where i'm on top of somebody else then get nothing because that was what was on offer uh after after that the rearrangement of the economy that happened after the the oil shock of the 70s and and the the so if you have an end of does your segregation in a moment of like i don't know a uh a socialized a boom of american productivity considering that it was a massive uh resource-rich continent that was maybe over time uh seeing 0:49:21 its industrial capacity tamed towards social ends oh my god you have you have a dynamo of potential uh revolutionary which is what marx and engels thought the united states was the dynamo of the next century and they were correct and we were in the tipping point and we tipped the wrong way every time and i would argue that the first big tip and the one that's most mind bending because it because it's the first one it is the most historically contingent one it is the civil war and reconstruction and the maintenance of the constitutional system all of which spring from at least partially so i was wondering i might write something about that i think it might be interesting yeah we're getting uh we're gonna get ***** hammered here with uh some rain coming up that's why i'm battened the hatch is down free real estate man 0:50:22 it really was their downfall but i'm imagining like if i was gonna write something and i was gonna you know try to like game it out you know a situation where after appomattox the uh a lincoln-led reconstruction that leads to a you know a shaping up of challenge right away like almost immediately the former you know uh leaders of the confederacy realized that oh this is really ***** at stake here like we are going to be disenfranchised we are going to lose our land we are going to lose our power there would have been another flare-up of violence the war wouldn't have ended just the way it didn't in our real life but it ended with this insurgent campaign led by the red red shirts and the cool clan eventually leading uh to a series of almo basically 0:51:23 coups uh and abrogations of democracy across the south which were abetted by the north essentially uh demobilizing if that fight had happened earlier and been more intense and sharp with the army still out in the field and with the commitment to the cause as it's zenith and the commitment to the cause of emancipation uh at its zenith what do you see hey maybe they call in garibaldi remember there was that offer by the congressman to have garibaldi come and lead the union army and he said he wouldn't do it unless they made slavery the ending of slavery a war end well what if it's 1865 and there has to be another campaign maybe garibaldi maybe marks and angles come over here the ***** conestoga wagon with a printing press in the back start organizing among the uh the germans of this of course is fun and fancy but that's the beauty of counterfactual stuff is that it it gets to be fun and i argue that if you pose the questions the right way it is still useful because to talk about what 0:52:26 didn't happen in 1865 and what could have happened what was possible given the material realities we had at hand we can talk about what could happen now what if marx moved to texas in the 50s that one could have happened too the prussians essentially said we don't want we want to keep an eye on him but what if they'd said good riddance which they did to a lot of the thing that bums me out though is that there was a wave of vigilante violence against anti-slavery german settlers in texas when the civil war broke out uh there's uh something an incident called the noensis massacre where a bunch of german immigrants were just strung up by the local confederate authorities those guys loved freedom so much they were fighting for so much ***** freedom god the way they would just hang people for opinions 0:53:28 the way they did a draft before the union did the way they suspended habeas corpus immediately god we love them don't we i worry they would have ***** uh they they would have murdered him but then maybe they hit him and angles go out with a bunch of guys and form some sort of gorilla column engels was a pretty good uh uh military tactician and strategic thinker they called him the general because it was his favorite like topic but uh and he commanded troops or he no he didn't command troops he was an adjutant for troops with uh village my boy august village who was a civil war general uh during the 48 revolutions uh he was actually uh reprimanded for during at one of the barricades uh in the rhineland going around and taking all of the german flags because one of the the the main flag of the german 48 revolutions was the tri-color of i imagined liberal german republic taking them down and replacing them with red flags but he acquitted himself ably he described um he described 0:54:29 the um he described he he described the strategic situation in the civil war at the beginning of the civil war uncannily he uh all two years before they started the march to atlanta he was telling marx yeah no they got to go cut it in half this way why are they going after richmond richmond is meaningless cut the thing in half and eventually that's they ***** realized it took him ***** three years to do it and he also described what world war one would look like 30 years earlier with almost uncanny ability so yeah maybe they could become like a a unit in there hey throw everybody in there go never get all get all the have haiti come on like the us recognizes haiti but then like gives them a bunch of money and has them send a 0:55:34 detachment but uh there was there's a angles quote in this book this lincoln lives book that i just or this lennon lives book that i just read that is stunning i hadn't encountered it before but yeah if we were going to have a lenin in america a figure of that sort of pivotal equivalence it would have been him because lenin is the same way there's no recovery revolution if lenin doesn't show up at the finland station i think most people are in agreement with that who studied the topic because the 0:56:35 bolsheviks were in the process of resolving themselves to supporting the provisional government basically because they were too afraid of the alternative because they didn't have any confidence in their ability to command the situation or govern if they did lenin shown in the town showing up to town and publishing the eighth april the season ***** was a lightning bolt they broke open all of th through and cut through to a degree and over time and it took a while but it got through that just cut over time through the the the the inert the inertia so he's another guy who you know what if he'd had his uh his brain hemorrhage you know a decade earlier you probably would have had some sort of cornulov ask military coup overthrowing the uh provisional government and then depending on how much resistance to that emerged some sort of pre-fascist anti-semitic po like industrial pogrom that's what 0:57:36 trotsky said and i agree with him on that point which is why it's stupid to get mad at the prolifcs or or condemn them for doing the revolution i mean there's plenty of points where they made the wrong moves after that but they they were doing the only thing they could have done and their their gamble that they were gonna spark a world revolution it was not a miscalculation that was the moment that was the moment and it was the germans more than anybody who dropped the ***** ball and it was because the they had been too developed the the the the socialist movement had been too captured by the superstructure oh this is the quote i was looking for so uh so in 1887 this is what mark's or this is what engels said about what was going to happen if the brinksmanship between the empires of europe wasn't ended 0:58:37 no war is any longer possible for prussia germany except a world war and a world war indeed of an extent and violence hitherto undreamt of eight to ten millions of soldiers will massacre one another and in doing so devour the whole of europe until they have stripped it barer than any swarm of locusts has ever done the devastations of the thirty years war compressed into three or four years and spread over the whole continent famine pestilence general demoralization both of the armies and of the mass of the people produced by acute distress hopeless confusion of our artificial machinery and trade industry and credit ending in general bankruptcy collapse of the old states and their traditional state wisdom to such an extent that crowns will roll by dozens on the pavement and there will be nobody to pick them up absolute impossibility of foreseeing how it will end and who will come out of the struggle as victor only one result is absolutely certain general exhaustion and the establishment 0:59:38 of the conditions for the ultimate victory of the working class and he was 100 correct because the ultimate conditions for the victory of the working class were the russian revolution and then the but the the the german working class was led by people who were no longer working class and you might want to say aha so that's just like the pmc now no because that was an actual working-class movement all right we are post that we are in the post we are the post we are in the shadow of the defeat we are in the shadow of the defeat of the 18 of the world war because imagine if a more socialist america encounters a world revolution starting in russia and being kicked off across europe imagine a world where the united states has say like a president eugene debs during world war ii instead of prisoner eugene debs and president woodrow wilson how do they respond to that do they send troops to archangel to ally with a bunch 1:0:39 of ***** uh uh genius adairs and mystic psychos and and martinets but we missed the moment and now we are in the post-political that super structural capture that started with the leaders your nasties now it's everywhere it's universalized in america anyway we are all that we are all nasty we are all ebert no matter what we think no matter how much we lo think that we're ***** rosa luxemburg but the difference but 1:1:41 the thing is is that all of that all of that upward trending um striving that drove the leaders of the german social democrats towards accommodation when they needed to strike against capital because it was the moment it was the that doesn't exist anymore there's no hope that anybody's getting any sugar cubes there's only misery and when we break away enough of us break away from this phantom pantomime of politics and re reforge human connections i think we will be able to sidestep all of that and come orthogonal to the ossified superstructure and shatter it or we won't and we will have a common rune of the contending classes which is what happened in nazi germany that was the common ruin 1945. i said orthogonal oh or that no 1:2:45 and that's how i pronounce it i'm not going to say orthago ogle orthagonal yeah like those are two those are two you know in the plinko board of western civilization and huge world civilization as we you know move towards the intensification of history uh as as our technology accelerates change some big plinko board moments were linked assassination boop and the failure of the of the german revolution really more than anything yeah i am a midwesterner i'm going to say orthogonal what other way to say never mind you're typing you couldn't do it if you wanted to that's silly i call 1:3:49 it the plinketto board not the plinko board because i watched way more uh best of the worst than i have ***** prices right god these guys have given me the business i know what orthogonal is orthogonal is they're coming at a perpendicular angle and also right angle and also the club that uh nixon founded uh at whittier college after he got rejected by the franklins i'm just talking about pronunciation how to orthogonal orthogonal oh orthogonal orthogonal i get it thanks that's how will would say it orthogonal and that's not me baby the end of the day i am truly uh a a middle 1:4:52 european bog peasant i am a square edited hick at the end of

there we go it's going or is that oh ***** it's hosting a song oh it's no hosting a song sorry guys sorry for any of the teens any of the young zoomer child soldiers who are enjoying hassan on our feed it's me now hassan's hassan's weird uncle i guess that's me there will be no sound complaints today i've got my thing on there and i've made peace with it's finally getting chilly out and that's gonna ah oh bodegas 0:1:4 boys girls gather around let me tell you about bodegas they're just magical places where you can go at any time of night to acquire goods food stuffs basic household necessities i know i know those of you who live anywhere near a 24 hour cvs might be ah yes every this we were talking yesterday about how there's these cycles these these discourse cycles that re-emerge we got to drag the clap another one just happened to just the clat like i was talking about david foster wallace the classics in general now being dragged by a bunch of why a people i always find that funny because it's 0:2:5 called young adult but none of the people involved in any of it writing it reading it or talking about it are young or adult they are old babies they are old children they are like 30 plus emotionally stunted uh uh emotion uh intellectually uh gnomish kid they're chill they're immature and that's why they read and write stuff for kids exclusively because they are emotionally intellectually children i don't really know why that should be considered hostile or anything it just seems like a recognition of of of the dynamic at play there anyway so you got dragging the classics for being having not enough wizards in them got david foster wallace being dude bro steely dan and then of course another one popped up new york and it's it's uh it's eustis 0:3:8 tilly like uh and i get it i get it on all sides i certainly understand the hostility to new york uh especially because honestly i think more than anything it stems from the fact that the united states is a country where you are only worthwhile to the degree that you are a success right and because of its position in global finance and media new york is where successful people go so if you're not there how successful can you really be i don't think that necessarily everyone thinks that but i do think that it's a thing that motivates this sort of weird hostility but of course the other thing is the genuine overcompensating parochialism of new york mostly by transplants who are trying to justify the fact that they're spending a zillion dollars to live like animals with basically no real difference in quality of life to any other major city other than that being worse and specifically during coronavirus during kovid a time when any city certainly new york is a ridiculous joke to be living in because you're just cooped up for no reason it has no benefits to it but it still costs the same it's chumpish you're a chump and so you have to do things like decide that the bodenga experience is some sort of spiritual thing one of my favorite moments in recent film was in the harley quinn movie when there is a five-minute sequence of someone lovingly creating a bacon or an egg sandwich at a bodenga because harley quinn she loves her sandwich at her favorite bananga and you watch that scene and you know oh this is meant specifically for the very narrow trans people who watch this ***** online or who like who live within this bubble of media people who want to talk about their who justify to themselves their ridiculously expensive existences so it's just uh it's self-loathing reaching across the aisle which is all like i've said that's all culture and politics same thing are it's it's uh competing it's resent it's mirroring resentments on both sides new yorkers resenting that they live in a sh in a ***** that's supposed to be the center of the world and everyone outside of it who doesn't live there presenting that either they're not there at some level if they've really bought into the notion of you know virtue is flowing from success or uh it's undeserving-ness as as the place that determines these things as as the as the defining referent point for success or glamour or ah and so that's what you're on always end up seeing with these things is one concentration of resentment purple's force like that person who did the viral tweet about what do you people what do you people call it where you can get all these things at uh one in the morning uh she lives in new york under a pandemic it's a misery but there's the badanga which you yokels don't have that's just my resentment of people living somewhere else and then it hit the resentment of people who are sick of new york for one reason or another uh one way or the other they think it's undeserved or they think it's deserved and then it's just a reflected self-loathing for not having attained it and then they get to fight each other over it it's great it's a lot of fun we're all having fun we're all having a lot of fun uh so yes it's nice to see that all the cycles are completing themselves nothing has ever learned nothing's ever changed the cast of characters shifts a little bit but largely through just people washing out of the cycle not really why do i call it a bodenga that's because felix who is a very resentful new yorker not not he's like got both because he hates and resents new york like someone who's not from there but he also lives here so he has both sets of resentments in one which is tough and so he hates bodega culture more than anyone and he makes fun of it by calling it a bodenga felix is a walking contradiction that's everything is a paradox ain't that the truth everything is a bundle of contradictions that must be resolved oh i got a new one today i got a poland spring i thought i'd try this not bad i'll probably stick with black cherry but now i have this on the this is from the i don't think we're going to do a series on iran contra specifically i mean we'll probably talk about it a lot when we talk about when we do uh episode two of the bush episode uh or on episode two of the bush series because uh the same way that nixon was the white the executive uh branch uh point man like the white house point man for um the bay of pigs george h.w bush had the same role uh with iran contra him and oliver north were the ones running it and so we'll talk a lot about his involvement in it in being a ***** mega kilo drug trafficker while telling people that winners don't use drugs while having the dea entrap a 17 year old kid into selling them some crack outside of the white house so that he could hold it up in front of the camera and then the kid gets 10 years one of the most despicable little moments of the bush administration this ***** this is not a joke in order to ramp up the war on drugs and increase the carceral state he wanted to have a a speech where he laid out the case for a more punitive approach to drugs and what he wanted to do is he wanted to hold up some crack that had been purchased within sight of the white house or something to prove how pervasive the problem was only problem was for them white house that there was nobody who really sold there there were not open-air drug markets within side of the white house even then even in the high crime early late 80s so the dea did is they they got a they got a uh in touch with a dealer uh in anacostia i think and they had him come to the uh the reflective pool or something and then arrested him and then he did 10 years on that ***** and trump and bush got to hold up that crack in front of the camera and throw more people like that kid in prison while moving that ***** into the country to be sold in the first place i mean it's it's astounding and his we'll talk a lot about his role and enter the broad country more broadly and although you know i think for the most part we're it's i think we'll stick to broad strokes i mean but his specific involvement and the specifics of the drug operation i think are going to be very very uh well investigating so we will be talking about our i don't know when bush character is going to come up my guess is that we'll record it sometime next month to release because it doesn't have a it's not topical so i think we might we might do it early to bank for the holiday season although who the ***** knows if there's even really it does seem like everything is in this weird perpetual state even now i hate to show you guys my hairline there i know it's pretty dramatic i should put a uh so uh i wanted to say something about jd vance and not not him specifically but sort of him as as an example of sort of the the new man that we've created in america and not just a man or even exclusively a man but in the sense that soviets were trying to build a new man a new socialist man who who would transcend the

the the restrictions of what we in bourgeois society uh convince ourselves as human nature and this is like that is the en that is the the metaphysical uh battle within or uh that is the metaphysical uh alchemy that communism seeks to uh engage and i think that they weren't wrong to imagine things that way i mean they were wrong to think that they could happen within uh a anything other than a global context uh and i think the fact that when the soviet union collapsed it collapsed into uh rapine and uh kleptocracy proves that they didn't create a new man but they did recognize that the new man needed to be built in order to live communally uh to be broke to to to find value uh in unalienated labor of not expecting the the the fruits of one's production to be the consumption of it directly but rather the the enjoyment of a social existence that uh what allowed them to freely express their their uh creative drive their animal spirits without having it stripped away and then re-given to them in a reduced form in the form of a wage and a consumption uh and access to consumption economy well they didn't do that but meanwhile what was happening in the free world and in russia too and and eventually all barriers being broken was the creation of a new capitalist man even out of the the uh the clay of modern man like 19th century man which was already uh being you know uh warped and buckled by the the hyper speed of capitalist social change uh but what the last 40 years specifically have done has created a new capitalist subject a true homo economicus uh a the the the people that they made up in those textbooks uh the people the communist the the the evil mirror image of the the imagined uh transformed human of communism the the antichrist version and that being is one who sees all relationships as transactional who defines all things uh as to have and that's not you know that's not something that is traditionally i think a way people have believed because we live socially we have lived socially and that existence of social bonds by definition means uh non-marketized bonds because you can't put a price on that ***** like there's a reason that's you can't go to the pawn shop and get the sentimental value on your items because it only means well that idea that idea that there is a value an emotional value a bond to anything or anyone that can transcend the market which has been you know part and parcel to social existence for the entirety of humankind we are now in the process of replacing with a fully transactional human being who has no connections to anything that cannot be quantified in if not in dollars in a crude calculus of uh advancement personal advancement uh versus personal uh uh demerit like what everyone we know and everything that is in the world is to be used to our advantage or to be ignored to prevent disadvantage and that we build around that the words like love and hate and uh you know the economy and politics and good and bad but but at base what had been a social relationship with a transcendent definition to the person who felt it uh value and obviously it's not happening it hasn't happened fully we still have that remnant feeling that we should have uh that there is something other than our benefit or a dollar amount or we're getting there because our time is being abstracted away from us first it happened geographically but now thanks to the internet first comp first television and now the internet we are stripping from the days of our lives the chance to even have an emotionally freighted engagement with another person by replacing time with people with time with and what that has created along with that's just the technological part of it the broader part of it is creating a culture whereby precarity is so uh deeply felt and non-marketized social interactions are so few and far between that we essentially can't afford to do anything other than assign value to our relationships if we want to get ahead so those things combined are creating a new man is creating a a capitalist new man and jd vance is par excellence one of those another one and i wanna i wanna draw this contrast to talk about how in many ways these two people who seem separate and are seem very different to come from different backgrounds are in i think and obviously you know i'm i'm speculating on a hypothesis here this will all like end up looking like character assassination but you know if i'm wrong i'll apologize uh but i'm just talking about like looking from the outside at the contours of their careers and lives and writing uh i feel like they are both perfect exemplars of this new type of person and like i said this person it's no one's fault that they turn into this it's how you end up responding to a life and a body that you did not choose and we can only we can never really so there's only uh so much that you can blame anyone for anything but i do feel like like gia talentino and jd vance were both americans who came into a world where there was a value system and there is a yardstick for human happiness and they had an ability to navigate it from a young age they knew they did they went to school and they found out that unlike some of their other peers that they could pay attention and give back what the teacher had given them and they had an awareness that doing that would lead them towards what was broadly understood throughout the entire culture including everything their parents ever told them or the world around them to ever told them would be a a goodness that you have to have to the first slab of the **** maslow's hierarchy and they uh went through the ideological sorting mechanism that constitutes applying through the to the edge applying your mind to the educational system that we have and came out of it going to college and going there and experiencing the full measure which by that point they wouldn't have gotten there if they hadn't made this decision far back along the way of moving along this trajectory they decided that they needed even if they didn't want to they needed to treat everyone as fungal and every relationship is and the difference between them the difference in the reason the reason that one of them came out journalist a left-wing writer and memoirist and the other uh became a republican hedge fund guy and like quasi political operative is that one of them grew up a of course not the only reason but like the structure that made all of these subsequent reasons happen in the first place is that she grew up in as the child of wealthy immigrants who were actual no joke human traffickers in that they were they operated a business that had philippine uh filipinos who wanted to teach in the united states would help help them in the process of gaining the paperwork to do so and then moving them through it and it was a it was like a more high-class politer version of the coyote system that gets uh immigrants across the uh immigrants or immigrants or migrants sorry migrants across the mexican border uh it involved confiscation of passports and and ill treatment in in barracks like and it afforded her a very very very successful life very wealthy but she was also a a female which rendered her subject to like a patriarchy as she discovered in her in her the political awakening that comes with acquiring an understanding through the the cultural through the educational uh mental structuring that tells you you know who's responsible for all the bad things well she's female and the other is she's non-white she's she's asian and the the child of immigrants who are of course besides uh you know black americans sort of the most stigmatized minorities are racialized uh racialized immigrants because of their tenuous status here in america legal and social in making her career as a writer she mined that childhood those experiences to create a narrative whereby her parents were these eager strivers who had to negotiate the morass of american racism in order to succeed and that gave her ideas about how racism and ethnic uh and uh hostility to immigration in this country are contributing to to uh human misery like the human misery she knows her parents were involved in although she never said that in her memoir and that turns her into a liberal democrat now jd vance is a white boy uh a and a poor white boy that or at least poorer than uh than our stereotype of of a white male childhood in this country the lower half and as he acclimatizes through the educational system and finds out what's going on where the bad things are he gets he why uh why things are the way they are who's responsible for what you know forming the rudiments of a political consciousness he finds out that there is an explanation for why things are bad and the bad guys are white guys like him they are white guys by definition they are either rich white guys responsible for economic oppression or poor white guys responsible for racism and racial oppression well what good does that do you if you're a young shriver looking to get ahead you're going to apologize for yourself all day why would i want to do that ***** that instead what he did is he mined his family background to show how his uh how like the tainted association and in so doing explain to audiences of uh educated wealthy liberals and conservatives who are trying to understand their fellow citizens much like their reid gila torentino to try to understand the exotic immigrant experience this exotic lower class white experience jd gets to treat his family as marionettes to prove a point to them about how their failings are personal and his success by definition is also personal and but that that that that argument 0:28:10 which personalizes blame it doesn't have as easy a uh adherence to the liberal uh the more sophisticated fully articulated uh liberal collegiate description of oppression in this country uh but enough for him to uh so that makes him a a republican so and and a bootstraps guy but both of them are people whose fundamental uh everything they say and have done in their careers has been driven by a fundamental uh transactional relationship with all around them where you turn your family uh into just grist and the problem we have now is that everybody who emerges from 0:29:12 these structures everybody who everybody who is able to get a voice to be able to be heard because the thing about america is is that the the the most oppressed among us are silent spivak we can answer the question does the subaltern speak i don't know but the subaltern does not tweet not in a way that enters what we consider the political consciousness it's all filtered through uh spokespeople and media figures uh who uh many of whom are able to act as gatekeepers between the two two halves the the college educated politically engaged half and those overwhelmingly among the poorest of us i mean they're tweeting right but they're tweeting about their own 0:30:14 ***** they're not part of the political discussion they're not part of the discourse unless it's unless it's been like co-legged and translated because of the the failure for people to be able to imagine outside their own their own bubble it means that there's a self-consciousness that permeates all attempts to engage and yeah they've never been part of the conversation but and really all we're seeing now is just how how stark that is because we have this social media that's hypothetically supposed to connect all of us and yet it reproduces the same hierarchies of structures as as our if you're really struggling in this country you just do not have the luxury that's going to say privilege because that's ***** but the luxury of engaging with politics as a meaningful category of life because it doesn't do anything your lived experience tells 0:31:16 you it doesn't do anything the thing that tells us that it does something is books and tweets and tv shows and our friends and family and our parents not our lived experience just just a translation of that a baffling of that a a mystification of that that we engage socially oh man somebody i mean apparently they're not going to do it now but because people got mad but the very fact that they tried to me it's another piece of the of the mosaic that you could just title rip subtext there's you can't you cannot do satire of this moment so people don't know this story in la union 0:32:20 center union station is the big train station in downtown and it is also right now one of the main covet testing centers that they have and a lot of kova testing spenders have been overwhelmed lately as you could imagine because i hope it is as bad as it's ever been in this country and getting worse by the day and the la city government issued a permit gender swapped tick-tock cast remake of can't buy me love and close it to the public and close it close the te the cove and testing site so not only are you having a situation where you're allowing the shooting of this thing to happen 170 people running around this enclosed building at the height of the pandemic they are they are critically reducing the city's infrastructure for coveted response in doing so now that does not tell you everything you need to know about the death spiral the capitalism is in this country because of its complete control of government like obviously government is the ex and uh government is inextricable from capitalism but it serves the reason it's there is it does serve a function of alienating some of the uh decision-making away from self-interested individual capitalists so that you can coordinate and reduce you can't eliminate because capitalism is inherently wasteful and destructive uh and at least reduce the ***** waste so that in times of crisis for example you can coordinate response uh in such a way that prevents collapse that's why after the the there was a panic in economic there was a wall street panic in 1907 that nearly brought the entire united states governments or the united entire united states economy took collapse the thing that stopped it is the jp morgan locked a bunch of the biggest bank owners you know in his library until they agreed to a private bailout of the american economy of the of of the in the form of bailing out the the stock market and that was such that was such a close call and totally dependent on one guy essentially having the wherewithal individually to alienate himself from the mere logic of a short-term profit that he could override that and everyone else you can't guarantee that's going to happen every time so they created the federal reserve to do that at that level and uh similarly and what we have now is a situation where all the things that were built up since the federal reserve systems specifically after the new deal to steer the ship have been all torn away and stripped and sold for parts because the you've got to get money somewhere because you've got to replace that profit that keeps going down because we're not doing anything anymore we're we're circulating money around us economy at this point is just purely about investing it's about spinning water wheels for no reason the reason that uber and all these other companies that have never made any money and in fact are so in the whole that even if they monopolized their respective markets it would take decades to even come close to making up for the ***** profits that the money has already been waste that's already been lost the reason they're going to keep giving them money it's not necessarily they don't recognize that it's it's good money after bad it's that there's nowhere else to put it there's nowhere else to invest money other than in uh like recreating 19th century uh uh and current indian practices of personal like servant servitude like all of the uber ***** is just creating through the two bilateral 0:36:26 contractual technological relationship of a contractor and a contractee uh old feudal relate oh feudal servant bonds that's the techno feudalism we keep talking about and part of that means is that the government is completely controlled completely controlled so that they can't even recognize any more than the capitalist can the individual capitalist can that in the even just for their own good they need to ***** pull up the goddamn nose of their ***** plane hey yes we got a day we got uh we got this shot for uh she's all that gender swap tick-tock show we got it congratulations that's gonna net your company but i i've been a good uh 10 grand in uh netflix royalties or whatever the ***** meanwhile you have exacerbated the spread of a disease that is destroying and undermining the very ***** economy that this entire city is based on the movie theaters as we know them have closed and yes we already 0:37:27 have streaming but there's gonna be a bottleneck there as you transition from one to the other and a lot of money is gonna get shed you want if there's any hope of keeping that industry afloat it is in tamping down on cloven as much as possible and yet the short-term interests of some ***** who wanted to shoot a guy taking his glasses off and revealing that he's actually hot the whole time and then they do a choreograph dance dance move to fat boy slim at the train station that is supposed to call back the corey grant's dance number uh from the end of the original she's all that and you have you got that congratulations and in exchange for that the you have further doomed everything unless the only reason this makes sense is if the idea of intervening in any of the bad stuff is a fiction and that the thing that separates those on the inside on the outside is not that they're just chained to the 0:38:28 profit motive so much as they are chained to the profit motive and also cognizant that because they are chained to the the ***** mast there's no stopping any of this there's no control in code therefore there are no more movie theaters oh well and that is what's going on perhaps perhaps perhaps perhaps like the thing that throws all of our models of self-interest even short-term self-interest into a tizzy is the question of how self-consciously black-pilled are our elites how much have they looked into the ***** uh anus of satan how many of them have gotten their own personal ned baby speech where the reality of it is capitalism and barbarism or socialism and not barbarism you if you want to be on top of this system it will collapse do you 0:39:29 want to not be on top and see what's behind door number two which in your heart you don't think is possible because remember these people are fully ideologically uh conditioned whereas they don't think that the alternative to capitalism exists so it is this it is this and barbarism it is barbarism so do you want to be the chieftain do you want to be in the castle or do you want to be sucking ***** pig ***** uh in in the fields and they have made the choice them and their kids are going to be on the top of the ***** stick and everybody else is going to have this ***** of the stick because if it's if all this really requires is for them to just remove one layer of self-conscious ideology the layer of capitalism actually is for the good of humanity capitalism actually makes everybody better off uh every uh it's free shoes it's the 0:40:30 milton friedman fairy tale stuff that they could win everybody else with and that only a few of them ever really believed but i think even now i i think at this point even they have have let the the scales fall and what they've seen is the reality of oh okay no never mind it doesn't make everybody anything everything better for everybody in the long run it actually makes things very bad for everybody but very few but i'm one of them and i'm going to do whatever it takes to stay there and if i want to have some sort of ethical reason for this well what about my kids what about my family what about the people i love don't i have a if it's all the same if we're going down anyway shouldn't i try to save my family shouldn't you pull your family out of a burning car before you pull anybody else out isn't that a responsible moral thing to do that's why the only thing that's going to break this up is is an eruption from without and by working class organs of power to disrupt the existing ones they 0:41:31 can't be taken over from within because within everyone within them everyone within them has i think ***** executive outcomes is coming back the pinkertons are rolling in it uh yeah no we're gonna it's the new gilded age we gotta get the gun thugs back uh gonna fill the crack as the steak collapses it'll fill the craps ***** pinkerton's 0:42:38 man supposedly alan pinkerton's thwarted an assassination attempt against john uh against lincoln uh when he was headed towards his inaugural well what the ***** where the ***** were you on april 15th you ***** yeah the pinkertons are apparently also in addition to getting staffed up as as security for especially urban areas a lot of domestic unrest they're also creating these executive uh catastrophe contingency 0:43:42 packages where high with net worth individuals can essentially get a uh uh like a medic alert bracelet where if the mob shows up to the compact to the front doors or something they will they will be able to crash them out with a team of operators and extract them to a prepared remote hardened location like a bunker type deal and in addition to that the craziest one is that last year the year before there was a uh i think a honda or toyota executive hyundai one of the big japanese automotive companies there's a uh the chief the the ceo was uh under house arrest on a bunch of uh finance crime charges i think like embezzling and stuff i'm not sure uh and he was up but he's also he was like uh um he's also a lebanese citizen and he hired some ***** black water type guys to uh sneak him out of the country on a private plane uh and then 0:44:45 get him to first istanbul and then cut up to another private plane to lebanon where he couldn't be extradited literally nissan yeah that was it so that's like the future is here you know there's nothing there's nothing that you could imagine that is not already in pupil figurative form happening right in front of us now of course these there's a lot of them though not all of them are terrible some are good prefigured they could be pre-figurative all depends on which ones we water midnight carlos ghosan that was that it's so i guess he's just still chilling in lebanon right that would have been funny if he got blown up in that uh ammonium uh somebody asked if the whiskey rebellion was a proto-working-class rebellion not really because you got to remember these are all small holders now we're talking full-on yeoman these subjects who were the hypothetical like the hypothetical subject of this constitutional order that was coming into being were these guys uh but part of that was that they had this this notion of liberty of being ungoverned that was only viable in the context of yeoman farming which in those parts of the country nor western massachusetts and new england that's where that model was born because that's where it was most viable like the land was good enough to grow stuff on but not good but not that good it was good it was it was it was good enough for you to grow crops for yourself and family and a surplus but you couldn't have plantation agriculture you couldn't have large-scale capital intensive agriculture in that part of the of the continent what you could have was a small farm that could produce a surplus and which would allow for the exchange of surplus for finished goods and the and then perhaps uh for more purchase of more land that allowed for an idea of a self-sufficient uh uh subject who was this would be essentially uh for whom a state would essentially be redundant because the market transactions would regulate every part of his economic life and social life that's where the libertarian idea comes from and like obviously the the way that the whiskey rebellion went with the vic the victory of federalism over it it uh you know it was a victory for the hamiltonian administrative state that was going to take these freemen and and uh lash them and and discipline them with with the with taxation and then later with uh with mortgages and and liens and things like that but in the context of creating a modern because the thing about capitalism is it's necessary because you have to grind through these social forms they're not going to and more importantly it's not even a choice it's inherent when you when when uh when the the colonies got connected to the dynamo of the british uh of british industry which is going to start the crank of wallenstein's world system as it wends its way around the cut of the continents uh the the intensification of of trade intensifies the need for alienating and intervening mechanisms of bureaucracy both state and private and that means alienating uh liberty away towards a center and the thing that pulled away from that process in america was the emergence of this alternative economic model this alternative production model in the south that is where why you were able you saw this early contradiction because that was the central contradiction of the colonial project or the american project postcolonial so

CUSHVLOG 120. THEY CAME TO BURGLE CARNEGIE HALL

it had two models of capitalist production they were both capitalists but obviously there is a significant difference between small holding farming as our agricultural of agricultural staples as the as the as the uh as the model uh and when i say model i mean the uh the model of resource end of this the model in the cities is the same as it is everywhere it's it's the it's the it's the maw that chews up all those things it eats all the food and takes all of the the uh all the materials two ways to fill get this moth 0:50:10 fed you had the smallholder model and then in the south you had the plantation over time the plant as as the ability to extract profit due to uh the expansion of slavery and then of course uh technological innovations like the cotton gym i mean the main reason that the first the first ranks of founding fathers thought that slavery was something that they could just put off was because they thought it was going to go away naturally in the near term because it wasn't really that profitable it wasn't really like where it was where it was then where it was during the colonial and an early modern period before we expanded it really wasn't that profitable the soil was already getting depleted in in the tidewater uh like george washington even though he was the biggest landowner in virginia he had to borrow 500 bucks to go to his own 0:51:14 inaugural because he had a bunch of bad harvests uh even though he had huge you know slave plantations and the margins just weren't good enough it was cotton and then the ability to to make cotton uh labor uh labor to reduce the labor intensiveness of cotton to a point where you could make more money make money off of it uh that made it uh a viable a long-term viable mode of production and that's what changed the politics of slavery over time and blew up the constitutional order so i would say that whiskey rebellion i don't think it's proto-working-class movement in that it has the form of popular over it has the form of a popular resistance to oppression the thing is is that the the axis of oppression then is not really the one that you see in a organized working-class movement within a capitalist system a fully integrated 0:52:16 capitalist system where the yeomanry or the yeoman conception of liberty is not an overriding thing uh and honestly that's one of the chief hindrances of the american labor movement is the persistence of the omen conception of liberty was only been protest that has been uh uh that has persisted the way it has because of our dynamic of expansion that has governed our nation until very recently like you can say oh the frontier closed in the 1890s yes but that's when we started our colonial wars and then very quickly uh we became the inheritors of a globe spanning empire it was all i really think that the myth man those ***** obelisks one of the things that that they've 0:53:17 really taken from us is any ability to have any wonder about anything because no one could have seen that for a second and not immediately thought oh this is viral marketing for some ***** and maybe it isn't maybe it's not maybe there's nothing else that ever happens it's like hey what was the deal with those obelisks and we never find out it's too late then and it's all gonna be a slow like there will never there can be no collective intake of breath because everything we see we inherently yeah it's getting chilly oh god the clowns guys the clowns thank you for reminding me about the clowns that was probably the one thing that more than anything should 0:54:19 have told you that in retrospect that trump should've was gonna win not because he's orange just because that kind of thing happening people are people are vibing on a weird people are vibing people are waiting for something people are they're tasting something in the air something's getting weird and honestly i wonder if the fact that trump won stopped the clown thing if it was just that clown like him being president diffused the energy that was turning into it was expressing itself in in weird clowns and if hillary had won maybe the clown thing would have had become a like a real extended phenomenon involving body counts and and uh cults and ***** or unless it was all unless it was viral marketing for it because if it was and they were cool about it we never would have known they weren't going to say hey this is for it because like 0:55:21 if they're really smart they don't know you it's d you program them deeply enough you don't have to make the connection they'll make it themselves yeah it is the plot of the movie joker and i wonder if trump being president didn't like defer divert us from the joker timeline at least temporarily now with biden getting back in here and like the normal folk the the adults in the room again does that mean the joker vacation is gonna start back up are we gonna start seeing clowns again clowns in uh we'll see after inauguration day after biden becomes president and doesn't get arrested by michael flynn after they've waved the servers around uh then i think you might see i am going to become the joker damn right damn right you are we all are 0:56:23 we're all going to be the joker sooner or later we're all getting occupied but no i feel like i i went through my jokerification phase and i came out the other end and hopefully we will come out to the other end collectively of our jokerfication phase uh feeling feeling like we're we're changed evolved upward maybe oh god cuomo i i still think the funniest thing would be it's john ossoff in 2024 because it's so nothing more perfectly democratic about a guy wasting a ***** ton of money to lose a center 0:57:24 a house race the most money i think anybody had ever used to lose a house race then taking another boatload of money burning it just burning it flushing it down the toilet to lose twice the same senate race and then he gets the nomination as the president so that he can like end up spending three billion dollars to lose to john taffer or larry the cable guy or larry the cable guy and john taffer strapped together like master blaster god i got it i behind this ***** i keep thinking that the 2024 republican candidate if it's not trump will be john junior and i know that everyone's like and myself i agree he has none of his father's raw charisma or talent of any kind he's a perfectly null fail son the ideal fail son but honestly i think that takes that 0:58:26

um she thinks laughs a dog **Music playing** hurley burley by man man that's a good song i always thought that would be good uh at bat music i said that i wanted my uh my hipster ass baseball closing pitching music to be two plus two equals five by radiohead i think even more obnoxious would be doing a man-man song as my at 0:1:2 bad music for officers for a free officers movement in america my kingdom for jerry rawlings ah man talked before about how like you know in a context of of unveil of of of compounding crises you know like if we assume that uh there isn't really a respite after covid if if the next step after covet is an intensification rather than a remitting a relapsing and remitting uh uh admiseration which i think is unlikely but possible then you gotta throw politics out the window entirely the only hope we have to to like stop the skid off of the end of the mountain and into the abyss of just total atomized uh uh techno overlordship is going to be the us military i mean no joke not of course 0:2:4 the monsters at the top of it not those joint chiefs of staff were mostly monstrous because of their banality i mean these are all just eichmann's they're all eichmann's not in the sense that they did as great evil as eichmann did even though of course they're perpetuating militarily the great blood fountain of american empire which has a massive ***** body count itself they are eichmann in their way that they approach their butchers lives is with uh total blank banality it is time service it isn't even like you could say about a figure like hitler it isn't even some expression of a mad will to power that is at least connected to a human spiritual yearning even if it's corrupted and monstrous they are merely punching a clock in the service of a misery i mean the only reason they're able to do it is because they've been abstracted from the process like eichmann was in his little room with his little typewriter same way these 0:3:5 guys are in their little centcoms looking through their ***** uh night vision goggle shots of i think how many military males we got in there oh so good uh we have now reduced that number of terrorists because as we all know the number of terrorists is fixed and therefore the job of fighting terrorism is just killing them until they're all so they tell themselves as they punch the clock they're never gonna stop anything from happening they'll become amazon generals they'll just get inducted into the bezos like peter thiel division and they won't even think about it traditionally where there has been uh not not socialist not marxist but at least progressive and like broadly i don't know humanitarian populist sentiment within the military it has come from 0:4:6 its middle ranks uh it is the all of all of the non-re non like of all the military regimes of all the coup imposed regimes uh of the 20th century uh all the ones that were not strictly reactionary like strictly existed to serve the interest of of the most retransited uh uh um faction of like the the national bourgeois you know like your pinochets uh the ones who whose regimes did not just become like authoritarian imposition of neoliberalism uh they all occurred because middle level officers like lieutenants often captains sometimes colonels very very rarely generals get together and because a lot of them come from working class backgrounds you know they're not the military is broadly uh egalitarian in its uh in its in fact it's disproportionately weighted now in 0:5:9 our military specifically and generally in the history it's disproportionately weighted towards poorer people in terms of the number of people who make it up because you need numbers you need cannon fodder and those aren't going to come from people with money if you're in the if you have money if you have position if you have status and you're going into the military it's in exchange for a shiny shiny sword and a beautiful red uniform and a guarantee that you'll never have to do a ***** push-up in your life but you get to ride around at a fancy horse and sit sit and sip tea and order other people into their deaths or maybe charge along them grandly but from the front so that your debt is part of a grand narrative that their deaths can never be one way or another uh you want rank and therefore you're a reactionary and so the top levels of the military will always end up selecting for that in the middle rank you have some upstarts you have some people who came from the bottom started from the bottom now they're here or maybe from the restive and always and always 0:6:11 uh liminal middle class and then you encounter army mel uh military organization military esprit de corps military education which is going to be broadly liberal in a way that's going to conflict with the uh you know if you have a nationalist conception with you have to if that nationalism goes beyond this narrow ruling clique which is more likely to happen if you come from the bottom part of it all of a sudden that national concept is not and so where does this happen free officers movement in egypt nasa of course i mean no matter where they ended up and how degraded they end up of the bath revolutions in iraq and uh uh syria um and also gaddafi which by the way gaddafi i don't think is a great man i think that you know he he belongs among the pantheon applies who are able to stand up to america and you kind of have to give all those guys credit you have to respect them just because of how difficult that was uh but uh and you know he wasn't he did not uh fully sign up 0:7:13 he was always playing a double game until it stopped working for him and he did

forever and another thing i respect about the ***** he uh he never promoted himself to general the guy was a colonel when they took power when the green movement that he was ahead of took power and then he was in charge for 40 years and he never promoted himself to general he was always um who else uh the ***** i mean the most like the most like explicitly left-wing movement actually had the support of a number of actual communists and i'm referring here to the carnation revolution in 1974 in portugal when when young officers some of whom were you know just liberals some who were disenchanted conservatives everybody who was sick of the estado novo the decrepit salazar sort of uh corporatist government like proto-fascist i 0:8:14 guess uh government that had ruled since the 20s uh before franco came up the ghost and there was an attempt to maintain the estado novo to maintain more importantly the colonial brush fire wars that portugal was fighting to maintain their territory in angola and mozambique where portuguese boys were going to fight and die including the friends of these officers and they came together and with their educations and their experiences and said holy ***** you know we have a chance here and they carried off something that could have tipped into a like a military-led communist uh uh overthrow there it didn't because the weight of like the the center of gravity was not with the communists in portugal it was it was with the left more broadly which means that it would eventually settle more towards liberalism which in the context of the heart of cold war europe it's hard to argue would have really had and you know the early communist leaders of the kardashians revolution ended up kind of regretting 0:9:15 what happened because it did you know it ended with port but you know now here in this crisis moment when everyone's turning to ***** and everything is turning we're just getting either like the iron boot of biden bidenist macronut mercellian thought like the global just uh the jack boot of of naked uh neo-liberalism or just the incoherent uh uh reactionary dog-brained populism the spectaclized uh fantasy politics of bolsonaro and trump and ***** orbit and all these motherfu all these main cases all these martinets where is the place where those aren't the dominant tendencies portugal is one and you can say that portugal's left-wing government has made compromises and is undermining you know some broad left movement internationally such that it exists but i would argue that in the context of where you could be in uh in the current moment where your government could be in response to 0:10:16 dealing with this covet crisis and the way it's reshaping the economy uh and way of life i would rather be in portugal and they had one of those uh colonel's movements chavez began his rise to power with an attempted coup before he well they took that the uh like the position that having struck that blow and created that crete core for problem is the united states military our our thing is almost designed to squeeze out anyone with any for left-wing sentiment because i'm sure there's plenty of broad liberals in the in the young officer corps some of whom could could if conditions deteriorate and they're forced to make you know more stark choices about choosing between profit and human life they might choose human life they might choose socialism or barbarism as the choice becomes more clear but even if they wanted to they have no initiative or ability their their job is to push the buttons in this giant wheezing machinery of mil of war where winning is not the point of it this is one of the first military this is a very rare thing in the military where it is designed to not do the thing that it's supposed to be functioning for like when you go into the military it is you're taught that the role of the military is to win wars but the actual role of the us military is to fight wars and those are two different things and having to live that lie it's unsustainable and i mean i i i don't know how many people who find themselves like tending towards humanity and towards socialism and away from capitalism and barbarism they might just get turfed out before they have a chance to get even to the ***** junior officers level but i have said that is speculation i have very little familiarity with the military i'm a soft fancy college boy i didn't go to i didn't go where i'm from it really does come down to a lot of cases you go to military or you go to college that's that's the the choice in like uh yeah manitowoc which is like a a fly spec mini duck rust belt town that had been a um a maritime hub it's actually where half of the submarine fleet was built during world war ii the other half was built in pennsylvania and there's a sub uss kobe you can go and visit in manifold and they had a big uh they created i think they still make the uh the manitowoc uh cranes i think uh but there was like a pot pad factory and it was all going away as i was coming up there as i was com like coming into awareness because i really was born with the neoliberal era there in the early 80s and so i was uh seeing it all fall apart before my eyes and so by the time i get out of i got out of high school like if you go to the military unless you want to stick around in like huff blue or you can work or you work at a farm with your family and you want to do that you know and there were farm people around there it's all surrounded by farmland uh or you uh you had to go to college or the military those are your options and because of what my experience of life had led me to weird quirks of biology and experience i mean the ***** uh back injury being one of them that would have disqualified me even if nothing else had although honestly i don't think i could have joined the military if i wanted to i'm deaf in one ear i don't think i think i wouldn't have even like i wouldn't have been drafted in world war one world war ii i would have been 4f with the hat because like i hear that people got denied uh service in world war ii which was not something people really dodged like you really wanted to fight because it was so socially expected uh but people like not getting it because of ***** flat feet and i'm like god damn i literally can't hear other half of my head i bet they would not and and whatever my temperament my experience my interests my social self sense 0:14:24 of self was not really compatible with the military it did not appeal to me so hey college get some scholarships take up some money choice but there are those who go through the officer corps which is essentially the college of the military branch that's the college of uh the military like vector there and then you come out of that and you've got a bunch of ideas you know you've assimilated some you rejected others you have some sort of sense of self politically even if you think you don't because a lot of those guys love to think that they're apolitical but of course that's also a political position in one way or another they are thoroughly political they are political politicized which means they're encountering this moment of crisis and deprivation is the same way we are how will people respond as things get worse and that's why i 0:15:25 say if this if the slide is intense i don't think there's enough time for us to build up the infrastructure to resist it at a class level as a working-class movement to withdraw work in a strategic way in order to reduce the system's ability to function so that some sort of confrontation has to come to be had with capitalism like i said this is all presupposing one trajectory uh in that case i think we got to just we got to be hopeful that that cast exists somewhere but like i said that is the less likely outcome but you know that's got to be something that people think about and you know keep stirring in the pot there when they think about things long term is the military because it is like the biggest only trusted nonpartisan institution in this country like we've talked about how we're in the among the politicized of us we're creating a new dichotomy between two groups of people who live in alternative realities not just to the point where they think different things but that they essentially pay homage to 0:16:26 the authority of only things of their choosing and in that case you really don't have any institution that can be ever ever hope to tame really out of control social uh violence or even uh just a rapid decline of you know coherence of an economy and it's in a hypothesis but certainly does complicate the way a lot of people like on the left people who style themselves leftists like to think about the military like yes it is uh it is an agent of doom it is our worldwide uh it's it's what rends the sinews of the but the people within it have to be understood to be in roughly the same 0:17:28 relationship personally and culpability wise to the real exercise of this machinery as plenty of people who you would call comrade within the united states and so that's uh why you know it just things always need to be more nuanced but we always just drive towards oppositions and bernie did have the most military donors and also as frederick jameson has pointed out the us military is one of the few places where you actually live in some semblance of a social democracy in this country you know obviously it's threadbare and getting worse over time because cuts everywhere austerity everywhere but you go you go into unlike any other place in american life if you decide to go to college or you decide to learn a trade or or try to you know hustle or whatever the hell you're trying to do uh in in the in the wage economy if you join the military you are guaranteed certain things like housing like health care in exchange for a civic engagement your duty that's actually how those are people that's that's the social order that would like hypothetically create a uh and sustain a social democracy or but of course the argument here is well none of this is going to lead to socialism or a socialist revolution obviously not obviously not what it might do is stop not stop of course but slow change the trajectory of reduce the intensification of the process of full atomization and social dissolution and spiritual dissolution any literal physical dissolution that is occurring under this crisis-ridden and then maybe in in that context you can work from there it's easier to work in a room that's not filling with water it's easier to do a crossword puzzle if ***** zyklon b vents so yeah now this is is prescriptive beyond that it's like well what about uh you know should people be joining the military i don't know these are all decisions people have to make on themselves but i do know that the the totalizing work of of defining yourself online through having a rigid approach to reduced binary questions is is how is is a recipe for someone who cannot engage the world around them uh positively cannot is not likely to create the feedback loop that that produces a positively charged social interaction that can actually but yeah i would not i mean i obviously even if i could i would not have joined the military ever i couldn't imagine myself doing any of that uh even if i wasn't even if i was guaranteed i wouldn't be in a theater of war but the thing is you can't guarantee that and that is the big reality that underscores all of this and that lends such like real um emotion charged feeling to the question of the military and society because while we're talking about this it's killing people while we're speaking it's killing people i mean in every sense not only is it a machinery of death not only does it by its name by its very existence rob american citizens and citizens globally of well-being and wealth and health and possibility to thrive uh it's actually also the single largest corporate uh climate emitter in the world it's killing us at every level that's bad it makes sense that people want to make this a like at the signal issue and then there's a question of solidarity how do you say that you have solidarity with the victims of empire if you're conspiring with the perpetrators of the violence of empire which i say that is the i mean that's the contradiction at the heart of organizing in the imperial core but it's unresolvable and the reason people love arguing about it is because it's unresolvable because it will always lead to more arguing veterans i think uh would be a ver and and the thing about veterans is and this is a reason that i don't think that we're going to get to anything with the democrats and republicans i feel like at this point the brand of the democrats has been so spoiled among i would say veterans as a category broadly and certainly white veterans and of course that's racism as a reason for that but a lot of it is unnecessary a lot of it is around charged vacant political theater that doesn't actually result to have anything to do with the parties themselves like everybody can point out tediously that them actually democrats give more money to the military and they give more money to va offers and they their policies would help veterans yeah sure but that's 0:23:34 not how it's experienced it's experienced as a cultural slugfest between performances of value and the democratic performance of value is even if like joe Biden and those guys the political people try hard to counteract it at the cultural level the associated elements are hostile to it and and that means that the thing that's going to come up the thing that's going to catch among us if it's going to is going to come in the form eventually eventually probably of some sort of party formation and it will be outside of that dynamic because that's the only way that you could breach the the the hall of like a localized labor and political movement uh onto one that people are aware of in the media sphere and then one into which people are moving towards elsewhere the generation of political momentum you're not going to have uh that if you have 0:24:35 to deal with a lot of the ***** about democrats and culture stuff and also if you're if you're a post lefty who wants the republicans to do it it means the republicans can't do it either because the republicans are the party of racism the republicans are the party of hatred of minorities and ***** immigrants and hostility to women as equal citizens that's not going anywhere either so nobody's working class person no matter where they are demographically is going to be able to adhere to one of these parties uh enough to get a broad swath of working-class people that operate from a class perspective because they're and you need one of those halves to get with the people who aren't part of this ***** or parts of both of them more likely parts of both of them and that's by something that isn't tainted with this and you can say but it's 0:25:36 not fair that the democrats aren't the part are considered not to hate troops and it is fair that the matter yeah you don't want to talk about a third way because that's i mean that was originally fascism if you talk about the military part people's hairs are really going to get back in the heads about fascism and then of course it was the you know neoliberal neo-fascism of the current uh the current trajectory either way no thank you but uh that only makes sense if you think that the two ways we have now are like a left and right they're not it's actually more of a second way like the current way is one way it's one big thing nothing is going to change it's locked the gears are 0:26:38 frozen we're tumbling off of the end of the thing politics is dead within this structure so anything that comes outside of it is an alternative to that so it's a second way because fascism was a third way in a real contest between capital and labor it was it was a real donny brooke those commies looked like they would have they had old

uh rich uncle penny bags on the run for a minute there until fascism showed up to save capitalism's ass that is not the situation we're in right now world where politics has become a a a trump low it's it's a ***** an illusion and we're we're fixated by it while uh the chinese are tweeting about australian war crimes they have entered 0:27:42 the game folks china is entered the mine space they are going to try to weaponize human rights just like we do and it is going to be delightful oh man seeing people tie themselves into contortions to try to out woke one another in their justification of bloodshed because of course all of this talk about human rights is strictly for the eggheads it's strictly for the don't be in ***** no one else is listening to that or cares so that means the language will get more and more horrifyingly grotesquely uh diversity yeah my real dream is you know i said it's gonna come down to china versus uh america well how about a couple of officers movements high-fiving in the middle what about that to get rid of the like the top at the the top and corporate 0:28:43 merger or huh how lightly is it not not very but the good news is if you think about it nothing is likely because none of these there are so many probabilities and none of them uh mean anything until they've resolved into one state or another which means you can't look at anything until it's already happened and that the whole thing of likely or unlikely is much less important than understanding the greater structures it's not whether your predictions are good or not it's about whether you feel like you are grounded in your analysis and then you can extend it for a bit but the further you extend the ***** mistier it gets because contingencies pile up upon one another and render every subsequent moment just uh vastly more difficult to calculate because of the amount of randomness involved the cat is neither dead nor alive the cat the 0:29:48 cat is floating through like we all are like i talked about how the election was sort of opening of the box and i think it was an opening of the box for one thing but it only opened the box on that thing now we got to deal with that that's a dead cat okay but there's a bunch of other cats here there's a bunch of other boxes none of them have been opened yet and all we can really tell by that that box is maybe looking which direction we're likely to see the next box grasping in in broad strokes not through i mean and of course what this is what i'm talking about like at the level of theory the good news is while people talk like this well people are operating at this level people are operating at the level of technology people are operating at the level of personal engagement the movement being built as i speak the contours of which are coming into view what it is i don't know no one even knows they're part of it and no one will so if you want to say there's no hope that nothing can be good that 0:30:51 doom is inevitable well honestly that doesn't really change anything because you're still going to be living a life you're still going to have people you love unless you're just going to kill yourself which you're not going to do you're going to live your life

you're going to have people in your life that you love you're going to try to make your their life better the more you love the people around you the more your people you're gonna love the more you're gonna care about them which means the more likely you are when a situation comes where you can all help each other you do it and then you're doing it and you're moving towards the same goal as somebody who has the perfect outline in their head and never lost faith and never took the black pill you're going to end up doing the same thing doesn't matter what got you there intellectually that's oh that's that's just following after your heart pulling you in a direction you're hard pulling you gravitationally and like that is just to say like it's 0:31:52 fun to talk about this stuff and it should inform you your life one way or the other it's tough to talk about think people need things to talk about people need things to think about and things that help them make sense of the world are better than things that make the world more murky and make them more angry and make them more scared because they understand it less like those things have help they have benefit but they cannot be the thing that makes you act they can't be because you will just be missing the forest you know i realize that there is something to that oh 0:32:54 that horrible saying that people uh that love to who who want to avoid uh any kind of account any sort they want to do politics purely for clout and have no interest in actually changing anyone the old anyone's mind are making the world better that is the old it's not my job to educate you think and that is obviously incredibly cynical when used and it is used specifically so that people can get out of justifying their beliefs because one it's it's hard two it's frustrating uh i.e not fun and three it's actually impossible for some of them because they don't even know why they believe what they believe because deep down they're operating off of social signals and they haven't reasoned to that point so if they get into an argument or they get into a thing where they have to educate they might run out of knowledge and they can't run out of knowledge publicly without undermining their position and status they always 0:33:55 have to bluff that they know more that is essentially a call of blood if they don't have to they won't and since then they can just say that and that lets them opt out but i think one thing that makes people say that that isn't just craven and isn't purely just about clout is the fact that uh there is something to it if you extend it to it's not my job to educate you about everything and that's the big problem with one of the big problems with this online thing is that everybody is operating off the premise that they have to be a ***** expert on everything they have to be at comment on everything uh and so when they're asked why do you believe this they might not really know but also it might not matter that they don't know because it's not really their job in life it's not what they know about it's not what they can communicate there is something they do know and can communicate and if you ask them about that they'd be able to they would want to answer you because they would be happy to share but nobody nobody is in that position everyone is in the position of trying to bluff each other around knowing and that's why a lot of the questions and the the 0:34:57 the things people are supposed to educate you about end up just being like contested sides of an argument rather than any useful insight because that's all you're really trying to do is tell somebody the right side of an argument to take not any practical application to your life so everybody shouldn't be ***** answering every question about every goddamn thing maybe when you know something about something say it of course i know easy like that's hilarious for me to say i built my ***** career on being the generalist loudmouth and it's like yes fair cop and that's i'm one of the people who helped create a incentive structure for people who go online to talk about politics which was if you just act like you know everything about everything enough people will take you seriously they'll pay you to talk and then you don't have to do anything you ever work anymore which is what we're all trying to do is avoid the ***** wood chipper the wood chipper that is whittling around us at every moment 0:35:58 of our lives or as we perceive it as such even if what i'm saying is that now you know i think it's a time to like pick which you think you can confidently articulate and i feel like i have found through a lot of bullshitting and a lot of uh a lot of public uh you know thinking through i have found like a a dimension of like human thought conception whatever information that i feel relatively confident about talking about of course just by luck it's the stuff that's easiest to learn about because it's really just about absorbing information and then collating it you don't need to apply it the way that a scientist does that's why i respect them or apply it in any real sense because you don't have any you don't really have like co-workers or customers in the 0:37:0 traditional sense so you're not bound by those relationships uh it's a weird place to be but it's left me here feeling like okay this is stuff i can talk about and i really try not to talk i'm trying to wean myself off of talking about anything i don't feel like i have something to really add and that's why i'm like cutting myself away from predicting things besides trying to sketch out like a three-dimensional model for like the slice of time we find ourselves in uh because it it attenuates any like i think some people might be better than to predict specifically if they had more at more grounding in certain empirical scientific traditions than i do so and like questions of economics like i like the arguments about you know uh mmt and ***** uh uh job guarantee versus ubi i don't know enough and i don't i don't think i'm gonna find myself motivated enough to learn enough about that stuff to add anything that anybody else hasn't 0:38:1 already said better than me all i can do is like from my position of understanding observe the argument and see which one's convincing it's chilly it's getting cold and then it's apparently going to be a storm this weekend that's why i like to talk about

history because i feel like i'm on a nice solid ground there no i know in the broad sense what happened and that's why politics politics is essentially history backwards politics is essentially like i mean political science i mean like you know whatever you call political science the made up science of political science it's history backwards we're trying to turn it and see the other way the other way through the telescope and it's possible but you need to have tools i don't have so i like to do a little bit of that then i like to use mostly history because i feel like i've got a better uh grab on that one because all you got to do is read easy what would happen if i shaved my beard i would probably lose subscribers i will say that i'll just put it at that and leave it i don't think it'll ever happen just like with the shaving of the head i don't think it's gonna happen if it didn't happen at the height of the first quarantine uh before i even had my you know uh my moment of enlightenment that i've been you know has helped me cope ever since somebody said somebody keeps talking about ethan hogg in the chat the other day they said that ethan hawke personally called us out and said chapel that he hates champo which i never found out if that's true nobody said it to me on twitter nobody like said cc this happened and now they're saying that ethan hawk says that he is a marxist-leninist this happening are these things happening or is there a weird guy creating like a para reality in the chat and trying to get me to participate in him because he's a little sicko is ethan hawking to be the american qaddafi i highly doubt it i did finish reagan land it's great uh wonderful i don't i hope he doesn't keep going i feel like he there's at this point it's redundant like anything other anything from then would be a different project and uh it's probably not one that he's that interested in i pursue apparently he's doing uh uh work on like the early democratic party i think if he is i am very excited about that uh i would love to see oh god rick pearlstein writing about martin van buren who will be the lib pinkertons wasn't that lib uh isn't that the antifa pinkerton who domed that guy in denver i know it's horrible and i'm not happy there's something slapstick about it the whole setup it's hard not to laugh i'm sorry i mean the guy does seem like a kind of a douche you know not that sad like you know i don't get sad about way better people than him dying but uh i just don't like the whole spectacle of that ***** i just find it i really don't it's it's more than anything it just depresses me because it shows **Music playing** no this is not a ranger regiment jacket i'm stealing three types of valor with three types of valor are being stolen with this bomber jacket so we've got here the united states uh marshall service then we have airborne here that's right second rangers and then so i'm stealing valor from those organizations and i'm also stealing valor because i do not in fact i did not in fact work on that movie so stealing this chat wearing this jacket is in fact valor theft this was my halloween costume this year uh it was high concept so the premise is i was not teddy kgb i had the teddy kgb

