

Agent Ykarcena Chelley

From the Fairview Comics, the free encyclopedia.

Ykarcena Chelley is a fictional comic book character appearing in the comic book issues published by the Fairview Comics. She has been known under the aliases--Queen Mystic and Agent Chelley, and is well known as one of these deadly villains, an arch nemesis of the Zemo, and one of those probationary members of the Zemo Squads, for her leadership status as a queen of the Mystic Domain, and for her reformed heroic status and probationary member status as Agent Chelley.

She is a mystic being specimen. She is not a human nor Earthling. She is a mystic being race in which is called the Mystics. She has the ability of mystic through a mystic being gene. She has the mystic power to manipulate and control all her mystic powers and energies by creating the domain of mystic, making her as a mystic anchor to the domain, creating a mystic armor and helmet for protecting her from any opponents, and once creating a mystic power that merged with someone's crystal shards and forge ores in a complete gem for saving a life of person in which is called the Dark Crystal Force. In the "Mystic Wars" story arc, she is the major character who plays most role in the Mystic Wars in which shows how dangerously powerful mystic being displays the power of mystic.

She is a very admirable powerful mystic being who believes her own actions on her duty for protecting her own mystic domain and mystic beings. When she learns what is happening to the Earth, she faces the Zemo on the land of the Earth and her powers threaten the Earth. She knows that she is wrong for using the power of mystic by eliminating most men and some women during the ugly war and she holds responsibility for her actions and crimes by abusing the power of people and by destroying the most of people and the places. She tries all her best in defending the apocalyptic robots--Demolishers and its generations before they wiping out almost all the mutants and superbeings.

She has challenged the power of the monarch by emasculating her husband and father and trying to make things right by her in which makes her realize how monstrous villain she has become of. She is either under the influence of a mad queen Crystal or doing it by herself.

She is a important figure in the lives of the Mystic beings of the Mystic Domain, mostly the Mystic Royal Monarchs including her closest mother, Crystal, her husband, Mystrix, and her father, Krystatos. Her genetic parents are Crystal Greenvea and Kristobal Chelley.

She is an important key player in the happenings at the end of the world and other worlds in the beginnings of the war between unknowns and robots. She is a very young princess who is not accepted the king's decision when Crystal forces her to train her well to be a soldier. She needs to change the rules and power during her youth years. When the Doomseekers rise up from the ground, they are designed to kill all the people with powers, target King Kristobal and to-be-prince Mystrix, cause a princess to do something about it, and make a princess to be able to stop all the Demolishers and its generation.

Her parents are Crystal Greenvea (Crystal) and Kristobal Chelley (Krystatos). Her daughters are Brandi Chelley (Aluta) and Urzula Chelley (Lyzu). Her husband is unknown (Mystrix). She uses a maiden name to remain the same until she needs to know a husband's last name after she is married to him. He does not remember who he is and what his names are when she takes care of him when he is getting hit badly by one of those Doomseekers.

Private Creation history

Debuts (1986-1989)

From a flashback of the Demolition waging a war with the unknown threats to end all the people with powers, a princess sees a horrible thing in her life and unbearably watches the deadly robots kill too many people with powers. A brave father tells his unaccepted wife that he has to go to a war by driving a wife go mad. An dissatisfied wife does not want her husband to die in vain and decides to protect a princess for her husband's sake. A princess pushes out of her mother, seeing the terrible fight between her father and Demolitions and telling Crystal that we must do something about it. Crystal suddenly realizes that her moods caused a princess so chaotic and she tries to comfort her daughter by trying to get her away from the watchful eye. When some of Doomseekers find her in the front of her daughter, Crystal summons the trolls to fight against the Doomseekers with her fury. Her fury is seen by a princess, the one learns how to feel a fury in her. When a princess starting to feel a fury, she just unleashed the deadly mystic powers at the Doomseekers, finally able to destroy them with her own mystic powers in an awe and a surprise of Crystal.

Presently, Crystal tries to calm down a fury of an unstable princess and hides her shame from her husband. She lies to her husband that the Doomseekers come to a princess and blames her husband for leaving her and her daughter while he is at war. She tries to put her unstable daughter inside of a crystal shard if she see her daughter can return to normal. When her husband finds out what she is up to and tries to stop her, Crystal releases her daughter from a crystal shard by telling her to stop her crazy husband from hurting her. A princess begins to do as Crystal wishes. She uses a mystic power to chain her own father and trap a mystery boy who tries to defend her father with a strap by eliminating most men by an accident.

