

Episode 4: Ground Level

San Francisco

Yasmina: What the heck, what just happened. They've got to fix their phone, how the heck am I supposed to get to them

Control Button in control building beeps

Chile

Darius, so how exactly do we get to the facility

Brooklyn: Shouldn't water be our priority right now?

Darius: So long as we can make our way there, we can have more water than you could ever imagine

Sammy: That's a lot of water

Darius: Guys, stay on topic. We have to find a way down there without it being jumping or falling

Alan: how about those train tracks from before, if we can find where they dip, we can find a walkway or something

Ben: Alan, you genius

Brooklyn: Darius, how far and where do you think it is

Points

Darius: Right that way

San Francisco

Yasmina: Guys, hello? Guys, this is-

Pilot: Captain Watts, what happened to your voice.

You must have a real bad cold

Yasmina: (Coughs) Yeah, really bad.

Anyways, what was the ETA on the most recent flight?

Pilot: Arriving in fourteen minutes,

Yasmina: How long ago was the cargo drop, and what were the coordinates

Pilot: About six minutes ago, and the cargo drop was roughly 9  $\frac{3}{4}$  miles Northwest of HQ. Why did the train not leave?

Yasmina: (Mutes) Train, what Train (Unmutes) What's the ETA

Pilot: About six hours, hopefully the leaves don't rot

Yasmina Hangs Up

Montage of stuff that Yasmina has been doing to try and find and contact the campers

Yasmina: Come on cameras, there's only four hundred ninety seven of you on the tracks

Sees the campers on camera, activated microphone for specific camera

Yasmina: Guys, it's me!

Darius: Yaz, is that you?

Yasmina: It's me. Where are you guys,

Ben: we're out of the train track tunnel, about to head on

Yasmina: Okay, just before you go, the train arrives on about four hours

Brooklyn: yaz, did you look at all the cameras, we're at the entrance, with the path on the side

Sammy: just how far is it to the HQ

Yasmina: Looks like... About a fifth of a mile. So less than a minute

Brooklyn: What the heck is this

Sammy: Where does it head to

Yasmina: It looks like it heads to the northwest cor- edge of the building, it goes in a tunnel about fifty-ish feet below the cliff face

Ben: So, what are we waiting for

Darius: Uh.. Yaz, the path ends, do we go back up and go on the tracks, or go left

Screech, a big shadow appears on the wall

Brooklyn (Whispering) Run!

All run, except darius, who stays, and sees the dino run into vision

Darius: See guys, it's just a compy

Sammy: What about that one?

Points to a snout appearing... it's the Altispinax

Yasmina: Go right! It won't be able to fit onto the tracks

Darius: Go!!!!

Companies run away from the Altispinax, following the campers

Altispinax gets its head stuck in the door, roars

The campers head to the glass tunnel through the chasm, its at least a hundred feet over the bottom, with a massive oasis at the base, it heads into a massive skyscraper peeking overhead of the cliff

Yasmina: Right that way... it'll get you into the HQ, but you might want to head to what looks to be the staff room, its right on the right, should be just openable with a hairpin or something

Ben and Sammy: Brooklyn, Bobby Pin

Brooklyn: Okay okay

Takes out bobby pin, does not open

Darius: Looks like it needs a scanner

Sammy: Don't we have the badge from that guy in San Francisco

Alan: Yes

Takes out of pocket, scans

Door opens

Yasmina: Get some uniforms, and headsets, channel seventeen

All put on outfits and headsets

All: Its go time

Pans nine floors up

Samuel: Sir, the trains are arriving soon, what assets do we send them to

Unrecognizable Voice: Sorry, Be back in a minute (Hangs up a phone)

Samuel, can't you see I'm in the middle of something, we're trying to get the assets into their enclosures, some of them escaped into the north west train tunnel

Samuel: But where do we send the trains to, the west, south, northwest, or southeast?

Unrecognizable voice: Ask someone else, I need to get back on this

Back downstairs

Yasmina: Do you have everything you need?

Ben: Need for what? Where are we going?

Yasmina: I haven't figured that part out yet, just try and see where the dinosaurs are held. After the Pterodactylus' attacked, there's definitely more creatures

Sammy: are we even sure that there are creatures in this building, I mean were in the middle of the desert, Just because we saw some dinos doesn't mean there's any more

Alan: The group of you seem to always be in a situation that involves a lot of dinosaurs. I guarantee there's a lot more we haven't seen yet

Yasmina: I've found everything on the map. Alan and Darius, head to observation, on the seventeenth floor. Sammy and Brooklyn, just try and find a map, or make one if you have to.

Darius and Alan In the Elevator

Heading up from the seventh floor, they meet people waiting to get in the elevator, close the door, head up as quickly as possible

Get out on the seventeenth floor, head to the tracking room, completely empty

Darius: Where would we find all the creatures

Alan: Right here, it shows everything

Alan: What do all these icons mean

Darius Using mouse to see, while darius looks at the list)

Darius: ASX, CNR, CMP, DRX, FKS, IGN, MCR, PTD, STR

Alan: Altispinax, Centrosaurus, Compsognathus, Dracorex, Fukuisaurus, Iguanodon, Microceratus, Pterodactylus, and Styracosaurus

Darius: It says IGN, CNR, and STR are off the map. But the others are on facility somewhere

Alan: How about Dracorex and Microceratus, where are they located

Darius: Both just south of here

Floor Fourteen

Brooklyn: so what floor do we start on

Ben: Might as well the top, just to get a birds eye view

Enter Elevator

Brooklyn: Floor twenty five, here we come

Sammy: That says observatory, right

Ben: The writing is small but it sure lo-

Elevator doors open

Floor Twenty Three

Samuel: How the heck can he not spare twenty seconds just to send the feeders in a direction

Arrives at the elevator

Presses a button

Samuel: Come on...

Elevator doors open... No one is inside

Floor Twenty Five

Ben: Here we are

Brooklyn: So what now? What are we even looking for

Sammy: What is that?

Points far away

Ben: That's... I think that's an aviary

Shows people feeding the Pterosaurs

Sammy: No, not that, THAT

Points even further away to a spiral-esque shaped building a few miles away

Brooklyn: I... have no clue

Ben: Here's a map

Sammy: Give me that:

Genetic-

Sammy: Oh my god... They're making dinosaurs here

Floor Seventeen

Darius: Alan, where are we headed

Alan: To the west, right where that weird circly building is, to the South West

Darius: How long do you think

Alan: If we could catch a vehicle, a few minutes

Darius: Without?

Alan: A few hours at least...

Floor Twenty Three

Unrecognizable voice: Samuel... Samuel... where did you go. We need to send them to the Southwest facility

Unrecognizable voice: Where the heck did he go?

Unrecognizable voice: I'll do this myself

Cuts to black