i had my my red sweat uh my my red jumpsuit on and then i had a button down i didn't have this shirt i had i had a button-down kind of halloween looking shirt that was pretty close to where we he the one he wore i was not teddy here gb i was john malkovich on the set of conair because khan air came out uh i think two years or a year before rounders so uh if oh yeah i'm sorry on the set of rounders not conair so if hypothetically john malkovich was standing around waiting for a take like drinking a coffee on a set of rounders he might well have been wearing this jacket between takes so that was the halloween idea and it was good i got the hat the beard played i wanna i always want to make i do have halloween costumes i want the my facial ***** to play i don't like it with if i don't have a mustache if it does if a guy doesn't have a beard it's more glasses same thing and the glasses are non-negotiable i am blind as a bat another reason they probably wouldn't love me in the military really really bad eyesight i had i have to get special lenses that take the regular thickness and reduce them because if i didn't do that this this lens would probably be like maybe maybe a half inch thick like a i'm really i'm a physical wreck you can kind of see how i ended up being very dualistic so for much of my life my body did feel kind of like a ***** prison like i couldn't move it the way i wanted couldn't see for ***** i could get contacts i think but i've never looked into it i never wanted contacts one i think i look better with glasses my eyes are a little deep set i kind of sit back there uh and the other is i don't want to stick my finger in my eyeball every day oh smoke weed i do somebody wants me to do yoda for some reason off off that loud i am i am the answer by the way to the question posed by e1 what if yoda was six tall six foot tall and smoked weed you're looking at him right here buddy this is this is if yoda was six feet tall and smoked weed what if yoda was six feet tall and spoke with grogu is not yoda obviously i thought we were all clear on this ah what if yoda was six feet tall and he smoked weed boom shout out to e1 boys very good very good podcast very very very very talented we're all we're all i am not a star wars nerd i i was as much a star wars as anyone who grew up when i did i mean i had star wars sheets i had star wars pop-up book i had the star wars figures i saw the movies a bunch of times but it was just part of like a broader palette of pop culture that i've also watched like i remember being really excited to see the batman movie waiting in line when i was a little kid uh i liked that too you know it just it was back then things didn't define you that way because we weren't at the micro sect level of pop culture there was still a broad mainstream and you were just a part of it you didn't unless you were a nerd which was when nerd meant something and like i was a nerd about some things i was a nerd about the civil war that was my star wars that was my pokemon that was whatever the hell you people were into while you were well you were partying at uh with your pokedex playing magic the gathering i was studying

the blade of joshua lawrence chamberlain which he used to lead the 20th maine down little round top on the second day of gettysburg july 2nd 1863 i was reading the civil 0:48:20 war books i was looking through big civil war macbooks i had this i literally had you guys had pokedex i had a service they would mail me like every month a pack of essentially civil war trading cards they were but they were about the size of um they were the size of like recipes and they came out you got a recipe book or a recipe box and then they came they're about the size of like a postcard or a recipe card and they had on the front they had this like a battle or a general or a place or a piece of military equipment in the back they'd have the stats and i would substitute them so that was i i didn't really have a pop culture thing i've developed those like you know attachments as i got older and i engaged with like this new pop culture where oh now there's a now nerd is like a category that you can like choose from and 0:49:22 oh what's this it's basically absorbing all of culture because the things that make nerdy being nerdy cool are the things that you learn are cool in co or the things that make you nerdy are the things that in college you learn are actually cool and so the culture as it comes more ecology becomes nerdier and everyone gets pulled towards nerd or pulled away from nerd uh like that's the whedon snyder divergence and i never cared enough about it because it was not grounded in like the child i think because a lot of the reason this is so powerful for people the why a people and what the and the the devin ferraccis and the movie bob type guys is because this ties them deeply to that period of time when their lives were promised when they felt fresh with with the life and enthusiasm and they had you know a life ahead of them and they they want to like stay connected to that and i understand it i think one of the reasons i was never able to like fully get on board with any of this stuff even though 0:50:23 of course i was i got went along i watched the marvel movies i enjoyed them i would it was a wait what was what people like i were talking about so i talked about it with them but i never gave my soul over to it because where that is in my in me is not in ***** star wars or ***** comic books or any of that ***** it's it's the second day of gettysburg coming down little round top and they don't put that ***** in those movies i was i'm certainly not as much of a war nerd as the actual warner like that guy is me on like every type of like you know steroid of talent like far better writer than i could ever hope to be you know and therefore a more rigorous thinker and they're like a much broader spectrum of knowledge than i could ever hope to attain uh because it powered me but you know i was never very powered because my 0:51:24 talents were meager and my motivation also but yeah i'm thinking more and more that the alternative history of reconstruction might be my long-term writing project i might do some other stuff but i'm starting to think i might like sit down i mean it would start with just reading everything i'm going to have to really go back and

look a lot more like reread phoner start with rereading phoner and dubois and then everything i've missed you know since i kind of got destroyed by the internet and then i might do it i might do that it might happen stay watch this space and if it does start happening i will certainly talk it out here like that will be a very useful i think that'll be useful for my process i think so if i actually start doing this and start reading about it i'll probably do a little book club as i'm going through the stuff and moving through does that sound good like whatever i'm reading at the moment i'll probably start with foner make sense right yeah so we'll do a fauner uh book club very shortly i mean maybe at the beginning maybe next year we should shoot for it because i got stuff i gotta do uh in december so yes next year you'll start a founder book club on here not like a whole hour but you know like a little chunk at the end or something and we're all we'll do boys after that probably those two and then maybe like i'll just do them like as i read the book i'll maybe talk about it instead of going through the whole thing we'll see we'll see what people want to do if it's still even a thing if i'm still but uh there's a couple books by at least one book by james oakes i really want to read and then actually there's a big you know what else i might want to actually do i'm wondering if i should i haven't read it and if people anyone has and you have a review please let me know because i think i might start with this one the same way when me and chris started talking about uh the politics of uh like uh the early republic for a project we we read um the willens book rise of american democracy like it covers that arrow great and then you can build from there uh and i want something that you can start from like even below the level of reconstruction uh and and it covers the period and there's a there's a book called i hope i'm remembering the title here it's it's it's a it's a rather yes the republic for which it stands the united states during reconstruction and the gold gilded age by richard white i was thinking if that's good if people have heard it because i haven't read it and i'd like to start maybe with something i haven't read before uh we could start there just to get like the the political uh and the greater uh context and then fauna from there so if anyone knows we'll do that and if not i am and i have to admit so all right so i'm thinking about it i don't know yet what the project will end up looking like there's a maybe i could do it god help me i could do it like as a novel oh my god harry turtledove style which is maybe too cringe or a sort of like a little monograph like that lincoln lennon lives book that just sort of sketches it out sort of like an alternative more scholarly less cringy maybe the whole thing is cringe no matter what maybe counter narrative history is inherently cringe i think an argument could be made but at the same time i'm trying to move towards the thing that i think i could fire my enthusiasms around and get me over the hump of like presenting uh you know a coherent view no musical let me say this it's not going to be a musical there will be no rapping there will be no hypno happening rapidly crappity well yeah 0:56:37 it is wish fulfillment but the thing is is what i would want to do is i would want to steer away from like the best of all possible worlds scenario i would i would not i would want to like self-consciously if either way i did it i would be i would want to push against the headwinds of my of my fantasy of what i would want and i think i could do that the more grounded it is historically that's why i want to read a bunch and reread stuff before i even start because i don't want to just make it a little uh a thumb sucker because the only reason counterfactual history is useful is if it allows you to see how mechanisms play out where fluidity exists within a system and where and where like uh energy and force can be applied and you can do that sometimes more clearly by abstracting yourself away from the moment which is too fired with uncertainty to really be able to uh articulate or just you could just sort of if you study the past enough you can sort of project out a little blurry alternative pathway you know like if you know enough about the conditions where things a dream you 0:57:38 of uh bus to move of course got that one tattooed on my brain but also more uh more uh obscure ones like uh principal's office so yeah yeah no i'm a boomer guys i i warn you going in i don't pretend to be one of your uh one of your comrades i don't pretend to be from the streets i'm not i'm not steve buscemi rolling in with my ***** skateboard and my rock band or music band shirt saying how do you do fellow kids that's not me i'm old as ***** look at my hairline look at this ***** it's a ***** it is a wasteland i am not a reactionary now that's the one thing i don't 0:59:50 think i am i don't think i have a reaction i mean depending on what you mean by that of course people can make it mean whatever they and i do feel like i have a different perspective on this ***** because i'm not a fully digitized citizen i have been digitized but in my adult life i know a time before digitization i'm being pulled through the ***** stargate through the black hole of being spaghettified but i'm in the process i didn't come out a strand of spaghetti and that i think doesn't make me better i think that's a lot of the stupid heat and argument about all this generational politics which is 90 ***** anyway boils down to this charged idea that there's like a judgment behind it there's none it's just position in time it's position in time and relationship to means of production and the technology thereof that's the difference there's nothing to be judged about it just saying is i think that i it allows me to see 1:0:56

some of uh what's happening because i could still watch like it flowing up my arm you know like i can feel it moving through like uh you know blood poisoning it's not just my whole circulatory system but the thing about that is is that means that i am i am going to be limited in my ability to understand anything that's happening because i'm on the other side of this thing i'm not fully within it which means that i don't really know what's going on i can't all i can do is offer like a uh orthogonal commentary on it the thing itself is going to have people within it and the people within are going to have responsibilities to themselves to their families and loved ones to try to you know take and they are going to have knowledge that i don't have because they're going to be acculturated to and so saddle up partners i wish 1:1:58 you well i just i'm not going to act like i could say you're going to save anybody if there's anything determined by your being younger by being immersed in this techno world alienated even further from life than people before you uh that that's going to make you inherently the revolutionary cadre who saved the world i'm afraid not nothing destined about it it's in our hands we're gonna have to reach across all these arbitrary boundaries and come together for any hope of an alternative to full i'm revisionist of course i'm a revisionist that's such a stupid ***** accusation revisionism had it's like all these mid-century terms people are cosplaying like tanky who's tanks there's no ***** tanks there's nobody you could even possibly say are the tanks i'm sorry china doesn't count even in your heart you know it's not the 1:3:0 same thing as a soviet union it just isn't because it's not because these the chinese communist states say whatever you want about it is not missionary the way that the soviet was there was not an internationalism to it you couldn't join the club they don't want you as a member they want to make a deal with you and that's a different relationship to it than the relationship between western communists and the soviet union so those were their tanks in their heart in a way that doesn't exist anymore so tanky is meaningless and like it obscures the thing because it puts weight and power morally behind questions that mean nothing like whether you were going to stand for the purges in a western communist party that had meaning you were fighting for power you were fighting against other people who were in the broad left trying to trying to move towards uh like a confrontation with capital during the collapse of capitalism you were fighting you were fighting a battle and it had stakes and so of course it had moral weight there's no moral weight to these questions because there's no these tanks don't belong to anybody revisionist is the same thing revisionist was 1:4:1 a meaningful slur because you were revising away from a understood practice that undergirded a global movement there is none you're not revising away from anything you're rising away from my boutique understanding of marxism that nobody else agrees with except you're your fellow clique members all you can do is threaten to kick me out of a clique i've revised yes i've revised from you but nobody else but your fellow travelers think that that's the case not like revising away from a communist government or a communist history of state actions like oh this was a revisionism you can look back from a position of authority there is just like with the tanks the tanks there's no real tanks the revisionism there's no real book like there's no real reified idea that you can deviate or revise from and so in both cases the whole vocabulary only serves to obfuscate reality and and mystify the conditions of every argument you're trying to have and this is what i mean when i say that this is this place is poison if you try to because like why are you talking about this stuff why do you care about the questions that would even read you to call someone a tankier revisionist it's because you're trying to do politics and if that's what politics are again if you're doing something else that's one thing but if this is what you're doing it's not enough me included and i'm saying time out for all right i'm gonna go soon it's getting chilly out here was i being trolled about the guy the ethan hawk guy was he trolling me all right well like i said sure i'm revisionist but who are you gonna call who are you gonna call mark's busters there's no one there there's no one who's authority you can call on that will be universally agreed upon by any sub-section that you could broadly call the left so there's no um there's no enforcing orthodoxy intellectually just like there's no uh enforcing orthodoxy politically through the barrel of the soviet uh the red army's guns in the warsaw pact and that is the that is the condition that is the the condition of western politics where the drive train has been broken because there is no working-class movement undergirding any of this just like there's no soviet government undergirding a uh of state power wielding of a condition of an intensity deep enough to impact things or in the west trade unions and labor movements and labor parties i should wear a kimono i would like to wear a kimono one of these days when i get back in when it gets too cold to come out here i might get i might i might get a clown i've been looking for a robe i haven't been able to find one but yeah i'm a revisionist call the kgb they don't care call the kgb i'll just have up went downtown and caught in the gun so don't shoot you shoot that thing don't 0:1:1 shoot you shoot that thing at me you know you got my sympathy but don't shoot you shoot that thing at me don't you shoot that thing at me don't you shoot shoot that thing at me you know you got my sympathy but don't shoot shoot shoot that thing hello everybody ah first time long time well tip of the cap to you sir or madam although let's be real let's let's just look at the demographics where to cop honestly i don't know i got it on uh ebay i think it might be original and if it's if it is a knockoff i don't think they make a lot of best part about this by the way honestly no no joke better than all the stuff on it you know this look at that lighting huh just a nice how often do you see this kind of kind of nice orange i feel like orange is a good 0:2:3 color for me yeah this is legitimately i mean uh probably the most expensive clothes piece of clothing i've ever purchased in my life 100 it wasn't that much either but uh i generally buy uh my clothes when i lived near kroger i bought my pants and stuff at kroger because they had good selection and it was where i was getting my and i have like 500 and my top is generally just i have 500 different old navy shirts that all cost three dollars and yes but this puppy i haven't i have a mic plugged in 0:3:5 not good how's that it's not good because sometimes it doesn't connect okay good i sound fine uh yes it was made by the prisoners of conair this thing yeah i just grew up from a place where you wouldn't want to spend a lot of clothing on money on clothing i don't know what girls were doing it oh man matt carp i would like to do an episode uh i've been wanting to talk to him on the show about a benjamin 0:4:6 butler for a while who i so benjamin butler uh before the civil war was a uh was a northern democrat like in the doe face mold he was a he was a guy who uh was part of the the urban machinery in massachusetts of the democracy of van buren and jackson's democracy that was broadly up until the very end of the sectional crisis uh all about uh turning the other way towards slavery turning a blind eye towards slavery in exchange for the support of the uh southern tier which was largely uh was was hegemonically democratic at so they didn't like rocking the boat on slavery they didn't much care for abolitionists either and then he became a politically appointed

CUSHVLOG 122. GAMBO THRONES - THE RETURN

general meaning he was not a career officer he was a guy who had political influence and uh was got a commission in the union military due to that uh connection and 0:5:8 that was a common feature of both armies uh and then he was one of the first general one of the first union generals to free slaves in places where his forces uh uh took command uh ahead of the emancipation proclamation had to be he actually had to be reprimanded for doing it uh but it was a war measure it was like we need pitches we need ditches doug we need x y and c here's some slave for slaves well now they work for us perfect uh it wasn't really ideological but it was in advance of policy which at that point was to not spook the border states by freeing slaves where they were found the other guy incidentally who did that and got in trouble for it was john c fremont who had been the republican who is the kind of free boutonniere uh uh like a professional adventurer who had been the republican nominee in 1956 0:6:10 and then butler ended up being the governor of a military governor of new orleans once it was occupied during which time he was so outrageous to the good people the fine upstanding society types of new orleans that his picture was emblazoned on the bottom of chamber pots so that people could literally ***** on his face and uh they called him the beast and also spoons because he was alleged to have stolen the hell out of uh property from a lot of the big plantations and and and home families if we and by the way he did and good who cares uh also uh he passed a uh proclamation that said that any southern woman any new orleans woman who did not pay proper respect to union soldier on the street like because a lot of them were cursing uh the yankee troops and of course you know getting away with it because they were women 0:7:11 and at that time you know even a soldier could not even raise his voice to a woman in public and so butler declared that any woman who did not respect a union soldier in the city of new orleans would be treated as a prostitute as in could be you know accosted and taken to jail uh and so that's and then he after the war this is a really interesting part is that the experience of fighting the war radicalized him the way it did a lot of people he's just sort of a most the most prominent example of someone who was radicalized by the experience of fighting the war he started the war as a as a northern uh doe face who like a lot for who who for like him for a lot of those guys uh didn't really care about slavery but for whom breaking up the union was just non-negotiable which was also true of stephen douglas like who's the exemplar of that tendency within the party at the very end and then he go he fights the war and 0:8:12 comes out a radical republican and he was a radical republican member of congress uh after the war who who pushed very hard for uh black equality and in fact uh coined the phrase the bloody shirt to uh by holding up an actual bloody shirt of someone who'd been attacked by uh by a red shirt redeemer in the reconstruction south uh as a county against the democrats although it wasn't really accountable

because they were in fact doing that and then condoning it all across the south but a very fascinating figure and his career i think like speaks to it speaks to just how much of a if a furnace of change of a hot house the 1860s were in this country the way that social ferment was the way that the social the glacier social tectonics just sort of liquefied yeah james longstreet became a republican after the war which is 0:9:14 why he's not very heavily featured in lost cause ***** even though he was one of the better generals and of course was the guy who knew that the ***** pikachu charge wasn't going to work because it wasn't 1812 anymore yeah he was a he was a he was he was a scalawag not a carpetbagger it's amazing i remember learning about reconstruction and that was just the name of the chapter it's like okay so these are the scumbags who came to the south and ***** it up after the civil war these are the traitors to their people among the whites uh these are the uh among the locals and these are the uh the cr the crooked uh yankee interlopers from keeping it 1867. 0:10:16 robert lafollette i only really know anything about him because he's from wisconsin he's sort of our uh our our our long family is the la fallace and they are base basically like the scrubbed-up uh middle-class version of the longs whereas populism but you know let's not get too crazy it's populism for uh college professors which is why one of the big components of the wisconsin idea that la follette championed was a very very uh lavishly funded public higher education system which is one of the reasons that until recently i don't know what it has been under walker but until recently the uw system is one of the best state university systems in the country but uh they've 0:11:19 been taking a pickaxe to accelerated oh god these ***** the the president's saying oh we're all going to take the vaccine to prove it safe who what human being on earth who is skeptical of the vaccine would not be skeptical of a video of a ***** uh obama taking a vaccine how many of them would think that that was real what reason would they give especially when we have videotape of barf sacko crumbo himself at flint after the water crisis was unveiled taking a big dramatic pull on a glass of flint tap water that in fact what's this oh he's not he's not wrong but no he's definitely 0:12:20 taking the vaccine that they put through uh you know in under they they uh he's gonna take the vaccine that was rushed through development and you could say well yeah mostly that just means removing bureaucratic hurdles yes still still you think they're taking that chance honestly if they are it's because there's already been a rich person cure for months if not always if it wasn't a bio weapon i'm not saying it was but it's not out of the realm of possibility i mean how the hell does chuck grassley not even get symptoms the man is 87 yeah it's hard not to see all the vaccine ***** is just ba is just bumping up the stock market for for a short-term liquidity boost for these ***** jackals just priming the pump a little bit the dog is barking again 0:13:21 dog didn't used to bark this much maybe it's new rupert murdoch is buying twitch

amazon's selling twitch to uh fox well not fox because disney owns fox i guess news corp oh thank you for saying my streams are oh god we did watch a vengeance i can't believe somebody is bringing up a vengeance it's uh this british crime movie that was that's on netflix we i watched it with felix and will one of the funniest things i've seen in a while uh it's one of the most british things i've seen i mean i'll probably take the vaccine who am i going to lie about i mean it's just like when the when does anyone realistically think that's going to happen in such a time in in terms of returning to some sort of normality that like what is the time frame there because it seems like we really don't have the infrastructure or the public trust to carry out any kind of large-scale vaccination program that could i mean i used to think well fine you know then you'll take it or you won't but apparently that doesn't it doesn't work that way apparently you actually need people to take it on a large scale in order to get the results in terms of infection transmission reduction that would facilitate reopening it would be interesting if uh like the vaccine like mandating vaccine you use becomes a political issue beyond just a culture war one uh and you see you know i get apparently what ben wants to do and this is not very hard to imagine all right not biden i forgot somebody else maybe it was yang i don't know i honestly think this is what the london doing some sort of financial incentive to get people to like 75 according to a poll say they'll take it but even if that's true and who knows is that enough one and two how do you get 75 of the people to get the vaccine i'm not going to stop the streams to do the book because i got to read a lot first i can't just start writing it now and i want to go i want to do it as a little book club oh by the way i've decided i am going to start reading uh to the republic which is sand which is the oxford english or it's the oxford american history volume on that era uh and it's been very well reviewed uh and and uh i'll probably talk about it on the stream here if people want to read it's called to the the republic for which it stands and it's about the uh reconstruction era but also the gilded age like the whole thing thwarted together then we can i would love to give people pizza coupons for reading like book it i remember book it you get the little book and it was easy for me because i was a little nerd i loved reading so i would go down there and somebody asked for my what my take is on the kiev and ruse and i think that's just funny because that's just such a hilarious question if you think about it like kevin roose what do you think uh scrappy hustlers the guys they wanted it more you can tell i don't know i'm wrong about domino's super thin crust uh freight you are wrong sir so domino's super i did like those little tiny pizzas oh and i wanted to also give my final uh take now on fargo having watched the last uh full season which hilariously is one close the door on this whole idea the tv is is the thing you should care about and for anything other than just pure entertainment read a book because man the

uh the olympian contempt for the audience that's in that show pretty breathtaking and if you're going to say that that's good why wouldn't they have contempt for i did watch queen's gambit it is a show a story about a a gamer girl and her sims i mean i'm not the only one to have said that but it's very hard uh to see it any other way it's like an idealized version of uh of the relationship between a a gamer a lady gamer and her sims coming together not in a spirit of competition but cooperative 0:20:11

here do i have allergies weird question but yes right i got hay fever and then i got a pine nut allergy that's developed in my like 30s too which is very odd because one day i went made a pine nut my mouth it does inhibit my bistro salad options it's true and pesto i always have to when i when there's pesto on the menu i have to make sure that there's not pine nuts in it and actually a lot of times there aren't because pine nuts are pretty expensive so a lot of times they cheap out put is that true that 0:21:12

game of thrones got rome cancelled because if that's true that's kind of poetic justice because rome got deadwood cancelled because rome was going to have a huge budget and they essentially said we'd rather spend it on these these roman sets than on the deadwood set and then they just shot poor david milch's horse in the head much like the horses whose heads they shot uh and so if it's true that then that's like hey sorry we're making we're making you gotta go so it makes sense that they would get rid of rome that way i mean roma's i only watched the first season i didn't really like it that much the only character i found really compelling every time they were 0:22:13 on screen was caesar and so when they killed him i was like why do i have to watch the second season i don't like also apparently in the second season they collapsed the timeline of like the whole uh like to collapse the triumvirate and like the war the first the war the civil war was like octavian or i mean with uh brutus and and uh mark anthony and then the war between uh whatever i had to work in a hard science what 0:23:24 would i pick uh well i would be a janitor that because i don't my brain doesn't work that way if my brain did work that way i think it's physics physics seems because it's the most like but not the math thing i can't do math so there's the whole thing goes apart what's the one where you don't have to yeah i mean i've got my mor i've got the immortal science of course of course i have the immortal science but that doesn't require any math beyond uh cmc music factory somebody's had to have had that as a twitter uh name right cmc music factory disgusting all right i'm pissed at 0:24:25

it and i don't it's too bad that all the cool 19th century sciences aren't aren't around anymore like i would love to be a phrenologist that sounds wonderful have a chart with a bunch of bumps and be like ah okay let me just take this i put here in the hemisphere here this is this corresponds to those body angle body language experts seem like they're having a good time handwriting analysis that's another good what 0:25:36 is my most prominent humor i think it's phlegmatic i gotta be honest with myself i think i'm phlegmatic it sounds like you're just trying to trick people english language 0:26:39 just exists to trick people see you're saying oh it's like phlegm flem doesn't have a g right but quixote is pronounced quixotic so just the fact that that's the thing it's coming from doesn't mean no it's quixotic i've been i've been gasoline on that it is 0:27:45 not quite have i read eduardo galliano i've read uh nazi poets in the americas which was good but that's it i haven't read 20 60 66 or anything or no that's bolano no i have not read i'm trying to keep my humors uh like to be sanguine though i think evola that's a weird question evola uh the only thing i like the thing that i'm a mute 0:28:55 the thing that i think about when i think of vivola is that uh he would during the during the allied bombing raids of rome he would go for walks uh out during them you know as some sort of uh defiance or you know ritualized confrontation with death and chance whatever the hell was going on in his head and then one time he got ***** hit with he ***** around and he found out i one of my thoughts on tom lehrer 0:30:14 i mean uh there's something very endearing about the idea of a guy who became a huge uh political musical satirist a job that doesn't really exist anymore uh while also being a math savant and a professor and astoundingly he's ***** alive he's alive still he's like 95. amazing although when i listen to those like i listen to wernher von braun or something uh or we'll all go together when you go and you watch a youtube video and it's it's him in front of an audience and there's all these polite these polite liberals in suits with very thin ties you can just imagine the ties even if you can't see them all chuckling and i just think man that audience what historical figure would 0:31:26 have the best podcast well there would have to be a rock on tour of course i'd have to have uh i mean obviously an answer that comes up well historical figure not really that's not really a strong figure how many how many historical figures i mean what contemporary historical figures have uh have podcasts frank ben franklin is a good answer uh churchill's would just be like uh i gotta say people talk about like oh mark should be good on twitter marks would be good with podcast i think about how much he loved getting into arguments and i just think i'm so glad he was not because even if there is it was someone with his like you know combination of insight 0:32:29 and then uh you know critical faculties and everything and articulation of ability if they went online they would get their brain turned into soup immediately by trying to you know fight it out trying to time to trying to make the args pop now when he but you know he was doing it in a context where like the working-class movement was literally being born around him and so there was a real reason that he needed to be incredibly strident in denouncing people who were filled with ***** and the people that he condemned for the most part were absolutely full of ***** nixon would have been a great podcast talk about anthony kumia most interesting cult okay now we're 0:33:54 talking uh i mean um shinrikyo is fascinating on a million levels uh just how big it

got how deeply it penetrated a japanese mass culture i mean the guy was a regular the guy shokuhashihara the head the the head of shinrikyo was a regular late night talk show guest he was he was like uh like paul rudd on uh on conan o'brien like he would come out and he'd show the clip from mac and me uh they had compounds all over japan and one in the outback of australia soviet surplus military equipment including helicopters they manufactured machine guns they of course had the sarin they might have been pursuing the purchase of or construction of a nuclear weapon 0:34:55 they had an astounding amount of of actual practical scientific know-how because they could they uh recruited so heavily among and it was commercialized the guy sold his bath water and vials he sold a spaghetti strainer you could put on your head that would give you the same thoughts as shoko shahara amazing yeah and then when you think about the fact that it all kind of blew up i mean they were planning to create a nuclear war they were essentially like spiritual they were they were like eastern passatists coming at it from the other side cleansing the earth and then rising from a nuclear fire then rising from the ashes and they ended up doing this tokyo subway attack as a distraction because they were about to get raided by the cops eventually and finally after they just ignored them doing insane murders for years partially because there were police officers and people in the justice department whatever they want to call it who were who were high level and also members of the group it's astounding so whenever i think of an interesting cult just in terms of its complexity it's it's it's structure and it's it's ambition and uh amish enrique is up there and uh i don't know who it was but somebody pointed out that the case of the case uh if you wanted to like shariko is essentially what people claimed al qaeda was like omishima riccio in its capacity and its intent were what the western media after 9 11 claimed al qaeda was in terms of its sophistication of its uh structures uh and its ability to access uh uh weaponry and and and uh up to and including chemical 0:36:58 and biological and perhaps nuclear uh also an army of totally loyal and willing uh uh acolytes with a goal of world destruction that was uh that was that was al qaeda in the western imagination and yet it was essentially destroyed as a threat by arresting a meanwhile al-qaeda which was never anything like omg marico as a threat becomes the the focal point of a new foreign policy but of course that's because it was a lie it was a new it was a new uh guiding principle of the eternal war economy that needed a new narrative justification after the fall the south korean cult very interesting yeah 0:38:0 uh the the south korean president was was overthrown in a like a democratic it was almost like a democratic coup it was it was it was a mass demonstrations that forced a uh abdication of power outside of the structures of government because of the relationship between the korean president who was the daughter of who was killed by his own security chief uh in the blue house i believe and was also in the thrall

of this uh this cult i don't know much about it because it's very korea specific but uh it's it's it's astounding how how deeply entwined that ruling dynasty was with with a but i don't know how you know big the group was or how sophisticated or 0:39:1 how ambitious their things were beyond getting money because the thing that really brought them down was you know that they were just gobs of money were going to this group falun gong as japanese or as uh falun gong as chinese q anon is actually probably a pretty good comparison although of course it's much much much more sophisticated socially and powerful and influential because and tighter communities because it's very popular in like immigrant communities and it's also cia funded uh which maybe q anon is a lot of people want to think humanon is an op but the thing 0:40:2 about a lot of the stuff that people assume is just conspiracies and is behind uh you know being manipulated behind the scenes none of it to me reads as anything other than a symptom of the system we have like q anon to me the argument that it started from a ***** poster i mean it makes sense and i think the thing that really matters is that we live in a world where the actual way things turn out and the way they would turn out if they were being manipulated by an illuminati-like reptile overlord class is identical and that's because the conspiracies we generate the narratives we generate are just an attempt to give uh an articulation and a mind's eye concept of the thing that's happening right in front of our eyes which is full capitalist miseration over over our over and to me that is that is the important thing and that is why i try to 0:41:4 remain aloof from real debates about the truth or falseness of specific theories of uh you know conspiracy or or deep state involvement in one or another if it's true or not we have the same task whether it's true or not we have the same task it is to build new institutions that can reflect and that's true whether the whether all of whether the the web is whether the web and and all of our online argumentation and all of our uh seemingly insurmountable cultural uh conflicts are spooks in the sternarine sense or spooks in the uh espionage sense and the reason that that matters is you're 0:42:8 never going to know and more importantly than that even if you did know what would you do with the information there's a reason that every conspiracy narrative ends with a court scene a courtroom scene of some kind whether it's q anon whether it's jfk whether it's q anon imagined military tribunals and eventually one day show trials they always promise are going to be over the horizon uh or i just rewatched the end of x-files the original last two episodes that concluded the show uh in 2002 and it ends with a ***** trial mulder on trial like the conspiracy the the happy ending of every conspiracy movie is is a is some sort of trial or testimony before a senate 0:43:10 committee or something because the underlying assumption is with the conspiracy theory as conspiracy theory as practice is that if enough people know then that will change something but all that we're learning from conspiracy theory is a narrative articulation of the thing that's happening right in front of our faces and that we're not doing anything about now the task that you're imagining is going to be carried out by this consciousness raising about specific bad actors is actually your attempt to imagine a class project a an attempt to imagine real politics a second way as i said to challenge the existing one and that will not come in the form of appeals to institutions within the that are embedded within like courts in the media because they all they take everything that is shocking and horrifying and monstrous and that leave us uh with a blood curdling sense of our helplessness before a system of and turn it banal and turn it into received wisdom turn it into a thing and then we just move on with our lives everybody knows that the game everybody knows the war is over everybody knows the good guy is lost dice are loaded everybody rolls right now the fight is fixed the rich the poor stay poor featured prominently in the classic christian slater film pump up the volume which is about a proto podcaster a young ham radio enthusiast who scandalizes his small town by exposing the petty hypocrisy of the of the worthies of the city and it really is like a model uh it's like the it's the media model of change that we all have internalized at some point in which i know i have of you get on that microphone and you tell the people the truth and they hear enough truth and they just have to do something about it i think that's what undergirds everybody at some romantic level when they carry out the the the goal of uh how good is alex jones in the link letter movie i have to say i saw waking life as a kid it blew my mind obviously uh and the the scene where alex jones was just hollering into that uh microphone in the car his head's turning into a fireball it was incinerated incendiary uh and just to think that now he'd end up just like trying to get a republican president reelected unbelievable i have i have tried to re-watch waking life like later after i got older and i was like holy ***** this is not good wow wow i am a little embarrassed but you know hey we're dumbasses when we're kids for the most part maybe you weren't but i sure as hell was i was a dumbass still am god if trump pardons gizelle and maxwell if trump pardons gizelle maxwell as his last act out the door just as a final smoke bomb of cognitive dissonance oh my god i would die laughing because i mean nothing's gonna happen anyway i mean q is already branching off you're seeing it already uh richard jewell's lawyer in georgia is calling on that phillips lady sydney phillips and michael flynn to run for president on like a election integrity q platform and i mean i don't know what'll come of any of that my guess is people will lose interest and come back into the fold the way they always end up doing because doing anything other is too hard and we just don't have the investment in anything other than the the minimum amount of uh of just spectacle indulgence meaning what to watch and maybe voting but not not the hard work of like but uh i've said before and i think might be true you might see a return to

quietism politically among some of these q people because if you see trump lose the election even though he won it right even though this was huge fraud even though we have the servers after the shootout in germany and he still is replaced by biden unless you want to believe that he's not actually not president anymore which some of them will think the rest of them or a good chunk of them anyway i think are going to be realized oh okay i'm not i still believe in q and all this other stuff i still believe there's a plan but it is not a political plan it doesn't involve the parties and it doesn't involve voting because look what that is and that would be funny if that happened but i think that more likely people are going to get more politicized over time because of how much conditions are going to deepen into immigration like i'm saying not apocalyptically it'll just be the same but worse but but worse has a compounding effect politically over time and one of the things that the worst does is it makes culture more politically infused it makes it harder to have a political culture and of course there's no such thing as a political culture but i mean political culture does not have a specific partisan bent a specific democrat republican branding and that we we talked on the show about uh or i talked to felix recently about um how game of thrones was like the last large-scale long-term cultural product that did not have a partisan political branding to it towards the end it became about hillary's slay queen stuff but for a long time there it was the last sort of a political cultural product that people could care about now everything comes out branded and that means that if you're going to engage in culture which even if you don't care about politics now you do have to do because what else are you going to do what else is there to do all there is to do is engage at this level everything else is every other area of self-expression is is denied us or even sucker is denied us unless you want to just kill yourself with fentanyl and that means that the political branding is going to adhere to people as they engage with politics or as they engage with culture and i may be the only ones who will be able to withstand a a quiet disposition are the ones who turn it into a religion who who don't need the political investment because they have transformed all of their uh their psychic pain into a a religious narrative spiritual personal narrative for which there is no need to even uh reference politics other than as a tapestry to to to examine i don't know there is no more christian right that's not a coherent thing like the republican party is white evangelicals but those things are so tightly wound together now that there's not really a distinguishing point where you can say christian right it's just it's like all that stuff has been sacralized which is why a lot of religious leaders by the way in the 70s were wary about becoming political it was this exact outcome that they were avoiding like if you had shown if you've been able to show a space a robot if you'd been able to send a robot back in time to like that uh that uh ramada in suite where all of the pastors got together to set up the moral majority and you showed them donald trump in 2016 and said this guy's going 0:52:38 to be president thanks to you and like the political culture that you've helped create i some of them would be fine with it but a lot of them would not have been i bet billy graham would not have been and that's not because they were good people it's because they had standards of decorum that had not been degraded by the 40 there's nothing christian there's nothing uniquely christian about it is what i mean it is the it's the political project for the republican party that they are the same thing there's no christian like the christian right was supposed to be like separate from some other right it's like no there's they're suffused because anything that would have conflicted 0:53:43 with the broader right project in christianity has been jettisoned from christianity what's my favorite great lake michigan that's the one i grew up next to i grew up in what does this have to do with anything you're talking about like it's like you might mall is ***** now are you telling me it wasn't ***** but when i was a kid i mean that place had like three stores in it when i was a kid i would see movies i would watch movies where kids would go to the mall and there would be escalators and 0:54:44 there would be food courts and all this stuff and i would just be stunned because our mall really did feel like some eastern black ***** there's one ice cream parlor with yeah no we have to subdivide this further ***** you you should be here's the size of a county in a normal sized how can a billionaire be lumping uh i think that i think that we i think the republican party is at top the party of lump and billionaires and the way you can be a lump in billionaire is you're a olympic billionaire who does not have a class consciousness who is not operating out of a self-conscious desire to see the broad advancement of his class which is very hard to get and you kind of have to be america to create that kind of thing and we did it and the battle at the top between the democrats and republicans is broadly between these lumping billionaires local like the small business billionaires and they're like mini versions of them that stack down through the countries like you'll you'll have some middle of nowhere town that will have like a uh in in in uh tennessee or something and it will have a plant 0:59:21 that will be owned by a guy or they'll be like a fracking company owned by some other guy and then there'll be like local like vassals of that guy who own all the chick-fil-as and or chick-fil-a's en franchise uh own all the mcdonald's or own all the the popeyes and then there's uh uh or that's not franchised either i don't think never mind whatever all the restaurants boat dealerships it's a strata of rich people who think that they're operating within an economy of in where they are for looking out for themselves whereas the democrats at the top are controlled by a self-consciously internationalized finance capital that sees itself as part of a global project and the thing is is that those lumpen billionaires are part of the same project they just aren't aware of it because they are have been spending their time on that grind extraction 1:0:24 industries things like that and the other problem is is that their short-term interests are in conflict in a lot of ways with the interests of that financialized global capitalism that the democrats represent and that's where you get the any the only real conflict the only real sparks between the parties is that conflict picati talks about this mike davis has talked a lot about this like the merchants as like the merchant class the lump in what rich versus sort of the class conscious like trump's support like trump's big dollar donors for the most part are banks or or bankers they are like the koch brothers or the mercers they're they're they're they're they're involved in extraction the short-term tom steyer i hope is made secretary of keeping it real because that 1:1:35 guy he's got sauce and i want to see him it's the rich ***** from the coast fighting with the rich ***** from the midwest basically it's the coastal ***** it's the uh it's finance and uh silicon valley and entertainment against uh extraction uh and small and medium manufacturing and and and all and all that my pillow guy is a perfect example yankees versus cowboys all the difference is that this is what happens when the cowboys fully take over because reagan's revolution was supposed to bring the cowboys into power but only at the level of culture at the ba at the top level they capitulated to the rockefeller wing completely they then they sold that to the regular americans but now you know 40 years later 40 years of capillary movement of 1:2:36 of people through the political system it's now captured and the the election of trump is just an expression of like the the broader political culture and that's why there are some people who say like if you want to bet on revolutionary potential if you want to bid on anti-capitalist specifically potential you got to go with the republicans over the democrats but these people are still billionaires they still want a working class that is hyper exploited and powerless they have that same in desire they just disagree about like whether or not that could be carried out through like protective tariffs or or free trade or whatever that's the that's the actual distinction and uh you could say but but that means that we should support them in their free trade one you can't support anybody that's not real like this all the idea that you can make alliances with anybody in the system is fraudulent because there's no no one represents anybody but themselves so you cannot no one can say that we can do anything there's no we in any of this and then even when it is expressed like when trump expresses it it's just like look at the trade war with china what did that do for the american worker and there's nothing in that republican party that could generate anything more effective on behalf of that lump and billionaire i mean and the big thing for me is both parties now have a vested interest in heightening conflict with china and nobody more than the cowboys nobody more than these lumping billionaires that josh hawley is now trying to channel like a ***** uh houdini in a seance and and so since nobody's no americans real interests are served by ratcheting tensions with china and that is going to be the actual coherent expression of any hostility to global finance we're seeing it already marsha blackburn today 5 000 years of profanity from the heathen celestial these guys are banging the anti-china drum that's not going to help anybody and that's all it could be is to help this project of revenge's idiocy where we're going to blame the chinese for our inability to deal with um matt stoller's end game like all these guys end game is some sort of confrontation with china that has to at some point sharpen into some military uh element because we're the we're the ***** biggest military in the world and there are geostrategic questions in china or in in asia and like the makeup of our political class is going to determine in some degree our military response to that and all you're going to get out of this you know lumpin rich reactionary hostility to the totalizing mission of world capitalism is a war with china no war with china cooperation with the chinese against like i'm saying mid-level officers of the of the people's uh liberation army and the us military start some whatsapps send tick tocks back and forth and the other and of course the real hilarious part of that is that that war with china is not necessarily something that the ***** global finance uh at least in the form of the democratic party as like a as a political uh gambit is going to be that opposed to either did you see how quickly democrats started yelling about china as soon as things keep getting worse china's gonna take more of the blame from both parties so there you go there's your big conflict at the top of the parties creating the same dynamic the same all right guys i'm packing apparently the video is lagging i'm sorry i have no ability to control that hopefully the audio will be good by itself if you want to just listen it will be put on itunes and spotify i know people have been asking if we stop doing that we are still doing it i think it just comes in batches so sometimes it'll be a little bit of delay before they all get there but they are still being uploaded and then you can watch okay if you have been lifted there in the game then we had a shutdown anyone with any sense had already left time you were standing in the corner outside the streets are filling out the windows uh general breeze was blowing me didn't see the farm inside so they caught another bed and drew up ah am i on come on all right great i'm on 0:1:2 fantastic this is rare usually it's lately it's been kind of annoying uh hey everybody yeah uh so i was at a uh antique store the other day and i found this little lacquer box that i didn't really recognize got a decent deal before it went online found out more and apparently there's some sort of uh puzzle that you solve with it and if you make it into a certain shape well you uh you see sites that uh you would not otherwise see i guess so today i thought on stream you and i were gonna solve it together let's go no of course that's joke for anyone and that's also of course a puckish reference to the gentleman who tried to solve the tried to take the lsats uh on twitch live i don't care anything about who he is or anything about it i don't know or care just 0:2:3

the act of doing that to me as someone who streams on twitch semi-professionally mind-blowing absolutely mind-blowing the confidence i mean it's the perfect double-edged sword because at the one end this is a confidence that really you know could build an empire but at the same time a idiocy that undergirds the uh confidence that guarantees that any effort other than you know getting people to watch you dick around in the computer is going to come for nothing but wow i can't imagine doing something like that just the thought of live having thousands of people see you just like no not know what you're talking about fail miserably god it's terrifying i mean i will not lie when i say that that is the thing that sort of drives me like the the uh the closest thing i have to a uh a neurotic association i guess with uh with the 0:3:4

take this law test it's logic i'm good at logic amazing amazing damn near uh it's it's damn beyond everything that tom and uh it really it tells me a lot about the type of people that advance in the internet uh takes fear the internet personality spheres you essentially have to have a part of your brain missing that recognizing you that recognizes your own intellectual uh limitations and it poses a challenge anybody who wants to think on the internet or even express themselves on the internet is grounded 0:4:6 uh by the way guys and gals uh it came for the republic which it stands the first book in uh my planned reading festival to prepare for doing something uh with the concept of an unassassinated lincoln i'm gonna start reading this and i thought it would be fun just like as a project for myself and for anybody wants to follow along to do a little mini book club where i'll just kind of talk about what what i read that week so next wednesday uh and i'll put this on twitter and stuff i'll probably read the first three three chapters of this and talk about them not very long probably i'm not gonna do like the whole show uh but you know i'll just probably do like a 10 minute thing at some point what if yoda is six foot tall and smoky weed oh right the 0:5:8 book is the republic for which it stands by richard white i first heard about richard white honestly uh at least this book i mean he's written some other good ones i first read this book first heard of this book when he was interviewed on patrick wyman's podcast tides of history which is very good and uh i trust patrick a lot he sounded really good in the interview it's a very solid book literally i could i love when chris is in the chat especially since he can he can address some of your audio concerns if you have them at least the ones about translating like uh files and ***** and yes he 0:6:9 is a trained guy he wrote another book called railroaded about the transcontinental railroad ridge and the and the whole like creation of railroads uh which of course you know is the perfect subject if you're trying to understand the capital formation in the in the years after the civil war because as i've said uh the civil war was the catalyst for of capital creation a capital in america that created sort of the dynamo that led us to an industrial capitalism on a grand scale on a competitive worldwide scale and in the aftermath of the war the thing that took the place of waging war uh was building uh building a rail infrastructure and the way we did it was we just gave a ***** ton of land to a bunch of private companies and had them speculate their assets off across the continent while just grinding so if you're talking about any kind 0:7:15 of you know what what what would what if it's history of america where we don't get civil we don't get our failed reconstruction and our you know robber baron capture by of our government against governing institutions one big things that would be different would be the way that we built the i mean honestly up to it including the question of how how you know how intense our exploitation of uh of native lands would be anyway uh didn't talk didn't lincoln talk about wage slaves and stuff well

CUSHVLOG 123. SOLVING THE LAMENT CONFIGURATION ON STREAM

yeah he did i mean that was a common abolitionist argument and it was one of the things that appealed to working-class and uh small-holding northerners was uh 0:8:19 the idea that if you uh allowed them to that there is a an essential um you know coercion at the heart of wage labor and slavery uh and that you know if if the south winds they will impose a greater degree of coercion now the south would rejoin by saying well actually wage slavery is inferior uh to slavery there is a a southerner named uh fitzhugh who wrote a number of books uh where he made the argument that if you you're gonna always have two classes of people the smarter and the less smart the smarter ones tell the dumber ones what to do and therefore they will be in a subordinate position now what should that be the slave model has a reciprocal relationship built into it it says i you uh you owe me your labor but i also i also provide you with basic uh um basic survival uh fodder like i feed you i give you a 0:9:21 place to sleep i give you a stable way to reproduce yourself even if everything else is up for grabs and up at my discretion whereas wage slavery you're saying yeah you guys are going to work for me if you don't you'll starve and if you do i will give you this money for you to go find your own food and shelter well ***** these are the dumb people remember these are the idiots they're not gonna be able to do that they're gonna ***** it up they're gonna start starving so what their lives will be over time worse their poverty will be greater than misery will be greater than the slaves will be and other southerners hated when fitzhugh talked about this and his books were not that popular among advocates of slavery who were trying to you know keep the north acquiescing to the existence of slavery because if if too many northerners heard that's what the south thought they would make the conclusion oh well then eventually they're going to turn us into slaves and they were right to 0:10:24 think that fitzhugh was the guy who was taking all of the conceptions that undergird slave society to their logical conclusions not separating not stopping at the arbitrary border of something like race which the smarter even then knew wasn't a real thing or not as real as like the the the people who were trying to convince themselves that like you were talking about different species uh even though different species can't reproduce at least not reproduce uh fertile offspring so right there you have lost any even a scientific basis as they understood science at the time but that didn't stop from trying because they wanted to create an arbitrary border of exploitation well no no not white people if it's you saw farther and said no white people too why not are they dumb they can't they're not in charge they've never been in charge they've always why is that going to change why have them running under foot and creating problems and making everything miserable for themselves and everyone else when they could be 0:11:25 be put into a submission a mutually advantageous submission where they recognize their inferiority and of course the thing about fitzhugh's logic which is the logic the undergirding logic the social logic of every mechanism of class exploitation we've had since the dawn of civilization and the one undergirding capitalism and the one that will over time take over and become the sole relationship of production is that notion of there are those who take and there are those who give in some combination do through some combination of a willingness to give which is their participation in a social order that they have invested psychologically in the maintenance of some culture or this is this is uh when we describe this we're describing superstructure culture as such and then there's bear uh um physical force which undergirds the uh 0:12:27 whatever the person in there has in their head as they're giving to the person who takes now what and that is the dialect that dialectic relationship is the driver of class struggle between those two types of person broadly construed now as the society gets more complicated uh the relationship gets blurry and you have things like slaves and serfs and ***** uh indentured servants and levies and and freeholders and and uh wage workers and managers and ceos and and civil servants and professionals where all these things get enmeshed in one another and they get muddy but over time over time as capital accumulates at one end of this poll and capital and resources run out the divide re-emerges and asserts itself like i've talked a few times before about how uh the guys who own france 7-11 franchises have essentially been proletarianized by 0:13:29 7-eleven uh because they're able to uh because they run the whole they're vulnerable because they they need 711 to provide them with you know a franchise license and all the materials that they sell and they can change that relationship basically at will and and so a lot of these guys are making essentially minimum wage and working 80 hours a week while they're essentially owning this thing that's because and that process happens throughout every strata and some people are able to negotiate a trans phase transition like some small some like medium-sized manufacturer or small business person who is about to get crushed is able to like buy stock somewhere or get a job within the structure one way or another they're being alienated from their capital everyone is going to be alienated from their capital or have capital accumulate to them in classes in those classes now according to the ideology of the state and all that the or the and the ideology that undergirds these systems like the one that fits 0:14:30 you with expression that comes down to intelligence that that comes down to some pers or or like breeding whatever the hell you want to call it superiority of culture all it boils down to a better brain you have a better brain so it's okay it's it's only natural that you should get this now of course that's absurd for a zillion reasons but one of the most prominent prominent ones is that even if you take the assumption for granted the superiority that they are off talking about is a very narrow set of um skills that all revolve around the process of extracting ***** surplus and hoarding it which as a system breaks down as uh resources run out or as you know externalities within the biological system build up uh the system is incapable of correcting because it is um selected in the form of reproducing the privilege of people who are already on top 0:15:32 and who therefore give these special brains to their kids just by the virtue of giving them a uh social context to be acculturated into them both social and intellectual uh and it's going to eventually crash into the goddamn i mean it's 9 11 every day anyway but eventually it won't even be sustainable on its own terms and that's when you get the common ruin of the contending classes and both of them ***** smash into each other uh the alternative to that is a structure where the boundaries this arbitrary boundary of extractor and and and uh extract e is abolished and everybody is working and everybody else is enjoying surplus everybody is creating surplus everybody is enjoying it to the degree that they can because it is a there is a social recognition of 0:16:34 the existence of a social organism that is the basis of marxists for each according to his ability to each according to his needs which so many libertarians are horrified by because they imagine well what if you did that now it would be like they claim the tyranny of the lazy and the stupid they'd just sit back because why wouldn't they they're free riders but all that logic the free rider logic of libertarianism rests on the idea that there is a fundamental alienated humanity making up this system from each according to his abilities to each according to disease describes in the broadest sense the social reality the flow of capital the or whatever the flow of surplus rather the flow of surplus throughout the the social system is from ability to need and everybody needs so everybody's needs are met everybody has ability of some kind or another and it is the socialization of the process and the use of the technology that has accumulated through the process of capital accumulation of capitalism that 0:17:36 is then applied to the world around us to allow for that that organic flow of surplus within a social system to be generated so that is why uh there could never be any uh in my mind quarter uh to be given to uh any desserts based moral order which all capitalists apologia must be at the end even even in your even liberals even honestly a certain bright strands of market socialists it's it's an idea that there must be a does there must be a system of reward for ability an ability broadly construed as but in 0:18:37 a socialist system the reward and that is why you know like like i said oh free riders what about lazy people who don't want to contribute why would they why would you want to i mean the number of slave owners who complained about how how uh including george washington the founder of this fun country who is on who written letters who wrote letters complaining you know the thing about these blacks is that they really won't work unless you're forcing them to what the ***** is wrong with them like with this incredulity and horror like we're giving you food and shelter and 0:19:38 it's like well yeah but if you were getting food and shelter too right and you were working in some way towards our common survival too we were all together then they probably wouldn't uh resist working but they also wouldn't be and of course this is all you know this this is this is the reason talking about this stuff is the reason that marx didn't like trying to sketch out visions of what socialism would look like because it necessitates it requires like like actual you know the end state that people are not even i don't mean the end state but i mean the the post-transition state that people imagine in their heads it is and and therefore the the broader goals and the broader projects that we have to express and live and try to move towards now in the here and around and here now in this moment necessitate an essentially a collective phase shift in human consciousness and and that's not like that's not hippie ***** 0:20:39 we've already had phase shifts in human consciousness the creation of the modern liberal subject is a phase shift that happened like if you've gotten a bunch of uh medieval ***** sit around in the castle in reams or something and say hey what's what like imagine this system collapses and what comes next or what or no not even collapses like feudalism you know what this thing's bad why don't we get a new one they wouldn't do it and they never were able to do it because you need to have a liberal subject for that kind of social uh relationship to even exist to generate that kind of uh discourse but imagining it could just assuming it could they wouldn't have been able to get anywhere near where we are because it would have required them to imagine people acting towards each other in a fundamentally alien way it would require them imagining people acting towards each other as strangers which 0:21:41 they could not do now of course there are strangers in the medieval world you know the saracen and then the heathens or whatever but within christendom and first certainly within like the the community the idea that that you could walk out your door and everybody you saw in a day were people who you did not know and i don't mean no just in sense of recognize i mean the sense of having actual social embedded relationship with they couldn't have imagined that they couldn't imagine living like that and it's like well we live that way because we because the very order we live in has generated a a shifted conception of the self in relationship to others than the in the medieval subject had and post-transition socialism would require a similarly um shifted perception of others a re-socialized conception of the self where you have 0:22:43 regained the social embeddedness of pre-capitalist society but within a cosmopolitan framework where it doesn't have to be somebody who you've dug turnips next to your whole life or somebody who goes to the same cathedral that spent 300 years being built or that fights in the same crusade everybody maybe not as deeply as you know as deeply but as as influential towards one's like ideas of loneliness and fulfillment and existential uh um satisfaction similar with a change with a revolution of what type i have no idea i wish i could tell you and i believe someone says i feel like this is the thing that anarchists miss and abs that's absolutely it the anarchist assumes an inviable liberal subjectivity that will persist into their anarchist their 0:23:47 anarchist society that they are imagining moving towards that will only reproduce liberalism can only produce capitalism because in the absence of social bonds we are all out for ourselves we are all homo economicus we are all going to seek to benefit from the surplus of labor that we did not participate in because we do not feel the injustice of that because it's not happening and now someone might say well there are anarchists who do take this into consideration and it's like maybe but my observation of anarchism and practice and as a tradition suggests the otherwise i saw mank i watched bank most of all i just don't know why it was i i mean i know why it was made it was the screenplay that david fincher's dad wrote 40 years ago and he's been trying to make ever since and which 100 only exists because netflix is 0:24:50 at the point where they're going to give money to any big name director who has anything that they want to make that's why they gave scorsese 500 million dollars to do the three hour three and a half hour old age home digital uh de-aging movie which i think is brilliant as a brechtian like masterpiece of alienation but for very for that very reason it never would have been financed by a regular studio at that ***** rate it might have but it would have been one of those deals where like scorsese goes in basically lying to them and then they just give them more money over time until their pot committed which is essentially i think what happened with the ***** zeiter snyder cut which w warner brothers thought oh great we'll just we'll get a few more uh eyeballs off out of these pigs by just taking our old crap and putting a new label on it but it turns out it needed work and once snyder got in there he started asking for stuff before they knew it they'd thrown another like hundred million dollars onto the ***** fire and now that thing has cost like 500 million dollars that's because but 0:25:51 um he basically tricked them and scorsese would have had to trick people into letting him make the irishman at a regular studio and i don't think any studio is signing off on this self-conscious like black and white fake 40s movie about this and he's only making it because his dad wrote the screenplay my pacino hoff impression your ***** father ***** insured the ***** local not very good i am very excited for the snyder cut i uh and yeah i'm fine with them doing that but sometimes you wonder if they should have stayed in the holster i just there's something deeply indulgent about it like david fincher's dad and thanks for reminding us by the way that at this point all these people even the good directors even the good directors are just rich kids everybody is just somebody's kid who decided to take a flyer on a career in the 0:26:52 arts everybody in in hollywood at this point is like re-antoinette flouncing about in her fake peasant village at versailles so thank you for reminding me of that uh and and even if it's like oh he wasn't rich it's like okay his dad had a ***** screenplay for four years he was clearly in the business and that's more than most people can say um and also just like i remember people saying it's about it's about mankowitz's fight for uh recognition first of all no it isn't he has one scene where he argues with orson welles about whether he should get credit at the end of it she says fine i'll give you credit he gets the oscar what's the grievance what is the grievance that drove this apparently it's a pauline kale essay it just all feels very crankish although i will say the stuff about uh you know epic in the 34 sinclair campaign was interesting but i think there's a bunch of more interesting ways it could have been presented and i do think it was funny that uh bill nye played uh up in sinclair that's actually pretty 0:27:53 that's pretty big that's pretty good so you know it's all right i'd say i'm gonna i haven't done it on letterbox yet i'll probably give it three and a half three and a half is my courtesy number where it's like i recognize the craft i'm not gonna pooh-pooh it i see some things i enjoyed i like i very much enjoyed charles dance as william randolph hearst he sort of had the hollow like slack look that he had it was pretty eerie uh and and uh oldman was really good so there's like i liked all the upton's and claire parks but huh i have to rewatch video jerome someone's asking about video 0:28:56 drum i haven't seen it in a long time i do remember enjoying it i like cronenberg of course and james woods is actually one of my we're we're living in some new flesh that's for sure flesh oh if you like it flush uh you can keep it oh let me be clear love that that obama's doing his media tour now it's fantastic he's he's i love it most of all 0:29:57 because he is confirming everything we've been saying about it uh and specifically the ***** about how he does not view himself as a figure who wielded power he never imagined himself to have been his job was to experience power on behalf of a grateful nation that he could then explain power to he could go to the mountaintop and like look at the bush like a kind of a moses type figure where where the burning bush is just the crumbo you know i've been thinking about his about my one of my 0:31:0 i mean barsako crumble is my favorite name for him but one another name i really like and the thing about the old bungler is that i don't know if it's accurate because i really don't know if you can say that he bungled anything because if you really got him strapped to a chair and like hit him with sodium pentathol how much would he really want to have gone differently at the expense of doing different things like that's the thing it can't just be all it would have been nice if uh mitch mcconnell had uh been more uh respectful or whatever now what would you have been willing to do in exchange for what different outcome what can you look back on and say oh that was a mistake i honestly don't think he would have any because i think that he is so deeply narcissistic and so fully convicted so he fused to his conception 0:32:2 of himself not just as like an empathic person but also as an intellect as someone who has looked into the fiery furnaces of capitalism and has been seared by them to the level of like deep knowledge of the universal truths and as such i think his commitment to himself is passive and to all decisions made within the halls of power as predetermined and out of his hands i think he very well might look back and go yeah i didn't bungle anything and if he doesn't think he bungled anything **Music playing** i don't know if you could be said that he bungled anything because if he wasn't working on behalf of some broadly construed american public he wasn't trying to do anything for anybody but himself he wasn't trying to do anything except get himself a netflix deal and get himself a ***** uh 500 million dollars to write 3 000 page book that every ***** tedious uh uh person with a home cappuccino machine 0:33:3 is going to read and give to each other for christmas he might think he bungled he might have bundled but if that's not what he was working for if that's not he what his goal was then he succeeded on his own terms so kudos sir now you might say the one thing he might have bungled i see someone pointed it out in the chat and yes that's a good one is keeping biden out of the box on behalf of hillary in 2016. although once again i think if he sat down he would say some ***** to himself like well uh hillary at that point uh she had a robust enough team and blah blah he had she had people in the dlc dnc who were gonna support her and uh if biden had uh stepped in it would have split the establishment and uh bernie would have gotten the nomination or not lost to trump which to them also a disastrous outcome so 0:34:4 he's probably got something in his own ***** pocket in his in his head to tell him that that was not a bungle that's one of the beauties of being that kind of guy is that that olympia remove and that and that and that isolation of intellect into this crackpot realist framework where uh i have completely accepted this structure even though i'm one of the most powerful people within any global order you know to to provide direction for the for for the direction for oh he might uh you know what no never mind there's one thing nope i was thinking did he would he have said he wished he wouldn't have said anything about uh about skip gates cop being stupid he probably would have said yeah that was stupid but then again he's probably very proud of the beer summit he did write about it in the book i mean he really didn't have to mention the beer summit more than like a page i don't know but or honestly 0:35:5 like a line if and he talked about it significantly so maybe he'd be like uh it gave us an opportunity to uh bring some serious questions to uh the public i think he would definitely probably he would definitely say he shouldn't have said anything about like uh kanye when he called him a jackass he'd probably look oh that was beneath me or that he shouldn't have worn a tan suit that one time yeah it feels like there's like an intellectual battle even about like not whether or not barack obama sucks but how he is the nature of his suckiness the nature of his badness and i think he has to be viewed not as misguided not as so much as a empty vessel uh one of those 0:36:6 hegelian figures who emerges to embody the time to embody the emptiness of the time to embody the emptiness of life in 20 late 20th century 21st century america a life where all values are reduced to market values where the self is imposed composed entirely of just a sluice of base desires j self generated by a machinery of of misery and oppression trying to measure of a person can be their success within that system at expressing themselves if we are all alone we are all to die and be forgotten then the only thing we could do is try to be remembered and so the most ambitious of us the smartest of us will endeavor to be remembered to be able to build ***** monuments to themselves to acquire fame and more importantly money to consecrate their image and blazing it across space and time and into that breach people are going to step who have that combination of ability and will essentially the ability to at a basic level delude themselves into assimilating the ethics of this degraded inhuman moment on to their very species being and so they are able to move motivate themselves the way that i have said like uh revolutionaries have to motivate themselves from within like that john brown drive that connection tissue between himself and every other person that meant that he felt the pain of others to such an extent that he was driven and focused towards the goal of ending that oppression because he felt it the figures who rise in the current moment like obama been able to psychologically separate themselves so completely from every other person in the world that they can self-motivate in one direction as opposed to the rest of us porsche who can only ever somewhat separate that connection and that means that our pursuits of success within the system are undermined at every point we are either too distracted by carnality or our connection to other people leave us paralyzed how could how can i get a job at this company knowing what they do how can i do x y and z job knowing what it does how can i do x y or z menial job knowing how instead uh uh possessed i guess the fully possessed figure like an obama and trump are able to unify themselves and put all of their energy into a spiritual pursuit of narcissism which eludes most people but the more successful of us at least the ones who have to work in some way for their own success and can't just sit on piles of money those who have to do something and obama i would say certainly uh more than trump although honestly trump too because if trump would just want to be rich he could have just sat on money forever it was he wanted to be famous and being a mid-tier developer in new york in the 70s is not a great way to get famous you have to work at it and he did obama farther from power and power from the public eye had to work even harder well obama's smarter than trump is but they're both driven by the same dynamo of of of religious narcissism of of of self-worship which is what we're all supposed to be and the thing about that is that you know we are a monotheistic world there could be only one and that's why uh monopolization and accumulation are the drive of capitalism and will eventually consume all humanity unless that that spell is broken unless that's so that engine driving us in that direction is broken so obama set to the point of becoming a world historical figure for a young age and he was very very good at it he's he is very smart but that's because he's worshipping his own self fully he is and that is why they embody the the that's why they embody now the the um social dialectic between democrats and republicans the two americas who are now at at war with one another that were bored out of the the collapse of 2008 and the subsequent bipartisan non-recovery that said okay the economy just liquefied and set everything building back together we're just going to leave it as this big pool of money that we're just gonna dump into it and let the richest here get more of it and and pour money down their bucket and then allow them to use their market share and their relative uh um bargaining position vis-a-vis a further miserated working class to fully properize people into tecto surfs which is the whole app economy which is basically the entirety of job growth since 2008. that was a bipartisan uh a job and they carried that ***** out to the team and out of that out of this hyper-charged individualized spectaclized society uh to embody one uh way of getting ahead within that system one way of successfully worshipping god one way of becoming the god that you know you need to be is obama's and obama's is follow the rules that's basically the argument here are the rules as set up and now those rules are liberal right because of the need to have a a system of um what amounts to etiquette to allow the market to function like the market needs etiquette because everybody's a stranger and and and everybody uh has to have is approaching each other from a position of alienation and so the same way you have to shake hands tip your cap to stranger you have to embody certain values those values are inculcated in college and you learn them and then you apply them to the world and obama showed you if that is what you're captured by if that vision of self-worship is what you're powered by that shows you the way trump is if you want to become god if you want to become the most famous person on earth therefore a god just be a ***** ***** until there's nothing anyone else can look at but you and there's nothing anyone else can hear but your voice now the thing about that is that that's a tough one if you don't already have a lot of money or social position or attention to begin with and that is why that one is not as appealing to people who are less demographically positioned that way and it is appealing to that caught here of like baby boomer uh white people who are sitting on all the remaining wealth really we have domestically in this country and see that and it's certainly especially after seeing eight years of this one version that they can't do they're too old man they're too set in their ways they can't curtsy like that they can't extend their pinky fingers they can't remember not to say that and then that has got to be the two visions of of godhood and the that working-class movement towards trump or at least a trump influence republican party because there's no way