Fictional character biography

Background

A princess is seen secretly by Crystal and Krystatos at the Palace of the Mystic from the Mystic Domain. She is truly a daughter of Crystal and Krystatos. She is an innocent girl with a good soul.

When Crystal's moods are out of control, she disrespects her husband for leaving her while he is at war. It caused a princess too much emotional damages by Crystal's fury. A princess becomes of unimaginably the most powerful mystic being to be seen attacking the Doomseekers and successfully destroying the Doomseekers unlikely the people with people can not stop the Demolishers and its generation.

Crystal uses her daughter as an ultimate weapon for attacking the Demolishers and its generation in which she illegally broke the laws of Mystic. She can protect herself and mystic beings can not send her to a jail due to her status as a queen.

The Zemo

When the Zemo learn what exactly happened to an ancient superhero team other known as the Demolations, they learn from some survivors's story about Demolishers, its generation, and a mystery powerful force. The Zemo knows exactly what the survivors are talking about the mystery powerful force. Crystal comes to the Zemo as she threatens them if they dare to cross a line with her and they will be eliminated. She watches the Zemo the whole time and knows what they are coming for. The Zemo starts attacking Crystal.

When a mystery person approaches Crystal, she tells the Zemo not to mess around with her mother queen, Crystal. She gives the Zemo a new taste of her power and tells them not to welcome to her place anymore.

The power malfunction

When Crystal tries to do her best to keep a Queen Mystic calm down all her furies, a Queen Mystic's powers become out of control and the mystical powers are still running forever. Crystal creates all her crystal shards into a two-way mirrors by seeing if they can reduce the mystic powers and capture them in the trapped crystal shards. She threw all the trapped crystal shards to a waste and hid it from the mystic beings. Still, Crystal feels threatened by the mystic power and being hit by it. She feels hurt and realizes that she has to do something harder about her daughter.

The broken crystals

The mystic powers hit everywhere through all the crystal force field and all the crystal shards inside of a palace of the mystic. Crystal shouts at her daughter to release her husband before her mystic power kills him. Releasing her husband, trolls, and a mystery boy from being trapped, Crystal shouts at them to help her stop her daughter. When a queen hears Crystal's words, she literally has broken all the crystals with her mystic powers, threatening Crystal and the mystic beings. Crystal tells her husband to remember her and apologizes to him for lying to him the whole time. Crystal says to him that she regrets doing that to her husband and forces herself to be a brave soldier to die fighting against a power of a queen. He screams at her, telling her that he forgives her and understands how she felt in front of a queen. A queen shows no remorse in telling him that he is a coward not to be born with a soldier and Crystal must die a traitor.

The Trolls vs. A Queen

A queen just killed Crystal in the front of Krystatos, a mystery boy, and trolls. Crystal died, but her form revealed the power of Crystal making it look like Crystal. Crystal fooled a queen into killing her as a distraction. Crystal summons the trolls to attack her immediately while she rebuilds all the crystal shards for reflecting the mystic powers and using them counter attacking at a queen. A queen knows the secrets of Crystal and uses the crystal shards to turn trolls into a frozen and tell Krystatos to make a choice whether he stays on her side or die with Crystal.

Crystal decides to try to trap all the mystic powers in the crystal shards for payback. She does not like someone uses her power to do against people in which she usually does not. She throws these shards at a queen. A queen tells Crystal this is a complete mistake to attack on her with Crystal's and her powers. Crystal tells Krystatos to use his power to blast at these shards that Crystal threw at a queen.

When Krystatos starts to blast at the shards, a queen angrily uses crystal force to freeze the world into a crystal and tells them to kiss a goodbye when she readies to strike. A mystery boy has been holding his power while he was being trapped inside and now he is released. He uses his powers to countermeasure the massively amount of mystic powers of her while he breaks the crystal shard and picks up a sharp edge and throws it through a queen's mystic armor.

