Viktor Nonong Medrano

There have been other fascinating languages about which I have been wanting to learn more, but I have been really busy with my current Esperanto and Japanese. I like the ideas of Korean, Inuktitut, and Nahuatl. Korean, I joke, is like Vulcan in the shows and literature of Star Trek. Inuktitut is a snowy Arctic language. Nahuatl is from the Mexican Aztecs. I like Classical Nahuatl. But now, I am happy with my Esperanto and my Japanese. One is Western, and one is Eastern.