whoever they nominate now i have no idea what's coming after trump it's hard to imagine him not wanting to run for re-election not spend the next four years just doing what he's been doing because he likes the running around the country part and he can still do that for the next four years and then just run again i think he honestly at this point might do it because it'll be all this parts he does enjoy which is campaigning with nothing else and then because he has a dog brain and doesn't remember anything and has no object permanence he'll forgot how much he hated actually being president and he'll drive himself back but one way or another even if he drops dead of cobra tomorrow which would be hilarious of course the party is now the alternative to this follow the rules uh obama party and uh a lot of those working class people they're not going to find themselves any more able to imagine themselves succeeding by following the rules as uh any of the but of course in reality nobody gets to be god nobody gets to do it nobody gets to be fully actualized narcissistic beings instead what they get is the chance to see that desire just dissolve before their eyes and be replaced with nothing no suit no sucker to come in the form of love of others just further miseration and and precarity more than anything the sense of always not going up but and because the conditions of that precarity are not negotiable they're not nobody is nobody uh in power is signing off on uh any redistribution of power or money away from the current polls that it's being pulled towards sorry all you can do is find that other tribe with that other god and kill it because it's the reason that the we do not need amprim and priv is not the answer and print turns back into capitalism and because i mean if you're because if you don't have that social conception i was talking about thing where your sense of self identity is composed psychologically of a genuine felt relationship to other people beyond yourself and specifically beyond even the people you know personally and people that you even our side of it like a cultural context with without that tribal breakdown primitive breakdown will result again in a conflict over resources and conflict over resources is the and you can't say well we'll all get to that point and then just break back up you'll lose it over time it has to be sustained technologically that social connection has to be drainage drain dry so sorry i our phase shifts ultimately spiritual indeed a spiritual revolution but as i've said before that's not crazy that's not made up it's happened before uh the europe going from uh europe going from pagan to christian that's a spiritual revolution the medieval uh socially embedded corporate sense of self being turned into liberal um individualism that is a spiritual revolution it's the it's it's it's the necessary byproduct of a change in material relationships you have a situation where material relationships are moving in one direction and as those ferment within them and the conflict within them moves them in another if you get if you get to that socialism barbarism inflection point say within our system that is

you know moving towards uh crisis final crisis one time maybe not now maybe not 100 years but it is uh if it breaks towards um if it breaks towards socialism that will mean a change of material relationship that will over time change people's sense of self because of it because of the change to their uh social relations to one another i mean sorry their material relations to and once enough people have had their and enough like gen enough kids have been born into new social relationships that generate new spiritual concepts if enough people have those experiences if enough people have those mysteriousnesses due to their material conditions having changed and the change keeps moving in the same direction just like what happened with the emergence of the liberal identity eventually you get a situation an inflection point of consciousness where people are experiencing the life experiencing life in a different spiritual context but it comes after because if we're going to make socialism it'll be because a bunch of people who are alienated who do not live that life who do not have a spiritualized sense who are living every day as like a raw nub working together enough to push things in a direction but they're still going to be separated but it will be through the act of working together and seeing uh results from the work that that uh those spiritual changes happen on an individual basis some people have like large scale like conversion experiences other people have just to change a gradual change in their their their emotional palate as it relates to other people and then the relationship between people motivated by that changing spiritual sense and their application of themselves to the wheel of material history those things reinforce each other until you get another punctuated a punctuation an inflection somebody says medicare for all comes to the america how i have no ***** idea i have precisely zero idea the political force that moves us even in that direction is one that is if it exists now it is in a uh absolutely protein state and it is as absurd for me to imagine how we get to medicare for all as it was for marx to sketch out what socialism would look like after the not even to say that it's that necessarily far away in time but that it is that far away in event in incident in increasingly unpredictable random emergence of response to i mean hell we might never get medicare for all we might go straight to uh just national health health care like doctors are employees of the state which honestly is the superior system in the more socialist system but i understand why it's not what people push for and it shouldn't be at the political level right now but we very well might get there considering how how things how how the confrontation with capital what shape it takes and i don't know what shape it's going to take i have suspicions i have guesses i think it's probably not going to come from the democrats it's probably going to come from a dif a third party that emerges and sort of breaks up the duopoly and replaces one of the two parties as happened in the 1850s but beyond that biden's covenant plan is awesome it's wonderful it's definitely going to work is the thing i love most about it no money for anybody keep everything open make wear masks which people are already doing by the way basically what i mean he's not even saying they want to do a mandate he's just saying i'm going to ask everybody to do it which they've already done everyone every day tells you to wear the goddamn mask and most people do wear the mask even the ***** republicans because it's like required indoors and people just sort of like okay fine i'll do it even republicans mostly do it like only the most hardcore ones see it as a culture where she will let the so unless you're talking about requiring it which would get create almost overnight 0:55:47 a bunch of posse comitatus revolutions of like hicks in uh sheriff department saying that they're not going to enforce it and then what are you going to do you're going to go to war no you're just going to back down so nothing accomplished and then the other 100 million shots in the 400 days well there's 325 million people so good job one two yes i yeah right i'm sorry i'll believe it when i see it for a million ways even if everybody in america was dying to get the ***** thing and had no qualms about it whatsoever the idea that we have the capacity to administer something like that on that scale but the only way you can understand the how can we get back to normal before we have to give people more money because they do know that it's some and 0:56:50 republicans honestly know too at some point they are going to have to give people more money not necessarily uh like the 1200 again but there's going to have to be a stabilizing injection of capital at the demand side or our consumer-based economy will collapse and they know that but they're also with this all these vaccines coming online now they're also hoping the same way at the beginning of the thing everybody was essentially saying no we're not going to shut down because maybe it solves itself maybe it falls away maybe the transmission doesn't jump and maybe they track and trace a guy and it gets contained maybe they drop the moab on cedar creek and uh it doesn't spread and we don't have to worry about it the same way they were doing that for a while that's one of the big reasons that everything went to hell so quick right now they're like how far like just get some vaccines and people maybe 0:57:52 we can just get this thing kick-started without having to give people more money and so right now i think biden and the whole those parties are in that wait-and-see thing that suspended animation of like negotiating not negotiating giving the illusion of forward momentum just to buy time for a miracle in the form of a vaccination campaign that reaches hurt immunity within my guess is that they will uh they will they will give in before that but i i honestly have no faith that they won't push it way too i didn't see a tweet today that said and i thought it was actually pretty brilliant 0:59:4 uh i gotta give credit actually i should give credit because it's a really good idea is that uh the only way to deal with the fact that we have these two incommensura world views with the there's so little trust between these two factions the only way you can guarantee a very quick uh ascension to a vaccine protocol is if you took the two vaccines because there's two there's a modern one and a pfizer one and had 1:0:5 branded culturally one of them as the democrat vaccine and then branded another one culturally as the republican vaccine and had the two media apparatuses talk about them not just in terms of saying ours is good but more importantly saying that the other one was terrible and the other one was going to make you either like what the democrats could say oh it's going to make you racist or and democrats could say oh it's going and that you then that and more importantly that getting the the one that the other ones don't like uh it owns them and makes them unhappy and and it would be self-generating like anything from outside it wouldn't work it has to contain both but uh it's it's too way too smart we are far too dumb all right i'm going to get off in a second but i want to i want to credit this guy because i really 1:1:6 thought that was a smart a smart idea it would require more more cooperation than uh and and coherence than our government is capable of of undertaking because the lumpen uh idiocy that has overcome our billionaire class has predictably also totally taken over our political class so that not only i can capital not not only is government not able to like coordinate capital because capital has so much influence now that it's just overalls the state's managerial and coordinating capacities the people who could fight that within government are similarly captured by self-interest i mean my god nancy pelosi just admitted yes the other day that they ***** refused a massive amount of money trillions of dollars and and another round of ***** checks to people before the election because they didn't incentive uh john askanas thank you shout 1:2:9 out to john esconnis that was very i'm going to read it i'm just going to read this thread because it's really good the solution to vaccination under hyper partisanship is so obvious and cynical that it will never be done we have two very similar vaccines pfizer modern if you want to reach her immunity fast you make one the lib vaccine and one the vaga vaccine give the new give the get the new biden administration 1:3:10 to endorse the modern vaccine as the best one for science and experts have gates and soros team up to send out the distribution have gal gadot lead a celebrity music video hovering all of the soy people every one of the avengers getting the ***** modern vaccine you spread rumors that trump is holding millions of pfizer stock and mush rushed it through fda approval you get newsom to ban pfizer in california uh have like um yeah uh have a bunch of like viral tweets about like pfizer was a nazi company or something uh and then you have trump go on hannity and take uh and they and they take the advisors back they take it together and then you have the booths at the rallies and uh and i just want to read these last ones because this was a very astute point this sounds crazy but consider that this is exactly what happened 1:4:11

LETS GOOOOOOO!

to maximally oppose whatever the other side happened to support that's how you go from some tentative scientific support for hydrochloroquine and a bit of trump boosterism to msnbc and the new york times writing hit pieces on it and talk show host joking about it while fox news practically begins selling it on their website and the admin making it a miracle cure that's the big part of it in the way that it reinforces each other i remember the hydrochloroquine story it was like i mean liberals were always saying well we have to say this because people are dying nobody's like one idiot drank like a goldfish cleaner or something there was no need for everybody to go all in on horrible hydrochloric we wants they were driven that way by their need to define themselves in opposition to trump and they were filtered down all the way to everybody including on the left which is supposed to be critical of this sort of mind and on the and then at the same time hydrochloroquine became the miracle cure on the right and not taking it was ***** and yeah like that's that's that's the thing you put in your body all right so i'm going to leave you guys and gals with a quote a tweet that um i retweeted today that really reminded me that the ideal and i don't know i'm not really joking is that if bernie had won the nomination somehow through the grace of god uh that my ideal vice president for him honestly might have been marianne williamson and i feel like i feel that now more than i did even at the time and i was very interested in marianne at the time just because i feel like she is one of the very few figures in public life who articulates in any way even if it's from the point of view of like west coast uh new age ***** the the reality of of our spiritual lack and she had a tweet today that i thought really really reminded me that we're on the same wavelength caterpillars disintegrate into a soup of imaginal cells out of which emerges a butterfly that's where the world is now one way of being is disintegrating people are imagining new ways of doing and thinking about things relating to self and others it won't stay soup for long and of course that's not necessarily a good thing graham she said you know the old world is dying the new world is yet to be born this is the time of monsters but it's also the time of miracles it is a it is a liquefied uh it's liquefied uh earth like you know during an earthquake it moves so fast that the ***** ground itself turns into it has a viscosity of liquid we're there and what comes out of that is up to us as terrifying as that is to think about and as hopeless as it might make you think when you consider how far all of us are from god in a real sense from love we're also all we have and the only thing that could do it and we're here bye

*Music playing** another headache a heartbreak i'm so much older then i can take well it comes and goes i need direction to perfection no no no no no **Music playing** when there's nowhere else to run is there room for one more song the strangest ain't 0:1:3 changing me the cold-hearted boy i used to be hi guys i'm not so i've got soul but damn it i'm oh full disclosure uh i've done a lot of content production today so i'm kind of uh we'll tap i probably wouldn't have done a stream today if i hadn't missed monday and tuesday i try to do like three a week if i'm not letting people know ahead of time i'm not going to be doing them so i felt like i didn't want to skip again but i'm i don't really know what to say so i might have it's going to be a loose one this is going to be uh another low uh vibe stream so fair warning ahead of time on that don't expect a lot of verbal fireworks here ah make sure a ***** beats working 0:2:4 though i'll say that i saw the bob odenkirk trailer and i had heard of this movie before i i've heard like for a year now that this movie was being made because i'm reading a thing where bob owen kirk was talking about how he was getting trained by the john wick guys and i thought it was really exciting and i saw a trailer and it's just john wick it's what if basically it's what if john wick's wife hadn't died a year after they got married what if she'd lived and they'd had kids and then like after he got kind of old uh he had to come back like that's the only difference like everything else beat for b and style and aesthetics and that was disappointing i'll still see it i love bob odenkirk obviously i've loved him since ***** mr show since the 0:3:6 ben stiller show which i'm old enough to remember and do have loved watching as a kid for the one man early 90s fox was the best i would say that early 90s sunday night on fox is the best network television has been for comedy because you had anchoring you hadn't married with children and then you had uh the site simpson's there for sometimes it switched to thursday but it's it was sunday it was started on sundays uh but then you had ***** that didn't do nearly as well didn't last as long as those shows but in my opinion i mean obviously you know you're a kid things are funnier but in my opinion hold up and help shape my comet perspective in a lot of ways get life with chris elliot fantastic show ben stiller show which i don't think

holds up as well just because so much of it is based on direct parodies of stuff that 0:4:7 was happening at the time like specific tv shows and specific commercials that's not gonna land the same way but still you can't beat that cast you can't beat uh who ended up being on that show i mean that's where ***** bob and david met literally and then helped make mr show the greatest american sketch comedy show of all time and in the running for it's like it's in the top conversation i mean i don't know if it's not mr shomani python kids in the hall i who's what's the fourth competitor there uh and what else oh they also had the oh they had crazy high concept ***** that might not be funny you might not look back on i think it was funny but compared to the other shows on tv it was interesting and different like herman's head which was ripped off for uh inside out any i don't know if anybody else saw inside out 0:5:8 and was outraged at how horrifyingly they had ripped off the show herman's head which was a show that it was a sitcom and the premise was there's a guy herman and he's trying to make it in the big city in publishing but you cut back uh between his like parts of his consciousness and it was uh the horny fat guy who was his lust there was the nerd and glasses who was his intellect there was the twerpy nervous guy who was anxiety and then the hippie lady who was his uh emotions and like sensitivity then there was a show called whoops which i was describing someone this show last weekend and they couldn't believe this was a real show it was essentially gilligan's island but the gimmick was instead of them being on a desert island they were the last people to survive an accidental nuclear holocaust and they all lived in a house together in a blasted wasteland and this was a multi-camera sitcom with a 0:6:11 laugh track and there was one episode i saw as a little kid i still remember where uh santa claus shows up and he's got survivor's guilt because the elves the reindeer mrs claws were i'm seeing uh for other best uh sketch comedy shows chappelle show chappelle show is definitely in the running i'd sure i think it could probably take out honestly replace monty python with the chappelle show at this point comedy has a shelf life monty python shelf life is over the chappelle still is still funny so throw that out there chappelle show uh or maybe yeah i think you should leave might be in the discussion but you need a lot more episodes there's literally six 20-minute episodes that's not enough audio is low god oh ***** me what do you want me to do what do you want me to do i've got the thing turned up i don't know what to do you want 0:7:12 me to the state was okay state's not as good mad tv is pretty good and mad tv when you look back on it it was definitely uh it was willing to go places that you can't go anymore so it has that kind of uh going for it just as a curio but sketch by sketch there's a lot of dog keem peel i would say is probably better than the chapelle show as a like on a sketch by sketch basis because and the premises are very crisp but it's also a little airless it's a little over intellectualized in a way that the chappelle show

isn't and that makes the connected but anyway this is all the way saying i love bad 0:8:13 guy bob owen kirk like nobody's business but watching that trailer and just seeing him just do the keanu thing with the same guns and the same choreography and the same even the same uh sheen and the same lighting schemes and at one point and the thing where he gets the guns out that have been kept in the in the bunker and he's got a bunch of gold bars those are just like the coins from it's like god once they figured out that they could replace squibs with choreography and and then made uh john wick the exemplar of that they just decided like with all things they were just going to monopolize the entire action space and they're going to turn so i'm a little disappointed in the trailer but i will certainly see it although when i saw at the end of the trailer it says only in theaters february 26th i'm like okay guys good luck with that you guys and tenet goes kids in the hall i didn't say uh somebody says kids in 0:9:20 the house better than uh better than chappelle i didn't say i because there's hell's shield in the top three you kick out monty python you don't kick up kids in the hall kids in the hall one of the things that's most impressive about kids in the hall is that i would say unlike any other show i can imagine any other sketchup i can think of you can watch an episode of the kids in the hall and you can guess who wrote each sketch and you will probably be right if you watch the whole show and you like get the comedic sensibilities of the different act of different uh performers and and and writers you see who's like oh this is this is a this is a kevin and dave's sketch oh this is one of those uh uh you know one man show scott thompson things this is the weird sweaty experimental film that's bruce mccullough that's very cool to me monty python has that too but as i said mighty python is just it streets behind as 0:10:21 pierce horizon would say have i heard of saturday night live pretty funny i mean yeah i thought kevin and uh i thought i always thought that kevin and dave collaborated on all those old-timey like kind of avid and costello premise sketches like the one where it's bob and dave and they're like in a diner or something like the citizen kane sketch which is a great sketch this isn't cade it was it is a gate it was citizen kane you need a mortician sudden eruptions of bloody violence is one of the best ways uh tim and eric is fantastic but when i think of sketch shows i sort of like when 0:11:35 i'm trying to think of like the archetypal and pinnacle sketch shows i think of ones that conform to the sketch concept you know like i honestly feel like tim and eric is almost a liminal thing it's not even really a sketch show like those are not really sketches in the traditional sense they do not have premises that play out in the way that sketches traditionally do but it's fantastic i mean also formatively influential 30 uh somebody says when did snl nosedive snl never knows dove anywhere this is one thing that i will will uh submit it is as bad as it's ever been i will i will stipulate i just watched the kevin uh kevin bateman the the jason bateman episode

from saturday i just watched that might be the worst one i've ever watched but 0:12:38 that's not because of some sudden collapse of quality snl because it's been on the air non-stop for forty in 40 years has the same entropic principle embedded within us that everything does it's the same reason that simpsons is terrible because it's still odd and so the the quality degradation of snl is not some drop it is a steady decline with you know within it it's it's a trend downward that within it contains highs and lows both within episode both within sketches within episodes episodes within seasons seasons within tranches of seasons and that's that's anything over time will it show that trait because the energy and now in a specific context of a program like a tv show like the simpsons or snl that that big bang is like the premise 0:13:41 you know the container the creative container for the energies of the people making it and that container has limitations and over time you hit the limits of them and the way you avoid the show becoming bad is you and when you don't stop making it horrifying things happen and you see this like new simpsons is an abomination and in fact at this point you wanted to get logicky on it i think you could make a strong argument that the simpsons is on balance a bad show because it has been actively bad for twice as long as it was good and that means that just sheer sheer volume of output if you're gonna keep it as one thing if you're gonna say this is one show and you can't really say it isn't because that's how all shows work there's a name 0:14:42 of his show a premise of a show at last and then it's gone this you can say uh the chick but like nothing really changed you know it wasn't one thing it wasn't one guy leaving it wasn't shipping theseus uh it's a ship a thesis a schwarzwald was writing on like the 20th season or something like the people who made it great were there there's still guys who write for it now who wrote for it originally like ba what's the guy we had on the show me uh ***** what's his name he's he's been on since the beginning draining's still there i i've been to a simpsons table read we got invited to it mike reese is his name mike reese invited us to a simpsons table read and i got to see them do it and it was a ***** amazing and but the thing is but and they were all there ***** graining was uh graining wasn't there but james l brooks was there so there is a continuity you can't say it's not the same product what happened time passed the thing that killed the simpsons was not ian maxstone graham or da or 0:15:43 merkin or any whoever people blame for for or graining for selling out so if you if you compose the idea that the simpsons the simpsons is a program right the simpsons is a tv program we're not going to talk about what dividing within it it's a holistic thing a television series that's been on for almost 40 years now and it has a number of episodes within it but to have different quality if you look at it from remove and say is this a good or a bad show there is an argument to be made that semantically like in the narrowest sense it is a bad show because i subscribe very much to the notion that binaries are composed of infinite gradients once a certain inflection point 0:16:45 of attributes has been reached the thing gains a characteristic that can you be used to describe it by other people like that's how we get to language is the accumulation of traits you reach you have like say x number there's x number of traits once you reach y you enough of them have been uh obtained that this counts as a thing we can say so it's a show is it good no it's a bad show it's a bad show put on the simpsons random episode it's probably going to be bad and that's purely because they left it on which is why getting mad at snl for anything or the simpsons for anything other than refusing to stop uh is wrong but the thing is when you do that you're not getting mad at the simpsons creators you're not getting mad at even lorne michaels you're getting mad at capitalism once again and for always you're getting mad because the profit engine of the entertainment industry has dictated that these 0:17:46 things should continue to go on our favorite shows that were great a lot of times we were protected from them being remembered as bad because they weren't profitable to make anymore and they stopped making them before they got bad that's like the capitalist regulator that can protect our good shows from turning into bad shows because that's the only real gatekeeper that we have in mass culture so capitalism kill the simpsons and skilled snl although with snl i would argue that it started at a much lower quality the early snl is not that great if you put on an average 1977 episode even given the fact that comedy tastes changed over time there's like maybe a couple of good sketches there it's just now there's no good sketches no and i would 0:18:47 say that until recently you could usually bank maybe one decent sketch an episode and i think that only in the last couple seasons capitalism the main thing i resist in snl discourse is try to to um is trying to validate any previous generation of snl compared to the current one it's just entropy that distinguishes them and the reason for that is i remember most of these things like in some way i've watched a lot of this ***** and and this the real the stuff that sticks is very rare but one thing i know for sure is the close the stuff you see when you're younger is going to stick more and that means you will never be able to judge it accurately you'll never come close to being able to evaluate it because the stuff you remember liking you have 0:19:49 forgotten all the garbage all the garbage just ran through your head unless it was so bad it was memorable it just ran through the ***** uh sewer grates into the into the sewer and then floated away into your subconscious what got stuck in the pan in the gold pan is stuff that you remember and remember enjoying and remember to join with the with the simple-minded uh easy enthrallment of use which adds all sort of color and emotion to your memory they're all positive no modern thing will compare to that but the thing is with most stuff you're not comparing one to one whereas with saturday night live sketches you're comparing the same thing and

that means it'll never ever ever live up and so no one can truly judge snl uh sketch comedy or uh quality because their memories their comparative memories are purely uh just a collection of their greatest enjoy encounters with the show which will by i will say though that one of those things that's wrong and bad is as politics gets 0:20:54 more uh culture gets more political it's very bad for a show like that because topical political comedy is maybe the lowest form of company currently uh popular and that's not necessary and that's and that's only because of how ubiquitous politics is and i mean there's a reason that we helped create a genre of political comedy with chapo because you know we're funny but i don't know if any of us would have made it through the gatekeepers of comedy to be able to be professionally humorous what kind of gave us an entry point was that we had a relatable subject that people cared about and that we could triangulate our humor off of and that that would give us a hearing with people that we wouldn't get if we were just trying to hit people at a purely comedic register so we were essentially cheating we were stretching out the meatloaf i'll admit but the thing is like now people want that so you know they were 0:21:55 going to want it i think what you can really pull from snl is just like like a baseball team and being a fan of snl like i've said before is much more like being a fan of a baseball team than a television show you you don't it doesn't matter if it's good or bad you know it's your team and you watch it and you take you keep your eyes open for talent and you you know see it develop or whatever so the thing to remember is like uh performers like who who has stood out you know who who are uh and one of the one of the real uh signals of the current degradation is how thin the bench is talent-wise right now snl was never was never was not always this political you'd have a pl you'd have a cold or you'd have a political cold open like i don't now every every cold open is political and i don't think that used to be the case but then again 0:22:56 i don't really i wouldn't have remembered a lot of them because cold spoken like a true brewers fan indeed oh boy i didn't want him to win the cove there are were some great old uh uh political sketches though and there was some kind of uh subversive stuff there was a sketch on uh there was a classic hartman ronald reagan sketch at the during the height of iran contra where the joke was is that he was pretending to be this guttering old man but behind closed doors he was like the mastermind of a globe spanning uh and that's the kind of like coming at it from an angle thing that 0:23:57 they have never been able to figure out in my in am like in my era in my like more recent memory of the show they very much get stuck on like a a play on the guy and then they just run with it and that means it's essentially the same sketch i'd say hartman was definitely like maybe the greatest saturday night live cast member of all time in terms of all-around talent success one thing i will note that i said this before they did it on last on saturday show is that they do they do recurring sketches not 0:24:58

CUSHVLOG 124. THE ROAD TO CARCOSA

recurring characters the characters are unmemorable it's the premise with a different skeleton of jokes and that's what that's how you use a recurring character it's this a recurrent character is a premise essentially and a skeleton to you for put more specific jokes on now they just have the premise without the character they have not bothered to create characters people like because they know they can't they know they can't get something over in the wrestling sense the way that you could with like uh the rich meister or wayne and garth or uh or even like one of those christian one of those 15 awful christine kristen wig uh recurring characters none of them can get over a recurring character so it's just the sketch over and over now celebrity jeopardy 0:26:2 does not have care first of all celebrities jeopardy is like 10 years old now and i'm talking about current snl so that's not even relevant but secondly trebek isn't really a character in that sketch he's basically a straight man and impressions don't really count anyway will ferrell is definitely uh one of the farrell was farrell held the same role of like uh glue that hartman did he was less of an impressionist and more of a more of a wild man but a very similar very similar position comedic point guard i guess or no i mean basketball it is amazing to me that keenan thompson is still there 0:27:4 i believe he's been there for uh 16 17 seasons i think this might be a 17 season that's got to be it's got to be a record right like tim meadows didn't stay that long and i kind of respect it because i'm assuming what's happening there is that he has just like made the zen decision that okay like this is my job i'm not going to be famous i'm not going to be a big star i'm not going to have my own franchise this is my job like somebody works in an office somebody uh digs ditches i do these sketches i like doing it i have fun it's better than real work i'll just keep doing it and i respect that for tim meadows he was there forever but it was because he couldn't get a character 0:28:5 and he needed to get a character for him to do what they all did in the 90s at the height of the like right after wayne's world went like every sk every uh uh every recurring character was a potential movie and that meant a potential movie career and when you saw what like mike myers went it was like oh ***** farley even dana carvey before master of disguise that was what they were all angling for and like the last one to get it was probably will ferrell maybe andy sandberg but he was never really an snl cast member i guess i don't know it's weird because he was doing lol the same thing and they're all lonely island movies it's it's not quite as one-to-one as like i was a superstar in the girl mary katherine gallagher and now there's a movie about that but he he finally got the ladies man which had some pop in which people liked even though i never thought leon phelps was that funny and so oh god and he goes and makes the movie and they're like magruber but that was a failure uh 0:29:6 and they go okay what is this fails and then he's gotta hang around hollywood i mean he's making it he probably makes a living but it's certainly less uh stable than

coming in punching the clock whereas keenan he knows there's nothing out there he's had projects they've failed i think he had a sitcom that like didn't go past the pilot or like a cup first couple episodes and so it's like here there be there'll be dragons i'm gonna chill here and as long as he's not tormented by that and doesn't think of it as a failure of some kind as long as he's at peace with it then he is he's the most successful snl bridesmaids doesn't count because it's not based on a recurring character that's just somebody doing movies after she had a mil it's very interesting kristen wiig had a million recurring characters she was the last person to have like a real stable of recurring characters in the 90s tradition uh you know of snl and when 0:30:8 even though she did become a movie star in some way they never made a goddamn one of them into a movie that's how bad they all were it was amazing how how she was just being put on everybody and i think like they must have killed in studio because the thing is it doesn't matter what they put on people it's there people are going to watch it that's the secret of all of this that's the thing that that uh that lauren knows that's the thing that has turned him into a demon is he he knows oh if they'll watch it whatever it is even if it's bad they'll watch it to talk about how bad it is the fact that it's on is why people watch it it has reached that level so they they just took the fact that like it healed in the studio to mean oh everyone loves gilly and everyone loves the nervous target uh uh cashier and yet nobody even thought of putting those onto a movie screen they had to do other ***** because it was like 0:31:9 this stuff is poison and i'd say that's it that's been the last one and the fact that like macgruber i think is the last direct transition and it failed i i don't think ted lasso just happened was ted lasso an snl ***** character was ted lasso a jason sneakers character on snl by the way he's been off snl for i mean just basic basic stuff i don't get you people unless you're not unless you're not trying to disagree with me but it's a david s pumpkins was insanely forced oh guys okay this is gonna just be the snl sketch one but uh this is just gonna be the snl uh stream but that's fine it was 0:32:11 bound to happen eventually i'm having fun uh this is a nice wind down from talking about political ***** all day um so the david s pumpkin sketch was actually one of those recurring premises i talked about so like a year before that episode larry david hosted and there was a sketch where it was a bunch of fbi recruits at hogan's alley doing the uh the target shooting where you have to distinguish between uh threats and uh and uh civilians and they're like dummies that like come up with a gun and like they're animatronics basically and some of them are uh some of them are criminals to be shot and other ones are civilians not to be shot and they pop up a few and they're normal and then one of them pops up and it's larry david in a bright orange suit holding a big brick style 80s um cell phone wearing sunglasses 0:33:13 and he goes hey oh ***** what was his name god damn it what was the character's

name ***** this is literally going to kill me david brian uh kevin roberts that was it he goes hey i'm kevin roberts and i'm the biggest ***** i'm the smoothest ***** in town and then the guy shoots him and the trainer goes where i was at he goes i was confused and it's basically the david s pumpkins thing of you're expecting one thing then it's this weird off uh like off-premise thing like oh and pray with us pumpkins isn't really funny this guy's not really either a threat but he's also a weird what and then the person kind of like fig not figuring it out uh and um and that's it that was the sketch and then david s pumpkins is the exact same sketch as just during halloween and it's popping out of the halloween things instead of popping up from 0:34:16 the target range the only big difference is one you know tom hanks he's a legendary snl host uh and it would uh and he's always going to be memorable a little bit when he's on the show like his black jeopardy sketch was one of the few that kind of had had legs uh outside of the you know people saw it in the immediate aftermath of its uh airing but uh but then also the fact that it was a halloween episode and hal and holiday episodes usually have a little more cultural resonance because it's one of those things that reminds us of the season and then we talk about it to reaffirm that memory um and then three because it actually had a punch line which is very very rare for any snl sketch snl sketches almost never have punchlines now they just set up the premise do jokes about the premise and then just stop that's that's been the the model for snl sketches for a very long time i mean it's they've never been good at ending sketches it's just not a part of the process of writing a sketch in six days like 0:35:18 that's the hard part and you don't have time so it makes sense that they just give up but this one actually had a punchline it was when they cut back to the couple after they don't see david pumpkins with the dancing skeletons he pops his head up and goes any questions and i go ah that's aha that's actually like kevin roberts doesn't do anything he they just do it do it do it and then quit and for that reason david s cumpkins popped and became a meme but it was literally some ***** stepped on like these guys are literally just stepping on their own product in order to make the the runtime but i mean the main problem with snl at this point is the fact that it's written by the same college educated um soy creatures that every show is written by 0:36:19 like every show is the same voice it is the voice of twitter every show every every every topical program and increasingly even scripted like long-form stuff like for example the boys is just the voice of twitter one way or and that is very innovating and it's hard to enjoy anything like that and yeah like there's a factory that produces these people like they all go to college like they'll they all go from their middle class homes to a nice college experience or their upper class homes to a nice college experience where they learn how to express themselves and and and work together and not get me too then they go to ucb used to be a second city now it's ucb and then they get caught and then they either write or they perform or home combination and they're all just regurgitating the same ***** cud that they've been chewing on since they uh grew up in like fuckburg uh suburbs and then went to sarah lawrence or whatever the ***** i mean they're the same people like this is a big country a lot of different experiences and these people are reproducing a comedic reply to almost the exact same experiences of living a relatively unprecarious urban educated existence uh that is mediated through that is heavily mediated and that is deeply uh invested in a in a performative political self-conception which i mean liberalism which i mean and because of that nothing can be good nothing can be good you got that's why people got to go to stuff that's not going through these uh gatekeepers to even come close to anything good and i gotta say that i never really got nathan for you but having watched um how to by john wilson which apparently was it is on tv because nathan fielder discovered it i'm i'm gonna have to go back and watch that show now because uh talking about how everything is bad and uh uh that show uh how to with john wilson is and the thing is and this is where this is where singularity of vision comes in you could very easily say to me well john wilson is obviously one of the people you're talking about yes he is he is absolutely some middle class person probably who went to college and then got a professional job in the city yes and and and shares like a the same like sort of mediated version of reality that we all do like the self-created bubble of entertainment but he's one guy or like a few people who are like helping him generating a relatively coherent personalized comedic vision what all these other shows are as a bunch of people who might have that in them but by the fact that they're all having to work together on the same thing with the same parameters around it are not going to do anything other than we're down to the lowest common denominator between them which will be the most bland and tasteless and insipid version of that experience that they're all sharing whereas this is somebody who's having the same experience but is able to express it and the only reason i even found out about it is because nathan fielder another guy who that is uh true of found it joe pera is a guy like that too like none of these people don't fit the demographic profile of who i'm talking about but they ch what's different is is that they are able to articulate a personalized oh man righteous gemstones are so good i mean conor o'malley of course is another absolute king in that regard of course i'm saying a bunch of white guys because uh that's who i see online because i'm a white guy there are others i have not seen them i'm not denying their existence the thing they will share i will stipulate is a is a relatively core coherent and relatively personalized is the demiurge to the gnostics what capital is to the proletariat yes that's a perfectly encapsulated way to put it thank you then my urge in the practical sense is capitalism we don't live in the world we live in a simulated reduced bound

version of the world that is that's physical manifestation is generated by a spirit a geist a principle that drives everything that drives the uh the maintenance and the uh intensification of uh human um of human transformation of the environment what's the code running our ever expanding reordering of the material world around us what is the thing driving us to build this world instead of the boundless world that it could be capitalism but its structures are so real that they are as real to us 0:42:34 as our bodies and as much of a a prison as the materialist world is to the gnostic as as far removed from the real world the real pandora around us as as eternal union with god in heaven is to the gnostic who lives in someone put it very well just now in the comments right now what capitalism is about is about uh exploiting uh the resources of the world using technology to produce capital to produce surplus super plus beyond the sustenance of the human race which of course is then to be held by the the holders of the capital that built it the whole the owners under communism 0:43:35 what we're extracting and trying to pile up and distribute is time it's free time free time that is not in pain like because as i say there is unalienated labor but even on alienated labor sucks like even even though uh cleaning your toilet is less alienating than being a janitor it still sucks to clean a toilet so that part that like unpleasantness associated with being alive on earth that's gonna be there that's that's part of work that is almost until you but until you have technologically removed the need for it it's still there but the less the the point of like a human species working towards its own like greater betterment would be if we acknowledge that the goal of all this technological progress that we have the goal of all this economic activity that we're doing that we're friendly doing all these scaffolds we're building shout out john wilson should not be to build up ***** surplus to be held by people who by virtue 0:44:36 of a sucking literal magic trick claim ownership to it it would be to free people from unpleasant labor for the longest amount of time so that they could do things with that material world around them with that technological understanding with their understanding of other people to build something and turn work turn the time that isn't alienated and work into art into play both like living under communism living in an unalienated technologically advanced society work has been replaced by art like art can be unpleasant too like art has physical exertion and gunky parts but art transcends chores right transcends work it actually takes the things that's gross and turns those gross things into more adherence to the task more and eventually you get to a point where where labor has been replaced by people literally spending their 0:45:38 time on earth and until that point playing when that before you're able to transition the actual like working of the gears of social existence like the actual growing of food and distribution of resources and maintenance of social order through uh through coordination and you know infrastructure once that's taken care of everything else is

play but then when you can turn the process of doing that that of extracting of giving people food of giving power of allowing for transfer of movement of people over time and place over over uh technological innovation you've turned you've turned work 0:46:39 into art that's the that's the that's the alchemy that we're seeking we are essentially alchemists and that is the magical that's the magical formula we're looking for i feel like i on a personal level have done that i have performed the magic trick on myself i have i have i have cast the spell and drank the potion but now having done that the only the only place my animal spirits can truly be satisfied is in the process of casting that spell on others casting that spell across the world as far as my my powers can go and they're not very far i will have to join my magic with others i'll have to join 0:47:40 my my my uh my want i have to say i definitely feel like i understand ellen what alan moore was talking about in that episode a lot more than i it somebody says fictional characters uh you know what this is okay fictional character that best uh reflects obama i would say the imagined viewer of a prestige television show which is a fictional character a character created by fiction created by imagination hear me out here you've got prestige shows right prestige shows because of television shows these aren't pure works of art as much as we love to talk about guys like david chase and and uh and uh matthew weiner as as auteurs it is a very collaborative process 0:48:43 that is deeply enmeshed in a capitalist matrix of profitability related to its authority how many episodes of a show you get depends on people watching it it depends on selling underwear and light beer think about that a movie is a movie here it is take it or oh a show isn't a show really until it's over and how long it lasts how much time you get to tell a story how you get to tell it is determined by how many people watch which is not determined by quality as we all know quality is merely a part of it what it mostly is is is a is an ability to hit people at a common denominator where enough of them are entertained that they want to keep watching and with a prestige audience what you do to find that out is you read the ***** recaps because the recaps before twitter the recaps were how the internet like the hive mind of the 0:49:46 internet that like collective college educated urban liberal how they responded to stimuli and how they expressed themselves in the social media matrix like barfing up now that we have the internet to literally embody and reflect the mind of our like creative class we have the technology to hear the echo of the audience at a moment by moment basis we don't have to rely on ***** nielsen ratings we don't have to wonder about whether or not people are filling our name out in the book that they keep for like a five dollar a month stipend from the nielsen company we get it in real time the echolocation of people responding and the com the uh the recaps and comment sections in the early uh internet websites i would argue are where people went to find out what these people wanted and then they made these shows mad men uh the

sopranos uh well the sopranos really made it first of all but remember the sopranos 0:50:48 could have been after could have gone off the air after one season the sopranos were tacking off of the media response to them almost immediately because it became this huge phenomenon almost overnight so they were never not captured like beyond the first season everything that came later is fully enmeshed in this so even the sopranos count sopranos brazen bad uh the person viewing it that they divine through the response first in the form of those recaps and the comments on recaps and then the twitter conversation once twitter enters into it the viewer of that is a highly successful because remember we're after rich college educated urban liberals we're not after the ones who are paying back a million jillion student loans and running around gig gig economy jobs we were the ones with time and money to spend on the kind of products that we advertise more importantly are willing to spend more for things like a streaming service or a cable channel then you can because the more of them we get the fewer of the everyone else we need so we want them as rich as 0:51:49 they come who are still going to be sitting around watching television so then we're talking about people who by definition almost are professional class people people who work at nine to five and come home and want to sit down and kind of vape out and because they're not able to jet ski around the world like a very very rich person and also there aren't so you're talking about upper middle class professionals of the urban milieu and what do they create they created psychopaths they created tony soprano they created walter white don draper they created psychopaths empty vessels of pure self-seeking self-interest because that is who they saw in the mirror that's who they saw in the reflected response to the show to the shows because while the people writing about it aren't the most professionally successful ones they wouldn't be writing recaps if they were and they wouldn't be typing responses to 0:52:50 recaps if they were the the people green lighting stuff and making art in television can see past them to the so i would say they pre imagined the people who the guys who created and wrote and and and directed the the creative direct the creative shape of those early prestige tv shows the people they had in mind subconsciously it's barf sack o crumble he is the he is the prestige television watcher in chief and didn't it work barack obama watched the show and said oh i really like that batman uh david chase uh show uh the wire it's uh really good it guaranteed an audience 0:53:53 it guaranteed money in the bank so they essentially conjured into being the guy that they had in mind like prestige television was essentially a giant black mass to summon this beelzebub into existence to rule more like barf sacko crumbo that's what yeah trump was summoned by television as well someone trump is celibate trump was in a mirror process trump was summoned by those people left to fend for themselves in network television after cable came along who had to figure out a way 0:54:54

to keep these ***** rubes watching the over the channel uh shows well these are the people who don't have the money to watch hbo or cable that means by definition we have a ceiling on how much we want to pitch to people because all of our ideas of what smart is comes from a college experience the people who don't have the money for cable tend to not have so we can't speak to them we don't know how to talk to them we can only condescend to them well we might as well say as few words as possible let's just train the cameras on them and let them entertain each other phew and out of that process of programming towards that this the person they had in their mind the disgusting pig they had in their mind they summoned so it's yeah 0:55:59 the those are the those are now like the the warlocks those are the those are the the antichrist two now rule it's like it is like the second coming only they're both the antichrist it's it's revelation where they're both the bad guy which would make sense if you were a gnostic because that's not really god that's yellow boweth and who's this person that's probably another conjured monster that's that's it's he's there to keep you uh yeah trump was summoned into his place in the political firmament by an incantation of barack obama remember he it was him making fun of uh trump at 0:57:1 the correspondence dinner that made him decide to run for president donald ***** the the hype the dark lord himself spoke unto the world and brought forth a demon for him to battle thrashings and the problem is if that's our thesis and and that's our antithesis i cannot imagine any synthesis emerging that is not uh a even more deeply uh satanic monstrosity like that would be like forming into a voltron like blurbing into each other and creating a new monstrosity not good no uh our hope can be only that that that like synthesis that that that dialectic between trump and obama is embedded within the larger dialectic of american politics and that a thesis 0:58:3 antithesis will emerge to that that is our hope i mean there is an antithesis emerging the question is will it gain um the ability to resist and assert itself and build before we are pulled off of rickenback falls into the misty waters below bye

ah did it finally go did it finally go i think i might have i know we all love the critters folks they're delightful they're friends they're they're gentle creatures of the forest deep and we all wish we could crawl up with them daily but sadly we must spend 0:1:1 our days with much less agreeable mammals namely sparking human beings whose brains have i did pet a horse in the snow when i was canvassing for bernie in new hampshire it was out in the country and there was a house that had a paddock next to it and there was a horse out there there was nobody home but i got to cut the horse and that was nice they're fun they got those big gigantic eyes oh the volume is 0:2:7 super low huh well at this point there's nothing i can do about it so i'm just accepting that you can hear it or not and if you can't hear it well maybe you weren't meant to hear it maybe hearing it would be bad for you maybe there are forbidden truths that you're not ready to absorb and as a result this it's like the world spirit awa herself is blocking the audio quality and making it so that you can't hear these these things that would break your mind and send you off into a spiral of self-destruction and destruction of others uh in fact you could say that the uh variable volume uh is is 0:3:8 the thing that saved your life so so be be thankful i did finish out too with gentleman last episode was phenomenal the whole thing was brilliant and i watched some of his videos on video and it's very interesting to see his like style change over time as he kind of refines what he's doing because like the earlier stuff is much cruder and it's like in its comedy and also in its overall art so he says that uh moralistic fables can be 0:4:12 good like avatar if the ma if the moral is good i mean that's half of it the other half is it has to be told well and the thing i would say to anyone who says that avatar isn't a good movie in any respect is that if you could tell me that you were sitting there watching those scenes where they're flying on the back of the dragon thing uh the big battle i mean think of what combat and action scenes are like in current movies big movies michael bay christopher nolan all the marvel ***** think of what those zack snyders think about what those action scenes look like big battle scenes they are largely incomprehensible uh pixelated explosions of uh i can't sort it out what 0:5:15 am i supposed to do literally decontextualized uh and that are edited into a total

haphazard slot generally i mean if you like tristan vernon movies you don't really like the action scenes right like you like the puzzle box stuff you like the clever things how many action scenes are in nolan's like uh repertoire of you know great moments cinematically maybe the hallway fight in inception but that's not really about the action that's about the special that's about the specific like dimensions although you know even there it's not shot particularly interestingly or like emotionally you watch the like the big clagmatic battle scene in avatar he sets up spatial relationships so you know where everything is where the where the uh the people are where the ships are 0:6:17 then he has them engage in battle and every shot builds a little narrative within the battle whereas modern action is kind of built around the premise of disorientation and while you might say that's good in its own way one thing it doesn't do is build investment in it as a piece of narrative it doesn't tell a story a story not the story but a story within the story and cameron's action tells stories within stories so his moral his simplistic disney moral is wedded to technical uh somebody who says yeah thank you that anyone the reason somebody said uh sort out your audio mate and it triggered me because british people i am done with i'm done with hearing anything from british people they're about to just blow themselves up and sink into the north 0:7:18 atlantic on purpose because they are too ***** miserable to deal with one another they had a total possibility they had a chance to ***** be a functioning country they had a guy who was standing there in front of them and saying hey you ***** ***** uh disgusting trolls how about you ***** quit being miserable for one second of your life and believe in each other just enough to ***** press a button in a goddamn voting booth and they couldn't be asked to do it instead they would rather ***** just pull a giant uh cork out of the the sink hole out of the ***** uh the drain and just let them swirl into the ocean good ***** riddance after um after birthing this monstrosity after birthing global capitalism and then being left bereft after uh the your kid ran away ran across the water seek its fortune in the west and now you're just the sad pathetic gutted emptied shell now you're going to die like an octopus 0:8:19 that has released their spores even though you didn't have to you could have had some dignity and no one can say that they did not have every ***** chance to go a different direction they had one of the only decent people that hideous island has produced jeremy corbyn telling them every day to their face that it doesn't have to be this way and the miserable ***** bog monsters decided ah no he's not he's lying it can't be real it's a trap because i if everyone around here is like me and i am so awful and miserable and shitty and and pale and and grotesque and and and nasty and and uh disconnected and anti-social well then none of us could ever get together on anything why not just go down pretending it's the blitz again getting national cohe like basically what what what brexit was is this is an attempt by the british people to regain a moment that they all think they actually cared about one 0:9:21 another and that was world war ii that was the that was the emergency that was the keep calm and carry on moment when they had meaning in life because they had an understanding of themselves that went beyond their individuality they were part of a ***** of a country that was under attack from evil and that was fighting it and found and their struggle and sacrifice in that context had a virtue and they want it again that's why they're jacking off at the idea about all the food they won't be able to eat now they're gonna have to do victory gardens and stuff and ration potatoes because they need to get that back because they can't imagine any other way to get it even though jeremy corbyn was standing there right there hey if you guys want to have like national sense of purpose and mission we don't have to do austerity to ourselves masochistically you ***** repressed victorian freaks how about we create a actual politic actual we turn this country out and we we take it from being a business enterprise and turn it into a country an actual like civic project a civic 0:10:22 project of governance and a civic project of of um of improvement rather than just a civic project of uh dour withstanding of of of pain a dour endurance of of because because they can amen because that's conceivable to them because national unity through austerity is conceivable because in that case you're operating out of hate fear you're operating out of fear you're operating afraid of something being worse yes huddling underneath the tube waiting to get blown up yes cutting a bean into three pieces like in a ***** uh looney tunes cartoon for dinner uh that's unpleasant but it's better than the nazis taking over instead of the goose step on your neck and ***** concentration camps on the thames uh but here and now corbin's uh not anti-austerity pledge for national purpose that was appealing to the idea of love the idea 0:11:26 of getting doing something better and they can't imagine that because they don't love anybody including themselves and of course it's not like we're much better than that they're just further along in this process of alienating themselves for the world because they started before we did and there's fewer of them which means that it intensifies like the generational pathogens just and so they're just all so miserable that they can only operate off of they can only be they can only be socially uh they can they imagine that they can only be socially uh um by a fear of punishment of some kind in the form of well all right austerity britain sucks but it's better than becoming uh you know a completely polish uh denatured capital uh dissolved uh 0:12:29 department of europe which will be miserable in a different and worse way those are horrors beyond imagining whereas i can imagine what it would be like to have to to to have a victory garden my grandpa talks about it and he talks about how everybody was happier back then we're going to make it happen again and they said i had the chance they had the signpost they said no thank you we're too traumatized by our own we've been too defeated by victory because all of this stems from the fact that these are the monsters who destroyed the world these are the monsters who set out more than anyone they were the most successful ones anyway among the europeans the ones who set out to subdue the world and to turn it and to turn everything in it away from everything else and towards itself they started it their culture has been molded and and uh and completely driven around that central premise since the dawn of capitalism and now they find themselves a husk where they don't even 0:13:30 have the am the they have lost for many more years than us the dream of plenty that we were able to sustain because of the fantasy first of our western expansion and then the global uh bounty of the post-war dominance that we enjoyed the the empire that we held before before the borders closed off and before the myth lost its potency before we had to turn back inward and try to find a way to deal with one another having no having to develop no social bonds in like 40 years having generated no social trust in 40 years well it's been a lot longer for the brits so you can't as with anything you can't blame them but i sure as ***** don't have to ***** listen to them i sure as ***** don't have to listen to them condescending to me with their goddamn fancy accents and they're dumb slang calling me their mate i'm not your and of course americans can't get too cocky because we're right behind them 0:14:32 we are right behind them because you know we have more we have more uh loot to to burn through before we get to the mexican standoff but it will be very interesting to see how much self-inflicted damage will come from this just because of the and maybe it couldn't have been any other way maybe they're too far gone maybe bur maybe corbin was like this thing that only could come into being he could only be the guy like he could only be the guy because he was never a real threat and if you think about it that is in technical terms what happened because corbin was only nominated was only put in as a name from leadership after ca uh after miliband ate ***** because he'd been around for a long time he'd been a real trooper about all that new labor invasive rat ***** which you know he was against the entire time and watched his party do from the back bench uh hey and he stuck around and he 0:15:33 was he was there you know to not to to put you know blair brown in there real good sport let's give him a little shot huh a little talk let's give him a little fun time it was like a make-a-wish moment it was like remember bat kid is anybody old enough now to remember bat kid when that little like kid by the way is he dead did that kid die or is he in remission because honestly if he doesn't die that's kind of ridiculous what they did for a kid who was just like you know basically just in the hospital i mean ***** i went to the hospital and i was a kid i had i went to the i've had and through some ***** stuff but anyway uh it was little make-a-wish thing from the labor front bench and then what happened is is that oh ***** you know the the loss

had sort of shaken things loose enough that people were interested in a new thing and as soon as as soon as that became something that was on the menu all these labor members remember these are people who don't just vote in primaries they are members which means that their relationship to the party is much different than the relationship of american liberals and leftists or whatever voters and the democratic party and so he caught on but he caught on in a context where he was only allowed to be an option because of the fundamentals hegemonic rule of the new labor uh leadership and then the proof of that can be found in that even when he won the the the spot he was never able to actually have control of the party as we now know at every level he was explicitly sabotaged by people and was not and either because he was too much of a softy or they didn't have enough leverage and that might if if it's leverage point then this was never going to work uh they did not purge the party they did not purge and get rid of all these time servers they didn't clear the open stables of blairites and once they didn't do that they were basically ***** now they might have lost anyway because of the way the entire you know media apparatus organized against them that might have been tough and brexit was there to be the wedge that inability to actually have your party operating on your behalf that meant he was never going to be able to mount a real challenge and maybe that's because they knew at a basic like basal level that even if you let them in you'll take care of them and if that's the case it's it born corbin was always just sort of this like last burn off of xx uh democratic vision like he was the last gashes output of the last little pocket of like uh human uh feeling on the continent or on that island on that accursed land like the last bit of human felt communal uh identity that transcended the personal it just that's being like burned out of all society by the drive train of capitalism and alienation and this was as as like we near the final and total alienation of britain there's and then final perhaps destruction literal dismemberment due to a no deal brexit a suicidal act of the end of the this is the dmt the corbin was the dmt basically the last spiritual sigh of the collective humanity of britain before the death now of course that means we are on that trajectory and maybe bernie was that with us but maybe we have a few more maybe there's a few more uh maybe there's a few more boxes to open maybe a few more cats are alive than we currently think no way of knowing but you can see the trajectory you certainly can see the trajectory and uh i do wonder what the brits are going to do because this looks like it's going to be something in the middle of covet i mean my god this thing was supposed to be a disaster to do it in the middle of covet my god and i will say uh also that i i know there was a left case for brexit and i know that corbin was a brexiter uh and well he should have been like like if brexit hadn't happened and corbyn had been able to become prime minister of a left-wing labor government he probably would have pursued some sort of brexit from the left and it would and so there's a critique of of corbyn that he did not just embrace a left brexit from the beginning and the problem is that is that if you do that you do lose your right flank completely like they flee to uh to the lib dems and make it impossible for you for you probably to govern because they just got out of a coalition with the ***** tories they would go back into one in a heartbeat by literally joining them if they could like get into positions of power within the party which they certainly would because they were they'd be holding the wit pan there um and you know you could argue it wouldn't 0:20:41 have mattered they would have been able to sweep them in uh they would have been able to combine like the working-class tory voter pool and the entire working-class uh labor voting pool and the scots bring the scots back from the snp and they would have ***** swamped them but it was a real concern and that's because at the nexus of liberals and leftists at the nexus of right and left uh labor members on the issue of brexit was how far can we go in letting this happen without being irresponsible because there was this understanding that brexit would be bad materially for the people who live in britain in fact it would not it would it's not something to be reckless about and the left position was don't let them ***** intimidate you don't let them try to spook you with this like at the end of the day you're too big of an economy for them to just completely let ***** up and like uh these politics can be finessed uh by not finessing them and there was that there was that whisper in 0:21:43 the ear that like labor had to stay away from uh pushing over the coke machine to to brexit out of like a general need to preserve you know basic integrity of the british economic system and it was always theoretical because what was going to happen in brexit is unknown and everybody had a personally emotionally invested subconscious bias on how much to take it seriously like the more of a lib you were the more seriously you took the like objective economic argument about what would happen if brexit was uh got went through the more you wanted to just say ***** you to this whole brexit ***** and go around it and just embrace the left brexit even though that meant in practice doing a uh of a tory brexit because that's the i that's the thing is that you're not you're probably going to be doing a tory brexit then uh 0:22:44 because they're the ones who initiated it and that's where the the uh that's where the center of gravity of support for brexit was was in the late it was in the conservative party and that and that it broke against demographic currents that you need to keep together uh as a left-wing party and you don't want to fracture them so it was a live question but it was invested with which with uh your your material preferences like that was guiding you more than you even knew when you were deciding how seriously to take the threat of brexit to the economy and to the livelihood of people in britain and i guess we're gonna find out going to find out how much of it was uh

