

20190924 East Indians
Viktor Nonong Medrano

I have some observations about East Indians, at least locally here on Lulu Island. Many of them are afraid of science fiction, because maybe they are technophobic. Many of them are still Anglophiles and adore England. Even their sexuality is often British: "No sex please, we're British!" I think that India is like a big Hong Kong, an ex-colony of Britain.
