

20190816 My Language Regime
Viktor Nonong Medrano

Although I like many other languages, my main language regime these days comprises Esperanto and Japanese. To me, Esperanto is a Japanesque Latinate language. Some may have guessed that I like Japanese, because it reminds me of Italian, Nahuatl, Swahili, Indonesian, Inuktitut, Hawaiian, Haida, and Finnish. Some of us Esperantists think that our language is a religion. Anyway, I really like Japanese and Esperanto, as hobbies and mental playgrounds.