real yeah that's the thing is that uh is that the even though labor could have gotten a huge percentage of voters with a with a left brexit position and they would have eaten into some of the tory working-class vote brand loyalty is such traditional voting patterns and like social bonds are such racial understanding and things like that are such that you wouldn't get all of them or maybe even most of them you might only get a small fraction meanwhile everybody who already votes lib dem which is not insubstantial plus what what percentage of the labor vote would have voted for the lib dems in that situation it's got to be at least 25 right and if it's 25 that would almost guarantee a coalition between like there was uh with cameron and uh nick lund or whatever the ***** is that jeb blonde who the ***** was his name nick clegg that's it sounds like a ***** horse taking a ***** nick clegg uh i'll just do it again so it was a tougher spot than just saying ***** it we'll we'll be legends and be left brexit uh but the thing that made it so slippery is that it all hinged on a premise that couldn't be confirmed like what is brexit really is it a boogeyman or is it a is it an apocalypse i mean it's probably not going to be either but it's going to be closer to one than to the other we might actually find out michael tracy watches the streams really how do you know are you michael drosy oh he need me bleed my boo addicted my isabel it's bloody it's amazing it's nickname they need it i think people all say honestly though people say um like oh the brits are gonna lose lose the united kingdom those idiots think about it this way though so presumably if you did get some sort of complete dissolution of the united kingdom barring in the context of just complete economic collapse i mean you know a managed transition a velvet revolution type thing who would be mad obviously the scots would not be mad the welsh wouldn't be mad some of the uh northern irish would be mad but it wouldn't be the uk's problem anymore that would be the irish's problem uh good luck with that dublin which by the way is one reason that i really don't think that they're that that excited about the prospect of of reunification in the halls of power in the republic because all of a sudden you would have to deal with one integrating a uh the uh most economically depressed part of ireland into your economy which is much smaller in general than britain's is and deal with this now active restive not quite majority anymore but like 50 percent of the population and you might say okay you know maybe only a third of them are still really uh you know poker up the ass unionists but that's still enough to mean you're going to get some version of the troubles pop up again with the reverse with the powers reversed but and uh you know it i don't think it would necessarily be anywhere near as intense as the last one but is it a really headache you want when everything's basically the same the main difference is the colors of the ***** post boxes but again brexit comes in that changes the calculus and then what about the english is what i say what about the english won't they be sad that they lost their empire no they'll be relieved they get to be england being british only had meaning when it felt like it was part of a project of greatness of expansion of at least prestige but in like crisis uh you know eu conditions england essentially had a nervous breakdown because remember england is the only part of the uk that voted for leave and it's where labor lost because they essentially pulled the pin on the united kingdom themselves because these these are vestiges these appendages those these pissed off scottish people who want to like act like they're not us like they didn't do the ***** uh you know they didn't do uh the suppression of the sepoy rebellion or whatever the hell because oh we oppressed them or something are these dumb ***** welshman with their dumb fake language getting oppressed when you call them a sheep ***** and these goddamn mix whining over in england even even ireland even though they were blowing us up in our own pubs only a few years ago all we got to hear is ***** ***** ***** it's what's the point of this why don't just be england again get quiet feel just be alone with our thoughts as good english people and not have to worry about these ***** uh yapping ***** so yeah i'd say everybody would be happy with a breakup except for the ulster scots of course they're going to be very mad katie bar ah yeah does that do did any uk or irish people in the chat want us want to pop up with some like uh more informed ideas of what that would look like like if there was a reunification because i could totally see it because you would not if if they voted do we to do to this new situation with the eu do we do with uh and the border being reestablished breaking the good friday agreement and like essentially ripping up the document that had prevented war from breaking out for the past 25 years now or 30 years uh 25. um if that's going to be the new order it would make more economic sense it would make better sense for my family to rejoin the republic you got basically all the all the catholics are going to say that and at this point that's what 45 almost 50 percent they're nearing parity because they outbreed the protestant but then among uh the pro but then among the protestants among younger people who didn't grow up in the ***** furnace of the uh of the troubles uh the desire to you know have a functioning economy uh and and uh ease of age of movement and stuff like that will be more than whatever vestigial relationship they had to the union leaving only sort of the most you know unreconstructed paisleyite which so that's what 25 of the population what would they do like obviously the army lights are coming out again they're not going to just take that line down but like how far do they go is it is it like tea party ***** they just march around with ars like and then just do random like uh uh uh violence or do they do they like go to go to war but the thing is they're mostly drug gangs now like like all those all the unionist paramilitaries they're still around but they are um they're completely dedicated since i mean you know it's like they they they they demobilized the the war with the ira because you know they they had essentially uh agreed to sublimate their conflict into politics so they they didn't the but the so they didn't really need to exist anymore the ira needed to exist because they were the loser in in the sense that they didn't kick the brits out the brits are still there so they did not get their ultimate aim so they had to keep the weapons they had to keep the organization going the paramilitaries had no reason to exist except for the fact that they were already by that point selling a shitload of ***** drugs and making a ***** load of money which is way better than sitting around the pub with a ***** dole check in your pocket in one of the ***** housing estates so they ***** are right now the the people who sell heroin in northern ireland if they change the color of the mailboxes do they give a ***** enough what's up with 0:32:3 armenian irish by john uh well uh uh a pretty astounding uh monstrous monstrous uh it's more war crimes from turkey it's more war crimes from our from our nato ally which we look the other way while they ethnically cleanse northern syria and now they're doing it in uh nagorno uh with the azires it's and they're uh essentially i gotta believe that it's some sort of deal with russia i'm assuming that on some other point in the geopolitical map and maybe libya would be a place uh putin is like has an interest greater than his strategic interest in armenia which erdogan was able to 0:33:4 uh to arbitrage by saying hey i will give you this because it doesn't matter as much to me as armenia does and so putin says sure because by his calculus he's losing less than he's getting but by erdogan's point of view whatever he's losing whether it's in libya or with the shale oil they're trying to drill off of cyprus he is much more interested in getting back some of that territory from armenia and so it's so the exchange happened the stately continued the dirty game of diplomacy at another round and it's monstrous it's it's hideous it's orbiting they're chopping off old men's heads and putting it on ***** tick tock uh i don't know what i don't what what much else to say about it i mean the fact that it's not on the news and the way that syrian civil war is tells you a lot if you didn't already know but oh yes yes this is 0:34:13 the series the azires like they would do anything because armenia is a regional ally romania is a regional ally to russia which is right there i think azerbaijan is going to pick a ***** fight at that that close to russia without backup guaranteed back up from turkey which was immediately supplied that's the context that the whole thing takes place in you can't remove that and act like oh it's not turkey ***** off because azir azerbaijan doesn't choose doesn't get to choose whether or not to go into naragon everyone gets to choose therefore it's because of turkey tell me now you might have a situation where somebody overextends themselves and you have to go in but that's not what happened here that's sure ***** not what happened here this is a calculated escalation to see what they can get they got noragoro because

putin had i really don't know much about it just the broad strokes critical support 0:35:23 for the armenians of course i mean i think that's uh yeah because some of these get tough you know if you want to do the campus thing of picking like okay who's on the anti-imperial side but this one's a pretty easy one especially when you see what uh what they're doing in the places that they've conquered like they're doing ethnic cleansing they're they're they're pulling off the like the armenian writing off of churches to claim that they're actually old mosques they were mosques first so they could do the hagia sophia thing so anyway does anybody have an idea how how how what kind of action would you give on the uh the udf showing up like you're going to 0:36:24 do bombs again they're going to like do or just like maybe like shoot up a chip shop or you're gonna see like a coordinated uprising my gut tells me a couple of showpiece uh old-school car bombs like the one they did in uh dublin some people don't know this but the the deadliest uh bombing of the troubles did not happen in northern ireland or in england it happened in dublin when the uvf took a ***** truck down in the middle of the of the the town middle of lake mcconnell street o'connell street and detonated it without calling in a warning beforehand which the ira did as a standard operating procedure once again you know you can always say another man's terrorist is a dice streeter fighter but sometimes you can tell who the good guys and bad guys are in these things broadly speaking they just drove the thing in there and let it blow up and kill as many people as possible they'd do a more a couple of those for sure but i don't think they do much more than that because well for what at this point none of this stuff has any i don't know what i have to say i have no idea the 0:37:27 thing you have to remember is that the the current situation is such that like the the remaining structure of these paramilitaries are sustained by their relationships with the political structure both at uh stormont and the power sharing government which until recently uh replaced uh rule from westminster uh although i think it's been suspended for years now which is another thing that's going to contribute and is contributing to a likely uh crisis around brexit that they literally haven't had home rule for like two years now three since before brexit and then of course with the british government which has coordinated with them the whole time and used them as the cat's paw for uh extra legal assassinations and murders and bombings all it was essentially uh it was essentially celtic gladio it was it was a nato member using local uh criminal fascist elements to carry on a war against the left and they would 0:38:33 essentially be cut off in this situation because i don't think the english are going to care enough to like you know take u-boats full of uh full of enfield rifles to the ports of northern ireland so that they can keep these guys fighting the irish because they don't care the english don't care they haven't cared for years uh so without that backing and the fact that they're basically a bunch of dumbass uh old smack dealers i don't think they have a there would be an exodus that's the big thing like a lot of the most hardcore guys would just leave they'd go to england although it'd be funny if brexit made it harder for them to get ah i'm i've uh i've always been a 0:39:41 i've always been a student of the trouble specifically um i had a college class about nationalism and and um and it was all through the prism of uh the uh the northern irish questions so it was like one of the first like historical and political puzzles i ever encountered in uh college so and i've been there i've been ireland a number of times and it's got a great and it's also you know as you learn more about it's got a great revolutionary tradition i mean you got so many different uh movements and and uh formations of resistance and leaders you got like the white boys and the uh uh ***** monster rallies with daniel o'connell and charles stewart parnell roger casement then 0:40:42 the for the easter rising wolf tone blowing his ***** jaw off at the rising of the moon at the rising of the moon and arrive the voice for freedom at the horizon of the moon and then of course you've got one of the goats one of the early one of the great figures of uh of the early communist uh labor movement james connolly who is a kind of an irish lincoln in that any system where any any world where uh the post-war republic doesn't descend into stagnant uh uh ***** the catholic quasi-feudal theocracy james connolly does not uh get murked because there was really nobody to follow in his footsteps and even though the citizens army that he'd founded did most of the heavy 0:41:43 lifting during the easter rising the the uh the ira that came later just had a much more deluded and by the end of the war it all got kind of stamped out of it and all you got left is ***** oh man michael collins uh the big fella i mean a certified pimp one of your great uh insurgency uh geniuses you know a guy who you want to fight a uh asymmetrical war which uh hats off to them because they kind of but um he ***** he ***** the dog during the negotiations with churchill i think at the end of the day he just fell for a bluff uh i think they could have pushed it farther because 0:42:44 i don't think that churchill knew is they how bad they really will we're off uh but the thing is is that i don't think collins knew how little the english at the end of the day really cared like they cared because you know they had that big presence especially in all-stars like there was the prestige of the empire and i mean at the end of the day i think you like he just didn't have the the confidence so like he looked he looked churchill in the eyes and he just he blinked first and that's usually how these things end up going it's like a lot of these historic decisions the the friction ends up depending on how the turn of a coin is between individuals uh individual decisions and moments or you know the collection of those rebounding on top of one another but one way or another you went home with an unviable document which 0:43:45 of course the frustrating thing is is that what they ended up settling for anyway none of it was none of the fighting was meant anything but nobody knew that at the time because like so many things were bound up you know like it was the left-wing position to reject the to reject the treaty but at the same time the specific question ended up being beside the point and the fact that that's the ***** what the civil war ended up being i think the fact that the civil war in ireland ended up being about uh a formal question that ended up meaning nothing in the long run uh uh ended up ensuring that their post-war politics were gonna be what they ended up being literally non-ideological contests between the remaining sides of that war like after the civil war in the united states that held for a little bit you know it was just regional the southerners were democrats northerners republicans but the the fact that the war had been about some enduring question of you know means of production 0:44:46 for example and and or methods of production uh uh like so like so political economy questions that inflected those those uh divisions and then the irish civil war ended up being about an abstract principle of whether or not we signed this treaty and we we have this arrangement with britain and yes you can say things flowed from it but that was the inciting thing the way the civil war was around slavery and it meant that in the aftermath of the war as the necessity of the question receded from view all that's left is just the echo of and you can't say well and and well i understand why left-wing forces resisted the treaty look at the remnant of the pro-treaty of the anti-treaty side it was the ***** blue shirts it was the closest thing that ireland had to a fascism it was the energy of that working-class movement fatally fused to 0:45:48 nationalism because the fight had been over a national question so they turned into these freaky little uh catholic integralist goose steppers who went to ***** spain to fight for franco those were the only significant force of foreign volunteers that franco got other than you know hired moroccan mercenaries was and and you know enlisted men from italy and germany who claimed to be volunteers uh were these ***** mick ***** who came over there nobody knew what to do with them and they ended up getting shot up in a home that's why nationalism is bad folks that's why it has it has to be dealt with but it should never be organized as a principle an emotional or like conceptual principle to organize around it is an obstacle that means that doesn't mean you can ignore it it has to always be engaged with but not on terms 0:46:49 of friendliness and of course you can say that you know the the national question is different in a colonial context like ireland was and it is different but it still colors the emergence of like the political struggle to come from the the class conflict and it if it's not uh neutralized it will take over it will it will wipe out everything else capital it will fuse itself with capital again like english capital will just change this the flag of convenience to the tri-color to the red green and the green white and orange and then come in and keep dropping your ***** blind and that's what happened and then they have the class of priests to keep everybody nice and docile and keep everybody uh just cow-eyed and indolent like the worst the worst uh parody of what 0:47:52 19th century know nothing said about what catholic democracy would look like you know isn't that funny like like the know nothing said we can't let the catholics into this country and we can't let them vote because they will turn our country into a priest plagued uh medieval uh bog we will all be in the thrall of of cardinals and landowners uh or and and thrown into like a druidic superstitious age of darkness and the irish once they kicked out the british made that literal thing and it's because the working class had been destroyed because the working-class energies emerging from the class conflict that drove the national conflict were spent and wasted in this feudal national crusade james larkin uh btfo sadly but the reason the know-nothings were wrong is that they weren't coming into some like traumatized post-colonial situation 0:48:54 they were being assimilated into a into a capitalistic machinery of alienation which prevents the exact kind of priest bespoke and medieval superstitious miasma that the catholics like that's part of like america's vastness and america's polyglot nature is one of the machineries that demystified europe it pulled us all it pulled europe through like through through a mesh screen and brought it out the other side like uh like gerald general ford uh henry ford used to hold uh pageants at his factories because he employed a lot of immigrants and he wanted to make sure that they all became good americans so he would pay he had he had them all take on his dime english classes so and and etiquette classes and like uh civics lessons and then they would have graduation ceremonies where they would appear on state their families 0:49:55 were in the audience they would appear on stage in the native garb of wherever they came from they would go up a uh upstairs to a uh on the top of a slide and at the base of a slide was a big melt pot and it said melting pot on it and they would come down the slide they would emerge from behind the big cutout pot wearing a suit and then they would all stand there in the suits and get and they would be clapped like it was a ritual of induction into america and the thing about that is that's basically what america did that pageant is is an expression of the the way that that the alienated subject of american capitalism is acculturated within one or two within a few generations of coming to america into a social relationship that me that is essentially secular and that didn't happen in ireland they never got the industrial revolution they went right from feudalism to uh to neoliberalism neoliberal 0:50:57 effect capitalism they missed the industrial development stage completely which is why now they have the economy of a uh caribbean tax haven the economic base of ireland is the same as like ***** aruba or uh or um the caymans ireland does have an empire what do you call the united states australia new zealand can canada although i guess i would argue that the mick the irish catholic is the brain of the united states like if you're going to get abstract and say like of all the different currents of of uh 0:51:59

all the different currents of immigration that came to this country from all over the world where did their what was their cultural impact like at what level are they you know affecting the rule the the exercise of political and cultural power and i would say that you know most of the we we are mostly peasant refuse from one place or another to people someone else didn't want either because we were excess mouths from the from europe from the european agricultural economy or from africa if we were defeated uh tribal enemies who were sold away sold as uh you know uh to in return for for for produce from those very agricultural lands we are the refuse and then and then we sort along geographic lines and then we reproduce it and like some people go and fill the interior some people hung the coasts and the people who on the coast usually because of when they got there like all the good land closest to uh the early settlements was taken by the time the irish really started showing up uh and uh and by the time the west was fully opened to like a genuine expansion beyond just like the reach of the uh of the appalachians like when the west was like lake michigan that was the west and the west opened up completely by that point uh it was others uh uh by that point the irish had fixed themselves so deeply into the places they stuck those east northeastern cities that that was where subsequent generations came because that's where they knew they could get a community that's where they knew they could operate that's where they had some sort of familiarity that's where they could because they didn't have anything they couldn't come come to america slap down five ship ***** shillings and buy a conestoga wagon and go claim land in the west like the little the way that a lot of uh like english and then later german immigrants could do you know i saved up all of my my uh my my grape harvest this year and i got three big double eagles with the kite with the the king of bavaria's face on them and now i'm gonna go to america and i'm gonna buy a ***** hogshead of nails and roll it across uh state lines and sell it for a profit or whatever two nickels to rub together the irish were just stacked like cord wood and dumped onto the ***** shores of america they clung to the ***** coast which means they were there to fill in those civil society roles like that that needed to be filled as as the the cities became more **Music playing** more socially complex police officers local politicians uh figures uh both of uh public service and uh administration someone had to do those jobs and they were there to do them first professional managerial class were the irish immigrants who filled the fire stations and police stations of uh of the eastern cities that became the center places of american like cultural production even as we were producing capital elsewhere and we were spreading out across the country uh it was all being directed east for that's being equalized and like the political story of the last 40 years is the political story of that being equalized but it started and stayed there and so the irish they're deep in there they're like they're

like a brain stemming they haven't they're in everything is kind of filtered through them and then you've got you know of course the american ashkenazi jews fit a very similar role and a higher level of the pmc because of their later appearance and their relative uh diversity of income because like jews of all economic strike moved to the united states all number of uh pennies to rub together moved to the united states uh 0:56:11 whereas only the poorest irish uh uh except for the one you know who were literally too portable for the ticket came to the united states at least they came in because like you got all of the uh like if there's a if there's a pogrom and there's a huge push or there's a huge conscription effort in the tsar's army you got all those jews or you got like a stretch or you got a section of all of them you got the vast majority of of the of the of the uh immigrants from ireland of the 19th century were of the lowest material circumstance which means they came to the city and they had to get a **Music playing** and that's one of the reasons that we care so much about 0:57:12 all that ***** and and how the ira was able to largely fund a what 30-year war with the crown through donations from a plastic patty sitting around i love that steve king who was a reactionary ***** like in every so in every in every way your like typical from marble um ulster protestant you know like just a ramrod reactionary psycho who fetishizes uh hierarchy and state violence but because uh he grew up around a bunch of weepy mix he says yeah these socialist uh the these guys trying to overthrow like uh the british control of ireland so that they can institute a uh a marxist communist government i'm going to funnel mill millions of dollars to them 0:58:16 by having having fun trying to think of an irish guy gabriel byrne at a uh a potato eating contest potato eating contest oh they denied the kraken got denied oh no oh wow the thing that we all knew was gonna happen happened damn well hearing that damn it oh i can't do it i was gonna do it all right you know what i'll say it instead i don't think you can get in trouble for saying something i was gonna play it but twitch has gotten psycho about uh about uh dc thing so i can't play it but apropos of uh trump getting murked and um and what we've been talking about uh let me just 0:59:19 sing the cattle stand by the house and the yanks they were within **Music playing** oh another good one was ribbonism they used to wear ribbons and then go and like cave in the heads of landlords there's this movie called black 47 that's on netflix and 1:0:20 it's really funny because it's like in one respect you can see why someone could say it's terrible and hate it but i kind of respect it conceptually it's a drama of the uh of the irish potato famine and the story is essentially a it's the whole thing is designed to be like a school child lesson in all the terrible things the english did it was like sitting down at baby it's like sitting the kid down and being like hey do you want to know about the irish potato famine i could explain it to you i could write it down but i could just make you sit and watch this for 90 minutes and then after having watched it you will get it and that means that it's sort of comical how on the nose it is like every single facet of like english uh colonial rule in uh ireland during the famine 1:1:21 is totally is all happens like everybody it all occurs every element of it like the fact that they were a net exporter of uh food the whole time because the the vast lands of the were being held by the absentee landlords to produce food for export uh and that uh you know that there was transportation for minor crimes to australia there were mass evictions from lands where uh the like people who weren't dying were living because landlords were wanted to turn um that it was more profitable during that period when there was low agricultural prices it was more profitable to turn uh farmland into grazing land for sheep so you didn't need tenants you could turn that land in the pasture so they just kicked them off like all these things are in there and and all those things is create this story of just unrelenting hilariously miserable uh horror for this family like this guy comes back this irish guy in the midst of the of the of the uh famine comes home to his family they benefit from he's deserted from the 1:2:24 app from the army in afghanistan his family's dead somebody gets murdered by a by a lamp uh a agent of the landlord is trying to evict them uh and then he just goes like he goes psycho mode he decides to just be a terminator of english colonialism he just starts taking everybody responsible for every element of misery in ireland up to and then finally culminating in the english land owner uh is he ***** murks and it's not good in the sense that it is not very subtle it's not very uh hard to predict if their characters are very thin but its ability to just embody literally an entire sort of con historical truth and just pack it all into one thing like a just a big gumball that you can chew on for a while and like you get something i was like damn this 1:3:25 has i i mean i don't know like is this value purely didactic or is there something uh impressively artistic about it i don't know or maybe the whole thing is actually a uh a parody like it's like there's a lot of people who theorize that titus andronicus was shakespeare's parody of jacobian uh bloody jacob and revenge theater like the blockbuster cinema of the time where it was all just people murdering each other and that was his satire of it this is like a satire of the irish catalog woe you know all the songs that you're supposed to sing about how the english came and burned my land and i couldn't need a gravity to turn up oh the fields of athenry where once i watched the uh sleepers fly uh so it could just also just uh operate as a funny funny 1:4:26 parody either way it's it's if nothing else you'll learn something all right i'm out of here guys bye um oh this broadcast is intended for i don't know mature viewers i don't know if that's true i don't know if i would say that we're ah i'm indoors because it's uh annoyingly called rainy out today it's raining all over the place can't go back to the bunker even 0:1:2

though it's still unseasonably warm set foot outside it's quite a dismal day indeed oh god damn it are people asking about mic volume i'm gonna hold on one second i'm gonna hold on one second let me hear it again look at that hold on one second let me hear it again i literally am listening to it on twitch and it sounds fine i just listened to it coming through my at a certain point i'm just going to have to privilege my own perception over whatever the robots and potential beijing's provocateur in this goddamn i gotta say that that the fact that it sounds crystal clear coming out of the ***** twitch channel as i'm watching it makes me wonder if you people aren't ***** 0:2:4
with me you uh are uh in possession of very shitty ***** uh audio equipment and as robert downey senior said in uh boogie nights that how's everybody doing tonight i don't really know anything i'm uh i'm kind of cashed out actually might not do one tomorrow if it feels if i'm not getting if i don't if i don't get a little frisian but that's often happened i've come on the stream having no idea what to talk about and end up being like holy ***** where'd that come from so we'll see we're gonna take the journey together uh congratulations by the way to president trump for four more years the uh the electoral college has voted and uh he has enough electoral votes when 0:3:5 uh go when vice president pence presides over the certification that uh he will be president uh several very several very well-known and and and trustworthy websites uh and twitter accounts have said this and i have no reason to disbelieve it so man if they did that it would be the funniest thing in the world i mean and the funniest thing about it would be that all of the liberals right now including myself broadly defined who are smugly watching this flailing like pathetic non-coup happen if they just said oh uh yeah we're uh we're we're not going to certify these votes we're going to vote give it to trump and even though it violates the constitution and the letter and spirit of all law nobody stops them none of the people uh who would be shocked by it would be able to do anything about it like that's the truth of it and i think that's 0:4:7

CUSHVLOG 126. CHRISTMAS WITH THE BASEBALL CRANKS

why they feel so insistent on making you be mad there's they note they realize that oh like their chest they imagine themselves part of a grand chess game of american progressivism stretching back to i don't know uh wilson something like that where they are battling like the behemoth of america's bestial uh like populist heart that you know they used to think was just dumb uh but now think is racist uh because like the changing uh intellectual composition of uh liberals and elite liberals who populate elite liberal institutions they've been in a chess game with reaction since world sense since the progressive movement began and they found themselves and i think they realized that after this election and they realized that after watching all the norms just get blown away by trump and now a situation where they all realize oh our our our formal uh uh barriers against just a pure reactionary grasp for power are non-existent they do not exist well that means you've lost the game that means you have been checkmated you cannot do any move other than slit your own throat if you're if you consider yourself pro part of the liberal project broadly construed and all these people do like the way they talk about politics even if they're just regular people they talk about the democratic party like they're part of it like the way democrats but voters not even people at like the media level talk about the democratic party as if they're part of a project which is of course not the case they're along for the ride to one degree or another they're along for the ride so they've lost they've lost because they know in their heart oh if we ever did try to get the kind of change that i keep insisting i want to see happen the kind of change on something like climate change or even some more emotionally like uh emotionally uh you know uh compelling uh uh issue like racism or gun control we're not going to get there without them just taking power because you've lost and because you're liberal you have discounted anything other than politics as you understand it to be the the way that we can you know battle reaction the the dark heart of america's you know white maleness you have discounted activism of any meaningful sign you've discounted the labor movement as just another interest group that's what that's what the new left in the 60s and uh and the emergent like atari democrats agreed on which was the consensus left position in amongst this new like post 60s uh collegiate liberal and left milieu uh was that the unions are just another interest group if not an upholder of racism and patriarchy and they've stuck they've stood fast with that 40 years later and now they have no interest in in using labor as a mobilizing tool against reaction they have no interest in doing anything other than voting for democrats but they know now in their hearts that voting for democrats will never get them so what they want now is they want to do the only thing that they think can work and that is because they are media creatures one way or another and they've decided in their hearts that that activism consists of yelling at people until they that all they can do

is insist as loudly as possible that this is something you should care about so that we'll just transubstantiate people into like transubstantiate regular democrats into donors and you know uh uh uh on the fence like liberals into committed democrats and and people who don't vote but are part of um a oppressed minority that should instinctively vote for democrats will be snapped into consciousness they will be phase shifted into a consciousness as like a self-conscious democratic voter and then they will win because they'll just it'll be they'll they will have too many votes there will be too many places to steal and the only way that can come about is by yelling by getting people by presenting yourself emotionally now that's one part of it there's another more important part for anybody who's at the top of this media totem pole or rather even in the middle if you're getting money from the the political media as we understand it your calculus is different it's more self-consciously self-interested and less like psychological coping mechanism here at that level you can't just say write an article or do a tweet or do an appearance on television and say uh uh this fake coup this the continuance of this of the republicans to go along with all of these things up to and including you know the texas lawsuit and over 100 house republicans signing on to it uh that means that they will not accept another election that they lose if it's you anyone can say that that doesn't really that doesn't position you uh that doesn't make you stand out it doesn't provide value add as a part of the media hierarchy even if you're just trying to be a commentator for the bottom up what uh what provides value add is the follow-up which is and i can't believe we're track we're not acting like this is a big deal that is the move where you distinguish yourself where you take something that's banal and you say i am different from those others because i people act like bob barr resigning as a big deal he'd be gone in the middle of january anyway what what oh yeah uh on the other side of the diluted fence apparently the chinese uh army was just uh attacked uh with a with an air bombardment while trying to invade maine from canada so everybody's living in their own fantasy world us too and uh it's all about which one is is is more pleasing to you i think this is a pretty good one i feel like the vibe here is better i feel like there's that it's less anxious that's the thing i notice on all spectrums of people trying to pretend that their political participation means something the thing that unites them is the anxiety anxiety about and i felt this anxiety for a long time especially as we got closer to like the the uh to the inflection point of the pro of the bernie campaign in 2020 early good gourd still this year uh was oh god like am i wrong what if i'm wrong and that's bad you ought to be wrong for a bunch of reasons but you also want to make sure that people think that there's a reason it matters if you're right or wrong and the thing that makes it matter is supposed to be you listen to this and then you do something or you act certain way or you think a thing that makes you behave away and if you need to sustain that i think it it takes an emotional toll and 0:12:20 it was one that i couldn't handle anymore that's why i kind of had to i was forced to reassess and break my relationship from this this machinery and also there's the idea that you know look at me i care more about this coup and also uh that means that if you cared more then we would stop it and it's going to be institutional uh resistance that changes the calculus of capital or the republican party within it it's not going to be it's not going to be us participating at the level of electoral ritual which is where we're happy where we're comfortable they will cancel an election if it's close enough 0:13:22 or if they feel like the risk of losing power is great enough like real power like the republicans willing to cut bait on trump to the uh to the exact degree that they don't get is their base voters matter that's the calculus i have total interest in seeing trump lose at this get out of here at this point i have nothing to gain we have nothing to gain as a party by him clinging to power or trying to resist a peaceful transition but we have these voters who love him and we can't ***** tell them the truth because they don't think there's a project beyond trump because they're dumb pigs and the one thing that distinguishes us from them is at the highest level although this is less and less true even within the ranks of government because you know i said i think something like two-thirds of republicans uh have either lost election primary or retired since trump won like they turned over almost the entire congress and that change was to put true believers there or people who either people who were cynically 0:14:23 close enough to the grassroots to just mirror it for their own benefit or they believed it themselves but at the very high levels like the supreme court they're not there yet they have a greater ***** investment than trump as a person but they don't want to get people to mad at him which is why judges have been the ones who are happy to do the dirty work that the republican party people can't do the electeds can't do they can't say move on because they will get primaried just as surely as if they voted to uh we talked a little bit on the show today about the whole thing about aoc and uh and the healthcare vote and i would i will say this i said some more on the show but to sum it up the question about aoc in a vote in congress for medicare for all versus uh whether or not to tie that to a vote for pelosi a speaker this is the 0:15:25 pun this is the narrative media equivalent this conversation we're having everyone talking about it it is sports talk radio it is the exact same thing as calling in the mike and the mad dog to jawbone about whether the giants should draft a running back or a a wide receiver it that is what its function is it is it is it is off-season talk it's off-season sports radio because we have no influence on these people whatsoever there is no practical question it is purely a moral question even if you are you agree with with the argument that aoc needs to do this to to draw on the sander all she is is fairly compromised in in real terms she is only even hypothetically uh answerable 0:16:28

to her constituents in her district and the greater progressive movement they have no there is first of all there is none and because there's none there is no pressure they could put on her so the question is purely a question of like her her worth as an individual and that's meaningless she is a tool and it's a question of who's going to wield her we the left which doesn't exist because it the left doesn't exist how could it wield a tool how could the left be a hand to hold a tool if there's so that's that 0:17:29 you can like i said there should be sports uh political conversation that's like sports conversation it's it's entertainment it's talking about the weather with friends it's a thing to talk about but that's all it is it's just a thing to talk about and if it's a thing to talk about i find it's not very interesting so it solves itself the question of like what it is i've lost interest already the only way you can convince yourself that it's a meaningful discussion to have is if you think it has actual meaning beyond idle speculation about what the front office is going to do ah oh man fighting on that 0:18:30 conference call is great it's perfect he just wants them to give him a little gratitude for saving their asses because in his mind he's the only person who could have won in the mind that such it exists the mind that trump biden has and that all upper crust democrats have and filtering down into the even into the party faithful they believe that this election improves has proven riyada shout this is a trump country that the average american out there in the hinderlands away from us in our cove cozy coasts and college towns is a savage is an unresolved unreasonable bang jackal of reaction uh a ***** cart like from a world war one propaganda uh poster about like the hun as a barbarian with a pickle hub holding a belgian version in his hands 0:19:32 and in that world in that america the only thing they can win is somebody who appeals to the least savage of the savages and that was that was biden and his whole lincoln campaign approach which hilariously was the same thing hillary did and lost indicating to these people they didn't do it enough and the thing about that is it doesn't matter if it's right or wrong i mean i think it's pretty obviously wrong uh and i i could i could collect sheaves of documents about voter behavior and turnout and demographics proving that that's not the case and also like make a broader a philosophical question about like the the the distorting and properizing uh social effect of of of uh the american electoral system and american politics and how it how it turns us into like the shadow that we create in our elector systems is the 0:20:34 worst of ourselves uh and that it's a terrible measure of like america's potential as a political body and that we should engage it on those terms it doesn't matter if they're right or wrong the funding model and the organizational structure and the personnel of the democratic party means that they have to run the campaign they ran against trump when he went economic populist even though he didn't mean it obviously he didn't mean it as soon as he put down the gauntlet that he was going to be economically heterodox the democrats were pinned they could not go to his left economically because they cannot raise the hopes of their voters so they had to run against trump as an arrest an aberration as this monstrosity that is our worst selves and that we're all better than including republicans and it didn't work but nothing changed in the intervening four years about the democratic party's funding model organizational structure and personnel to force it to change its calculus so it had to run the play again and now we have another outlook uh the president oh president uh ***** killing half of on his way to killing a half a million people while farting on live tv six nights a week for four years uh is barely defeated and even the ***** popular vote uh and and sees negative coat and you see negative coattails almost no negative coattails in uh but to them they will say this proves that the country is even more reactionary which means that biden is going to have to go even further to the right as a governor than he had it's the it's the one-way crank that gets you that gets you uh eventually like the the the goddard run that we're all uh imagining of like the the trumpest republican party seizing power unilaterally and yeah like that's an uninterrupted road to that if it's a one-way ratchet and so the whole and so this is why you know the the the political uh media sphere is so often detached from real questions is because you can so easily get caught up in refuting the model refuting the democrats by their logic of we're trying to win elections we're trying to gain power we're trying to push through progressive legislation that's immaterial to the actual question of why they do it and if they're going to keep being able to do it that is determined by the array of forces and powers materially that undergird the democratic party and nothing about the discussion nothing about the argument and no correct case to be made that like even in public uh opinion changes the way people view it is going to change ugh yeah no uh no from not for me not for me how do we push president xi to the left there's the real question how do we push general president xi to the left i mean i know there are efforts i know there are like communizing efforts in china uh in fact uh it's there's a pretty funny phenomenon now in china where college kids go through the uh university indoctrination system and learn about marx as you know you do in chinese colleges and then come out and say oh uh wow all these working-class workers sure could use some representations in government and then they get arrested will i go on iglesias podcast oh god no that sounds like oh my stomach hurts i don't think he would want me on either i think he gets i think he does i think he hates me which is nice because i think most of those people don't know who i am or i know that he i know that he is a uh he is aware of online critics and is incredibly outraged by them because he's got the obama brain whereby he is fully confident that he has done the math on every question that matters and that he got the right answer and so anybody who disagrees with him

and consistently is uh being presumptuous they're presuming to know something or understand something that he doesn't which cannot be done that is the iglesias 0:26:50 like liberal obama uh neolib brain emmanuel macron is another guy like that um emmanuel macron by the way who is the one neo-liberal uh leader who seems to grasp fundamentally that there is a irreconcilable conflict between democracy and like the liberal project the neoliberal project whatever you want to call it and he uh has said yes there is so we got to get rid of the democracy not all at once because people are used to it but it's got to go like even the vestiges of it have to be tamed and of course he's the one who gets that because france is one of the western countries where like working-class institutional power is most resilient where uh where uh coordinated uh demonstrations and and and meaningful conflict with the state for 0:27:53 the grassroots level is continuous and effective where their the worst of neoliberalism has been avoided of course they're still on the same trajectory of us as we are but it's from a higher point and it's going slow more slowly simply because there is more resistance to it as it's implemented unlike the brits and the americans where we are just completely whipped dogs and we have accepted neoliberalism completely and i will say the reason why they had a ***** they had a real revolution you want to really boil it down to it like at a political level obviously there's material reasons that undergird that even but the answer to the same the the political like differentiation is they have a actual by which i mean an idea of rebellion against govern a rebellion against depression that that does not erroneously identify government as the only vector of oppression and that has a social conception of freedom and liberty that go 0:28:55 beyond individual market participation and uh and so they've got a guy now who recognizes like okay this is this has got to go and i think countries like uh like our guys i think they still believe that ***** even in their hearts because they can afford to because we're people are arguing about the merits of paris in the in the commentary well a bunch of bunch of gentlemen and ladies cursing about oh it's a sunday in the park on lagrange jet over here somebody says the whiskey rebellion i mean how is that even remembered as a ***** tax revolt as a revolt against government and a revolt 0:29:57 against not exploitation not like exploitation of labor or even like manipulation of uh of like a market by like a monopoly uh purchaser because we never formed up uh a a a a a uh citizenry the way that the way that uh because before even there was like fully full capitalism in in france there was uh this proletarianism of artisanship because paris was filled with artisans but they were ***** starving and that was not generally common we never had that we had small cities because you could get land anywhere 0:31:2 the land wasn't a patchwork of latifundia by ***** syphilitic dukes who controlled it all and and and treated them like internal monopoly markets and had like ***** tariff lines that were everywhere you went there was land for the taking and we took

it and so that understanding of there being like a social reciprocal relationship that it was a fun under fundamental undergirding of even any individual right was absent our conception of rights and liberties were denatured we're somebody has guilty pleasures i try not to have guilty pleasures anymore i've tried to the guilty plea you the concept of guilty pleasure emerged as a way to give people who otherwise were only consuming middle brow drac a sense that they had like higher artistic as uh aspirations because like how many people talk about guilty pleasures who like would un-ironically talk about how moving like uh avengers endgame or black panther was you know like by any meaningful metric black panther or the marvel movies in general would be a ***** guilty pleasure you'd feel guilty about it if the way they talk about art was valid which i don't think they created the category of guilty pleasure like awful reality shows that are even more like witless and uh and less creative than big budget uh blockbusters and then say they're feel oh that's i'm guilty about that to to essentially to elevate the crap that they take for real art if you're consuming real art your concerned and when i say real i don't mean like i'm not saying there's an objective criteria for that i mean soul-nourishing art soul-nourishing art if you're consuming that then you don't have this anxiety about dividing because you're not feeling the lack and that's the thing that unifies the entire broad middle populist brow of people who've decided that actually everything you need to know about the world everything every emotional experience you need to have every like intellectual idea every cathartic bringing together of like image and sound and and uh and uh perspective into like a a to as a little prism to view through the to view another person's view of the world through like if you see art as that like somebody creating a perfect lens of observation and craft and poetry to have you look through and then the experience of art is just to seeing through it and the clearer it is the more beautiful it is and the more you feel that if you feel a communion of spirits at some level you feel something that is ineffable in your experience of it and these people the lotus eaters of the poptimist mainstream i swear to god they don't feel that but what they do is they feel the lack of it and then they go out and seek to insist that it doesn't exist that they're not missing anything everybody who says there's anything more to art is lying to them to sound smart and fancy that is the go-to argument if anyone who who brings down the wrath who who's outraged by by uh by large-scale uh monocultural entertainment being besmirched is to say you don't really like that stuff you don't really read those books you don't really listen to that music you're you don't you're lying you just want to sound because why would you do that it's not fun well because it doesn't it's because fun isn't the only ***** metric there's other things to art no there isn't because if there was they'd be missing something and they can't even imagine that because they're so fully bought into the capitalist realist

world the and and have so conditioned their coping mechanisms to be around that sense of identity and purpose and an intellectual challenge it's essentially and so they have to create this guilty pleasure but if you want to say things that are objectively bad that i can't like argue are good that i still enjoy i guess that's more it like objective isn't a thing but things that i couldn't make a plausible case even to myself 0:36:13 are good but i still like yeah see i guess snl would of course work but yeah i never i can't feel people are yelling about the raw meat yeah it's called a cannibal sandwich it's not even all in wisconsin by the way it's only around milwaukee in fact i was a little north like other people who grew up near where i grew up probably didn't never heard of it but like i distinctly remember having a christmas in sheboygan which is like about uh 30 to 45 minutes about 30 minutes north of milwaukee right along the wa uh lake michigan so like 30 minutes up to lake michigan shore from milwaukee county is sheboygan and i remember having a sheboygan christmas where there was set on a little table next to the venison uh uh and the like the cheese curds and ***** and uh the cocktail sauce were a bunch of uh little those little rye 0:37:15 cocktail end pieces uh and then a bowl of ground chuck raw ground chuck that was then you just take a butter knife and you put it on and then you put on salt and pepper and raw onion and they call it a cannibal sandwich and it is a leftover it's the remaining cultural food way of the germans who who made up like the first large europe scale european uh settling in uh wisconsin wisconsin was founded by uh by yankee congregationalists both michigan uh western new york uh the upper uh the case western the case the western reserve in ohio michigan uh and uh wisconsin were were just were originally settled as like american uh territories by immigrants from uh new england so like the the children of the children of the puritans the the who 0:38:17 ended up being like the the the uh the social base for the republican party basically and the wigs before that uh settled it but then the first uh large-scale immigration to fill this the cities like milwaukee was from germany specifically catholic southern germany uh the beer drinking uh stein wielding party germans not the dower uh uh militarist austere prussians uh party germans and the one of the great traditions in party germany is ground pork raw ground pork or uh beef and actually in uh it's apparently a buffet food in germany to this day and they shape it like a hedgehog and they put little uh they make it look like a little hedgehog and then they put little slices of onion in the back to be like uh the quills raised 70s even before uh and 0:39:18 it still exists a little bit in wisconsin like i i had it when i was a kid but it wasn't something that stuck around like that we it's not like my family family's been doing this recently uh and the reason people are hearing about this and freaking out about it is because wisconsin asked people because of the danger of the raw meat please do not eat it and there were these people who of course were all supposed to laugh

at saying ***** you i eat this every year uh take it from a gold dead hand people like are you are these guys uh what's wrong with them it is an actual wisconsin food way it's not something that's terribly dangerous uh if the meat is fresh and certainly if the fret if the meat comes from one cow and this is where things get like this is where you can see like how how our folkways are so constrained and like in our and our freedoms like these guys our freedoms are constrained by things that we don't recognize as such like so these guys who are responding in the facebook comments saying ***** you uh they're probably mad at the state for being nannies and telling them don't eat raw meat but the thing is is if you do go to piggly wiggly or iga and buy a ground a pound of ground chuck and just spread it on bread you'll probably ***** your ***** guts out it's a bad idea don't do that but the thing is traditionally that's not what people did you would go to your local butcher and you would get a fresh ground meat and then you would eat that but the thing is over the last 40 50 years all those local butchers have been driven out of business and the only place you can get ground chuck is to go to the iga or the piggly wiggly and so fewer and fewer people eat it like i said the last time i ate it i was like eight because most people even if they like it they're not gonna ***** roll the dice going to ***** uh grocery store they know it's bad they've gone to school they know what raw food does it's only gonna be like the stubborn holdouts at this point i i doubt more than a handful of people still eat those things and what some of them that do probably are psychos who say ***** it and go to kroger but if they but the thing that constrained them is not the nanny state the thing that constrained their ability to get to because you shouldn't be able to you should probably not get raw meat and then eat it like that from the grocery store and maybe like the state should be involved in preventing that from happening but that's not why people can't do it they can't do it because uh they can't do it safely they cannot do it safely and so you have to decide oh that's the thing we used to do and we used to like it i can't do it anymore and maybe somehow your brain vaguely thinks oh i bet it was lawsuits or something no it was the consolidation and people say it's like steak tartare but no it isn't steak tartare is a minced up steak and there's an egg on it and like i think uh like mustard or stuffing that does like acid i mean uh acid cooking the cannibal sandwich is just ground beef but like i said you can get it from a butcher fresh ground that's not that dangerous it's uh also um apparently lebanon they eat raw beef too raw ground and yes yes yes yes eating meat is indeed monstrous it is the regime of terror and blood and horror and participating in it at any level makes you a moral monster and if we do survive as a species i hope everyone is prepared for like if we do get some sort of uh space communist future we will be viewed as monsters for uh but god damn it it's so good it's so good and all those questions recede in the face of a of a juicy steak or a nice

i will say though that the uh the fake meat industry is coming along i know it's uh soy based and uh and not based to uh want that but i'm much looking forward to that mcdonald's mcplant because sometimes i want to eat the mcdonald's flavor and i would love to do it without knowing that it involved some sort of ***** hostile style monstrous but of course i think like they destroy half a like they destroy every every 0:44:29 beyond burger you eat like destroyed a football field's worth of uh mcdonald's fries do not have powdered beef fat in them they used to though like some sort of tallow uh extract on them and people do say that they were way better back then and you know what i bet they were i sadly don't remember them when they the fact is industrial agricultural production as we understand it for profit just cannot sustain itself i mean from a moral perspective but also just ecologically i mean we're creating 0:45:30 monochrome monocultural crops that are begging to be wiped out by some sort by disease and we're you know destroying the environment wherever we do large-scale agriculture destroying the water tables it can't work but you know you can't do craft farming either you can't that's not going to sustain a population you need to do is what you need to do in every one of these industries you need to take all of the mechanical and scientific development that we have done in agricultural production and then apply it to the question of use and the question of sustenance and not the question of profit man don't do so much it really would it would do a lot it would do a lot it wouldn't solve everything and it wouldn't make everything perfect but my god it would it would it would make a lot of the things that seem i uh unscalably horrific 0:46:32 in in their criminality and also in their uh the united states wastes half the food that it produces that's not that's not an exaggeration and of course you can say well you know that's it's always tough to anticipate but i mean that boils down to the fact that we have a uh that we have a food uh economy that is entirely built around profit and specifically built around profit in a uh like competitive market where choice and 0:47:34 variety are the only things that matter and the only things that confer the ability to find points of like uh leverage to extract profit what people like the way that mcdonald's the mcrib is back because uh pork uh prices went down i believe because of the trade war with china the mcgriff is back because the u.s uh because china banned imports of american pork uh as part as like a tit-for-tat thing for trump's uh tariffs on chinese goods and it led to a big glut in pork bellies and pork belly futures dropped and when that happens mcdonald's buys a ***** ton of pork bellies so that's why we have the mcbritt back like an economy where that can happen you have to have a lot of food just waiting to get destroyed and not distributed because 0:48:36 that would reduce the prop the market price of the of the of the rest of it that's why they won't let they rest supermarkets have to ***** it's monstrous it's a regime of monstrous waste and it is to me the fundamental rejoinder to any idiotic argument

CUSHVLOG 126. CHRISTMAS WITH THE BASEBALL CRANKS

the capitalism is in any way efficient it would be funny though if we uh if we basically 0:49:39 like d technologized agriculture like had just had more people farm so i think a lot of people kind of send them down to the countryside you know kind of i don't know like uh some sort of rebellion in the in the superstructure what do you call that a cultural revolution no never mind empty the suburbs i can get behind i don't know how what the what like the balance of rural and urban uh life should be that's way beyond my pay grade i've read arguments in both directions the need for like labor intensive local agriculture and you know intensification of infrastructure in in countryside and then arguments for no no you know and uh encourage minimal minimal uh human footprint outside of urban areas and create like dense density uh heard arguments 0:50:40 for both uh probably somewhere in the middle all of it above my pay grade not my question not my circus not my monkeys because i sure ***** i'm never going to see a society where i have to answer that question it is certainly my duty to try to get us to a point where these questions mean something but but i do wish i knew more i do wish i could farm i'll say that i wish i could i wish i could form isn't the great reset once again isn't the great reset just capitalism i i never understand what this especially it's very frustrating to see on the right with the q2 all of these big large large-scale like new world order things it's just oh what they're gonna a lot of 0:51:41 people are gonna die so the capitalism can maintain itself right they're going to keep like every crisis of capitalism is going to just be met with more quantitative easing at the top and more like liquid money being pooled into the hands of the wealthy and just continue like a dynamo of consumption at the very top of the the world uh consumption order that just like sucks everything out out of the world literally like a giant straw until uh the ability of the earth to like uh actually whole uh maintain human life it starts being compromised and people start dying and mass and and the political structure uh eliminates points of descent so that it can more effectively uh carry out a regime of border enforcement and technological surveillance am i saying anything that isn't just the trajectory of us what is what is the thing that's supposed 0:52:42 to be special about this once again it's like we see it in front of us we see the the creature the monster operating in plain sight there's no man behind the curtain it's just it is it's in front of the curtain but it's too big to take in so we vent we create a mini version of it a story time fun time version of it to to invest with meaning because it's easier so i don't even know what i'm supposed what are the main points about it they're gonna sterilize everybody we're being sterilized already do you guys know what uh what ***** plastics are doing to our endocrine systems you know like i mean obviously you don't want to turn into a red pill psycho talking about like male male virility but sperm counts in the world are collapsing i don't know if you're aware of this and not just in the west it's not just because oh yeah you're all living 0:53:44

next to uh you know you're living in between the plastic the you know you're eating mcdonald's and and uh just eating no in the least developed parts of the world too is because plastic is becoming complete it's becoming constitutive of the human ***** body and it's disrupting your endocrine system and ability to ***** reproduce we're literally already being children of men sterilized what what else do you need what else so what what's special about the ***** great reset thing about it what's the difference because whether the broad thing is real or this specific version of it the fantasy version of it is real this the challenge is the same and the i mean if it's about how like they're betting on what it's like the people in power are making money off of the crisis and that in fact they're the way they're responding the crisis is designed 0:54:45 to it's about market share what you mean these people are gonna are gonna uh that the continued accumulation of capital is going to monopolize what and like amazon's gonna be the only what i mean they don't even have to they don't even have to sterilize or kill the unproductive and the unnecessary people they just have to ***** 0:55:46 put up a border because they're mostly sorted by geography i guess like the thing that's most reasonable about all this need for to be like about to be eliminated is that i'm sorry if you're talking about the grace great reset you're not one of the people you're one of the ***** people that they still need to move numbers around on a ***** ledger and keep the the people are going to get reset are nowhere near you and they're going to be kept that way with machinery and of surveillance and uh they're 0:57:3 putting chemicals in the water to make the frogs gay once again yeah they are but not to make that doesn't kill them there's been i mean not gay but like there's been like gender mutations in frogs thanks to exposure to how many fraud genders are 0:58:10 there to three it would be funny if trump tries to now that bar is resigning i guess it'd be really funny if he tried to just appoint sheriff clark or something and just have them try to do a like order the fbi to arrest congress or something i don't think they hell yeah may clay j higgins attorney general yeah right there gordy we're going to 0:59:12 do it we're going to do that cool we're going to take back america we're going to rest that electoral call he's going to put in that gold college yep we're going to get that left home college we're going to get that good electron avatar by the way was not a bit people are now saying that uh that we're doing it is a bit no we do think avatar is great and everything you can say about how it's bad it's like yeah that's true too but it's a gestalt movies are a gestalt like the overall thing when i think about 1:0:13 the movie and i watch it i enjoy it not ironically because i appreciate what and you can like that you can do it you can like a movie that's cringey you can like a movie that has like identifiably stock or uninspiring or or uh or cliché elements you can like that you're not being tricked into liking something necessarily and i understand why people's backs are up because so much of uh like blockbuster cynicism is about

sometimes you gotta accept some of it at a large enough scale of spectacle you've got to accept a a certain skeleton a a certain degree of stock elements because it wouldn't be it wouldn't be sustainable at that size without that without that many viewers without that uh oh man dune is gonna bite especially on tv now i wasn't too excited about it either way i really don't like that villanova look at this point of the future it's like okay it's uh yeah everything's all like it's it seems like it's very nolan asking it's blinkered understanding of like the possibilities the aesthetic 1:1:17

um oh there we are oh my god i'm on oh i do not want to turn on notifications good lord that sounds terrible why is it now saying i'm not on there anymore i was on there no not on there what the ***** what why what oh there i am there i am folks i'm indoors because the great storm has come the storm is coming q is right oh my god the storm is here it's storming out this is the storm that they spoke of and now we're having it ah yeah i'm honestly shocked i kind of thought that new york's days of uh accumulating snow before march were over got to walk through it as it started really gave me um old old homesick vibes of wisconsin freezing my ass off walking home from school nice uh we will be talking later in the episode stream whatever the hell you want to call this moment in time of uh this here book the republic for which it stands by richard white but i wanted to uh give people a chance to show up you know if they've read the book i don't want to start off because yeah you get more people as time goes on in these things generally so like in about a half an hour so uh we'll right now i wanted to comment on something that i've noticed which is every time barf sacko crumbo comes out with one of his uh absolutely banal popular culture takes where he's he talks about uh parasite oh that's a great movie or when he just talked about how well he was writing his awful memoir he uh found solace in better call saul and the boys i mean obviously part of me is very smug about being like aha here literally is our prestige tv president talking about how much he loves these shows think about trump relative comparatively does trump ever talk about an hour-long streaming dramas no he talks about watching fox news or newsmax or whatever or cnn he talks about uh cable news which is basically a reality tv channel like if you take the concept of reality tv seriously as this uh the elu the the destruction of the barrier between you know uh living in america and cable news which is very little news in it obviously it's mostly to be talking heads emoting about politics is essentially a ***** reality show and all those people yelling like hannity that's just an incredibly long confessional sequence you know i can't believe nancy pelosi uh ate the peanut butter with her finger and put it back in the on the shelf that kind of thing so again we see the prestige tv president and the reality tv president and our

prestige tv president he was loves watching the boys and he loves he loved watching the wire when it was on and one thing i see a lot is people saying how's obama watching these shows considering all of the anti-corporate anti-capitalist themes in them how is he watching them he must not be absorbing them he's either lying about watching them or he um he is not uh he's not he's somehow missing the subtext that i am able to absorb and i am here to ask uh posit this what about this what about this possibility what if barf sacko crumbo gets exactly everything out of these shows that you do and these movies he sees parasite he watches the boys he's not uh coming out with some mutated version in his head he's getting the same message as you are it just doesn't ***** matter because this is just entertainment at the end of the day and his position is fixed enough in the world and his uh value system is fixed enough around uh maintaining you know his his role as a power broker within it that nothing he's going to see is going to change his mind and i think see otherwise smart people kind of like instinctively reject the notion that he could be absorbing this art at the level that they are because there is buried in all of our assumptions about artistic consumption that are now completely intertwined with our politics the way we talk about uh uh television and movies specifically is essentially is completely inextricable from politics you say it's almost impossible to have a conversation about any uh any of these products that is not inherently politicized before you even start talking and of course it's always politicized but i mean explicit politics as opposed to like broader you know ideological underpinnings of work and the pr the reason you do that i mean obviously it's because in my cynical view because there isn't a lot of art in this stuff and you've got to fill ***** column inches with something you've got to fill the void with something you can't you can't uh confront with sober sense the the hollowness of all of this but also is a similar delusion that comes from the resist the rejection of that reality which is watching the right shows watching the right movies will somehow make you a better person in a fundamental way not just in your outlook but in your actions it will change you for the better in your day-to-day uh experience of life and while that is true of great works of art and the individual's response to a great work of art or even an individual's response to a specific piece of uh you know more uh attenuated art that has like a specific resonance to them that's the case but it cannot be scaled and that is the fantasy at the heart of all of this political fixation with our with our media is that we assume that there's some extrapolatable and and uh and compounding social vector towards good or evil that emanates out of a popular film or television series and i am here today to say that there is not there's nothing it doesn't do anything our moral choices are are determined by uh by interests that are far far deeper than any glib ***** we're gonna pull out of a ***** tv show that by definition is ***** spoon feeding us if it wasn't spoon feeding us it so i'm sorry i think

i mean i don't i mean i think obama is a smart guy i don't think he would have got where he was if he wasn't unless you believe he was a cia clone from a vat and maybe he clearly was able to apply strategic and tactical insights in the political process that allowed him to defeat to essentially jump the line ahead of a bunch of other people and that required more than just oratorical skill uh but like he's not a great mind obviously he's very uh he is he is happy in his change he's happy in the fetters 0:8:12 that he has given himself because they excuse him to do whatever he wants they give him the excuse to pursue power nakedly because well somebody's going to pursue power nakedly and i'm afraid we have to be nibury in our in our understanding that the evils of the world cannot ever be vanquished and that attempting to do so is a greater evil than even those existing evils and so therefore we are left with the question of how to live and therefore if i want to dedicate myself to rising to the top of this this pyramid of violence of monstrosity and oppression by uh by putting a a smiley fa a diverse face on a neoliberal retrenchment that's going to immiserate everybody and that is going to just continue this driving ratcheting capillary action of human misery someone's got to do it it might as well be me it might as well be the sensitive guy who reads the right books and watches to write shows and watches the right movies and comes to the right conclusions about them the ones the same 0:9:13 ones that we in the ***** cheap seats come to but they don't he is able to rationalize them the way we all are every day with everything we know to be true but can't deal with because accepting one truth means dis uh inconveniencing ourselves in some significant way and we have to get to a point where that where where that truth has an emotional weight that is anywhere equal anywhere close to the emotional weight of our more embedded personalized preferences what we think we want the only way to get there is through i hate to be a broken record but through spirituality through through through the uh ritualized enchantment of ideas and enchantment of values that can give them a a motivational force that could break away from the this um gravitational pull of self-interest barack obama was able to take his self-interest 0:10:15 and turn it into a religion that's why he was able to do what he did but most of us aren't that aren't that skilled or aren't that sociopathic and we have to muddle through being pulled between what we know to be true every moment and what is convenient for us in our personal uh understandings of our our self-interest and and and it's fighting those things that's our daily battle and and art is an expression of that conflict but it is not ever going to resolve it for us and it's hard to understand or it's hard to grasp that because it really does render a lot of the time and energy we put into consuming and and uh makes it a kind of a a empty and and pathetic waste of time and and since we have no idea of what to fill that void with we'd rather avoid that that a reality altogether like i said that the the prestige tv anti-heroes are 0:11:18

sociopaths honestly i don't think they are because then there wouldn't be a show like the shows those shows are about a deeply deeply talented in one way or another and also deeply deeply um selfish person battling with whatever fragmentary echoed half remembered conscience they might have the thing that makes them unable to just be happy in their consumption but their audience their imagined audience that guy i was talking about the one that they're all subconsciously writing for that upper middle class thriving fixed eyes fixed on self advancement professional who is the ur consumer of this stuff that's a sociopath that's a person who has fully resolved these conflicts that's why you wouldn't want to watch a show about them that's why you wouldn't want to watch a show about obama a prestige tv show or obama is the protagonist would be absolutely sterile and boring none of there'd be none of the psychological torment there wouldn't be any of the any of the strum and drawing and the and the the dark humor that you get with other with shows about people trying to like gesture towards a sense of uh morality that transcended their personal interest barack obama makes no and spends no effort doing that spending that spends not a second uh wondering about that stuff so how and that is what then that's be and and that's because television like all mass market art is about not only about but is partially about and this is one of the things that attenuates its artistic uh merit like it's it's generalized artistic value as an art form is that it's pandering it's pandering to that audience it's giving them what they think they want to see because if they didn't want to see it they wouldn't watch it and if they don't watch it you're not going to get another episode and you're not going to get another renewal and you're not going to get to make another movie and that is a compromise that is deeper even than thought with with these guys these show runners who created these programs and so they're flattering them they're taking that ***** blank-eyed uh professional psychopath and they're giving them they're they're flattering them and extending to them the fiction that they have a conscience to struggle with why wouldn't obama like the boys i don't understand why it's insane that obama would like the boys like he he like i have said he doesn't think that he is he has power he doesn't think that that the president is fundamentally a a job that is about doing things from one's own volition it's about serving a mechanism that is inviolable so he what what why would he why would he be horrified by the boys why would that make him disconfided i don't hate the boys the boys is fine it's not anything to write home about and if it's what prestige tv is now then the ***** genre is i mean a complete joke although honestly season four fargo should have ***** put the nail in the coffin there anyway holy ***** what a piece of ***** what a pretentious gar i hate using the word pretentious anybody who call who calls art pretentious is just telling on themselves most of the time but for season four fargo is noah noah hawley the guy

