

The Dangers

Lyzu vs. Mystery Woman Absorption vs. Adsorption

For the first time in the great battle between Lyzu and Mystery Woman, Lyzu and Mystery Woman generated their powers by making contact each other. Both powers are making them into a very dangerous powers. Mystery Woman is expert at removing the power from both powers that generated and fired up nonstop. If it wasn't for her, she'd be dead. Lyzu received it through absorption from Mystery Woman in which an adsorption erased all Lyzu's past powers and present powers that Lyzu had been absorbed. Mystery Woman suddenly realized that she can not able to remove Lyzu from trapped with two powers because Lyzu's powers resisted Mystery Woman like north and south magnets do not get along. Lyzu is facing the death through it even with her powerless status.

After that, Mystery Woman still has adsorption and heals from herself slowly. Lyzu barely survives the most dangerously explosive powers. She is human and shows no display of her original powers.

-----

Lyzu vs. Cholly Absorption vs. Regent

Cholly's regent is deadly poison to Lyzu even through she touched Cholly. Lyzu suddenly realized that if she absorbed Cholly and is affected by poison. She can not able to destroy it. Cholly told Lyzu to quit absorbing the power and let Cholly use a poison to destroy that power and save Lyzu's life.

Cholly's powers affected Lyzu while she sometimes can use her past powers and feels broken from the power.

-----

Lyzu vs. Chloroxine Absorption vs. Absorption

Chloroxine's absorption reveals the dna through her is not exactly a mutant and more than a mutant. Lyzu is able to receive the power from her but she can not meet the requirements of high level of powers that she is still a novice compare to Chloroxines advanced.

Chloroxine breaks free from being trapped in the power that Lyzu has been drained and not able to break the connection through the absorption.

---

Lyzu Race: Human alien

She faces the death by absorbing the alien's deadly powers. She dies instantly. After that, a queen saves her daughter's life with a dangerous mystical and crystalis gem.

Then she is no longer a human alien. She becomes mutated by a gem. She is not exactly a mutant. But she is labelled as a mutant due to an absorptive powers that comes with a flight and superstrength. Discovering upon why she is not a mutant, she comes from the Mystical Realm as a mystical being.

Then a legend says in the mystical world that no one must create a mystical and crystalis in a singular power that becomes of a monster. Trolls warn Crystal that Crystal must not give a crystalis to a queen with a mystic. Trolls speaks highly of black arts of mystic through their story that there was a black mage once created a new orb of a god and mystical into one that destroyed his whole family and people and world. Black mage is killed by this power that is alive to be an being. Trolls would have killed Lyzu instantly, but a queen sends trolls into a trap under Crystal's orb as she tells Crystal that Crystal Protectors are banned and not needed to be killed. Crystal explains to a queen that those trolls live longer than we are and know a lot about history throughout the Mystical World.

A queen learns of Broakkaou and Crystal Force, a dangerous beings that trolls highly spoke of and does not want her daughter to die.

Somehow, a troll tells a queen that Lyzu already has died and it is not her daughter anymore. It questions a queen how does Lyzu have absorptive powers and also questions her if Lyzu has any mystical powers.

Pointing to Brandy's powers through mystical powers--telepathy, she's been threatened by a Demon Knight because he does not want her to see or know he exists. She knew the existence of a Demon Knight and explained that he got a stone to become unseen and undetected by mystical acknowledgment. She is a truly mystical race. What about her sister Lyzu? Absorption via a mystical power.

This problem is she should have absorbed an alien in which is fine but she died absorbing an alien in which shows something is wrong with a law of mystic. She may not be as powerful as a queen is.

Questioning the power level of Lyzu, a troll explains that a crystalis and mystical form destroys her from being a mystical being and eats her up. But they do not able to eat Lyzu. A troll begins to worry about Lyzu's physiology change into whatever it is.

That is what happened after she died and her physiology change. It is Qina. A gem affected her by whatever gives her something. Learning of Qina, it destroys Lyzu, mystical being, and everything of what she is. Qina is on a verge of limited times to search in an order to escape from the death and survives a death.

She has been struggling to stay alive and escaping from the death. She is practically an undead. Nobody revives her. This messed her life wholly after being died and being reborn of Crystal Force.

The problem is she escaped the death and broke free from Crystal Force. She broke crystalis and mystical emblems on her forehead and chest by facing her death in its own dimension and escaping from it.

Who is she? She is still there. Not Crystal Force. Not Lyzu. Shes still Urzula. The reason is she needs to find her soul and mind to get her back.

A troll assumes that she is a mystical spirit that has been walking around the world. It says she has seen all the ghostly dimensions that no one can see.

Until Laster's Dark Crystal Force manifests, a troll fears that a Dark Crystal Force is a shadow in the eyes and senses of the Mystical and Crystal world that no one can see or sense it. Nobody checks Laster since long time. A Dark Crystal Force is destroyed by Lyzu but Laster's Dark Crystal Force II is not a good thing because a Dark Crystal Force can hurt us.

After the Fallen Mystic Realm and shattered crystalises, a dark crystal force should be destroyed. Why Laster? Laster has not existed in any time but she exists in the future ahead after the Fallen Mystic Realm and shattered crystalises. Now a virus destroys the future in which is possibly destroyed a Dark Crystal Force permanently. Leaving Lyzu's fate remains unknown, she should have died. She is still alive.

Robin's trek reveals that Lyzu is no longer a member of the Zemo and she is still in the High Council of the Mystical Monarch. Adding that she can not display the absorption, she is still a mystical being that can do quite well. Robin's trek reveals the Dark Crystal Force is still alive. There is no way to stop it. Robin's trek shows that the future of Taffy is gone as she wonders if that is error. Robin assumes that she is not exactly a future person. Still, her trek is right about the future percentage of people including Taffy and Lyzu. Her trek may be connected with the future but her origins remains unknown. Her mother is a trekker and father is a scientist in magic. Nothing matches the future but why her?

The question is why is Taffy not present while Robin is present? Taffy is a futurist and Robin is a person. If Taffy does not appear, that means Robin enters into a future where Taffy does not need to be in it because Taffy is a futurist. For Lyzu's fafe, Robin shows her own versions making sense that the only she can see any versions of Lyzu. Dark Crystal Force does not have a version. It is only one.

Now the Dark Crystal Force is just one and is not belonged to Dark Crystal Force II in which Laster does something to do with Lyzu's life. Robin's trek is not able to show any of Laster because it is limited to higher level of future. It means Robin can not be in the future in which the Xiamen exist. She may be trapped or stuck at limited time and future that she can not last after the time of Xiamen. Robin may die in the future after the age of the Xiamen as if she can not read the further future of the Xiamen and their versions. It makes sense a lot for Robin's death after that.

----

Pure Future
Jodie Kesser

Where is Robin? Why Vortex and Cody in her own world of pure future? She never mention Robin. She explains that she can sense her teammates' future and even Cody and Vortex's. She begins to realize that the whole Ject is able to reach where she can go further to a new, untapped potential future powers--pure future.