A moment of death and life

Throwing a sharp edge of a crystal shard through the queen's mystic armor, it penetrates and pierces through a mystic being's skin. Crystal could not able to do anything in a frozen crystal form until she finally learns how to de-crystalized a frozen crystal form. She runs to the destroyed room where a queen, Krystatos, and boy are. A queen looks at Crystal once again and needs to kill her again. Crystal stops a queen before a queen is about to. Crystal says I can heal you if you do not kill me and your father or we all die. A queen weighs on her life and decision. She says no we will die. A boy tells her that I like you before and now I do not like you. She just hears him saying that and reminds herself say the same thing he said about her.

The Zemo visit the Mystic Domain

Cardinal asks the Zemo to help Crystal and Crystal orders Cardinal to go find the Zemo and tells them to come and stop a queen if they can.

Too late for that when Cardinal looks at destroyed palace of mystic. The Zemo is in a deep shock to see how badly shape the place is in and how deadly powerful a queen's power is.

Cardinal tells the Zemo that is really bad if they are all dead and it will awake the end of worlders up and it will kill us. She uses the crystal staff to protect the Zemo and herself and turn them invisible. They saw some Trolls freezing and shattering everywhere as Cardinal said nooo they must not die. Then they saw a destroyed helmet and armor and realized it was a queen's. Krystatos finally brings a wounded boy with him while Crystal loses her memories as she gets hit from a massive vibration and quake of the boom of mystic and crystal powers. He tells them to retrieve a girl immediately and put her in a spring for healing.

Cardinal goes to Crystal as Crystal uses Cardinal's crystal staff for destroying a spring and tells Krystatos that a girl must die for the best. Krystatos tells Crystal that a boy will die if a girl dies. The Zemo ask them what we can do anything to help you. Crystal says, "There is one way. Hit the Crystal Wall. Bring all to the place through the Crystal Wall. The spring is cursed with a mystic power anyway." Krystatos asks how can we destroy the great crystal wall? Crystal says, "The Zemo might. They do not have mystic powers nor crystal powers in which is good news."

Destroying the Crystal Wall

The Zemo hit the Crystal Wall while Cardinal gasps out to see destroyed Doomseekers from there. Krystatos asks Crystal, "How can you destroy them?" Crystal says, "It's her, Kristal."

The Zemo finally meets the destroyed Doomseekers and knows what they look like.

Crystal tells Krystatos to give a boy to the Zemo first after we will get their daughter here.

Power

Mystic power is a energy signature of a mystic being. She can manipulate and control the power of mystic at young age.

Zemo Squad involvements

Agent Chelley, a powerless ex-queen of Mystic Realm, reluctantly joins the Zemo Squad for trying to earn the trust from the Zemo and warning the Zemo that some of the members of the Zemo are not what they appear what the Zemo think they are friends.

She is accidentally stunned by the Hot Black Orchids Agent with her stun gun, the one has been trying to calm down and is not hunting her down. Her face and mask give the Hot Black Orchids Agent a lot of fear from their past personal relationship.

Ykarcena Chelley reveals to be a real name in the files of the database inside of the Zemo headquarter. She is related to Urzula Chelley Randall and Brandi Chelley as her true daughters, Mystrix as her husband, and Crystal Greenvea as her mother.

During the Strangers Wars, the Strangers attack her and almost kill her, but her power returns profect her from getting killed by the Strangers. When her power turns ugly, the dark mystic arts has been feeding the Strangers into nothingness.

She is targetted by the lawfully magic law-makers, the ones apointed a mystic killer to kill her at any cost for the Fallen Mystic Realm's sake and had no sympathy for the causalities after the end of Strangers Wars. She becomes the ex-Mystic Realm's the most wanted and is declared a criminal by them.

In the past, Mystic Queen was voted by the people of the Mystic Realm. She had been working on the resources on the land of mystic by making sure the mystic energy stay inact and run in the Mystic Realm.

She banned most of men who destroyed the worlds, hurted women, and caused too many wars with her deadly mystic casting. As her power is not far enough for holding the power to keep most men out of existence from the worlds, Strong Boy II exists and the existence of Strong Boy II explains why she can not find a entry from a tracking thing that is made of mystic power.

When the fallen mystic fell and faded away, she lost all her mystic powers permanently as it seemed that way she had been tried using a display of her powers. She felt highly threatened by most of people on the Earth and other worlds.