who created it showing the fundamental problem with him as a television creator which is that he thinks he's too good for tv remember this is a guy who has directed a film written directed to film which by the way i watched and sucks uh wrote a book that i'm not reading television is in his own mind beneath him and that shows throughout all of his work but in season four fargo it's just yeah prestige tv is is is 0:15:39 the obama of art it's this thing that is all we have like all we have all liberalism can stand on now now that it can no longer offer anything to anybody materially now that now that the the the material pitch of the democratic party that made it the natural ruling party of the united states for 40 years uh is gone and all they have left is the ability to push forward on the strength of celebrity on the strength of personality and you might say but what about biden they wanted obama again they never wanted anything other than obama the democratic electorate they would have voted him a third term overwhelmingly if it hadn't been for the constitution if he'd been able to come back for like uh like putin in this time they would have voted for him overwhelmingly if michelle obama had run she would have gotten the 0:16:40 nomination biden was the closest thing anyone had now buddhist thought i'm gonna be gay obama but he doesn't actually have the charisma that obama had and his and the fact that he is so clearly trying to ape obama's voice mannerisms means that his ability to to break out of that box is already it's completely uh abrogated just by virtue of his his transparent phoniness so there was no obama to pick what there was was obama's vp so he would talk about rap rock and people be like oh yeah rap rock what about i wonder what rap rock's doing and you saw they have a poll now what was what's your pick for uh 2024 michelle obama number one and then harris number two which is like six degrees of separation the vice president's vice president and that's why the democrats are ***** because they built everything around in 2008 like obama gave them this this thought this hope oh we we can we can 0:17:42 govern during conditions of neoliberal austerity ending over wrenching continuously compounding neoliberal austerity without a material pitch to the voters with this uh narrative and they i mean and the proof of it was in the pudding in the form of obama winning big and then winning a big re-election which democrats haven't done for a while i mean even even clinton never won a majority of the vote he was under under 50 percent well under 50 percent he was at like even in his re-election where he crushed dole i think he got like 46 percent of the votes someone can correct me on that but it was not 50 because both times he was running in three-way races with perot who took you know a decent chunk for the the the best that a third-party candidate has done since like tr was uh perot in 96 and 92. maybe wallace 68 i'm 0:18:44 not sure i got to look at it but anyway one either way they really don't have a record of big big ***** uh crushing victories and he got it and then he got reelected even though uh you know it looked closer than it should have been and even though but while this was happening of course the litany has been said a million times they lost the thousands uh state legislator seats they lost like a ***** third of governorships they lost the house and then the senate and then they tried to run austerity with hillary got killed got to run with biden and a little shine of nostalgia and trump's unique uh uh unique uncouthness unique uncouthness to the nation's well-off meant that he could win um like i remember before the election i said that the reason i think after the after the first debate i said i think being's gonna win and the reason he's gonna win is because people are gonna have a choice between four more years of ever cranking political rhetoric or kind of taking the heat off of the kettle for a little bit and i said people are gonna pick that because they're still there's still relative security in this country there's still even with precarity there is enough security among voting people that that'll carry through and if you look at the electorate you look at the the votes you look how the vote broke down the most comfortable people shifted to biden from trump because they have a house they've got maybe a boat maybe maybe a ski do maybe two cars in the garage they can go they have some 401k money they don't want to be in the streets shooting it out with antifa where did trump gain he gained amongst people who have the least to lose the people who saw the ratcheting up political rhetoric and in the move towards conflict and said sure bring but they have no they're screwed the democrats are ***** because it was always a fraud the whole thing was a fraud it all depended on the specific charisma of barf sacko crumbo which is now thanks to the constitution no longer uh accessible and there's nobody in the wings there's nobody who comes close there's a bunch of off-brand obamas like ***** cory booker who's like a chuck e cheese animatronic on the fritz trying to do obama and then he got fake ass buddhish and then who else there's nobody there's nobody it's a bunch of fossils who who clogged up the top of the party because they do not want to hand the reins over to anybody who is not fully enthralled by the machine the way they are and they don't trust anybody else to run the thing and they're all insane megalomaniacs who don't think they can die like every other old american and this is just like prestige tv coming into the and uh oh but then lastly so this is a totally fraudulent and and uh doomed project but democrats are going to double and triple down because they don't have anything else and so they convince themselves this is the only way things can be and that actually if you criticize it uh you're a piece of ***** prestige tv is essentially the same thing it filled the void of attention that people had once their attention spans have been destroyed by the internet and their ability to uh put any thought or concentration into a difficult work of art was scrubbed away by the daily abuse of like being a a screen centric human uh and also working working working more and more and more and having less and less time to devote to anything other than the most brain smoothing of recreational activities and in that but but you know hey if you went to college you know you're supposed to want something more than that you know and there is that yearning we actually have that cannot often be articulated but still drives us in some way and ***** prestige tv filled the void hey you know that crap 0:22:57 that slop for pigs that they used to sell commercial that they used to sell beer and ***** uh diet pills uh it's actually uh the premier form of artistic expression of our time oh good and then they wrote it and they're sticking with it and they'll tell you that you're what like an elitist or some ***** or uh or somehow racist or problematic for saying that uh instead of confronting it because they have nothing else there's nothing else because nobody has the energy of your attention to to pursue anything more challenging and even if they wanted to who could talk to them about it and that's nine that's half of it right there at least half maybe more honestly at this point well more than half is talking about it talking about our artistic uh uh consumption and if you don't have other people who have had the same experiences who can you bounce things off of what can you get responses to your hot takes from both in and so barb sack is our prestige tv tel uh president and prestige tv is our uh the 0:24:12 barf sack of is the is that strike in india actually still happening because i thought it was one of because the thing about india is once every once in a while like 250 people will go on strike but it's like a two-day demonstration that's in conjunction with like a communist state government i mean how many people who get freaked out who get very excited about indian strikes are aware of that i wonder if there's just a lot of semantic confusion there people get excited because they hear general strike and whenever anything happens politically in india the sheer number of people makes your hair stand on because it's hard to conceive of that you know coming from america which you know is hilariously small population wise comparatively but you 0:25:15 know it's not i mean it's i i'm glad to see i know that there are continuing protests by farmers biden is the mad tv president that's actually pretty good we were we've joked on the show before by the way about how one of the good things about biden being president is that they'll bring back mad tv because no one's going to be uh the the the perpetual outbidding on wokeness and like uh um a sensitivity to to uh to prejudice in in media that is define the trump era is gonna let up because trump's not president anymore and everybody gonna feel a little more relaxed and that we're gonna bring back biden is is i i mean those stories like those corn pop stories and uh 0:26:16 and uh dog face pony soldier i mean the whole thing he could be a mad tv character like the man he would be he would have been the president in a mad tv sketch just coming out and talking about you know uh taking a 57 chevy to the malt shop and then like he crashes come on man isn't that a great all right uh so let's talk a little bit the republic for richard sands which in its first three chapters sketches out the early stages of reconstruction in the south and what uh richard uh calls the greater reconstruction that encompassed also the uh the development of and the first thing we get uh in the first chapter about uh president about uh about presidential reconstruction is a good hard look at our worst president uh andrew johnson a man who is almost singularly uh catastrophic in american history because there are very few people you can look at and say almost anyone who could conceivably have been where they were would have been better and then you look at how how how much happenstance and and and total uh you know random chance went into him getting it it's it is enough to make you feel like there are other worlds than these and that and that we're in the dark one and that things like that not just that but things like that are the hallmarks of a world where you know even far farther back than that some domino fell in the wrong place and uh and they've been falling wrong ever since and man that feels like one real bad domino is andrew johnson being president and reading about the specific his specific mission which he made his uh presidency about which was to readmit the south as quickly as possible with the maintenance of existing economic structures and political structures and then seeing how much effect that had in terms of undermining the very early stages of reconstruction uh and the thing is is that you know once the once congress came back from their hilariously long uh um recess congress back then was basically a part-time job and the congress convened like new congresses convened far later like than they do now it was kind of a nightmare honestly and it's one of the reasons they changed it but even after they got back so you had a period of pure presidential reconstruction until like december of 1865 and then even after congress comes back and then even after congress is comes back even more radically republican after 66 midterms uh johnson is able to uh do an insane amount of damage and at the most critical time because even once grant gets in we haven't got there yet in the book or uh or haven't spent much time anyway with the grand administration but once grant gets in and is able to carry out you know the more radical reconstruction inc in collaborate more in collaboration with congress than fighting them uh they are trying to reconstruct now on a situation that has much less of the fluidity much less of the contingency much less of the potential that existed in april of 1865 because ***** andrew johnson spent four years cheating all over it and it's it really makes me more resolved than ever to really try to pursue this as a project this idea of like if lincoln lives because it would not i i would not want to make lincoln like this world historic savior figure uh more than anything i want to make johnson the world historically catastrophic figure that he is because honestly like lincoln is assassinated and hannibal hamlin was still his vp or uh or a ***** azeroth had gone through with his mission to kill

johnson and benjamin wade the radical republican uh president pro tem of the senate becomes president you could still have had a much better outcome of reconstruction although i think lincoln is sort of uniquely suited in that moment to you know at that most protein moment to be exercising power but things could have gone better with uh and yeah like it's less about lincoln living than about johnson not getting to be there and to just god oh god breaking up the ***** the the land grants that sherman had given to friedman and the coastal carolinas i mean like that could have been the bedrock of a of a the model of a redistributive uh reconstruction that could 0:32:22 have been seized upon by guys like stevens and sumner and wade uh and lincoln eventually not at first of course like but maybe over time pulled in that direction by the flow of events um we didn't get that obviously we got instead this and uh so obviously andrew johnson history's greatest monster and incredibly trumpian like just perfect the the way that he would uh personalize everything hyper paranoid the the fact that he went on a ***** he went on a presidential stump speaking tour to try to whip up hatred of congress his uh the party that had nominated him by the way to be the ***** president uh or to be the vice president and the only difference is he got ***** uh ***** heckled like crazy when he went out and did that people people own the ***** out of him because he was flying in the face of northern opinion this is the other part of it is that he was his mission had no constituency in 0:33:23 the north and and honestly even in the south the constituency was pretty busted up because there were a lot of uh southern ex-confederates who wouldn't even look the gift horse johnson was giving them they were looking at in the mouth they wouldn't even accept his mechanisms because they involved too much um yeah he did like they're being very unfair to me but the specific phenomena of johnson johnson's presidency which he spent trying to create the constituency for a white supremacist third party that he would be able to head and then run for re-election with is almost precisely what happened the last time a uh non the the challenger to the democratic party in the uh in the in the second party system uh tried to um create a broad 0:34:26 tent to defeat that party which was the whig nomination of john tyler to be william henry harrison's running mate in uh 1840 one of the most catas the catastrophe that set the stage for all the catastrophes to come on other because honestly that's another point where you can get wacky with the counter factuals so and henry clay who is like the the the the intellectual founder of the whig party the guy and also the political um uh the biggest political influence on lincoln lincoln loved henry clay lincoln thought henry clay was the ideal american uh politician and he was a wig before he was a republican and his politics were always the weak notion of a um you know a a yeoman republic uh that is uh nurtured and allowed to develop 0:35:27 with coordination from central government as opposed to the jacksonian democratic vision of just let everybody get corn liquored up and steal indian land and then that's it there's nothing so clay essentially founded the weak party and ran a number of times against jackson lost uh in 1840 the whigs had a real good chance because the economy had collapsed during van buren's presidency because the ***** uh the the the model the the banking model that had replaced the destroyed bank of the united states helped create the panic of 37 which really did discredit the democratic project and discredit the that their whole idea which at that point was the governing ideal of people north and south of voters north and south leave me alone to have my slaves or to uh to buy my to develop my land and to to um heat myself with indian scalps that was that was that was by far the most popular political persuasion at the time and it saw itself uh ***** come to discredit by the collapse of the economy and by van buren's refusal to do anything about it because they're democrats and they don't do anything about the the economy that's not the government's job and the whigs really wanted to make sure they didn't ***** it up so they didn't nominate clay because he was a loser they nominated a war guy william henry harrison hey war man yay he fought in our colonial wars you idiots like that right he's one of you uh and they offered the vice presidency to clay and clay turned it down because he was pissed that they had not gotten him the nomination again even though because it was his ***** party and so then the wigs did a catastrophically stupid thing like i said that stupid thing that set the stage for all the stupid things to come later and that was they nominated john tyler of south carolina is the vice president because they were one they were trying to appeal as not as the party that was not the majority party of americans they wanted to appeal to never jackson basically or never van buren but really never jackson because jackson was the trump he was the personality van buren was just riding the wake even though he was the mastermind clay was both obviously but um for the wigs uh but anyway he was a never jackson democrat he had split with jackson not over internal improvements or in favor of the tariff but the opposite over the uh nullification crisis over the question of whether or not uh the south uh south carolina could refuse to uh carry out the the uh refuse to comply with the tariff laws that had been passed by congress and jackson came down hard and said i will hang john c calhoun who was his own vice president from a goddamn lamp post if these ***** don't stop this and tyler and other southern democrats were horrified by that the guys who ended up becoming the intellectual uh you know uh found the intellectual backbone of uh the secessionist movement john c calhoun amongst them but also tyler they said we're horrified by this display of the absolutist power and and we don't like jackson because of his uh his grasping for power not not because of ideology necessarily but just he is too power seeking and the ***** wigs who call themselves the wigs they pick that name because the whigs were the party

in parliament in england which was you know the the most close political culture to america's the ones that americans were most familiar with the whigs were the party of parliament against the prerogative of the king were the tories because they called him king andrew and they fancied themselves as the defenders of the constitution 0:39:34 against the the usurpations of jacksonian democracy and they wanted to get as big a tent for that message as possible and so they said hey john tyler you're horrified by jackson how about you too and they say sure they put him on the ticket and then ***** william henry harrison uh drinks the doo-doo water and dies and instead of henry clay taking power with weak majorities in both houses of congress and being able to carry out in the wake of the crisis of 37 carry out the american system like actually try to enact a system of internal improvements that could have knit america together and mitigate it against the rise of sectionalism uh and perhaps slow down the the breakneck uh move towards expansion across the continent instead you got john tyler a guy who had no sympathy for the whig ideology at any point and spent 0:40:37 his entire term vetoing legislation from the party that nominated him and cozying up to southern slaveholders and democrats to create a third party run as the head of a explicitly pro-slavery party and it didn't it ***** up it didn't work and then they gave the and then he didn't get the nomination of the democrats they nominated polk uh the wigs obviously told him to get ***** and nominated clay and then clay god damn it in 44 he came close as close as he ever came in fact if new york had flipped he would have won and there's actually kind of a uh there's an there is a uh jill stein of the 20 uh of the 1844 campaign because there was a small abolitionist party called the liberty party which was uh headed by an abolitionist named james bernie that polled somewhere around i think three percent in new york which was more than the difference between polk and clay uh in that state and most abolitionists 0:41:39 in the north voted for the wigs so it's likely that they would have if bernie hadn't been there they would have voted for paul or voted for clay and so you could blame the bernie bros the bernie bros for the mexican war because it's less much less likely that clay would have pursued a war with mexico than polk and of course if you don't have the mexican war you do not have the civil war so once again the even if you're not if you want to talk about the the the dominoes fallen the wrong way even before lincoln being succeeded by johnson you have ***** harrison being so the rest of the chapters that we read are about uh the expansion of railroad infrastructure into the west and uh the way that white describes and white is an expert on that 0:42:40 specifically the westward the frontier is really his uh baileywick he's written a book that after this i might read because i'm enjoying this so far called railroaded which is specifically about the way that uh railroad uh infrastructure was built after the civil war um if you know anything about the way that the government works now the way that they built the railroad is incredibly incredibly familiar a corrupt handshake between uh consolidated capital the capital that had emerged from the civil war and the government uh give giving out land grants to railroads uh as an i as and pitch to the audience to the american people as a self-funding mechanism that will allow for the creation of uh of american transportation infrastructure at no cost to taxpayers and instead of course what we got was one of a ratchet ratcheting move towards full 0:43:44 capture of all government uh prerogatives by that concentrated capital because the war cr was the original dynamo of american capital accumulation and then after the war what we replaced it with which was not of course obviously not nearly the uh the intensity of the of the war but filling the same role was railroad infrastructure and then subsequent as part of but some subsidiary to that american military campaigns into and uh i will say that i'm enjoying the book so far i think that for a you know a 0:44:46 political and ideological history it is very perceptive i very much appreciate white's uh emphasis on protestantism and and liberalism as drivers at the level of politics obviously this is all on top of a material base that he doesn't really talk about but that's par for the course in this kind of history is yeah it is uh it's going to be a political and cultural history and the oxford series that this is part of which i've read several other uh very good books from like battle cry of freedom uh is is is probably the best one volume book on the civil war and that's the oxford from the oxford series what half god wrought which covers the pre-civil war era uh like post federal era that's also very good but they are fixed fixed mostly on culture and politics which is always interesting in its own right as long as you remember what this is all at the 0:45:48 level of politics and culture which you know is where the real viscosity is in any and in any political situation and uh and and where any kind of effort to direct the flow the material uh flow uh is going to find itself concentrated and directed because the superstructure does determine and change the base but as i've said as a subsidiary action as generated from originally and how that happens is much more contingent that's where contingency lies is in that super structural relationship and one of the big contingencies is ***** god damn it abraham lincoln getting shot by that piece of ***** ***** himbo and replaced by one of the worst men honestly just one of the worst human beings to ever occupy the presidency and that's okay saying a great deal because there are some monsters in there but even like andrew johnson doesn't even 0:46:50 have any like some of the personal virtues of the more charismatic or uh personable psychopaths who've been president uh and i and people have told me uh you know lincoln and anders and uh johnson at the end of the day would have been that much different they were both racist i mean yes they were both racist but but andrew johnson was lincoln was ambiently racist in the way that all 19th century white males were johnson was pathologically and personally and like nixonianly racist uh

and that he he was in a unique position as president in reconstruction to have that personal animus shape shape the ***** clay that everyone who came after one would have to build upon oh god and the thing that's important about that the reason that that matters and that's the reason that we need to have some sort of nuance when we think about these things especially historically is that racism can be part of your decision matrix but it might be subsidiary or it might be less influential than other aspects it might get outvoted in your brain by other things and whether it is or not uh is determined by the virulence of your racism like that matters at every level like there are racists who voted for barack obama you know but the more racist you are personally the more aware you are of racism the less likely you would have been probably to vote for obama so degree matters i mean voting for obama not voting for obama uh it's not the sole signal of ones like political virtue but it does signal a willingness to cross a barrier of saying yes uh black president i will be okay with that that requires that your racism not be the thing that is deciding things for you at the level of politics and and that is the thing that people are very uncomfortable with the idea that because it just suggests the idea that you might have to deal with people politically who are racist you might not be able to clean everybody's brain through culture and make them all nice uh post anti-racist subjects before they can come together and do politics you might have to do politics with people who have racism in there as one of the things that they're reasoning with but the challenge then is to overcome it and one of the big reasons that neoliberal politics and all of its flavors including this radical radical anti-racist uh like afro-pessimism that essentially says that nothing but neoliberal accommodation is possible because of how racist white people are the thing that undergirds that is you'll never be able to overcome racism and as long as you're framing politics as the neoliberal zero-sum game that we are living in the idea that it can only ever get worse and that it's up to you to hustle and learn to code and and stay on your grind one way or another in order to survive you'll never be able but anyway i'm very looking i'm looking forward to the way that uh white weaves in uh protestantism and like mass mass religious uh uh conceptions into the charac into the stuff because one of the things that any more successful reconstruction would have had to push against would have been that very protestant liberal association between uh autonomy in the market and freedom of contract and the like the the conditions for virtuous living there was a predominant sense that that by that point post second great awakening when we'd like as a nation come to terms spiritually with being these atomized market uh workers who might not even be able to have our own land might have to sell our own labor to survive or sell our wares which you know can be a similar prostrate position uh we came to the conclusion that that those interactions are what reveal

our worth as people reveal our uh our status as saved or damned the government intervention in the economy that would have been required to do reconstruction in any way more uh viably would have been very difficult it would have been hard but the thing is it wasn't the only people people thing people thought there was there were other contending and conflicting uh values that were culturally expressed and held in different ways and that could have been brought to bear to to insist upon uh the breaking of this notion of contract is freedom because of course as white shows very clearly the post-war fixation on not allowing uh uh black dependence by not giving without uh uh without without giving to ex-slaves first of all the idea that former slaves had not by virtue of their enslavement earned anything you could give them is absurd i mean they they literally are the reason that those plantations existed and the reason that that land was cultivated and the reason that there was any uh economic activity in those areas at all so giving giving them land is in fact payment it is a deferred payment but beyond that absurdity is the compounding absurdity that giving ***** to white people was the way that the ***** country had been built and that's where racism comes in but once again racism is part of a mosaic of of conceptions and influences and interests that could have been arranged differently with different a different uh and of course as like points out the funniest thing about andrew johnson is that he was like many unionists in the south before the civil war uh he hated the planter aristocracy because he was not one of them he had a nixonian chip on his shoulder because he had been a low-born tailor and he became wealthy and became a political figure but he was never one of the one of those you know uh one of those planter aristocrats who were very self-consciously trying to create a european style uh a feudal uh social order on american soil like they wanted to be they thought of themselves as the cavaliers from the ***** english civil war they all thought they were little prince rupert's of the rhine running around in their little hats with plumes and a guy a drunk tailor like andrew johnson could never be one of them and so one of the reasons he stayed loyal to the union was he didn't want to fight uh to create a nation where they ran things and his idea for reconstruction was to uh was to put power into the hands of the the simple white people of the south because like a lot of white unionists he thought that the real victims of slavery were poor whites of course that's half true poor whites are the victims of slavery but of course not the real or only victims of slavery and that's that the refusal to see the bigger picture is is what racism does that's its social function is to obscure the reality uh and to allow for the division of workers the vision of the dispossessed against and the reconstruction that johnson pushed for that he thought would empower the simple white people of the south what did it do it put every kudzu covered fancy lad ***** in the south back in the saddle back in power way to go good for you i don't care about kudzu whatever i don't live down there all right 0:56:11 so if anyone has any specific questions about what we've read i'll pop in there but i'm going to be wrapping up soon uh so for i don't think there's going to be a stream next wednesday i think i'm taking some time off next week uh i've got other things to attend to but when i get back the let me look here yeah let's do the rest of part one finish part one so uh chapters four through eight the name of the book for those who are coming late is white well the most cringe counter factual is the one of the 0:57:24 nazis that won the war because one they couldn't have and two a good book about the cold war in africa there actually are two uh by this guy piero glacias and it's about cold war diplomacy in africa and a lot of it and a lot of stuff about the cuban intervention in the angolan uh civil war uh one's called conflicting missions havana washington and africa eight 1959 to 1976 and then there's another one the sequel 0:58:28 visions of freedom is 76 to 91. the only one who ever got it right was uh the nazis winning the war right thing was philip k dick which when he said as soon as they got nukes they would have destroyed the world why won't dump all right this is the last question here uh why won't trump go to jail in the state of new york because he 0:59:29 was president presidents can't go to jail when nixon said if the president does it it's not illegal he was right in the sense that criminally punished for anything they do in office or once they're president before because no political system will allow that precedent at least ours won't because if you start arresting them then everyone's going to end up in jail and that's why uh i think it was i think felix told me that his dad had an idea that the president should issue the presidency should be one long term like 12 years or something and then because if trump goes to jail some ***** 1:0:34 attorney general is going to try to put obama in jail or biden in jail and then you're off to the races and they don't want to start that uh precedent and i mean and that's just like the political grandstanding they sure as hell don't want the actual criminal behavior that they carry out to ever be accounted for because then how are they going to decide to do this the decisions these people make the monstrous criminal decisions they make are only they can only make them in a context of total impunity if there was any re potential possible uh uh consequence for their actions beyond like oh i might lose an election which you're gonna lose off you're gonna leave office eventually as in i might see my fortune taken from me see my freedom taken from me the way you know the rest of us have to decide to do things like we have to decide 1:1:35 what to do in a day-to-day basis with the thing in our head of like oh if we do the wrong thing we could get in trouble in a real like sense in a real personal sense as in like forgetting like stat and i know these guys super care about status and winning elections there is a freedom that they need in order to operate in knowing that your personal security and the security of your fortune and your family and their it's too many cooks too many cooks too many cooks too many cooks it takes a lot to make a stew extra nice wake up open something too many cooks too many cooks there we go there we go all right god jesus i really am a ***** why does anybody pay attention to me look at me i am an i am a poorly groomed that's the downside of cutting your own hair is that once it starts growing out the deficiencies and uh failures become pretty uh obvious i gotta cut my ah i gotta get my hair again definitely gotta cut my beard again i will lose 10 pounds as soon as i just snip this ***** thing many cooks too many cooks anybody excited for croods too i know i am i know we were all asking where's more croods we were all sitting here waiting for croods waiting with cupped hands for the beneficence of the croods to be to be lauded upon us and we sat through a horrible uh election in 2016 and and uh uh it's four years of fascist tyranny and and a horrible pandemic and the whole time we had no mother ***** croods now here though at the tail end of our pandemic which thanks to the election of uh joe biden and the release of these 95 effective no problems to worry about everything's going to be fine vaccines what do we get we get the croods to bomb the soul of a nation i mean what's not to love about all of our large political and uh economic and cultural institutions that yes they might lead you in the lurch for a while and have a crazed cheeto-stained dictator ruling by tweet and then his incompetence unleashing a biblical plague upon the land but at least those systems can correct themselves and say we're very sorry we allowed that to happen goodbye trump goodbye coronavirus hello you know what the croods are called you know what the names of the characters and the croods are emma stone is the daughter of the crude clan and is sort of the main character that's eep uh nicholas cage character who's her father the patriarch of the croods and there's uh and his wife is katherine and then there's i believe eep's younger brother thunk played by clark duke and then you've got eep's boyfriend the more evolved more worldly more globalist uh cave person who's tried to lure the croods out of their cave and into some valley i.e breaking up traditional society and turning it into globalized capitalism his name is literally guy the rest of them all have just noise names and then the worldly metrosexual who comes to take the young girl away from it all anyway i'm very excited about the croods i'm very excited i mean we were all waiting for that's the crazy thing to me about the way that they keep making sequels to every uh cartoon franchise because it does seem to me that cartoon movies kids movies are the only films where you can have where a studio will put money on an original piece of intellectual property in the form of big big tentpole stuff but even you know like the croods isn't that old the crews came out 0:5:12 in 2015 there were two different movies about ***** uh bigfoots and sasquatch and yeti's that came out like last year boss baby like they actually the kids are because there's always new ones and they're all very small and they don't really remember things because like the kids who uh you know liked frozen by now they're too old for those movies anyway you're pitching it to their younger siblings or or who who don't have necessarily haven't seen frozen so you can give them something new and yet we still keep creating these sequels when the audience is always changing zedaya is michi it's true so when the croods came out i remember just having that word just clanging around my head a non-stop i wrote i look back actually it was reminded today by the croods and i look back and i saw how many tweets i had done about the croods back in 2015 when i had no followers and no one gave a ***** who i 0:6:14 was including myself and it was all of them are terrible i do not recommend looking at them uh but they definitely showed that like the the croods as a concept stuck with me uh and then having a sequel come out now at this moment of time like hey you know what else more croods the croods you love are back the rude crew dudes with the crude attitudes are back just a little too much i am now definitely uh crude pilled it definitely shows how nothing uh how how like the the logic of the cultural logic of late-stage capitalism using obnoxious term does mean like a event horizon of creativity where nothing new can be built and we just get more crudes oh 0:7:16 man a movie about operation midnight climax that whole operation they had in san francisco is pretty amazing and you could imagine would be an amazing movie but yeah uh i would like to see it that's for sure there's a couple things i've thought about trying to well i mean i don't know probably not me but movies i've wished would get made by somebody uh mk alternate in general but specifically midnight climax really interesting if anyone doesn't know what that is that was part of the overall mk ultra program of mind control and interrogation research with drugs that included lsd dosings a lot of it was in the form of grants and this is the important thing about you know the the the nature of institutions and capitalism is that most of that lsd was distributed not by you know cia agents dousing uh water tanks or whatever but by grants to universities and prisons uh oh and hospitals uh mcgill university and ca 0:8:18 uh uh had a uh their medical center had a huge uh uh grant from the mk ultra uh there uh harvard did and it was at harvard that young ted kaczynski was unwittingly

dosed with ***** tons of lsd and where a nearby prison a young whitey bulger was dosed with tons of lsd uh and i believe i'm not sure of that this is true i mean one of the of course the haight ashbury free clinic in san francisco where charles manson visited on a daily basis with his parole pro i believe the hospital that sirhan saran uh went to to deal with his uh riding injury because he had a concussion when he fell off a horse because he was a jockey uh was treated at a hospital that got mkl trip funding i'm not sure if that's true though i remember reading that a long time ago and i was more into assassination ***** uh but the most outlandish way they did it 0:9:19 was they had a bunch of former uh and current uh federal narcotics agents who are either cia operatives or contract officers in san francisco uh pay local sex workers to dose their customers and it was often filmed at cia front bordellos through two-way mirrors or one-way mirror or whatever the hell they call them and that's kind of nuts when you think about it that the us government did that the us governor has like eight millimeter film of like some ***** uh you know some merchant seamen from uh from scandinavia was head-butting a ***** mirror because he just got a ton of acid put in his cocktail or like some uh some marin county square in for a fun weekend goes jumping out the window and sock garters so yeah that would be a good i would 0:10:21

love to see someone tackle that subject it's very ripe for inquiry but another one i've thought very fascinating is the mothman phenomenon in 1966 and 67 in point pleasant west virginia now there is a movie called the mothman prophecies that deals vaguely with that story but it's a deeply terrible film and a horrifying waste of one of the most interesting para phenomenal para phenomenal events in american history because the mothman prophecy was not simply a case where a bunch of people in the appalachian boundary between ohio and west virginia in the mid-60s saw a flying thing that looked like a moth although a lot of them did and people described being pursued by a giant flying creature with big bright lamp eyes down highways but also 0:11:22

a ton of a ton of ufo sightings that went to and included uh uh close encounters of the fourth kind see uh will be or is that fifth i don't know but uh people described being brought onto ships and like conversing with aliens who had names like and and part of it one of the prophecies was uh a rook was um and was phone calls made in a very odd ethereal sort of robotic voice to local reporters and and citizens that spoke of a coming catastrophe in the area and uh then i believe in the winter of 1966 or 0:12:23

early 1967 a local bridge over the i believe ohio river collapsed and it killed dozens of citizens it was a massive massive uh catastrophe and then it stopped shortly after that or a little while after that nowhere was everything explained nothing's ever explained it uh there was a former uh there was a military former military munitions plant in the area that is like what led to the initial town existing they like made dynamite up in the hills and it was in the on the grounds of those former uh military munitions facilities that a lot of people which was like a make out point in the area that a lot of people saw the mothman and there's a lot of explanations for it and i think the idea that it might have been a essentially operation midnight climax on a local scale is certainly one of them what if we gave a whole town asset what would happen it sort of does seem to be the next logical step to what they ended up doing and there's no reason to believe they ever had to stop for any reason other than their own inertia because who knew what was happening and who would have stopped them if they could have um i always thought that it would make a really interesting visual narrative either like a film or a tv show because of the multiplicity oh i forgot it's also where one of them it's either where the men in black were first established as a trope in the culture or one of the most concentrated places where that was the case because one of the big elements of mothman prophecies was weird looking dudes in black outfits showing up on the side of the road riding with people coming to their houses asking them about if they've talked to anybody about any encounters with aliens they've had having weird confused reactions and when you take that whole thing into account it's this big prism of you know uh it's like it's a sort of like a micro nervous breakdown within like the greater social organism uh and what caused it you know where to come from uh i think any interesting narrative that dealt with it would want to not establish any one would it would attempt to leave to to assume ambiguity as the as as the natural state and to resist the imposition of a false i also uh the guy john keel who wrote the big book about mothman prophecies and very well might have been a huge fraudster who was responsible for the whole thing or large chunks of it which is another explanation people have proposed didn't think that they were anything had to do with aliens from other planets he essentially thought that they were mental projections of the people in the area because of the ability of the mind to interact with like the physical reality in such a way to to change it if like if through some fluke concentrated will is applied to a moment you know with enough vigor and you know that's it might not be true in some sci-fi sense but it's true in this in the sense that if enough people believe in something hard enough they can remake the world in the image of whatever that thing they believe is no matter how unconnected to reality it is there have to be enough of them and they have to believe sufficiently to and and that doesn't just mean they think it you know close their eyes and think about it it means they live and act but i would like to see something about the mothman prophecies that includes all of those elements is like keel being a ***** con artist the cia or the army doping up everybody uh mental projections uh real ufos being involved in real aliens being involved or uh extra dimensional beings all of it on and all of it interacting with each other even though they're mutually i definitely do think that if there is such if ufos do carry with them an alien intelligence it is more likely to be interdimensional than extraterrestrial but i've talked croods someone wants to know what superstructure is i think of i mean you can get a 0:17:39 definition from wikipedia but the way i think of it is is the it is the flesh and muscle and skin that are around and supported by and in uh response support the bones of the means of production that undergird the social order itself so capitalism would be the bones of our social order the thing that actually moves around gets you from one place to another and occupies and you know moves space moves through space and touches things and manipulates reality and everything else is is the sinews that move it around culture broadly construed our political institutions our cultural institutions and the products of those cultural institutions are um our social beliefs our religious 0:18:42 beliefs and there is a vulgar uh based superstructure argument that gets pulled that kind of kind of uh unfairly boiled down to saying that none of that superstructure stuff like matters because it's not what's generating social conditions and that's not true it matters a great deal and all change occurs first at the superstructural level like i'll i'll i'll change any way that is that can be funneled towards like you know human uh human freedom human humans reaching consciousness is what i mean when i think of that like i don't mean freedom in the western sense i mean like freedom from species alienation that all starts at the superstructural level uh and then you know within that level uh it's that is it then changes people's behavior and 0:19:45 their interactions with the social the modes of productions that they are part of like people joining unions for example you know that's generated super structurally but the question of what superstructural elements are load-bearing and which ones are epiphenomenal and have no and cannot have any impact that is a question that has to be answered it cannot be assumed i feel like one of my goals here on this thing recently has been to try to say that that the critique that a lot of people have a lot of elements of the political structure uh that things that they have dismissed as sort of you know time wasters is more expansive than is assumed because it in reality the stuff that can't really move the wheel includes a lot of the stuff that we is that's all we have because of our denatured and de-socialized i love being orthogonally or 0:20:46 undergirded boomed it's great i love it if it wasn't for orthogonal undergirding i would be up that squirrel that amber has in her uh is not her pet in the sense that he doesn't live with her but it's she has a lot of squirrels in her yard and they are uh 0:21:48 very friendly and that is the friendliest one i guess clearly has some sort of prior relationship with humans so sometimes comes inside and says hello she really is turning into saint francis i have seen a black squirrel recently i saw a white squirrel i hope to still play cold war uh with felix at some point we have to we've had a trouble getting that gaming rig set up so it's it's made things harder and of course 0:22:50 cobit has also restricted our ability to get together in the office anyway so hopefully after we're all microchipped we can do it i gotta say man this vaccine ***** i don't think it's the great reset and i don't think there's jeffrey epstein's jizz in them but is there any reason to think that this process of creating these vaccines would meet of of that i that you would feel i mean the main thing that makes me think that is that i've talked before about how the real problem from the standpoint of the this government you know from capital broadly like the ruling class with kovid is there's 0:23:51 no uh ability will whatever you want to call it to suspend the economic circulation that we currently have involving uh our consumer-based uh retail uh is that that it's well they're not gonna suspend it and in the absence of suspending it with with cobit out there and with people afraid of cobid they're just no matter what they do with opening and closing places it's going to make it that much much people are much less likely to go out and spend and and circulate the capital the way they're supposed to the way the system requires them to now what the trump administration was going for was herd immunity they were saying get everybody infected and hurry it up and we'll just act like it isn't happening and the thing is is that that might have actually worked in the sense that we could have uh kept people out and about kept things 0:24:55 open kept kept the the big collapse of the economy from happening uh now a lot of people get sick and a lot of people would die but we could accommodate that if we focused our covet response on that maybe we could do it the problem is people aren't ready to take that risk they have to be managed into it they have to be got to get to the point where they're willing to take that risk as a as a way of you know recontributing to getting back out there which everyone wants to do and the big problem for trump the trump approach is that they were governing from within the epistemic bubble of the republican party because trump only watches fox news and even his advisors are mostly totally bumbled off in that they took they assumed that their stance ***** it it's not real let's just go out and drink margaritas would could 0:25:56 be uh made the default stance through uh essentially um a propaganda campaign in this form of telling people what are you a ***** you know and the problem was is that it didn't work is that the republican base is really a minority of americans like they aren't there aren't that many of them like you've got all the democrats who vote who don't like them and don't accept their framing and then you've got the people who don't vote the vast majority of whom are not tied into this stuff these resentment factories the way they are and so they could never sell to people ah just go outside who cares now when i say this could work i don't mean it's gonna save lives people will die i will mean it will work in the sense that you could keep the economy open maybe if people just accepted covet as a risk the republicans did that because most of them didn't believe it was real or that it was made up now you might say yeah a lot of them died choking to death sure but they didn't get to say anything after that they don't get to write an op-ed saying oh by the way kobe's real they're 0:26:57 ***** dead and the ones who get it and don't die are probably too committed to their politics to ever ***** admit they were if we're all just like dying one by one if we're all dying alone in america which is the only way you can die in this country then even as the bodies stack like cord wood it's just part it's just it's not as bad as it would have been if we hadn't done it this way and they but the problem is they could not convince anybody of that they cannot they could not convince anybody outside of their bubble to do that they were everyone else is like nah man i would rather not risk permanent lung damage to get a ***** hamburger and as a result you have this contraption that we created the worst of both approaches where you harm the economy as bad as it could be harmed without actually saving that many lives and preventing the spread uh because we were wedded to keeping the economy open 0:27:58 and everything started from that and so we got this dog's breakfast response but even for the democrats especially now that trump's in they have every incentive also to get people back out there and how do you get them out there if they're not going to be swayed by the republican pitch you give them a vaccine that and that and does it does it does it have to work up 95 effectively does it have to give you any of the outcomes that it's supposed to not really it's supposed to get people back out there and if there's a problem we'll deal with it then we'll build some mass graves we'll build some more hospitals we'll get a big machine that makes bucking uh ventilators but people will be back out shopping the emergency will be over the demand for government subsidy at the demand level will be reduced which it must because these people need to shut the ***** up about getting more checks because if the people find out that money is made up and that the fed literally just puts numbers into a 0:28:59 goddamn machine and they can they've given trillions and trillions and trillions of dollars to the wealthy in the form of uh in their banks the banking sector that is just conjured from thin air and that they could do that for the regular people of this country it would be a existential challenge to the existing system cannot be allowed to occur so every incentive in the world and of course the the financial incentives of the ***** drug companies all run towards rushing this thing and fudging the numbers and maybe and then you've got an entire media which believes in science they you don't even have to brainwash them or bribe them they will just because of their naive enthusiasm for fixing things their secret but an unstated preference for biden over trump and the biden approach to the vaccine to trumps uh and their now very strong association of between being skeptical of vaccines and being a uh 0:30:2 benighted reactionary even independent of the trump stuff if you're an anti-vaxxer in educated circles it means you are a uh you are a neanderthal and so when this vaccine shows up they have every incentive to go along with whatever pfizer modern in the government say they have every incentive to look the other way whenever stories appear about problems with it and i'm not saying there is a problem it's it's not a very trustable i'm just glad that no normal person is gonna get it for months anyway so we can uh yes i am just asking questions i'll admit but come on someone has to 0:31:3

with this ***** like the vaccine language is so poisoned that you cannot say anything about it without becoming and it's like yeah those people are morons but also this in with biden in office this is going to be how they keep you in line is by contrasting what they want to do with the alternative in the form of the unreconstructed trump hordes who are so if everybody gets it and they're fine i'll take it and i'll go back out to eat fuddruckers here i come oh no it's gone i mean it's not gonna make it doesn't have a microchip in it that's stupid you couldn't even that technology if the technology to get a ***** microchip in you with a vaccine exists guess what we're already microchipped they would just put it in but i'm certainly not gonna say i 0:32:11 won't take it if if people are doing all right and there isn't every other every third person doesn't have permanent dream work space i'll did you just say terrified of liabilities who's liable for anything in this ***** country the ***** republicans are making sure that whatever meager stimulus we get is contingent upon a blanket immunity from of everybody from all of the people they killed in the public sect the private sector by making them work in unsafe conditions that's like the basic starting point of negotiations around everything else you can get enough money to prevent your child from starving to death but only if you give what wave your right to sue the person the ***** institution that got her sick in the first place yeah my 0:33:12 whole thing with all the ***** great reset uh anti-facts paranoia stuff is everything you're afraid of it's already there they don't need to microchip you no one needs to be microchipped you have a ***** phone you're taken care of apparently pfizer already has immunity so they are they before they even ***** negotiated the terms they knew it yeah like we don't all those uh so much of this terror and and especially on the right so much conspiracy thinking is like mid 20th century john birch ***** fluoride in the water and the thing is is that the stuff those because what they were 0:34:14 really horrified by was capitalism's inexorable monopolizing atomizing grasp but they couldn't see it because they had all the american dumbass ideology in their head and material interests uh that prevented them from seeing it but what they were worried about besides losing hierarchy what they were really worried about was was the the everything solid melting into air and that happened but it wasn't the communists who did it conspiracy theory holy ***** did you did you think of that bad for 0:35:15 business bro conspiracy theory is true crime for boys wow we have a winner there somebody gets the amazon gift card of the week on that one that is correct it serves the exact same purpose it is a fantasy of powerlessness it's a fantasy of uh of being

dominated and losing control the the fantasy of a victimhood that women engage with with true crime oh she was kidnapped walking uh her dog what happened next will horrify you and for the boys for whom that kind of fear is inaccessible because we're the ones who do that ***** well who could who could dominate us who could make us supine who could render us ball gagged and thrown in the trunk of a car the deep state or the reptoids or the bilderbergers or the international communist conspiracy but yeah in both cases it is a like gender-coded expression of underlying an eroticized feeling of uh that we that we that we have to eroticize in order to to live with because it is so so destabilizing and of course the the conditions that create both of those sensations are are both generated by the same underlying dynamic of social atomization blah blah you know you know the drill the whole this whole deal that we live in yeah like the conspiracy theory the the true conspiracy theory that all other conspiracy theories are are just a a sort of a blind man grasping an elephant refraction of is the international capitalist conspiracy and it's not a conspiracy but it's spoken of in language that has essentially been had its polarity reversed by the hegemonic ability of superstructural institutions like the media to define reality and to find our relationship with reality ***** it ben bernanke went on 60 minutes uh during the 2008 crisis and said uh when the fed lends to banks uh they just put numbers in the machine that doesn't mean anything it doesn't come from anywhere yes it is a banal take it's true but all things are true and this is one yeah we're only able to do that because we're the reserve currency but no matter what china and russia are doing we're going to be the reserve currency for the foreseeable future we could try to fix the economy with a direct massive injection of cash at the bottom of the distribution uh curve we could do that tomorrow helicopter dump bloop and that's what mmt says they say we could do that and the thing is yeah we could but the reason we don't the reason we don't do it isn't because at the top they don't think you can they know you can they don't want to because the interests that they embody and represent are opposed to it and therefore it's not going to happen so it's beside the point whether or not it's true it does not change the calculus of those in power because convincing them is not the question and even if you're saying to use it to convince regular people i'm sorry at the end of the day this is all noise and as much as we like to think that we can meme our way and lack off our way and frame and overton window our way to something that's really us justifying our contribution to the discourse because maybe all those voices blowing together will push the sale but the sale is is not it's not there yeah mmt is descriptively true but i don't understand if it is descriptively true all the arguments about it they seem premised on something else some idea that it means something that it's systematically true that it's that it's unless unless people organize to change the calculus of power nothing's going to change and i don't think that you do that with maybe down the line it can form like a a way to convince some ***** nerds in the media to give you a chance once you have established a real beachhead of power and are pushing forward but once with all else in in in left spaces it's putting the cart before the horse i wonder do you 0:41:50 get a choice of which vaccine you get has that been determined is it by states and one of them is one shot and one of they're both two shots damn that feels oh boy that's not great just getting people back for a second one this is gonna be i wish they were like bright green like the ***** in reanimator can we have like fun how much how much would it cost just put a little food food coloring in there just get that 0:42:54 like the radioactive green like ecto cooler looking thing from reanimator i think that would be pretty boss but speaking of putting cart before the horse a lot of people are like oh we have the vaccine well now it's going to be i mean okay fine it's good it's a great vaccine it does the job and people want to take it you don't even have to worry about the fact that what 35 40 of the population is going to resist taking it uh how are you going to get it to them do you really have a lot of faith in this country creating a transportation infra it's probably going to be like the ***** uh like the like the last day of trump's administration the my pillow guy is going to get a contract to like distribute them in like the ***** uh in his stupid pillows or just like a subcontractor have all of his delivery trucks right going around and his drivers are just shooting it out i mean unless we put it in the ***** mcburgers if we don't put 0:44:0 in the mc nuggets and and such i don't know how the hell it's i would be surprised if the the uh the coercive mechanism that they end up using to get people to take it is with people's jobs not the government because the same people who would say you know uh mulan labe come and take it i'm gonna barricade my family in my house and with my gun and kill you if you try to have the government forcibly vaccinate me would probably take it if their boss told them they'd be fired if they didn't and they probably would just whine about and then you've got all these guys who think 0:45:14 that they're fighting for liberty and think that they understand with the threat to human dignity just shrugging their shoulders and being ordered by their bosses to do something that they thought was fundamentally opposed to their their identity because it wasn't the government because these dumbasses think that there's some fundamental distinction between these but the main thing about when i say like it might not be it might not even work at the way it's supposed to and it won't matter is because by the time we find out it doesn't really work are we really all going to go back inside probably just accept higher risk of dying of covid as a fact of life and 0:46:16 have assimilated it just takes time to do it but you're at the place that republican policyholders wanted everybody to get on and then everything between march and whenever that date comes is essentially just the time it took to what undergirds the superstructure the economic base there would be no whistleblowers sure there'd be whistleblowers and i bet they'd be dismissed as anti-vaxx cranks and even if they weren't what's the big what happens even if the story gets out there it's gonna be assimilated by people who just what do they do all day assimilate news and then get annoyed about it and do i think uh this is kind of an interesting question do i think that um ***** i lost it uh do i think that covert response is like eugenics uh i think this is a perfect example of how a lot of these categories get confused and and all you know the the explanatory power getting getting removed from concepts that should otherwise be useful i would say that the covert response absolutely has a eugenic effect and that the distribution of infection and death which is disproportionately among the poor and therefore disproportionately among economically uh deprived or disproportionately economically deprived communities uh reduced any incentive among policymakers to actually deal with the virus and allowed them to do the most expedient thing which would have been harder to do if the demographic makeup of the victims had been different but it was not eugenic in its intent it was spend the least amount of money require the least amount of non-market social interaction basically uh and keep the ***** wheels meaning that was the actual that was the ins and it just it just so happens though that the function of the system creates things like eugenic uh uh disease outbreaks and and a a mass concentration of a miseration that is disproportionately felt along ethnic lines but the nature is one of profit extraction and i think that that's more than penetrate because that fact suggests certain other facts about the way to organize to majority white podcasters can keep working from home absolutely i would never complain about ***** what anything that i've had to suffer under covid i would never self-indulgently tweet about how miserable i am because i can't go to a bar or whatever because i am one of the most ***** privileged people on earth when it comes to like actually privilege not privileged discourse when it comes to being able to deal with uh covert without not have to risk my life or or see you know me have to risk the lives of family members just to ***** stay alive stay just keep my head above water and keep a roof over my head i'm insanely lucky so i would never ***** complain about it i know it's it's no i'm not i don't i wasn't thinking that uh i wasn't taking offense at that i was just acknowledging it's like yeah but honestly i feel like it's more ***** up it's it's less ***** up that i specifically get to live this way than how how hard it is for so many others to to live not that anyone should live the way i do the way i live should not exist but the the the removal from from uh the removal from precarity and the the anxiety and misery accompanying that or physical like physical bodily uh compromise i sound disingenuous yeah probably it's just i don't know what else to say about it you know it's like i can't i mean i could i could get a real job i and and i mean maybe i even would do that if i felt it would help any other person on earth have anything like have their i would not last one day as a crude and i think that's one of the reasons that i was so entranced by the croods because it's it's a world that i could never live within it is fully alien and i just imagine those what's it like to be a crood and i feel like if i could ever really imagine myself living as a crood loving as a crude if i could ever find myself in that mental place then on that day i feel like i would finally have achieved the ability to inhabit any consciousness and will have truly transcended the god the croods came out in 2013. jesus christ wild seven so all the kids who saw the croods when they were seven are now 14 they don't want to watch the croods and the kids who are seven now weren't alive when the croods came out now maybe they watched the croods you know on video or something but or i guess that's it is it like you had the croods and you were a kid and now you're grown up and no that's not long enough i guess i don't know i don't know how adults aren't watching the crude ***** like it's pixar anymore and by the way i hope adults aren't watching pixar anymore i hope we got over that phase collectively where you had to pretend that those are uh real challenging artistic tales for grown-ups it's fine to watch them and have fun with them but people wanted to turn them into more than they were i guess that's it it's like croods 2 is for your parents like oh croods that one's not too bad i could i could stand the croods okay we'll watch croods too in which case over time there's only going to be sequels and we're not going to even get the occasional small foot small foot that was one of the two yeti or sasquatch themed children's films that came out in the last couple years what's the name of the other one anybody see that one zendaya abominable that's it zendaya is mishu the missing link that's it damn there were three ***** usually only get two in a year we do need a crude's origin story where they're where it's like the croods uh like the croods ancestors as uh like very early hominids maybe or uh the aquatic apes if you believe that theory they could have croods like the crood's great-great-great-great-great-grandparents or aquatic apes or modern-day crudes you could do like cloud atlas with croods throughout the ages like different croods at different times oh some people are asking about me about jimmy dore and i don't care uh but somebody has a wonderful quote that i want to end on because this is the only question you should ask yourself about any of these these uh left wing media flap doodles i'm a jimmy dore fan i don't care what you guys think he's entertaining if you like it if you're entertained by it then what that's all that you're actually talking about that's all you're actually talking about if you like jimmy doris because his specific like brand of like catharsis and like screaming at people and yelling at enemies like i mean i've done my fair share yelling at people that's the reason that people tune into entertainment if that hits your pleasure center fine if you find that hectoring and unpleasant and don't like it don't think and there's no value-add with like insight that you would want to be entertained then i get that too but whether he's right or bridges the embankments and cuts they blasted and dug with their sweat and their guts they never drank water about whiskey by pints and the shantytowns rang with their songs and their fights navigator navigator rise up and be strong the morning is here and there's work a few tons of this earthly delight yes we'll shift a few tons of this earthly delight and mark on this land we'll see no scene ends still away uh for commerce reverse fortunes were made landslide and rock class i got buried so deep 0:1:1 then now deep in oh ***** definitely not like the peaceful they sleep hi everybody i'm back outside it rain it snowed like crazy the other day and now we've got some serious accumulation around here see those see that guys yeah yep we got we got some real uh we got some real snowfall here i'll see that in the in the door there nice gotta say very surprised at it kind of thought they stopped doing that in new york before march but it's nice not too cold it's like 30. so it's beginning to look a lot like christmas ron johnson my senator the guy who defeated my first political hero 0:2:4 russ feingold that was a tough one and then real kick of the dick when he beat him in the rematch which i kind of assumed hillary really did a number in 2016 on the democrats well obama did a number on the democrats in general but man that guy is uh as politicians go he's dumb i actually my cousin is friends with his son and was at his son's wedding like they were college roommates together and he said that he went to ranjan and he's a friend of the kid and he's a friend of ron johnson he's a good libertarian like all guys of his age and demographic cohort uh and he said that when he went to visit his house which is a big gaudy mcmanion as you can imagine there was a big flat screen playing fox news in every tv and they were all on 0:3:7 that guy is a ***** senator so that's cool what are you going to do what's the bench in them in wisconsin to beat him what is that what is the weight what way can a democrat win an election now at this point how can a democrat win an election in this country given what they are as a party beyond you know house seats that are all literally written for them to govern in and um you know i tried to talk to my cousin about johnson what a joke his whole small business because he's he's one of these he was a guy who he is a beautiful boater he owns like a construction in this company before he decided to run for con senate and uh he got the money to start 0:4:8 it for his uh i don't wear shorts when it's outside when it's cold on purpose as a flex i have done it occasionally i have i i will admit that i have done the thing where you wear like a sweatshirt and uh shorts i've done that but i don't i don't try to try to big dog my cold tolerance although it is pretty high i will admit croods anybody seen the croods too yet what are they what's the take it does it improve or uh on any does it does it expand the mythos of any in any way do we know more about the crudes universe do we get any uh end credit sequences where we find out that 0:5:10 they're gonna join like a crude's avengers type situation i would like to know i've actually never been to the house on the rock which uh shameful for a wisconsinite that's one of our number one tourist traps but i've heard only bad things i've heard that it is a huge it's literally just a giant pile of junk that is there for you to look at like the most denuded type of pure uh like most photographed barn in america type deal but i haven't been there i don't know that's just what i've heard that's why i heard i have of course been to like wisconsin dells and i i'm i'm a little annoyed though that i have never been to talison which i think it would be cool eagle river of course up north i've been frequently people keep asking about the jimmy dore 0:6:18 aoc thing i think i've made my position pretty clear what difference this is this is all about affect it's about there's aoc she's in office i can't do anything about that one way or the other i can't affect her behavior in any way what i can do is have an affect towards her i can think she's on my side or i can think she's against me i can boo and hiss at her when i see her on tv or i can clap is she a face or is she a heel and this whole discussion is a meta-narrative where you get to figure out in conversation with your favorite left media figures whether you think aoc is a heel or a face and like if you're going to consume political media and invest it with emotion that's not an insignificant question you have to have an answer to that everybody in this ***** drama that we're experiencing this public this cafe uh political reality everybody has to have a face or heal uh value for you to have programmed so that 0:7:22 you can get your your joy out of having a reaction to when they do things to get mad at them or to get happy when they do it both ways to root for or against them that is the narrative that you're engaging in and you have to know who is the clawed applaud and who are the people to poo and hiss and this is how we figure that out in the biden era without trump being there the question now is much more uh is going to be much more pronounced who in the people now governing are to be booed and hissed and who is to be cheered that's it i don't really i mean i can't i don't watch wrestling i mean i don't want to sound ***** uh you know i that sounds very uh pretentious and and uh and above it all like oh you you peasants dealing with this it's just for me i can't i can't get enough emotional investment in it because all i can keep thinking is if aoc did do a uh first of all if you decide as a person if we decide 0:8:23 there's no way to decide worst of all whether she should do it we all decide all right aoc yeah she should push for a medicare for a vote okay what now you called her call her office you email her you text her you you tweet at her you dm her okay that's gonna happen i mean do you think that's gonna have an effect and the argument i think is well it might not affect her but it will build organizational capacity no it's more posting pressure works when it is coordinated nothing can be coordinated by this media that was what the dream of the bernie campaign was that we could top down this ***** and i don't blame anybody for including myself for participating in that because it was the only option that seemed available to the atomized american 0:9:26 uh subject trying to figure out how to rebuild a political identity it was the only option so we took it and it took us as far as it could go but it's not it's the horse is dead the horse dropped dead halfway uh into town and you got to walk the rest of the way carrying uh the little girl got bit by the snake like the end of but also if you say no no that she shouldn't do that what does that mean and there's the if you if she does do it all right here's the people who voted for medicare for all here's the people voted against it i guess the question is like you as a per as a voter can say ah i will not support them anymore like you'll flush people but we know and the thing more importantly is those votes don't mean anything how many people campaigned on medicare for all in 20 20 20 to try to steal birdie's left wing credentials including 0:10:27 the ***** vice president-elect they can say anything and in a context where a vote is dead in and more importantly even if that did give you something to do the thing to do disappears into the wind with every other media based political organizational tactic work everything else is secondary i don't care about any of the ***** specifics of any of these arguments and about weighing like jimmy dore's soul against the feather to see if he can go to ***** the afterlife or aoc for that matter it doesn't ***** matter you're just and if you decide aoc is a is a is not a heel she's a face well good now you've got jimmy dore he could be your heel you got somebody to boo out of it you've got somebody to invest you you know the sides so that you 0:11:29 can you can cheer on the people that you want and boo there's no left there is no there is nothing to ris there's no but the main thing it is like the real like i i'm not saying that this is what people have in mind but this is why they think they're arguing but the material under reality of all this is that the biden era is going to be a new landscape and it's going to create audiences for left commentary and this moment as the uh administration shapes into being is when sides are called when 0:12:30 audiences and uh and creators align themselves and this is what's happening it's the sorting mechanism these controversies in addition to being the balls of string we can bat around function as sorting mechanisms for who so that's that on that i'm done

CUSHVLOG 129. ICE STATION LIBRA

talking about it and of course that means that that to me that that's why my whole job now is has thrown me into sort of a constant anxiety uh uh cycle because i'm more and more convinced every day that this that this illusory uh political uh reality that we invest our emotions in is a fundamental hindrance to our ability to recognize 0:13:31 the the conditions around us and to act from them but i also depend on this you know for for all of a lot of the good things in my life so how do i square that circle and that's the question i have to ask myself every day and the chat the the answer uh the answer i think it has to come every day too you know i have to answer that day nothing matters see that's the other problem is i don't want to say that i everything 0:14:32 matters but the things that we have charged with political meaning don't but we can charge other things with political meaning things closer to us things that we can engage with more concretely and more satisfactorily and less uh self-defeatingly but they cannot be prescribed from a abstract point that is another circle that i have to the grill is actually covered somebody's asking about the grill the grill is where is it there it is look at that puppy look at how much ***** snow is on that baby love it the weather outside is delightful i say really does remind me a home yeah i'm going to get old man about it right now going to get prustian and uh and crotchety but 0:15:33 growing up in uh uh wisconsin specifically coastal wisconsin next to the great lake next to lake michigan which had always a lake effect which meant that even in a state that was already very very snow covered during the winter the lake counties would get even more uh yes it's coastal ***** you the great lakes are the third coast sir if you want to get really like uh wacky about ***** if you want like really wax you know like uh 19th century uh like crank historiography geographic destiny style on america it's kind of interesting that the places that vote democratic but anyway uh 0:16:34 so coastal wisconsin they get more snow even than inland and so the winter when i was growing up was uh my memories are of huge snow banks and king of the hill and my ***** jeans getting wet going into playing at recess and wearing moon boots and kindergarten it's a it's a it's a very vivid mindscape of like so yeah i'm actually kind of like being chilling out here and seeing the big piles yeah a lot of it has to do with population density obviously people live near water for a million reasons and the more 0:17:35 people there are in the america it just requires you to break down a lot of the more uh reactionary social uh responses that really can only only maintain themselves in relatively stable population uh population densities and low power i that's why turkey is very interesting as like a middle eastern united states i know people israel isn't the american uh isn't the america of the middle east it is just america turkey is the america of the middle east and they got a big broad middle swath of sullen uh uh religiously uh fanatic or religiously devout uh uh islamist sort of conservatives uh where uh where like devotion to is to sunni islam is also correlated to neoliberal 0:18:36

economic somehow and then on the coast you've got the uh the cosmopolitan types who uh who who still cling to kamal uh out of turks secularism and are more you know left and if anyone ever wants uh proof of the of the argument that turkey is the united states of the middle east a couple years ago there was some dumb kerfuffle about an american uh minister who got detained in turkey because they thought he was connected to the goulan network and trump did like retaliatory uh like sanctions on the lira and it's and it just the lira had a crisis it like dropped hugely dropped 0:19:38 in value very quickly uh and in response there was a nationwide turkish campaign to have people film themselves destroying american products and one i remember distinctly was a guy yelling into the screen uh cutting a promo against america with a hammer in his hand and then getting down on a driveway and smashing a line of iphones and i just remember thinking yes that is better there we are flynn did try to black bag mulan and milwaukee does not have a nice flag milwaukee has a 0:20:40 terrible flag we're talking flags a couple weeks ago the milwaukee flag is embarrassing some clip art ass ***** and then wisconsin itself has a load a bottom tier bottom five flag somebody showed me uh that there's like a vexology uh society that ranks uh the american flags the amer the flags of the americas rather like all the states and provinces of the united states and canada i don't know if mexico but definitely those two and number one was new mexico which correct and uh wisconsin was in the bottom five yeah wisconsin's flags has the words 14 1848 on it not 1488 although you could do that if you wanted to that'd be a clever bit of uh culture jamming uh because that's when it was founded but that's just dumb why are you doing that 0:21:41 why are you doing that why would you do that arizona's is also good i would say that arizona new mexico the best flags both of them that's one and two for me in the united states and that's kind of amazing that they were the last two continental states brought into the union they like it had taken that long for uh like modern ideas of aesthetics to to carry on because the earlier flags are from states that were brought into the union in the middle of the 19th century the florida a very florid era you know florida pros uh over um over furnished rooms and overly intricate flags here's a miner and here's a farmer and here's a sailboat and here's some lead bricks and here's a bushel of wheat literal overly literally don't have to describe so much 0:22:42 dude i gotta say i think that there is a sign that maybe if we haven't gotten better at some arguments in america maybe we just have so many more pressing idiocies that we can't remember the old stuff but the fact that michigan's that mississippi's new no non-confederate flag says in god we trust having grown up in the 90s i swear to god that would have been a bigger deal if that had happened then putting god on a state flag because that's the kind of ***** that people actually talked about in like the late 90s early aughts like ***** manger scenes and in town squares and

CUSHVLOG 129. ICE STATION LIBRA

***** and like sure like conservatives and people still talk about that stuff but there was a while for well that was a thing that that liberals love to bat around you know 0:23:44 this idea of really uh enforcing a separation of church and state it was during that period especially after uh bush became president when everyone on the liberal left was terrified of some theocracy being imposed and there was this this like militant secularism and then now nobody cares about nobody gives a ***** nobody ***** hears which is why there's that ***** documentary that somebody just made about the church of satan suing to allow have baphomet go next to a manger scene in a ***** city hall front yard and it's like this is dude that was made in 2019 or something like that what the ***** this movie is minimal 10 years too late yeah 0:24:54 there is no more reddit religion than church of satan which is just libertarianism with capes anton zander levy was explicit about this he basically just took uh randy and objectivism and added ritual that's it neither of those things are appealing like ritual is appealing if it if it speaks to community and it speaks to connectivity this is literally ritualizing the psychosis of libertarianism baphomet was uh this is funny that like in this yeah alpha met uh is a corruption of the the name muhammad and it was uh i think it was when the knights templar were suppressed by uh king philip 0:25:58 i believe of france and they were all tortured into uh confessing to witchcraft so that the king could repudiate the debt he owed to the templars and seize all of their ***** uh money and property uh the one they they confessed to worshipping baphomet and that was probably just that was just probably muhammad you know because these guys remember this was a crusading order and the bad guys were not the bad guy was not the devil at that point the bad guy was the muhammadian the saracen and oh we got oh there's another thing a very distinct childhood memory is this is great i can i can chew my own chew now and you can't even tell other than the when i you know leaned out so like this thing that these ***** it is a reddit religion 0:26:59 whoever said that was correct it is reddit religion it is an attempt to uh reverse engineer meaning out of the arid spiritual desert that you find yourself after you've committed yourself to the rationalist perspective that is the that was the default like uh world view of the internet at its beginning because it was begun by white dudes because it was begun by the people who pioneered and perfected that uh that de-sacralization effort that that profaning of life profaning of the world and that's the final outcome of it that's the final expression of that drive and at the end of it you find yourself alone in every sense what do you do you got to find your way back but you've cut the cord you can't find the ***** the breadcrumb trail is gone so you have to make it up as you go along and what you do is ***** like ***** the church 0:28:0 of satan it's like let's get some ritual let's get some let's get some magic and put it in the world in the form of a bunch of uh gross uh california people rubbing each other while wearing capes now you know that's not talking about ***** like crowley and you know the esoteric tradition of magic which is is not doing that but church of satan is just like certainly but that's like at a higher level social strata where like social bonds remain intact longer because you're perpetuating a class project at least in the you know at the elite level of masonry but i think for most guys 0:29:1 it's just it's and then even at the top levels it's just like a kiwanis cub for the rich and powerful at which point once again conspiracy becomes uh an obsolete concept because you're just describing capitalism and how it functions in social terms like we know we know in other countries how these things work like house house how social orders are used to identify uh uh potential wielders of power at a young age or a relatively young age and allow for them to seek connections to other powerful people and create networks of trust and a mutual uh understanding of the world that can allow for you know different currents and of power to develop uh in south africa after uh the british left after world war ii and uh the nationalist party which had been like a uh the um which had been the like dutch nat essentially the boar 0:30:2 nationalist party that had resisted uh british rule before the war uh was opposed to the the like the the liberal party which was like the dominant sort of collaborationist party uh with the british and then after the war the nationalist party became the dominant party because they were essentially the the party of national liberation like the congress party in india or the anc later and it meant that you had this uh rule like the national rule within uh in south africa was by this this middle uh this tier of professional uh members of the dutch reform church basically these these these uh afrikaners because remember there are tons of brits descended people uh in south 0:31:3 africa there are also a bunch of indians of all k of all classes in south africa and jews shout out to the friedland family but the the party of post-war uh rule was the nationalist uh uh uh afrikaner party and how it ruled was in public through you know its offices the prime minister and uh and the parliament and and a formal democracy that included white voters uh but in practice it was a cabal within the greater uh bore ruling class of like uh high level uh industrialists and uh high-level professionals both political and bureaucratic uh and academic who mingled socially and through those social relationships established positions of power and in south 0:32:4 africa the uh real recruiters of people into a power structure was more than the votes in parliament uh was the membership of an organization called the afrikaner brother which is uh dutch south which is uh afrikaner for the afrikaner brotherhood and it was like a masonic society and uh and people who uh joined it early and showed promise moved through the ranks uh that's where heinrich uh reward who was like the post-war sort of mastermind of apartheid uh that's where he came up and they ran the whole thing a whole show behind the scenes but like it wasn't really

behind the scenes you know what i mean and it's i think it's very similar with us with all these like seemingly these these organizations like the bilderbergers and the trilateral and and the masons and ***** bohemian grove they might honestly they might ritually uh have ***** ***** kids together in fact i wouldn't be surprised if they do but essentially the same way that the shriners get together and get shit-faced and used to get shit-faced and watch like stag movies on a bed sheet you know same deal blowing off steam making social connections but all they're really doing is giving a chance for uh the meritocracy as it exists to work its way through uh to work people through the highest virtue signal some more what virtues should i signal who would like to see who has a virtue let's do my cameo who has a virtue they would like to see me signal i'll signal it for you signal piety hmm this is tough doing it self-consciously is difficult you have to really have it built into your uh your online identity to just be able to instinctively virtue signal i guess it could just be like uh uh i i pray every day is it is that what it is just like saying that you do it i don't know i don't i don't really know somebody keeps asking about the silmarillion i am not the talking guy dude i'm much more george rr martin give me the horny uh the horny middle of fake middle ages not the one not the not the ins not the whole cell in cell one where nobody's ***** i read i read uh i read the hobbit in sixth grade because it was a sign i watched the lord of the rings movies uh and the first two hobbit movies because that's when i saw that was when i would see basically every big movie in theaters we will not get the winds of winter that's fine though honestly the best thing that ben and off and weiss ever did for george rr martin is take the pressure off because i got to believe that people don't bug him as much about the books now that we kind of how are you ever going to be even if it came out tomorrow and it was and it was actually it wrapped the whole uh would it really feel it would it hit the same as it would have before you know what i mean that whole the whole incident with how the show ended and honestly any ending i think would have taken the wind out of the sales to some extent even if it nailed it maybe especially if it nailed it either way like the show in our minds they got intertwined at a certain point and like anything we're gonna read in the book is just gonna feel like a shadow world it's gonna feel like some some path not taken and like dimly perceived i'm i'm gonna watch the prequel show probably because i do like the lore and and you know if you get annoyed with benioff and weiss uh at least all this stuff has been written so you don't have to worry going but i do uh what's it gonna be about i think it's about the targaryen invasion i don't know like if you were gonna do a prequel wouldn't it seems like that's not the most interesting angle you take like obviously the dance of dragons seems to be to be the obvious one why wouldn't you why wouldn't you do that one that's like it's got a built-in narrative it's got drama it's got it's why would you do the dance dragons uh but if you're not gonna do the dance of dragons uh so you're just gonna do like aegon's conquest which is narratively has none of the back and forth action but then again i don't i don't know what this i think it's about aegon's conquest but uh but either way i wouldn't be interested in that honestly give me i originally thought they were going to do something about the age of heroes but 0:38:20 i guess not i don't know i should oh we'll see i might i might be over it by the time any of this stuff airs and i might have evolved beyond the need to keep up with who do the horsey people represent the dothraki or the mongols or like i mean essentially all step i don't have thoughts on the silmarillion leave me alone it's getting cold out here that's like karth isn't cars basically like medieval baghdad like bravos is venice 0:39:21 but i think karth is like medieval just feels a little out of the way to be constantly i thought like maybe volantis is that rome this first this person keeps asking this baffling question that i have to talk to uh when did i first realize that power is real and that my and my beliefs don't really have any of it when did i first realize i was powerless well i mean we all just we all realize we're powerless as children and then 0:40:25 we spend the rest of our lives trying to delude ourselves into believing that we aren't i guess when i relearned that i was powerless probably in the hospital bed when i was stricken with a i mean a little snow guy where should we call him what should we call him i'm taking i'm taking names grogu that's not bad grogu's not bad that's kind of funny ah i'm trying to make his head a little bit bigger crood well maybe that'll be his last name he's snow grew that's not bad i'm going to try to give him 0:41:26 a little apologize to anybody who listens to these on the podcast format because you're not going to be able to see this so this might not feel like it's stop that's good yeah maybe i'll call trying to kind of give him a face i don't think this really works i was trying to use these these uh filter tips kinda looks freaky amber frost that's funny that's good in fact i'll go with that this is amber it's too bad we don't use 0:42:28 screenshots for the intro for the covers of the youtube of these like that would be a good one that would be a good one for the yeah that's good with the eyes it's like who could have predicted that that would packing snow yeah cool this is awesome 0:43:30 having cold hands afterwards oh communism is when no funko pops i don't know if that's true but i sure hope so because if not what are you even fighting for if the world you're fighting for has funko pops in there you someone keeps asking about the submarine and swear sweater god people people i am getting trolled in the comments i keep forgetting that not everyone can be as uh much a perfect avatar of good faith interaction as i hey you know it's interesting trump has trumpet been around lately 0:44:39 he's still contesting the election but mostly just through tweets he hasn't been doing any rallies or anything he seems i think he's checked out i'm guessing is that is that he is coming to terms like he is this feels obviously this is me just pulling things out of my ass but you know we've had four years of this guy now i i feel like i got a vibe um it feels like this is him hitting the end of the kubleros cycle and accepting that he's gonna have to leave i mean there was that piece that said that he says he's gonna not gonna leave but he's a he's a ***** ***** the thing that needs to be remembered about him beyond anything else is that he is a ***** ***** which means that he will leave the white house on that day to go do something else like a rally and 0:45:40 then just not come back he's not going to allow something happening as humiliating as being carried out by ***** u.s marshals there's zero percent chance as much as it would be hilariously aesthetically gratifying to see such a thing and as much as liberals have been jacking off the prospect for the past four years um somebody's asking how evil is george h.w bush compared to other presidents i don't think that's 0:46:41 a terribly helpful question when you're trying to you know understand how power works or anything but i do think that they're probably there have to be right because everything has gradation so there are gradations of evil within the the presidential bestiary so there are more and less evil presidents like i do think that that's true yes they're all evil to a minimal threshold but past that threshold there has to be grades because there has to be grades and everything so that means you can talk about it it's just it's not tied to questions of you know power it's not it's not quite it doesn't tell us anything about you know how power operates because mostly they're operating out of a a uh not evil but out of what they imagine to be necessity and sure their evil is what makes them see it that way but it's it's not a it's not generative of action because because most presidents are largely constrained in their actions by the circumstances of their presidency and as such their freedom to allow evil to 0:47:42 be the predominant motivator of their actions is constrained also so as soon as you make that assumption and you clear that and say we're not actually talking about anything that matters we're just talking about like idly who's the most evil like who just seems like their brain was the most desolate snake pit there are more and less ones the least evil ones i would say the ones whose brains if you entered them would feel like a human brain like there would be a mid there would be a similar amount of you know emotional uh connection to the world that you have lincoln john quincy adams um maybe jfk because like he wasn't a good guy but and he was very callow but uh or he might have been a stone psychopath i don't really know enough about fdr i think yes yes definitely fdr uh probably even teddy roosevelt even though he 0:48:46 was a complete psycho um james garfield for sure honestly no i don't think either of them maybe eisenhower grant definitely but we're all talking about you know this is slim pickings and the degrees are all relatively low what about the people who if you went into their head uh would just find would define snakes would find reptiles would find a cold-blooded detachment and lizard-like hostility to to everything other than

themselves uh george h.w bush's top five for sure 100 andrew jackson also up there 0:49:47 donald trump personally wicked but too cowardly to do the stuff too cowardly and lazy bill clinton 100 percent for our sacko crumbo reagan i honestly don't know if you can use and use these concepts because by the time he even got close to power he had essentially stopped thinking in a conventional way so what can you even say about it maybe california how many more presidents will there be that's a good 0:51:7 question i mean in many ways it is absurd that we're having another one after trump and i did say that one thing that i was repulsed by was the idea of us trying to act like it never happened and i have to say that the specifics of biden being president mean that we can't do that as much as you might want to pretend you can because biden's presidency will be so trump-like in so many ways and the only real difference you're gonna see is that the media that spent four years uh trying to hang trump for every transgression against norms and propriety will spend those four years trying to tell you actually no these are all good and don't worry about them and they're fine and it's not bad and it's actually uh it's actually racist for you to think that this is a gibbering old senile maniac profaning all of these hallowed institutions that he's supposedly to be charged with shepherding not gonna be ***** holly get the ***** out of here the people who say it's holly are captured by the fundamental delusion 0:52:8 that there is something more authentically grounded in like right-wing spectacle of politics than there is on amongst the democrats because because if you're on the left and you see id paul being weaponized by the democrats and turning people into just these uh these people who are allergic to class politics you look to the lot right and you think well because they don't have these mechanisms of of coercion then that means that a populist message will like find some sort of real kindling at the grassroots that is impossible on the left but they have their own set of dumb culture war id paul ***** that decapitates their br the brain stem of most of their voters and makes it impossible for you to appeal to them any more than you can democratic voters and so if josh hawley does make a pitch to be uh the intellectually consistent 0:53:11 uh national populist heron volk inheritor of pure ideological trumpism he will get smashed and destroyed by either trump himself if he just decides to deal with losing by spending four years running to get it back and then winning to make it up for it and then hope he can die somewhere along the way so he can just stop or donald trump jr or some ***** carnival barking clown show who can press the brain stem of republican voters the same way that the ***** dnc cynically presses the brain stem on the everybody says is going to be josh hawley that because they think well if i was a republican voter i would vote for holly by the way i found out that apparently noah holly has a twin brother i believe who is a uh show runner for i like a network 0:54:13 procedural it's literally like donald uh kaufman and uh and charlie from ***** uh adaptation it's astounding like you've got the sellout brother who's just making shows about like horny cops and then you've got the pretentious brother who thinks he's doing elevated cuisine not flipping burgers and apparently they hate each other that's hilarious to me and it makes the third season twin plot with ewan mcgregor really make sense because twins that's not really something from holly nobody likes dan crenshaw dan crenshaw is trying to take a the specific liberal democratic cultural uh soy discord spectacle like the the language of marvel universe and use it to be and use it to appeal to republicans and there is like some sort of base to that i think i and that's just well this is a language that everybody is absorbing even if they are re republicans they watch these movies even if they think hollywood is filled with pedophiles who hate the president they still watch them because they're what's on so why not use that familiar language to your benefit that cultural costume going on saturday night live and stuff but that might get you some tv appearances and it might get you uh trending once in a while on twitter but it's not going to let you raise to the ranks of the political public establishment because the people who make decisions on who to uh send to the halls of power uh not your little bitch-ass gerrymandered uh signature district where they just took all the white people around houston and put them into a little comma for you like having to vote run statewide in in a big ass state like texas or run for a national office those people are not kids stewing in marvel soy banter those are old ***** who want ***** appealing to them which is screaming red-faced pissed off people like themselves so crenshaw's got no ***** uh legs as far as i can see and only one eye but again don't know what can happen that's just how it feels dan crude shaw now there we go he might win something if he changed his name to crude shaw and he ran in like a uh in a bear skin like he redressed like a caveman and he and he took his uh fake eyeball out and didn't wear the eye patch and just had the hole because that's how a crude shaw that's the reboot he needs to become a president it would be funny if he ended up marrying uh marrying aoc marriage oh i wanted to say this before i stopped because i'm going to leave soon but i wanted to mention this today and i know i just talked about it yesterday but i feel like i conjured something into being uh today a bungler came out with his list of the shows and movies he liked watching in 2020 and i gotta say i felt like a baby cyclo on a diet of straight karbango cause it was just my it was everything i've been ***** saying about this guy laid out there he like uh uh he likes this this perfect he is a perfect amalgam of all these middle class middlebrow uh professional class taste and people say oh he just had an intern write that i disagree that's true of most politicians like a lot of these lizards just sit in the room and stare at a wall when they're or are like doing ritual sacrifice ***** they don't watch tv they don't give a ***** like that's one thing that veep got very right is that most of these people are totally disengaged from popular culture because they're not they don't ***** sit around people we do that because we we're caged little hamsters and we have nothing else to do to soothe ourselves and get make sure our fur doesn't get patchy these people have the ***** halls of power and their own megalomania to ***** satisfy every moment of their lives they don't need to sit there and ***** watch tv so they don't know they don't watch tv they don't watch sports uh but i believe obama does when you look at what he has done since he's been president you look the way he's lived his whole life because that's why he's doing it that's why he ran for president in the first place and was president so that he could watch himself be president and then tell that story again and again to just to live as a narrative and so he has to watch things like the way that trump watches uh trump like that's the other thing politician uh like the president he doesn't watch fake uh cable news people who are actually you know in in in connection to real power don't watch cable news i mean they might have it on in their rooms to like watch it if they're on it they make sure everybody sees it and like they use it as like a as a touchstone to see like oh what's the what's today's scoop but they're not sitting there watching it the way that you would have to to to pile up the hours that trump does but trump sits and watches it obama watches those shows and he watches those movies and when he came out today with those and people were saying they were either saying he didn't really see these or they were saying he didn't get it how could he have liked this how could he have watched the boys doesn't he understand that he is the vaught corporation in that movie or whatever doesn't he understand that he's homelander how could he have watched bukuru the movie about uh rich uh white americans going to hunt poor uh brazilians for sport and it's all about income inequality is a and a global like uh racial uh apartheid and it's like a maoist third world text how could he have watched that and they think well he got he got the wrong he didn't get the right message from it he didn't get it he his brain wouldn't receive it i my my belief and i've said it before i'll say it again is that he gets it he gets everything that you get out of this show he got everything out of parasite that you got out of it you got everything out of bukaru that you got on everybody you got everything out of the boys and everything out of the good lord bird which he put on the list and that oh that got me yeah baby yeah good lord bird obama watching this show that's supposed to be about john brown and loving it but i don't understand how how could he he must not understand it no he gets it he gets it it doesn't matter because you think to yourself well i watch this stuff and if obama watches this stuff and it doesn't he if he had those beliefs he would act out of them but he is where he is because he has made certain mental assumptions about the way the world works that have essentially allowed him to take any cultural critique and rationalize it as he is absorbing it which is in microcosm the way that all cultural recuperated we get this thunder bolt of of like rel uh political uh revelation from these works of art that have these like creed core against a world that is unjust and we see the injustice around us but then we have to deal with reality because to reject the order as such is to put 1:3:39 ourselves at risk and we don't and so we figure out a reason that we can't act now and for most of us there's nothing immoral about that because we don't really have any power anyway what we do one way or the other is minimally impactful and so we really do have a right to ourselves to at a certain point take our own self-interest first now the thing that makes guys like obama guys like obama that narcissistic megalomania uh makes it so that they are able to at every moment abstract and rationalize away from the reality of the horror of like what amer what the world is that a movie like bukuru symbolizes or the need for like revolutionary resistance to uh to oppression as such and a refusal to uh to accommodate oneself that john 1:4:41 brown represented in the good lord bird and feel it because you're supposed to but then well i'm only one president and that implications of that are uncomfortable because it might it means then that the fact that we consume the good art the good media does not confer upon us inherent virtues i don't think it makes you bad but it doesn't necessarily compose part of your virtues and that is destabilizing because of how much we have built this jenga tower of self-conception out of by the way i'm sure it's not pronounced bukuru but i don't know it's it's it's brazilian it's portuguese language name for town bukaru i don't know bakurao bakarao that's not even close 1:5:44 but he got the point he watched bukaru and said yep uh global north uh slaving and exploiting uh global sound uh yep race racial apartheid regimes uh inscribed uh at the barrel of god uh but it's more complicated than that of course you know uh uh there's uh there are cultural pathologies at work that undermine uh the ability of communities to uh resist that oppression but compromises have to be i mean it's just and the thing is that the thing his brain is doing is all of our brains are doing it every moment to allow us to do things like you know buy a phone that has literal slave 1:6:45 labor in it every this thing here these things have ***** coltan in it that was pulled out of the ground at gunpoint like huge segments of our ability to live are are are necessitated by uh slave labor because you couldn't pay someone enough to do the stuff that needs to be done at least because we've decided not to invest our capital in saving that labor because it's cheaper to just compel it but the thing is we don't have a lot of power over that individually and so we have to make accommodations or else what you're going to fly over to the drc and try to save like break people out of a coltan mine with a shot you would not work it would it would and so we may we all make these compromises the higher up you go in power the mind it's it's more and more compromised by essentially one's evil one's ability to uh disconnect 1:7:46

from everyone else around them and disconnect from the world and seek decide to put themselves at the seat of uh all meaning evil so that means you just got to watch the stuff and enjoy it the same way you can listen to politics podcasts and pay attention to politics you can watch your streaming shows and watch movies i know i do but doing those things have the same uh they have the same moral weight as any other consumer action which is to say they're they they're either neutral or just bad by virtue of the fact that they're contributory to a system that is bad but they're also necessary to the maintenance of like economic function so that so maybe at the end of the day it's they're all neutral they're neutral and so anything else you get from them has to come from their aesthetic elements which are not nothing art means something art is always going to mean something but it doesn't mean what we have decided it means any more than politics does because you can't expect anything from anybody in political power political power responds to pressure that's it well our political i'm sorry political power is manifested in pressure manifested in the ability to to compel and right now the reason things are so terrible the reason that we're watching this monstrous response to covet allowing this this any chance of even minor uh economic aid to people who are on the verge of starvation being parried down to nothing and some disgusting know-nothing wisconsin cheesehead ***** just ***** in everyone's mouth and calling it a ***** chocolate sundae is because there is no there is no fear these people have they fear nothing from us they fear no consequence from us not even i mean obviously not personally but also not even professionally or for their careers because we are not a public that can express anything other than the disaggregated individual confused selfish selfless irrational jabbering uh imp political uh uh identity of 100 million people or and as long as it's that their job is just essentially to read demographic waves and figure out where to pitch messages to to maintain a structure that is essentially self-perpetuating we have to put ***** uh we have to put branches in the spokes ourselves by creating a but creating a will out of this disaggregation and then imposing it and saying you do this all right it's cold as ***** out here i'm so i think this might be my la i might do another one tomorrow we'll see uh but i think it will be the last one either today or tomorrow will be the last one for like about a week so that for the christmas week i will be otherwise occupied and i don't want to have to worry about uh you know keeping up a schedule uh so we'll be back the week after and so wednesday the 30th will probably not be the first time back but but it will be i i can at least say that there will be a stream then and that we'll talk about the last half of the first part of richard white's the republic for which it stands chapters four through eight and we'll talk about that i'm reading chapter four right now uh the one about home and it's very interesting uh he frames everything he frames like the domestic ideal that i've been talking about that like the yeoman self-sufficiency as the abstract concept of a 1:13:4 home and he charts the way that it uh sort of constellates throughout uh political rhetoric and culture at the time it's pretty good all right talk to you guys soon either tomorrow or in like a week bye because many more things i can tell my rock sack has offend me pillow the heather is off bend me bed and sooner than part from the mountain i think i would rather be dead i'm a rambler i'm a remember manchester way i get all my pleasure lord 0:1:4 mold and way i may be a wage slave on monday but i am a free man on sunday ah i'm doing a rare weekend rare mid-afternoon show early afternoon show because one i'm gonna be gone next week no streams two i wanted to get a look at the backyard during the day so you could see some of this cool snow because it's cool and the snow is cool and i like snow and i'm glad that it snowed because i kind of had given up on ever seeing a nice got all that guy in there delightful oh boy oh boy people are gonna start puking and it's the good stuff it's the good packy stuff the stuff you 0:2:7 want not that wet ***** that you can't do anything with this is good packing snow good i'm begging you apart and i think the i think my ***** is broken here so it might fall at any moment oh no it's snowed in wisconsin it's known over thanksgiving didn't it i mean i guess this is the first winter snow but like it has already snowed in oh it mate boris canceled bloody christmas mate it's an honorable looks they did it mate they can't show bloody christmas oh god good to be able to eat me borax those freaks take christmas seriously they invented most of the ***** i mean sort 0:3:8

of the germans but they're all germans basically ***** germans invented christmas one way or the other whether you're talking about the central european traditions that created the concepts of like the the uh father christmas saint nicholas and uh and uh gift giving and the tree uh which of course is a descendant of like pagan uh traditions of forest worship and then the anglos just ***** uh emigrant germans created the 19th century victorian christmas that we was then codified by coca-cola it's all crouch ***** all the way down christmas is crouch ***** it has nothing to do with the jesus or uh the nativity or or anything that happened in uh the ***** middle east it's all about it's all about ***** square-headed crowds huddling for 0:4:9 warmth uh in a ***** snow banked december ah but they love that ***** up there and now they're not gonna get christmas because they've created a new tier there's tier four if you're in tier four christmas is cancelled those people love it they love acting like blade runner ***** going there are three people your tear is not your destiny you can escape your tear at any time by compliance they love it they hate their freedom and they want it to be taken away but not through like a collaborative process but through a violent domination what i think is most interesting though is that it's the conservative government that's doing the lockdowns and and then you can't really you don't have like the the federalist mishmash to give people like 0:5:11 confusion about who to blame about a lot of these directives um because like all those people were pissed at democratic governors for enforcing lockdowns and stuff most of the time it was not them doing it but they were the nearest democrat they could blame they have like you know a parliamentary government without dumb federalism in in britain and they have a conservative government and they're the ones doing it they're literally canceling christmas and i know that england has all of our dumb culture war stuff even if it's not quite as armed as ours like i know there's a hilarious deal where people are trying to put the magna carta in their ***** shop windows to keep them from being closed which is just chef's kiss just the way that our idiocy like like britain exploded in the early modern era and like the dumbest parts of it flew across the water to become our base morons and now the idiocy became so dominant it's bouncing back on them like any i mean don't you know 0:6:13 enough art british i thought the british were still educated enough to know that the magna carta was just about giving the barons liberties over their ***** subjects that that is that britain is a ***** literal class society but anyway like they have our kind of culture war anti-mask anti-lockdown sentiment i don't know i mean there's less of it to channel because people are less psycho there but uh it's got to go somewhere are they actually doing brexit at the end of the year did they kick the ***** can down the road again because if they got another extension then it's never going to happen and it'll just be this forever which is the perfect metaphor the perfect metaphor you have this thing the concept of brexit that would represent a genuine break with the current like european uh trade order and like the state system honestly if you 0:7:16 talk about ireland uh and that's essentially something the system cannot absorb at the moment so it can't happen but you can't just cancel it because that would obviate the fiction of democratic participation by these subject governments so you just kick the can down the road eternally i think that's honestly more likely than them after hitting a hard deadline is them just never just always kicking it down the road and someone joked once that in 50 years there will be a weird ritual that nobody understands the purpose from where a guy in a powdered wig has to take the ***** channel over to france and then like walk like a road to canosa thing to uh to brussels with a parchment and then give it to a delivery guard in front of the uh eu parliament and nobody even knows why he's doing it but it's like a ritualized

CUSHVLOG 130. SNOWTIME AT THE APOLLO

extension of i don't think it's like the debt but that is that is literally not real that 0:8:21 that's not real but like the the the uh the political crisi the legitimacy crisis at the heart of european governance is very real and brexit is a reflection of it and the question like that that matters to policymakers is how much does that get channeled into political uh power that can no longer be contained by the rickety structures of the european union that's a real question and they don't want to get an answer because it might be the wrong one and one way to postpone that reckoning is by postponing brexit inefficiently all the countries on earth but two are it's like brunei and the vatican are the only countries on earth that aren't in debt who the ***** 0:9:23 are they in debt to aliens it's not real in the sense that it is not real the way that your personal debt is as if you can be like beggared by it because you're only being beggared by your debt because it's also it's a it's a instrument of coercion compliance what that means is there's never going to be some reckoning point whereas brexit the definition of that vote was at some point in the future we're leaving the eu so that has a actual timeline to it as opposed to the debt ***** where they just point at the number and like frantically just gestured say it's so big like that meme of the the porn star going looking at the national debt clock and you're just supposed to infer that that's supposed to mean something it's supposed to have brought the 0:10:24 end of the world for the last 30 ***** years and every single time we have ever gotten close to paying off debt or balancing our budget the politics instantly turn away from surplus to getting over whatever as quickly as possible bill clinton actually balanced the ***** budget which now seems like an impossibility and essentially is and honestly shouldn't be done he shouldn't have done that it was bad he did but he did it and as soon as bush got in there the republican the party of fiscal responsibility the party that was always yelling how do you have how do you pay for it there's no free lunch immediately set about getting rid of that budget surplus and yeah one of the ***** financial panics that rocked the 19th century i believe it was uh uh happened when we paid off the so that thing is like a fiction but ***** brexit is 0:11:31 it's the knock on the door for the european project now maybe you can keep these ***** goons satisfied with the christmas hams and and champions league soccer but at some point you have to worry can this be contained because there are because it isn't a fully uh like subordinated um political unit like the united states because these are are separate countries that were never really integrated at the political level that was always supposed to come later in the eu the eu talk about kicking the can down the road everything that the eu is built on was predicated on a political uh uh tightening of political ties that has not happened and that in the absence of would render any long-term crisis unmanageable which is what we've yeah they're 0:12:33 not going to be on maneuvered by boris johnson which is why they'll just keep them

in the eu by prolonging it forever they don't want him to leave and these dumb asses don't really have any incentive in seeing brexit complete because it would be bad i guess i assume i don't know maybe they're making it up i have no idea like i said i've said before the whole question of like how catastrophic brexit would be to like uh standard of living in britain was always the big the the big uh the cudgel to oppose uh brexit but i don't know how real it is it's it's not made up completely but how significant i have no idea no you've not left you've said that a million times shut the ***** up you have not left you're not out of the eu shut up i watched somebody's 0:13:35 asking about michael caine of stalin i actually watched that when i was a kid because that was cool there was a big i think it was tnt or it might have been one of the networks multi-night series about uh like the uh the big three and the and the uh all the conferences you know like uh uh tehran to potsdam or something and uh john lithgow played fdr which great casting perfect long uh ***** ectomorph uh blue blood pilgrim ass ***** uh and uh bob hoskins played churchill which is pretty funny considering that churchill was a literal lord the descendant of marlboro like a high the highest of uh of of a blue bluest of bloods and bob hoskins was just a pudgy little ***** uh cockney guy which is kind of cool uh and then ***** michael kane played 0:14:36 stalin fun yes churchill was half american his mom all right thank you someone says i'm blonde i i know this is very indulgent and like kind of eagerly but it has been kind of weird to me to notice since i've become a public person that that people have very different ideas about what color my hair is and i think that's weird i feel like usually most people they get exposed enough you see the picture you see a video of them or you meet them enough you get an idea of what their hair color is because but i've realized that my hair is like a perfect embodiment of like the main european hair types like there's three main european hair types and it's essentially blonde red and so you know since there are three types of hair blonde red brown what type is 0:15:39 this and i think the reason that's an interesting question and not just soft solid cystic is that no matter what way you slice it right like this is if it's blonde it's very dark blonde strawberry blonde if it's red it's very like rust-colored it's not bright red but i have seen drawings of me on the internet with like blight bright white like yellow hair and also just ***** pepper and pippy long stocking red hair and i think that's because you might see it as darker light or like but as long as soon as in your head you turn it into one of those if you turn you take it from you know the reality of this uh muddled red ish brown or blond ish brown or whatever ish you turn it into like the most vivid version of what that word means it's like a it's like your brain is you're 0:16:40 playing telephone with reality that's that's the transl like that's the that's like your mental translation of of ideas yeah like i had a groin somebody made a griper of me and it had like bright red hair and so i thought the best way to get an answer to here

is i put it on twitter i said if you know if you think you can answer this question what color is my hair and the lowest was red it was only like 22. then it was like 27 for blonde and it was 50 almost i think even over 50 like 51 brown the combination of the two and i would say that since none of these are real categories they don't represent real characters it is all subjective inherently then that is the objective answer to the question no matter what i think and i thought i was blonde my whole life part of that is because i was born like white-haired and when until i was like six or seven i had you know the the uh i had that uh like village of the damned white blonde 0:17:43 creepy blonde hair like the kind of kid you're like you like i had the white blonde hair and then it started darkening but i had i was still like a blonde blonde until i was you know in my teenagers and then after puberty it got darker and darker which is a very common thing so but it never got to the point where i felt it had left blonde but then red came out of nowhere as soon as other people like started coming together and trying to say what my color hair yes i had draco mulfoy here i don't i don't watch that ***** but yes that was my hair color so i just think that's interesting and uh and i think by getting that number by doing the machine learning we can get it something that's objectively the answer it's brown no matter what i think no matter what you think it's brown because you ask what was it like 12 000 people 0:18:45 yes 12 000 people and more than 6 000 of them say brown it's brown that's just the answer italians aren't i guess i'm talking about like the three nordic hair colors like above the above the hanseatic league colors yeah there but it was just weird to hear see people call me a redhead because that always felt very that always felt like its own thing like its own kind of identity that i never had that i was i never had any uh connection to and so it's been kind of weird yes it's very it's very angelic now it's like 0:19:47 getting shot through and that's the other thing if like the sun is on it it looks pretty blonde no matter what like it looks blonde and like if you see it under bright lights it looks pretty blond but you know that's not that's not anything that's just that's just subjectivity you got to get like a enough people together and then the sum answer commodity fetishism someone wants to know about commodity fetishism it's very misunderstood because the word fetish throws people and they think that it stands for like materialism and being materialistic and caring about uh the commodities and wanting to ***** them no it is imbuing commodities with the properties of the labor and that is how we create uh the the fantasy of the value form and and where 0:20:48 where we we we give a value a monetary value to commodities that imbues on the things themselves what is real in reality the value of the and that is what allows for that fetish is what allows for us to uh to suborn labor and and support surplus labor under capitalism and and then essentially pay people less than they produced yeah like a voodoo doll sense like they they've imbued like a fetish a fetish object

in in a in like traditional religion is a is a statue or a thing or some sort of made made object that has a spiritual imbue ment to the people who who uh like made 0:21:50 it or or carry it and that in in marks that process of of enchanting an object is what we do because in in a tribal community that fetish like the god that that fetish represents is the god of they represent essentially the social power of that group and our social power is extracted off to and that means and that's one of the i mean and the commodity fetishism it translates into culture in the way that we imbue cultural products with uh yeah that's that's like that's the abstract stuff that's the 0:22:57 stuff that that's the reason it's hard to to just read capital and a lot of people need help i know i've used needed help because uh because it does that stuff it doesn't like it's very hard to relate to specifics because it is it's it's the meta it's essentially the closest thing that marxism has to like metaphysics because the alienation away from a social production a model where people are producing for a social group to one where labor is abstracted alienated and and a surplus is uh acquired and then taken and there has to be and and you know marx doesn't phrase it in spiritual terms but it is a spiritual process and so it's the most abstract and hardest to sort of 0:23:59 describe to people because anything that is that touches and brushes the ineffable is hard to describe harder to describe than other things yeah alienation now that's an important one and it's very intuitive and you can point to like for example that uh if you're there's an oxytocin release like there's a there's a serotonin whatever the good brain chemical release that is similar to that that is felt by the person getting the massage but if you're being paid to give someone a massage that chemical experience doesn't happen that's a literal measurable physical alienation that occurs due to and 0:25:0 you can extrapolate that that response that that physicality that that physical the reality of that physical impact of of the wage relationship and capitalism broadly across every segment of social interaction and and vote phase are you guys talking about uh felix's vote face i give felix credit uh i might i'm i'm the best i would say i'm the best chapo at soy facing will is pretty good too but only one of us is on the front page of the google image search respon response to soy face and that's me uh but felix gets credit for inventing essentially taking a type of face and defining it in felix is definitely a shaman felix is uh if you got plugged into the internet at the exact 0:26:20 right moment to be able to ride its consciousness essentially he's he is kind of a paul atreides figure like he emerged onto the the blasted sands of the internet point 1.0 world at as a knife like i was too old i i encountered that ***** when i was already fully formed or at least close to it or at least fully traumatized into what would pass for adulthood felix was still still a young pup and he was able to to march uh out into the dunes of of internet auracus and and ***** ride the sand worm and now he sees uh he sees all times through the lens of felix is on there too is he on the first page

though i'm on the i'm in the first line i'm on the top line okay i mean my god uh just 0:27:21 off the top i had the hot couch thing like he took an experience that everyone had had among a certain demographic slice and articulated it in a way that created like a spontaneous collective prustian reverie for thousands of people who encountered it the since instant that they did and that's his gift and it's it's it's amazing i think it's because i came to it later i i saw it for more remove and there's too many layers of abstraction between me and the zeitgeist to do anything other than sort of comment 0:28:23 on it uh retrospectively rather felix might be an all-time observational comic you know that's funny it's weird to put it that way because that is kind of what he is it's just that instead of doing the seinfeld thing where you just say the thing you uh articulate the experience of encountering the thing what is the origin of soy face well soy face comes like most of the good memes from the alt-right the that is the one complaint they have that is fully uh accurate they got ripped off everybody stole 0:29:25 their ***** and at the time i always felt kind of weird about it like yeah no it is kind of funny that we keep embracing these these griper memes from these people who we otherwise think are absolutely you know socially uh doomed losers whose bitterness has overwhelmed their entire uh humanity but now the way i think when i think now about like when i think now of the online overeducated post collapse you know precariate that is like the the brain of the internet as one thing rather than as discrete objects when i think of it as a holistic you know kind of a consciousness within the greater collective consciousness then those are uh those are the ones who saw most clearly at the time uh the horrors of the uh liberal order because they were 0:30:28 the most ideologically alienated from it because politics as we understood it didn't really exist i mean obama was sort of supposed to be the abolition of politics and the replacement of them with uh with validation of identity and and uh things like that and instead we got this you know a rocket ship to hell world and people started to ***** look around themselves and think what the hell is going on but the first people to be alienated the ones who were alienated on cultural lines cultural lines and so and that means racial that means they were alienated by all of the honestly the most necessary uh and uh progressive and useful parts of thesis of like globalized capitalism 0:31:30 which of course must be destroyed must be you know challenged and defeated but things within it are gonna have to be absorbed into any future and like at a basic level like liberal multiculturalism is going to have to be because without multiculturalism as a base the working class cannot win the working class cannot effectively fight global capitalism without the multiculturalism that global capitalism brought into hegemonic uh cultural power that's how your ***** dialect works you have to destroy this thing but you have to utilize structures within it to defeat it because the white working class isn't gonna do ***** any more than the uh the american descendants of

slave people who think they're gonna get reparations from white america by yelling at them online all day that's not going to happen either there is no version vision of liberation that is not multicultural and multi-ethnic and multi-uh uh multiracial because that numbers is are the only weapons you have if you don't have power and numbers can only be got through collaboration any politics that that demands separation uh and uh stacking privileges on top of each other will be destroyed and broken into those factions that will then be turned against one another by capitalism and then fully completely dissolved by capitalism and i saw someone on a show say that you can't get medicare for all without reparations first that was mind-blowing before you can get to a thing that could benefit pretty much every working person in this country and save thousands of i mean every working person in this country everyone before you get to that you have to get something that by definition will only help a subsection of americans and those who aren't at benefit benefited will they you have to explain to them why it's good that they aren't benefiting from this you have to get them to recognize their privilege and feel bad for themselves that a bad bad about themselves that's ins i don't understand how that could i don't forget if you're talking about it as a moral proposition i'm sorry that's secondary the question is how do you get to any of this stuff and if we're talking about them as like policies that you're trying to push through a political process then you have to start with the broadest popular the left doesn't exist one of the big faintest one of the one of the big things that undermines leftist organizing is the fiction that it does and that fiction is propagated by people even if they're not trying to sell out for the democrats even if they're not trying to be sheep dippers for some uh you know con artistry of electoral strategy uh they are still devoted to promoting the idea that there's that they are offering influence to a meaningful group of a meaningful organizational ma uh like uh or uh mobilized and that doesn't exist and so every question needs to be in how to get it to exist and a question and they are an argument saying reparations first i'm sorry that is one that because because you see more possibility than there is in the current ordering of things oh that's interesting somebody actually brought this up to me in a dm uh someone's asking what about latin america talking about the coming conflict between china the united states what about latin america like there is a genuine counter-hegemonic counter-imperial current there in the form of venezuela and uh now avo back in bolivia there's there are significant movements that have momentum in chile uh ecuador and peru are restive uh uh brazil is obviously uh gripped by reaction right now but there are some green shoots cuba of course holding it down 90 miles from florida like a goddamn like the goddamn kings and queens that they are uh the problem though is is where is the independent source of like where where can they uh where are they able to i mean i'd say amlo but like

CUSHVLOG 130. SNOWTIME AT THE APOLLO

i don't know how any mexican president can can i it seems like kind of like being 0:37:41 president of mexico seems like it's almost like being like a big city mayor in this country you can't really do anything that goes against the will of uh of the united states can you like realistically we have so many uh strings to tighten we have so many ways to make uh your job impossible maybe i think the role they might play is if we do get some sort of conflict between china and the united states they could sort of tag in and and put their weight behind china and maybe use the fact that they actually have an empowered working-class movements across that continent uh to bring working-class people to the table a little bit who knows just it would be 0:38:43 nice though if if uh if if at our work if the united states and its dark moment is like battling rush uh china not like an actual war obviously but you know in some sort of some sort of new cold war situation and then off the top turnbuckle comes latin america which we've spent the last 200 odd years just vampirically sucking from and and massacring it would be uh recommend you a christmas movie how about die hard no i'm kidding die hard 2 which is also a christmas movie by the way i love that 0:39:44 they lampshaded in that movie they have a line where uh john mcclane says another basement another elevator how can the same ***** happen to the same guy twice oh well let's keep going that movie is funny because the plot of it is essentially if oliver north took a airport hostage and tried to like break manuel noriega out of prison which is pretty cool for a big budget movie it was fun it's wildly violent way more violent than the first one yeah die hard 2 is pretty uh intense they show a whole swat 0:40:46 team because remember in the first movie the swat team uh hans goes just wound them and they shoot them all and like the legs and stuff and they show them all going like terminator 2. in die hard 2 a whole swat team of cops just gets murked by robert patrick actually speaking of terminator 2 and a bunch of uh a bunch of like us cia guys and also in retaliation for an attempt to violate the rules uh oliver north uh commands unwittingly to the people in the cockpit of british plane full of people and they even show inside the ***** the plane they show like all these old british people and little kids running around just to tell you how many innocent people are about to get splashed and then john mclean tries to warn them off for the runway 0:41:48 but they smash into the ***** ground blow up cole meaney is engulfed in flames and then after it's burning mclean goes over and he picks up a ***** uh teddy a burn singed teddy bear out of the rug rubble the ejector speed escape from the crash uh he ***** puts john amos into a ***** uh jet engine oh best of all spoiler alert but the movie's 30 years old so this is the best part so they got this plane full of mercs and oliver north and manuel noriega are about to take off for a non-extradition country john mclean gets on the side of the plane uh the the turncoat special ops guy played 0:42:49 by john amos the dad from coming to america comes out and they have a fight on

the wing the guy flies out into the jet engine gets sucked in then john mcclane fights the oliver north guy played by william sadler william sadler kicks his ass and throws him off the plane and he lands on the runway while they're flying away bad guys win wrong john mclean while he'd been on the on the plane wing had opened up one of the fuel tanks to like try to get him to have less gas and when he's on the runway flat on his ass he sees the big trail of gasoline and he just takes a zippo and lights it and the uh trail of gas zips up into the air into the plane engine uh the gas tank and blows up the plane in mid-air he murders like 50 guys like that's just that's just a murder that is that is illegal in all 50 states and the district of columbia there that is 0:43:51 like no police officer has ever done an act of uh brutality and like excessive force on that level since like the move bombing and it's great everyone's happy they use the down-burned carcass of the plane as uh landing light for all the planes that have to land because they're running out amazing and you could argue yeah sure you should have done that ***** those guys and i probably agree with you but it's not the kind of thing heroes and movies generally do with uh with michael douglas where he it's one of those japan panic movies from the early 90s when we were afraid that the japanese were going to take over because we were having a nervous breakdown in fact about the fact that we were cutting our own balls off in regard to the industrial economy but because we have no way to actually interrogate our own government's 0:44:53 uh uh industrial policy because it's beyond politics we had to put it off on somebody else and we decided to blame the japanese for it even though the japanese literally their entire ***** economy their post-war industrial economy was stood up by us on purpose and then in the 70s we intentionally changed uh the rules to facilitate uh manufacturing in japan in order to give them an industrial base to uh to stand up from and uh that meant that the capital was going to flow that direction we did that ***** that was a choice but we decided it was the japanese ball but anyway uh michael douglas goes to japan fights this guy who cut his partner's head off with a samurai sword and he's got him like in an arm lock and then there's like a broken plank with a big spike coming up and there's a shot where like he looks at it and he looks at the guy and you think he's gonna kill him but then it cuts to him bringing him into the uh police station and booking him even though it's japan he'll probably 0:45:55 get like five years not even the warm blood of in the middle of a fight just i would love to see that in one of these i shan't be watching anime no worries about that one goodbye shannot the boy the ladies note for anime i haven't actually watched babylon berlin yet i feel like i probably should check that one out at some point is it good 0:46:56 robocop's really sucked pg-13 no peter weller ***** out of here robocop 2 though is a little underrated honestly also very very uh prescient it actually has the city of detroit declare bankruptcy and sell itself to a corporation which is essentially what has happened detroit literally declared bankruptcy and i think the quicken company dan gilbert's company essentially owns the middle the center of detroit they own all the buildings and they have a there's also a great uh little meta commentary about the nature of making sequels in that movie so there's uh so in robocop 2 you know robocop uh he gets blown up in the line of duty and kind of taken offline and he's like he's lost a step he's sort of turned into like a big pushover and ocb ocp decides to do a new robocop hey people like that old one they're sick of the old one let's get a new robocop and so there's a very funny sequence where they show uh all of the trial attempts to do a robocop by getting another cop who'd been injured the way that murphy had been and then putting him in a robot suit and the first one they show is a guy who kind of looks like an atm uh kind of like robbie the robot and he just starts shooting he says stop and i'll shoot and he starts shooting the um the lab assistants and then blows his head off and then another guy comes out and he's got like the visor on and he just grabs his helmet and pulls it off and starts screaming and you see the top of his like bloody skull and then he dies and eventually they realize oh like murphy was a very specific special case is lightning in a bottle and not everybody is murphy you cannot do it to a normal person and they ended up having to get uh kane the evil nuke dealer and creator played by the great tom noonan to be robocop ii because they needed a literal psychopath to do it they needed a a heartless murderer to do it i know you might say uh but the cops and that is and then he ends up literally opening fire on a room full of reporters just massacring the ***** out of them uh it is definitely a warning about like hey you get what you pay for with a sequel and yeah it's also could be said to talk about the nature of policing itself like if if policing is just the uh heartless uh enforcement of property rights and property rights need more and more brutal enforcement in an era of austerity then the person who does that job has to be it's also the only sequel i think ever where the title is said by a character in the movie the the great dan hurley he who also played uh connell cochran in halloween three uh introduces the psycho nuke addict robocop ii at a press conference by saying i'm going to re-watch robocop too that movie is good but obviously you don't need a sequel to why is every movie pg-13 now because only kids go to movies young people who still want to go out and do something go to movies nobody else does that anymore at least not the numbers you need to justify the ***** budgets and the budgets have to be big because i'm not doing a chapel episode on the cruise i've never even seen the croods someone reminded me that the croods actually have have a netflix show so maybe the croods never went away but does anybody watch anything on netflix it's baffling to me it seems i mean obviously people have netflix and they watch things on netflix but what they watch is not what they make i mean they're going to lose the office at the beginning of next year how much of their viewership is just people watching the office and what are i do think the kids watch i mean they probably watch a lot of kids shows because you know press the button have your kid get pic but the whole thing seems like kind of a scam i mean the fact that they are a publicly traded company and that their numbers are only internally generated and not released to the public is that not essential how is that different than mark to market accounting that happened under enron maybe there is an independent uh uh entity that sees the numbers but i don't know is it true i have no idea it's but if there's a correction in the media space uh netflix will probably get eaten by i would guess disney at this point gonna be disney plus hulu netflix versus amazon and then maybe those guys merge at some point it's all internal to netflix they're publicly traded how am i supposed to know what the value how how accurate that valuation is if i don't know if anyone's watching the ***** that they're paying billions of it's kind of crazy to me but i think that's true of all tech i mean the entire tech economy if you start asking these questions the whole thing falls apart because it only exists as a way to circulate capital that's what we 2008 we recapitalized the economy by giving the richest people all of the money that they could possibly want and then they said here use it and you know what are they going to do with it they can only buy so many gold-plated back scratchers they have to invest it in something and silicon valley exists to give them something to put their money in that's it it never has to make money it never has to generate a profit or become viable it just has to be a thing to put money into so that they can create an economy around all those uh all those corporate campuses and uh catered lunches and foosball tables and self-driving cars uh and and oh what's this you've also created a giantly overheated california real estate market out of it too all of that generated by this this uh this investment mechanism that is not actually designed to get anybody money back it's only there to to circulate money the economy and what's insane is that we could do we could do that 100 for regular people instead but if we did that we would lose crucial coercive mechanisms at a time of decline declining profits and investment and it's so sick because you see all right what do we do it one way what do we give all this money these ***** what do they make they made silicon what is it done into the physical reality of living in the area that it is geographically located at and what has it done to our culture it is poison in every sense but it is preferable from those in power to give that money to people who will spend it in a way that can be predicted and pounded upon and redounds to reinforce their power power and yes the whole end point of this is that is that as state structures and state capacity declines as it is and will continue to do that capacity will be taken up by these concentrations of capital who have used that circulation of money through silicon valley to create not profits but instruments of surveillance

instruments of technological control drones boston dynamics robots panopticon social media and uh device panopticon that will render resistance uh i just lost four people god damn it it was cringe i get it i'm sorry i apologize for the cringe and you can't even say it's good oh it's created all these well-paying jobs well it's created a new class of rent your scumbags but then below that you've created a bunch of people who are spending tons of their money and ***** rent that's just getting sucked but sucked up to like existent uh uh power powers that be within the area like the landed the real estate money that then like buys off that segment of the ruling the local ruling class the local bourgeois to go and so you get just people who think they're happy but are miserable living in guinea pig uh warrens sucking soylent while coding all day and then people who can no longer afford to live in those places being forced to move further and further away spend more and more of their time commuting all right uh all right so i'm gonna be signing off for about a week we'll be coming back a week later before the new year's hopefully to talk about the last half of the first part of the republic for which it stands uh finish the home chapter it's gonna be good uh i hope everybody has a fine holiday in your respective quarantine zones your tears your tier ones your tier twos your tier threes you you poor bastards in tier four uh tier two uh uh eat your mama tom cheer bye okay ***** this is not ideal but i don't know what else i'm gonna do i've been trying to find a good winter spot to do the streams and uh when i was trying i guess doesn't work i couldn't get the uh enough signal so i guess i'm gonna have to do it in here for now i don't really like this angle terribly much but uh we'll figure it out i'll figure ah ***** i don't know sorry uh i should have done more research before i started this but what are you gonna do what are you gonna do i don't want to be a cam boy i don't want to cam it up i don't want people seeing uh my groin i'm trying to be loved 0:1:3 for my mind not for my uh my eroticism this isn't the living room anymore i didn't like that i didn't like that i don't want that trying to figure out a new space for the winner i'll find something all right quality is killer oh good i thought you were saying a killer and i was gonna have to jump out of a window i'm not going to do a jeffrey tube out you don't have to worry about that happening uh okay um so it's been a while it's been a while since i've been talking to you it's been a while since i've been uh i don't what does combing your beard mean i don't even know how that would work i do have to trim it i will i will trim it i don't have a theory on the nashville bomber because how i don't have any more information than anybody else does and 0:2:5 theorizing in the absence of information is just giving yourself mental illness and i'm trying to prevent that i've done that enough in my life i will say that the story as given seems really implausible and now we find out that the police had known about this for a year that his girlfriend said he was building bombs and they put her in the mental hospital because of it and amazingly people are taking this as an opportunity to say we need to talk about white terrorism and this is terrorism and they should have put this guy on a watch list uh as though that was the issue and not the fact that the government has all of these dudes on string apparently that they can pluck at any time the thing i can't get over and once again i have no knowledge or information i don't know what's going on i can't say definitively one way or the other what the deal is here but if you were the government or some faction within the government and 0:3:6 you had cause to blow up a uh data center and the 5g whatever the hell they did and you want it to look like a nut the nsa's access to the information of essentially every american is such that you could build a profile of a plausible suspect and then just find one go through social media uh chatter go through posts go through personal information until you found someone who could be realistically sold as a perpetrator and then at that point it's trivially easy i mean apparently they're just they identify this guy from some dna for all we know somebody showed up at his house one day stuck them with a syringe full of uh cyanide stuck him in the van and then blew 0:4:9 him up or hell maybe they didn't even bother doing that maybe they dug a hole and put them in it and just put some of his like scraped skin cells onto a ***** article of clothing and the that's just a terrifying reality is that the one thing that kind of pushes against uh the claims that a lot of these terror attacks are false flags or you know provo provoked by the government is that well a lot of these guys they are they do have screw they do have histories of making posts that are erratic or paranoid the thing is there are millions of people that that is true of there are millions of people who could possibly be framed as a domestic terrorist from their just from their social media posts alone and if you could do that you have you have if you can find someone and you can pluck them you've got a uh yes i am jacking off what else do you want 0:5:11 me to do you asked somebody asked me about the goddamn thing i don't know any more than you do why why would you ask me what do you want out of it literally all you can do is ask questions there's nothing else except what i should say we should really talk about white terrorism as though the coming austerity nightmare of the biden administration is not going to be a perfect opportunity to take the totalizing surveillance uh and uh police coercive apparatus that was put uh for use and has been put for use against minorities in this country from time immemorial to now apply it to white people too and and ha and we have a and this is not going to provide a ready-made narrative to it's it's just it's a scary time that's all i know and 0:6:14 when ***** like this happens uh seeing people just pay for more surveillance and pay for a more hysterical media response to justify further you know a more what a more just distribution of police crackdown and calling that justice i mean people have been saying that that's the trajectory for years that privileged discourse leads to an argument that boils down to uh it's not you're not really going to realistically get the state to stop killing minorities when they're disproportionately economically disadvantaged but you could get to a place where we're killing more white people and then you've lost the element of discrimination and if that's the problem then you've solved it and if we're looking down the barrel of you know a nightmare austerity realignment of politics and the economy of further immigration of everyone a further 0:7:15 dissolving of all labor relations that are not last-minute uh just-in-time gig economy survival that the idea of having security in work is becomes as much a a relic of the past it's like a pension that's going to have consequences people are going to be

pissed about it people are going to react violently one way or the other and are we going to allow i mean we are going to allow there's no question about that but we are going to watch as uh as all of the language of diversity and justice social justice are used to justify the police doing what they've always done just more uh egalitarian a more egalitarian distribution of violence and repression i mean look at the thing 0:8:18 with the two thousand dollar checks why is all the elite against this ***** when just from an economic perspective it would be good like everyone at the top they know the deficit stuff's ***** they know the deficit is not real they know that the money could be spent they we've already dropped way more money than that at the top of the income level just since the coven thing happened we could do it again it's just numbers on a ***** piece of paper and it would stimulate consumer spending which is the literal lifeblood the literal organ of our economy but it would also give people a little more leverage against their maximally uh uh precarious employment people would maybe be less likely to take these jobs and the conditions that uh these companies are willing to offer and that is the business model the business model of our our consumer economy uh involves paying people the minimum amount with no 0:9:21 benefits maximum flexibility and the one thing that stops people from taking those jobs is if they don't have to take them and even a little bit of breathing room and certainly if it's established as a precedent and and becomes something that could be politically activated through pressure on elected officials it changes the coercive mechanism it makes it harder to get and so precarity is one stick the other stick is our total surveillance police state and they're working hand in hand to ensure that the economy in the aftermath of covid is maximally coercive and yes that is also someone says here that's why they will we will not provide houses for homeless people because if being homeless is a condition that does not leave you in total uh 0:10:23 abjection if you are not if if being homeless if losing your ability to pay your rent does not mean well you're gonna sleep in the streets you're gonna sleep under uh of your overpass there's gonna be spikes on every uh flat surface to prevent you from doing anything other than lying in a gutter and then the cops gonna come and beat your ***** head in and set fire to your tent if that doesn't exist as the the economic gun to your head that's another reason you might not take because that is the worst thing that could happen to anyone in this country is to become homeless that is the nightmare that is when you are no longer a citizen that is when you become a homo saussure from a gambin and and that is that is a fate worse than death and it is the fear buried within the mind of anybody who does not have uh control over anything other than their ability to work and that's most people in this country and 0:11:24 if that goes away if that's less terrifying if the hey you know i might not be able to rent my apartment anymore but there's social housing i might be able to get well

CUSHVLOG 131. RETURN OF THE SNACC

***** there's another thing that's going to prevent you from taking a job on the terms of uber or lyft or doordash or some ***** grocery store company that says you have to work uh in a covered hot spot getting coughed benefits like these are all choices and they're all pushed and they're all choices that are made on the same terms and to create the same situation which is people who are cowed politically and also economically cowed by their employer cowed by the political class at every steps and that's why they're trying to get us to a vaccine herd immunity situation 0:12:25 before they have to start shelling out real money they have to avoid that at all kinds at all at all costs and that is the beauty of eternal chancellor uh mitch mcconnell's position here you've got a deal where basically everybody says give people money democrats and republicans even in congress and the president and the guy who's supposed to be coming in in january at least has said his mouth the words that he wants it but because of the distribution of veto points within our system this one guy mitch mcconnell who is answers to nobody and has no uh cannot be checked uh by by public pressure gets to say no and then everybody gets to act like he's the reason it's not happening and he's fine with that he doesn't care he doesn't care about being popular he has the state of kentucky wire he doesn't it doesn't matter the same way harry reid had nevada wired these guys those guys in those positions 0:13:27 who are essentially the prime ministers like that's the thing to know is that we are supposed to have this weird presidential system where the head of state and head of government are the same person but on the domestic level anyway at them and at the level of domestic policy over the last 20 years we are now in a situ we have created a situation where the senate majority leader is effectively the prime minister and the president is effectively a constitutional monarch or figurehead elected president in a parliamentary system and so mitch mcconnell is the actual head of government but he is not in charge of some you know electoral coalition that is uh that has to rise or fall everybody gets to run individually purdue and laffeur get to run on yes we're in favor of the the two thousand dollar checks even though the guy in their party who they elected to be majority leader and of course the only reason they say they're 0:14:29 for the checks is because they know he's there it's the same reason biden says he's for the checks because he knows mitch mcconnell's there if mitch mcconnell wasn't there in this situation and there was like a real uh uh like like public accountability for a decision like whether or not to give people money in a time like this then then it would be much more difficult to avoid it but here it's the perfect structure to prevent anyone from being accountable for the decision to let people ***** starve and and there's no and it's and the constitution essentially exists to make and a constitutional order will only provo promote procreate situations like this because that's the point of it that's why it was conceived and at every level it's been modified

CUSHVLOG 131. RETURN OF THE SNACC

and changed both without through constitutional uh amendments and then through in within through the the evolution of uh like internal senate rules has created a 0:15:31 situation where there can be no one responsible or the person who's responsible gets to take all the blame gets to eat all the sin gets to put all of the hatred into his ***** neck waddle and everyone else gets to it's very it's it's it's ingenious and it's why the constitution needed to die after the civil war and the fact that it didn't is one of is is like the signal political uh failure of the american project and that brings us to uh brings us back anyway to the republic for which it stands which i read the rest of chapter of part one fourth of the fourth through eighth chapters uh where we 0:16:33 really get into some good stuff with this with in these parts that we can really sink our teeth and teeth into uh when talking about the way that elites structured the uh political response to the civil war uh in such a way to prevent democracy essentially from taking place uh and one of my one of the most interesting parts of the of this section i think is in the first chapter gilded liberals which talks about the hegemonic uh ruling the hegemonic ideological domination of liberalism 19th century liberalism which in its particulars like in in its policy proposals like hard money uh la zai faire is what we would consider republicanism nowadays conservatism but the personnel 0:17:36 who make it up class wise are the same people now who are progressives who are liberals in the in the 21st century sense and we and we we talk about how like oh that's like these terms have changed meaning but the liberal social position has not changed since the civil war like liberals then are the same people who are now uh opinion makers writers professionals uh uh professors theoreticians the people who create the ideological framework that goes around that packs just the machinery of capitalist accumulation and in the 19th century that their arrest after the civil war the recipe was laissez faire gold standard all that stuff then uh after the gilded age after this book concludes you get the rise of the progressive movement where it's the same people maybe not the same actual people but people in the same position who have recognized by that point that their dream of creating this small holder democracy where freedom is freedom of contract alone is no longer viable 0:18:37 given the fact that oh freedom of contract alone has led to the mass accumulation of power by these unaccountable robber barons and huge immigration of workers and regular people and the death of the smallholder well then we have to adjust because what's important to note is even in the lozai fair mid-19th century they never there was never any um belief by anyone that that that meant real laws unfair because that's not a real thing government intervention is dif it's it's inextricable from economics like the government makes the context where all economic activity takes place so government intervention is non-negotiable it's all about degree and at every point what what liberals who then became progressives uh demand is a the degree 0:19:38

of government intervention that will maintain the stability of capitalism and that changes as conditions change right after the civil war they thought gold standard no government intervention is enough of course railroad subsidies are fine that's in fact necessary i mean we might be a little annoyed by uh you know these guys getting this but you know well we gotta we gotta put this money somewhere and we just can't give it to people that's the main thing is that is that the the the imperative of like a ideological ruling political ruling class is to ensure that economic decisions are made by those who hold capital and those who hold capital are those who uh are at the at the top essentially the thought that it is concentrated in the hands of those who can be trusted with it uh white talks about how uh the fixation on the home and the ability 0:20:39 to make a home which of course is just a a filigreed and uh and romantically infused mystification of the ability to uh you know control capital uh at that point after the homestead act the the thought was that all the capital anyone would need to sustain that home is a little bit of land and so people should seek that and uh that like the exploitation of wage slave wage relationships which were now taking over from slavery after the end of the civil war were temporary uh but of course the maddening thing uh is the refusal to extend that logic to the recently freed slaves to extend the 0:21:40 logic of oh you know a home requires a uh capital in the form of land in the form of the ability to reproduce then former slaves need that they need the land and there's no argument you can make that they don't that they didn't work for it because they literally worked for nothing their entire lives but that would be government intervention in the market and we can't have that um and what that boils down to i think more more specifically than more than racism and of course racism is hugely important but because of racism but also because of the the reality of sectionalism after the war like the the domination of the south by the north uh former slaves were just not considered to be part of the citizenry and all of these ideas about home and all that they only applied to citizens and of course that's not sustainable because 0:22:41 people who these people the the gilded liberals considered citizens are considered to be like uns fit for citizenship former slaves urban catholics native americans we're still there we're still part of the american project and over time we're going to assert their rights as such uh and it's that defines the relationship between like a political ruling class and the the people who are subject to that political rule is that there has to be the maintenance of a sort of a choke point where where people are turned into citizen or not uh and that and that is necessary and in fact vital to maintaining 0:23:43 the divisions within the social order that allow exploitation to accumulate and allow uh and allow capitalists to literally set people against each other uh to avoid them coming together to assert a broad right to capital to to the fruits of their labor uh but the thing i wanted to talk about is uh the the establishment of the gold standard

CUSHVLOG 131. RETURN OF THE SNACC

uh after the civil war the account the the union paid for the war uh by printing 0:24:44 money just printing some ***** money that's that's what they did uh and that's what they had to do and they they they put out a bunch of bonds and they back those bonds with greenbacks after the civil war though uh there was an insistence by the republican ruling party which was dominated by ex-wig merchants uh to reduce the amount of money in circulation and get the money that was in circulation over time to be backed not by the cred credit of the government not by fiat which is what we have now and which they were terrified of having uh with gold and and there 0:25:50 was a bunch of arguments for why that was necessary why we needed gold and a lot of it was was put in moral terms it's it's not moral to to to back exchange with just force with just the promise of government you needed real value you needed real intrinsic value of course gold does not have intrinsic value you can't eat it you can't do anything with it that sustains your life which is what value is all you can do is melt it down and use it as an exchange that's the value is that it is something that is durable and can hold its value that's it it's not it is not intrinsically valuable the idea of intrinsic value in gold is pure ideology it's pure mysticism it has it does not reflect any reality uh it is just something that liberals told themselves and told other people as a way to increase the power of finance capital at the expense of 0:26:52 regular americans uh and there's two things about the gold standard that i wanted to talk about one having a gold standard okay so it going to the gold standard gave a huge windfall to the people who held government bonds i'll read this part from 185. uh the government had not specified how the wartime bonds principle would 0:27:53 be repaid since at the height of inflation in 1864 a greenback dollar had been worth only 34 percent of a gold dollar redeeming the gold the bond in gold represented as much as a tripling of the original investment in addition to the interest already paid bondholders would reap a wonderful windfall if the government paid in gold taxpayers would assume an additional burden if however the government redeemed its bonds with greenbacks there would be no windfall and so the redemption of government bonds in gold gave people free money if they held the bonds which was the richest americans which was the the financial institutions and even though the need for gold was supposed to stop the horrors of fiat currency somehow even though now we are at the end nightmare state that these mid 19th century liberals would have hated of of fiat currency we have a similar situation now where bankers are able to insure money through the discount window at the fed which allows them to borrow at a 0:28:54 lower rate than they lend out and keep the difference and it's the same people in charge it's the same ***** institutions that made money off the gold standard when it was introduced and now are able to ensure profits no matter what conditions uh if economic what economic conditions obtain and now very few people want to go back to the gold standard but but the the moralistic language about debt is still there uh but the most interesting part about uh the the gold standard uh is and the real reason that it was pushed for beyond the need you know to to provide a windfall for bankers and the only really like non-ideological and non-self-interested argument for it is the fact that the british were on the gold standard and they were the biggest 0:29:56 economy in the world at that time and trade with with the uk was vital to america's economic fortunes and they could essentially punish those who did not use the gold standards so from 187 here with the gold uh with the gold standard the united states would in effect seed control of its interest rates and money supply to great britain the world's largest creditor nation the gold standard depended on a country having access to enough gold to redeem its currency on demand when london controlled a large portion of that gold great britain and the bank of england acquired inordinate influence over the fiscal and economic policies of other governments the gold standard created what economists have called a golden straight jacket debtor nations would exchange control over their monetary policy for capital mobility and stable exchange rates although the cost of borrowing abroad would fall the united states would lose the ability to drive domestic interest rates below international interest rates gold dollars would flee abroad if interest rates elsewhere were higher now if that sounds 0:30:57 familiar to anybody that's essentially every other uh debtor nation in the world's government's relation economic relationship to the united states now we cannot uh we have whoever is in charge whoever is the headquarters of global capitalism has a veto on the economic poli the fiduciary and like monetary policy of every country that depends on them and in the 19th century the mid-19th century it was the uk that called the shots on that now in our in our fiat uh world it's the united states or broadly the institutions that the united states basically controls and even though this current situation is a nightmare for the people who imagined that they were creating some stable system post-war and if you got him in his time machine and 0:31:58 showed it to them they might be horrified their descendants defend it with their lives because all that really matters is that the bankers the banks are in charge of money not people so that's interesting uh i also want to just say that the book has a lot of great pictures of uh 19th century political cartoons which really are great and it does feel like they got a lot worse over time i think the reason people like ben garrison so much is that he is sort of almost one of the few political cartoonists who has like a 19th century verve to him uh part of that is labeling everything but i just wanted to point out this is probably my favorite thomas nast cartoon at least of the ones i've seen and it's in here it's an anti-catholic ad as you can see here there's 0:33:0 crocodiles coming out of the river the american river ganges but if you look closer their crocodile mouths are actually uh miters because they're ***** catholic bishops

who are coming on shore to attack the children with their potpourri and i gotta say knowing now what we know about the catholic church but that's in there because nas talk because uh white talks about uh one of the signal uh conflicts of the era between protestants and catholicism uh which emerged over the fund the public funding of uh parochial schools and he stresses something that people especially people on the right who who fixate on the questions like of american secularism really miss is that we did not get secular public schools out of some drive of like godlessness it's not like people just people at the top just decided actually uh we don't like god and we want 0:34:2 to dethrone him so we're going to take god out of schools what happened was is you had a situation after the civil war where you had huge catholic uh majorities in some urban cities and and a demand for catholic schooling that would and have catholic you know social teaching and biblical interpretation in it uh and you had public schools which had bible study and and biblical uh instruction that was explicitly protestant and the catholic said that's not fair if we're we can't i don't want to send we don't want to send our kids there but it's not fair to make us pay for parochial schools when these these are public schools that are uh funded by public taxation and the uh the secular model for education essentially came out of a desire to uh to neutralize the conflict between those those two systems because the protestants did not want to pay for catholic schooling it went against their uh their they in the 0:35:4 courts anyway were not able to consist to able to coherently argue that there should be some dual standard where protestantism is enshrined in public schools and if you want catholicism you're gonna have to go to a private school the solution was let's just get god out of stool entirely and that was the reasonable compromise like what people are mad at that the compromises that come the secularism we created was an attempt to accommodate religiosity the way people talk about islam now is exactly the way that mainstream protestants talked about catholicism in the 19th century because these are just cycles these are cycles of assimilation and anxiety that recur 0:36:5 over time uh so other things from the section we read uh as much as i have a very soft spot for uh us grant and i feel like he did some good stuff as president the section on grant definitely underlines how he the job was too big for him because this was the moment this era was when like what american political institutions were gonna look like came into being and he had no idea he had he was he had no actual political convictions uh and you know that works at a time like say 1952 when eisenhower comes in there when we have like a solidified new post-war new deal consensus to operate off of but in the ferment of the post-war era grant was was not 0:37:6 really the ideal guy uh but he did some good stuff he was able to destroy the clan when he really tried to but uh the real hope of the republican elite at that time was that they could sort of let the south figure it out by itself and really only dropped

the hammer when the redeemer violence got too outlandish for them to ignore too horrifying and too too bloody like after the colfax massacre in louisiana but it but republican orthodoxy essentially for swore any inner like consistent intervention uh on behalf of ex-slaves and if we're talking about counterfactuals and how things could have gone differently um you essentially would have needed a different you would have needed a different political coalition than the one who ruled because who we ended up who ended up on top of the political uh heap during this period was 0:38:8 a republican party that was des divided large basically between orthodox liberals who were trying to create a lazar fair economic system that would have doomed the south black and white no matter what and the stalwarts who were basically who who were more populist but had as the flip side of populism a motivation of of corruption and they are really two sides of the same coin in that the the corruption of like the the democrats under tweed or the the um republican stalwarts uh and the anti-corruption of the liberal republicans reformers were in both cases driven by uh economic incentive for the liberal republicans safely enmeshed in in in or near finance uh their drive for clean government and anti-democratic institutions was on behalf of the emerging merchant and capitalist elite there was more populism to 0:39:10 you know a guy like benjamin butler or and and they spread their uh their wealth more you know in the scent like tammany putting out patronage jobs and and giving money to the poor but they were similarly beholden to existing economic powers they were just coming in the back door like the liberals were coming in the front door all nice and legal the the stalwarts and the democrats were coming in the back door but everybody had a handout to the people who had accumulated all that capital after the civil war and and after the uh the emergence of the railroad-based economy the railroad speculative economy so any kind of counterfactual post-war 0:40:12 post-work post-civil war america would have had would have had to have created a third a different force a different coherent organized uh demand that went beyond the parochial demands of you know like this irish catholics in the city or and imagining that happening requires a lot of a lot of things falling differently uh and maybe it couldn't have happened i don't know but you know there always had to have been something else that could have happened because if not there's no point to anything now there was eventually an emerging force in the form of the labor movement and the populist movement but they came too late they came after like uh the working 0:41:13 class became a more coherent and larger and more effective self-conscious political actor and when and after you know the farmers of the west were able to sort of do a uh a smallholder version of working-class organization but by the time they ca emerged to resist capitalism capitalism has become a complete behemoth and really what you needed to change the equation the the the the integer that could have changed the political equation of the post-war era was the political uh awareness mobilization and coordination of of the friedman people inc in alliance with smallholding whites and the urban working class that's the only way it would have worked and by the 1890s you know the the failure of reconstruction had ensured that the kind of connections that would have been necessary to build so books good i'm enjoying it uh we're gonna talk next wednesday about let's do the first let's do the first four chapters of part four this book i love when people ask the because the republican household that was supposed to be uh the the modus operandi the the the generative motive for creating you know the the the los zai faire gold standard wildly corrupt political structure that came after an economic structure that came after the civil war uh it the people that it uh refused to recognize as as as republican subjects were the ones who needed to come together to oppose it and they were never never it was never what hath god drop rod is very good by daniel howe that's that's part of the same uh the oxford series of american history those are all i recommend all of those james mcpherson's uh paddle cry freedom is another one of those what's fun is that they all have the exact same although i gotta say i'm not a fan of the fact that they do footnotes which is another style thing for the oxford uh americans i don't know why especially like they're not there's never anything in the footnotes i don't know why you wouldn't just go but yeah i'm gonna keep thinking about it keep thinking of a way that they could have clapped they needed to just clap the ***** the s the slave uh they needed to overthrow like legitimately overthrow instead of just uh like mildly inconvenience the slave holding ruling class of the south and as i still think that it's interesting to think about how lincoln would have dealt in a second term because the republican notion that we're talking about the small holder republic with the lazar fair government where where it's it's unhealthy to spend too much time as a working-class person that it actually means it's kind of a bad sign it's bad it's a sign of bad character if you work for somebody else for too long because you should be working towards a homestead and a farm of your own lincoln embodied that like lincoln believed that ***** because he was the perfect example of someone like that he grew up on a literal like log cabin poor kid drunk father and he worked himself up to becoming a railroad lawyer and then the president of the united states and he believed in it but you know the thing about lincoln is is that lincoln changed as conditions changed and that's not true of most of the people who have been president now most people have been president have not presided over such a period of ferment that that lincoln did but that's one of the reasons that he was so uniquely fit for the challenge of being president during the civil war and that is why the idea of him being present during reconstruction as much as it doesn't guarantee anything because he did he was well committed to a lot of these uh notions that ended up creating you

know uh the black codes and jim crow and robert baron capitalism and a railroad a corrupt railroad but he was also willing to adjust to changing conditions and the conditions of reconstructing indeed so anyway it's interesting uh now one thing that i think is clear though in terms of what if is that if the federal government had more effectively and consistently applied the use of troops to the south uh they would have reduced the number one factor in the collapse of reconstruction governments which was a white supremacist terrorist violence where where the where the troops went where this cavalry came in the clan was broken up and and freed people were safer it it worked they could do it if it had been more universally applied and more consistently applied it would have had an effect the thing is how do you establish a political will to maintain that investment because it costs money and those troops people who were pushing across to the west those troop those people uh they want they needed troops to protect them from those pesky indians who kept asserting rights one thing that you would need for any kind of useful reconstruction would have been a huge slowing of westward expansion which of course has again cuts against the prerogatives of the the republic presiding republican orthodoxy including what lincoln embodied but another thing you see after the collapse of uh economic precarity exacerbated racial violence in the south and undermined reconstruction governments and that those collapse that that economic uh failure was caused by all the things that the republicans had um had created as the economic and structure of the post-war era speculative railroad investment as the engine for uh for economic expansion and then austerity and uh tight money in the aftermath of the collapse it's interesting to imagine you know a a loose money a greenback based american economy after the civil war what would having england have done because england had an ability even if you weren't on the gold standard to all right so i've been talking so i want to see if anybody asks any questions if anybody was asking any questions about the book i will try to hit those but i've been talking it's hard to talk and look at the chat at the yeah that's the thing we have a greenback standard now and all the same ruling elites are in charge but that's because it came after all of the capital formations that the gold standard allowed in the late 19th century like everything all the changes gold standard then the the creation of the federal reserve that the suspension of convertibility of gold uh and then finally the final abolition of the gold standard were all done at not because of popular pressure not because of a working-class demand but out of the necessity to maintain i don't know chief i don't know anything about chief keef he's a rapper who do you think i am why do you think i know anything about rap was the panic about national debt back then more sincere i mean you can maybe argue it was a little bit just because you know ma economic economics as a discipline was relatively new a lot of the stuff was theoretical but

foundationally if they thought it was it would have been good for them they would have been fine with it i mean that's the end of the end of the line that's that's 0:52:40 the end of it all uh if if they thought it was and the thing is that no matter how how horrified elites are of debt they take it on as needed just in a way that never seems uh somebody's asking about the gilded liberals thinking that the republicans could just be supplanted is that like this socialist thinking the democrats could be supplanted uh i guess in a way in that they're both the byproduct of insularity right 0:53:43 the gilded liberals uh the liberal republicans who nominated greeley and split off from the republicans uh they in tonight in 1872 they they assumed because of their totality of control over uh good opinion that they had some sort of uh purchase beyond you know writers and and professionals uh and it turns out no they didn't uh and in the same way like modern socialists one of the main problems has been the fact that because political um uh constrained by uh the like bubble the epistemic bubbles that pop up in the broader you know social media sphere and how those are not connected really to to any anything concrete and and people who aren't opting 0:54:46 to have those conversations it gives people sort of a a unrealistic uh expectation of what people want and and and how people uh are gonna respond i still think that that the democratic party has to collapse that's for sure uh but it's not going to be because of any political formation that has made as i have said that's that's coming that's going to come along through online any more than the liberal republicans were able to overthrow the stalwarts because a bunch of newspaper editors idea apologies 0:56:8 for the technical issues i'm figuring things out what will be the tipping point for all right this is a good way to end it what will be the current tipping point for currently constructed capitalism do you have to acknowledge the real possibility that there will be no tipping point that that that it will things will get worse obviously and fewer and fewer people will be able to find any sort of livelihood under capitalism and more and more people are going to be kind of spit out and turned into on people outside of the borders of uh of civilized commerce uh but that the structures will maintain 0:57:11 their integrity uh until the very end uh until it's you know until it's just a couple of underground amazon warehouses uh controlled by robots but if it does uh that the end of the petro dollar will probably would do it i think the if if if the us if the dollar is no longer the reserve currency you'd have some that would cause a crisis that the system is not equipped to defeat but for that very reason it's unlikely to happen in the near future because the ruling elites of basically everywhere on earth depend on this current system and none of them have any alternative to it world systems analysis i'm a fan wallerstein i'm a fan uh i think it's it's it's a it's a very useful 0:58:13 furtherance of uh it's essentially it takes like the the insights of the early marxists uh and like you know the leninist notion of imperialism and then extrapolates beyond that to the current system the current reality that none of them could anticipate i hear mariachis stack on my radio hold me tighter i think i'm sinking down heroin outskirts of town all right this is good i got a new spot this is my spot now i think this is much better than the bed i'm back hi guys it's new year's eve new year's 0:1:2 rock and eve depending on how it goes tonight not sure if i'm gonna have a stream tomorrow just letting everyone know uh gonna see some people socially distanced but everyone's of course going to be every have every incentive to uh just pour paint thinner on their brain because 2020 was an epic ***** waffle of a year i should get this out of the shop don't do product placement unless i'm getting how is everybody doing how's everybody feeling about a new year how is everybody feeling about charging the essentially arbitrary calendar change with meaning as a psychic bone lack of control and helplessness that we all have how are we feeling about that i'm 0:2:3 feeling good about it let's not pretend 2021 is going to be better because why not if it's worse what's the big deal oh you were wrong notice people are terrified of being wrong and it's because everyone's opinions are all out there now so if you were wrong people can point it out and it undermines your credibility or your virtue and it makes it it makes it people they tack away from their joy and it's sad who cares if you're wrong who cares if 2021 is worse than 2020 which it very well might be at least hope it could be better for one i'm not on the toilet how dare you i would not stream on the toilet i respect i respect the viewers too much to do that also that's for only fans that's special premium only fans content for when i start showing my hairy ***** to the internet we'll see if it comes to that uh for now i 0:3:4 do like the revolutions podcast i'm glad it's finally coming back poor mike duncan man i mean i know that he he fell off the internet for a while there and he was he missed his deadlines i had no idea what the cause was it turns out he had kidney stones my god miserable and the height of covid brutal poor guy but apparently he's better now and in january we're gonna get more revolutions which give me my slop i'm a slop piggy too just like everybody i want my content and i'm very excited uh maybe i can have my i'd like to talk to him again we had a really good uh episode a couple years ago i'd like to so i thought as the framing device for today's show i would take some take advice from someone on uh the subreddit that is devoted to these streams which yes i have admitted in the past i look at how could i not it'd be really weird if i didn't where they said inspired by the flag discourse if i could rate the state quarters i thought that was a great idea because i remember when the state quarters came out i wasn't i was a big fan i i avidly waited for the next ones uh and made me think yeah damn we should go through these because i remember just being very mad at most of them for just being terribly designed so i thought i'd go back so i'm gonna go through this year by year which ones we have we've got uh 1999 the first quarter is of course for the first state delaware uh which that's all they really have going for them is that they were the first state to ratify the constitution and now they're essentially a offshore tax haven for corporations and insurance companies way to go there's no reason that you should exist they should be annexed by pennsylvania or somebody and have their state government abolished have their ***** chancery court burned to the ground and i mean look what they've unleashed upon the world ***** the delaware method and joe biden are now going to be uh are going to be practicing their particular brand of transactional politics and boy it's gonna be a nightmare and it's just caesar rodney on a horse because what the ***** else are you gonna talk about with delaware there's nothing to talk about unless you just wanted a picture of like uh a p.o box that for some you know holding company that is technically headquartered in delaware but has no offices that would be the ideal delaware quarter instead they have caesar rodney who was the founding father who most famous is most famous for riding day and night uh from the continental continental army encampment to the philadelphia continental congress to give a report on the disposition of washington's army which helped bolster the spines of the delegates who were wavering about whether or not to vote to declare independence from great britain so it's like a key moment and it's very dramatic he shows up he says the army is good we can win this thing and people said yes so cesar rodney who had a face he had face cancer imagine having face cancer in the ***** 1700s well he got a state quarter out of it so guy and a horse what can you say not that good that's a c that's that's minimal effort but delaware what else do you want them to give you uh pennsylvania they just show the stupid state because they're so proud that it's shaped like a keystone oh my god they're so proud we're the keystone state our state happens to vaguely resemble a keystone of a building congratulations and then they've got a liberty lady holding a stick once again and they have an actual keystone just to remind you of why they call it that and also to remind you that the state doesn't even really look that much like a keystone and that the whole dumb thing is pretty forced so once again c terrible yeah everyone's talking about mf doom i he's the guy who rapped about food any more mask never listen to it don't know young mc is my favorite uh new jersey is just a it's just washington crossing the delaware which hey you can't fault him for it's new jersey what are you gonna do have like a body buried in a in the pine barrens or something uh it's a it's a classic moment from american history it's it's busy but because it's a scene of action it doesn't feel cluttered it's pretty good not bad uh georgia just the state shape and a peach i mean it kind of looks like an ass so that's funny but other than that uh 0:8:13 pretty uninspiring connecticut gets credit because it's got that uh the tree that's it's got the tree the charter oak and it's got all the big branches and so it's at least got like a uh it's a little symmetrical i like it it's the best of those i would say of the 1999 ones the best is definitely connecticut with in 2000 massachusetts was just the stupid state first of all honestly if you have the state shape you're losing who cares state shapes aren't interesting for the most part uh and we know you should know what the states are shaped like anyway uh and it's got a minute man oh they're so proud of their dumb minute man once it's got a gun on it which is kind of cool maryland has uh just their ***** state dome and it says old line state oh my god wow boring south carolina once again shape of the stupid state and a palmetto and a dumb bird i don't like the collage ones at all uh new hampshire's is actually hilarious because 0:9:14 it has the old man on the mountain which shortly after the coin was released uh fell away and doesn't exist anymore so that has its own special charm and then virginia a bunch of colonial ships coming into jamestown i like boats boats are always good on a coin none of these are terribly good honestly i guess i go with virginia just because of the sails but other than that yeah the mountain the the old man on the mountain is like was a was a face shaped outcropping on a mountain that fell off fell off a so i give virginia that one in two thousand two thousand two thousand one new york it's uh just the state shape but instead it's just like massachusetts state shape and then instead of a minuteman it's the statue of liberty uh boring lame uh 0:10:16 north carolina has the kitty hawk airplane which always annoys me because both ohio and north carolina claim to be the state that was first in flight because the wright brothers are from ohio and they designed the airplane in ohio in their bicycle shop but then they took it to the dunes of north carolina to fly in my mind there should be some sort of adjudication on who gets to be the first in flight state and honestly i think ohio has a better argument the wright brothers were sons of ohio they were sons of the industrious midwest they literally just went to north carolina because there was a big flat area they could ***** fly a plane on uh so north carolina big demerits for stealing valor from ohio there rhode island they got a sailboat and a bridge uh reminding you that it's the state of boat shoe wearing rich ***** uh vermont just literally trees and some ***** getting the maple syrup out of the trees weak uh well you tell me why the hell they did it into the ***** dunes then ***** 0:11:17

CUSHVLOG 132. FLOSSING TOWARDS BETHLEHEM

uh and then kentucky is just a horse and a horse barn wow these are all these suck these are terrible don't like any of them i guess because because there's a boat on it i'll go with rhode island when in doubt i'll put kentucky or tennessee in 2002 is just their musical heritage it literally just says musical heritage and then there's a guitar and a fiddle and a trumpet like try to create a a concept try to create some sort of tableau don't just throw things together ohio also has the kitty it has the ***** uh the wright brothers playing on it two states with the same ***** airplane on it but then they also have an astronaut on there because a ton of the astronauts including john glenn uh and i believe neil hunt neil armstrong are from ohio and honestly that uh that is a a spike uh in the face of north carolina that they don't have they they don't just have a claim to airplanes they have a claim to space travel louisiana 0:12:18 just has i love louisiana it's got uh an outline of the united states and then it has within it the purchase which the vast majority of which is not louisiana you're what that's not that's just a name man what the ***** and then it's got a pelican and another trumpet just like tennessee has awful god how long do they think of these things indiana the shape of indiana which why would you want to ***** brag about indiana's shape in any way and then they've got a ***** uh formula one car because they have the indian fo indianapolis 500 there brutal depressing uh mississippi is the clear winner in 2002 it's a big uh a big bush of magnolias it's got it's it's it's floral it's nice mississippi definitely wins the 2003 okay illinois once again shape you're in 0:13:20 bad shape there with the shape but then they also have a barn on one side and then they have the willis tower on the other and then a young abe lincoln standing where illinois is i love lincoln as you guys know uh but i would have gone with just lincoln's face or something or like with the hat or something why do you have to do the shape of the stupid state alabama has hilariously helen keller just sitting in a chair which if you know that she was a pretty committed communist uh it's pretty funny that you've got the state of alabama commemorating a commie uh but as a design very uninspired maine's got a lighthouse and a boat which is nice i like that missouri has the stupid uh gateway arch and lewis and clark on a little canoe and arkansas bafflingly has a giant diamond and then like a swamp i guess are there diamonds in arkansas is it is there some sort of mining operation in arkansas that i'm not 0:14:21 aware of if anyone knows anyone from arkansas do they mind diamonds there it's a swamp diamond oh little rock is that the rock they were talking about well whatever uh not very good i got to give this one to maine the the the lighthouse is nice and of course it's got a boat in it 2004 michigan just the great lakes the outline of the mitten and then the great lakes themselves once again those aren't your ***** lakes okay yes one of them is named after you but they're not your ***** lakes there's much the lakes of everybody else in that region of the country don't don't be *****

stealing them okay apparently there are diamonds in the ozarks okay interesting uh so yeah ***** you michigan trying to take the whole ***** great lakes for yourself uh florida terrible uh palm tree uh like clipper ship and then a space shuttle because 0:15:23 that's where cape canaveral is terrible just put a big orange in there or something or ***** mickey mouse i know they'd love to do that uh texas what a shock just the shape of texas and then their big stupid star i'm not the only one who noticed this of course but doesn't that the star on the texas uh someone's asking about if we talked about in the republic for which it stands uh we did talk about it yesterday after this i'm going to talk about it a little more because i want to talk a little bit more about the panic 1873. uh and how it happened it's pretty interesting uh so then we got iowa little red schoolhouse foundation and education dorks might as well just say nerds might as well just say this is a state for dorks and nerds poindexter state uh and then wisconsin which i have to say one of the worst there is it's just a stoop it's a cow's head and then a wheel of cheese and then an ear of corn and then the state motto forward embarrassing embarrassing all around you've got the 0:16:24 cheese and the cow you can't commit to one or the other they're both dairy related uh this is a terrible year all of these are bad i hesitate to even pick a favorite oh i guess i i hate to say it but i guess i gotta go with texas just because that star if any at least is a you know is a stark symbol as opposed to the cluttered oh yeah that's right that happened a year after one of the ***** space shuttles blew up in the ass california uh you got john muir looking at yosemite lame cluttered why not just use the condor why not just put the california condor on there they got the little condor in the background just do the condor lame minnesota the stupid shape and then a lake guess what ***** wisconsin has more lakes than minnesota i don't know if you people are aware of that and i don't know i told this to a person from minnesota once and they refused to believe me look at the ***** up wisconsin has more lakes oregon uh crater lake nice lake some trees serene not bad evocative not cluttered but 0:17:29 hard to beat kansas just a good old ***** see kansas is great because you've got a buffalo but then you've got a little sunflower which is the state flower right next to it so you get an evocation of the state you get the landscape or i mean you get like the floor and fauna and it's historic it's it's history you don't have to have the stem shape the square shape and then west virginia is a bridge over the new river gorge which is nice but a little cluttered but yeah nothing's beating kansas kansas 2006 nevada nevada is very busy but i actually kind of like it it's a bunch of wild horses stampeding across a desert with a rising sun in the background says the silver state on it it's good i like i like nevada uh and then you got nebraska you got conestoga 0:18:33 wagons and chimney rock and and some sun uh i mean it's basically doing the same thing kind of the nevada is but less interestingly and less dynamically because the

the the wagon train looks like statues it doesn't look like it's in motion as opposed to the horses that look like they're in full gallop colorado you got a hill you got a big mountain of course it's the rockies kind of no-brainer there north dakota also has buffalo like kansas does but to buffalo with the sun way more busy not nearly as good so not only is it the second buffalo quarter it's the less distinctive less well-designed buffalo quarters so north dakota stays losing south dakota mount rushmore which by the way has anyone bundle up mount rushmore i mean i know obviously that it's a horrifying cultural crime it's like it's essentially we did an end zone dance to celebrate our ethnic cleansing of the black hills by taking a sacred mountain and carving our greatest war criminals onto it but forget the politics if you ever go it is 0:19:34 insanely underwhelming you you go out onto this promontory like this big parking lot and there's ***** uh bathrooms and gift shops and there's just a big flat plane and you just look across a little gully and then there's the the outcropping and then you look at it and it's exactly what you think it is and it's not that big even it doesn't look that imposing it's lame it sucks gust up borglum was a ***** uh clan member uh hack piece of ***** it's it's one of our least intrep impressive uh pieces of national monument realty sucks thumbs down uh of these i will go with nevada for sure with the with the horses uh 2007. montana is badass it's got a ***** uh it's got a steer skull with the horns and then some mountains in the background washington's got 0:20:35 a jumping fish and a little hill and water idaho the bird and then the shape of the state boring wyoming has is a great one it's an outline of a lady cowgirl bucking on a bronco and it says the equality state uh which of course it's known as because it was the first state to allow women to vote which it did as an enticement to get them to move there because like many western states it had a wild gender imbalance in its early days and then utah nothing not the beehive i would have thought the beehive would have been a no-brainer instead they go with transcontinental railroad and the in this and the spike uh at the cross what the ***** was it called promontory point promotory point right something like that uh gotta go here with yeah i'll go with wyoming i like i like the the cowgirl it tells the story and then finally the last 0:21:37 year 2008 um we got oklahoma we got a bird and some flowers new mexico points for their great symbol from their wonderful flag points against because it's laid up against a stupid state background which when you're a big square state there's the least reason to put your state shape on there it's a ***** square who gives a ***** uh uh what is arizona's oh there's arizona oh the grand canyon of course that's a no-brainer although honestly the grand canyon depiction isn't very good it doesn't really look like a so they don't they kind of bungle it alaska big old bear with ***** salmon in his mouth that's pretty good i like the bear and then hawaii is i think king kamehameha holding out his arm and then the archipelago i kind of give hawaii 0:22:40

uh i give them of any of the states they're the ones who i understand putting the shape in there the most because it's a bunch of islands but i gotta go with alaska there with the bear uh so that's so if the best ones are alaska texas maine mississippi rhode island virginia and connecticut i think my favorite honestly i think my favorite is kansas i think it's kansas i think that's my favorite one i think in a future one i'm gonna do the president quarters which happened shortly after these they did all this all the quarters i don't even know if they got they did them all though because i think they let me see if they did the whole thing yeah they did all of them they did everybody up to george h.w bush but they haven't done one since that's the last one they did let me just i'll just look through these and see if any of them are good uh the nixon one is hilarious it doesn't these are all pretty underwhelming but you know what are you gonna do it's just a bunch of white guys uh the van buren one is nice because they get his amazing haircut so there we go those are the state quarters none of them are very good it's amazing those states had a long time to think of them they often had like contests to decide and that's all they came up with was mostly very uninspiring collages which really tells you what you get from group so right but now let's talk about the panic of 1873 which led to the longest economic contraction in american history over 60 months straight of economic attraction in part because the liberal orthodoxy of the of the dominant republican party uh refused to increase the money supply uh and inject cash into the economy which led to contraction and deflation and helped kill reconstruction because the election of 1872 which saw republican governments take power in many southern states was relatively violence free compared to many of the other post-civil war southern elections was marked by a convulsion of violence and a return to democratic rule in most of them and a lot of it was because the republican project was invalidated in the minds of uh the uh small holding white and poor white population because the ***** election failed or because the the economy failed and it it didn't have to god damn it but anyway what caused it to happen so the civil war saw the biggest accumulation of capital in america since the since the uh revolution uh which is what happens when you have a big war that we have talked about that before about how the napoleonic war is what created the like the capital dynamo that burst uh english industrial dominance and that a similar thing happened in the united states but after the war there had to be something to uh take the place of of that spending of that of that investment that used to go into procuring and producing uh material for the war and that was the building of railroads both through the reconstructed south and into the west and it was accomplished by the government subsidizing private corporations to essentially just take land along the route uh and giving it to them and that the economic engine of the economy the the the paper that underwrote the economy

because we weren't yet on the gold standard uh was railroad bonds uh were were bonds that railroads sold uh in order to finance construction and expansion and purchasing of other railroads because there was a drive towards monopolization in every level of the but the thing about it was is that the more bonds you sold the more interest you had to pay on the bonds and that necessitated if you didn't have a profit if you didn't have like a profit engine under girding the business which many most of these railroads didn't they did not make money any more than silicon valley makes money now uh and that meant that they had to sell more bonds more new bonds and then new bond money from people purchasing bonds today paid for the interest in the old bonds that other people had purchased and there was a economic 0:28:57 risk a sharp stock market collapse in europe first in vienna and then shock waving out throughout the rest of europe then hitting the united kingdom which is where most foreign capital was coming into the united states and that led to a reduction in demand for american railroad bonds and once there was nobody there to buy the new bonds there was nobody there there was no money to pay for the interest on the old bonds and all of these railroads just went into receivership almost overnight and that engine that was keeping the economy going was keeping demand for steel and lumber uh and was providing speculative opportunities for wall street and you read that and you think my god how could anybody let that happen it's a ponzi scheme it's a mother someone says does that count as a kanzi scheme essentially and 0:29:58 the thing about it is that's everything now that is that's the essence of finance is that it's all paying new money it's all using new money to pay for old debts uh that was the essence of the uh real estate collapse in 2008 too the money there was there was a there was a reduction in the flow of new money to pay uh for uh all the bets that have been placed on these mortgages and as soon as that happens the whole it's inevitable boom and bust it can't be done away with with it with uh with capitalism it's an intrinsic and the funny thing about people who love the gold standard not 70 by 70 in the panic of 73 there was no gold standard not yet anyway but there was a 0:30:59 huge collapse in uh 1892 i believe which was during the gold standard and then of course the great depression happened it is amazing gold gold buggery is one of the least defensible one of the least like coherent intellectually uh compelling uh fetishes you can have it is pure and very blatant ideology and it's kind of astounding that there are still people who fixate upon it and i think it boils down to the fact that as much as capitalists like to make fun of socialists for saying oh we haven't really had socialism nothing's been tried uh that every single time at capitalism causes mass admiseration there has to be an explanation and it always boils down to well you're 0:32:0 not doing capitalism right and as i have said the same forces that pushed for the gold standard are the same ones that coordinated the move over to a federal reserve system and the end of gold convertibility and then the end of the gold standard in general it was it was not the government doing that it was not some sort of big government colossus that is anyway inextricably linked to finance capital it was finance capital it was to their advantage at every point and the gold standard now is just a thing a a a fantasy alternative and honestly you know the the bi-medialism of the populists was a similar thing but that's because they weren't able to imagine a economic uh reality outside of capitalism and so what if we put some silver in there and increase the money supply became sort of the signal reform but it was 0:33:1 generate it was motivated more just by wanting there to be an alternative wanting there to be something other than what was not working when the fact is that what had to go what had to get rid of it i chanted i sang a brian brian brian candidate for president who sketched a silver zion i read that vashta lindsay poem about the brian campaign like ***** eight months ago now on when i was doing these on instagram i mean yes there was there was a nationalization as part of it but you know limited nationalization is still capitalism i mean like the french model is more socialistic than ours but it's still it is still a mixed economy it's just the degree of mix but no the uh the silver the silver bugs were definitely better than the gold bugs i mean the 0:34:2 gold buggery at that time was pure and has always been pure reaction uh whereas there is like a progressive motivation at the heart of was william jennings bryan the silver the gilded age bernie i mean the closest thing yeah definitely and he was a guy who like bernie started out as a third party guy he was nominated by the populist party for president and it was a deal where the democrat it was for the democrats so as not to be outflanked nominated him too which uh is also what happened in 1872 with horace greeley who was nominated by the third party liberal republicans and then the democrats nominated him too just because he was an alternative to republicanism basically and the democrats at that point in the north which is where 0:35:4 they were you know electorally coherent uh had no real raison d'etre besides you know opposing um opposing reconstruction on behalf of their southern constituents which greeley by that point wanted to do away with the liberal republicans in general wanted to sell out the friedman completely and it is funny to imagine horse greeley getting elected and they're dying i'm not sitting on the toilet good lord who were these people with uh with whose bathroom has a window directly behind the ***** modern vampires somebody's asking about i've never heard of this movie attention 0:36:10 but it's amazing when you read the uh the history of the railroad specifically in the way that that they were wildly subsidized to no good end like there there was at no there is no rational justification for the way that the u.s went about funding railroad construction after the civil war the only thing the only way any of it makes sense is bribery was fraud but the ones doing the bribing and the fraud fraud were largely the same people who were condemning tammany and uh and graft essentially because some of that money went to the the you know jobs for the teaming irish masses in the cities and not to the not to the you know uh uh well-ordered protestant and that's why any alternative reconstruction would have required a coherent organized political uh a self-interested political coalition whose interest was not could not be bought off essentially because that's the problem with the working class uh in the united states at that point is that due to the fact that it was largely ethnically and religiously segregated and the fact that it was stuck into ghettos in cities like boston and philadelphia and new york is that they could be and were handled on a client basis and that prevented them from doing any real like class-based organizing that came later but uh by that point you know capital uh accumulation had become so successful and so had so leviathanic that their ability to fight it was uh somebody was asking about grants grant's third term he did try to run for a third term uh and i like the way that richard white puts it in the book where he says that uh grant was sort of reluctant to run for president because he didn't feel like he was prepared for it but then he needed he felt he needed to run for a third term because he wasn't prepared to but it's hard to imagine if he'd gotten that third term anything would have been better i mean the uh compromise of 1877 which formerly ended reconstruction was of course a death knell for progress in this country but by that point it's hard to imagine it anything else going the polit anything else happening uh even if you hadn't had that occur because the the political will in the north for any further expenditure of men or money to maintain black rights in the south was completely exhausted and like the thing that changes that hypothetically if we're talking about wish casting is not anything that happens that late in the game it's things that happen very very early after the war things that allow uh black economic and political power to be uh organized harnessed and asserted and in the immediate aftermath of the war which would have created a momentum of its own and changed political calculations made for example the black vote in the south something that was uncontestable something that couldn't be neutralized by terror and by manipulation by former confederates because there would have been enough at the early stages federal support and federal protection for freedmen and freed women to allow for the building of economic and political institutional power and again i don't know if that's possible in this country in with the with the material we had but it couldn't it certainly was not going to happen with andrew johnson as president and as much as lincoln was a man of his time he was also a man uh who unlike johnson could change his ***** mind and his views on things like the ability of blacks and whites to uh live side by side had radically changed from the way they were at the beginning of the war and there were enough northerners who would have been changed by the experience of fighting the war who in the very after in that moment in that moment of triumph could have made different decisions collectively that could have had a cumulative effect uh 0:41:19 anyway it's certainly fun to think about it's certainly more fun to think about than the future of the actual world we live in which might explain why i'm so drawn to it grant was kind of a himbo he was not as dumb as he's remembered historically he was i mean he was militarily very adept and he was and he had a uh aptitude for for military grand strategy that was superior for most of his opponents certainly more than lee lee of course wildly overrated lee was a was a pretty good tactician uh but part of that was the fact that he was mostly fighting against overmatched political hacks for a large part of the war uh and you know buffoons like mccllellan i mean my god how are you gonna ***** take credit for beating george mccllellan the guy basically didn't want the union to win for christ's sake how the hell are you 0:42:20 gonna take credit for that i mean like there's a whole theory that the uh that the howl brothers the who are the naval and uh and army commanders of the of the british uh colonial military during uh the american revolution uh who and who are both freemasons and and wigs uh were basically kind of rooting for the colonists and weren't trying that hard which kind of explains how the uh the uh colonialists were able to avoid destruction so many times most notably uh after the battle of brooklyn when uh howe had a chance to absolutely wipe out washington's army and took so goddamn long to cross over from staten island to manhattan that it gave washington time to escape uh to the mainland there's a similar thing with mccllellan i mean not only was he a democrat who hated lincoln uh posed emancipation uh but 0:43:21 after he got to smart discharge he ran against lincoln in 1864 on a peace platform on a let the south secede platform how the hell are you going to give lee that much credit for beating him especially since he didn't even beat him that many times he ***** lost tactically almost every one of the seven days battles and then mccllellan would just retreat because he was he obviously believed he was outnumbered and then of course uh he couldn't even he was battled to a draw and antietam anyway he was okay tactically but he was a strategic nincompoop he invaded the north twice who who who could look at the disposition of forces of the confederacy versus the union and the south versus the north and say we should be invading the north that's madness you are you are you are outnumbered you are vastly less resources vastly 0:44:23 fewer popul vastly smaller population you fight attrition you make you fight until they can't fight anymore you do not spend men and material what trying to it's funny angles knew from the ***** the day the war started no you win the war by going through growing from the west and cutting through georgia who gives a ***** about richmond why are you taking richmond is just the capital it's just a bunch of ***** buildings it's it's it's some buildings and some boxes of files you can put them on a horse and so so grant was definitely a better strategic thinker than lee was but he was not a great political thinker i mean most of these generals weren't like if they were they would have been ***** politicians you know and of those like of those generals who take the reigns none of them really are political minds washington wasn't a political mind um grant wasn't a political mind eisenhower was not the difference between three of those is that washington essentially had he was there to lend his credibility to the enterprise and to assuage all of the wary colonies former colonies that nobody was gonna be over awed by this federal government because everyone trusted president general washington because he had had the chance to be king and turned it down he was the cincinnatis and um eisenhower was able to preside over what was essentially a bipartisan political economic consensus as like deeply entrenched in its way as neoliberalism is now uh but as i said yesterday grant was was was coming onto a scene of absolute uh protein uh liquidity and he was not really the man for it i mean i don't necessarily think that you need like a lincoln third term or anything if he doesn't get assassinated hey maybe he gets assassinated somewhere in his second term but then you need an actual politician an actual radical republican to be president and more importantly than because of their individual um you know values or anything what they represent of a coalition like the interest because grant was not uh indebted in any way to the radical republicans he was standing sort of on top this rickety collection of of uh republicans of the liberal and stalwart radical and conservative types he did not really represent any one faction as you would have needed somebody who actually did represent the radicals and not just the radicals represented the economic radicals among them because there were plenty of radical republicans but yeah benjamin wade benjamin wade would have been better so another another what if that we dodged was what if they'd ***** one vote away from impeaching one vote away from impeaching ***** uh johnson and then you get radical ***** republican benjamin wade as president uh but sadly for him a lot of people knew that and didn't want him to be president and were betting on grant so they that was one of the reasons that he they but yeah you need to not have johnson in there at all just throwing up literally just throwing a ***** spanner in the works who's the best confederate confederate confederate general i mean stonewall jackson was really good there's no there's he was a ***** psycho and an ***** but he was you know what he was doing and then more more even than his like tactical brilliance was the fact that he could uh he was able to master the the um rapid deployment of infantry which was very difficult during that period uh you know they called him foot cavalry because of how fast jackson could get his guys around and that was a huge i mean that's essentially that was not that was a large percentage of napoleon's innovation was his ability to take the uh increased mobility of a of a republican military force that had uh esprit de corps that came from a shared mission as opposed to the collection of mercenaries and and conscripts that made up uh you know european uh old royal militaries and used that to make them move much much faster so and that allowed him much more maneuverability 0:49:29 relative to his opponents and jackson had that same thing uh i like thinking i like talking about the worst confederates more though uh john bell hood might have been the very worst of all of them just in terms of how disastrously terror i mean he's more responsible for the burning of atlanta and the destruction that sherman wrought than almost anybody because he destroyed his army uh people talk about the idiocy of pickett's charge which was of course idiotic and another of on many pieces of evidence that lee was a ***** overrated hack but at least pickett's charge was preceded by a huge hours-long uh artillery bombardment that was theoretically supposed to destroy uh the center of the union force and allow them to just kind of march through it it didn't work they they were firing over the heads most of the time but ***** porter alexander but at least had an idea at uh at franklin john bell hood sent his army against the fixed and uh uh the fixed position of uh thomas with no 0:50:30 arc hillary from uh bombard whatsoever just sent him into the ***** thresher and destroyed his whole army in the process killed like 13 generals i believe so as you can imagine he's one of my favorite confederate generals and i do think it's funny that two of our big military bases that are named after confederate generals that we're supposed to be mad about and it is ***** up that they are then that's what we did name them but our hood and brag and those are two of the biggest ***** army i'll tell you the one i hate hearing to hearing about it all is ***** patrick claiborne people can shove that mick up their ***** ass shut the ***** up about that ***** shanty irish ***** because he is every every soft confederate apologist's favorite confederate general because he said hey let's uh emancipate the slaves and have him fight for us why would they do that i don't know i'm sitting over here eating a potato like 0:51:31 an apple don't ***** ask me and of course all the other confederates told him he was an idiot and told him to shut the ***** up because it was a dumb idea and it was unconnected to everything and he got murked at ***** uh uh at jeb stewart uh another uh dandy ***** oh he did he had some very impressive cavalry theatrics because of course the the horse ***** uh uh gentry loved their horses but he was m.i.a for the first two days of gettysburg when lee needed him most which helped lead him into a blind bleep blundering in to means forces and then he got his ass killed at yellow tavern good riddance ah i do go back and forth about mead and 0:52:46 whether or not he should have attacked lee after gettysburg i mean i totally get that they were really mauled but ***** lee was even more mauled and when you think of how long it took to drive them down after that and how many how many dead

there were it's hard to william mahone is an interesting character because he was a confederate general and well uh regarded one who like james longstreet became a republican after the war a scalawag as they called them but even more so in the 1890s headed a a multi-racial populist political organization in virginia that oppose the bourbon reactionary democrats and if and when you think about guys like that and there were not oh they're not a few of them there were no there were not a few ex-confederates who who who ended up after the war uh supporting the reconstruction governments and becoming republicans i mean my god albert parsons one of the uh 0:53:48 one of the haymarket martyrs was a confederate veteran uh when you consider how many of them there were in the context of the you know shitty and uh economically exploitative reconstruction we got imagine how many we could have had imagine how many more there would have been in a context where the reconstruction of the south was economically uh revitalizing instead of you know exploitative where everybody who was not a slave owner and a plantation owner got land and got a chance to prosper as holders the way that you're supposed to do in the north there were there was plenty of uh there was a lot of potential there was ferment things didn't have to go the way they did i really believe that they definitely should have hung uh jeff davis there's no question about that i mean they should have hung i mean you don't want to get too bloodthirsty but they should have hung most of 0:54:49 the confederate leadership the cabinet for sure they obviously should have banned anybody who served in the government from ever voting again i mean that's a no-brainer and on obviously obviously obviously anybody who owned land anybody who owned plantation should sherman was a good strategic mind but he wasn't very good tactically he he would get he would get in his head about the opponent uh and and he would kind of second guess himself and double clutch he doesn't like his his battles uh dirt his his battles during the march to the sea and and to atlanta and then the sea aren't terribly uh impressive like i said uh a lot of it was facilitated by the fact that the the armies of the west were getting mauled by the army of the cumberland and franklin and nashville difference between strategies and tactics is 0:55:50 so like the anaconda plan that winfield scott devised at the beginning of the war to defeat the south naval blockade split it in half that's a strategy tactics are uh like at chancellorsville for example when that was pope right yeah pope's army he split his forces and had uh uh stonewall jackson tactic but yeah sherman didn't do great like bad like kennesaw mountain and stuff he he was he was prone to sort of wasting troops and direct if i wasn't a podcast or would my dream career be i thought about 0:57:9 that and i think i'd like to direct a movie which is pathetic because the art form is dying as all art forms are now anything that requires capital is uh is going down the tubes but i would like to direct a movie and i think i'd be a good teacher too if i i mean you want to talk about more realistically i could probably get a certificate or something i don't i mean probably yeah get like a teaching certificate be a cool sub well podcasting is an art form what makes it so is its low homeless alcoholic i mean possibly i wouldn't last long i don't think there might be a pot if if if spotify eats 0:58:10 the world the way they're trying to on podcasting there might end up being like a podcaster's guild or like a union which of course would be the that's the trajectory of all artisanal forms of uh proletarianized yeah my my dream project would be to write direct something about the someone is saying that having citizenship based 0:59:29 to property ownership is uh is doomed uh and dooms liberty correct uh and that's one of those things that would have had to have been destroyed by the the by the contradictions of the of the post-civil war era being heightened and sharpened faster like it would you would not have had i i really think that like a successful reconstruction would not in any sense be peaceful it would in fact be in it would be a more explicit war it would it would be a more violent it would be another stage of violence because it was the stage of violence it's just the violence was mostly carried out against former slaves and so therefore was able to be absorbed by the political uh consensus pretty easily because these were people who were not really considered citizens by most people even if they might have technically acquired citizenship by the post-war constitutional amendments you would have you would have seen violence it just would have been uh it would have in fact been more widespread it would but it 1:0:30 would have involved uh violence against uh recalcitrant former slave owners and and the people that they could whip up into militarily supporting them and it would have hopefully ended with the destruction of the constitutional order which is why i don't think lincoln would have done it because lincoln loved the constitution and i think he would have not have been the one to preside over its destruction but somebody would have because if the contradictions had been brought to the fore if black citizenship and he and personhood was more firmly established as something that a even if it's a thin majority a majority of northern whites uh supported the constitution would have been shown to be unviable and the property-based conception of freedom would have been unviable and it would have had to be replaced by something else not not socialism there would have not been any forces for that but something that had more uh flexibility to it and something that allowed for a force beyond mere bribery to 1:1:31 determine uh the shape of political economy which is what the we ended up getting uh the civil war created a new class of finance capitalists who were sitting on uh government bonds and then railroad bonds and those men bought the government as surely as the oligarchs and the only thing that would have stopped that from 1:2:53 happening is a coalition of political will that would have been asserting oh someone's asking about us uh the tryhard christmas episode thank you for liking that i know a lot of people don't like those because they're very inside baseball and it's all references but if we only do like one a year i don't feel like that's too much to ask to be indulgent once in a while to have a little fun you know a little reward for the people who have uh who've spent too much time listening to us over the year you know uh but we it was me chris and uh will we we sat down and we we punched out a script and then uh we basically allowed felix once we recorded it to just riff so he he wrote most of his own lines as we was as he was reading them because he is the rift master unparalleled whereas i mostly stuck to the script because when i'm doing a character or a much well class consciousness is an id some of that says class consciousness 1:3:56 is idealism idealism is the idea is the idea that ideas people have but everyone is operating off of ideas every day it's just that those ideas are shaped by their material reality people with people who are exploited people who are working class they are they are whether they are aware of it or not subject to capitalism subject to capital exploitation are immigrated by it in some way or another but they might not be aware of it coming into awareness of that will change their actions but you don't get a permanent change of conditions until people coordinate their activities their 1:5:0 role in the productive mechanism by for example withdrawing their labor collectively and then by doing that you establish new structures and new relationships and a new mode of production and then that the thing is is that you can't separate them completely you can't separate structure super base superstructure are not separate concepts like i said it's like muscle and bone if you take the bone out the muscle will just turn into a pile but if you take out pull the muscle away you just have a skeleton it can't dance it can't do anything they are fully inextricably linked and uh that's why i like trying to label things and fixating on whether or not something 1:6:2 is idealist or or materialist that gets the only reason that that happens i think is because people are mostly just arguing people are mostly just trying to argue about things and so they need labels to pick the good things from the bad things they're not applying ideas to their lives and so anything they do in that world no matter how materialistic they insist it is will end up just being idealist talking points and and and uh and hypothetical like when you say hey like marx's hagel the the head and the they're still real you know but if you turn something upside down it doesn't mean that the side that was up is no longer doesn't exist anymore it's just it's at a 1:7:3 different level of uh it's at a different point of uh it's just at a different point relative to to the other ideas like it's all it's all part of the same thing non-dualism like if we're just talking about like identifying strands to analyze but if it's just an analysis it doesn't mean anything anyway it has to be action it has to be uh it has to filter into your life and the decisions you make with do you think that psych this will be the last question do you think that psychedelics will ever have a formal position in society i hope so honestly uh i don't want to you know be a ***** uh 60s ***** or timothy leary or anything but in my experience psychedelics are more uh can be 1:8:5 anyway a more effective therapeutic mechanism than like pharmaceuticals which are mo which mostly exists as like instrumentally to make people functional within a dysfunctional society like a a functional society drugs of all kinds would be assessed for their for their use not as to make somebody like productive but to make somebody actually heal but certainly not our society like if we do if there is some and i think there probably will be a move towards decriminalizing psychedelics but that's if but that will end up just being the same thing that we've seen with marijuana which is 1:9:9 another a form of indulgence another another form of escape another way to keep people from feeling too much their alienation but not allowing them but yeah i would i would i would imagine something where you have like psychedelics you know in a therapeutic framework where they're taking taken like in conjunction with a uh like a coaching system or shamanically but not just for you know uh silicon valley ***** who could afford to go to chile for ayahuasca experience for anybody who alright 1:10:14 guys gals i hope everyone has a good new year's eve if you can i know everyone's in covet hell but uh if you can have fun try to uh and yeah you know what 21 20 21 will probably be a veil of tears that was a young man i carried my pack and i lived the free life of a rover and the mary's green basin to the dusty outback i think they're cool my matilda all over till in 1915 my country said son it's time to stop rambling for there's work to be done so they gave me a tin hat and they gave me a gun and they sent me and the band played wolfing matilda as we sailed away from the cave but amidst all the cheers 0:1:4 and the shouts and the tears great great tune we all love it don't we folks we all love it and i'll be a normie i like the pogue version the most i like the i like shane mcgowan's voice not gonna lie i'm uh i'm a plastic patty at heart even though i'm fairly sure i'm basically not any of the i don't have any hated bogmen in me according to my pointless uh well the thing is they're all germans anyway everybody's crowds everybody's a ***** crowd even the celts so i want to start by addressing a question that someone asked yet last week that i think realize on reflection i didn't answer terribly well and it was they asked me about um about idealism versus materialism 0:2:6 as like a way to approach life and history and you know everything else reality even and they said well isn't the notion of class consciousness uh idealist because the idea is it's an idea it's oh there's a class consciousness that we have to operate from and then that changes our behavior by making us join uh unions maybe or do strikes or fight a revolution that's all ideas and i kind of got hung up on the word definition and i i think and i think it's just because you know certain people come at questions from a different like uh understanding of the terms involved so they're going to like ask you questions that sort of hit you at an angle but now that i thought about it more i think the key to understanding the distinction here is to say we've got to cut for example we've got the constitution right uh yeah we're gonna talk about the book tomorrow uh by the way i'm i'm almost done with my with the section and i'm 0:3:8 very very enjoying it i'm gonna go through probably chapter by chapter on that one because there's a lot of really important stuff like uh the ***** on the uh the strike of uh 1877 is very important but anyway we have a constitution in this country right we have constitutional order now why is that why do we have a constitution why is written the way it is there's one theory that says well it's because the founding fathers believed x y and z about natural rights and governance and that that's why it's the way it is that is an idealist understanding of history there is another that says these were the richest people in north america at the time they were fighting essentially a separatist war the same way that like the trade federation was in the prequels to get a better deal and the global uh market for their product which they saw as a local product because it benefited local ruler local uh elites landowners large landowners in the south and uh and they fought on behalf of their prerogatives to extract money from the earth to turn america into cash they didn't want to give any more to the global trade system or the demands of the crown taxation or more importantly uh reduction in the amount of trade that the us could uh carry off the boston tea party people think of of as some sort of protest against the tax on tea that's not the case there was no tax on t that led to the boston tea party what happened was that for a number of complicated reasons the british had decided to unwind or had decided that they needed to recapitalize basically the uh the uh the the east india company which was producing tea and vast quantities in the indian subcontinent and was then having to you know send it around the world as part of our beloved triangle trade uh and that uh as a way to streamline its operations the crown said look all tea is gonna come through uh not through individual uh uh purveyors that you make deals with as individual merchants in boston which allow you to act as a middleman for the global uh trade we would like you to get all of your tea from the uh east india company which you know that's a guaranteed revenue stream for them props them up essentially a public bailout of the private company but they are not really they're the same thing basically the state and these these like corporate organs are at the very root the same thing and that was a that's a conflict of interest between the the the uh like the british economy as a thing in which america's colonies like colonies are part of and the new local domestic elite the large landowners and merchants in north america to who did not see it that way and so the austin tea party was a rebellion against the uh reduction in the freedom of trade of merchants not even the tea not people who got the tea people who buy the tea and then resell it and the fact is is that the tea act that was being protested brought tea prices down it was more efficient it reduced overhead what it did is it cut the margins of the so if you understand that you understand the constitution is the way it is to protect in the interest of power to protect the people who hold capital to make sure that we have enough of a facade democracy to allow for um you know the expression of political demands that are channeled away from real centers of power and towards structural epiphenomenon like the so that's an idealist but so that's why that's the actual materialist understanding of why the constitution says what it and the thing about an idea but the thing is is that whether it's materialist

CUSHVLOG 132. FLOSSING TOWARDS BETHLEHEM

understanding of that historical moment or an idealist one me saying it is an idea it's still an abstraction it's still an idea adhering to it is adhering to an idea but it is idea that it's generated by an understanding of reality as a material interaction not as an idealized place where ideas are disconnected from the material conditions that uh generate them and so class consciousness is simply uh workers going from believing what the superstructure of capitalist society tells them to believe because that's the beauty of that's why idealist history is reactionary that's why idealism is reactionary because it serves capital by neutralizing dissent from it all of that alienation i feel as a alienated and exploited capitalist subject gets steamed away because i believe ideas about what what like what the constitution stands for what 0:8:16 good and bad are we how what happened in history that ripped me away from the reality of my daily capital exploitation when i've come to the realization that oh it is actually material interests that shape this stuff that the constitution doesn't have value beyond its ability to assert class rule and that therefore i am in opposition to these systems that because the content of their ideas is meaningless and you are you then are uh put in a position where you can banish the ghosts the spooks of the constitutional order of democracy of patriotism all that stuff and it's because you have adapted an idea it's still an idea that you drive through every day and that takes you know individual experience and gives an order and gives turns into an ideology and a praxis but it is generated by real experience of real oppression not 0:9:17 by being convinced of ideas that is why liberalism will always be uh at the fund at a fundamental basis incompatible with um with marxism with socialism and will have to be defeated it can be negotiated with and used against itself because it's ruled by that non-class class that lower middle class that is the party of politics that's the political party it's the lower middle class because the super rich politics is beside the point they just sign checks and for those poor it's beside the point because they have no power all power when you have all the power none of the power in a political system you have no reason to care about it it's in that middle strata that we convince ourselves that there's meaning in this politics because we do things like have jobs that are positioned in tension between proletariat and uh and capitalist and pull us in one or another direction and that push and pull is what generate so does that 0:10:18 make sense the difference between id uh of uh the middle class is is the political class and they and they're the ones who who assign values to this stuff and then fight over them because that's what keeps them literally paid that's why we have uh professional politicians that's why we have a professional political media that's why that stuff exists it's to keep everybody and also at a certain level you steer the ship you are able to exert pressure but it isn't a very faster move and the more removed the more it's ruled by idealistic understandings of ideas and not materialist

understanding of but that's uh one thing that's interesting about i'm not going to 0:11:25 talk too much about it because we're going to talk about it tomorrow but the section of uh the book that we're reading that i'm reading uh the section of uh the republic for which it stands is in the process of talk he does a very good job of talking about the the uh the history of the ideological war that's being fought among the you know the middle class throughout that period and he he essentially is able to very very elegantly explain to you how the word liberal went from being in the 19th century uh conservative classical liberal to meaning now progressive whatever we want to call that and he explains the process and it is one whereby the same class of people not the same individual people the same class people go from believing in free market laws fair economics to becoming so you know uh uh opposed to you know in favor 0:12:26 of like radical state intervention on behalf of class and race discrimination right how does that happen and what we went from a time when liberalism was corresponded with the idea of positive change in revolution when it had revolutionary potential because remember the first part of the communist manifesto is all mingles and marx praising capitalism for the way that it uprooted old traditions that uh prevented humankind from reaching its potential that like when he talks about all that style of melting in the air you know uh at that time a lot of that uh cr destruction was truly creative destruction in the shumpertarian sense like that was part of capitalism's potential and it did shape things they created institutions and ideas that were going to go on to challenge capitalism like marxism couldn't have had it without capitalism emerging to to define itself against and like the idea of taking the unleashed energies 0:13:27 of like a more rationalized economy a more technologically intensive economy which means a less sacred economy which means a more exploitative uh economy because it it abstracts human potential and human life away and makes it fungible like it makes slavery something like antebellum american slavery or not just the united states but western hemispheric slavery was uniquely terrible in the in history of most slave societies because it was the most uh it's the one where slaves themselves were these that were the most uh fungal where they were turned into an exchange they were like they became capital and that had never really happened before not necessarily because of like an evil of intent but just just a rationality and efficiency of exchange so that's terrible but it also has it's what gives us the technological innovation to 0:14:28 store surplus and and allow ourselves to build like build culture which is to say the ability to come into recognition that we are not individuals or parts of clans or something but part of a human race the the the coming into itself that that hegel speaks about and that marx describes as like the the ideal arc of human consciousness not necessarily one that we will get to common ruin of the contending classes is the ruler in the clubhouse right now ladies and gentlemen get your bets in while you can but there is still there is a teleological heart to that and it requires us to harness these things instead of allowing them to totally over overpower us and overcome us so in that era liberals were in a sense revolutionary like during the civil war they said we must uproot this hoary old feudal concept of buying and selling people which was now interacting with capitalism to create something horrifying that was worse than anything ever seen before because you're taking a feudal concept of power like a mystified coercive concept of power and electrifying it with the ***** profit motive and with uh with modern uh technological uh facilitations of trade and monetization and financialization of capital it was it created a monstrosity that it never but when it was harnessed the right way you had the yeoman fantasy of north america you have the small holder who is himself free of superstitions free of old institutions free of lords free of government of any kind able to exert himself freely on the land sure it required the displayation of the indians but hey eventually once they got with the program they would become citizens like us they'll all become citizens like us on the long line everybody becomes a citizen which means an autonomous being and that was an idea of liberty a liberal idea of liberty that is anglo-american in origin because that is where capitalism accelerated off of the plane and created its own thing that then recapitulated across the land through the ever tightening crank of but it promised liberation but then by the 1870s and 80s after having used the power of the sword to end slavery but then refused to use it to allow uh the former slaves to become integrated into the political system and to the the social system which could have been possible but would have required the the subordination of capital to a social end and the powers at the moment did not align to allow that to happen instead the social end was was sacrificed to the creation of a a new leviathan of public and private power that used that power to immiserate to bash away the the tendrils of connection socially that it had been allowed to uh build and also hack away at those those freedom tendrils that that's that the ability to be a yeoman sufficient farmer even who would never have to sell his labor that's gone because even the farmers are are ***** working for banks or railroads and what at when what was the result uh the return of uh despoilative monstrous coercive labor and racial apartheid in the south the mass emmissionation of peasants uh in in the uh of former peasants rather who would pile up as refuse in the eastern cities the catholic uh peasantry turned into a hyper-exploited urban laboring class devoid of any ability to to raise themselves up to the idea of like a middle class american standard and then um out west the slow but steady massacre of the continent's uh uh original inhabitants the the civilized army coming in and literally destroying a people uh people who even these liberals could see held virtues in their social order that were not to be found in the in the course soil of this new society they created and what happened is that over time the liberals got pissed off and became conservative but the younger liberals who came up after them who started believing their the same ideas came from the same social milieu which is important and when i say that i mean the wig social milieu of middle class um polite society in the east coast boston philadelphia new york that's what we're talking about the shermer horns of fifth avenue by the mid 1880s or so the the the liberal idea had failed so comprehensively that you either became a conservative you either just decided that you were reactionary or if you were younger and you were see coming into life seeing the failure of the ideas as they're being told to you you accommodate the new reality that okay there's to be a level of state intervention greater than what we think in order to allow capitalism to exist allow individual freedom allow contract liberty the things we worship we have to have longer uh we have to have more of a state intervention or else the whole thing will just collapse into savagery savage domination like the kind we banish with the civil war we thought and that's when you get progressives and it isn't it's the same social group that's the important thing to notice and then the changeover is one of that is the one is the same sort of transition over time through attrition the one funeral at a time um progress that thomas kuhn talks about in the structure of scientific revolutions when he says that scientific change doesn't happen because people are convinced of new by new evidence the old people die and new scientists show up and they learn the right thing because they're they don't already have the wrong thing in their head it's the same thing with the social sciences which is essentially what we're talking about these po these the political groupings around the parties and the uh the institutions of uh like consent manufacturing in the mass media there are part of that same class that's in class that gravitates around the finance capital of the east coast uh cities and so they become progressives and that progressive vision over time that like eventually it has to absorb race because the the crisis becomes too deep along racial lines for them to imagine civilization that is civilized capitalism to exist they're the forces within capitalism trying to insist on social uh on a social piece that is short of the naked authoritarianism of the slave owner they're essentially trying to clothe the slave owner's steel hand with the velvet mitt of democracy and rule of law and all those things but the thing is is that that habit of mind comes from living in polite literally polite society and since the beginning of american history they have been a battle with local ruling power that is not as connected uh may be connected in the fence that it needs eastern capital but not intimately connected in its dealings with eastern capital local power first the slave owning south and then the petty barons who made up the uh counter new deal reactionary corps took over the republican party the beautiful boaters they're the unsheathed uh fist what is this for uh a theory reaches crisis then the different new theories emerge to replace the old one exactly you get to a point where new ***** comes to light because of 0:22:43 experimental models because of crisis is within the prevailing ideas and then the old people insist it's still uh wrong but then they die and the new people who become scientists adapt to the more persuasive model that's what happens among social scientists but they can only go so far because they are all committed to capitalism sustaining itself they are always assuming that this is to keep society functional and it's because they are civilized because they're in the drawing rooms of the east and they're connected to global capital flows and they're connect they're connected to the global system and they get the highest education they realize that a lot of the stuff that is blood and thunder in politics racial distinctions national distinctions are actually meaningless and that capital is the really the only thing they essentially get inducted into uh the room in network where ned beatty gives them the talk like they get that talk through their genes and their blood and through their social interactions you don't get that in the frontier and the american political contest is 0:23:44 basically except for the period from like 1933 until about 1979 uh when the working class asserts itself as an actual force in politics they are the only two people arguing those are the polls that politics is argued around and that is now how we have the alignment that we have and what we're seeing with the non-college educated people entering uh uh into the electorate and voting for trump and voting for the republicans regardless of their race to some degree uh uh at least outside of you know the definitional character of black america although even there you're seeing a small trend it's because for a lot of those working-class people they were never convinced by any of the of the cultural stuff any of the cultural ***** about democr the democratic party they were there for the actual uh working class part they were there for the work the assertion of working class uh uh interests but that's gone and it's only the shell of the democratic party that still has it and people are essentially 0:24:45 losing their brand loyalty they're seeing like the the ***** the the label is coming off the can and all they're seeing is a ***** can of ***** they're they're seeing a can of accelerated capitalist exploitation but with a gloss of social values that they were never inculcated into because they're not part of the political class the college going to polite class and the reason it's confused is because there was a third force here that broke these a lot of people regardless of where they got their culture uh to the democrats and that was articulated working-class influence on the political process which started with the great depression and ended with the crisis of the 70s you could even argue it it honestly ended with the purging of uh the uh communists from the cio in the early 50s if you want to like get real uh but it's one or the other 0:25:47 it starts in 33 and it's over by at the latest reagan and maybe even those are the those are the forces that work those are the fighters those are those are moriarty in homes going over the falls it's urban middle class finance capitalized culturally uh progressives who used to be in the 1850s liberal in the classical sense because that's what constituted revolutionary thought at the time but the contradictions within liberalism required a new answer and progressivism emerged from that conflict and then the liberals all died off or they're their real inheritors are cranks who turned into conservatives from that position but those people are perverts so what you have now is an alliance between the perverted middle class the perverted college educated and then uh the non-perverse reactionary who both rich and poor similarly the left uh the democratic party a few middle-class perverts who are like perverted are no i'm talking about like okay no if i'm talking about like actual no no no no middle-class perverts because the thing is is that you think they're perverts because they're against capitalism but that's just it they're not they're the ones trying to keep this thing going they're the ones trying to clothe this thing in enough human skin to keep the ***** villagers from fleeing they are actually working in capitalism interest so they're not perverse the real perverts are the ones who decide that they are actually opposed to capitalism in its entirety and therefore the liberal project of sustaining capitalism but they still are emotionally invested in the democratic party and people within it and root for them on a visceral emotional level so there you go those are your working middle class perverts within the democratic party and of course the gruipeers and the ***** pepe types are the pervert middle-class people and then you've got the people who still think that the democratic party means something but it doesn't anymore democratic party does not mean anything the the this was there when the working class ceased to be a coherent pressure group within it oh man that google union i don't want to i don't want to talk out of turn too much because i don't actually know the specifics of the thing uh but so google has announced this union drive and from what i understand correct me if i'm wrong it's a minority union that does not have the ability and i think is actually legally enjoying from negotiating over salary right and like i think also most working what it is they've said is essentially a way to facilitate activism within google and a lot of the people who i've seen interviewed about it are inclusivity directors and the thing about that is is that those include all those inclusivity jobs that are in corporations that they like to point to like the diversity and inclu inclusivity uh director the kind of jobs that uh uh people often demand get people who get like a lot of times you'll see protests at universities that they that that are about increasing diversity or you know minority representation and minority quality of life and they will demand like diversity officers and stuff those are hr that's hr that's the people whose job it is to find a way to fire you without losing without having to pay for it that's their that's the that's what they are in the hierarchy hr departments exist to reduce liability of corporations these have either employees their way to union bust and reduce liability of the comfort of the company to in employee behavior and they and they are also 0:31:7 mostly used to intimidate employees they are ***** pinkertons they're white-collar pinkertons and if there are people who are organizing if people organizing the google union are ***** hr officers then it is a company union that will only be used to get people fired for posts that will exist so that if somebody at google is complaining about something like i don't know working conditions or maybe like hey should we be building panopticons for the ci for the ***** nsa or you know should we should we be uh using weaker slave labor for uh our uh you know our ***** phones or whatever hey maybe we should have more direction over the company's investments they can there's something problematic they said there's something that uh that could be used to say that they made a hostile work environment those people's job will be to find it and then when they get fired for troublemaking it will be a win for workers power that's the sickness in it that's the sickness at the heart of this this is 0:32:9 why this machine is so dastardly and breathtaking in its power because everything is recuperated within it every good instinct every progressive instinct if it's grounded in capitalism will eventually find itself ensnared within this contradiction because it cannot be defeated from within it can but anyway that's my i don't know enough about the specifics all i know is diversity and inclusivity hr people are involved and it doesn't have the right to actually negotiate over that is all i really know and therefore i'm skeptical and i feel like when news comes out about this thing do not just start salivating like a pavlovian dog because you see the work union because it's like capitalism knows that all these things they know what you guys care about and 0:33:11 they can ***** create uh they are very good at where haven't we seen my god in the last few years the way that all cultural expressions of of like um of solidarity and and social uh you know the aspirations towards social justice are commodified and recuperated instantly into reinforcings of the status quo you don't think that that would go towards unions too i'm not saying it does but it needs to be considered just like don't just immediately have to defend something when you don't know the context when so much of this stuff is designed to capture and dissipate energy which is why once again broken record me disengaging from the discourse is so vital because the ***** google union doesn't really concern you there's nothing you can do about it they're not going to stop unionizing because you posted that it was cringe and they're not going to keep doing it because you said go girl it's not really up to you you don't 0:34:13 have to have an opinion on it what about what about working what about where you work what about what about your relationships with other employees in your labor sector the questions there are going to be closer to the ground and easier to answer and less less confounding and mystifying by their association with the this inherently uh distorting matrix of information dissemination but mainly i just wanted to say this to say diversity and inclusivity offices are they don't work for you they work for the company they exist as organs of control they're not your friend and i think that's something that is unarguable and if you see anyone defending that that's us because i do believe that you should always under admit good faith you should always assume good faith because otherwise you just get into the cycle of where it's nothing but friend info and nothing is learned because you cannot dialogue which is the only way to generate new understanding and new meaning uh but man if you're if you're going to say that hr departments are not explain to me how they don't where are they getting their paychecks i mean how much of their stock is lit how much of their ***** uh um by the way how much of their ***** salary is literally stock options how much is their personal political wealth connected to the ups and downs of the public estimation of the company they work for and how does that put them in your corner in any dispute with oh it's a bad take okay never mind never mind if you want to explain to me how that's how i'm wrong tell me they're direct employees and also like if that's your job if your specialty is hr then you can't really work in anything else anyway so it's not like you can go outside of the system to be some sort of editorial hr some of the budsmen of employment that follow the money is usually in banali the right thing to say about any of this stuff the mothman stood at the intersection of idealism and materialism because the mothman i think can be understood at least in part as a manifestation of human mental energy literally transubstantiating ideas into that's why i think it's such a fascinating case and something that i think is due a much better much better filmic uh interpretation than that dog ***** richard gere movie my god that was so clearly an attempt to just rip off the x-files let's do the x-files for a movie but going with the very dark foreboding attitude trying to make it scary which huge mistake mothman is a comedy 1 million percent mothman is a goddamn comedy if it's going to work it's going to be a comedy instead it was this like brooding scary like thriller that had like a few scary voice telephone calls that was about as scary as got like a voice going oh there's gonna be a bad disaster coming oh no they're gonna be they're gonna follow the river and then some eyes in the darkness or something dog ***** terrible there needs to be a better uh mothman we deserve a better class of because i like the idea of like maybe it was an mk ultra sight you know and maybe it was at the same time as that it was a harmonic convergence of like electromagnetic fields or something that could get the human tuning forks ping to get our pineal glands juiced and maybe they actually created a ***** mothman maybe they made a real mothman oh influencer watch is that that kind of uh key wiki thing where it's supposed to be public dossiers of all of the left influencers who are making your children uh trans they're supposed to be for paranoid right wingers to like keep an eye on us it's pretty funny i'm flattered certainly that they think i'm 0:39:30 worth i guess that's the podcaster equivalent of 60s radicals yes much much lamer i know that's the point is that we're much lamer we're not we're not the men our fathers we're somebody asked me about the bronze age pervert i really honestly i get i think about it for a second and i just think i'm tired i can't i've never been able to will myself to to spend more than a second going like this at his profile like aspiring nude bodybuilder what i mean how do you aspire to be a nude bodybuilder 0:40:31 what's keeping you from bodybuilding nude is it that like you have to go to planet fitness are you aspiring to the day that planet fitness drops its clothing necessary uh policies and allows you to go in there nude like you can't ***** lift in your backyard or something with no pants on and after that i just stopped paying attention i mean anybody who wants to talk who's like valorizing lebron and jade it's like get out of here you're non-dialectical i don't want to redo this ***** i want to ***** advance the ball down the goddamn field i'm on the team you're not on the ***** team if you want to just chill in the goddamn bronze age sorry you're on the team you want to advance the ball down the field you're will the internet ad market collapse this is 0:41:38 a very interesting question so i was talking about this with felix on twitter yesterday it is obviously a fact i think undisputed by any serious commentator that advertising as such doesn't really work it never has it does not have the there's no proof that it has the relationship to production to purchasing that we think it does what it does though is it provides a context for purchases it makes purchases possible you cannot have a consumer society that buys as much as we do and associates our sad our freedoms as much as we do with our purchases without advertising not individual ads but the concept if we are not being advertised to we will not be we will not trade our freedom for purchases because they will not be emotionally charged they will not be turned into fetishes by advertising it literally does magic to our brains 0:42:41 to associate not even specific things but categories of purchases as connected to pleasure as connected to self actualization they manufacture the um but the self-interest that that consent is grounded in which is i get this stuff why does this stuff matter because i'm seeing this art i'm seeing this culture that produces these values every second and it defines my brain my brain wants what it's given to want so that's what ads do but specifically ads don't do anything and what we have with the online ad is a situation where the only thing that drives money through the silicon valley pipe because we all know that silicon valley is built on powered money it's all really quality quantitatively ease money it's just the fed just putting numbers on a 0:43:42 board and tip they they essentially put numbers on the board to create a bunch of money in dc and then they just tip the board of the united states over and it all oozes over into the ***** bay area in the form of ***** investments in uh the tech industry most of which are never seen again but where there is money to be made there it is in companies that are almost entirely predicated on ad dollars google and facebook the only one of these companies that actually make money and make the most money and and companies that sell and the companies that are like that and that do make short term profits that boost up mid like short-term uh interest short-term like returns for hedge funds all come from ad revenue based businesses that's where the money comes from not from selling a real thing not from a real product it doesn't do anything they just found out that uh of the 150 million dollars that 0:44:43 uh the that lift or that yeah lyft was spending or uber rather uber was spending on targeted online ads that they were overpaying by a hundred million dollars because the numbers were all just made up by these companies in terms of like look throughs and click through all like the stuff that's supposed to prove that people are actually watching it it's all ginned up it's all made up it's arthur anderson stuff it's mark to market accounting it's enron and so they just found out oh here it is it literally a hundred a hundred percent of the money we were spending no no two hundred percent of the money we're spending on ads was wasted it didn't move the but the thing about it is is that it doesn't matter no even if you knew this even if this got out in some way and it became common knowledge it wouldn't change anything because 0:45:46 the ad dollars are not there to represent value in the forms of actual value for ads any more than advertisements exist to drive purchases of a specific product they're there to create the flow of money through the system that capitalism necessitates they are the capillary action it's that is what we have that's the that is the real value it is the same as the petro dollar it is a data is the stored value where we hold the exchange thing but it's just an abstraction of our relationship to the economy our relationship to america's uh government because it's all backed on america's state capacity that is what backs all exchanges within the dollar denominated system american state capacity specifically it's military and as long as that's the case there will be a wind 0:46:47 of money pushing through as long as everyone agrees that these things represent ad dollars now that means that it's incredibly incredibly unstable and rickety and could be blown over by a gust of wind but also it is so crucial to the maintenance of the system as such and with no alternative really presenting itself in the moment means that it's essentially unmovable in the near-term future no wonder everyone is always on the edge all the time everything is in this state where you're reaching a deep crisis within these systems but they are more than ever crucial load-bearing parts of the system and the real point of the money going through the silicon valley turnpockel 0:47:49 it creates an actual economy in like the physical space a real estate-based economy in california that is essentially a buy-off to the ruling local classes of california it's like yes yes sorry sorry we're destroying the the country's economy we're turning it all we're turning all jobs into techno feudal surf jobs where we've stripped you of all benefits and all uh control over your labor sorry in exchange we will build it here and get your price values up through the roof so that every ***** like a public school teacher who bought a house in the ***** south bay is now a millionaire bottom off but then what it does for the global system is it creates technol technology of control and coercion in the form of the panopticon that they're building with our money they're literally building with our money the panopticon around us they're building the robot constructed so that's very important and then there's another one 0:49:0 too i forgot there's another thing that it's building like an actual thing that's being produced in exchange in addition to the now of course they've been doing it since the 70s this is all when this whole thing started in the 70s of course it did its roots are all over california california is when the reaction began america was this tide pushing itself towards the ocean and then when it hit the ***** uh border it pushed back american modern reactionary thought its entire superstructure was built in california ***** orange county is is the is the birthplace of the modern conservative movement just in terms of the political structure the defense industry that built the southern california economy is what we where we directed our keynesian spending after world war ii and which absorbed all of our social forces away from productive 0:50:1 ones and towards war towards a creating a ***** empire as opposed to directing you know our surplus towards democratizing life in america by investing inward no no we had to create weapons and it all started in california because that was the end of the myth the real end we didn't get it the memo we haven't got the memo till now but the body felt it back then and it reacted instantaneously the machine app operated to its own advancement because it is an algorithm and only unless the humans get together to fight and subdue it it will consume everything because that's the difference between capitalism and all previous modes of production all previous modes of production at the end of the day were for human benefit maybe the benefit of a small click of people at the very top but there was no one outside the human race who had a say capitalism is able was able to take over the world because it abstracts 0:51:3 away from the person the violence of coercion and towards systems that led us off the hook for carrying out violence and that's why we're able to coerce each other through the machinery of turning people into modern subjects which is a violent destructive mech thing that killed everybody that machinery killed everybody from the deaths of imperialism to slavery to all the deaths under communism the ***** great leap forward every ***** hollow doorboard you want to talk about the ***** pole pot and the goddamn it's all part of that same process of abstracting away from literal sacredness god human spirituality and turning it into an abstraction and that charged that abstraction with godhood and capital is god in the sense that even if you got everybody in a room together they would and they all wanted to do what's best for everybody they would be compelled not by any person in that room even if they all said what they felt in their heart they would not find the traitor because the traitor is in their head and that hat we can only by concentrating our ***** energies and and coordinated our activities against it can we actually fight it i'm a libra no wait a minute is that the capricorn moon i think the capricorn moon is what keeps capitalism kind of suss not gonna lie i agree shit's wack but at the same time like like ash in aliens alien it is like it is the antagonist to humanity that we literally built to destroy ourselves it's kind of wild like our inability to cooperate our inability to trust led us to create systems that allowed us to allow our guard down enough about our hostility and our essential zero-sum relationship to reality that allowed us to sleep at night which is to abstract them away into weapons and then into systems of thought and control that act as weapons or they coordinate the action of weapons and that created something that was greater than the power of any of us and that turned us all into sorcerer's apprentices and now we it's run away from us it's captured us like you cut off a limb and it will grow back with this same algorithm unless it's and that's only by taking that which it has created and turning it into the best version of itself which is the most coordinated version which is the most spiritually charged version which is the part of humanity that is able to act really as one not smoothly not easily but socially to have the those will be the people who have broken free of of their addiction to to catharsis through entertainment which encompasses everything from uh pornography to politics to all right i'm going to wrap it up here anybody's has the last question it includes everything i'm not saying that everybody anybody can log off completely that's absurd it's impossible it's part of us and it will never be logged off like you can't imagine that any future that's going to be able to redeem humanity is going to be one where we have a luddite cut a disconnection from one another digitally it has to be re and recreated and refounded but it's it's it's part of the it's part of the flesh now it has to be worked from and through that yes the solution is that we get all we all get headed up we can cut it up and and just all have a giant chill down sesh somebody asked this is a good last question so i guess it was the best movie of 2020 honestly i don't know if i saw a movie in 2020 because i didn't see any movies in theaters in 2020 and honestly without it even as a possibility i just haven't treated any movie i've seen like a movie you know i really do think of it as a separate experience in the cinema everything's kind of blunted together into one like vaguely disappointing streaming experience people are saying first cow but i don't know man that seems like kind of a homeworky maybe croods too maybe i have to watch that unchecked gems was 2019 too 2019 was a really good year for movies it was kind of a good send-off year capped off of course by uh once upon a time in hollywood which is maybe that's fine maybe maybe movies are a different thing now you know vaudeville isn't a thing anymore there really isn't like you cannot if you wanted to you couldn't really go out for a night and see a guy juggle what you used to be able to do maybe maybe movies will be like the juggling guy or the fat guy getting shot with a cannon special occasion things and if that's the case fine but i feel we will have lost something and i will not really take these i just won't give as much of my attention to these streaming movies at least i hope not because i think that 0:58:59 that's only fair that i give it less attention and less emotional investment if it's going to be less special yeah streaming is too individualistic there's no group component and really art is at its most i think popular art is that it's most magical when it can be shared collectively which is why movies are better than tv shows damn it they'll always be better movies were better we can say that it's not just being grumpy old men although of course part of it is that dang it get off of my digital lawn bye 1:0:4

i still remember that terrible day on the broad stain the sand and the water and how in that hell what we called sulfur bay we were butchered like lambs of the slaughter johnny turkey was ready primed himself well he showered us with bullets and he rained us for shell and then five minutes flat he blown us all to hell nearly blew us right back to australia got some sun coming through the window here probably look weird maybe i should go against here so it's wow so shit's popping off huh holy 0:1:1 mackerel man i knew they were going to take it hard but i have to admit i thought that once the cops shut up they backed down but then we saw it happen and that's the thing to remember about this the cops let them in that's the important thing this is not a this is not what a situation where some force just uh proved too powerful for the state uh where where where the the mechanisms of power were were somehow over awed by human concentrated now they let him in and why they let him in 0:2:2 is probably a variety of factors a lot of it probably just being that because these are people that cops are not trained to dehumanize they treated them like human beings and so you can't treat people like human beings if you're going to really dis dissuade them from doing something they want to do like if you really want some people stop a bunch of very angry people from doing something they want to do you have to disabuse them of it with violence and they weren't willing to do it that's one explanation and that's i think probably on a micro uh but i think also you know there's the idea that the cops are essentially also rioting they're not happy that trump lost either so them letting them in is sort of their way of of of contributing to the demonstration and that to and then of course you can go full tin foil hat and 0:3:4 say well they did it so that this could happen because i have to say if i was the deep state whatever you want to define that as if i was like the the elements within our government that are seeking to maintain uh the current system uh and are most aware of what that entails as opposed to being ideologically entrapped by their own ***** like trump people are something like this is ideal you have an incident here that has because for anyone on the left the specter of this will be the thing that prevents it from ever being the time to say anything bad about any democrat in office because any show of vulnerability will repeat will lead to these people just taking and also 0:4:7 it disciplines against even asking for too much because do you want to do you really want them to go wild which if we did something too big they would do biden is going to get to point to these guys anytime there's any big ask for progressive legislation sure do you want these guys go do you really want to test them and also i've said before that we're going to see a intensification of surveillance and police authority to deal with you know the continuing admiseration i mean crime is going up as we said as i as people said at the beginning of this crime was going to go back up and it's up it's happening all over the country crime's up it's going to get worse because things keep getting worse and the dissatisfaction is going to get bigger and some of it is going to actually be pointed somewhere towards the people responsible for this and the state's going to be very interested in uh creating a narrative that allows for 0:5:9 uh a the culture at large to go along with massive uh increases in surveillance and police power and the specter of a mega uh coup is absolutely just a perfect uh a bloody shirt to wave whenever you want uh whenever you're you're announcing the next you know round of uh of of panopticon surveillance overwhelming everything in the world what the hell is going on i'm getting sub gift or use bits to get to the next level am i the only one seeing this and you know the right gets to uh they get to they get if they keep pushing they get to find out the limits of their uh ability to get what they want and the majority will still be pissed and still be uh activated but we'll have bet have learned you know where the line is uh but the ones who 0:6:10 aren't are gonna go off there's gonna be a good burst of and every one of those incidents is going to be used the same way that uh ***** bush administration used every real or mostly made-up incident of uh of muslim terror to justify whatever the ***** they wanted to do so honestly like this is such a perfect thing and the funny thing is is you can write a story where this is just the byproduct of of the culture that we have of a of a society what is going on with this does anyone know what's going on everyone's talking and i'm very confused as to what is happening with these levels uh i'm trying to ignore them ***** uh it's very distracting okay here someone said american years of lead honestly yes but anyway uh you've created 0:7:11 a society of spectacle where politics where like the stakes of politics are grafted onto pure entertainment and we give politics the same passion we give to entertainment a country where the only time we generally riot is after our team wins or loses a big game if you give big game intensity to politics this is gonna happen you could write the story where this is just a byproduct of that and then just coincidentally it's the one thing that will be most gift wrapped and perfect for the use of our actual ruling class to maintain their dominance over us just like you could argue that 911 was the un inevitable result of our foreign policy and our our pursuit of oil dominance but you could also write a story where the reason this keeps happening in the same direction and that all these dominoes keep falling the same way is because there's some hands out there pushing them in that direction and uh for me it's a moot point because the the reality is the same either way and honestly the the recipe is the same the 0:8:13 boring no matter how outlandish or banal you want to make your uh explanation of reality the the remedy is is very boringly uh straightforward organizing the working class or rather the work working class organizing itself rediscovering itself awakening from its slumber that's the only thing that's going to beat this no matter where it's coming from no matter who you think is in charge and also how seriously you take it like to me there's no more annoying and by now conversation than the one that has been had ever since trump uh uh lost about how seriously we should take this is this re is this a serious it is this a coup is this a real serious thing and and it it's such a stupid argument because it never really it's nobody wants to make an argument about what they think is going to happen it has to be couched in well it's bad and you should feel bad about it and to that i say hey let me accept every 0:9:15 premise of every hysteric on the internet who says that this is the beginning of a fascist coup what the ***** do you want me to do about it and the answer seems to be feel anxious about it feeling anxiety is literally the feeling of anxiety is is like the emotional cattle prod that they strap to our nuts every day of our ***** lives to get them to do whatever we they ***** want us to managing our anxiety is how they get us to be good ***** compliant neoliberal subjects our anxiety is the is the the cultural manifestation of the coercive mechanisms of control and you want me to feel more anxiety about something i can't do anything about because let's say this is phase one and tomorrow the joint chiefs come up and say that because of the overwhelming demands of the american people we are blocking the further uh uh certification of the votes what the ***** i am asking what are you gonna do about 0:10:17 it everyone is saying this is a big deal we should care about this uh everyone who ever said this wasn't a coup needs to be accountable okay congratulations you're taking this moment where democracy dies to ***** settle online scores it sounds to me like you're just having fun that's the thing the proof is in the pudding for me if you're still posting about this stuff and you think it's a coup then you don't really you're lying to and if it is a coup and everyone who said it isn't is wrong well guess what come get me come ***** come make me accountable for being wrong where are you going to do that in the camps if there's not going to be camps then what are you going to do if you're saying it'll basically just be the same thing and you're going to keep posting well then why the hell have you put so much of your emotion behind this thing that clearly doesn't matter and can't i think the only 0:11:19 interesting thing to see is how much the republican party coalesces around a position

CUSHVLOG 134. THE ANDY CAPP PUTSCH

of re uh of denunciation of their own supporters here how much do they go to war with with the base because this had to happen the republican party had to discipline their base at some point now that's what's so frustrating about the republican party they have the correct attitude and uh approach to their uh base and that is they are terrified of them and do whatever they want but the thing is is that the base because the republicans all they want is the stupidest ***** on earth specifically it cannot be stressed enough that this is all happening this unprecedented attack on our nation's electoral integrity and on the constitutional order and the peaceful transfer of power is happening on behalf of a ***** game show host and nothing else there is no there's no thing these people are after they want trump that is 0:12:20 what god has gotten them to break through the doors and i would argue the reason they're allowed to do this is because all they want is trump if they wanted something more than trump if they wanted something that could actually challenge established power and could actually energize a group of people beyond those those who have basically brainwashed themselves with television basically poor ***** in the internet poured bleach in their own frontal lobes courtesy of their self-narcianization online and watching ***** cable news none of you no like if they're rebellion i'm sorry but unless you are brainwashed it's not going to happen now they could take over the party depending on how this thing hole breaks down but they're not there yet like if people have said like if this was a left-wing protest that never would have happened and it's not necessarily because they're bigger ***** it's because they would have been met with much harsher force much more significant pushback from authority which would have made most of them realize do i really want to get my head caved 0:13:21 in today and say no and then they'd stop and they'd go home and only the hardest core would stay to fight the cops what you had here was at no point did these guys get anything other than a few haphazardly sprayed mists of of pepper spray and as soon as they realized oh pepper spray's not that bad and then nothing else was gonna happen and they were literally opening the ***** doors for them but they're willing to do this for ***** donald trump for the personal fixing the personal uh just the the personal ego trip of an insane man just a a a a psychic identification with the point of view essentially they've taken celebrity culture to its ultimate conclusion this is essentially the end of day of the locust by nathaniel west if anyone has read that book where the downtrodden uh star struck losers of hollywood burned the whole place down well they're burning down washington on behalf of their their appointed 0:14:22 god king uh because because in this country that that's the only thing that can stir passions no one believes anything can change no one really thinks that things can get better or different in this country they think that we are on a trajectory that is set by human nature or god or the constitution and there's nothing to be done about it and in that world the only thing that's going to be able to reliably politically mobilize people is going to be a purely spectacular politics of of oregon release and that is what trump has given us and now the thing is is that because it has a limited appeal but it is so totalizing in its appeal we have a situation where the system has no longer has use for trump or trumpism it got like the republican party got what it wanted it got tax cuts uh and it got a federal judiciary in their pocket for the next hundred years up to and including an unbreakable 6-3 majority in the 0:15:24 supreme court they got now it's just about his personal ego and the whole point of a political party is that you go beyond the personal desires of any one person within the structure like that's the that's the old kingly model and like that sort of brain dead populism will create a royal figure it has to because it cannot it's it's a rejection of politics it rejects the notion that anything is being negotiated it's totalizing and so only a totalizing vision is going to get people to ***** fight like that at least fight uh at least risk that but once again that's the only thing it's not because they're stronger or smarter or more or more brave it's because the state will allow that it will allow those but the thing is it's a tantrum and eventually they have to let the tantrum uh uh go out like essentially that's how those uh democratic uh democratic 0:16:25 governors and mayors especially this last summer during the george floyd uprising that's how they treated their base essentially by saying they're there and they just let them tucker themselves out and that's what we're doing here it's just bigger and more dramatic and what's going farther because it's a bunch of ***** white men mostly demanding that trump be allowed to be president forever he's not they're not challenging any of state prerogatives they're not challenging any mechanisms of power they don't represent any movement beyond their own uh fandom basically it's essentially a con out of control like that's essentially comic con on uh it's freaking comic-con on crack and that's why they're allowed to do it but they're also gonna have to tucker themselves out most of them will go home but a few of them are gonna get violent and they're gonna be encouraged to get more violent uh by the 0:17:26 results they saw and guess what that's to everybody's advantage too that's good for democrats every piece of violence by a republican gets to be a political weapon and gets to justify further repression and gets to call for the repression uh uh black social us like we get to call that justice for black lives because it's now disproportionately going against white people like that's that's the kind of demon demonic trick you could play with that so they're happy with it republicans are happy because they know that if it's ever really close if any election is really really close like this election wasn't really that close honestly it was only the commitment of trump and and the the para reality is able to create around everything he says that is then affirmed by people who listen to him uh it wasn't that close a real close race they know they have it they have it and every and every piece of right-wing violence further uh reinforces their command of the space in the event of a real political conflict that they could pull some ***** redeemer ***** uh like the reconstruction governments of the ah so yeah uh it's wild it's wild and wacky stuff uh it is very disparating to not just of how much harder it is to get anywhere near that kind of uh threat to just you know established patterns of power and behavior from the left but that's just because the they're actually serious when they go against the left but a big part of it is is that there's no thing that gets people that gets enough people the way that trump does and that's because it can't be because it's not spectacle because it's material reality it has to be built from the ground up of articulating experience not being brought from the top down in the form of just that's the only thing they'll do it and if it's and if this is just more neoliberalism with its janus face and it's it's pulling off like a soft internal gladio or it is the first uh the first winding of a gear that leads to a fascist seizure of power some sort of uh inside out auto coup where like the the protesters like meld with the police and then and then essentially just arrest democratic lawmakers and ***** the answer is the same i certainly will not try to do any predicting because if i was not swearing that ***** off before now i sure as hell i was wouldn't beyond saying that i do think that joe Biden will in fact be inaugurated although i do think that inauguration day is going to be very interesting my guess this is as far as i want to get is that it they bristle that place and that there's like essentially a military occupation of Washington DC to prevent a i didn't say i moved to Oregon what the hell is wrong with you people i didn't say that weirdo i'm not going to Oregon what is wrong with you people i'm being gaslit by these people i did not say i'm moving to Oregon what the ***** are you talking about am i being tr am i being trolled by the god damn i be trolled ***** it i try i try to do a good stream for the people and then they go and troll me like this i don't know why i put up with it honestly okay so now that we've talked about that let's talk about we'll watch the numbers just drop here our last section of the Republic for which it stands chapters i believe 9 through 12. uh this is really good stuff this stuff and i want to go through them kind of chapter by chapter because there's a lot of good uh stuff to we start with hilariously the election of 1876 in which the disputed uh votes uh led to a constitutional crisis and a essentially a backroom deal between the Democrats and Republicans to allow the Republicans to keep the presidency in exchange for the end of military occupation and reconstruction in the South and uh this is funny because Ted Cruz was trying to during his nerd ass attempt to co to toady to the Trump supporters by calling for a calling for a commission to like rule on voter fraud that is him invoking the uh this case because that's what they did they ended up establishing a bipartisan commission where they basically just made

a deal behind closed doors uh and then they there was a constitutional amendment that actually ended that possibility because they saw how bad it was so once again 0:23:41 ted cruz being an oaf and a dope so there was a lot of there wasn't a lot of violence around that election there was like talk of mobilization of troops and stuff um i think i guess george mccllellan ***** like wanted to form a militia to march on washington to make tilden president but nobody slam nobody uh ransacked the white house i can say that so so that's how uh that's how things are going since then so then he talks about the uh the biggest eruption of coordinated working class mobile militancy until that point in american history this great railroad strike of 1877 which saw painfully 0:24:45 um uh symbolic uh site of troops being pulled out of the reconstruction south to abandon free people to the ravages of the clan and the red shirts to go and help put down the strike in uh and it was huge it was violent it was not coordinated very well because it was largely spontaneous and there was only a rudimentary working-class political movement in america at that point like there was the working men's association there was the international like uh uh yeah the working men's association was one the knights of labor it was it was still a very uh incoherent movement uh but they were all caught by surprise just like the all of the bickering parties in uh zaras russia were like you had currents being developed but it took an event to bring 0:25:49 about a reckoning in the in this case it was the fact that this depression had uh pinched the profits of the railroad companies but they didn't want to stop giving dividends to stockholders because they were essentially running ponzi schemes and needed new investment income to keep themselves up so they had since profits were going down the only place that they and competition was reducing profits also the only place they could get profits was what a shock labor costs by cutting by cutting wages and increasing hours at a time when everybody was suffering because of the depression and people just realized oh this is where the line is and it came from no ideological battle really no not a lot of not a lot of posting it came from experience 0:26:51 the experience of working near a railroad uh being having the railroad dominate your life which was something that uh the western farmers could also commiserate on because they were held hostage by railroad uh freight rates that was the margin of whether or not they and the it was predictably defeated because it was no one was really planning it and the states eventually all agreed that oh yeah no this is what we're here for this is why the state exists to suppress this sort of thing but it led to uh a lot of the railroads backing down because they found okay this is the limit okay that was chapter nine uh chapter 10 he talks a lot about uh something that is 0:27:53 very boring but important to understand uh 19th century politics which was uh civil service reform it was the end of the spoils system and that ended up being one of the only real issues that divided the parties because they basically all agreed to the same

laws fair politics to one degree or another and then they were voters were sorted by geography if you were and also religion well no basically geography uh because if you were a catholic in america you were probably lived in a city and you were a laborer and you were a democrat if you were a white southerner you were a democrat if you were a small holding protestant northerner which is the mean northerner you were a republican if you were a black southerner you were a republican although that mattered less and less as reconstruction governments failed to be able to defend themselves it's not a coup settle the ***** down what do you want me to do just yell about how it's a coup does that help you if it's a coup shouldn't you be out in the streets like with your fellow militiamen gathering your garrisons you better have some ***** uh uh and the funny thing about civil service reform is it's sold in history as this is the good guys the good the good uh moral politicians driving out the crooks well of course not it's it's of course about bringing out the ability of working-class people to get any percentage of uh of economic growth because they were locked out of capital but they did have their votes which means they could pry something out of the machine but private property regime is present on the notion that you can't do that that was the thing that the constitution was designed to prevent um and the way that the ***** tammanies and and other machines were able to distribute jobs to catholics and then give them political power in exchange for it no no that just simply isn't done and that is why where a lot of the anti-catholic sentiment uh and so the fight over uh civil service reform is really a fight over democracy in a way and the rational civil service that we eventually got does not is still influenced by money it's still influenced by authority by outside of uh interest but they're purely monetary it's purely capital it's no longer anybody who is accountable to anyone you would call people who are not you know a concentrated and he also talks about another the other sort of the the the bad side of emerging working-class mobilization is anti-chinese sentiment in california because the chinese were seen as as essentially slave labor imported directly to compete with them and because of racism and racial division and cultural separation that makes it harder to get to a point of empathy that allows you to you know digest politics at that level uh it led to just a wholesale demonization of the chinese uh and that is the populist that's like the fate that's one that's one facet of the face of american populism is it is a defense of labor free labor or for uh property from cop from un uh from unfree competition uh and it's something that the political parties had to deal with when um another but as usual you know the real the real heart of the of the of the anti-chinese sentiment it really did come from fear of being economically displaced it could have been channeled elsewhere it's just uh racism is so good it's so useful that it's that chant political channels for it open up when it emerges it's it's it's facilitated it's not it's not uh uh challenged talked about uh convict leasing and the return of servile labor in the south 0:33:4 because if you aren't going to turn people into citizens if they can't be coerced by a common social milieu then they have to be externally forced and uh when you've got a high labor intensity crop system like the thing is predicated almost on on and uh 0:34:5 they talk about the indian wars how there was just no uh there's really nothing that the natives could really do to avoid getting their stuff just took because there was money to be made in it and uh there was always this kind of sad tragic like shrug of the shoulders about indian policy among all of the the good-hearted reformers and ex-abolitionists it's like what are you gonna do you know what are and the fact is that you know we were gonna unless something stopped us we were gonna take it all because you only stop if someone stops you that's that's that's the uncha checked imperial engine something has to stop you and that we couldn't be stopped because our our control of our uh then in the last chapter uh he goes into the intellectual 0:35:7 history stuff that i think is really strong in this book and a nice through line uh throughout it to you know kind of understand how all these you know social all this social ferment is being turned into like political wisdom uh he talks about this daniel this dean howells guy and all this and he talks about how like as i said on the stream yesterday uh you you're seeing this kunian shift uh in in the social sciences away from lazar fair social darwinism towards uh like progressive social policy and the social gospel to come with it out of the protestant tradition and uh one of the things that emerged from this ferment is an attempt to like recap reaffirm capitalism in the face of all of the evidence of its failures uh by making it just and one of those ideas 0:36:10 was georgism which was uh created by an economist named henry george who was a classic american crank in the best tradition uh one of our better cranks i think uh and he was a guy who uh saw the horrors of of the accumulating unfreedom and misery of america it's because we have taken land which is by definition common and given it to people and his he basically diagnosed land ownership and specifically rent on un un improved land as the the stake in the heart of civilization as as where all uh injustice flows and he does this by essentially redefining capital to exclude 0:37:11 raw materials and land and why he does that is essentially so that everything can flow from that presumption all of his stuff froze from that presumption and the thing is if you go for that assumption he has a very persuasive case and he gained a lot of influence and power power uh they haven't gotten to it in the book yet but he ran for mayor of uh new york on a fusion socialist ticket like a labor party ticket uh against a tammany hall stalwart and republican theodore roosevelt and uh but both george and roosevelt lost to the tammany hack which just goes to show that you know whatever ideas and charisma you got it's still new york baby and somebody's got to pay the ***** uh and so his proposal was yes a single tax no tax on anything 0:38:12

except land and that that would remove speculation from the economy and remove concentration and it's a classic american bit of crankery where he's trying to follow an equation by essentially making up his own math because he wants to avoid the confrontation he wants to avoid the reality of class conflict because he's an american he doesn't see the necessity because in these big wide open spaces you can convince yourself that maybe we can all get along and the american expression of that one of them is georgia's because the idea was love the the sheer reality of this pitch the sheer truth because essential argument is this is so obviously true that if enough people believe it we will act like it's true and that will make us do it and that will reduce all of the capital accumulation and it will be a non-violent war of ideas that is won 0:39:13 over time through application of our minds and our passions and that's in opposition to the marxist notion that no now we're going to win because there will become a time where there is a pivotal confrontation between capital and labor and labor's superior numbers and organization will will make it win will win in the battle that and it is the numbers it is people motivated by shared material drive towards freedom that will move them towards victory it will not be that are you eventually change people's minds that's the idea is that you just have to convince them if enough people understand this both capitalists and workers will see the truth of it and will want to do it no one will act against their economic self-interest and if they do they will not be enough of them to overall and that is why i think that georgism is uh very much in 0:40:15 a tradition that we now see with mmt now once again mmt is i think correct in most of the things it claims to do but beyond that it seems to think that because this is true you can convince enough people of that and by convincing them we will act like it's true and therefore make capitalism humane without conflict i think it's the same impulse that drove georgia's now that doesn't mean it isn't true or useful i'm just saying that the messianic heart of it i think is the same as it is with the georgists it's an idea that the truth of this is so undeniable that if enough people know it it will convert them as if ideas can in the main i mean that began individual people in the 0:41:16 main demographically so that's henry george oh this is one thing i wanted to actually read this is uh this i just to any any young nervous denizen of the internet uh if any of this sounds familiar please let me know he's talking about this guy uh howells who was essentially uh he's the kind of guy we don't have anymore like a gore of a doll like a a public intellectual who like writes novels and reviews and stuff i guess the closest thing we have now howell's agonized over the industrial united states that greeted him on his return from quite personal as well as intellectual and moral reasons in 0:42:19 1880 howell's 16 year old daughter winnie vibrant charming attractive and the apple of her father's eye had fallen ill in a way so many gilded age women and men fell ill she quite suddenly could not cross a room unaided she had to drop out of school when he became sick the same year that george miller beard published american nervousness he you could call it anxiety maybe he created a new world new word neurasthenia to describe what he thought was a new phenomenon lack of nervous force and symptoms were baffling in various as a desire for excitement and stimulation coupled with fears that ranged from fears of being alone to fears of being afraid to fear of everything charlotte perkins gilman whose story the yellow wallpaper captured the disease was also its victim consistent she wrote in her autobiography of every painful sensation shame fear remorse a blind oppressive confusion utter weakness a steady brain ache that fills the conscious mind with crowding image of distress the end and damning result the end and defining result was the paralysis of the will that afflicted winnie the cause doctors agreed was modern life itself its barrage of information noise and distraction its luxuries and its constant demands in unmanned men and feminized women leaving both men and women over civilized nervous artificial weak and detached from real emotion and vital experience the introspection of reform reformation protestantism once devoted to monitoring the soul and the chances of salvation had turned morbid and transmuted into mere self-obsession gilman noted the significant aspect of her own case she was in effect allergic to the home although she loved her husband and child she saw the stark fact that i was well while away and sick while at home i don't know i don't know if that rings i don't know if that sounds like anyone you know but the one thing i wanted to say about uh oh right and then we got the election of 1884 when the james g blaine the man from maine the symbol one of the symbols of uh post-war corruption ran for president against uh and uh it's important to note that the whole issue basically boiled down to corruption because blaine was crooked and uh essentially cleveland was more discreet so he wasn't but he was indiscrete sexually he essentially admitted that he had fathered a child out of wedlock who he had paid for the education of which led to the campaign slogan of the republicans mama where's my paw so it was this battle of like personal virtue versus public uh public virtue but nobody was disagreeing with any of the top label stuff everybody was for ***** uh strong money everybody was against strikes and working-class organization everybody was mildly anti-chinese uh and they were all essentially dragging their feet towards civil service reform it was sort of accepted that by that point the garfield assassination really set the seal that okay this is going to happen and it took them a long time they pulled that band-aid off real slow but it's because they had to you know create sync uh offload but then uh blaine was killed not by his corruption but most likely because he was accused of being in the same room with a protestant clergyman who said that the democratic party stood for rum romanism and rebellion which was not what uh the irish catholics of new york wanted to hear not that republicans ever did terribly well with the irish catholics

but there were a good number of them who could have been persuaded to vote for a new york could be persuaded to vote for an open-handed republican a guy who was willing to was willing to grease the wheels but that didn't go over well because it reminded them oh yeah those ***** uh those cabbage eaters ***** hate us those those ***** protestant square heads they hate us rum as in alcohol because because 0:47:34 the good protestant northerners were temperance men it was the drunken posada germans and irish romanism for the catholic church and then of course rebellion for the civil war which yes they had done and it is honestly kind of crazy that we let that party still exist after they did the civil war one of many things that probably should so i think for next week we're gonna read a good chunk because this goes very quickly i'm not that worried about not having enough we're gonna finish the second half of the second part so from dying for progress ah dying for progress chapter 13 to the poetry of a pound of steel chapter 18. and then i think next week we'll do the so i think we're seeing as we read the book you know the uh the machine the leviathan 0:48:36

of capitalism sort of stitch itself together out of the pieces of the post-war and the key thing was always bribery at the end of the day it was bribery that was what set that's what set the terms for uh where where uh the government was seeking its actual uh agenda from where it's seeking its real um uh it's real validation not from voters but for people with money because people had money more than people had more money people had more paper money after the civil war than they'd ever had before because the government had been throwing around money to build the war machine and that's what does it this is an mmt thing and the mm tears are right the us when the us has said hey we get need to make we need to build an economy like for a war like the civil war or world war ii we just do it we just make the money up 0:49:38 and then we then the economic activity follows from the money they're 100 correct about that that's but where that money goes whose hand it goes into that is all that is not uh that is very much controlled that's that the hands it's already in are the ones guiding it and they make sure that it accumulates to where it has always been and then the more they have the more they can buy things with they were able to buy the continent from they were able to buy the continent from us because they've essentially been places where money and paper have been held in the process of building an industrial war economy so if you imagine as i am an alternative civil 0:50:44

war recon post-war era the key thing is what what dominoes would have to fall to give to give electoral and political like self-actualization to the freed slaves as soon as possible uh at the urban working class and and northern smallholders and i don't think it's impossible but man it'd be very unlikely but once again it's not a either or a question it's not a yes or no question it's a deal where just a little bit more makes things a little better over time you know and just moves things in one direction rather than another i think it's there i've been thinking more about how i would actually want to like structure a counter narrative of reconstruction and i was saying you know lincoln being assassinated that'd be a good place to put it but honestly i would want to move it a little bit earlier and it is just to start with benjamin butler uh who i talked about the uh the conservative doe face democrat turned radical republican who was one of the first generals to free slaves that they encountered in occupying the south and occupied new orleans and became a radical republican legislator after the war wildly corrupt but also a genuine populist who became a greenback party candidate a successful governor and then a candidate for president he was offered the vice presidential slot and right there even if lincoln still dies uh in april of 1865 that could hugely affect things for the what if butler's vice president and then you know butterfly wings fly because of that and then lincoln is not assassinated because it was a close run thing he doesn't decide to go to the ***** uh show that night he says ***** it wait maybe maybe maybe benjamin butler shows up with like a keg and they decide to get drunk and then they don't go to the theater and then somebody from like the sarat house uh drops a dime on him and then they all get arrested and it's just a footnote in history but then i would imagine i still think that to get anywhere good lincoln needs to die and be a martyr for america but if he's a martyr in like 1866 or 1867 and then butler becomes president katie bar the door all right so i'm going to wrap up here in a second while we've been talking have they declared a mega government in washington have they seized the uh the constitution and started adding amendments trump died oh my god i could see them like dosing him honestly right now i could see them heart attack gunning trump right now because you know they're actually like sitting him down he had to give that ***** thing today where he said look i know they stole it i know it's outrageous i know they literally just took your right to vote from you and shat all over it we all know that's true but you got to go home that's that's the that's why this thing has to break against the rocks it cannot uh correct itself because trump cannot correct himself because for him to actually do something about this he would have to say look i didn't actually win i was wrong he would have to say that he cannot start with look this is a stolen election but you should just accept that he can say that because it's all fantasy to him and then i'm hearing that uh the vice president authorized uh the national guard not trump did they 25th amendment his ass are they sticking him in a ***** uh in like a back of a car like patrice lumumba is he gonna get dm'd by the joint chiefs is mike pence going to be our big min it was big man right who did the who did yeah man yeah big man i was correct so they that they could did they could that'd be very funny i heard he unfollowed trump and then re-followed him i think we could say safely that might mike pence will not be the the repub the president i mean i think

we all knew that mike pence and kamala harris are very similar in that they will never be president kamala harris's only hope is that bite dies in office and these guys don't die anymore they've invented some sort of adrenochrome suppository that is like long-lasting they will not die Biden will be a gibbering skeleton at age 96 and he will still be alive so she he's not going to die in office he's not going to resign she's not going to win a primary and if she did get win a general she would get and then pence is the same way pence has zero chance to ever be president he is going to be hounded for this honestly it is pretty it's pretty fitting because i could see a thing where pence becomes the people person that they hate more than any other person in the world we're way more than any democrat who they sort of at essentially level they have to be like well you won you know you always end up putting venting your your real rage on the person on your side who betrayed you the the traitor is always hated more than the enemy so uh i could see pence being the focus of their rage like a guy getting pipe bombs in the mail every other week and well it's a tragic thing that's come to that if that occurs it's not necessarily i don't know i mean parody in the game it's it's it's chickens going home honestly it's more like pence's best chance as someone points out in the comments run as a democrat as the guy who stopped trump from doing a coup how about that no no no there's some predictions that i that are easy pence cannot be president i gotta say man if the my pillow guy was a little more charismatic and if he had run for office yet i don't know i guess that he doesn't he could go straight for the my pillow guy it's just the thing about my pillow guy is that he doesn't have trump's charisma and that's a problem he has the regular guy famous guy thing that they love like he is a famous person who they think of as themselves and that's what they really want but he doesn't have the the ***** he doesn't have the showmanship and that's my only that's why if only john taffer were more famous among the mega people it would be john taffer the guy's got he's another reality show guy who's who ***** pops on tv i mean i saw him give a speech at an americans for prosperity convention this is one of the first things i did as a as a tweeter slash journalist me and brian quimby from street fight this is before chapel started went to columbus ohio to see john taffer speak along with a bunch of the presidential candidates not trump but jeb was there bobby jindal was there um ***** a couple more losers but those two for sure uh and i remember i saw i saw jeb speak and wow nothing just stuffed shirt just absolute zero bobby jindal also pip squeak just imagining that those guys ever thought they were going to stand to trump is astounding but then ***** tafra comes out and he just explodes on these people and he's essentially demands that they all swear a blood oath to defend small business because it is the lifeblood and heart of america and of course small business is the closest thing we have to the old small holding fantasy the yeoman

fantasy that is the heart of american popular freedom praffer would be the perfect encapsulation of that he would be the perfect person to express that truth sadly he's too niche of a figure if bar rescue had been the biggest show on network television in the in the oughts then he we honestly had a chance and that's what makes this whole thing so difficult to even think about is that trumpism is going to splinter 1:0:19 because there's no one to take the ***** torch from him don junior wants it but he can't do it maybe it'll be don jr but if it's don junior it's going to be a much reduced trumpism because as i said at the beginning of the show we're going to see a confrontation that had to come between the party apparatus with its long-term goals and its commitment to the the standing system because it benefits capitalism uh and the wild lumpen uh id that has been indulged but never given but that's because they could be indulged it can't be indulged anymore the stock boys won't allow it to be indulged anymore play time is over so how does this break up happen uh that is the question and what you could see is in a very short period of time the republican party taken over by an explicit ideologically committed trumpist faction that turns q into reality from the inside of the party but that will take time it's not 1:1:21 going to happen overnight it would take several election cycles or people get to kind of get over like bite becomes president and it's not as bad as they thought it would be and the comforts of their home and the distractions of their life and maybe hey maybe oh we got a vaccine now fuddruckers is open they start going home and the the fringe are left and they form their own party that becomes like this thorn in the side of america body politic but but it's one that will be there for the prophet of both parties and both branches of the ruling elite so it's not going anywhere but that'll be that'll be the contest my hunch is that most of these people go home because 1:2:22 like for right now it's just that they cannot psychically imagine a world where biden is president but once it's here and their lives are the same it's gonna take the wind out of some sales not everybody not anywhere close i think we're i mean if we had any question about whether there's going to be a rise in stochastic violence relative to uh related to politics i think this should really throw that one out the window i think that's going to happen for sure what degree it's going to be real and what degree it is going to be literally coordinated with government agencies gladio style that might be the only real question but we are definitely lit we are definitely living in interesting times which you're not supposed to do but what are you going to do about it for god's sake i just want to grow peace out you i hear mariachis static on my radio and the cools they glow in the dark but i'm here with her **Music playing** hold me tighter **Music playing** i think i'm sinking down and i'm all small out on heroin and the uh i'm sitting here playing solitaire with my pearl and all that county won't give me no more methadone uh hi folks 0:1:3 how's it going is everyone okay is everybody still practicing self-care during uh this whole coup situation where the government is being overthrown by the united states base if and i hope with a couple days a little bit of uh thought people have calmed down a little bit reflected they've seen trump go on tv and say i didn't mean it i was kidding i was kidding now of course that doesn't mean that political violence is over it doesn't mean that q or the trump base or anything like that are going to be mollified i would say that stochastic political violence is going to be a pretty much permanent 0:2:6

feature of at the very least the biden presidency and maybe just a new feature of american political life and of course some of that will be just the native energies of these people who still feel cannot reconcile themselves to political uh uh adulthood i guess you'd say and the ones that are gonna be ginned up and supported and carried out on behalf of the government as part of their their sensuous little game of domestic gladio that they like to play their little dabble in uh in exacerbating threats in order but i will say that what we're seeing right now the beginning of like we're starting to see big time charges being filed on some of these guys that they found uh and if they've tracked down who were in the capital um they're already talking about how there's gonna be live ammo uh in the guns of the national guardsmen 0:3:9
